Distinguished Honors

A CELEBRATION OF ARTISTS IN HUMAN SERVICE Doctorates To Be Conferred At Commencement Exercises, June 1, 1997

The Columbia College Chicago Commencements each year honor outstanding individuals in the arts, education, politics and public information who have engaged their great talents in important human service and whose life work and example embody the college's ideal and spirit.

Some of these have leading prominence, some ennobled by courageous labor in unpopular causes would not be awarded the usual recognitions, and some are at only the beginning time of their great promise.

FRED EYCHANER

Media Innovator, Inspiring Activist

Fred Eychaner's passionate interest in the media is grounded in his desire to improve life in the community. He graduated from Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern in 1966 and founded Newsweb Corporation in 1971 to provide reliable newspaper printing to all organizations and points of view. He applied for the Channel 60 television license in 1978, establishing WPWR-TV in 1982 and moving it to Channel 50 in 1987. He has reinvested substantial station revenues in the greater Chicagoland and Northwest Indiana area through the WPWR-TV Channel 50 Foundation which supports numerous community activities in the arts, for children, for women, and for the environment. That same spirit of giving has extended into his personal life where he has led the fight to preserve the integrity of the Auditorium Theatre. He has supported numerous activities in the Gay and Lesbian community, is secretary of the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago, and is a long time director of the AIDS Foundation of Chicago.

For your innovation, foresight, and willingness to let your actions be directed by what is right rather than what is expedient, we are honored to award you the Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Dr. Lya Dym Rosenblum, Vice-President and Dean of the Graduate School, Columbia College Chicago

MARGARET CORBETT DALEY

Civic Activist and First Lady of the City of Chicago

Margaret Corbett Daley is a tireless civic activist devoted to helping children and to improving Chicago's arts and cultural life. The youngest child and only daughter among seven children, Maggie Corbett was born and raised in Pittsburgh. After earning her bachelor's degree in history from the University of Dayton, she moved to Chicago and began working as an account executive with Xerox Learning Systems. Maggie and Richard M. Daley were married in 1972, the year he was first elected to the Illinois Senate. They have four children, Nora, Patrick, Elizabeth, and Kevin, who was born with spina bifida and died at the age of three. Maggie Daley serves as president of the Pathways Awareness Foundation to assist children with physical challenges and their parents; chair of the Chicago Cultural Center Foundation; appointed as a member of the President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities in 1994; chair of Gallery 37, an innovative program designed to promote youth employment and arts education among Chicago's young people; co-chair of The Children, Youth, and Families Initiative of The Chicago Community Trust; a member of the board of directors of the Golden Apple Foundation which is devoted to supporting teachers and teaching; and the board of directors of Children at the Crossroads Foundation.

For your compassion and selfless devotion to others, we proudly bestow upon you the Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Lois Weisberg, Commissioner, City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs

JAMES W. COMPTON

Champion of Racial Equality

James W. Compton has been a major force in Chicago race relations for over twenty-five years. Born in Aurora, Illinois, he attended East Aurora High School and subsequently graduated from Morehouse College. He also attended the University of Grenoble, Grenoble, France as a Merrill Scholar. He was named executive director of the Chicago Urban League on July 18, 1972, assuming leadership of this landmark organization founded in 1916 to foster improved race relations. On March 22, 1978, he was elected president and chief executive officer by the League's Board of Directors, holding that important position ever since. An indefatigable advocate of improved race relations and minority rights at the city, state, and national levels, he is currently serving (or has served) on over fifty business boards, nonprofit boards, committees, and commissions. Mr. Compton's dedication has earned for him an outstanding reputation, as well as some thirty awards, honors, and citations for his lifelong commitment to the welfare of others.

For tireless devotion to selflessly answering the call to improve the lives of others, we offer our warmest thanks in bestowing upon you the Doctor of Letters, Honoris Causa.

Presented by Lerone Bennett Jr., Executive Editor, Johnson Publishing Company, Inc., and Secretary of the Board of Trustees, Columbia College Chicago

Excerpt From
Leaves of Grass (1855)

By Walt Whitman

I am of old and young, of the foolish as much as the wise, Regardless of others, ever regardful of others,
Maternal as well as paternal, a child as well as a man, Stuffed with the stuff that is coarse, and stuffed with the stuff that is fine, One of the great nation, the nation of many nations—the smallest the same and the largest the same, A southerner soon as a northerner, a planter nonchalant and hospitable,
A Yankee bound my own way....ready for trade.... my joints the limberest joints on earth and the sternest joints on earth,
A Kentuckian walking the vale of the Elkhorn in my deerskin leggings,
A boatman over the lakes or bays or along coasts....a Hoosier, a Badger, a Buckeye, A Louisianian or Georgian, a poke-easy from sandhills and pines,
At home on Canadian snowshoes or up in the bush, or with fishermen off Newfoundland, At home in the fleet of iceboats, sailing with the rest and tacking,
At home on the hills of Vermont or in the woods of Maine or the Texan ranch, Comrade of California....comrade of free northwesterns, loving their big proportions, Comrade of raftsmen and coalmen—comrade of all who shake hands and welcome to drink and meat;
A learner with the simplest, a teacher of thoughtfulest,
A novice beginning experient of myriads of seasons,
Of every hue and trade and rank, of every caste and religion,
Not merely of the New World but of Africa Europe or Asia
....a wandering savage,
A farmer, mechanic, or artist....a gentlemen, sailor, lover or quaker,
A prisoner, fancy-man, rowdy, lawyer, physician or priest.

I resist anything better than my own diversity,
And breathe the air and leave plenty after me,
And am not stuck up, and am in my place.

The moth and the fisheggs are in their place,
The sun I see and the suns I cannot see are in their place,
The palpable is in its place and impalpable is in its place.

These are the thoughts of all men in all ages and lands, they are not original with me,
If they are not yours as much as mine they are nothing or
next to nothing,
If they are not yours as much as mine they are nothing or
next to nothing,
If they do not enclose everything they are next to nothing,
If they are not the riddle and the untying of the riddle they are nothing,
If they are not just as close as they are distant they are nothing.

This is the grass that grows wherever the land is and the water is,
This is the common air that bathes the globe.
This is the breath of laws and songs and behaviour,
This is the tasteless water of souls....this is the true sustenance,
It is for the illiterate....it is for the judges of the supreme court....it is for the federal capitol and the state capitals,
It is for the admirable communes of literary men and composers and singers and lecturers and engineers and savans,
It is for the endless races of working people and farmers and seamen.

This is the trill of a thousand clear cornets and scream of the octave flute and strike of triangles.

I play not a march for victors only....I play great marches for conquered and slain persons.
