8/3/2010	LexisNexis products	Off-campus access problematic	LexisNexis is currently working on a fix for this-- LexisNexis products may or may not work off-campus via the proxy depending on what browser the user is running. As soon as there is a fix for this, I'll update our proxy server settings.
5/17/2010	ASME Journals online	Access lost	Invoicing problem; access has been restored.
5/10/2010	Springer Journals (via OhioLINK EJC)	Gaps in holdings in Springer titles in the EJC.	OhioLINK is aware that there are gaps in many titles in the EJC's Springer titles; the gap is related to the difference between Springer's archived journals and the start date of our subscriptions. OhioLINK will work to correct this over time; for now, please see the SpringerLink site to view missing issues.

Serials Review Tool

The Serials Review Tool created by Ross Shanley-Roberts for the 2011 review is available here:

<http://dog.lib.muohio.edu/~rshanley/perrev2010/index.php>

You will need to sign in with your Miami Unique ID and Password. Please notify Jennifer Bazeley or Aaron Shrimplin if you are unable to log in.

Reviewing and updating periodicals is done by choosing the subject area that you are responsible for under the "Review and Update Periodicals" area, and clicking "Send Selector".

You may also view already-reviewed periodicals by choosing your subject area or name from the drop-down menus under "View Reviewed Updated Periodical Subscriptions".

NOTE: Due to some fund code/selector updates, there are approximately a dozen titles for review which are showing under outdated funds in the tool. Please see this Excel spreadsheet for titles and selector names.

Decision lists can be viewed by clicking on the links at the bottom of the page.

Information included for each title under Review and Update:

Amounts: Percentage breakdowns for titles in the subject area based on decisions entered for each title.

Selector: Subject selector as recorded in our Millennium order records; if you feel one of these to be incorrect, please notify Jennifer Bazeley.

Call Number: For print titles, call number reflects shelf location; for electronic only titles, call number is a reference only.

Print Usage: Total number of Internal Uses for each volume/issue, as recorded by Millennium (these numbers are for total uses over life of periodical in catalog; Ill does not allow us to break down these numbers by year or month).

Online Usage: Online usage is available for many (but not all) of our electronic journals; use is broken down by month and year. Numbers come from COUNTER reports provided by the publishers/vendors. See the Additional Information box to the right for more information about the COUNTER report standard. NOTE: if you find a print + electronic subscription accessed via Ingenta, and there is no link for Online Usage in the review tool, it means there were no online uses of that title in 2009 or 2010.

Title: Title of journal as it appears in the catalog.

Format: Print Only, Print & Electronic, or Electronic Only. This column represents the subscription model that we pay for; aggregator access is entirely separate from what this column indicates. See spreadsheet in the box to the right for a list of aggregators versus individually paid-for journal platforms.

First Year Payment: First year payment RECORDED IN Ill. We may have been subscribing to this journal for longer than what you see represented here; most periodical payments in Ill begin in the early 2000s.

Last Year Payment: Most recent payment made for the title.

Average Payment: Average of all payments. Double-check individual year payments by clicking on the dollar amount in this column. Keep in mind that we sometimes make more than one payment in a year for a given title due to price changes or errors in invoicing.

Additional Information

COUNTER Reports

COUNTER (Counting Online Usage of Networked Electronic Resources), launched in 2002, is an international initiative to improve the reliability of online usage statistics. It is supported by the vendor, intermediary and librarian communities. COUNTER's objective is to ensure that vendor online usage reports are credible, compatible and consistent. This is achieved by the publication of Codes of Practice that specify the content, format, delivery mechanisms and data processing rules for a set of core usage reports that are easily implemented by vendors and easily understood by librarians.

The report used for the usage statistics in the Serials Review Tool is Journal Report 1: Number of Successful Full-Text Article Requests by Month and Journal.

Aggregators vs. Individual Subscription E-Journals

There are two methods of obtaining access to electronic resources—through an aggregator, where we pay for a large package of titles of the vendor's choosing, and through subscription to individual titles, where we choose and pay for single titles. In the Serials Review Tool, the Format column reflects the type of subscription we have to the individual journal. Individual journal subscriptions can generally be purchased in one of three combinations: Print Only, Print & Electronic, and Electronic Only.

In the EBSCO column, you will see links to both the aggregator content and to the individually subscribed content. We have no control over the aggregator content—although we pay for the content, we do not select the content on a title by title basis—content may come and go at the vendor's discretion. Individually subscribed content is content we choose to subscribe to and pay for on a title by title basis.

The spreadsheet below contains a list of aggregators and a list of individually subscribed hosts/vendors/platforms so that you can determine where access is coming from for individual titles you find in the Review Tool.

Aggregators and Individual Subscription Platforms spreadsheet

Membership Subscriptions

The library subscribes to some journals via membership in various associations and societies. These memberships were inadvertently left out of the serials tool. Download the spreadsheet below to view membership titles and details. Notify Jennifer Bazeley if you would like to cancel any of these

Details

Ebsco is currently working on a usage statistics consolidation tool which will be available to us through our Ebsco ERM, with an expected roll-out by the end of calendar year 2011.

In the interim, I'll be posting COUNTER compliant (when available) reports for many of our subscribed databases and platforms. Not all of the products we subscribe to offer usage statistics, which may be why you don't find a particular product in the lists on this page.

Reports will be updated monthly but please note that many vendors are one to two months behind in updating use statistics.

Reports are COUNTER compliant unless otherwise noted.

Links open reports in Excel.

Catalog Records

OhioLINK provides us with bibliographic records for all e-books purchased through the consortium. These records are received in batches and loaded into Multifacet upon receipt. Please note that OhioLINK is behind in producing bibliographic records for Oxford and Springer e-books.

OhioLINK EBC titles have been "turned on" in our Online Resources A to Z list and will appear there with an e-book icon. The EBC holdings in our A to Z list are maintained and updated by OhioLINK and Ebsco. View the list of EBC e-books in our A to Z list.

Downloading

E-books in the OhioLINK EBC cannot currently be downloaded but only viewed online in a browser. The only exception are Springer e-books in the EBC, which allow PDF chapter downloads. Among the publishers that allow us to access their e-books directly from their publisher site, only Springer and Gale offer download options. Springer allows a PDF download of an entire e-book; Gale allows an HTML or PDF download of individual sections of an e-book.
