LT. GOV. BOB ANDERSON

Anderson Visits Boone Campus

by TERRI FAIRCHILD
DMACC - Boone Campus was one of the stops along the campaign trail of Lt. Governor Bob Anderson Friday, Feb. 28.

Anderson announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor Jan. 8.

Anderson spoke to students and faculty in the Campus Center. He said the theme of his campaign is, "It is time for Iowans to invest in Iowa's future."

He also talked about other important issues to Iowans such as rural development, internal growth in Iowa, getting Iowans involved in their own future, and education in Iowa.

It's Off to Sunny Daytona!

by JIM HORSTMAN

DMACC's "Spring Break '86 Rock with Us to Daytona" is now finalized!

That's according to Lora Ahrens and Brooke Kelley, student organizers of the spring trip scheduled to Daytona Beach, Florida, for Friday, March 22 through Sunday, March 30.

Ahrens and Kelley state, "We have nine students that will make the trip. Things aren't going quite as well as planned. We thought there would be more interest."

Kelley said there are basically two reasons why more students won't be in Daytona this spring. The first is lack of money.

"Students just don't have the money to go," she said.

The other is schedule conflicts, including the fact that the baseball team will be in Oklahoma for spring training.

Students going to sunny Daytona Beach include: Ahrens, Brian Madson, Jana Boehm, Lisa Arp, Lorna Rose (who won the free trip), Dee Harvey, Tammy Kopaska, Michele Ratchford, and Kim Martin.

Martin says she is really excited about going.

"I am looking forward to having a great time. I can't wait to leave," she says.

The spring getaway offers optional transportation by motorcoach, seven nights and eight days in sunny Daytona Beach, and an optional Disney World trip.

Ahrens adds the trip also will offer additional sightseeing tours including visits to Cape Kennedy Space Center and St. Augustine, America's oldest city.

This trip is being held in conjunction with National College Spring Break Week.

Date Set for Variety Show

A tentative date of Thursday, April 24, has been set for the variety show being presented by the DMACC - Boone Campus choir.

The show begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Boone Campus auditorium.

Spring Fling Is Planned

by KELLY HARTZLER

The annual DMACC - Boone Campus spring fling is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, April 23. The event involves an afternoon and evening of a wide range of activities and a lot of fun.

Events that will take place are co-ed volleyball, one-pitch softball, co-ed tennis, co-ed doubles free throw shooting contest, miniature golf, Frisbee golf and a tug-of-war. This year a tricycle race will be added.

If you would like to start getting a team together, it should consist of 14 team members (seven guys, seven gals).

Winners of overall competition receive steaks for supper, prepared by George Silberhorn, counselor. Losers eat hamburgers!

The Vet's Corner

by RAY MERRILL

Well, veterans, as stated in my last column, the Gramm-Rudman Bill has indeed hit!

All veterans should have received a notice in the mail by now informing them of cutback in educational funding. Here are a few figures that may help you determine just where you stand.

Educational programs were cut 8.7%, representing a decrease of $33 a month, from $376 to $341 for a single veteran enrolled full-time.

Assistance for vocational rehabilitation trainees will be reduced by 13.1% or a monthly reduction of $41 for a single veteran training full-time.

In addition, VA included a reduction of commitments in the Home Loan Guaranty Program. The VA will no longer approve refinancing of existing loans or guarantee loans based on restored entitlement or partial entitlement.

The reductions will remain in effect through Sept. 30, 1986, the end of the current fiscal year, according to VA officials.

Remember that if you are planning to enroll for summer session and want to ensure your checks continue without a break, you should notify the business office now for the proper paperwork to keep that check coming.

Commentary Fly the Unfriendly Skies?

by SHANNON SODER

Spring break, of course, is rapidly approaching, and that, of course, means a lot of people will be going home or on vacation.

How are these people getting where they're going?

Some will no doubt drive; safely, I might add. Others might take a bus because it's cheap. Possibly, just a few, will feel the urge to fly to wherever.

Spring break is not the issue here, though. I was just casually leading up to a point I'd like to make about flying and one airline in particular: TWA.

You have probably all heard about the TWA mechanics' strike and how TWA is not going to let that slow them down.

This means one thing to me. TWA is going to have a lot of planes in the air that shouldn't be in the air!

I mean, the original mechanics are on strike, so they bring in some other mechanics that probably haven't even flown on a plane, let alone worked on one. TWA says this is fine; they're just going to get a court order to make the original mechanics get back to work.

That will be better?

I don't think so.

These mechanics are going to be forced to work on planes that carry hundreds of people every day.

How good of a job did you do the last time you were forced to do a job? Not very well is my guess.

The quality of work these mechanics are accomplishing under pressure is not going to be up to par. Consequently, people may suffer for TWA's bullheadedness. Worse yet . . . people may die.

In my opinion, TWA should either shut down or settle the strike in a human fashion and not play with lives.

Also, TWA is offering discount rates to get people to fly their line. Is that nice or what?

With that in mind, I bid you all a happy spring break . . . as long as you're not flying TWA.

If you are, I bid you good luck!

800 Students Attend Career Exploration

by JIM HORSTMAN

The Des Moines Area Community College held its first college fair, entitled "Career Exploration," at the Ankeny Campus Wednesday, March 5 and Thursday, March 6.

George Silberhorn, counselor who coordinated the Boone Campus activities for the Career Exploration Fair, said this was the first time DMACC had sponsored its own college fair.

"Career exploration went well; things were very organized," he said.

The fair gave participants the opportunity to explore what DMACC has to offer them. Booths representing all DMACC's career education programs, para-professional programs and college transfer options were available during the fair.

Each booth featured persons presently working in those fields, as well as current students, graduates, program chairpersons, and faculty.

Silberhorn added the overall turnout was good.

"We had about 800 in attendance, although there were only about 50 participating from the Boone area," according to Silberhorn.

College officials are currently putting together a fall college fair for 1986, which, according to Silberhorn, will focus more on the transfer process.

He says the recent fair focused mainly on what DMACC has to offer. The fair set for this fall will do that, plus provide more information on the important college transfer options, information needed by students who plan to transfer from DMACC to another learning institution.

Silberhorn invites any interested students or area residents with questions regarding any of DMACC's programs to contact himself or Richard Finnestad for information in the main office. He also reminds students planning to take summer classes that registration is Monday, April 7.

Those who are interested in signing up for classes this fall may also register beginning April 7.

Foreign Students Discuss Issues at Recent Meeting

by RAY MERRILL

Imagine for a moment that you awaken in a strange place, the surroundings are unfamiliar, you feel an emptiness swelling up inside you and fear sets in. This may have happened to many of you in the process of leaving home to attend college at DMACC, Boone Campus.

Now let's go one step further. Imagine you came from another country instead of another town. Your English is minimal and your conception of this society is only what you learned in school out of textbooks. Your mind begins to race and you suddenly realize you will be spending at least four years away from your family and friends.

Here at Boone Campus we have 40 international students that faced just this. Most chose DMACC because of the school's ability to prepare them to attend a four-year school.

In order to gain entrance to ISU, international students must obtain a TOEFL score of 500 points. (TOEFL is a Test of English as a Foreign Language.)

Rich Finnestad, Boone Campus counselor, in a recent meeting with 20 of the international students, discussed how former Boone Campus international students are getting along at ISU. Tests show that students attending ISU from Boone Campus carried a 2.00 GPA.

At this special meeting, it was also suggested the students form an international students club in order to discuss various matters.

The students then discussed some of their fears in associating with the American students on campus, because of their inability to use proper English. Many students commented that they were mostly concerned with being laughed at when using improper English. Some of the students also expressed concern that the Americans made no real attempt to approach them and become friends.

As hosts here at Boone Campus, we as fellow students may need to take the first steps toward our international students to gain friendship. Our international students, as some of us have found out, are very interesting individuals with a lot to share with us about their homeland.

As hosts to these students, let's try to approach them and extend a welcoming hand of friendship. In turn we can learn as much from them as they enjoy learning from us!

Art Class Tours Gallery

by RAY MERRILL

The art appreciation class, accompanied by Mary Beth Schroeder, instructor, recently toured the Brunnier Gallery and Museum at the Iowa State Center in Ames. The Gallery was showing the eighth annual exhibition of student art from Iowa four-year colleges.

More than 175 students entered, with an exhibition of 73 pieces of artwork by 68 students being chosen.

These works were done in several different mediums ranging from pencil and ink to tapestry.

The artwork was judged by Dr. Lyndel King, director, University of Minnesota Art Museum in Minneapolis. King made her selections from slides that were taken by the entrants of their work.

King said this makes her job very difficult because often the slides cannot give total justice to a piece of work and it is not like actually being there to see the work in full view.

If you haven't visited a gallery before, this may be a good time to go. The student works will be displayed through April 9. If you are not quite sure what you are going to do for spring break, take an afternoon and stroll through the relaxing atmosphere of the Gallery!

Brunnier Gallery is open to the public from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

Library Hours

The Boone Campus library hours are Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. - 8 p.m. and Friday from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Board Approves $20.5 Million Budget

The DMACC board of directors approved a $20.5 million budget for the fiscal year 1987, and received and filed recommendations for personnel changes during its meeting Tuesday, March 4.

The $20.5 million general operating budget falls about $150,000 less than this year's budget.

The current general fund and next year's general fund reflect reductions of $830,000 because of cuts in state and federal aid. Approximately $530,000 of the reduction was taken care of by reducing travel and publication costs, materials, supplies, and various other expenses.

The board discussed several alternatives to cover the $300,000 remaining in red. Two of the alternatives discussed were to raise tuition, or decrease the staff.

President Joe Borgen and the board members felt because of hard economic times, an increase in tuition would be counterproductive and would also keep many students from going to college. Instead, these personnel changes were proposed:

- Terminating four administrative positions which receive funding from outside sources.

- Eliminating two administrative positions from the Economic Development Group.

- Eliminating six specially funded faculty positions, pending funding.

- Terminating four faculty positions, including two in surgical technology, one in respiratory therapy and one in health care administration.

Those holding the 16 staff positions have a right to appeal within five days after they receive notices of termination.

Hartzler Plays in All-Star Game

Kelly Hartzler, Boone Campus sophomore, played in the junior college North-South All-Star game, with the south winning 83-70.

Hartzler made the south team from consistent offensive play throughout the regular season for the Boone Lady Bears. She is expected to finish in the top ten average point scorers in junior colleges in Iowa this year.

Hartzler played a good game in the north-south rivalry, scoring six points.

Slam Corner

by MARC WOLEVER

Everybody has been getting the NCAA tournament fever lately, but with the way the teams are seeded, who could be lucky enough to pick four teams to make it to the Final Four?

I'm sticking with the Big Eight champions, the Kansas Jayhawks. Alright, everyone all at once, tell me I'm wrong! But that's the fun of guessing. Just to pick a team and hope they make it all the way.

As long as I'm making predictions, I'll go with St. John's, Duke and Georgia Tech to join Kansas in Dallas. (I don't really care if that's the way it turns out; I'm just one of those who likes to see a good upset.)

I hope I'm not the only one who is upset that Syracuse gets to take the home court all through the Eastern Regional, if they can keep winning.

What about Iowa, Iowa State and Michigan all ending up in Minneapolis? Some like that idea and some are very upset with the pairing.

Personally, I would like to see Iowa and Iowa State meet up again because we all know who would win that game!

Well, I guess if Woody Mayfield is officiating that regional game, then the ISU Cyclones may get upset by the Iowa Hawkeyes!

BEARS FINISH 8-20

by MARC WOLEVER

The DMACC Bears basketball team finished the season 8-20, and 5-17 in the Iowa Junior College Conference.

The Bears' final two games of the season were losses, putting them out of the tournaments.

The Bears suffered losses to Clarinda, 99-70, and to Mason City, 101-73.

Team leaders in the season stats columns are as follows: Bryce Schaben, leading the field goal percentage with a 56.6 average, Rod Martin, following with 55.9%.

Free throws were held down by Steve Hoshaw with a 74.7% average, while the rebound category was led by Martin with 227 total rebounds and Dan Coder with 160.

Mike Floyd led the assists chart with 54, Coder followed with 46.

Schaben stood all alone in the blocked shot chart with 25.

In the total point column, Hoshaw and Martin led the way with 17.1 and 14.1 total averages.

Other players who contributed to the Bears' squad are Todd Danner, with 19 forced turnovers, Darvin Jackson, with a 62.0 free throw percentage and Bertini, with a 50% free throw average.

Good luck to all the graduating sophomores, and best of luck to Coach Larry Hughes on a successful recruiting year and the upcoming 1986-87 season!

LADY BEARS WRAP UP 85-86 SEASON

by DAN HEUERTZ

The Boone Campus Lady Bears ended their season on a disappointing note with two losses to Reames of Des Moines and Burlington.

The Lady Bears, coached by Dick Criner, failed to make the junior college playoffs.

However, the final two games showed consistent play offensively by Kelly Hartzler and Julie Neiland, with support from Deanna Hoch.

Defensively though, the Lady Bears struggled with weak rebounding, both offensively and defensively.

In DMACC's loss to Reames, 74-54, Linda Shoma led all scorers with 20 for Reames. Hartzler dumped in 15 to lead the Bears' scoring effort. Hoch added 12 and Neiland, 11.

In DMACC's loss to Burlington, 68-55, Jodi McClure of Burlington poured in 32 points to lead all scorers. Hartzler again led the Bears with 15 while Neiland contributed 14.

This marks the final season for Hartzler, Hoch and Jane Grote.

Benefit Basketball Nets $1,000 For Charity

by JIM HORSTMAN

An exciting, action-filled benefit basketball game featuring Boone Fareway Store employees against the very challenging WHO broadcasting Owls was held Sunday, Feb. 23, at the DMACC - Boone Campus gym, with the Owls flying with the victory, 76-58.

Approximately $1,000 was raised, which will be donated to Boone County United Way.

The Owls immediately took charge of the game by a 10-point spread. Fareway bounced back to cut the lead by six points, but that just wasn't enough, as the WHO Owls went on to win it by 16.

Fareway's Glen Weber, organizer of the event, said, "Even though we lost, we really had a great time.

"We really appreciate DMACC letting us use their fine gym facility. We also thank the people for purchasing tickets and for coming out and watching us; your support was great!" he said.

Boone Fareway Store officials also expressed thanks for the community support.

Boone Campus students involved in organizing this charity event were Chris Besler, Terry Lingner, Mike Myers and Jim Horstman.

Cheerleading Clinic Held At Boone Campus

by TERRI FAIRCHILD
The Boone Campus cheer squad recently sponsored a special kind of fundraiser for Boone area grade school children, grades two through six, to participate in a cheerleading clinic.

The clinic was held Saturday, March 8, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. in the Boone Campus gymnasium.

The cheer squad taught nearly 200 students cheers, chants, stunts, jumps, and dance routines.

Jinny Silberhorn, cheer squad advisor, commented, "The clinic was a lot of fun for both the cheer squad and the kids."

We didn't really expect to have 200 kids attend, but everything went well regardless of the large number of kids!"

Boone area children take part in a cheerleading clinic held by Boone Campus cheer squad Saturday, March 8.

All About Accreditation

by GUY MEEKER

An eight-member team will visit DMACC to view campus operations and talk to those involved with DMACC from April 23 - 25. This process is known as accreditation.

The team is made up of various school presidents, deans, and department heads from around the country. Their common interest is for better education.

The team will be given an evaluation report written by over 90 persons from DMACC, according to Dr. Beatrice Clupper, chair of the communications/humanities department at Boone Campus and chair of one of the six committees writing the evaluation report.

The report deals with the way DMACC conducts itself in the field of education, both positively and in respect to areas in need of improvement.

The accreditation process allows the team to talk to students, faculty, administrators, support staff, and board members. The team will compare each group's viewpoint to the evaluation report. They will look for differences in the report and their conversations, and then give an accreditation rating.

DMACC is looking for an accreditation of 10 years (the maximum accreditation), according to Clupper.

Everyone is encouraged to talk to the team and express their opinions. Clupper said.

"The team is looking for a lot of input," she added.

The last accreditation was given in 1979, for seven years. That team found "excess ability," meaning that certain programs at DMACC were not offered often enough. The programs relied on the student being full-time and didn't offer courses in fairness to part-time students, according to Clupper.

The school was revisited for a "focus visit" in 1983 for the access ability problem, said Caroll Bennett, dean of the business department at the Ankeny Campus and the overall chairman of the accreditation committee.

Law Requires Fire Drills

by JIM HORSTMAN

Equipment and fire drills are required by local, state and national laws for public educational institutions, including Des Moines Area Community College.

Boone Campus custodian Delbert Peter said the law requires DMACC to have extinguishers, hydrants, alarms, and in every classroom, a sign displaying fire instructions for evacuation.

DMACC is required by law to hold two drills per semester. These drills are conducted during both day and evening classes.

Peter says these drills are important and should not be taken lightly. He emphasizes the following instructions to be followed when the continuous alarm horn is sounded.

When the fire alarm sounds, immediately leave the building in an orderly manner using the nearest exit.

Peter adds that students on the second floor should always use the stairs and never the elevator. The handicapped should be helped down the stairs. When the alarm is sounded, the fire department cuts the power and the elevator automatically shuts off.

After leaving the building, proceed to an area out of traffic ways and at least 100 feet away from the building. Stay clear of fire hydrants and fire fighting vehicles.

According to the Boone Fire Department official, poison from smoke and the fumes from burning matter kill more people than fires. Getting everyone out quickly is the first priority.

Peter also reminds all students and faculty to keep the fire lanes clear. Peter says if a fire did break out, the fire department needs to get as close as possible to the building.

DMACC-Boone Campus has not reported any fire damage to its facility since opening in 1969.

Students Fight Hunger in Africa

The National Student Campaign against Hunger has launched a new program to combat hunger in America, funded by a $100,000 grant from USA for Africa.

The program -- Action for Community Transformation (ACT) -- will offer programmatic and financial assistance to student projects, as well as a summer expedition to Africa for students who conduct the most effective projects in their communities.

"We welcome greater student activism around this pressing issue," said Larry Brown, chairperson of the Physician Task Force on Hunger in America and member of the National Student Campaign's advisory board.

The Task Force, which is composed of leading medical and public health experts, recently described hunger in America as "a national health epidemic" that directly affects as many as 20 million Americans each month.

The ACT program will include three components:

- A professionally-staffed resource center to assist students with organizing and implementing projects.
- A speakers bureau composed of the nation's leading hunger experts.
- An incentive fund to provide small grants to projects requiring financial assistance.

In a recent mailing to 10,000 campus leaders announcing the availability of incentive grants, Kenny Rogers, honorary chairperson of the ACT program, said, "In the last year, we have reached a wider audience than ever before with a very simple message: Hunger is a problem that can and must be eliminated. Through the National Student Campaign, you can do your part."

Among the model projects that the ACT program will sponsor are:

- Surplus food distribution. Students at Yale University arranged for surplus food from campus dining halls to be donated to local food banks, cutting campus waste to 2%.
- Advocacy campaigns. Students working with the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group (NJPIRG) spearheaded a coalition to pass a $7.7 million supplemental nutrition bill in the state legislature. The bill has passed the State Assembly and awaits Senate action.

- Community service and fundraising. Student leaders in Michigan have recruited more than 100 colleges nationwide to join them in a one-day "Hunger Clean-up" April 19, 1986. The event involves students volunteering for community service projects, then raising money for anti-hunger work by recruiting individual and business sponsors for their volunteer efforts. Last year, nine schools in Grand Rapids, Michigan raised $10,000 through a similar event.

The National Student Campaign against Hunger is a project of the Public Interest Research Groups (PIRGs) in cooperation with USA for Africa. With statewide organizations in 25 states, the PIRGs are the largest national network of students working with professional staff on various social action projects.

The ACT program builds on the National Student Campaign's fall program, through which thousands of high school and college students across the country organized fundraising, educational and community action projects.

The fall campaign culminated in a special United Nations ceremony in November, where Walter Cronkite and Kenny Rogers presented awards to the six best student projects. The spring ACT campaign will culminate with the selection of at least five students to join a summer expedition to Africa, organized by American Scholars against World Hunger.

MARY JANE GREEN

Teacher Feature

A Minute with Mary Jane

by B.W. NELSON

Teaching and advancing her college education are both keeping Mary Jane Green very busy these days!

While teaching here at DMACC - Boone Campus, Mary Jane is also working on her master's degree at the University of Northern Iowa. She completed her undergraduate work at Buena Vista College in Storm Lake.

In the past several years, Mary Jane has taught at several schools including Estherville High School for eight years. There she was the office education coordinator and yearbook advisor. She also taught part-time at Ruthven for one year while working full-time at the Spencer Hospital, and taught at Carroll Kuemper High School for five years. Most of the subjects she taught were in business and cooperative education programs.

This semester Mary Jane is teaching information processing and concepts and typing for accountants, among other courses. She feels this has been a hectic school year for her because of the new classes that she is teaching. One advantage she enjoys this school year, however, is the flexible scheduling.

Mary Jane grew up in her hometown of Auburn with one sister and her parents. She attended Lake View - Auburn High School.

Besides being with her family, Mary Jane likes to shop, cook, ride bike for exercise, and meet new people.

Mary Jane is also the advisor of the Phi Beta Lambda which is the college division of Future Business Leaders of America.

After this semester, Mary Jane is planning to teach summer school at DMACC - Boone Campus and also attend summer school at UNI.
