Homecoming planned by PBL

by DODI O'LENA
Staff Writer

Boone Campus held its Homecoming Week Feb. 11-16. The event was coordinated by Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) and sponsored by Student Action Board (SAB).

Some activities for the week included a pudding eating contest, bake sale and dress-up days.

The pudding eating contest was held in the lounge Thursday, Feb. 14. The Bears' men's and women's basketball teams were involved. The girls were blindfolded and had to feed the guys, who had their hands tied behind their backs!

Another activity Feb. 14 was the PBL bake sale. There was also a staff baby picture contest, where the pictures were displayed in the glass case just outside of the main office. Anyone was able to participate in the guessing game.

For Homecoming Week, PBL put a little extra style into each day. Monday was "hats and shades day,"

Tuesday was "dress down day," Wednesday was "dress up day," Thursday was "sweats day," and Friday was "blue and white day" or "DMACC day."

PBL was also busy decorating, both in the campus lounge area, and at Elk's Lodge, where the dance was held Saturday, Feb. 16, from 8-12 p.m. Tickets were $2 if purchased in advance or $2.50 if purchased at the door.

Homecoming king and queen candidates were nominated all week. Those nominated had to be classified a sophomore, or have 32 credit hours. The ten candidates were announced Friday, Feb. 15, and the king and queen were picked at the dance Saturday.

Duanna Vinchattle, PBL president, and Shirley Fitch, PBL's SAB representative who co-chaired homecoming, personally invited the faculty and staff by sending them invitations. The parents of the Bear's basketball teams were also invited.

Chad Waggman, Boone Campus student and Bears baseball player, hurries to class on a recent chilly morning. Boone Campus was a beautiful winter scene during much of January with the snow and frost-covered trees and evergreens.

Rotaract welcomes international students

By KAROL HICKS
Editor-In-Chief

Rotaract members will act as a welcoming committee for a dinner planned for Monday, Feb. 25. The dinner is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Boone, and is for all international students and their spouses.

This dinner is an annual event which the Rotary Club is catering for the enjoyment of international students, faculty, Rotary Club members, and the Rotaract Club here on Boone Campus.

Lee McNair, who advises the Rotaract Club, is also a Rotary Club member as well as faculty. He mentioned that the dinner would be held in the student lounge at 6 p.m. and encourages all who are invited to fill out the registration forms sent to them.

Bomb scares cause a stir

By KAROL HICKS
Editor-In-Chief

It doesn't seem like two weeks have passed since the call came in, which sent everyone scurrying for their cars. I, for one, had not entered the building yet when a huge mass of students and faculty were seen heading for the parking lot to get as far from the building as possible.

As you know, we all went home that fateful Wednesday, only to experience all our fears again, two days later with another threat. However, on the second scare, most people took the time to grab their coats and car keys.

Executive Dean, Kriss Philips, was out of town during the events, but was anxious to make a statement to the student body. He said, "We treat all calls as authentic and the policy we were instructed to follow is:

1. Get as much information from the caller as possible, trying to locate the alleged bomb,
2. Immediately notify the authorities,
3. Evacuate the building in as orderly a fashion as possible, under the circumstances."

Philips also added, "I've been in contact with the police every day, and they assure me that a thorough investigation is being conducted.

This is a serious situation, and when the caller is apprehended, we will prosecute," he added.

No figures were available as to the number of students who never returned on Friday, but in Dr.

Taylor's 11:15 class, over half of the students started their weekend early.

Most of us are serious students and resent the loss of two days of classes. We now need to find a way to make up that lost class-time.

Some people react to these crises in predictable manner; the young guys see it as an unexpected holiday from classes, the young gals try to figure which one of the "jocks" in school placed the call, and then there's the rest of us who cannot even contemplate anyone doing this for a joke, and take it to heart. First we get frightened, and then we get angry at the cause of our fright.

The question of "why?" seems to go unanswered, but when caught, the man placing the calls will surely be punished. Maybe there is justice in the world after all.

Enrollment up again

by DODI O'LENA
Staff Writer

As of Jan. 30, 1991, Boone DMACC Campus enrollment totalled 996 students, which reflected 10,027 credits.

That is a 9.6% increase over last year's spring semester.

The Dean feels that DMACC offers good quality programs and is real pleased with the teaching staff.

COMMENTARY

DODIMANIA

TO MY VALENTINE!!!

by DODI O'LENA
Staff Writer

I asked a few people to send their special someone a Valentine message, using the titles of songs. Here's what they had to say:

To my Valentine, Craig, I "Cherish" our love. Debbie.

To my former Valentine, "You're All The Man I'll Ever Need." Tina Hardy.

To my George, "I'll Always Love You," no matter where the future takes us. I know you'll always be with me. Love you, Mouse.

To Paul, "Every Rose Has A Thorn." I think you know who. "You Are A Bug On The Windshield Of Life." Sandy Roberts.

To my could have been Valentine, "How Can We Be Lovers, If We Can't Be Friends?" Tina Hardy.

To Jenna, "Baby Face, You've Got The Cutest Little Baby Face!" Mama.

To Jerry, "You Light Up My Life." Karol.

To my one and only Valentine, "When I'm With You" I'm "Lost In Your Love." Dodi O'Lena.

Boner, Hey sweets! There's "No One Like You!" Guess what? I love you. Have a great Valentine's Day. You'll be in my every thought! Lots of love, Tari.

To a "Wild Thing," Happy Valentines, Dee Love, from your Secret Sis.

To Joe, "Forever Your Girl." Bert.

To my best friend Valentine, Tina, "Thank You For Being A Friend." Dodi O'Lena.

To my best girl friend Valentine, Dodi, "That's What Friends Are For." Tina Hardy.

One day at a time

(A day in the life of an adult student.)

by PATRICIA GREEN

7:30 a.m. Ugh!! Shower! Coffee! Now I can face the day. Barely alive and nervously anticipating the first day of classes.

Time to cook breakfast for the kids; I'm too nervous to eat!

8:30 a.m. Get the kids off to school and then myself.

What do students wear these days anyway?

Scanning the closet, nothing seems right. T-shirt and jeans? Too high school. Slacks and a silk blouse? Too dressy. I might be mistaken for a staff member. A sweat and jeans?

Close enough!

8:55 a.m. Off to school! God, I'm terrified! I haven't set foot in a school in eight years!!

I feel kind of out of place.

I mean, how many students change diapers and wipe noses in their spare time? While most students will be partying and having fun, I'll be tucking in the children and passing out in front of the t.v.

10:00 a.m. I wonder if any other students go home in between classes to throw in a load of clothes and wash the dishes? (It's amazing how dirty clothes can get on a 3' person!)

11:20 a.m. Five minutes late for class. I walk in and every eye turns toward me! I feel like bolting!!

My subconscious reasons with me, "Just sit down and shut up!" it says. OK! I can handle that.

I see a familiar face and say Hi! (Then I spend the next ten minutes trying to remember her name!)

All in all, not a bad day. Not as threatening as I expected, and the urge to peek in the other classrooms was hard to resist, but I survived. But what about tomorrow? What other surprises lay in wait? I guess I'll just take things one day at a time.

Roy J. Carver Scholarship Available

Applications are now available for the Roy J. Carver Community College Scholarship through the DMACC Foundation.

Applicants must be enrolled in a vocational or technical program, have earned 12 credits or more at DMACC prior to applying, have a 2.5 or higher GPA, and have financial need. Applicants must also be non-traditional students, such as a single head of household or an older returning student.

The deadline for applying is March 1, 1991. Recipients will be selected to receive from $1,000 to $2,000 toward next fall and spring semesters.

Applications are available on the glass partition located outside the main office. For further information or questions contact the financial aid department.

Early Bird registration

All two-year college transfer students admitted to UNI by March 29, 1991, for summer or fall term 1991, will be invited to come to UNI campus to register for summer and/or fall classes.

The three days covering transfer students will be Wednesday, April 24, Thursday, April 25, or Friday, April 26.

According to Christie Kangas, Assistant Director/Transfer Relations, these will be one day programs consisting of department advising and class registration. The main advantage of registering in April is that students will have the best possible selections of fall classes at that time.

Emphasis, Kangas adds, is made that students must be admitted by March 29 in order to be eligible to participate. Those admitted for summer and fall term after March 29 will be invited to register for classes during the summer.

Only those invited to register in April will be permitted to register at that time. Students will receive their invitations for the first week of April assigning them to a specific day, and will be expected to return an enclosed reply card to reserve their time.

Feelings expressed after bomb threats

by LORI BLUMBERG
Staff Writer

When the fire alarm sounded the morning of Wed., Feb. 6, 1991 a typical first reaction was probably, "Oh, just another fire drill!" But when the "fire drill" turned out to be a "bomb threat" there were many reactions.

Several students and faculty were asked this question, "What was your first reaction to the bomb threat?"

Here are their responses:

Tech Rice - I thought it was a joke because of all the talk of terrorism.

Laurie Runyan - Surprised, kind of worried because people were standing so close to the building.

Ralene Lewis - I just kind of laughed.

Mike Schlicht - I think it was stupid for someone to call in a prank like that.

Dennis Ege - It kind of frightened me a little bit.

Traci Stevens - My DMACC, in Boone? Are you sure it's not in Ankeny?!

Rhonda Mortensen - Somebody got mad at the computers and planted a bomb.

Bill Alley - Concerned.

Tina Hardy - Why Boone? What dork pulled this?!

Jodi Koppes - What baseball player pulled this?!

Heather Darling - Started laughing, great no school!

Chandria Russell - It was just a joke to get out of school.

Jeff Bergman - No school.

Curt Muir - The scuds are coming.

Carmen Mead - In Boone? Scary!

John Sindahl - Let's go have a beer.

Marlela King - I didn't feel very secure to come to school the next day and I felt my security was violated.

Karen Wagner - Shocked and to get out of the building.

Lee McNair - I first thought it was an unannounced fire drill, then I felt disbelief after hearing it was a bomb threat. I also thought the students didn't move fast enough or take it seriously enough.

Bob Taylor - I believed it and thought that someone was disturbed.

Sandi Johnson - Call the police and get everyone out of the building, also shocked.

Martha Ballantyne - You're kidding me - Oh my God!

Cynthla Ryan - You've gotta be joking.

Todd Fisher - I didn't want my books to burn up.

Bill Blanshan - I didn't think it was for real, not worried about it.

Jayne Smith - The bomb scare brought the war closer to home.

Kathy Kirkegaard - It didn't surprise me a bit. It was my first thought when I heard the intercom.

Duke Burrell - Can't be, not in Boone, Iowa.

Rich Finnestad - You're not kidding me?!

(A second bomb threat by phone occurred Friday, Feb. 8, after this story was written.)

They will be having a high school workshop the first part of April.

And PBL is also anxiously awaiting state contest.

Rec Club plans

by SCOTT SWIER
Staff Writer

The Boone Campus Rec Club is now in the process of planning future activities, according to Bill Alley, advisor.

The Club is planning on attending the Iowa Park and Recreation Congress which runs from March 24-25 in Waterloo. The Rec Club is also in the process of coordinating a function during Spring Break. Details are still being worked out.

Transfer Day at ISU

by LORI BLUMBERG
Staff Writer

"Experience Iowa State Transfer Day" will be held Feb. 21, 1991, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., at the Sun Room in the Memorial Union.

Events planned for the day are presentations on admissions, academics, financial aid, and housing. You can also take a tour of the campus, meet with an academic advisor, or sit in on a class.

A van will be going from Boone Campus for the first thirteen who sign up.

If you have any questions or for further information, contact George Silberhorn in the main office.

REMINDERS

- Don't forget to pick up your GSL or Stafford loans.
- Now is the time to apply for financial aid for next semester.
- St. Patrick's Day is March 17.
- Easter is on March 31.
- An advice column will be added starting in March. You may submit letters to Dear Pat. Please drop them in the Bear Facts mailbox in the main office.

The Boone Police and Fire department responded to which occurred Wed., Feb. 6. Classes were cancelled the first bomb threat call to DMACC-Boone Campus, the rest of the day.

Practice under way for 'Meanwhile Back on the Couch'

by COREY VESPESTAD
Staff Writer

The DMACC-Boone Campus Drama Department will present "Meanwhile Back on the Couch" Friday-Saturday, March 8-9 at 8 p.m. each evening in the auditorium.

Tryouts were held Jan. 28-30. The cast includes: Brett Landon as Roy Terrigan; Mike Koch, Albert Brock;

Jim Merrill, Parker Donnelly; Corey Vespstad, Victor Karleen; Gloria Renz, Dorothea Melnik; Tina Hardy, Charlotte Hennenbon; Misti Orban, Jingle Jabonski; Jacque Hughes, Gabrielle Wingate.

The director is Kay Mueller, drama and speech instructor.

She commented, "I'm very excited about the play; I think we have one of the most dedicated group of students working on it. It's going to be a very, very funny show."

Hardy said, "I feel with a lot of hard work and effort, the show will be a success."

Merrill added, "The play is going to be really interesting, funny and I think everyone should attend."

College briefs from around the country

Students want switch

ALBANY, N.Y. (CPS)—The student government at the State University of New York at Albany has resolved to use the term "womyn" whenever it refers to its own women's issues coordinator in its written material.

Advocates of the measure maintained the spelling "womyn" is "a less sexist term" than the accepted spelling "women," the New York Student Leader reported.

Community College transfers get better grades

CORVALLIS, Ore. (CPS)—Students who transfer to Oregon State University in their junior or senior years have higher grade-point averages than classmates who started at OSU, a study by OSU researcher Carol Kominski found.

Two-year campus transfer students' averages tend to be 10-to-15 points higher than the OSU average. Though the transfer students' grades drop after they enroll at OSU, they stay higher than average, Kominski concluded.

"What this study shows," Kominski told the OSU Daily Barometer, "is that community college students can be very successful if they choose to continue their education at a university."

Bush asks collegians to get behind the war effort

(CPS)—Apparently hoping to defuse a gathering anti-war movement on the nation's campuses, President Bush sent an unusual letter to some of the country's 14 million collegians Jan. 12, asking them to support his stand against Saddam Hussein.

Bush also promised to try to resolve the crisis peacefully.

"The president felt it was important to communicate directly with them," Bush press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said of the letter to students, adding that many students have friends in the Gulf region.

Untold numbers of the soldiers now in the region, of course, were themselves students just a few weeks ago.

In his two-page letter sent to about 460 college publications, Bush explained his policy rationale.

"If armed men invaded a home in this country, killed those in their way, stole what they wanted and then announced the house was now theirs—no one would hesitate about what must be done," he wrote.

"And that is why we cannot hesitate about what must be done halfway around the world in Kuwait,"

Bush said. "The facts are clear. The choice unambiguous. Right vs. wrong."

"We thought it was pretty much a joke," said Hideki Tomeoka, associate editor of the University of Washington's paper, the Daily. The editors received the letter by fax machine Jan. 8 and ran it the next day as a guest opinion with the headline "Words Of Wonder From Mr. Bush." An accompanying editorial cartoon of the President called it "bullshit."

Other editors just returning from winter break, like those at the University of Notre Dame and Oberlin College, said they hadn't yet finalized plans on how to run the letter. "I was surprised at first," said Kelley Tuthill, news editor for Notre Dame's The Observer. "But he does have to be accountable to us."

"It was condescending at some points," Tuthill continued, referring to Bush's explanation on "right vs. wrong." "Students know what's going on."

"If there's one place on the home-front Bush has to worry about, it's college campuses," added Eric Pfanner, editor of the Daily Nebraskan, the paper at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"I guess we're not on Bush's most-important list," said Kay Hilton, editor of the Sidelines, the student paper at Middle Tennessee State University, which didn't get a letter. Hilton described campus reaction to the crisis as "pretty mixed."

In the letter, Bush also recalled his days as a teenage combat pilot in World War II.

The president also saluted the 370,000-some American troops now in the Gulf as "young men and women who are putting their lives on hold in order to stand for peace."

THE WAR WIRE

National Campus Update COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE

Biggest Contingent

Forty-seven Texas A&M students have had to leave school for active military duty. Twenty-two withdrew from class to serve in the days before bombing started in Iraq Jan. 16. The other 25 withdrew from class Jan. 17, A&M vice president for Student Services Dr. J. Malon Southerland reported.

The Shelling Started...

A pregame announcement that war had begun sent an estimated 3,000 fans streaming out of the Carrier Dome at Syracuse University just before the start of the school's Jan. 16 game against the University of Connecticut.

A nationally televised University of Montana-University of Idaho basketball game was delayed for five minutes when 12 anti-war protestors lay down on the court, and had to be carried from the arena.

Angry Montana fans chanted "USA! USA!" and pelted the prone demonstrators with the potatoes they traditionally bandy about at games against Idaho teams.

So many bomb threats were phoned into Utah State University Jan. 17 that USU officials chose to cancel afternoon classes.

Celebrity Dissident

Alan Canfora, one of the Kent State University students injured by National Guardsmen firing at anti-war demonstrators in May, 1970, has signed with International Talent Associates, a booking agency, to help him capitalize on an anticipated demand for him to speak on campuses.

Wave Of Demonstrations

Anti-war students were arrested and injured at demonstrations in and around Southern Methodist, Cal State at Sacramento and Ohio universities, as well as at the universities of Texas-Austin and Oklahoma, among others.

At Michigan, demonstrators slashed the tires of cars parked in front of the ROTC building, and University of California at Los Angeles protestors spilled blood and oil on the steps of the federal building in downtown L.A.

More peaceful demonstrations were held at Willamette, Tufts, Louisiana State, Howard and Jacksonville State universities, and at the universities of Kentucky, Denver, Seattle, Louisville, Illinois-Chicago, among many others.

The Associated Press estimated there were more than 100 pro- and anti-war confrontations nationwide on Jan. 17, the first full day of war, with more than 1,400 people arrested.

Creative Group Names

At Columba University, collegians who wanted to demonstrate their support of U.S. policy in the Middle East formed a group called "Students Mobilized Against Saddam Hussein," or SMASH.

Eastern Michigan University students opposed to the war effort have dubbed themselves Student Organization for Peace, and pronounce the acronym as "SOUP."

DMACC plays well but comes up short

by CURT BLASKEY
and BRIAN VERHELST
Staff Writers

The DMACC Bears are nearing the end of the season and are still searching for their second win. According to Coach Hughes the players are working real hard at practice and in games but seem to come up a bit short at the end.

After coming off a hard fought loss to Iowa Falls on January 21st, the Bears were back in action on January 23rd, the 28th, and the 30th in search for victory number two and at presstime these are the only games we have available.

On January 23rd, DMACC squared off against Iowa Western of Council Bluffs the final score was Iowa Western 120 DMACC 89.

Leading scorers for the Bears were Chad Stalzer with 25 pts., J.B. Slight finished with 20 pts., and Al Scaglione ended the game with 18 pts. Leading rebounders were Stalzer with nine boards and Slight finished with eight.

On January 28th, DMACC traveled to Clarinda to face Indian Hills but even though the Bears lost 123-79, the statistics were amazing. Leading scorers for the Bears were Chad Stalzer with 33 pts., J.B. Slight chipped in 29 pts., and Al Scaglione finished with 23 pts. Leading rebounders were Stalzer with 10, Slight pulled down eight, and Reggie Martin had seven boards.

On January 30th, DMACC entertained Southwestern of Creston but illness and injury limited the Bears to only seven players. The final score was Southwestern 96 DMACC 76. Chad Stalzer once again led the way for the Bears with 34 pts., Terrance Paige chipped in 27, and J.B. Slight finished with 24. Stalzer also had a great rebounding game with 12 boards and Jim Parrish finished with five.

Even though the season is rapidly coming to an end we all know that the Bears are going to get that second win. So lets continue to show our support at the home games.

Lady Bears season stats.

by CURT BLASKEY
and BRIAN VERHELST
Staff Writers

Like the Bears, the Lady Bears season is almost over and since we have not covered very much of their games this season, this article will feature the leading scorers, team offensive and defensive averages.

First of all for the leading scorers: Valerie Camp leads the Lady Bears with 238 total points, Karla Lilly has 172 points, and Jennifer Reedholm is the third leading scorer with 97 points.

The Lady Bears are averaging 56 points a game, and giving up 73 points a game.

Candy Bunkofski is averaging two blocked shots a game. The three wins this season have come against Iowa Falls twice and Faith Baptist once.

Like we said for the Bears, lets continue to show our support for the Lady Bears for the rest of the season.

Turnouts for Tuesday and Thursday open gym have been quite successful so far this year. There have been 13 to 20 people attending. They either can play basketball or lift weights.

DMACC students and faculty are invited to open gym (no cost) Tuesdays and Thursday from 5:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

It is also opened on Sunday for co-ed volleyball. There are two games playing at the same time.

Mark Furst, DMACC's intramural director, said that the volleyball and open gym give people a break from school pressure.

Furst will also be in charge of this year's "Spring Fling," which will be held in April. He hopes that it will be a great success.

Activities being planned include tug-of-war, free throw contest, sand volleyball, miniature golf, softball and others.

Furst is interested in any suggestions from anyone and will try to help out in any way.

Open Gym Hours

Open hours at the Boone Campus gym are Tuesday and Thursday, 5:30-9 p.m., and Sunday, 5-8 p.m.

CAMPUS LIFE

Japan Week at Boone Campus

Activities for DMACC's Japan Week will be held at Boone Campus Monday, April 1, according to Bruce Kelly, organizer.

Here is a tentative agenda:

10:10 a.m.—Environmental Issues; class presentation; Shintro Shiina; Room 209.

11:15 a.m.—Time Management with dual income families, Japan v. the United States; Sachiko Nonomura; Campus Little Theater.

12:30 p.m.—Luncheon; Boone Country Club; community leaders, selected faculty and students invited; vocal presentation by Tonoe Hosaka at the beginning of the luncheon.

About 1:30 p.m.—Dignitaries return to Ankeny Campus.

Students were evacuated on DMACC Campus at 10:05. Classes resumed at 11:15. Fri., Feb. 8 due to a second bomb threat call in a week.

Art class tours DM gallery

by ABBY ANDERSON
Guest Writer

Collecting and appreciating fine art requires a certain amount of education and experience. Twenty-five students in Art 101 (Art Appreciation) toured Fernette's Gallery Friday, Feb. 8 to see first hand why some works of art are more desirable than others.

Fernette's Gallery has been in the Des Moines area for eleven years. Here art lovers can find works to please every taste as well as prices to suit any budget. Works are available from $65 to $6,500.

Fernette Smith, owner and president of the gallery, said wild life artist, Jesse Barnes is the most popular artist on display. Barnes' work is characterized by his use of warm, glowing light illuminating country scenes. His private signature is a small owl that is found in some portion of every work.

Jiang, an artist from the Yunnan province of southern China, has proved very popular in the U.S. With a distinct oriental flavor, Jaing's work vibrates with jewel-tone colors. Jiang's popularity has risen rapidly in a very short time, according to Smith.

As students from DMACC toured the gallery they were able to see first hand the different types of limited editions available to the collector. Serigraphs, etchings, lithographs, and original works all have different values. Signed, numbered, limited editions will always have more value than the photographic copies of the same work, Smith said.

She added, "Copies actually are posters with no prospect of ever increasing in value. Limited editions nearly always increase in value as they are approved by the artist who supervises their production."

Most of the Art 101 students found a favorite artist as they toured the gallery.

Jeanna Poore was captivated by the whimsical sculptures of Markus Pierson. Pierson's wood sculptures depict cartoon like characters who he paints in bright vivid colors. His works are meant to be humorous and dispel the idea the collectible art must be serious.

Another artist on display at Fernette's is Douglas Hoffman. Darice Brinkman found this artist to be one of her favorites. Hoffman is a photo-realist. At first glance his paintings are mistaken for photographs due to their extreme attention to detail.

Now that students have seen examples of various types and styles of art, instructor Barb Vaske said she hopes they will have a greater appreciation for the world of art.
