Boone Campus Homecoming, Parent's Night is successful!

By Scot Ostendorf Staff Writer

1990 DMACC-Boone Campus Homecoming activities were held Saturday, Feb. 17, including two ballgames, a parent's reception, and the Homecoming dance and party at Boone Golf and Country

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the king, Kelly Heller and queen, Lisa Miller.

Prior to the dance, both basketball teams were unsuccessful in their games against Waldorf.

This year's court includes Erin Allbaugh, Kim Sellers, Kim Fibiker, Jennifer Hoversten, Lisa Miller, Darren Taylor, John Izumi, Andy Goldsworthy, Yen Chong, and Kelly

Erin Allbaugh, of Boone, is the daughter of Marvin Allbaugh. She is an elementary education inajor and plans to further her education at the University of Northern Towa. Erin's hobbies include shopping and singing. She chose Boone Campus because it was close to home and it has a nice atmosphere. Erin's "brush with greatness" vias when she sang in New York City with her school choir.

Kim Sellers is the daughter of Tom and Janna Sellers, Dike, Iowa. She is also an elementary education major and she plans to attend Mankato State in the fall. She chose to attend school in Boone because her grandmother lives here. Her "brush" was when she got her picture taken with Winnie the Pooh at Disneyland.

Kim Fibiker is a business administration major from Callender, lowa. The daughter of Don and Mary Lon Fibiker, she plans to attend Iowa State University to further her education. In her free time she enjoys skiing. Kim came to Boone Campus because she likes the class sizes and the personal attention from the instructors. Her "brush" was shen she participated in the 1984 Morgan World Championship Horse Show in Oklahoma and won many world

Jennifer Hoversten is the daughter of Lyle and Carolyn Hoversten of Williams, Iowa. The liberal arts major plans to go to Texas A & M to study marine biology. Her hobbies include athletics and going out with friends. Jennifer's "brush" was when she played the tambourine for John Bon Jovi's band.

Lisa Miller is a Boone native studying pubic relations. Lauren and Barbara Miller's daughter plans to attend ISU in the fall. Dancing is what she likes to do in her spare time. She chose Boone Campus because it was close to home and the people are great to be around. Her "brush" was in John Bon Jovi's band playing keyboards.

John Izumi is the son of Hugh and Elizabeth Izumi. He is a business administration major and is undecided about his further education. His hobbies include eating, sleeping, and collecting butterflies. John came to Boone Campus because of the baseball program. His "brush" was when he bumped into Wayne Gretzky, eh.

Darren Taylor is the son of Edward and Mavis Taylor of Swift Current, Sask., Canada. The business major plans to transfer to a four year school, but is unsure which one. Hockey and golf are his hobbies and he chose Boone Campus because of the baseball program and affordability. Going out with Wally Joyner for a night was Darren's "brush with greatness.

Andy Goldsworthy is the son of Richard and Kathy Goldsworthy. He is a liberal arts major from Liverpool, lowa, and plans to attend the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee after finishing here at Boone Campus. Baseball is one of his hobbies and it is also one of the reasons he came here. Andy's "brush" was that he actually passed Composition II with Mr. Berge.

Yen Chong is the son of Hong and Lin Chong of Toronto, Ontario, Canada. Yen is a business major and is undecided about his further education. He likes to play hockey with Kelly Heller. One of the reasons Yen came here was to meet "the legen-dary John Smith." His "brush" was when he actually met Elvis at Hy-

Kelly Heller is a liberal arts major from Williston, North Dakota. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Heller Jr., Kelly is undecided about his plans. He also likes to play hockey. Kelly came to DMACC to "play for the legendary Coach John Smith and for Pufferbilly Days." His "brush" was when he offered Hulk Hogan a beer at the North Dakota State Fair.

NSU involved with Daffodil Days

By Angle Lansman Staff Writer

NSU will be helping out the National Cancer Society in March. Members will be taking orders for the Daffodil Days until March 10.

Cost will be $5 for 10 flowers to be delivered to the campus March 28.

On Thursday, March 1, NSU will be having a brown bag lunch at noon. At this time, members will select new officers for the coming year. Check for this information in the next issue of the Bear Facts.

NSU is also deciding on graduation pictures for second year students.

PBL celebrates PBL Week

By Angie Lansman Staff Writer

Phi Beta Lambda celebrated the month with PBL Week, Feb. 11-17. There was a different activity each day of the week, according to Mary Jane Green, adviser.

Monday was professional day, Tuesday members wore PBL colors blue and gold, or DMACC colors of Ginger Woodley, second place to blue and white. Wednesday, Feb. 14, members brought treats for a bake sale. Thursday was either pajamas or hat day. Students wore PBL and DMACC sweatshirts Friday.

Green said, "Approximately $85 was made at the bake sale.

A PBL poster contest was also conducted. First place went to Aleta Townsend, and Brenda Backman received third.

Other Business

Over $1,200 was made from the pizza sales in January. This fund-raiser money will go into a general fund.

A PBL meeting was held Wednesday, Feb. 14, Green said. Many topics were up tor discussion. Members talked about the idea of having another bake sale around Easter.

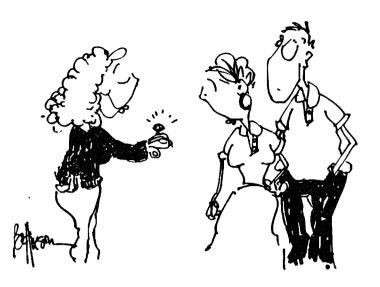

The group also mentioned doing another fund-raiser. They may be selling candy.

Members are gearing up for the State PBL Contest April 6-7.

What is your excuse for speeding?

By Raquel Zortman Staff Writer

The Bear Facts recently asked several Boone Campus students what their best excuse was when they try to get out of a speeding ticket.

Here are their responses.

Mike Derby: The light on my dashboard is out, and I didn't know how fast I was going.
Scot Ostendorf: It wasn't me.

Rick Carlson: My cruise control snuck up on me.

Shane Sonksen: My speedometer

Eric Diedrich: I didn't see the red lights. Scot Smith: The idle on my car was set five mph too fast. Kelly Heller: I am chasing a beer

Toby Foster: I am goofing around.

Kevin Van Dam: My speedometer is broke.

Shawn Yoho: I am taking my sister to piano lessons.

Todd Kibsgard: My dog is pregnant and I have to take it to the

Jim Poppen: My fuzzbuster isn't

QUESTION: What Are Your Feelings On Nelson Mandela's Release?

TERRY FISHER JEFFERSON, IOWA

Economic's santions against South Africa have finally forced them to recognize the repressed people of their nation.

ANGELA LATCHAM HEDRICK, IOWA

It is terrible that Nelson Mandela had to spend 27 years in jail just because he wanted to help the people in South Africa. I think it is great that he has finally been released and hopefully he will continue to help the black people in South Africa

BILL RYAN BOONE, IOWA

I think it is well that he was released, so he can lead the effort toward peaceful integration in South Africa.

LORI SCHILLING JEFFERSON, IOWA

I think his release is long overdue. Twenty-seven years is too long to serve in prison for the acts he committed.

ORSAN MANSY AMES, IOWA

It will be a great thing, especially for the black people in South Africa. Lots of changes will happen, I hope Nelson Mandela will do what people expect from him.

Teachers comment on smoking area

By Mick Kawahara Staff Writer

As most of us are aware, there were some structural changes made in The Campus Center to create a specific smoking area recently. The Bear Facts asked several teachers about their opinions on this matter. Here are their responses:

JoAnn Santage (non-smoker): I think it's a positive move and gives people visiting our campus an improved first impression.

Robert Taylor (non-smoker): I think it's excellent. I think both smokers and non-smokers are happy with the changes. Finally, my lungs are happy!

Jim Loos (non-smoker): I think it was needed. It was too smokey so I had to go somewhere else to eat. Bill Alley (smoker): I think it was a good move, and is working pretty well. I have people in smoking section complaining about the lack of adequate exhaust.

Jill Burkhart (non-smoker): I think the change was needed because the smoke bothered a lot of people here on campus. It's nice to breathe fresh air in the hallways again.

Mel Holthus (smoker): I believe it's excellent. I wish they could vent the smoker area. It's been great improvement in non-smoking area. I believe that someday smoking will be banned from entire building. ISU has already banned smoking in the building. I believe in the rights of the non-smokers over my right to smoke.

Sunny Power (non-smoker): I like it. I think it's a big improvement.

Rosie Irvine (non-smoker): I like the separation.

Mary Jane Green (non-smoker): I like it. We don't have to breathe the smoke, and the lounge is more pleasant to be in.

Curt Hill (non-smoker): I use a student lounge very little, but am in favor of the change.

Stop by the

BOONE CAMPUS BOOKSTORE

for all your school supply needs

Bruce Kelly (non-smoker): I think it's going to be positive, the thing that I worry about is that a lot of people who play pool, don't smoke, specially baseball players that care about health very much. I wonder how they cope with it.

Bill Ryan (non-smoker): Well, if it makes for a less offensive environment for a number of students, I think it's a good project. The negative side is I've been disappointed over the years to see The Student Center chopped up into several enities. In the past, certain functions could be held in The Student Center which are no longer feasible.

Vivlan Brandmeyer (nonsmoker): I'm very appreciative to be able to eat in a smoke-free area. I just like it.

Linda Piueger (non-smoker): The changes in the student lounge with regard to smoking is great! It is so pleasant to be able to eat without the smell of smoke. It's nice that the smokers can enjoy a place with access to windows

Jan Larson (non-smoker): I think it's fine. It's good to have a place to get something to eat and drink without smoke.

Nancy Woods (non-smoker): I love it! It helps a lot. It cuts down on smoke in the hall, in my clothes, in my food, in my cup.

John Doran (smoker): The changes are acceptable, however better ventilation in the area would be an important issue.

Kay Mueller (non-smoker): I think it's great. It's so nice to get pop without smelling like smoke.

Harold Johnson (non-smoker): It is a satisfactory arrangement. The main idea was to get a separate area for smokers, and I guess that's been accomplished.

World class violinist to perform at Boone Campus

By Mick Kawahara Staff Writer

World class violinist Leopold LaFosse will perform in the Boone Campus Auditorium Monday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door.

The evening will consist of primarily classical music, with some jazz mixed in.

George Silberhorn, director of student services, said "I'm sure the concert will be great. He is looking forward to playing at DMACC."

The event is jointly sponsored by Boone Campus and the Iowa Arts Council.

LaFosse has gained international recognition for his solo appearances in recital and with symphony orchestras.

Born in Massachusetts, he began studying the violin at the age of three, and made his first public appearance at four. His talent was recognized by imminent musicians, and at the age of eight, he began a three-year series of appearances on NBC network programs in New York City.

A musician of wide experience in many performance areas, LaFosse has been the concertmaster of five symphony orchestras: San Antonio, Dallas, Austin, Aspen Music Festival, and the National Symphony of Peru.

Prior to coming to the University of Iowa as artist-teacher of violin in 1972, he was on the violin faculty of the University of Texas at Austin.

LaFosse maintains an active schedule of solo performances in the U.S., Europe, and South America, including recent highly acclaimed appearances at the Phillips Gallery, the National Gallery of Art, and the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

LaFosse has written "A Collation of the Leading Pedagogical Approaches to Violin Technique" a compilation of the most important printed material on the subject of violin pedagogy.

Leopold LaFosse

"He never failed to give a full measure of ravishing sound, with golden notes soaring above the stave in Bartók's sonata for solo violin—and gave (Brahms' first sonata) as warmly satisfying an interpretation as I have heard,"

STUDENT LIFE

Student Spotlight Hoyle returns to school to fulfill his goals

By Scot Ostendorf Staff Writer

Everyone's big brother is the topic for this article.

Practically everyone at Boone Campus has probably heard of, or knows Jim Hoyle. If not, we hope to give you a glimpse into his life in this month's Student Spotlight.

Jim grew up in Bagley, but now resides in Grand Junction. He and wife Shanda have two children: J.J., 11 and Lacie, 9.

Jim received his GED from Jefferson 8 years ago, and then studied hairstyling in Europe with Graham Webb and Vidal Sassoon.

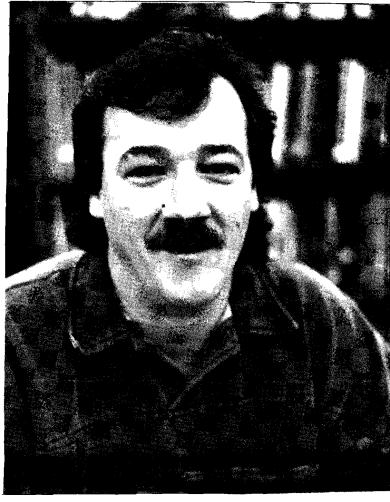

"I then worked as a platform artist for Matrix teaching others about hairstyles and coloring, among other tricks of the trade," he commented.

Jim owned his own business, for a time. He closed the Grand Junction shop, Permanent Connections, soon after his mother died to help his father with the family trucking business

Jim had a near fatal accident Sept. 22, 1988. He was running back to his truck when he ran into a wire about face high. He was rushed to the hospital where he was for several weeks.

Since this unfortunate accident, Jim "decided to go back to school to get a degree in recreation. I have a real love for kids and wants to someday be a guidance counselor for a junior high school."

Jim raises cattle with his father-inlaw back home. He also runs the

JIM HOYLE

Little League baseball program and coaches a team at Grand Junction.

Along with all that he teaches gymnastics at both Jefferson and

"My ultimate goal is to be a fulltime foster parent, and to have a boy's ranch for kids who have drug problems or come from broken homes," Jim said.

Art class tours gallery

By Angle Lansman Staff Writer

Art appreciation class traveled to Des Moines Wednesday, Jan. 31, to tour Fernette's, an art gallery, in Valley West Mall.

Barbara Vaske, Boone Campus art instructor, also works at Fernette's. She discussed many forms of art to the students. Her art work, sewn window screen, was also displayed there

Many students benefitted from seeing actual professional art. Students commented on which artist they enjoyed the most.

After a quick lunch, the students returned to Boone Campus. This is one of the four field trips art appreciation class will be taking.

Teacher Feature

Communication is important in the classroom

By Shane Kozal Staff Writer

Good communication between the teacher and student is what it takes to make a good classroom environment. At least that's what Nancy Woods, Boone Campus math and physics instructor and subject of this month's teacher feature, says.

"I really enjoy helping the students get a more clear understanding of the subject material presented to them,"

Woods said recently.
"I know there will be times when my students will have off days," so that is why I encourage retake tests, she added.

Woods has been teaching here since the fall of 1986.

"It has been fun working here because I have always had hard working students," she added. Woods graduated from Iowa State University with a Master's Degree in high energy physics.

"I plan to return some day and earn my Master's in math," she added.

Woods lives in Boone with her husband and their three boys. Her boys enjoy sports; she enjoys watch-

In her spare time, Woods enjoys

Poetry contest under way

Poetry prizes worth $44,000 will be awarded to 608 poets by the American Poetry Association in 1990. The association will sponsor four separate contests this year, doubling its efforts to discover new talent.

"Students win many of our prizes. They are in a creative time of life, and we look forward to reading their work," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the association.

Each contest awards a $1,000 grand prize, a $500 first prize, and a total of $11,000 in prizes to 152 winners. All adults who write poetry are welcome to enter.

For the current contest, poets may send up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CO-30, 250-A Potrero St., P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061. Poems must be postmarked by March 31 to meet the deadline. A new contest starts April 1.

Each poem will also be considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a hardcover collection of contemporary verse.

Since 1981, the association has awarded over $165,000 in contest prizes to 3,100 poets.

Movies about Viet Nam era open to students

Boone Campus students have the opportunity to view movies about Viet Nam, through the American in the Movies class being held this semester.

Even though it is too late to add the class for credit, students are welcome to view the movies, free of charge. The class is held Wednesday evenings, 6 to 10 p.m., in Room 209. Rick Christman, instructor, said although space is limited, it is fine for other students to sit in and watch the movies.

Bears in transition

By Brad Foytik Staff Writer

This year the Bears found themselves in a season of rebuilding and transition.

With only one returner from the team last year, the Bears found themselves with an abundance of freshmen having to fill the gaps.

The only returning Bear from last year is Kenny Jones. Jones is the leader on the floor, while averaging a steady seven points and four assists a game.

At off-guard, home town product Brent Brandmeyer has been a bright spot on this year's squad. He leads the team in scoring with an average of 14.3 points per game. Brent compliments his offensive game with strong defense and a team leading 35 steals.

One of the team's premier shooters Kenny Tjaden has been an offensive spark for the Bears this year.

"He is a good shooter, even though his percentage doesn't show it,' coach Larry Hughes commented.

Murphy Washington and Chuck Clayton both came to DMACC from Fort Dodge. Whether starting or coming off the bench, both are having productive seasons. Clayton, averaging 9.4 points and 3.7 assists a game is followed closely by teammate Washington who is averaging 12.9 points a game.

The Bears two big men, Anthony Kitt and Jim Parrish, have held their own defensively. Kitt leads the team in rebounds with 5.3 per game and in blocked shots with 14 on the year while Parrish has 13 blocked shots and has shown great hustle both offensively and defensively for the Bears.

Hughes was happy with the coachability of his team though he stated the chemistry was rocky at the beginning of the season.

One down spot of the Bears basketball team was the ineligibility of forward Ben Pierson for the second semester. During the first semester, Ben lead the team in points per game, rebounds, and shooting percentage.

With only a handful of games to play, the Bears have found themselves with a record of 2-19 overall and 1-17 in lowa Junior College play and a 1-4 conference record.

Despite their record, the Bears have steadily improved. With the abundance of returning freshmen next year the Bears should be an up and coming force in the Iowa conference.

Lady Bears much improved

By Brad Foytik Staff Writer

The DMACC women's basketball team, much like the men's, is in a year of transition.

Lacking height in the forward and center positions, the Lady Bears have found themselves with only two wins on the season. Despite the lack of height, the Lady Bears compensate with their quickness and outside shooting. Defense is a strong point in the Lady Bears' game plan.

Jacques Hughes leads the team in scoring, averaging 17 points a game. Since the arrival of Hughes at the semester, the outside shooting of the Lady Bears has been much improved.

The other outside threat and second in scoring per game is guard Jennifer Hoverstein. Jennifer averages 14 points and is one of two sophomores on the team.

The other sophomore, Lori Ford-team since her arrival at semester, with an average of 11 points per shon, leads the team in steals and hustle. Blanshon is primarily used to defend the opponent's leading

The leading rebounders on the Lady Bears are Cindy Bunkofski and Christa Anderson both averaging seven rebounds a game as well as making strong contributions to the Lady Bears defense.

Cindy Most is also a valuable player in the low post position. Coach Dick Criner, now in his ninth year of coaching at DMACC, is pleased with the defensive ability of this year's team. However, at times the offense lacks productivity.

Criner stated that he is optimistic about next year's recruiting and the returning players.

Try Your Luck At The Great Bear Shoot!

The Boone Campus cheerleaders are co-sponsoring a new activity this year with Domino's Pizza - a hoop shoot contest during halftimes of home games.

Anyone interested in participating should sign up at the gym door, according to Jinny Silberhorn, cheerleader advisor.

Basketball players, if it's not during their game, retired coaches, kids, tired parents, and teachers are all eligible to sign up.

At half time of the women's game, one name will be drawn to shoot: two names will be drawn during halftime of the men's game.

Those lucky fans whose names are drawn will start at the first shooting station and shoot until they miss.

- First station, Lay-up, Small Pizza.
- Second station, Free throw, 14" Pizza.
- •Third station, three point circle, 2 14" Pizzas.

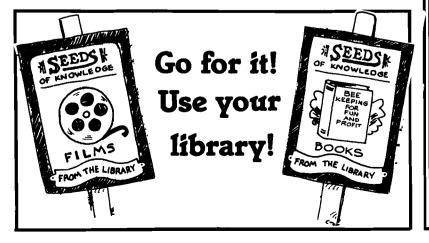

Placing a name in the ballot box more than once each game will cause foreiture of prizes.

The program from the basketball game will entitle fans to $1.00 off any pizza after the game at Domino's.

So come to the next home game, support your team, and win a steady nationwide College remain enrollments

Despite predictions, college enrollments overall are holding up better than would be expected given steady decline in the number of high school seniors graduating each

Based on findings of a recent study conducted by the College Board's Office of Adult Learning Services (OALS), the greater number of adults as new entrants to higher education is the explanation to the unexpected stable enrollments.

According to the results of the OALS survey, more than 6 million adults study for college credit every year and 60 percent of those adults are degree candidates.

The National Center for Education Statistics found that college enrollment in the fall of 1988 rose 2.5 percent from the fall of 1987, driven mainly by an 11 percent rise in the number of college students 25 years and older.

The U.S. Department of Education in its first comprehensive survey of undergraduate and graduate college enrollment by age in the fall, 1987, concluded that roughly 60 percent of all college students were 23 years of risk financial difficulties and to lose age or older. This information confirms that the "traditional-age" student is no longer the norm on college campuses.

Colleges now more than ever can no longer be organized only for students between the ages of 18 and

To continue to do so would be to

Don't let your glasses blur their vision.

Whether a glass holds 12 ounces of beer, 5 ounces of wine, or 11/4 ounces of spirits, the alcohol content is the same. It's important to know this because the size and shape of the glass can give people a distorted impression of how much alcohol they're actually drinking.

So when you're out to share some cheer with friends, remember how much alcohol is in your glass and that drinking sensibly lets you hold things in focus.

Always keep safe driving within your sight.
