More about STARS

- Administered by the UCF Libraries, STARS is available to host and promote research, creative activity, and institutional outputs to:
  - Ensure persistent access to your work
  - Increase discovery of UCF scholarship and creative endeavors
  - Foster scholarly collaborations with colleagues
  - Document and record UCF's history and progress
  - Discover open access materials and projects created by UCF authors
  - Allow you to share your work while retaining your copyright

Storage of Files & Data

- Examples of content you may put in STARS:
  - Working papers, conference papers, and technical reports
  - Faculty-student collaborative projects
  - Journals published by the UCF community
  - Published articles when copyright and/or license allow
  - Faculty course-related output primarily of scholarly interest
  - Organizational annual reports, newsletters, etc.
  - Data sets
  - Books or book chapters when copyright and/or license allow
  - Image collections or audiovisual materials
  - Conferences and events
  - Projects that include digitized content and/or links to online content
