DAUGHTERS OF UNION VETERANS

The Daughters of Union Veterans met Tuesday afternoon December 10 in upper G. A. R. Hall. President Severns called the meeting to order with fifteen officers present. Others coming in later. One application read and referred to investigating committee. One new member initiated into our order. Bill for floral drum for Comrade Clark referred to council and paid. Also resolutions read and adopted. All bills were brought in and settled up to make a clean start at New Year Day. All standing committees discharged. Quite a lengthy discussion was held about our installation exercises on January 6. Decided to hold same at the usual hour under the head of new business at the usual time and place with the privilege of each member inviting not more than two friends. Sisters, this is the time to show up and see what is going on so let's get our full number out for this Grand showing off. We must all remember our vows that we pledged ourselves to stand by our order and measure full weight. C. F. Rhoades, Press Correspondent.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY AT BROWN'S CHAPEL

Rev. G. W. Brown's 84th birthday was celebrated in Stilling style Dec. 12th. His real birthday is the 13th, but Dec. 12th coming on Saturday, his good wife thought best to invite a few of his friends in on Friday, it being the date for the third quarterly conference and the District Superintendent, Rev. J. J. Treadwell of the Methodist Church would be here at that time. A loaded table of good things to eat was waiting the guests when they arrived. It was simply groaning under its weight of chicken and everything that it takes to make a good dinner. Those present were Rev. J. J. Treadwell, Rev. Wm. Landis and wife, Mrs. D. L. Thomas, Mrs. Flora Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Crawford and son, Rev. and Mrs. Brown and little Clarence Buzg. After dinner the conference was held in the auditorium of the church.

BANANA REAL ESTATE

W. F. TRAVIS... at Banana Growers' Convention, Winter Haven, Fla., October 29

A tourist stopped his automobile and watched three men who were planting bananas in a field. He asked the first man what they were doing, and he replied:

"Planting bananas." He asked the second man: "Making a banana plantation," he said.

He inquired of the third man, who answered: "We are helping to establish a new fruit industry for Florida."

The banana is more than a fruit. It truly is a food-fruit. I know a man who went on a long journey of exploration into the wilds of Honduras. Their food supplies ran out. The party of sixteen, including white men and Indians, lived on bananas. They ate them raw, and they also washed them, adding water, pepper and salt, and boiled them to a thick creamy soup. The men all felt strong and healthy when they reached the next village, after having eaten nothing but bananas for three weeks.

In discussing banana real estate I am aware that some know considerable about it, and others possibly do not. This reminds me of a lawyer who was trying a case, and he quoted a large amount of law to the judge. The latter finally grew impatient and remarked that the judge might be presumed to know some law. The lawyer replied:

"I presumed that, the last time, and lost my case."

A new kind of real estate is on the market in Florida. It is called banana real estate, that is, land which has already been planted to bananas, or land especially suited for them. It is a recognized department of the real estate business, just as distinct as citrus land and truck farm land.

Sometimes we find a tract which will grow anything successfully, a sort of general purpose land which will grow big vegetable crops and bigger banana crops. Such real estate with all the physical characteristics required to make extra large banana profits, safe and sure, and by a good location, is a valuable piece of property to own.

Recently we bought a farm of eighty acres between Tampa and Oldsmar, which are planting to bananas. My son, Paul K. Bolles, and I spent many a day driving around examining one good piece of land after another, until we finally decided this eighty was the best proposition. It has forty-five acres of cleared land, to start with, and it is composed largely of deep rich muck, just like the best parts of the Everglades, yet located right close to Tampa, the largest city in South Florida. The balance of the farm is rich and fertile hammock land.

We will grow bananas on all those eighty acres, and make from them 800,000, or more per year. In the meantime Tampa is growing by leaps and bounds. In that direction there is inside of about five years, may be less, we will probably triple the capital we invested, in addition to the handsome banana profits. A colony of other banana growers is gathering around us, and we will not have any marketing problems, because we will ship in carload lots, and people are asking for our fruit and plants faster than we can grow them. We already have three other places. After we finish planting this eighty, my business associates and I have decided to set out 120 acres more, and after we get through with that, we are going to plant some more. In other words, we are in this business to stay, because we know from experience there is big money in it. We have made more money every year than we did the year before. Banana-growing is the best proposition I know about in the state of Florida today. It means more profits per acre, year in and year out, at less cost and less risk. We have helped a number of other people to get good locations to make money, and in every case we not only paid attention to the quality of the soil, water supply, drainage, and all the other physical considerations, which go toward making a property good for bananas, but we also selected locations where the property itself is sure to increase in value.

You take good land worth $200 per acre and plant it to bananas, and inside of one year it is worth $1,000 or more per acre. Why? Because it can earn $1,000 or more per acre per year. When a property can earn $1,000 to $2,000 per acre per year, that property is surely worth $1,000 to $2,000 per acre. Meanwhile the way Florida is growing, there is a very pleasing natural increase in value besides.

All the banana advertising and banana publicity the State of Florida has been receiving is one of the important forces contributing to its prosperity. Florida never was in a more prosperous condition as regards real estate values and real estate activity than it is today, and things are constantly getting better. The widespread publicity of Florida banana business has attracted the attention of the world. People are saying:

"I did not know they are growing bananas commercially in Florida. They must have a real climate down there, or they couldn't do it."

There is another land, far, far away, called California, where they are trying to grow bananas; and they grow a few in extreme southern Texas and Louisiana, but Florida has many advantages over them all, when you come right down to the practical business of making lots of money by growing lots of bananas.

As to the best varieties to plant, I am liberal-minded. We grow Bolles Improved Cavendish, Bolles Heavy bearing Hart, also the Martinique or Gros Michael which is the imported banana seen so commonly in the stores, and we also grow the red-skinned banana called the Red Jamaica, and several other good kinds.

We like them all. And all like us. We never have any diseases or such as have caused losses many trees to growers of other fruit crops. We are not afraid of too much cold or too much heat. We do not have to be sorry about anything of all. Around this is a comfortable living.

GERMAN CURRENCY STABLE FOR FIRST TIME SINCE WAR

In view of the fact that thousands of people in this country bought heavily of German marks after the war ended, and during war the following financial report will be of present interest.

BERLIN—For the first time since the war Germany has once more a stable international currency quoted on all the world's bourses.

The new-old mark is back: the reichsmark issued under the Dawes plan. It bears the same name, denominations and in some instances the same general design as the old paper mark which dwindled into billions.

Both the reventmark and the old paper mark are to be annulled. The reventmark was an internal currency. Legally, it was not permitted out of the country, and it was not dealt with in foreign capitals. In Paris, particularly, the reventmark was refused as so much spurious paper.

At present about 4,000,000,000 revent and paper marks are in circulation theoretically and practically valued at 1,000,000,000 gold dollars. During the past month, according to figures of the Reichsbank, there has been an increase in the circulation of all forms of currency—private bank notes, revent notes, metal coin and the few remaining railroad emergency paper bills.

Silver Coins Issued With the coming of the Reichsmark Germany once more will have gold coin, which have not been in a general use for the past ten years. The new silver money, issued simultaneously with the reichsmark, remains, with five, three and one mark pieces.

The new reichsmark is issued in denominations of ten, twenty, fifty, 100 and 1,000 mark notes. For the embellishment of these notes specimens of paintings by Hans Holbein, the younger, have been chosen, while as type the historic script is used. The size of the smallest notes, those of ten marks, is 75 x 150 millimetres. The dimensions increase proportionately with the value of the notes to the extent of 5 millimetres in breadth and 10 millimetres in length for every new denomination. The largest being the 1,000 mark note of 16 x 150 millimetres.

The notes of the three lower denominations are deeply colored, the 10-mark notes blue, the 20-mark notes yellowish and the 50-mark notes lilac, all having a dark border. The 100 and 1,000 mark notes are printed on a white background and colored only on the side bearing the numeral and the stamp. The 100-mark notes are green and the 1,000 mark notes brown.

The continual coming of silver currency and retrogradely tended to increase the money circulation by 30.3 million marks.

The circulation of the reventmark also increased in the amount of 20.7 billion marks without any appreciable expenditure on the part of the Rentenbank, which figures represents the highest increase thus far attained. But the principal increase was on the part of the Reichsbank notes, amounting to 128.6 million marks.

FLORIDA COTTON REPORT FOR DECEMBER Total production of cotton in Florida this year is now placed at 22,000 bales, with a total of 13,221 bales reported by the Bureau of the Census as having been ginned up to December 1. These figures do not include the cotton grown in Florida this year but shipped out of the State for ginning, which would make the State's total still more.

The average planted to cotton this year in the State is estimated at 45,000 acres, of which was abandoned leaving 21,000 acres planted. This is the smallest cotton acreage planted in Florida for some years, and a production of 22,000 bales from this acreage is a very creditable yield, an average of 120 pounds of lint to the acre. Favorable growing weather and little damage to the crop from boll weevil infestation were large factors in the heavy yield this year. This yield is particularly encouraging considering as it does offset the abnormally low yields of last year, when 171,000 acres produced but 13,000 bales, a yield of only 40 pounds of lint to the acre. This year's production of 22,000 bales produced from a small acreage is also highly creditable when compared with the average of 10,000 bales produced for the past five years.

The estimate of the cotton crop for the United States as a whole is now placed at 13,150,000 bales, of which 12,225,925 bales have already been ginned. This compares with the final estimate last year of 10,140,000 bales, an increase of slightly more than 2,000,000.

PREDICTS UNION OF ALL CHURCHES IN THE FAR FUTURE

Sometime in the "far future" all forms of Protestantism and Roman and Greek Catholicism will be "sublimated in one great faith," Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the Federal Council of Churches, predicted in a sermon in Atlanta on December 7.

Dr. Cadman's remarks were delivered as the "official sermon" of the council, which was in session in Atlanta. His prediction came in connection with a plea for "greater unity" between the Protestant churches. He also condemned war and declared Protestants could not lay claim to having the "purest form of apostolic religion" until they have disposed of "theological disputes and acrimonious controversies."

Light of Undivided Church In referring to the tasks before "God's statesmen," Dr. Cadman said the "best challenge, broadly speaking, is that the light of an undivided church shall shine upon a torn and exhausted world."

"To many retreat from our Lord's ideal for the church," he continued, "not because they look upon it as incredible, but as impossible. Nevertheless, its fulfillment is inevitable. If He wills, her enemies none can withstand. His will. Nor has she a valid title to anything. He has not bestowed her to be. The holiness of her membership is more vital than its unity in the spirit and in the organic form which the spirit shall obtain."

"When all believers are thus one as the Son is one with the Father, the world will know that He came as the Father. Then will the crying needs of the race be met and its religious hunger appeased. We crave no artificial unity dictated by expediency or made believers of mere compromise. On the contrary, we are demonstrably limited within limits that do not forbid expansion."

Must Grow Out of Old "We are grateful for the manifest favor of God upon our ancestral churches. We are intent on maintaining their specific contributions to the one body of our Lord. The new protestantism cannot be legislated into being. It must grow out of the old as the reaction from its vital impulses. It will thus absorb the historic sense of the traditional churches, blending their venerable gifts with those of the modern mind."

The discipline of Presbyterians, the reverence of Anglicans, the independence of Congregationalism, the intelligent enthusiasm of Methodism, the religious education of Lutherism, the tranquility of the Friends, and the democracy of the Baptists, are one and all tokens in us of God's indwelling, many-sided wisdom. They feed the Gospel's lamp with beaten oil, so that its rays illuminate diversified human temperaments and conditions.

Must Be Saved by Faith "But the life principle which virtues and transmits them into something better should dominate those types. God must be honored and man must be saved by the Incarnation, the firmness and the flexibility of our faith," he said.

Drain Your Land for Larger Crops

DRAINED land is fertile land. It will increase your crop yield enormously, enough more to pay for the drainage in one season. You will harvest better crops. You can work your land earlier and easier. Drained land has a higher value, making drainage your best investment.

But be careful in selecting your tile; you don't want to do the job over again. Our tiles are made of concrete by the Dunn method, insuring the best that can be made. They do not disintegrate, but actually improve with age. Every one is guaranteed.

HERO OF MANY BATTLES DIES AT AGE OF 82

DEEP RIVER, Nov. 10.—Frederick S. Snow, who passed away in this town Tuesday, in his 82nd year, was for many years a resident of New Haven, Conn. He was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1842, the first son of Martin A. and Louisa Emerson Snow, and was united in marriage to Jennie M. McIntosh at New Haven, January 7, 1862.

In June, 1863, he joined Admiral Fouts Post, No. 17, Department of Connecticut, United Army of the Republic. He filled many offices in the Post, and was commander in 1901 and acted for many years as quartermaster of the Post. During his residence in Deep River Mr. Snow was doorkeeper in the home of representatives at Hartford, and for many years he was employed by the New Haven road at Belle Mead.

His earlier life, if written in detail, would fill a volume. Residing in New York at the breaking out of the Civil War, Mr. Snow volunteered in the famous Hawkins Zouaves, which made up the Ninth New York regiment and was commanded by Col. R. C. Hawkins.

He was in all engagements of Company A, 9th New York Infantry, and he received a certificate of honorable discharge at New York city, May 20, 1863, by reason of expiration of term of service. After receiving his discharge from the 9th New York Infantry he went to Baltimore, Md., and was appointed military instructor at Lafayette Barracks and Camp Bradford and from there was assigned to Company E, 5th Regiment, Maryland Infantry, and was promoted to sergeant major of that regiment. He received a certificate of final honorable discharge at Baltimore, Md., September 1, 1865. He joined the United States Navy January 11, 1867, and was assigned to the practice ship "Schoon" and was promoted to paymaster's steward and to paymaster's writer. Upon the expiration of his enlistment he went to the western plains and was wagon master for General Sturgis of the 7th United States Cavalry and for many years saw hard and varied service on the plains. When employed as a scout for the army on the plains,

Mr. Snow was frequently engaged in carrying dispatches from one post to another, and owing to the hostility of the Indian tribes, it was an exceedingly dangerous service. Mr. Snow had a high regard for Gen. George Custer, under whom he served many times. He was lost in 1887 and lived for several years in Deep River.

His brothers, Gustavus S. and Augustus Snow, died some years ago. A half-sister, Mrs. Raymond Baldwin of Milford, a step-daughter, Mrs. Charles Fancher of Stratford, and several nieces and nephews survive him. Burial took place in the family plot at Deep River.—New Haven Register.

NAPOLEON'S ESCAPE SHIP, AGAIN EXPOSED

The ever-shifting sands of Monterey Bay have now disclosed for the third time in a quarter of a century the bones of the old French clasp-of-war Natalie, on which the Emperor Napoleon escaped from the Isle of Elba in 1815, says a special correspondence from Monterey, Calif., to "The Christian Science Monitor."

The historic ship was blown ashore at Monterey and foundered in 1872. Her crew, a gang of smugglers from Mexico, had left the ship to attend a conference held in the town. During the night, as captain, mates and sailors dined at the old Spanish festa, a terrific northwester came rampaging into the bay. The ship was torn from her anchor and tossed upon the beach not 200 feet from the site of the present railroad station.

The ship's captain, Don Jose Abrego, dismantled as much as he could of the vessel and used the salvaged timbers to build him a house that is one of the historical relics of modern Monterey. That part of the hull he didn't use sank in time beneath the sands. Twenty-five years ago the tides were so low that the bones of the old ship were exposed and local antiquarians managed to snag out part of the bow. This relic is preserved in San Francisco. Again, about ten years ago a number of teakwood balks and timbers of the Natalie were rescued from the engulfing sands at low tide. And now, in the middle part of September of the current year of grace, for the third time since 1872 the tides in Monterey Bay have been so low that they have once more exposed the blackened bulk of the old Natalie.

This time the townspeople have made an organized effort to save the historic timbers, for they saw that the sands were slowly but surely sucking them down and realized that probably never again would these extreme low tides, which are about twenty-five years apart reveal a trace of the historic vessel on whose deck the little corporal passed away the hours between Elba and France. So a rescue squad, equipped with grappling irons, jackscrews and hastily improvised block and tackle, set to work to snag out as many "bones" as possible in the three scant hours they had to work in before the turning of the tide.

In that brief time—though at the last they worked with the icy waters of the bay swirling about their shoulders—the intrepid squad managed to assemble on the beach, above high tide, 11 "knees," 4 balks of teakwood measuring 8 by 10 by 20 inches, two

DAVID STARR JORDAN WIN $25,000 PRIZE FOR PEACE PROPOSAL

AUGUSTA, Maine, Dec. 1.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford University, educator, naturalist and author, has been awarded the prize of $25,000 offered by Raphael Herman of Washington, D. C., for the best educational plan calculated to maintain world peace. Announcement of the award was made here today by Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, commissioner of education for Maine, the president of the world federation of education associations, which directed the contest. Thousands of plans were submitted.

The world federation of education was organized as an outgrowth of the world conference on education which met at San Francisco in 1923.

No Legislation Called For The award, Dr. Thomas explained, differs from that offered by Edward Bok in that it calls for no legislative action and will not be submitted to referendum vote. The plan selected it was stipulated must be world wide and capable of application in all schools.

Dr. Jordan in his plan recommends that the world federation make intense studies of certain matters pertinent to world unity through the continuous operation of appropriate committees on education for peace. These to report at stated meetings of the federation and to various national organizations corresponding to and including our own national education association, indicating at the same time lines of action likely to contribute toward international amity. Meanwhile, one must admit that any specified procedure can be at the best only a step toward the development of enlightened public opinion and co-operation in effecting mutual understanding among peoples.

GOOD DRIVER MORAL, SANE AND COURTEOUS

The National Safety Council answering the question as to what are the qualifications of a safe driver, the individual must be of good moral character, possessed of all his senses, understand his responsibility, have consideration for the rights of others and be able to act promptly. He should know that the car is in such condition that no accident will result from defective equipment. He should refuse to operate a car which has defective brakes for his own and others' safety; he should know by actual application of the brakes that they function properly so that, should the occasion arise to use them, he can depend upon them to stop his car.

He should examine the car before starting to see that it is in good operating condition, that is such items as the steering, gas, and oil supply. He should know that the headlights are properly focused, tires properly inflated and the spare tire ready for service.

He should be sure to use skid chains when it starts to rain or snow when desirable for safety under other conditions, and should never speed or drive in a reckless manner. He should be careful today—tomorrow may be too late to avoid an accident for accidents do not happen; they are caused and a well qualified driver is never in too big a hurry to be careful, for he who takes chances usually takes one too many.

At blind corners where buildings or trees obstruct the view, he should reduce his speed, sound the horn and keep the car under perfect control. He should drive slowly and carefully when approaching children at play. He should never count on them to see him or to be able to take care of themselves for he is responsible for their safety.

He should co-operate with the traffic officers to the fullest extent for it is their intention to help. All traffic rules of the state, cities and boroughs through which the car is operated, should be observed.

Accidents do not happen—they are caused.

teakwood timbers with a metal port-hole plate bolted to them, four timbers of a white wood and a quart measure full of copper bolts, brass washers and copper nuts. The teakwood balks are hard as iron and of a wonderful sugary color. The port-hole plate is of bronze and perfectly preserved. Though it has been under water for almost 100 years, it shows no sign of wear, corrosion or deterioration. All the copper pieces, brass washers and nuts are in the same condition. The port-hole plate shows plainly the evidences of having been hand wrought. The heads of the bolts bearing the marks of the hammer which made them. With a little lubricating and burnishing the plate would be in condition to be installed in the cabin of the most fastidious millionaire's private yacht.

The 11 "knees"—L-shaped timbers used to join the ribs in the hull—are of teakwood. Hard as stone, bearing a sea-worn bloom that an artist would despair of mixing on his palette, these balks are in so excellent a condition that they could be used to-day in building the foundation of a house. The four white-wood timbers salvaged from the sand are of spruce and are also in excellent condition. Wooden pegs are still imbedded in them, as are also several imbedded in them, as are also several copper bolts.

It is planned to keep these souvenirs on display in Monterey for some time, then they will be distributed among the museums of the state.

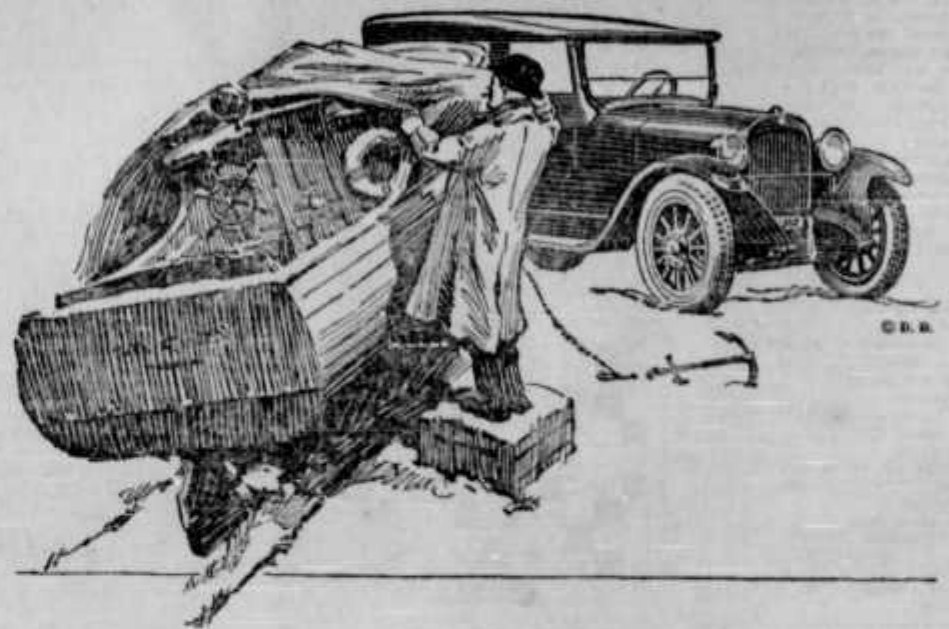

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR FOR ALL-WEATHER DRIVING

The Touring Car is now bought for winter use as commonly as the closed types are bought for summer use.

This is largely due to notable improvements that have been achieved in the cut and design of the curtains. They fit closely, open and close with the doors, and make it possible to keep the interiors snug and warm in cold weather.

We also carry special curtains with glass windows which practically convert the car into the closed type.

LAST WEEK'S ANSWER

ATTRACTIONS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR LYCEUM COURSE

LOCAL COMMITTEE IN CHARGE HAS MADE SPLENDID SELECTION.

Ticket Sale Should Be Large

All Numbers Secured From Well-Known Redpath Bureau—A Guarantee of Quality.

The committee in charge of securing attractions for the local Lyceum course, announces that it has been fortunate in contracting for a group of attractions that rank among the very best in the entire Lyceum field.

A Lyceum course is essentially a community-building influence. It offers good clean entertainment features and lectures which are informative and inspirational.

The fact that the attractions on the local course have all been secured from the Redpath Bureau, the founder of the modern American Lyceum, is in itself a guarantee of their excellence.

The following attractions will appear here this season:

Season tickets now on sale at Reynolds's Season Ticket, $1.50; Reservation, 25c.

ST. LUKE'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Fourth Sunday in Advent. Subject: The Kingdom of God. Text: Matthew 9: 10. Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven. Service at ten thirty A. M. WM. WESTOVER.

Florida has in the magnolia, one of the noble flowering trees of the earth, producing large creamy white blossoms of wonderful fragrance.

INTERSTATE ASSOCIATION

The Interstate Association met at the Park in the Tourist Club house Dec. 9th, the President, Dr. Hill in the chair. Before sitting to order the Pipe and Drum Corps played 2 selections. All officers were in their respective places except Captain Dr. Cooke and Rev. Brand, vice president.

America was sung by the audience with Mrs. Nettie Clark at the piano. Prayer was offered by Rev. Kenney.

The Florida song was sung, and the St. Cloud yell given. Secretary's report read and accepted as read.

The election of officers was next in order.

It was moved by Mrs. Emerson and seconded by several others, that the present officers be retained for the coming year. Carried by unanimous vote. The officers while wishing to be released owing to their many duties did not decline. Dr. Hill said he was a very busy man. He had recently elected president of the Tourist Club. But to quote the words of another, "You can't take the benefits without you take the burdens." He urged that we all get to work and build up our association.

Remarks by Rev. Kenney resulting in a motion made by Mrs. Slater and carried, that we have ice cream and cake at our next meeting the 2nd Tuesday in Jan. (13th). Mrs. Simpson was appointed chairman of committee on arrangements.

The roll call of States resulted as follows: N. Y., 27; Pa., 11; N. J., 1; Visitors, 14; total, 53. It was voted and carried that we take in our association, Washington, D. C.

President reported that the City Council had decided on a Tourist Camping ground.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Slater.

The Pipe and Drum Corps gave 2 selections.

Pennsylvania song was sung by Mrs. Nail, Mrs. Kenney, Mrs. Hamilton, with Mrs. Clark, accompanist.

Rev. Kenney, reading, "The Modern Dance," responded by encore, "A Geological Girl."

Solo by Mr. Brinkhall, Mrs. Clark, accompanist. Mr. Brinkhall said he used to play as an entertainer but now simply as a rule. Judging by the applause he has not lost the art of pleasing.

Mrs. Hamilton, reading, "Miranda ou Baidas." For encore, "Lemmas Dick the Dish."

Fire solo, Mr. Redmon.

Mr. Lathrop, reading, 2 selections. Piano solo, song poem, Mrs. Nettie Clark, entitled "Nothing to Say." Encore, Battle Hymn of the Republic coro.

Battle Hymn of the Republic sung by audience.

Drum Corps gave another selection and received a rising vote of thanks. Closed in due form.

And Now Comes St. Cloud

There is an old saying, "Every dog has his day," and it is the opinion of the wisest business men and bankers that St. Cloud's "Day" is here. The wide awake resident, the occasional visitor as well as the stranger in our midst—all attest the evidences of its progress and advancement.

After careful study of the Real Estate situation in Osceola county and St. Cloud in particular we have decided to release for sale those valuable and desirable lots and subdivisions lying between the original plot of the town and beautiful Lake Tohopekaliga on the north.

St. Cloud's Turn

We take it for granted you are familiar with the wonderful developments and mounting values of Florida Real Estate particularly along the coasts. It is common knowledge that investments made in other Florida towns have brought fortunes to the wise investors of a few years ago. But prices of lots in most places are now beyond the reach of persons of moderate means.

To such persons and to the small investor as well as to the monied man who missed his opportunity elsewhere, we ask—

Why Not St. Cloud?

The city is located on the shore of Lake Tohopekaliga, six miles wide by eight miles long, and is considered by many the most beautiful lake in all Florida. It has a hard, white sand bottom throughout and ideal bathing and boating conditions. Good fishing also abounds.

St. Cloud is located in the best fruit and vegetable district of Florida.

It is the healthiest place, without question, in the whole state—no other city has so many residents, eighty or more years of age still enjoying good health.

St. Cloud is located on the Ridge—on the very watershed that divides the waters flowing to the East and West Coasts. If you doubt this statement look at your map and see.

This section is free from the mosquito and other insect pests that infest the coastal towns.

The people of the town are noted the country over as the friendliest and most hospitable of any city in the United States.

And best of all, here you may have the Same Sunshine At a Fraction of the Cost

The lots now offered for sale are not the small twenty-five-foot lots of early St. Cloud days but the large and ample—100 by 150 foot lots, the sale of which was reserved for just such a favorable time as this in the city's development. Among the 600 or more lots in our offering are a number of Lake front lots at very attractive prices.

Certain sections of this sub-division will carry

Adequate Building Restrictions

something new in St. Cloud.

Every sale carries with it a Warranty Deed and abstract showing clear title. In conclusion we wish to remind you

St. Cloud Is a Going Proposition

Here you are assured at once all the improvements that go with a fully developed city—Water, Electric Lights, Sewage, Parks, nearby Post Office and Stores—everything that makes for comfort and happiness.

From this offering of lots you can select the most beautiful home sites and at the same time be assured of more profitable investment than can now be made anywhere else in Florida.

For full particulars you are invited to call on us in our attractive rooms in the new Peoples Bank Building.

A VOLCANO THAT NEVER ERUPTED

An incipient volcano eruption that came near being a live volcano in the remote past is described in a geological report on the Apishapa region, Colo., a publication of the Department of the Interior, Geological Survey. The region is part of the semi-arid plains and mesas that lie at the east foot of the Rocky Mountains near Pueblo.

The rocks at the surface are largely soft shales and thin limestones that give rise to flat-topped mesas and bad-lands. In the center of the area thick resistant sandstones rise in a low dome, into which Apishapa and Laramie rivers and their tributaries have cut deep, vertical-walled canyons. Small vertical dikes of ancient lava cut these rocks at many places and point toward the towering Spanish Peaks, to the southwest, upon a great center of volcanic activity.

In the sharp dome in the midst of the nearly flat strata of the area some of the lower rocks of the region are exposed, and it is believed that this doming of the strata was caused by an injection of lava beneath the rocks now exposed, which, if it could have burst through this cover, would have formed a volcano. Similar domes not far distant in the Great Plains have been eroded deeply enough to expose the intrusive lava. These "volcanoes" that never reached the eruptive stage are common in many portions of the West.

The Apishapa folio tells the story of the accumulation, millions of years ago, of the thick layers of sedimentary rocks in a great inland sea in which strange marine animals lived, of the formation of coal and fire clay in the hard sandstone strata that contain imprints of prostrate trees and of the leaves of the coal-forming plants, of the way in which the porous rocks store water that is tapped by deep artesian wells. The folio contains 3 maps of the region and 13 half-tone scientific views, besides numerous pen sketches of interesting features. It is sold by the Geological Survey for 25 cents.

George Clemenceau is now living in a tiny house in Venden, France, and does his own marketing. He engages in literary work and passes his days in his garden among his flowers and trees. He will not discuss politics.

Florida is the only American state with growing coral reefs. In keys where the marine polyp is busy adding to the landed area of the state.

Florida has at Tarpon Springs, the center of the only American sponge fisheries, with a yearly output of hundreds of thousands of sponges.

The Wisconsin-Minnesota Association will hold the next regular meeting at the park Thursday the 18th at 2:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place. Every one welcome. Come and bring your friends.

DON'T LIKE CHARTER AMENDMENT

To the Editor Tribune:
Review of the Charter Amendment of the City of St. Cloud, in considering the Charter Amendment question it is essential to determine the potency and consistency of the new system of government as compared with the old; since it is such a radical change of Administration. The new system seems to abrogate so much of the efficiency of the former system without explicitly defining the true distinctions as to the former, and present powers conferred upon the new officers, of the two systems of government, it is difficult to determine where the first leaves off and the new begins.

and how it shall be done. He is simply required to report upon the conditions, and needs of the City, and then go on and do as he pleases. If the Commission has the power to restrict as to one single prerogative of the manager, it can do so as to all, and thereby suspend the City Government; and how it shall be done. He is simply required to report upon the conditions, and needs of the City, and then go on and do as he pleases. If the Commission has the power to restrict as to one single prerogative of the manager, it can do so as to all, and thereby suspend the City Government; and how it shall be done. can be conducted under the dualistic powers as herein expressed?
The Preamble asks for the establishment of such conditions as will conduce, "To promote more direct economic, and efficient methods in the transaction of the business of our municipal affairs, and for the purpose of otherwise promoting the common welfare. Will this Charter Amendment do all that for Us? That is so serious a question that no Citizen or voter should shelve it without giving it the fullest possible consideration, and then conscientiously cast their vote.

FILE DESCRIPTIONS OF BUSINESS PLACE IS STATE WARNING

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Persons who put off filing descriptions of their places of business and neglect to pay licenses required under laws governing operation of hotels, rooming houses, apartment houses and restaurants in Florida are subject to prosecution, with a maximum penalty of $50 fine or thirty days in jail, or both, according to an opinion given Jerry Carter, state hotel commissioner, by Attorney-General Buford. The commissioner has so notified all of his field men and instructed them to file information with the local authorities and cause the arrest of such delinquents.

Mrs. Miller lives alone most of the time and is very optimistic. She was more than pleased when some of her neighbors remembered her on her birthday anniversary.

ADDRESS BY COL. JOHN P. McELROY

Col. John P. McElroy of Washington, D. C., gave an address this afternoon at the city park for the benefit of the G. A. R. members. Over a hundred of the veterans in St. Cloud heard the address which was very interesting. Col. McElroy spoke of the advancement of St. Cloud after he had left here and the future that is before the city. He also mentioned the veterans on the increase of pension which is expected in the near future. Col. McElroy was the founder of St. Cloud and has many friends throughout the city.

limit. Considerable of the City work now done by the different members of the Council is unpaid voluntary work, which they are willing to do in the interest of the City, which under the new system would be paid work.

Our present system is the so called Commission System; dividing and classifying and apportioning the different class of work among the members of the Council, and each are elected to fill the position, so the work is distributed among them. The present system is nearly universally adopted by the Cities and Counties, and is a tried and proven system. And to me there seems to be no meritorious reason why it should be supplanted by a system that condenses all the business to me there seems to be no meritorious by one uncontrolled individual, who has no further interest at stake other than to receipt for his salary. Which system seems to be a microbe theory now infesting this portion of the State. J. P. BLOOD.

Florida has at Marke in Bradford county, one of three stations engaged in national forest experimental search. The work of the Southern forest experiment service covers a large territory and a very rich one, which probably contains materials a larger area of continuous pine forest than any other region of its size in the world. It is estimated that the Southern states will eventually produce more than one-fourth of all of the forest products grown in the United States, which will include practically all of the turpentine and resin and fully a third of the nation's wood pulp supply. In 1922, over one-third of all lumber produced in the country was yellow pine, and from the Southern states far more yellow pine was produced than any other commercial wood. The pine is by all odds the leading tree of Florida and has brought vast sums of money into the state.

A YEAR WITH A CITY MANAGER

The following editorial appeared in the Dec. 9th issue of "The Portland (Me.) Press Herald. Feeling that the information contained herein will be of interest to the citizens of "his community we reprint it for their information.

Portland has had a year of Council-Manager government and it likes it.

Those whose memories are too short will recall the predictions of dire disaster which were made by the opponents of this system of government. They thought it would result in a high handed autocracy. A few, they thought, would get all the favors while the mass of the people would plead in vain for consideration. These, and many other things, the opponents of this plan said would happen.

What has been the result? Portland's Council-Manager government has been the most responsive to the popular will of any kind of government it has ever had.

We have had a whole year free from city government "rows." Some may have missed the entertainment these afforded, but their pocket books have not suffered.

Without the blare of trumpets the City Manager has gone ahead doing what he could to fix up the streets. There has been a decided improvement. Much has been done but what has been accomplished has attracted most favorable comment.

There have been no "squabbles" about caring for the poor; no losses while committees fought over the purchase of fire apparatus or other things the city needs; no time wasted in political maneuvering; no "log rolling" to secure appropriations for one part of the city while other sections went without; no rumors of petty graft; no complaints by citizens of unfair treatment; no discrimination in the enforcement of the laws; no "padding of invoices" in any department; no idlers on the city payroll because of political influence; no long drawn out campaign in which abuse was heaped on the heads of respectable citizens who had the temerity to seek office; in fact none of the evils which were so manifest under the old style of government which Portland was afflicted with up to a year ago.

If there has been any citizen go to city hall to make requests of the City Manager, or to register complaints, who has not been accorded prompt attention and fair treatment the Press Herald has not been informed of it. The people now employed by the city are "on their jobs" regularly; they do their work as it would be done for firms or corporations—efficiently, faithfully and well. Their time is fully occupied in performing their duties; it is not necessary for them to waste their own or the city's time in fixing up their "political fences."

The new city government has not filed its financial report for the past year but it is anticipated that it will be business-like and satisfactory. None of the city's money has been wasted, that is sure. There have been no "junkets" paid for which have to be disguised. There have been no lapses of any kind to be covered up for political reasons. There is no "outgoing" administration endeavoring to make a good showing at the expense of an "incoming" administration. The business of the city has not been interrupted by a heated municipal election.

We have heard of no "politicians" grumbling about the kind of government Portland now has. It has not been a popular thing for them to undertake. The people know they have been well served and they are satisfied.

It has been necessary to "discharge" some of the city's employees and it has been done promptly and effectively ly without any political interference. So far as we know, justice has been done in every instance. There have been no employees of the city disposed to carry favor with political bosses to gain privileges for themselves which could only be given them by doing injustice to their fellows. All the city's business has been conducted "on the square" and in the open.

The Press Herald did what it could to convince the people of Portland that the Council-Manager form of government would be a good thing and it has demonstrated that it has been a good thing. This newspaper is proud of the record that has been made and it believes it voices the great majority of the citizens when it says that they are pleased with it. Credit is due the men who have served the city in the Council, as City Manager and as the heads of the several city departments for the success of this system of government, but it would be unfair to single out any individuals for special praise. There is glory enough to go around. All who have had anything to do with it are worthy of commendation.

In conclusion the Press Herald wishes to call the attention of all the people of Maine to the success of this system of government and it recommends that in other cities where it may be that a change in the form of government is desirable that what has been accomplished in Portland during the first year be given careful study.

NEW SELLING METHODS NECESSARY FOR THE EXCHANGE

WINTER HAVEN, Dec. 13.—Speaking at the fruit growers meeting of the Winter Haven Chamber of Commerce here Wednesday, L. C. Edwards gave the first detailed announcement of his plans for getting growers a profitable price for their crops that he has publicly offered since he assumed the presidency of the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Reductions in the spread between the price the consumer pays and that which the producer receives for Florida fruit by creating facilities for effecting rigid economies in packing, transportation and selling, are the primary objects in his program. To increase national consumption of citrus fruit to take care of Florida's increasing production, he is endeavoring to evolve means so fruit can be offered consumers at a popular price which they can afford to pay.

"We cannot profitably sell the large volume of citrus fruit now being produced in Florida by old-fashioned methods," Mr. Edwards said. "We in the citrus industry have been going around in a little circle for years. Now we must do something different."

"An investigation conducted by the Florida Citrus Exchange in 80 of the large cities of the country shows that the average price which consumers are paying for Florida oranges is 60 cents a dozen. Grapefruit is selling from 10 to 20 cents a piece. We can never solve our marketing problem as long as consumers must pay such prices for our fruit."

"Oranges at 60 cents a dozen are beyond the reach of 85 per cent of the people of this country. The remaining 15 per cent surely cannot be depended upon to consume our crops. Our first task in the reorganization of the citrus industry is to make fruit cheaper for the ultimate consumer, and at the same time make our marketing system such that growers can realize a profit."

"One of the things we need badly is an effective anti-green fruit law. We are now working for the enactment of such a measure at the next session of the state legislature. Investigations are being made to determine just what should constitute the basis for legal judgment of citrus fruit maturity. Our chemist is making an intensive study along this line. After we work this out I have no reason to believe we will have some good friends in the legislature who will undertake to secure the bill's passage."

To secure proper distribution and marketing of Florida's fruit crop, Mr. Edwards said that in the final analysis it would be necessary to have a professional organization in one large cooperative organization. "But," he added, "we can talk co-operation all we want. Unless we do something we will never accomplish it."

Mr. Edwards, in telling of his plans to cut down the cost of distributing fruit from Florida groves to northern consumers, told of the work of the Florida Citrus Exchange in developing water transportation facilities, which he described as a big step in that direction. "For the first time in the history of the industry," he said, "we have got a boat loaded with 20,000 boxes of fruit on the high seas, bound for New York. The cost of transporting this fruit is 35 cents a box, whereas if we had shipped it by rail, the cost would have been fully $1.10 a box."

"We do not, however, expect too much from this first boat shipment. It is a big task to ship fruit by water. We have been confronted with many obstacles, and we will probably meet many more, but we will overcome them. We must overcome them for it is our salvation. It is the only way we can cut down the cost of shipping our fruit and that we must do."

Continuing in the outline of his ship-by-water plans, Mr. Edwards said that the growers of Florida should not fall in their opportunity to take advantage of the friendly attitude of the federal government towards agriculture to secure its assistance in this movement. He suggested, though he did not state he would make definite recommendations as yet, that under the Jones act the federal government could remodel some of its shipping board boats and equip them with modern refrigeration equipment, and sell them to the cooperative growers organization on very reasonable terms. Mr. Edwards went on to state that a boat of 4,000 ton displacement could be operated at a cost of about $11,000 a month. If it did nothing but ship fruit for the Florida Citrus Exchange, it would cost the organization but 11 cents a box to carry oranges and grapefruit from Florida to northern seacoast markets."

Mr. Edwards declared that he believed that with but a 5 cent return on each box of fruit, the Exchange could pay the ships and build northern warehouses so it could ship and market fruit in the eastern section of the country cheaper than anybody else. This return, he said, would not be an expense but an investment that would enable the growers practically drive out competition in eastern markets.

"If we don't help ourselves we will dry up on the walk," he continued. "We can raise fruit cheaper and better here in Florida than they can anywhere else in the world. We are nearer to the great consuming centers than any other citrus producing section. We are surrounded with water, with good harbors all around, and we have everything to take advantage of these many facilities."

"We have been begging growers for fifteen years to co-operate. The only way we will ever get them to do so is to make facilities which will enable Exchange growers to get the high dollar for fruit. With the tonnage we now have, we can get ships and undertake other things to reduce marketing costs. When the growers in the Florida Citrus Exchange are making money from their fruit because of these developments, you won't be able to keep the others out of it."

Mr. Edwards described how the Florida Citrus Exchange, since the cancellation of its DelGloria contract, has been able to make agreements with new auction companies that have reduced the cost of this form of selling almost 30 per cent.

"As president of the Florida Citrus Exchange, I am here to do the growers of the state a service. Dollars and cents won't buy me. I've had a chance already to pocket a million dollars for myself. But as long as I am at the head of this organization every grower will have a square deal and no man will get a cent of profit."

Business Manager C. E. Stewart, of the Florida Citrus Exchange, followed Mr. Edwards with a talk on the necessity of more growers joining the Florida Citrus Exchange to help it put across its program for stabilizing the citrus industry.

EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING BY FLA. CITRUS EXCHANGE

TAMPA.—More than 20,000,000 people in the great cities and suburban communities of the United States will be told of the wonderful food and health values of Seaside Sweet Florida fruit through the comprehensive newspaper display advertising campaign to be conducted by the Florida Citrus Exchange this season, according to C. C. Carr, manager of the Thomas Advertising Service, which is handling the business.

The total number of newspapers to be used in the campaign is 150. The number of cities and towns in which the newspaper advertising will appear is 113. Describing the Seaside Sweet Florida fruit campaign in further detail, Mr. Carr says:

"This elaborate newspaper campaign to tell the consumer why Seaside Sweet oranges and grapefruit are best, has been carefully worked out in five distinct advertising schedules. One schedule covers New York city, another the metropolitan cities throughout the east and north, a third the smaller cities throughout the same territory, a fourth the important cities of the south, and a fifth schedule the northwestern territory beyond the Mississippi river."

"The combined actual circulation of the newspapers used is 12,647,522. The total population of these cities is 25,458,500. In figuring newspaper coverage, it is customary to use the government ratio of 4 1/2 persons to each family. By using this basis, we may assume that the Seaside Sweet appeal in the newspaper display is reaching more than 50,000,000 of America's citizens. However, the conservative estimate might be the 20,000,000 embraced in the population of the cities and towns where the display campaign appears."

"The total number of page inches to be used in this campaign is 477,200. Translated into newspaper inches, this is 34,085. If this advertising were solidly arrayed in one newspaper, it would constitute 27 8-page solid advertising sections for the Florida Citrus Exchange, or one newspaper containing 216 pages."

In addition to the Florida Citrus Exchange newspaper campaign, more than 11,000,000 readers of high-class magazines are receiving the Seaside Sweet appeal in attractive facing pages in the foremost magazines read by women. The total magazine circulation of the publications used is 11,157,047. There are also magazines in this list.

SURVEYS IN COLORADO RIVER BASIN

Two Thousand Miles of Stream Courses Mapped

One of the largest and most hazardous projects undertaken by the Department of the Interior, through the Geological Survey, has been that of mapping Colorado River and its tributaries. From time to time since 1861, when Maj. J. W. Powell, afterward Director of the Geological Survey, first explored the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, topographers, engineers, and geologists of the survey have been making surveys in parts of the 244,000 square miles drained by the river. Systematic surveys for a series of large-scale maps of the river and the adjacent areas were begun in 1899, and the field work required for these maps is now practically completed. Much of this field work was hazardous and the surveying parties at times suffered great hardships.

When Major Powell made his historic first trip vast stretches of the basin of the Colorado were still unexplored, and the great canyon itself was practically unknown except as a theme for fantastic tales by the Indians. Today the maps prepared and the information collected by the Geological Survey furnish an accurate knowledge of nearly 2,000 miles of the watercourses in this basin, showing every stream, the location and the fall of all the rapids, the topography and geology of the canyon walls and the location and cross sections of the more feasible dam sites.

Many Maps Published and in Preparation

Some of these maps have been included in books; others are published separately, in sets. The Geological Survey's Water-Supply Paper 330, "Public surveys in the Colorado River Basin in Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, and New Mexico," contains 41 maps showing plans and profiles of the Colorado above Green River, of Green River and its tributaries, and of a part of Gila River. The more recent maps are printed in three colors, black, blue and brown, used respectively for the geographic names, the rivers, and the basins in the region, and represent the highest type of river survey maps. The following maps have already been published: Green River from Green River, Utah to Green River, Wyo., comprising 10 sheets; Colorado River from Lees Ferry, Ariz. to mouth of Green River, Utah, and San Juan River to Chula Creek, Utah, comprising 22 sheets. Other maps now in press or in course of preparation are: Yampa River from Green River to Morgan Gulch, Colo., 5 sheets; Colorado River from Lees Ferry, Ariz. to Black Canyon, Ariz., Nev., and Virgin River, 21 sheets; Colorado River from Black Canyon to the Mexican boundary. These maps are sold for 10 cents each.

The preparation of these maps constitutes one part of the work done by the Geological Survey in determining the water resources of the United States and in classifying the public lands. It is part of a systematic program for obtaining the basic data essential to a comprehensive national scheme for the development of rivers for power, irrigation, and other uses. Seventy-seven stream-gaging stations maintained.

Another part of the work is that of gaging the streams to determine their flow. On Colorado River such stream gaging has been in progress since 1893, and 77 gaging stations are now regularly maintained in its basin. The measurements made are published annually in the Geological Survey's series of reports on surface water supply. The maps and the records of stream flow are from time to time supplemented by other publications. A paper entitled "Colorado River and Its Utilization," published some time ago as Water Supply Paper 306, can still be obtained, and three of its reports are now in preparation that will show how much water is available in the basin and will contain suggestions as to its best use.

GOOD HOLIDAY DEMAND NOTED FOR ORANGES

There is a good holiday demand for Florida oranges but all markets are well supplied with grapefruit and low prices are ruling for the latter, according to W. H. Mosser, sales manager for Chase & Co., with headquarters in Orlando.

"The holiday demand for Florida oranges has been very active and the market at this time is in a healthy condition," Mr. Mosser said. Liberal shipments are going forward but are not excessive as in order to reach the trade in time for distribution before Christmas, shipments must leave Florida by December 15.

"We believe most shippers will close packing houses Saturday of this week if closing is general and practically nothing is shipped after this week until after the holidays, with proper judgment, used in the volume of fruit shipped in January, we anticipate a reasonably good market on Florida oranges during January."

"All markets are well supplied with grapefruit and low prices are ruling. Shipments this week are heavier than market conditions justify."

"Chase & Co. packing houses have been closed for a week on grapefruit and we strongly recommend that no grapefruit be shipped until after the holidays excepting on definite f. o. b. orders."

"Although shipments of tangerines have been much heavier this year than last, the consumer demand for tangerines is increasing and very satisfactory prices have prevailed throughout the season, with market in good shape at this time."

NEW WANTS RAISE IN NEWSPAPER POSTAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Postmaster General New will advise congress that the way to raise enough revenue to meet proposed increases in postal pay is to increase the rates on practically all classes of postal service, except letter mail.

Such increases would involve more postage on newspapers and periodicals, a subject of many heated fights in congress through many administrations, and also would be distributed throughout the fabric of the postal service, so that, under the plan, they would be absorbed by the public generally.

At the request of the senate post-office committee, the postmaster general is about to conclude a survey, showing how the additional revenue may be brought in, and this week he will discuss it with President Coolidge. Soon thereafter it probably will find its way to congress, probably in the form of a proposed bill, for consideration if congress decides to override President Coolidge's veto of the bill passed at the last session increasing the salaries of postal employees.

In the senate today a futile attempt was made to obtain an agreement to postpone until February a vote on re-passing the vetoed bill. It already has been re-passed over the veto in the house.

There was a sharp debate which left the status of the bill unchanged, and it is not subject to a motion for re-passage until after the senate has disposed of the Muscle Shoals legislation.

Florida has the largest area of swamp land of any other state and a good deal of it is being drained and turned into farm with land as rich as cream.

A New Year

Mortal man is annually inspired with the advent of a New Year. It is human nature—and it is good. For many it has marked a turning point for better times. A little keen study of such lives soon discloses the secret of success. It is energy, plus will-to-achieve, plus moderation in daily living, plus a saving a part of that aspirated. In this civilization, money is our method of exchange. The man with a bank account is a better workman because his mind is free to achieve and enjoy better things. You know the truth of these statements. Why don't you resolve now to make 1925 a more successful year? This resolution is willing and anxious to assist and serve you.

What You Want--- When You Want It!

Plumbing service is an occasional necessity. The average home requires the services of a plumber, but a few times in its existence—but when it wants it, it wants it. Winter months are the time of the year when real plumbing service must be considered. Promptness—efficiency—good workmanship and reasonable prices are most important. We guarantee all of those in the service we offer you. No matter whether your needs are for a small repair job—or installation of a complete plumbing system in a new home you may be planning this spring, we ask the privilege of quoting you prices.

PROCLAMATION AND NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that a special election will be held in the City of St. Cloud, County of Osceola, State of Florida, on the sixth day of January A. D. 1925, for the purpose of determining the adoption or rejection of the proposed Charter Amendment for the said City of St. Cloud, in the form hereto annexed. Such election will be held in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 9040 of the acts of 1915, State of Florida, and the general laws governing Municipal Elections. The polling place will be the City Hall in said City. The polls will open at eight o'clock A. M. and be closed at sunset. The Clerk and Inspectors of the Election will be as follows:

In addition to voting upon the Adoption or rejection of the proposed Charter Amendment, the qualified electors of the City will vote upon the Candidates for the three offices of Commissioner, to be filled under the provisions of said Charter Amendment. In the event that the Charter Amendment is adopted the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected to the City Commission in accordance of the provisions of the proposed Charter Amendment of the City of St. Cloud, Florida.

Given this 2nd day of December A. D. 1924.

G. C. OUTLAW,
MRS. GRACE SEYMOUR,
L. M. PARKER,
Election Commissioners.

(Signed) CLAUD F. JOHNSON, Chairman Charter Board,
C. N. McMULLEN, Mayor.
Attest: JOHN B. COLLINS, Clerk City of St. Cloud.
AMENDMENTS TO THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF ST. CLOUD, FLORIDA.

We, the people of The City of St. Cloud, Florida, by virtue and authority of the laws of Florida, and in order to obtain the benefits of the provisions of Chapter 9040, act of 1915, Laws of Florida, and to secure the greater of local self-government and thereby promote more direct, economical and efficient methods in the transaction of the business of our Municipal affairs, and for the purpose of otherwise promoting our common welfare, do hereby AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF ST. CLOUD, by adopting the following provisions:

- SEC. 1.—The City of St. Cloud, Florida, shall have and exercise all the powers now vested in said City under and by virtue of laws now existing either by general or special acts, and also such other and further powers as shall hereafter be conferred upon municipalities of the state of Florida, either by general laws or by special acts.
- SEC. 2.—The Government of the City of St. Cloud shall be vested in a City Commission, composed of three members, who shall be persons qualified to vote at general municipal elections and shall have such powers as are hereinafter enumerated and who shall exercise such powers as are hereinafter granted. The powers of the City Commission shall be as follows, to-wit: All of the powers now, or hereafter, vested by the general municipal laws in the Mayor and City Council of Florida Municipalities, incorporated under the general laws and also all powers now vested by special acts in the Mayor and City Council in and for the City of St. Cloud, and all such additional powers expressed or implied as shall be necessary to the carrying out of the purposes of this act.
- SEC. 3.—The City Council shall act administratively by and through a City Manager, whose appointment and whose duties shall be as follows to-wit: (a) The City Manager shall be appointed by the City Commission to serve during the pleasure of said Commission. (b) The City Manager shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the City Commission. (c) He shall not, necessarily be, at the time of his appointment, a resident of the City or State. Preference in the matter of appointment to said office shall be given to a man competent to fill the position. (d) He shall give bond approved by the City Commission, for the faithful performance of his duties. (e) He shall render to the City Commission monthly in writing an accounting in detail of the affairs of the city, and oftener, if requested by the City Commission, so to do. (f) He shall, subject to the control of the City Commission, have entire charge of the City's business save as hereinafter otherwise provided. (g) He shall employ and discharge all officials, employees, and laborers, save the City Commissioner, City Attorney and City Tax Assessor. (h) He shall have charge of the police, sanitation, water and lights, streets, electrical, municipal and other departments of the City's business. (i) He shall accept where otherwise provided have charge of purchasing and using all material, equipment and supplies for the City. (j) The City Manager shall not dispose of property belonging to the City excepting with the consent of the City Commission. (k) His further duties shall be carrying for, repairing and improving the city's property; collecting and disbursing the City moneys, subject to the restrictions of this Charter; seeing that the laws and ordinances are enforced. He shall act as Clerk of the Commission and keep the records thereof, and be custodian of the seal of the City. He shall attend the meetings of the City Commission, keep the Commission fully advised of the affairs and needs of the City, recommend to the Commission for adoption such measures as he may deem necessary or expedient in the interests of the City, and perform such duties other than those enumerated in this Charter Amendment as shall be consistent with his office and shall be imposed upon him by the Commission.
- SEC. 4.—In the event of death, sickness, resignation, absence or discharge of the City Manager, the office of City Manager shall be temporarily vacant. The City Commission may appoint a Vice-Manager to act pending the filling of the vacancy and such Vice-Manager shall have temporarily the powers hereby vested in the City Manager, but no such vacancy shall be allowed to continue for more than three months.
- SEC. 5.—The City Commission shall: (a) fix the millage for tax assessments and equalize the taxes. (b) make all contracts. (c) employ the City Attorney and the City Tax Assessor. (d) through its Mayor-Commissioner conduct the municipal court.
- SEC. 6.—In matters within his authority as fixed by this Charter Amendment, the City Manager shall be subject to the control of the City Commission, acting as a board in meeting assembled, but no Commissioner shall otherwise attempt to dictate or to interfere with the City Manager or give orders to any officials or employees or undertake in any manner to direct the City's affairs, and if he shall do so he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition shall be subject to removal by the City Commission.
- SEC. 7.—The action of the City Commission shall be expressed by ordinance or resolution, and a record of the same shall be kept. The City Commission is authorized to make by-laws and regulations for - its own guidance and government and to enforce same by fine or penalty and to compel the attendance of its members at its meetings. All the records and meetings of the City Commission shall be public unless otherwise herein provided a majority of the Commission shall be sufficient to authorize any action taken by the Commission. The Commission shall be the judge of the election and qualification of its own members, subject to review by the Courts. It shall not be within the power of the Commission to remove any member save for non-performance, misfeasance or malfeasance, and then only on written charges and after public hearing by the Commissioner or Commissioners not involved. In case a member resigns, is removed, or is unable to act, the Commission may fill the vacancy temporarily by appointment of any qualified voter or voters to the office, but shall within forty-five (45) days of the occurrence of the vacancy hold a special election to fill the vacancy or vacancies. The Commission shall have power to make all reasonable regulations for the dispatch of its own business. A quorum of the Commission shall consist of two members thereof except where by virtue of interests two of the Commission cannot act, in which case the remaining Commissioner may act alone. In addition to regular and special meetings to be called by the City Commission, the City Manager may at any time call a special meeting of the City Commission. Notice of any special meeting called by the Manager, or the Commission, shall be served upon all members of the City Commission before such special meeting. Such notice may be served by the City Manager or a member of the police force and shall be delivered to each member personally if he can be found, else left at his place of business or residence. Notice may be dispensed with if waived by all the members of the Commission. No other business than that specified in the call shall be transacted at the said special meeting.

- SEC. 8.—Elections of members of the City Commission shall be held as provided by the City Commission, and in accordance with the statutes, now or hereafter in force, save as modified hereby. The membership of the City Commission shall be filled at the election ratifying this Charter Amendment. The term of office of candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall end on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1925, that of the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall end on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1926, and that the candidate receiving the third highest number of votes shall end on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1927. Thereafter the term of office of City Commissioner shall be for three years. Elections shall be held on the last Saturday in March of each year, the term filled at any such election to begin on the first Tuesday of April following such election.
- SEC. 9.—The compensation of the office of City Commissioner shall be such amount as the Commission shall fix, not to exceed $500 for each meeting and not to exceed $2000 for any one month. Except where resigned, removed or recalled, a Commissioner shall continue to hold office until his successor is elected and qualified.
- SEC. 10.—The City Commission shall elect of its members Mayor-Commissioner, to hold such office during the pleasure of the Commission. Such Mayor-Commissioner shall preside at meetings of the Commission, when present, and shall represent the City upon public occasions and shall exercise the judicial functions now vested in the Mayors of cities incorporated under the general laws of Florida relating to municipalities. He shall sign all contracts executed in the name of the City. He shall have no veto power, but shall be entitled to vote on all matters coming before the Commission for disposition, where not disqualified on account of interest. He shall receive in addition to his position as a Commissioner for attending meetings of the Commission, a salary of $2000 per month for his services as Municipal Judge. In the temporary absence or disability of the Mayor-Commissioner a Vice-Mayor-Commissioner may be designated by the Commission to perform the duties of the Mayor-Commissioner and receive his compensation.
- SEC. 11.—Any member of the City Commission shall be subject to recall at a special election held for that purpose. Such special election shall be called if demanded by petition signed by persons qualified to vote at such election and numbering at least one-third of the total number of votes cast at the last general city election. Such petition shall be filed with the City Manager and need state no reason for the recall. The City Manager shall forthwith call a special meeting of the Commission to consider the said petition. The Commissioner or Commissioners named in the call shall not take part in the proceedings. In case the whole Commission is named in the petition for recall the City Manager shall not open the petition and issue the call. If the petition shall contain the requisite number of signatures, certified to as genuine by three qualified voters who shall also certify that they personally saw the same and each of the same affixed, the recall election shall be forthwith called for a date not earlier than 30 days nor later than 45 days after the date of the meeting which considers the petition. The Commissioner or Commissioners sought to be recalled may stand for re-election at the recall election and any qualified voter at general municipal elections shall be entitled to be a candidate for the office of the Commissioner or Commissioners sought to be recalled. No names of candidate shall be printed on the ballot. The office or offices shall be filled by the candidate receiving the highest number of votes at such election and in case more than one office is filled the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall enter upon the longest term open to election by the recall. In case the Commissioner or Commissioners sought to be recalled receive votes sufficient to re-elect him or them, as successful candidates for the Commission, they shall continue to hold office for the term for which they were holding at the time of the filing of the recall petition. Failure on the part of the Commissioner to be re-elected at a recall election involving his office shall vacate his office as of the date of the election. The Commissioner or Commissioners elected at such recall shall enter upon their duties as of the day succeeding the election and the Commission shall canvass the election returns and declare the results on the day following the election. No election shall be called to recall a Commissioner during the first six months of his term and recall of the same Commissioner shall not be demanded oftener than once in any twelve month period. Petitions filed in violation of these provisions shall be disregarded to the extent that they violate same.
- SEC. 12.—Notice of any special elections for any purpose shall be given at least ten days prior to the election date by publication of the date of election, location of polling place or places or purpose of election. Publication to be in a newspaper published in the City of St. Cloud.

- SEC. 13.—The City Commission shall appoint a Tax Assessor to serve during the pleasure of the Commission and to receive such compensation as the Commission shall fix. Such Tax Assessor shall have the powers and duties of assessment given him by the general laws of Florida governing municipalities, and the special acts relating to the City of St. Cloud. He shall not be subject to the direction of the City Manager.
- SEC. 14.—The City moneys as collected shall be deposited in a bank or banks which shall be designated annually by the Commission as a City Depository and which shall be bonded for the full amount of the deposit in favor of the City as a protection against failure or default. Bond to be that of a surety company authorized under the laws of the State of Florida to act as a surety of public moneys.
- SEC. 15.—It shall not be lawful for the City of St. Cloud, under any general or special statute nor under the provisions of this Charter, to incur an indebtedness by the issue of notes, bonds, certificates or other obligations or indebtedness, to exceed in the aggregate 30% of the assessed value of the real and personal property within its incorporated limits. Nor shall any such obligations or evidences of indebtedness be issued except in the manner and as authorized by the general statutes governing municipalities in the State of Florida.
- SEC. 16.—The City Manager shall present to the City Commission at a regular meeting of the said Commission, held on or prior to the date of fixing the millage for any current year, a complete budget for the estimated receipts and expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year, with the sources of the receipts and the purposes of the expenditures. The Commission is authorized to revise this budget and shall thereupon approve same. The budget shall be the basis for the millage levied by the Commission for such current year. In fixing the millage for tax assessments, the millage to be used for any special purpose shall be specified and moneys collected for that purpose shall be deemed appropriated to that purpose and shall not be spent for any other purpose or transferred to any other funds. The funds of the City shall be paid by City warrants signed by a Commissioner and countersigned by the City Manager, and shall not be drawn out as against money already in the funds upon which they are drawn, and shall only be drawn upon the authority of the City Commission. Unless authorized to do so at an election called for that purpose the City Commission shall not have the power to borrow money to cover deficits in any fund for any year by anticipation of its revenues or by issuing promissory notes, and in no case shall have the power to borrow more than 10% of its last approved budget to cover such deficit. The fiscal year of the City shall begin the first day of November. At the end of each fiscal year, the City Commission shall cause its accounts to be audited by a reliable public accountant and the audit shall be in detail. Semi-annually on the regular meeting of the Commission to be held in the months of January and July, the City Manager shall report in detail to the City Commission the financial condition of the City. The revised and approved budget for each year shall be published either by publication in a newspaper published in said City or by mailing copies thereof to all the qualified voters of the City. The audit shall be published on or before the 30th day of November of the year when made.
- SEC. 17.—The duties and the compensation of the City Attorney shall be such as shall be fixed by the City Commission.
- SEC. 18.—No person appointed by the City Commission or employed by the City Manager shall be appointed for a term of office or employed for a period of time exceeding one year from the date of appointment or employment.
- SEC. 19.—Neither the City Manager nor any member of the City Commission shall be directly or indirectly in any manner whatsoever financially interested in any of the contracts made by the City, nor shall they belong to any firm or corporation so interested.
- SEC. 20.—The duties of the City Clerk and the Collector of the town of St. Cloud as now fixed by law, shall devolve upon the City Manager.
- SEC. 21.—All the ordinances applicable to the Charter as amended now in force within the City of St. Cloud, shall remain and continue in force until changed, suspended, modified or repealed by the Commission.
- SEC. 22.—All laws and parts of laws and all ordinances and parts of ordinances relating to the City of St. Cloud and in conflict herewith, are hereby abrogated, repealed and annulled, and all offices now existing in or under the City government of the City of St. Cloud, and not provided for herein, are hereby abolished and the powers and duties thereof are hereby devolved upon the appropriate officer or officers herein designated.

The following shall be the form of ballot to be voted by the qualified electors of the City of St. Cloud, Osceola County, Florida, on the adoption or rejection of the above Charter.

HAITI BORROWED UNCLE SAM'S GOOD MONEY

Haiti had a large debt in France and the first money she borrowed in the United States was $100,000,000 a year ago. She borrowed $100,000,000 with which to pay off her French debt and adjust her internal financial and unliquidated debt. She also floated an internal issue of $5,000,000 to take care of her internal needs in addition to what the external loan provides for. There are claims against the Government of about $38,000,000 to be settled by the Claims Commission that was provided for by the Protocol signed with the U. S. in 1919 and which Commission is now sitting in Port-au-Prince. Most of them are fraudulent and the others exaggerated. They are paid one third each and two thirds in bonds of the internal issue. The amortization of the external debt was in arrears before we came here and the Germans had landed troops to make Haiti pay her debts to German citizens but almost the very day of the landing the European war broke out and the ship went out again and began to prey on commerce. Government employees had not been paid regularly in so long that they did not expect it before we came. It was not to protect any New York loan that a Financial Adviser was appointed here but if there had been no Financial Adviser there would have been no loan made in New York. The bankers would not have considered it. The City of Port-au-Prince was subjected to periodical bandit raids. I believe there had been five presidents in one or two years. The day the Americans landed the last had just been butchered in the streets and the pieces of his body dragged around the city. The day before he had ordered the political prisoners in the prison killed and some 200 had been shot down through the bars. They were the best blood of the place, if there is any such thing. Anyone who takes the time to read Haitian history of that time will have to admit that the country was bankrupt. It was as corrupt as it could get and I have not heard that denied by anyone here. It is the class that wants the old corrupt days again that is spreading the tales of how the country is being oppressed by the Americans. The politicians never worked and boasted that six months as a minister made one able to retire for life. The salary was and is $500 per month so you can see that they did not retire on the savings from that. If there is corruption among the American officials here I do not know anything about it and I think if it were here I should know about it. Port-au-Prince before the Occupation was a dirty, unsanitary, unpeopled city. It is now a fairly clean and healthy place and has good streets, many of them paved, where there was mud knee deep ten years ago. That paving is almost paid for too. It will be completely so in a few months. The value of the Haitian unit of exchange, the gourde, varied widely and people had no confidence in it. It has been stabilized at 20c. Do the people appreciate it? The ones we hear talking in the magazines of the United States do not. Why not? Because they formerly could control the exchange by either issuing or withdrawing bills from circulation and in that way made large sums. Very few Haitians are engaged in business. The most of the business is carried by the Syrians. Haitians think work is beneath them if they have any education. From 95 to 98% of Haitians can neither read or write. That part of the population is as a rule in favor of American control because under it for the first time they have had a chance to keep the results of their labor and have not had to keep in continual hiding to escape being conscripted into some passing army. That part of the population is more prosperous than ever before. The other class is not because it is much more difficult to graft and without that easy money they are not so affluent. Since they have been hit in the pocketbook they naturally can't be expected to hurra for the Occupation. Now they run around talking about their patriotism and freeing the country from the imperialistic Yankee. Their patriotism in the old days consisted in looting the treasury whenever possible and the rest of the time they were employed in intriguing against the existing Government. It is a great country. The famous Latin culture doesn't show up well beside that of the Anglo-Saxon. The ideals of the two are not the same. Latins dislike our way of doing business and say that we do not understand them. We think we understand them too well and that is the real cause of the trouble.

BEST HOME SITES IN ST. CLOUD

I am subdividing into very desirable buildings lots the citrus grove for some years owned and cultivated by my father, the late A. O. Haymaker. These lots are situated in the HIGHEST PART OF ST. CLOUD five blocks from the R. R. Station. Each lot will have from six to twelve bearing trees—orange and grapefruit. They will always furnish enough fruit for your own use and fine boxes to send the friends back home. Why build on low, flat ground when you can just as well have your home on the ridge among the orange blossoms? As an investment proposition you better put your money in these lots, located as they are in a growing town where values are sure to increase, than to put money into lots located at a distance and in purely speculative fields. Call or write me at the St. Cloud Hotel, and I will be glad to show you these high and dry homesteads.
