HOME CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB

Enjoyable Program Despite Obstacles.

The annual concert by the University Glee Club, this year the second number of the Lyceum course, was given on Friday evening in the auditorium. This event, which is always looked forward to by students and townspeople as one of the most enjoyable features of the series of Lyceum entertainments, found a large and expectant audience assembled.

The program was rendered as follows:

It seemed that ill fortune had determined against the giving of this concert, and it was because of illness among several members of the club that the date had been postponed from the previous Friday evening. Within the following week two of the members were rendered unable to sing, Mr. Pelot by a painful injury at baseball practice and Mr. Cramer by illness. These places, however, were filled by other trained voices and a very entertaining program was rendered.

The two instrumental numbers rendered by the Misses Hamlin and Fuller at the piano and Prof. Morse at the organ were very pleasing and showed much ability. It is hardly necessary to say how thoroughly the audience enjoyed the solos by Rev. Gray, for his singing is always looked forward to with pleasure. Mr. Webb Hill sang twice and met with the usual warm welcome from his audience. The Club is to be praised not only for the delightful evening but as well for the resolution with which they met the obstacles to success.

Vesper Service.

"Self-denial" was the theme of Dr. Hulley's discourse at last Sunday's vesper service. It was a very clear exposition of the seeming paradox of Christianity that life lost for Christ's sake is found. In substance Dr. Hulley said that self-denial is a good or bad thing depending upon the motive for which it is exercised. Some forms of self-denial such as those practiced by misers or over-enthusiastic athletes and students are merely modified forms of selfishness, but the true Christian type of self-denial is that suffered for others. In his address Dr. Hulley closely allied self-denial and service. They must both be borne with the proper spirit. "Service," our president said, "is not incidental, but absolutely fundamental to Christianity."

The musical features of the service also were rich and varied. Two selections were rendered by the Ladies' Chorus and one by the Male Chorus. Besides this, a male quartet of exquisitely blended voices furnished an item in the order of exercises which was greatly appreciated by the audience.

PREPARING FOR COMING SEASON

Hard work on Diamond. Girls Challenge.

First Team.

Capt. Campbell led ten of his doughty athletes down to the tailor's Saturday and had them measured for their new suits. The Stetson nine is to be the best looking team on the College Diamond this year, and we prophesy that "pretty does as pretty is." The ten men included six "S" men: Campbell, Pelot, Mickle, Tilden, Kirby and Hamlin. Of the other four, Haselton was a sub. last year, while Pounds, Hunter and Allen are playing with Stetson their first season. Besides these ten, some three or four others will be added to the first squad. These will probably be Jones, Willard and Parsons. Mr. Pelot's injury has weakened the pitching staff temporarily, but the prospects are that the team will be in good shape for the first game.

Second Team Organize.

Saturday afternoon a meeting was held in Stetson Hall to organize a second Baseball team. Robinson was chosen Captain and Cotton manger. All baseball men in school who do not play on the first nine will train for places on the second nine. A series of games will be arranged by Manager Colton, and the second team calls for the loyal support of the school as strongly as does the Varsity nine. The men who work to make possible a strong College team, yet fail to win personal prominence, deserve the best treatment and may expect it at Stetson.

Basket Ball.

Miss Helen Hunt, manager of the girls' Basket Ball team, has received notice from the girls at Rollins that the challenge for a game on Feb. 9th will be accepted. Rollins will play Stetson in the University gymnasium on the 9th and has asked for a return game to be played in the Rollins' gymnasium on the 16th. It is probable, however, that the latter date will be changed to the 23rd, since the 15th is Presentation Day at Stetson, and baseball games are scheduled for the 15th and 16th in DeLand. Miss Hunt has also challenged the girls from the Florida Female College to come to DeLand for a game. The Basketball squad is working hard and regularly, and a strong team is expected to develop. By next week it will be possible to forecast the line-up.

New Tennis Courts.

Tennis devotees will probably join in a day of thanksgiving at an early date. The congestion on the courts has been temporarily relieved by the popularity of baseball and added relief seems promised by a speedy completion of the courts for the girls just north of Chaudoin. Splendid backstops have been constructed this week and all that remains to be done is the final leveling and lining off the courts. These courts will be conveniently situated for the ladies and will doubtless induce many to enjoy the sport who were hindered by the crowded condition of the general courts.

Training For the Future.

The Cooking Class, which meets this term under the direction of Mrs. G. P. Carson, is doing finely along culinary lines. The young cooks are the Misses Rena Waas, Kate Bogart, Marjorie Mace, Corinne Pelton, Ione Hough, Jeanette Merrill, and Edith Bond. Any Monday or Thursday afternoon should you take a peep into the "kitchen" at Science Hall wonderful dainties of wonderful make would greet your hungry gaze. They say it's fine fun; and soon they will cook everything to the "Queen's taste."

Church Service.

The Sunday morning services at the Baptist church were devoted to the Sunday School. In the program consisting, of songs, recitations and addresses, the needs of missions were emphasized. Several of the University students took part, among them being Misses Cramer, Hamlin, Moffatt and Ryland. Mr. Jones, Mr. Woodward and Mr. Hart also contributed to the program. In the evening Mr. Blocker, in the absence of Rev. Oates, supplied the pulpit.

Glee Club Trip.

The manager of the Glee Club has signed an agreement for a concert to be given at Lake Helen on next Saturday evening. The ladies of that place are arranging a series of entertainments, and the concert will no doubt be one of its most pleasing features.

The Club will line up somewhat as follows:

First Tenors	Second Tenors
W. B. Hill	E. L. Mickle
D. E. Carlton	G. W. Geiger
H. Smith	L. Carlton
First Bass	Second Bass
W. Y. Mickle	I. W. Cotton
C. E. Pelot	W. G. Sparkman
F. E. Cramer	H. Garwood

The second meeting of the term was led by Miss Grace Cramer. She took as her subject "Better work our Association should do."

The leader brought out many beautiful thoughts along this line and many others were suggested by the different girls, nearly everyone present taking part. Some one suggested that a good way to improve ourselves and develop our Christian lives is to help those about us.

Chicago Indulges.

Some of the Chicago crowd, the Misses Scott, Koenig, Tattersal, Kline, Vandracek and Post went to Ponce de Leon Springs last Saturday. They had the three slowest horses in town and when they finally arrived at the Spring, it was almost time to come home again. They tried to make coffee but owing to the sulphur water and the queer taste given by the magazine which served as a coffee-pot lid, it was not exactly a success. Neither is Marachino juice to be recommended as a substitute for sugar. When they were tired of looking for alligators and of scrambling about on a tree to get good 'kodak' positions, they induced the sad and reluctant horses to hustle along a little and get them back to Chaudoin. The unanimous chorus was, "Had a jolly, good time."

Professor W. L. Phelps, of the English department of Yale, made the following statement: "If I were appointed a committee of one to regulate the much debated college entrance examinations in English I should erase every list of books that thus far has been tried or suggested. I should confine the examinations wholly to the authorized version of the Bible."

Some Facts You All Should Know.

Is there any Senior College Class this year, and who are they? are questions so often asked this term. We beg leave to say that there is a Senior College Class and that those who make up this class are some of the most interesting characters in Stetson. Owing to their shy, retiring nature, the Seniors thus far have kept modestly in the back-ground, leaving their inferiors in knowledge and genius to take the lead. They have listened patiently to the account of the wonderful Academic Class of '07. They have heard without a protest, College, Freshman, Sophomores and Juniors tell what they have done, are doing, and are going to do.

All this and more have they stood till now they feel it incumbent upon them—their bounden duty to come before the public—to impress upon the minds of their readers that there really is a Senior College Class of '07.

Quality, not quantity, is their motto.

"Precious things come done up in small packages."

Have they not proved this maxim?

They represent: Faith, Hope and Charity; Religion, Science and Poetry; Goodness, Wisdom, Love.

What more could you ask?

As it would take up too much space to give a biographical sketch of all of the members of this illustrious class, you will have to be content with some of the principal characteristics of the leading officers.

Mr. Black, as regarding size, the most precious of packages—has made himself famous, for years to come. He will go down in history as a good preacher, a crack foot-ball player, and an ideal negro porter. His college life is not over yet. He goes, after this year, to prepare himself for missionary work in—.

A good morsel for the cannibals but rather tough don't you think?

Mr. Walker has been truthfully called one of the brightest boys at Stetson. He has succeeded in everything he has undertaken and

STETSON LITERARY SOCIETY

Among the most pleasing features of the program last Saturday night was the current events number given by Miss Hulley. The little bit of local color added was indeed a happy tho't.

Miss Salome Hampton in her recitation pictured to us the woes of a little girl while learning the multiplication table.

Mr. Stultz in a good extempore speech took a firm stand against Sunday studying.

Miss Whiting, tho inexperienced in parliamentary practice, presided in a very creditable manner.

The debate: Resolved that Art Galleries, Public Libraries and Museums should be open on Sunday, was perhaps more interesting to the participants than to the audience since the affirmative was supported by two extempore speakers.

Our Critic was especially helpful in his careful explanation, analysis and criticism on debating and ours in particular. We, as a society, feel that the greater part of our growth and improvement this year is due to the careful, efficient and friendly work of our critic.

The Society is glad to welcome Miss Post, Miss Alfred and Mr. Green among their number.

Unlikely as it may seem, it bids fair to be a success. Unlike one Stetson boy, he has read "Anna Lytics" and "Calculus" and has remembered them.

Miss Whiting's characteristics can be summed up by saying that she has been taken for a missionary, a woman suffragist and a singer. She is a northern girl but loyal to Stetson and the class of '07.

All three have the interests of their class at heart and are going to make it a memorable one in Stetson history.

Continued.

The use of 'ponies' is recommended by Professor Edward C. Sission of the University of Washington. Too much time spent on Latin and Greek which might be used to a greater advantage in other lines.

About Old Friends.

A communication from Miss Ruth Jackman, Academy '05, reads somewhat as follows:

"I sail on the 9th of February for Europe, where I shall be for about eight months. We shall be in Capri for the Winter months, and then go to the south of France, where I will go to school. In the Summer my father expects to join me and we will travel until October.

"I have enjoyed my two years at the University of Chicago very much, but I look back with great pleasure to my high school days at Stetson, and I hope some time to spend a winter there."

Mr. Eugene Beardsley and Mrs. Beardsley (nee Miss Calhoun) left us several years ago, but evidently have not forgotten Stetson, as appears by the following extracts:

"Last May I finished my two years of service at Fort Worth University. Last Spring I received an offer to take the Modern Language Department at Whitworth College, Tacoma, Washington, which I accepted. After school closed, Mrs. Beardsley, Baby Eugenia and myself visited relatives in Louisiana. * * *

* * * A novel feature while visiting in Redlands, Cal., was standing in a grove of oranges, lemons and apricots, and picking ripe fruit from the trees, while gazing at the mountains covered with snow in mid-summer, only five miles distant. * * *

Regarding San Francisco, it would be very difficult for any man to describe its ruins. It was the most heart-rending scene I think I shall ever see. Three-fourths of the city was in absolute ruins while the scenes in the relief camps were pitiable beyond description.

"Regarding my location in Tacoma; I am immensely pleased at the change. Whitworth is ranked among the high grade institutions of the Northwest. It has the appointment of a Rhodes Scholar in 1908. It has about three hundred students, five good buildings, one of which is regarded as the finest of its kind on the Pacific coast. The College is Kent Club.

By GEORGE LEITNER.

The first regular winter term session of the Kent Club was held Saturday night. While there were not as many members present as there might have been, those present seemed to have been imbued with the spirit of Demos thenes.

The program was rendered as follows:

Address—Pres. Noble.

Extempore—Mr. Leitner.

But one of the regular debators being present, Mr. Campbell was asked to give a few reasons why the income tax is any advantage, which he did in his happiest manner. Mr. Roy Geiger then told a few of the disadvantages in such a strong way that before he was through we were all sure that an income tax was a disadvantage.

Judge Williams, alias John Sharp Williams, one time leader of the minority, now majority party, was then called upon for a few remarks, which remarks he began by remarking that he was no remarker but he was going to remark. After which he told briefly of the defeat of the Republicans and the triumph of the Democratic principles.

President Noble then appointed on the program committee Messrs. McGeachy, McNeil and Kirby.

It being shown that there was dissatisfaction with the constitution and by-laws of the Club, a motion was made and carried that a committee of three be appointed by the president to submit a new constitution to the Club two weeks from this meeting. On this committee Pres. Noble appointed Messrs. McNeil, Geiger and Campbell.

No more business coming before the meeting it adjourned.
