BASE BALL RESUME.

Of Friday's and Saturday's Games

Of Friday's and Saturday's games.

The baseball games, if such they may be called, last Friday and Saturday were somewhat ragged. While it is true that they were merely practice games and also the first outside games of the season they were not what was expected by those who have witnessed the second games during the past week. We believe fully that Stetson has better material for a baseball team this year than ever before in the history of inter-collegiate athletics.

"Speck" behind the bat will no doubt uphold his fine reputation of the past. "Scissors" Locke, although a new man at Stetson, showed good form in the Saturday game and will no doubt come up to the highest expectations of him. "Tommie" Alderman, the ex-second baseman of the U. of F. team, is putting up a good quality of ball and is batting well. Claud Jones, another new Stetsonite, is showing up well in the cutfield. "Philipp" Bennett, Clyde Pounds and "Heiny" Allen are all old timers and from present appearances are "all to the good." Other candidates for the cutfield are "Pat" Sams, "Kink" Tilden, Ben Willard, Hugh Jones and "Molly" Miller.

The pitching staff is strong this year as shown by both games last week. Bil Page in Friday's game did exceptionally well considering the existing circumstances. Notwithstanding the drizzly rain and almost complete lack of support from the rest of the team he pitched a steady consistent game and struck out eleven men. "Squire" Hunter is pitching this year as he never pitched before.

All that is needed from what we can see is straight-out, down-right, hard practice such as Prof. Colton gives the football team.

For the benefit of out of town subscribers we would say that in Friday's game Daytona won by the score of 9-8 and in Saturday's game with Orlando Stetson won 12-4.

"JAM THE GYM."

The Motto for Next Saturday's Game. Varsity Five Will Take the Floor With No Uncertain Prospects.

After two months of hard energetic practice, the basketball team will meet the girls from the Orlando school next Saturday morning, the 6th. This will be the first interscholastic game of the year and after the vigorous drilling, night after night, much enthusiasm is manifest among the girls over the prospects of this first clash. Coach Botts has worked desperately to swing the five into shape and has succeeded in turning out what next Saturday will reveal, a winning team; not only strong on the defense, but especially vigorous on the offensive and of sure success in throwing goals.

Last Saturday's game has furnished some idea of the individual bearing of each player as well as harmonious and unified team work. Material strength and confidence is given through the more or less experience of the players, all of whom were familiar to some degree with the game.

Capt. Vignier and Miss Yaekel, who did splendid work for Stetson last year against the Tallahassee team, have developed a style even better than the playing of a year ago, the former being practically "dead sure" of basketing all fouls and of good aim in throwing from the field, while the latter at center is exceeding swift, placing the ball where she pleases. Miss Bowers, who formerly played at Tallahassee, Miss Miller, an old Stetson girl and well acquainted with the floor, and Miss Nahm, quick at intercepting and sure of passes, complete the team as picked by Coach Botts. Their positions are as follows:

Forwards: Miss Vignier (cap.)
Miss Bowers, Miss Broadwell (subst.)

FRESHIES BLOSSOM OUT.

Lot of Class Spirit and Energy.

In spite of the cold wave which struck Florida the past week, the Freshmen at Stetson are still very much in evidence and apparently have suffered little consequences.

Friday last an enthusiastic conference was held and with no blood shed or political scandal, officers were elected as follows:

President, Hugh G. Jones; vice-president, Clifford Botts; secretary, Incz Barron; treasurer, Juno Wright; historian, Julia Bunch.

The most artistic tendencies were displayed in the selection of a class flower. After moments of brain-racking thought and endless searching through Ferry's catalogue and Sampson's Nursery Book, the "cauliflower" was chosen as best expressing their feelings and sentiments, and no doubt corresponding to no small degree to the bumps of knowledge on the craniums of the august members.

Green makes an appropriate class color, as there will be need of no other decoration than their natural present appearance. But contrary to the usual method of having a motto expressive of their highest intellectual ambition, or moral aspirations, the class motto of "Darnit kno" is by far their greatest achievement and suggestive of utmost truth. We congratulate them especially on this splendid confession and on their avowed honesty.

After elaborate sacrifices and offerings to the Freshmen gods, to kindly pardon their boasting and to please send warmer weather, the assembly disbanded and each with a sense of his own dignity and majesty returned homeward to his chair near the fire.

Contentment.

When the Oratorical Association finds some one it can vanquish.

When weekly dances are given in Chaudoin.

When the thermometer stays at 68 degrees.

When something goes on that Uncle Dan does not know.

When recitations come between 12 and 1:00.

When History and "Poly Con" lectures become interesting.

When the members of East Hall adjourn to the College Arms.

When the "Lit" thrashes the Lawyers.

When your check from home arrives and you don't owe a soul.

"Did you ever hear what made the Tower of Pisa lean?"

"No. What was it?"

"It was boarding at Chaudoin."

The pastor of a Baptist church in a small Indiana town having resigned recently, a committee was appointed to recommend a successor. The chairman of this committee, wanting the best that was to be had, wrote to an applicant as follows:
Rev. O. B. Goode,

Dear Brother:—Your recent letter to hand and contents noted. In reply will say that our church is at present without a pastor, and that we will call some one to fill the place soon. The committee of which I am chairman is to recommend some one to the church on the 19th inst.

We will be glad to consider you in connection with the recommendation, and in order that we may act intelligently, will ask that you send us at once, if you care to be considered, such references as you may have.

HANOVER, N. H.

The man we choose for a pastor must be scholarly, well-educated and of pleasing personality. He must be an impressive and eloquent preacher, a good mixer and active in outside work. He must be a man to inspire confidence, and must be able to command the respect of the people. We expect that he shall not only keep up an active interest in church work among our own people, but that he shall increase the membership and standing of the church. In a word, he must be such a man as can best serve a growing church in a small town.

Let me repeat that we shall be pleased to consider your name if you so desire. If you do not care to be considered, please recommend someone who in your judgment fulfils the above requirements. The salary is $500 per year.

Yours truly,

M. L. THORNTON.

To this letter, Brother Thornton received the following reply:

Mr. M. L. Thornton,

Dear Sir:—In regard to your recent letter, you need not consider me in connection with the pastorate of your church. Unfortunately, I know of no one who fills the requirements mentioned, and consequently I am unable to recommend any one. I know of but one man who could have pleased you, and he is dead. His name was Paul.

Yours fraternally,

O. B. GOODE.

Tampa People Enjoy a Treat.

Prof. Ambrose L. Suhrie, who lectured at the First Methodist church last evening delighted his audience and will always in future meet with a hearty welcome in Tampa. He is a man of pleasing personality and a gifted and brilliant speaker. Prof. Suhrie is a valuable member of the faculty of Stetson University, and a man of experience in platform work. He came to Tampa under the auspices of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, and they feel that in bringing him to Tampa they gave the city a literary treat such as is only enjoyed upon rare occasions.

Professor Suhrie has an original style of lecturing which pleases his audience greatly. He spoke of many poets, their lives, work and little eccentricities, giving a number of selections from different ones. His personal reminiscences were humorous and greatly enjoyed. There was a large audience and all expressed great pleasure at having an opportunity to hear so splendid a speaker. Professor Suhrie left this morning for Bradentown, where he will lecture tonight. —Tampa Times.

That far distant vision so often suggested but not attained—a Y. M. C. A. basket-ball team—is assuming bodily form and bids fair in a few days to be a reality.

That editor of a college paper in Oklahoma who receives a salary of $25.00 a month does not know what a good thing he is missing. Sure of his little coin every month, the supreme joy of working merely for "glory" is an unknown quantity with him.

Why need all our sports be confined to baseball? When that is over and nearly two months will confront us with no athletics at all, then the idea of a tennis tournament or a track meet will be advanced. Stetson has good prospects for a first-class tennis team and there is no reason why the athletic committee should center all interest in baseball.

While we do not presume to dictate in the matter of administration, nor do we pose as advisors of any kind, we do suggest that discipline would greatly improve the efficiency of the study hall. Its utter lack makes the room a "hanging-out" place and those who attend for the purpose of studying are not permitted to do so, through the boisterous laughter and noise of others who gather there because of no other place to go.

To the Editor of Stetson Collegiate, DeLand, Fla.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed you will find check for the Collegiate for the remainder of the year.

I hope you are having a very successful year, and wish that it were possible for me to pay you a visit. But it is impossible to leave my business just now. As soon as I get a chance you will see me there, shaking hands with the many friends.

I love dear old Stetson, DeLand, and all the many friends that I have there, and would like to be with you once more. The happiest days of my life were the ones I spent there at school, although at the time I thought there was nothing but work.

Tell my old friends hello for me, and give my regards to the faculty.

Yours very truly,

J. BOWERS CAMPBELL,
Attorney-at-Law.

Intercollegiate Notes.

The Idea, from the University of Kentucky, is numbered among the Collegiate exchanges.

An appropriate commemoration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Mendelssohn was held Feb. 2-3 by Chicago.

The Univ. of Washington is making great preparations for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle next summer.

Iowa is asking the state for $150,000 for a new dormitory for women.

Brown has twenty-six games scheduled for the baseball season.

The editor of the "Umpire," Oklahoma Univ., draws the astonishing salary of twenty-five dollars a month.

Normal Bulletin Issued.

The normal department of Stetson University has just issued a new bulletin announcing the special review courses to be given during the spring term beginning March 31 and ending June 1, 1909.

This bulletin is the best piece of printing the university has put out in a long time. It is done in colors. The cuts are clear and they represent views recently taken. The library cut is especially artistic.

Director Suhrie is very happy over his success in securing for the teachers a special reduced railroad rate. This special rate has been granted by all of the Florida railroads.

The bulletin shows that the attendance in the review courses has increased more than 1000 per cent in three years. A truly remarkable growth. The normal faculty is putting great energy into the work and this growth is not to be wondered at.

These bulletins can be had for wide distribution by calling on Director Suhrie at his office.

ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION.

No Longer a Dream—a Reality.

As announced exclusively in these columns last week, there was a mass-meeting in the auditorium on Monday evening, having for its purpose the organization of the Oratorical Association.

The meeting was called to order at 6:15 by Professor Suhrie, who made a few remarks relative to the great good to be derived from an organization of this kind, not only by its members, but by the university generally. He then called for nominations for temporary chairman. Mr. Rider nominated Mr. Doyle Carlton and he was unanimously chosen. Mr. Carson was made temporary secretary.

Mr. Carlton having taken the chair, it was moved and seconded that the Oratorical Association be organized. Professor Suhrie addressed the assembly on this motion, making many valuable suggestions as to the way in which organization should be effected and making clear to all the objects of the organization and the difficulties to be encountered in realizing its aims. Messrs. Carlton, Tingley, Storer and Botts spoke to the motion, each adding much to the discussion. On being put to a vote, the motion was carried.

It was then moved and seconded that a committee of three be appointed to draw up a constitution and report. Mr. Hugh Jones made some very timely remarks on this motion, suggesting that it would be advisable to appoint some who had the benefit of past experience in this particular kind of work. The motion was then put to a vote and carried. The election of permanent officers was of necessity left until the constitution shall have been adopted.

The chairman took the appointment of the committee under consideration, thinking it a delicate task requiring much thought. The names of the committee have not yet been made known to the Collegiate. It is safe to say that the various departments and interests of the university will be represented by good men. After the announcement by the chairman that the committee would be made known later, the meeting adjourned to meet again on call.

A very pleasing feature was the presence of quite a number of the fair sex from Chaudoin. It was much appreciated and we sincerely hope that they will always be at the meetings. Their presence is both an inspiration and an incentive to more constant and regular attendance on the part of the residents of Stetson Hall and outlying suburbs.

Great Opportunity for Students
Saturday Night.

To the sober, solemn individuals who have hidden away in the sequestered safety of "lab," or room, and to those who have managed to creep past the bulletin board and shop windows down-town, this last plea is given to spend their 75c. pieces and $1.00 bills to attend the lecture of next Saturday night by William Jennings Bryan. To many this will be the opportunity of a life-time, and every student in Stetson should avail himself of the chance to hear America's greatest orator. The subject of Mr. Bryan's lecture is as yet unannounced, but in all probability will be "The Prince of Peace." His speeches are characterized by no humor or jollity; they are of the deepest thought and logic, of masterful oratory, and on powerful themes. He is considered as the "king of the American platform," "most typical of American manhood and statesmanship," and will reward to the fullest all who attend.

DORMITORIES DEFEAT CITIZENS IN BRISK GAME.

Good Work Done on Both Sides.

The first basket-ball game open to the public, in the Gym last Saturday morning, was full of good-natured rivalry and enthusiasm. The majority of the 200 spectators who, in spite of the cold weather, were on hand, however, greatly favored the Chaudoinites, and the few sympathizers of the Town girls, to their discredit, did not prove very loyal. Though the dormitory girls came off victorious, every score was not cinched but contested vigorously by their opponents.

The first half started off with a rush in favor of the former and six baskets had been thrown before the latter had realized the situation. Soon they settled down to their usual form and the close showed the score 10-4 in favor of Chaudoin.

On the contrary, in the second half the Town, with clock-like precision,

"The Shame of Life."

(A Parody)

Tell me not in snoring slumbers,
Ages are just what they seem,
For the girl is dead who numbers
Birthdays after she's sixteen.

Girls are downright dead in earnest
And old maid-hood's not their goal;
Thoughts of home without a "hubby"
Fill with pain their very soul.

Not rejoicing and not sorrow
Is their destined end or way;
But to act so some young fellow
Thinks they're sweeter'n new mown hay.

And their hearts though beating near,
Still like muffled drums are beating,
"Hurry up, my Honey Dear."

In the world's broad field of Honey's,
There is none like unto thee,
Be not like a can of oysters,
Say your sweet say unto me.

Trust no flirts, how'er pretty,
Let the other girls go by.
Pop, oh Pop, your little question;
Here am I, Oh, here am I.

Lives of girls do all remind me,
I can make my life sublime
By just leaving way behind me
Birthdays on the sands of time.

Then perhaps some forlorn sister,
Who has tried the same old game
Will be waiting round the corner
For to halvers on my name.

I will then be up and doing,
With a heart for Sue or Sal;
Still a loving; still pursuing of a thousand people for this concert. At Bradentown Prof. Suhrie witnessed an interesting basketball contest between the Sarasota and Bradentown high school teams. The Sarasota team had been coached by Miss Alice Howard, of last year's normal class.
Some poor frazzled out old gal.

On Friday evening he lectured in the Manavista Music Hall to a very select audience of tourists and Bradentown people. While on this trip Prof. Suhrie visited Plant City and was the guest of Hon F. D. Pattishall, a Stetson law graduate who has been elected to the next legislature. Mr. Pattishall promised to visit Stetson on his way to Tallahassee in April.

Prof. Suhrie reports that a great many of Stetson's friends in south Florida will visit DeLand to attend the State Musical Festival on Feb. 10-12.

The Value of a Man.

Despite the sudden change in temperature, Sunday afternoon, the vesper service was exceedingly well attended. Previous to the opening and for some time after the beginning, the ten ushers were kept busy fixing seating room for the attendants. The address by the president was based on Matt. 12:12. "How much then is man better than a sheep?" In a fine logical proceeding the question was applied to chemistry, to physiology, to zoology, and on through the sciences, in what respects is man the superior of an animal.

"Apply this interrogation to society and what do you get?" said Dr. Hulley. "More women in high society, think about and care about a one pound poodle then they ever dream of bestowing on their own children. Men will glowingly speak of their fine breed of horses and cattle but never a word of praise for the boys in the home. Such is the value of a man to some people."

Though dumb brutes do at times, as the speaker showed, reveal what may seem greater than instinct or animal powers, yet man does in an infinite number of ways, in his rich sympathies, lofty aspirations, and divine qualities far exceed the rest of God's creatures, and was indeed "created but a little lower than the angels."

The glory of man as expressed by David, his infinite value in the sight of his Creator, his perfect right to think well of himself and his obligation to attain to highest developments were beautiful and inspiring thought touched upon by the speaker.

A solo by Miss Conkling preceded the address, following the offering; an anthem by the choir closed the service.
