CHANGE OF CONTROL FOR ROLLINS SEEMS LIKELY AT PRESENT

Educational Boards of the Three Liberal Churches Considering Plan

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

The Congregationalists, Presbyterians U. S. A. and Southern, in it

During the last week in February representatives from the educational boards of the Southern Presbyterians, the Presbyterians U. S. A., and the Congregationalists met at Rollins to consider the possibilities for joint support and control of the college in the future. The representatives agreed to recommend to their bodies that all three concerned should unite in the support and control of Rollins, and they further entered into a written agreement with the trustees of the college on the proposed plan.

With this change in control the churches are to raise a large sum of money for the endowment of the college. According to the plans they will also undertake an extensive building program on the campus, which in its scope, will be far superior to anything that Rollins has ever had in the past.

"If these plans work out as they are now arranged," said Dean Sprague in talking on the proposed change in support and control, "Rollins will no longer be a small college on Lake Virginia, but will be at the point where for the first time the Northern and Southern Churches meet in a united effort to raise one of the strongest institutions in the South. Rollins will thereby become a college of national reputation and great strength."

The committees at present have returned to their original bodies where they expect to secure ratification of the plan, after which the campaign for funds will be launched. It is not known at this time whether or not the campaign will be of nation wide scope.

As is generally known throughout the state, State University and Southern College, two of Florida's institutions of higher learning, are under the control of the Baptist and Methodist churches, respectively. Those favoring the change of control at Rollins point out as one of their main arguments for favoring the plan, the fact that the college would

SUN. NITE CHAPEL SERMON INSPIRING

Harrisburg Minister Speaks to Students of Rollins College

Dr. C. Weldon Cherry, Pastor of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, spoke to a large and responsive audience in Knowles Hall last Sunday evening on the subject, "Finding Our Faith." His sermon was considered by hearers as one of the most effective delivered to the student body this year.

Dr. Cherry came to Winter Park and the College under the auspices of the Rollins Chapel Association of which Mr. Irving Bacheller is president. That Mr. Bacheller's influence is bringing such a strong man as Dr. Cherry to Rollins is appreciated is evident.

For more than an hour Dr. Cherry preached a very impressive sermon on "Finding our Faith." That all students must be able to answer satisfactorily, I can, I ought, I love, and my task, before they can really live as they should and get the most out of life was one of the number of points stressed by Dr. Cherry. He said that religion is not a creed or a church, but is the living with

GLIDING CONTEST HELD

Al Falfa Narrowly Escapes Many Dangers but Luckily is Uninjured at End

In the not so long ago, Farmer Al Falfa became very much interested in a great flying contest. Of course, the popular old gentleman was a true sportsman, but prizes worth $10,000 made him even more eager to become a flyer.

Looking up into the bright blue heavens, Al saw all the animals gliding about the air in try-outs for the big contest. Henry Cat, Caroline Cow, Delbert Dachshund, and Paul Terrier all showed skill in flying.

Al decided to join the flyers. So he rushed over to the barn and made a pair of wings for himself. Then he laid across the handle barn and seat of his bicycle. He told Billy Goat to butt him along. Away went

PLAN NEW STADIUM ON LAKE VIRGINIA

To be Erected Soon According to the Present Plans of the Officials

A new open air stadium to cost at least $10,000 will be erected in Winter Park, presumably on the Rollins Campus, should plans of the friends of the late Susan Dyer and officials of various musical clubs of Florida be carried out. The structure, according to the present plans, shall be built in commemoration of Miss Dyer, and will be erected probably on the shores of Lake Virginia. The funds for the construction of the stadium will be raised by popular subscription. A fund of over $1200 was pledged at the Susan Dyer Memorial Saturday night on the campus.

Two sites on Lake Virginia for the erection of this outdoor stadium are under consideration at the present time. The one most favored seems to be the western end of the campus, back of the dining hall. This point of land extending out into Lake Virginia was favored by Miss Dyer when she first proposed the stadium several years ago, and at this time it appears likely that this location will be favored when the final decision is made.

FORMER ROLLINS STUDENT

Once Business Manager of Sandspur; Now Holds High Position in Washington

Major Brett, an alumnus of Rollins of the class of 1900 and business manager of The Rollins Sandspur in 1899-1900, spoke recently at the Georgia School of Technology. Major Brett is at present the Second Executive Assistant to the Secretary of War. An article appearing in The Technique follows:

Members of the R. O. T. C. enjoyed an interesting lecture by Major Brett, Ordnance Officer inspecting the unit at Tech, last Monday, on the preparations being made by the Ordnance department in case of another war. The lecture was intended primarily for the Members of the Ordnance Corps, but through Lieutenant Bhaefer, head of the Tech Ordnance Unit,

AQUATIC MEET WILL BE HELD APRIL 28 IN LAKE VIRGINIA

State High Schools to Send Contestants to Compete as in Past

MEDAL AWARDED WINNERS

As Usual Meet is Open to Every Public High School in the State.

According to R. W. Greene, director of the Florida State Inter-scholastic Aquatic Meet, plans have definitely been made concerning the 1923 meet, which is to be staged at Rollins College April 28, and details, including rules of the meet and eligibility requirements, have been forwarded to the athletic authorities of all Florida high schools. The annual aquatic meet is open to all the public high schools in this state.

According to the instructions recently issued to directors of the state high schools each school is permitted to enter a team of not more than six or less than four boys or girls and may send a team of both. Sterling silver cups will be awarded championship teams and one cup will be awarded to the winner of first place in each event. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to those contestants winning first, second, and third places.

Twenty-four silver cups are to be offered this year, as in the 1922 Meet, in addition to the gold, silver, and bronze medals. Two large perpetual cups, one for the boys' team, won last year by West Palm Beach, and one for the girls' team, won by the St. Petersburg team last meet, will be awarded to the teams scoring the greatest number of points in the coming contest. After a team has won a perpetual cup three times it shall become the permanent property of the school represented. The boy and girl scoring the greatest number of points in their respective events will receive a cup which shall be their permanent property. A gold, silver or bronze medal will be awarded contestants winning first, second, or third places.

There were 100 contestants in the 1922 Meet, while last year there were 138, which in the opinion of those connected with the meet, shows that each year the State Aquatic Meet is becoming more popular with the high school athletes of this state. According to the plans of the officials in

CHANGE OF CONTROL

On the front page of this issue appears an article regarding the probable change in the control of Rollins College. An agreement has been tentatively made between the controlling bodies of the Congregationalists and Presbyterians (both U. S. A. and Southern) to join in building up Rollins College as an inter-denominational institution. This means that if these bodies ratify the agreement that Rollins will quickly become one of the leading colleges in the South.

It has been estimated that in the State of Georgia alone there is an overflow of over five hundred students a year from the Presbyterian institutions in that State. These students would, of course, be diverted to Rollins as well as students in Florida and other states.

By thinking a moment, it will be seen that such a move on the part of the controlling bodies of these Churches will make Rollins College a ranking institution in the South, if not the whole country. It will be the only plant known that has the backing of two such powerful organizations as the Congregationalists and the Presbyterians.

What can the student do? That is a very natural question. The student can back Rollins in every way. At the present time and until it is definitely decided whether the aid will be given, Rollins will continue rolling along as heretofore. No—that is not the case at all. Rollins is going to roll along as NEVER BEFORE. 'BOARD!!!!

PLAY THE GAME

As the Senior nears the end of his school career and begins to look forward—rather apprehensively in most cases—to taking his place among the myriad of professions of the world, his mood becomes thoughtful.

On entering college, a man usually thinks that he has a theory of life that, if followed, will bring him success. As new problems confront him and as youthful ideas are crushed, new theories take the place of the old, and the ideas of yesterday are oft times almost like the taunting laughter of some monster who seeks to destroy.

We've watched the masses hurrying thither and yon, and wondered if the competition isn't too great, and if it would not be just as well to forget those old ideals and settle comfortably into a convenient rut and let the work of building up be borne by someone else. Even the strong man thinks thus—at times.

But though Despair may haunt us, success may seem like another mirage, and life like an unsolvable math problem, the strong man never quits.

It is easy to go forward when everything is going right, and when there's money in the pockets and your grades are honor roll high; but start down grade once and it's hard to stop and right-about-face for the climb back.

We're living in a little world of our own here on the campus and if we play the game and win here, we can hold our own to the outside world.

At the beginning and the end of the terms, it is easy to work, for our goals are near. But out in the stream where the water is swift, it's easy to loaf, for the goals are far away and the work is very hard. Then we must call on our heart and nerve and sinew to fight their hardest.

Play up! Play the game every minute and you can't lose; but stop a moment and you're lost.

Theories have their place and serve their turn but the way up is through steady plodding work—and the goal is always worth while—Technique.

MRS. H. INGRAHAM VISITS ROLLINS CAMPUS

An interesting visitor on the campus for the past several weeks has been Mrs. Roberta Huntington Ingraham, of 38 Gramercy Park, New York City, who was at one time Director of the Rollins Conservatory of Music. Mrs. Ingraham has not visited Rollins for many years and finds many changes in the campus and in the college personnel. During her stay here she has been doing some private art work under Prof. Panos Boosiotis of the Art Department.

Mrs. Ingraham was head of the Rollins Conservatory while Prof. J. B. Ford was Acting President and did much to establish the present reputation of the music department.

PICNICS

On Saturday night the moon played an enlightening part in the Tau Lambda Delta picnic. The canoes were filled with picnickers and food, about five o'clock, and the long paddle through the lakes started. The landing place was Mr. Karl's picnic corner. In the grate—especially built for picnic fires—a blaze was quickly started by Coach Ashburn. The same coach was soon frying onion infested hamburger steaks. The coffee bubbled second, and French fried potatoes came as a third course, but who cared?

In a uniquely built palmetto shelter everyone gathered and sang college songs. When the ukulele and singers were not busy, "The Shik" and "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen" fought for applause on the T L D victrola. Marshmallows, apples, and bananas were consumed and thrown. Quite a beverage was kept up until ammunition was exhausted. Those tiring of sitting and singing arose and taking the victrola with them danced in high spirits on the tennis court. In addition to dancing, many gymnastic feats were enacted by the ambitious ones.

When the moon had risen high in the sky and the boat owl moaned his mournful cry—the chaperones started the movement toward home, and a silent happy, well fed crowd of boys and girls paddled their way homeward, perhaps a little wearily. The Tau Lambda Delta's picnic was a huge success and another, it is hoped, is forthcoming.

CANOE TRIP

About four o'clock Saturday afternoon, the Sigma Phi's went out in a war canoe loaded with girls, pillows, and cats. They landed at Federal Lanue and immediately started a fire and the coffee. After consuming quantities of bacon, sandwiches, fruit salad, cake and coffee, a band of bridge was started and continued until they all returned in time to attend the memorial service given for Miss Dyer.

Margaret Bencini, a Sigma Phi from Orlando, spent the week end of March the third at Rollins in order to attend the memorial service given for Miss Dyer.

Tau Lambda Delta Fraternity wishes to announce as members the following boys: Clyde Currie, Jack Evans, Clarence Drea, Brandt Watson, Homer Parker, and Kenelm Winslow.

Mildred Cooper, whom all the older students know as "Brownie" spent a few days on the campus last week, and seemed to bring some of the 'air' of the 'good old days' back with her. Being a member of Sigma Phi she stayed with her sorority sisters in Cleveland.

SUB-FRESHMAN PICNIC

With a wonderful moon, six canoes and a merry bunch the class put out for the Seminole Landing. Upon landing, beefsteak and other eats were produced magically and everything imaginable was pressed into service for knives and forks.

Several of those present proved themselves to be chefs of high quality before the evening was up.

The moon inspired several gentlemen to keep up what might be termed music for most of the evening. Guests present were Miss Margaret McConnell and members of the play cast.

PHI OMEGA MEGAPHONE

Fun? But then the Phi Omegas always have fun no matter what they do. A luncheon was given, with the Misses Louise Webb and Mary Johnson as guests, in the Commons recently.

On Friday afternoon a bridge tea was given by Miss Peschmann for the Phi Omegas.

Sister Muriel Hardesty returned from a week end at Seabreeze looking like she had had the time of her life.

CONSIDER THE CHAPERON

The chaperon is a guest and not a necessary evil, brought about by modern convention, and therefore it is the duty of the other guests and the hosts to see that they are entertained, especially is it expected at our school dances. Members of the faculty are usually asked to act in this capacity, and often it is only through courtesy that they accept, because students show little effort in making the evening pleasant for them, consequently they must decorate the walls or entertain the old folks. Remember that a chaperon from a college faculty is not dull and uninteresting; can dance and enjoy it as much as the undergraduates. Make it a pleasure.

The chaperon is a guest and not a necessary duty.—The Carnegie Truston.

Preliminary returns from a questionnaire presented to students at Ohio State University show that co-education is favored by a large majority. One of the few against co-education stated that it enabled girls to get through college to inexpensively. Nearly 60 per cent of the men queried as to their favorite recreation expressed the opinion that they would rather take part in athletics than to dance, while only eight decided in favor of dancing. Football led as the favorite sport with baseball, basket ball, and swimming following. To the question "Do you smoke?" twenty-three answered "yes" while thirty-seven said that they did not, a surprise as it was expected that at least 90 per cent used tobacco.

FIVE TRUSTEES ARE ELECTED THIS YEAR

The annual session of the college trustees occurred recently, but only a part of the business on the docket was accomplished. For this reason another meeting will be held on March 13th.

At the last meeting the following new trustees were elected: H. A. Ward, Arthur Schultz, and H. W. Caldwell, of Winter Park, and Donald Cheney, and N. P. Yowell, of Orlando.

Hot Tar

Last Tuesday, the girls war canoe crews went over to Mount Dora and raced for the entertainment of the guests of the Mount Dora Yacht Club. This is the first time that the girls have been in action this year and from the looks of it, they are world beaters.

'Lefty' Handley seems to be handling the big job of sailing 'em over all alone. Capassa? Can't we find some more world beaterers among our number?

The games with Ormond scheduled for the past week had to be called off at the last minute since the Ormond Club was not able to complete its contract. Sorry the boys couldn't have the experience of the game but the extra practice will do 'em good says Coach Ashburn.

Looks as though the Hatters kind of put a couple of crimps in Southern's aspirations for the State Rag. We can't say much yet, but wait until the Tars get to aullin' along!

Strenuous practice has been the word lately for the Tar wiflow wielders, and from an impartial standpoint (of course) the Tars are up and pulling.

This week a Sandspur reporter undertook to secure answers to the following question: "What is the matter with the college spirit?" The opinions of five students selected at random from among many answers follow:

Vincent Conway said, "Too many crimps pulling against each other."

While Gretchen Harrell answered, "Everybody is thinking about a good time."

And Curtis Atkinson briefly stated, "There ain't none."

James Bartlett gave as his opinion, "The school spirit in Rollins is pretty good, but isn't developed."

And finally Webber B. Haines, "The school spirit in Rollins is no good."

Al at high speed. But the Goat did not see where he was pushing Al. Suddenly the flyer-farmer found himself dropping off a high cliff. Alas! The Farmer proved too heavy for his home-made wings. He fell right down to earth with a big thump. As he climbed out of the wreckage, he said wisely, "There's something about this glider business that I don't understand."

Now it happened that Sam Slicker had seen the Farmer's flying accident. The crafty Sam saw a chance to fool the poor honest Farmer. So, he blew up his jacket until it was like a balloon. Then he walked over to Al and asked him if he wanted to fly. "I ain't saying yes, and I ain't saying no," responded the Farmer. Sam floated about the air to the great surprise of Al.

"Just think that you are flying and you will really fly," declared Slicker. Al began to get interested. So, Sam told him to sit upon a little stool. Sam held a toy bird upon a stick in front of the would-be flyer and told him to think about flying. While Al fixed his mind upon the little bird, Sam reached down and took the Farmer's pocket book. Then the tricky man hit the Farmer on the head with a tack hammer.

All of a sudden, old Al began to fly in a sort of daze. Up, up, and up he went through space. Then down, down, down into a roaring dragon's mouth. The dragon's throat was like a tunnel and Al fell down into the very depths of Hades—where all the bad people go to be punished.

Al saw devil-men tossing bad people into a big pot of boiling water. The poor Farmer shook with fear. Nearby, a devil worked away at a forge hammering the spear-and tail of a devil-cat into a sharper point. Upon seeing Al, the devil-cat rushed after him and the frightened man ran for dear life. Every few steps the devil-cat stuck Al with his spear tail.

Before Al knew what was happening, he stepped into a deep hole. This led him down an almost endless pit and he landed upon a pan cake griddle. Two devil-men picked at him with their forks so that he would cook well.

In a little while Al found himself rising and he fanned himself in an effort to cool off. When he woke up from his wonderful dream, Al was surprised to see all the animals laughing at him as he fanned himself. The old Farmer was mighty glad that his peculiar flying trip was over. Yes, indeed, he was thoroughly convinced of the truth of the "Assy's Film Fables" moral: "It is not always safe to imitate a bad example."

The site was cleared by the men of the Rollins faculty last spring and plans were laid for an outdoor theatre for the college. However, it now seems likely that the new stadium may take the place of the proposed theatre.

The other site under consideration by interested parties is located on the extreme western end of the campus under the tall pine trees near the place where the road turns towards Virginia Heights. Possibilities with the athletic field in connection with the stadium on this location have been removed lately.

The stadium committee will take the respective of the two proposed sites into consideration and will at some time in the future decide as to which is the more desirable.

Those connected with the proposed stadium were greatly pleased at the showing made Saturday night when over $1200 was raised in a short time. Other friends of Miss Dyer in this region will have an opportunity to assist later. The musical clubs of Florida will also be called upon to make a donation towards the stadium fund.

MAJ. BRETT SPEAKS AT TECH. ON MONDAY

an opportunity was given the other units meeting at that hour to hear it.

Major Brett, who is Second Executive Assistant to the Secretary of War, is one of the best informed men to be found on the subject of Ordnance equipment and preparation. He explained why so much time was consumed after war with Germany was declared before an effective army could be fully equipped, and how in the event of another war the plans now being perfected will eliminate to a great extent, this time lost in speeding up the production of war materials to the necessary point. The lecture was illustrated with a number of specially prepared lantern slides of statistics collected by the War Department.

Accommodating

"I'm sorry that my engagements prevent my attending your charity concerts, but I shall be with you in spirit."

"Splendid! And where would you like to have your spirit to sit? I have tickets for half a dollar, a dollar, and two dollars."—The Drexard.

Can You Beat It?

Father—"Last night, I distinctly saw my daughter sitting on your lap. Can you explain it, sir?"

Fresh—"I was the first one there, sir."

Aw, Say!

Herrington—"I am just like an umpire about my girl."

Johnson—"How's that?"
Frankie—"I never believe she's safe when she's out." —Wildcat.

Busted, Too!

"Mrs. Clancy, yer child is tudyly spolt."

"Gawan wid yez."
"Well, if you don't believe it, come and look what the steam roller did to it." —Jester.

Really?

She (Disgusted)—"Why did you come to the game drunk? I should think that you would be ashamed and there is no reason either."

He—"Aw, yiss, m'dear, economic reasons, see two gamers for the price of one ticket."

Pipe Down

"Had your iron today?" said the thug, as he tapped the victim on the head with a bit of pipe.—Log.
