The LARGEST and BEST in the World!! 34 years experience has shown it to be not only the SAFEST but the CHEAPEST.

Its Income for 1876 was $20,014,260.34. Gain in Assets the past year $3,500,00.

Its receipts for INTEREST in 1876 was $400,000 more than its death losses. Its SECURITIES are BETTER, its DIVIDENDS LARGER, EX-PENSES SMALLER than any other Company. Many of its Policies have doubled in amount during the past 20 years, and the Cash dividends, in many cases are MORE THAN THE ANNUAL PREMIUM, these policies being self-sustaining.

No other Life Company in this Country, or the world, has fur-nished such results, there being no Stockholders TO CONSUME ITS EARNINGS, NO PREMIUM NOTES, no accumulating inter-est to pay.

The following are the results of Policies now in force at this Agency, and such are the actual and uniform results of insurance with this Company.—
It will be seen that all these Policies have more than doubled in amount.

DEAR SIR:-In an editorial in your paper nder date of August 31st, in referring to the under date of August 31st, in referring to the Congress Hall Convention, and those misguided though well-meaning men, there assembled and the principles there advocated, you seem not to have given the matter mature thought due a subject of such vast import.

You speak of the $400,000,000 limit as a point beyond which government cannot issue greenbacks, but the power that fixed that limit, at the time the treasury note bill became a law in We do not read anonymous etters and communi-ations. To the Editor of the Press:

limit, and that same power can increase it again. One Congress cannot enact laws which an other Congress has not the power to repeal.

The legal tender act you assume to be unconstitutional in time of peace, but let us see.

The Constitution of the United States says Congress shall have the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof. To coin, Webster defines, To make; To fabricate; To stamp convert into money.

The Constitution is silent as to the material from which money shall be coined, hence Congress alone has the power to determine what shall be the material of money; and in 1862 Congress did determine that paper as well as well as gole and silver should be the material of money; and in 1873 Congress determined that silver should not be the material of money in sums greater than five dollars.

But if it be constitutional, you claim it to be dishonest to use that power unless the notes were to be redeemed in the current money of the world. THE San Francisco Chinese intend to demand of the Government payment for losses sustained during the riot. Whether citizens or not they certainly have a right to claim some little protection from wanton violence.

I would like just here, Mr. Editor, to inquire, what the current money of the world is. Our gold money is not, India's silver money is not, England's gold and paper money are not the current money of the world.

Money is a national institution, and the crucial test of what is money, is, is it a legal tender. ELSEWHERE appears a communication from one of the most prominent Greenback men in Maine. Attention is invited to it and the editorial comments thereon. We believe that the fallacies of the Greenback advocates need only to be fairly met and exposed, to

There is no international law making a legal tender any particular kind of money, in all the nations of the world, hence I infer there is no nations of the world, hence I infer there is no such thing as a current money of the world.

When our gold dollars are received in a foreign country they are received as commodities, like bales of cotton or bushels of wheat, and cannot be used there as a tender for the payment of debts, any more than cotton or wheat.

As to the redemption of paper money, of course it should be redeemed in the same manner gold money is redeemed, in the commodities and property of the country, without such redemption all money would be useless, as money. CERTAIN theorists say that education is the great preventive of crime, but statistics show that lack of morals rather than of learning is the occasion of law breaking. There is still another influence for bad that deserves a more general recognition than it has gained. Idleness is a most potent ally of vice and crime. It is said that out of 180 penitentiary convicts in Pennsylvania 173 had

The statistics of other states would no doubt Were we to cease contracting the currency, preparatory to resumption in 1879, the depreciation in values would cease, then there would be an increasing demand for money which could not be supplied with the present volume, for the money could be invested in productive business, starting at once the wheels of industry, with an absolute certainty that the labor thus employed would have the means to buy, and consume, and thus create a demand for the product of labor, at prices remunerative both to capital and labor, but with further contraction of the currency, causing proportionately greater depreciation in values, which must necessarily be enforced to enable us to resume in 1879, staring us in the face, a wise man will not invest his own idle money, to say nothing about taking that of the banks at usury.

You think it unjust to force people to receive as mouey greenbacks, resting as they do on a naked promise to pay, assuming that they are not money, and ignoring the fact that the promise to pay which the greenback carries was placed there at the dictation of the money power, in order to deceive people, as it seems to have deceived you, into the belief that it only represents money, whereas it is money itself. What would be the sense in stamping Were we to cease contracting the currency, Some interesting statistics are furnished by the European press respecting the draining of the Zuyder Zee. A dam forty kilometres (twenty four and three-quarter miles) long, ifty metres broad at its base, and one and one half metres above the usual level of high water, is to be carried across the gulf. Upon this will be erected pumping engines capable of discharging 1,716,000,000 gallons a day. Estimating the average depth of the gulf at about four and one-half metres, it will take steady pumping for sixteen years to empty power, in order to deceive people, as it seems to have deceived you, into the belief that it only represents money, whereas it is money itself. What would be the sense in stamping upon a gold dollar a promise to pay when it is pay itself; and it is equally meaningless when printed on the paper dollar.

Our government debt is about $2,000,000,000, all resting on the same promise to pay, and that part of it which the government pays interest upon, whether that interest be gold or paper, is above par, while that which draws no interest is below par in gold.

Why this difference, when it all rests on the same promise to pay, on the same security? Simply because the government honors the former by paying promptly the interest, while the latter it dishonors by refusing to receive it for duties or imports. When government will honor its own notes the people will honor them, and paper and gold will have the same paying and purchasing power and little force will be required to oblige our impoverished producing classes to receive it. It requires but little force to induce people to take money in exchange for their products, while to induce them to take private notes on time, which notes must be exchanged for bank notes, on which interest must be paid, the force of necessity must be great, and this virtually is the only way bank notes get into circulation.

The test of money is not: Is it a legal tender? Governments can, unless restrained by their own laws, make anything a a legal tender; but they cannot make something out of nothing—that is a prerogative of the Almighty. They cannot give a value to carmething the discharged by the law of legal tender of discharging debts with money. The test of money is not exceed $150,000,000. It has pledged the faith of the nation that the issue of greenbacks should not exceed $150,000,000. It has pledged the faith of the nation that the issue of greenbacks should not exceed $150,000,000. Of course it can break that word. Any man can break his word and we call it dishonesty. What shall we call it when a nation breaks its word? ing met all demands is overflowing into other lands and bringing back in return the money which is to relieve the stringency of our markets. It appears from Mr. Young's report that for the last three years our imports were as follows: 1875-merchandise $533,055,436, specie $20,900,717; 1876-mersomething that has no value. They cannot chandise $460,741,000, specie $15,936,681; 1877—merchandise $451,307,549, specie $40,create values. The government stamp, the mark on a coin, is simply this: It certifies that 775,414. But it is evident that this does not give government a right to debase the coinage by certifying that to be a dollar which contains less than a dollar's worth of gold, for this would be to cheat the people; still less can it affix arbitrary denominations to things, as prices of birch-bark, or of paper, and command "The census of 1870 is a marvelous study, or rather, a study of marvelous things. That nothing has been gained by the stimulation of war and inflation, but much lost, we will find when the census reports of 1880 are in, for the them to be accepted, for this would be to authorize one citizen to swindle another. All that government does in coining is, for the general convenience, to declare the purity and cerwhen the census reports of 1880 are in, for the wealth of the country will be less than in 1870. Everything tends to show this, the shrinkage in values being so marked as to carry us below the point supposed to have been attained in 1870. The "development" of the country was so rapid between 1806 and 1870 that a decade or two was anticipated. We drew heavily upon the future, discounting drafts on posterity which suddenly turn up 'with accumulated interest.' tify the actual weight of a piece of metal, This declaration is not recognized in foreign trade; so our coin is not with foreign nations a legal tender, but it is money received all over the world at its value as ascertained by weight and assay. Gold is the current money of all the world, because it is the current commodity, the only commodity which is received every-How clearly is this shown to us when we compare the census returns of 1860 with those of 1880 and find that the wealth of the country doubled in that time (on paper and much by reason of paper) notwithstanding that two thousand millions of dollars in slave property counted in the figures of 1860 that did not count in 1870, and further, that at least two thousand millions of other property was wasted and destroyed by war in that decade. Yet getting rich all the time! Doubling the wealth of the country in ten years! where at all times in exchange for all other commodities, at a fixed value. It does not, and that is the reason, as our correspondent apparently learns for the first time. why our gold dollars are received as commodities in a foreign country, and why our paper dollars are not received there at all.

ting rich all the time! Doubling the wealth of the country in ten years!

Think of it a moment. If the United States should increase in wealth for fifty years as rapidly as between 11860 and 1870, we would be worth more than all the rest of the world combined; more than it would bring; if put up at auction on long time and easy payments. Is it possible for ithe United States, within the life of man, to accumulate more wealth than all the world has been able to accumulate since Noah landed from the ark? Yet this is precisely to the conclusion the census of 1870 leads. And that, too, when half the country was rayaged by war, and thousands of millions of dol-That money is a commodity is evident from its history. Let us consider that history as set forth by an eminent authority, Bonamy Price. It originated in the necessity of facilitating exchanges by finding some one commodity that men would take everywhere, at any time, in any amount, in exchange for any quantity of other commodities. No man above a savage supplies all his own wants; every one has recourse to fellow-men for procuring every article that he uses, except the aged by war, and thousands of millions of dol-lars in property wasted and destroyed. To such false conclusions does inflation and the attendant fever of speculation lead. Following these years of inflation, war, speculation, exvery few which he can make himself. How can he obtain these things made by others? Only by exchanging, by giving to others what he made for them, and receiving from others what they made for him. But for exchanging each party to it must desire to acquire the articles which the other offers, otherwise he will refuse to exchange. This dilemma might arise with every article needed. The i hatter migh find neither baker, nor butcher, nor shoemaker who was in want of a hat; direct barter would be impossible, and his trouble might be great. To overcome this difficulty—a difficulty which would have been fatal to civilization—money these years of inflation, war, speculation, extravagance, waste, premature development, excessive expansion of credit, financial kite-flying and stock gambling, drafts and posterity at a heavy discount, have come years of prostration, stagnation, business misery, bankruptcy, loss and ruin.

What a ridiculcus commentary on inflation is this: In the decade following [1860, which includes four years of disastrous and costly war, we double in wealth (on paner) and in the dewe double in wealth (on paper) and in the de-cade following 1870, with no war or great dis-aster, we seem destined to show a marked de-crease! This borrowing from posterity and stimulating the country too an abnormal pros-perity before its time, don't seem to pay in the long run." would have been fatal to civilization—money was invented; and it removes the obstacle perfectly. The action of money is to substitute report just as it was then written. And therefore Judge Field is very correct in saying that Judge Bradley did not at any time before, "read" to him an opinion.—Newark Advertiser.

double for single barter, and the difficulty is instantly conquered by it. The impediment to exchanging was that one of the exchangers did not want the article offered by the other; the solut on consisted in interposing a third article, for which each of the two articles might be separately bartered. Go and barter your hat for money, cried the shoemaker, then bring me that money, and the shoes shall be yours. In other words, the shoemaker demands money, and with it he selects for himself in any shop any article that he desires to obtain That is the action and essence of the use of money. A sale for money is thus half a transaction-the exchange is completed only when the shoemaker has obtained with the hatter's money at his own choice one of those commodities which was his motive for engaging in the manufacture of shoes.

The first point to be noticed in this transac tion is that the seller must feel sure that all other tradesmen will consent to do exactly the same thing that he has done-will give him their goods for money as readily as he gave away his shoes for it. Now this assurance can rest only on voluntary agreement, for no law commands traders to sell for money. What is the foundation of this voluntary agreement to take money? A seller cannot part with his property in exchange for money which is useess to him, unless it furnishes him with a guarantee that in the end he shall procure by its means as much property as he gave away. How does money supply him with such a guarantee? By the value of the metal, as a commodity, in the metal market, of which the money, the coin, is composed. The coin places in the hands of the shoemaker a portion of metal which is worth to a goldsmith as much as a pair of shoes to the shoemaker. The one function of the tool of exchange is to give a seller a guarantee, a thoroughly trustworthy security, that he shall get by a second purchase all that he gave away on the first. This is as truly, as essentially, the work of money as to cut is the work of a knife. This work is performed by giving value for value, and it is precisely because he gets value for value that a seller parts with his property without hesitation. He knows that the same feeling will act on every other trader; with metallic currency every one has a complete assurance that he gets in mousy a commodity worth that which ne is selling. The convenience of having a common tool to serve as a medium of exchange is overwhelming; every shop-keeper will take the coin, because everyone in succession is exchanging equal property for property. It is the value of the gold in the metal market which enables the tool of exchange to command equal goods in every shop. That money is a commodity, and acts by virtue of being a commodity, was clearly perceived by Aristotle. "Men agreed," he remarks, "for exchanging to give and take one of the useful things," that is a commodity, and consequently a commodity has ever been the instrument of buying, the tool of exchange. In one country furs, in ancient times cattle, sometimes rock-salt, at this day, amongst the Tartars, small cubes of compressed tea; most frequently some metal. Aristotle's dictum is abundantly verified by our correspondent; for American eagles which foreigners have purchased with their goods are constantly melted down into ingots-a proceeding which could not possibly take place if stamped eagles were worth more than the gold it contains. It is the intrinsic value of the metal, its cost as a commodity which does all the work of a coin. The Mint, by coining eagles, does not assign to them their value. It imposes a stamp to give information; to make known on the word of the government, that the coined eagle is made of standard gold, and possesses in full the prescribed weight. In the words, again, of Aristotle, "impressing a stamp on the money, to relieve men of the trouble of measuring it." As a later authority has phrased it, "to save every man the trouble of carrying about with him a bottle of acid and a pair of scales." Nothing can be more obvious than this fact. Now a bank-note or a Treasury note is not money; on the contrary, it is only a promise to pay money, and differs from other promises to pay in that it bears no interest and the holder has no security in his own hands. If a man has in his pocket a twenty dollar gold piece he has actually in his possession that much valueers is based; namely, that money is not a com-But if he has in his pocket a twenty dollar modity and that any material which a governgreenback he has only a certificate that the government has or has had his twenty dollars, in gold or labor, or the products of labor, and will repay him. He takes the note because he trusts the government. As a matter of convenience he may prefer this certificate, this evi" dence of indebtedness, to the double eagle; but as every man has a right to his property at all times it is clear that the government should give the man his money whenever he presents his note. If, because of convenience of carriage and concealment the government creditor prefers to retain the note, well and good; but he should have his money for it whenever he asks. That condition of affairs between government and its creditors is resumption, and that, and that only, is what the advocates of specie payments are endeavoring to bring about As our correspondent says: "When government will honor its own notes the people will honor them, and paper and rold will have the same

E. L. Davenport. E. L. Davenport, the famous tragedian, died at Canton, Penn., Saturday forenoon at the age of 61 years. He was the son of a hotel keeper and was born in Boston. His first appearance on the stage was made in Providence in 1836, when he played the minor part of Passion Will in the play of "A New Way to Pay Oid Debts," the elder Booth and the then celebrated David Ingersoil playing the principal parts. In 1843 Mr. Davenport made a hit as the Yankee, Jedediah, in the play of the "Iron Son of '76." He made his first appearance in New York at the Bowery Theatre, and subsequently was very successful in the part of Count Montalban in the Honeymoon. In 1847, with Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt Ritchie, he made a tour through England, when he played Claude Melnotte and became a great favorite. At the conclusion of this engagement he played second to Macready and did his work so well that on the night of Macready's farewell the great English actor, in a speech before the curtain, said he looked upon Mr. Davenport as the rising tragedian of the day and hoped that he might be his successor. The character of William in "Black-Eyed Susan" was another in which Mr. Davenport made a great hit while abroad. He also played Hamlet, Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing" and Armand Duval. While in London he married Mrs. Vining, an actress of considerable ment, who afterward appeared with her husband in leading fermale parts in keeper and was born in Boston. His first in London he married Mrs. Vining, an actress of considerable merit, who afterward appeared with her husband in leading female parts in this country, making her first appearance as Desdemona to her husband's Othello in New York. For many months Mr. Davenport travelled through the country with Forrest, playing second to that famous tragedian. Nearly twenty years ago Mr. Davenport associated himself with Mr. J. W. Wallack, forming what was then known as the Wallack-Davenport Combination, which did a fine business throughout the country. For the past three or four years he managed the Chestnut street Theatre in Philadelphia. He played Brutus to Barrett's Cassius in the famous Julius Cæsar Combination, in which he appeared in this city. His last appearance here was in Daniel Druce at Music Hall last winter.

The Facts About Justice Bradley. It is just as well that the full fact should be known as a matter of history. Judge Bradley had already decided in the Florida case that he could not go behind the returns of the state officials. In the Louisiana case he finally, and officials. In the Louisiana case he finally, and after anxious thought, held to the same opinion, but of two sets of returns he chose the one he thought most authentic and legal. That elected Hayes. As to the doubt whether Judge Bradley could have prepared a written opinion on eside while he was expressing different opinions or ally on the other, the facts are opinions orally on the other, the facts are worth telling, and we dare assert them without any other authorization than our challenge, that they cannot be contradicted. The morning before the opinion was given Senator Edmunds had guessed out Judge Bradley's decision, but he did not know it. Up to that

Our little village has |during the past week seen called upon to record two very sad and fatal casualties. Tuesday night, 21st inst., a bright and intelligent lad of eleven years died after a brief illness, and with symptoms that indicated foul play. Close upon this sad event came the report that one of our most highly espected young men had deliberately committed suicide. The circumstances which led to the first are about as follows: The family of Deputy Sheriff Joseph L.

The family of Deputy Sheriff Joseph L. Hall (blacksmith) consisted of himself and wife, a daughter, aged about 15, and the boy Zenas, aged 11. Mrs. Hall has twice been at the Insane Hospital at Augusta, but for some the Insane Hospital at Augusta, but for some the Insane Hospital at Augusta, but for some few years has been at home, showing only occasional symptoms of insanity. In her rational moods she had requested friends and neighbors to see that she did not do harm to her chiidren, to whom she was ever a kind mother when same Her only appropriate the postmaster, who was also charman of a state committee. The postmaster was informed that the performance of the merely administrative duty of calling a convention to order and handing it over to its officers, was not a violation of the President's order. Cornell's friends say that he will retire from active politics as soon as the state convention is organized. mother, when sane. Her only symptom of insanity was manifested in her determination to kill her boy and girl. She has made many unsuccessful attempts to procure poison. At one time she attempted to drown her boy by holding him in a hogshead of water which she had filled for this purpose. The boy overpowered her this time and escaped. At another time she gave both children bed-bng poison, and another blue vitriol. Recently she gathered all the poisoned fly paper she could procure, and steeping it, hid it away till the desired opportunity should offer itself. Some two weeks since Zenas was taken sick from the effects of eating green apples, etc., the desired opportunity should effer itself. Some two weeks since Zenas was taken sick from the effects of eating green apples, etc., and passed into typhoid fever and congestion of the brain, with other symptoms which the attending physician could not c mprehend. After the boy's death, poison being hinted at, a council of physicians assembled the morning of the funeral to make a post mortem examination. Not the slightest is uspicion had entered the father's mind up to this time. The mother, finding her secret would be obtained, went to a neighbor and confessed the deed.

The funeral occurred in the afternoon, largely attended, after which the mother was taken a few miles away to the home of a friend, and will probably soon be returned to the hospital. Her only regret is that her attempt at the same time to poison the girl did not succeed.

At early uoon Tuesday Marshall Powers, son of Adison Powers, deliberately went across the yard and into his father's workshop, and with a gun shot himself through the forehead. His age was 23. He had been suffering from a sore foot, from effects of scarlet fever, and was probably discouraged. He had recently been studying medicine, and was a very promising and upright young man.

ably discouraged. He had recently been studying medicine, and was a very promising and upright young man.

In June the barn of George Watson of letter F, was burned, with goods of John F. Emmons. Loss $1200; no insurance. Recently, circumstances led to the arrest of one Henry McDougall and Charles Bolstridge, for complicity in the affair. The evidence warranted the holding of the former but the latter was discharged. Next day McDougall turned state's evidence and accused Bolstridge of paying him $50 to burn the barn, which he did. He also paid one Boulier a like sum to assist McD., and Boulier escaped across the line into New Brunswick. Bolstridge is a young man of means and took this course to revenge himself on Watson for breaking a match between Bolstridge and Watson's daughter. It is also in evidence that Bolstridge had offered $50 more to McD. to burn Watson's new barn when finished. Mr. B. awaits the September session of the S. J. Court to sanction his right to board at the expense of the state.

The Turco-Russian War.

THE BULGARIAN CAMPAIGN. Review of the Situation LONDON, Sept. 1.—The week closes favorably for the Turkish stronghold, the whole theatre of war. As regards Shipke, although Suleiman Pasha has not succeeded in driving out the garrison, he has almost completely blockaded it. The latest Russian bulletin almost admittale is master of the situation for the time, as it says the Russians are jurgarnt whether ha is says the Russians are jurgarnt whether ha is says the Russians are ignorant whether he is about to retire and renew the assault or attempt turning movements. It is therefore apparent he has the choice of action, and from the fact that he has pushed a reconnoisance to Keckdagatoch, which is on the northern slope of the Balkans, he seems to have chosen a turning movement. The reconnoisance was probably only made by a small body.

The Russian positions in the Pass block the road through it which is practicable for the heavy material of the main army. Mehemet Ali's advance from the eastward possesses great importance, in view of the fact that the says the Russians are ignorant whether he is great importance, in view of the fact that the Russian position at Tirnova, which is supposed to be the object of the Turkish movement, is to be the object of the Turkish movement, is comparatively open to an attack from the east by a road leading from Bebrova and Elena, which detaches into the Tirnova and Drenova road, ten miles south of Tirnova, whereas Suleiman Pasba, even if he finally cleared Shipka, would still be obliged to advance through a complicated series of defiles.

Before Mehemet Ali can advance in the direction of Tirnova it seems he would have to clear the Russians from their position at Pokai, from which they could threaten his flanks.

THE GREAT EXHIBITION. Full List of Entries at the Park-Arrangement of Articles at the Hall.

Nothing but bad weather can prevent a most uccessful exhibition of the New England Agricultural Society in this city this week. The animals for the Park and the articles for the hall have been entered and many of them are now in their places. If there is a good show there is no doubt but what the crowd will come. Col. Needham telegraphs from Boston that "all Massachusetts is coming." A despatch from the Vermont Central Railroad Com: pany says that au excursion of 2000 people will come over that road on Wednesday. Every man who has arrived so far from the several parts of the state report much interest manifested in the exhibition and a generally expressed desire to attend.

The question of accommodation for such an immense multitude was at one time a troublesome matter, but thanks to Secretary Wasson it is now solved and in all probability all will find lodging by applying to Mr. P. H. Ingalls at the Secretary's office. He has a long list of persons who wish to take a few boarders or lodgers. The hotels are doing their utmost to obtain lodgings for their regular customers. The Preble House has engaged about fifty lodging rooms outside of the hotel, while a large number of cots will be placed through the house. Other hotels are doing the same thing. The hotels can all feed twice as many as they can lodge.

The exhibition does not open until to-morrow when there will be the address of welcome by President Brown of the State Agricultural Society, and the opening address by President George B. Loring of the New England Society. Today will be devoted to arranging the stock at the Park and the articles in the hall. In the afternoon at 3.30 o'clock Norman Taylor, the Vermont pedestrian, will attempt the feat of running five miles in 29 minutes, accompanied by a trotting horse. Mr. Taylor is a man about 47 years of age and weighs 135 pounds. He first appeared as a pedestrian on his 421 birthday, on which occasion he ran 161 miles in 2 hours and 20 minutes, crossing the Green Mountains from Plymouth Union to Rutland, a difficult feat. In August, 1876, he ran ten miles at Springfield, Vt., in 62 minutes, 30 seconds, with the thermometer at 87 degrees, October 2d, he ran 12 miles at Woodstock in 1 hour, 11 minutes and 33 seconds. Oct. 5th, he ran 3 miles in 16 minutes and 52 seconds. Oct. 11th, at Hanover, N. H., he ran 10 miles in 58 minutes and 55 seconds. Oct. 28th, at Springfield, Mass., in the series of Amherst College sports, he ran 5 miles in 28 minutes, 13 seconds, and on Nov. 2d, at Tufts College, he made the same distance in 28 minutes. The present year he has made running exhibitions at Beacon Park in May last, 3 miles in 16 minutes, 40 seconds; and on Miss von Hillern's track at Lowell, 10 miles in 65 minutes, 25 seconds, on an 18 rod track. His longest race was at Glen Mitchell, Saratoga, when he ran forty times around a half-mile track in 2 hours, 20 minutes and 14 seconds, without a second's stop. The first ! miles was made in less that 30 minutes.

The official prog ramme will be published in the Press and Argus on the morning of each day. There will be no Fair papers issued several hours after the morning papers and containing about half as much information, at a great expense to the Society. The PRESS will be for sale on the grounds each morning at the opening of the Park, containing full reports of the proceedings of the previous day and the official programme of the next

There is already some of the finest blooded stock in the country on the Park and much more will arrive to-day. Secretary Wasson estimates that less than 70 per cent. of the stock has arrived. Of the fine cattle which arrived Saturday was noticed a herd of nine Herefords, entered by B. B. Hawes of South noon to nominate representative candidates.

A party of 500 persons with two bands came up from the Kennebec Valley Saturday morning and went down to the islands on the Chase Houghton. Among the party was a woman 7 feet in height, weighing 300 pounds and she wasn't very flesby either.

Healey of Stratham, N.H., fill the large tent, 100 feet by 20, and it i probably the largest; and best, collection of coultry ever exhibited at a New England fair. There are 200 varieties. Col. Mattocks has about 25 hogs and half as many Cotswold > sheep on the grounds. The agricultural tent is up and has its colors flying, but it has been found necessary to put up two more to accommodate the agricultural implements. The tent for the President's headquarters has been pitched and is ready for occupancy.

Hon, Fred, Atwood of Winterport has arrived with two car loads of implements and has his tent up to receive them. Among the fine horses which have already arrived we notice Kitty Morris, Coupon, Shamrock, Tom B. Patchen, Knox, Boy, Black Pilot, Phil Sheridan, Somerset Knox, Black Diamond, Ayer, Black Rose, Dion, Dr. Franklin, Emery Fearnaught, Royal Knox, Sultan Knox, Dexter, Sir Dahlgren, Joe Ripley, Dana Fearnaught, Blazo, Whalebone Knox, Col. Audy, Sir George, Plymouth Boy, Lon Morris, and many others.

It is a remarkable fact that of all the exhibitors who have yet arrived, not a single one has found fault with the accommodation furnished, but on the contrary, they nearly all take pains to express their approbation. With the arrangements in such good hands nothing else was to be expected.

CITY HALL. The scene at City Hall all day Saturday was very exciting, but with all the rush and hurry there was not the least confusion. Mr. Height laid his plans well and they are being equally as well carried out under his direction by his and it is but little work to designate them to the exhibitors who at once proceed to occupy them. As the articles are not near all in place as yet it would be useless to give an idea of the arrangement in detail until it is complete. The main hall probably never was so well fitted up for an exhibition. The galleries are hung with bright colored robes manufactured by the Sanford mills, and the effect is very pleasing. The fine furniture on the one side and the farcy work by the ladies on the other is to make a walk through this part of the hall very pleasant. The left hand gallery is connected with the art gallery in the Senate chamber by stairs direct. This will be a great convenience and save many steps. Mr. Hale has done his ut most to make his art gallery a success. The collection includes works by Sontag, De Haas, Baird, Stanwood, Norton, William Williard, Harry Brown, Geo. Inness, H. Young and others. Baird's landscape is the finest and most valuable picture in the collection, and is worth $2000; De Haas has a grand marine, valued at $1500; Williard's portrait of Lincoln, the finest ever painted, valued at $1000, and two of Sontag's, $600 and $800 each, are the most valnable prices. The floral table across the main hall will add greatly to the general appearance. In the cen-

To-morrow the hall entries will be given. Amusements for Fair Week. Both of our theatres are to be open for the amusement of those who visit the Fair this week. Mr. John Stetson of the Globe and Howard theatres, Boston, has provided a fine bill at Music Hall. The amusing comedy of "Joshua Whticomba" will be produced, with Den Thompson, who achieved great success in Boston, as the star, supported by an excellent ompany. The extravaganza of "Cinderilla," will also be given, embracing a strong | array or variety artists, among whom are George Fortescue, Maude Branscombe, L'zz'e Kelsey, John Wilson and Virgie Jackson. This programme cannot fail to fill the house every night, especially when people find out what a cozy place Music Hall now is. Saturday evening representatives of the preswith other gentlemen interested in theatrical matters, were invited by Mr. Thaxter, the lessee, to visit the hall and inspect the improvements, which are very marked indeed. The whole interior presents a new face. The walls and gallery are handsomely painted in colors, and the chairs have also received several coats. Ten whole sets of scenery have been painted by Lowe and Curtis, and now Music Hall can

Temperance Meeting at Martha's Grove

The c'osing meeting at Martha's Grove was held at the Cornish chapel Friday evening, and although it rained heavily all the evening, the chapel was crowded, and it was one of the most interesting meetings held on the ground. In our report of the afternoon meeting we omitted to note that Capt. Sturdivant was present and spoke about five minutes in his usual effective style. Also Mr. Swan, president of the Brownfield Reform Club, made a short speech, in which he stated that a great temperance refor and short addresses by a large number of persons-many of them residents of Fryeburg and vicinity. Among them were Franklin Shirley J. Ed. Osgood and others, who spoke of re newed interest in the temperance cause, and of the good influence of the meeting. Mrs. Fitzgerald made a very forcible and telling speech against the use of cider, claim_ ing that it was in a great many cases the entering wedge of intemperance; and that very many good men and women hold aloof from the temperance cause simply for the reason they are unwilling to give up,-perhaps half dozen glasses of cider during the year. Mrs. F. is a very efficient worker and has strong sympathy and words of encouragement for the reformed boys that has won for her almost a mother's place in their hearts. The a series of temperance meetings, we think the most interesting ever held in Western Oxford. Ex-Gov. Perham has been present at nearly all the meetings and his earnest words of counsel and persuasive eloquence will long be remembered. Rev. O. M. Cousins, under whose management the meetings have been held, has been indefatigable in his efforts and may justly congratulate himself that he has made the meeting a grand success, the good results of which cannot now be estimated.

Seventh Day Adventists,

The latter part of Friday afternoon was spent in preparing for the Sabbath, which these people begin, according to the Bible, reckoning at sunset Friday night. As the sun sunk in the west, sweet strains of harmony drew the people to the grove to welcome in the Sabbath. An inspiring song of praise was sung and "al knelt in the attitude of prayer, and then the hymn, sincere in its melody, went up to God." To a thoughtful soul the scene was deeply impressive. WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY. FROM R. FELLOWS, M. D., of HILL, N. H.

"I have made use of this preparation for several years, and it has proved to be very reliable and efficacious in the treatment of severe and long standing Coughs. I know of one patient, now in comfortable health, who has taken this remedy, and who but for its use, I consider would not now be living, WISTAR'S BALSAM WILD CHERRY.

FROM E. T. QUIMBY, A. M., PRINCIPAL OF THE "NEW IPSWICH (N. H.) APPLETON ACADEMY. "For more than fifteen years I have used DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for Coughs, Colds, and Sore Throat, to which I in common with the rest or mankind, am subject; and it gives me pleasure to say that I consider it the very best remedy with which I am acquainted," WISTAR'S BALSAM 0F

Reuben Higgins as being opposed to free high schools, and cautioning the voters of Cumberland county with regard to voting for him for Senator, as one who will certainly endeavor to have the Free High School law repealed. Mr-Higgins is not opposed to free high schools, and never proposed or thought of making any effort to have that act repealed if elected to the state Senate. The Argus' guerrilla correspondent, C. E. H. S, had better keep his poisoned arrows for some other purpose than to attack on who has always been in favor of education. It the Legislature of 1850 he labored hard for th

ment of a High School in Cape Elizabeth. He has his idea as to the purpose and manner of running a high school, and has a right to his opinion, as every other man has. He has no pets, but when he sees the collector's list of advertised taxes, he is reminded that there are other interests that demand his sympathy and favorable consideration as well as the free high school.

The opinion seems to be s universal that bright sunny weather is indispensible for sittings in the studio, that I deem it my duty to call attention to the fact that ordinary cloudy weather is much preferable, except, perhaps for small children. Though the sittings may be made a trifle longer, the sitter finds it much less difficult to retain the proper expression, the lights and shades blend more harmoniously, the delicate half-tints are not destroyed and the result is usually much more favorable. Believing that a "word to the wise is sufficient." I trust that a larger potion of my patrons may favor me with their presence in cloudy weather.

What the Liver Pad is Doing in New England.

RECENT TESTIMONIALS, An Invalid for 30 Years Restored to Health, at the age of 71. REMARKABLE BUT TRUE.

BOSTON, MASS, July 27, 1877.

HOLMAN LIVER PAD Co.—Gentlemen.—This is my 71st birthday. I caunot let this anniversary pass, happy and blessed as I am with most unusual good health for one who has passed "three score years and ten," without adding my testimonial, and declaring for the benefit of others, the great good I have received from Heiman's Liver Pad and Plasters. For the last thirty years I have been an invalid, most of the time. Have had the best Physicians in Allopathy and Homœopathy to no purpose, except occasional, temporary relief. For three years I have been unable to cat a comfortable or nourishing meal, without resorting to some aid to digestion. One day, the first of May last, I was much surprised on receiving from my friend Dr. F. W. Walsh, then in charge of your Boston office, a Helman's Liver Pad and Plasters, with special directions for use. In forty-eight hours from the time of application, I could sit at my table and eat as hearty as any of my iamily, and feel no discomfiture therefrom. There are days when I feel as when I was twelve years old. I can walk one or more miles, and not feel tired in the least; and I will add that I ascribe all credit to the Pad, as I have taken no medicine of any kind since applying it. I feel to praise God daily for giving G. W. Holman the talent and power to make and apply such a wonderful discovery. I believe half of its medicinal power lies as yet undeveloped.

Yours respectfully.

ELIZABETH AYER KEYES,

ELIZABETH AYER KEYES, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. HOLMAN LIVER PAD CO.—Gentlemen: Some five weeks ago I purchased one of your Liver Pads or your agent, for my wife, she having been troubled with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for two years. She has been wearing the Pad Just five weeks, and it has done her more good than all the medicine she has ever taken. She can eat anything now that she wants without any trouble, and I would advise all that are troubled with Dyspepsia to try one as soon as they can as I think they are a sure cure for Dyspepsia. Yours

HOLMAN LIVER PAD Co .- Gents: A few weeks HOLMAN LIVER PAD Co.—Gents: A few weeks ago I was induced to purchase from your agent here, one of your Liver and Ague Pads for my wife, who has been greatly troubled with Liver Compiaint and Sick Headache, and I am happy to inform you that it works like a charm. It has at this writing been worn three weeks and there has not been a single complaint about the headache. I firmly believe the Pad is worth ten times the price you ask for it for headache alone.

Holman's Liver Pad works by absorption; is Nature's True Law. It is two-fold in its sections. Gives and Takes. No poisons are used in making it. It is a war against Nostrums. It is worn next the skin over the vitals, liver and stomach, in the hollow just below the breastbone.

It is now a well established fact, that health depends in no small degree upon It there are no sewers, or if they are neglected and out of order, epidemics will rage, and lives will be lost.

The whole system of Public Sewers and private drains must be in complete working order to secure the best results. Physicians estimate that at least one-half of certain fevers, blood and throat diseases can be prevented by perfect drainage. "The diseases of filth are the agents which pile figures upon the mortality tables." ject being admitted, it is natural to inquire which is the best kind of material to use for

Clearly, it should be that which is most durable and least likely to get out of order. It should not be one which is the best it ever will be when first made, but should grow stronger with age and use. Neither should the pipes depend for durability and strength on a thin external var-nish, but should be of fine dense material throughout: and such pipes are made by the Portland Cement Drain Pipe Company, of Hydraulic Cement. etc., and are as dura ble as the rocks. These pipes are also used for wells, and have peculiar advantages. They are readily sunk into quicksand by placing a man or boy inside to bail;out the water and sand Surface water, bugs and worms are excluded from wells so constructed. For Chimneys they take less room and are cheaper than bricks. Stone edging for garden walks, flower beds, and grave borders of this material are also in use and need only to be known to be best thing yet. They retain moisture and plants flourish in them. They do not nee painting, and do not rust; frost does not in-

Portland Cement Building Blocks are also coming into use. They are cheaper than cut stone, and as ornamental and durable if not more so.

THE

Union Lubricator

MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

The thoroughly tested Lubricator, for Steam and Street Cars, Paper, Rolling, Cotton and Woolen Mills, Sugar Refineries, Gas Works, Brick Yards, Dredging Machines, and for all Machinery with heavy bearings. Also for Carriages, Wagons, Carts, Drays, etc.

This Lubricator combines economy, durability, and perfect lubrication without friction, gnmming or running. The absence of all friction renders it an indispensable auxiliary for cooling journals and boxes on Steam Cars. The coldest weather has no effect on this Lubricator. It has been conceded by those that have thoroughly tested this article, that it is superior to any jubricator offered to the public, and that it is a saving of 30 to 50 per cent.

The Company manufactures three different grades, designed severally for Steam and Horse Cars. Machinery, Trucks, Drays, Carriages, &c., all of which secured by Letters Patent, granted 1876.

All goods guaranteed as represented and put up in convenient packages for the trade.

Orders addressed to the Union Lubricator Co., No. 6 Haymarket Square, Boston, or W. W. Whipple & Co., Agent, 21 Market Square, Portland, will be promptly attended to.
