OAKLAND UNIVERSITY WILLIAM BEAUMONT SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
PUBLICATION LIST
January - March 2019

We compile this bibliography to recognize the school's scholarly activity and to provide ease of access to the journal articles, published meeting abstracts, book chapters, books, and other works written by OUWB faculty, students and staff. We create the list by searching the institutional affiliation fields in PubMed, Scopus, Web of Science, EMBase, CINAHL, MedEd Portal, Google Scholar and Google Books. Because of search limitations, it does not represent an exhaustive collection of all published works by OUWB authors. If we inadvertently missed your publication, please email the citation to the Medical Library at medref@oukland.edu, and we will add it to the next quarter's list.

Click the "Full-Text" link to download the articles available through the OUWB Medical Library. If the full-text is not available, you may request a copy by clicking the "Request Form" link or calling us at 248-370-3772. If you would us to add you to the automatic distribution list to receive quarterly updates via email, or if you have any questions or comments, please contact David Stewart at davidstewart@oukland.edu.

Department of Internal Medicine

Catastrophic antiphospholipid syndrome (CAPS) is a rare but severe form of antiphospholipid syndrome (APS). The syndrome manifests itself as a rapidly progressive multiorgan failure that is believed to be caused by widespread micro-thrombosis. Seldom does bleeding comanifest with thrombosis. We present a patient with APS who presented with nausea, vomiting and fatigue, and rapidly progressed into multiorgan failure before being diagnosed with CAPS. The clinical course was complicated by an atraumatic intracranial haemorrhage which demanded discontinuation of anticoagulation. The patient was treated with high dose steroid, intravenous immunoglobulin, followed by weekly rituximab infusion. Although the trigger for CAPS was not obvious during her hospital stay, she was diagnosed with acute cytomegalovirus (CMV) infection soon after discharge. In this case report, we explore the differential diagnoses of CAPS, investigate the possibility of CMV infection as a potential trigger, present the therapeutic challenges of anticoagulation and discuss the emerging use of rituximab.

Purpose: To review and summarize the clinical features, presentations, diagnostic modalities, and management of ophthalmic manifestations of eosinophilic granulomatosis with polyangiitis (EGPA, formerly Churg-Strauss Syndrome). Methods: A systematic PubMed search of all English articles on EGPA with ophthalmic involvement was performed. Emphasis was placed on English-language articles, but any article with an abstract translated into English was also included. Only those cases that satisfied the American Rheumatology criteria (1990) for diagnosis were included. Data examined included epidemiology, pathogenesis, presentations, diagnostic modalities, and management. Results: There was a wide range in

PUBLICATION LIST BY DEPARTMENT
2018 Report

We compiled this bibliography to recognize the school's scholarly activity, including journal articles, published meeting abstracts, book chapters, books, and other works written by OUWB faculty, students, and staff. We created the list by searching the institutional affiliation fields in PubMed, Scopus, Web of Science, EMBase, CINAHL, MedEd Portal, and SpringerNet for all citations published in the 2018 calendar year. We then downloaded citations into an EndNote database, where we enhanced and reformatted them for this report. We also updated and supplemented our report with additional citations when the Beaumont Research Institute publishes its 2018 Report of Accomplishments. Because of search limitations, the report does not represent an exhaustive list of all published works by OUWB authors. If we inadvertently missed your publication, please email the citation to the Medical Library at medref@oukland.edu. For any questions, please call the Medical Library at (248) 370-3772.
