

Commitment to Magis: Going Beyond Our Walls

Laurie Hathman, MLS,
Library Director

Julia Vargas, MLA,
Director of Service Learning

Mandi Sonnenberg, Ed.D,
Assistant Professor of Education

Shared Mission, Separate Endeavors

Emerging Collaborations

Future opportunities

Library

- Supports students and faculty:
- information literacy
  - cloud collaboration
  - research consultation.
- Community outreach efforts
- Advance College Credit Program (ACCP)
  - other school-based groups.

Center for Service Learning

- Supports students and faculty:
- Service-learning courses
  - Co-curricular community service
  - Community engagement & outreach

Faculty

Reached out to academic supports units like the Center for Service Learning and Library as needed.

Relationship Building
(internal & external)

Community Outreach

Cooperative Academic Support

Establishing protocol to work with community groups to foster life long learning and “full growth of the person”

Incorporating Ignatian pedagogy in our efforts

- Context
- Experience
- Reflection
- Action
- Evaluation

Strengthening communication of efforts internally, i.e., administration and board of trustees

Magis – “More”

We are committed to excellence; therefore, we strive: To understand better ourselves and others as people loved by God. To seek greater knowledge of the academic, spiritual, and social disciplines. To give greater love, care, and compassion for our neighbor. To find more purposeful and effective ways to carry out our work.