GARDEN/GARDEN

vermiculture                      in a Tupperware box and a sustainable future              drag the lake where animals grow              in our lungs this is an introduction              to space-time wireless communications              a vine is now a six-second video              what wondrous planned space              has been made for us eating Little Caesar's Pizza              in a strip mall parking lot and a sustainable future              dirt paths circuit the plants              into the concrete recycling can happen              almost anywhere a plastic bucket              full of batteries and a sustainable future              their cells are my cells I can feel them in my              grafted/recycled lithium face              and a sustainable future it makes my womb tired              just thinking about it
