SENATE KILLS MERGER BILL

CONSOLIDATION LOSES IN THE SENATE.

HAVE ANOTHER PLAN

Senator Leighton Introduces Bill for Unification of Four Institutions
Under One Management—Would Eliminate All Useless Duplication.

The Whiteside bill, providing for the consolidation of the state institutions of higher education was defeated in the state senate Thursday morning, 18 to 12. The pleas of the senator from Kalispell for the bill did not affect the final result. Senator Whiteside offered many compromises in the hope of forcing the bill through. All failed. He said that the friends of consolidation would exclude the Normal school at Dillon from the merger. He said, too, that the provision calling for a commission of non-residents to select the site for the greater university would be eliminated.

Senators Selway, Dearborn and Abbott fought the bill.

Committee Adverse.

The bill had been referred to the committee on education. Senators Dearborn, Selway and Leighton signed the majority report, asking that the bill be not passed. The minority report was signed by Senators Stout and Duncan.

A motion to reconsider the vote was laid on the table.

The vote follows:

Ayes—Abbott, Boardman, Brownlee, Christopher, Dearborn, Donlan, Edwards, Galloway, Groff, Leary, Leighton, Minor, Muffy, Selway, Stephens, Survant, Taylor, Williams—18.

Noes—Ashbridge, Burlingame, Cato, Byrnes, Darroch, Duncan, George, Grande, Larson, O'Shea, Stout, Whiteside—12.

Unification Bill.

Following the defeat of the Whiteside bill, Senator Leighton introduced a bill known as the "unification bill." This bill provides that the four institutions remain at their present locations, but that they be unified into the University of Montana. This unified university is to be headed by a chancellor, chosen by the State Board of Education. Duplication of courses is to be eliminated. The author of the bill thinks his plan will be more economical and efficient than to combine the colleges at one place.

SENATE PASSES THE DIXON BILL.

The senate has passed Senator Dixon's bill setting aside 5 per cent of the amount annually received from timber sales on forest reserves for a forestry department in universities in forestry-reserve states, with the maximum amount fixed at $7,500 for any one institution.

Since the University of Montana is located in one of the largest forestry districts in the country she will realize at least $5,000 from this source each year.

PLAN NEW LEAGUE FOR ORATORICALS

Manager Geary of Oregon Would Have Northwest Conference League
Instead of Present Inter-state.

Montana has been dropped from Northwest oratory. The Inter-State Oratorical association, formed in 1909 by Montana, Oregon and Washington, has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Washington and Oregon to enter the proposed Northwest Conference Oratorical League, now being organized by Manager Geary of Oregon and Professor R. D. Hetzel of Oregon Agricultural College.

Montana Not Informed.

Montana has not yet received official notice of the dissolution of the Inter-State Oratorical League, nor has she received an invitation to enter the proposed association. All colleges of the northwest with the exception of Idaho, are included in the new association.

Manager Geary proposes to hold the first contest in March. The general plan of organization and government will be similar to that of the Middle-western Oratorical league, the biggest association of the kind in the country. The orations will be judged solely from their effect upon the audience.

Varsity Would Enter.

It is possible that Montana may be included in the new league. The question will be discussed by the executive committee of the associated students at the next meeting. If they decide that the University ought to be included the manager of oratory and debate will attempt to persuade Manager Geary and his colleagues that the presence of Montana at annual oratoricals will enliven those events immeasurably.

VARSTY WINS FROM AGGIES

FIGHT WINS FIRST GAME IN SEVEN YEARS.

THE SCORE IS 19 TO 16

Lighter Than Opponents Grizzly
Basketballers Triumph Over Touted
State Champions—Game a battle
From Start to Finish with Montana Leading.

One sentence will tell the gladdest tidings that ever smote the ears of a Montana student. The Montana Aggies, the touted state champions, were defeated in Montana gym Thursday night by the score of 19 to 16. It was the first basketball victory over the Aggies in seven years. This does not tell all though. The most satisfying thing about the game was that it effectually erased the sad memories of last winter's games. The football victories did not; they came as a matter of course, and the real pleasure in them was in the large scores.

The Fight Wins.

Montana fighting spirit wins. It was not superior team work nor better basket shooting; the Aggies had the science. But every Montana man was on the ball every minute, and from whistle to whistle he gave everything he had. No single man starred; they all starred. It was the same spirit that battered the pigskin over the Utah Aggies line, that held the heavy Utah varsity under the goal posts, that kept eleven sick and injured men together in the face of the Williamette juggernaut, that made it possible for five lighter men to beat the Aggies Thursday night.

Two New Men.

The Aggies lined up with two new men. Fluhr, the Helena high star, and Cottner had never played against Montana, but Hartman, Wilcomb and Hodgkiss were veterans of last season. Fluhr was hurt in the second half by running into a piano at the end of the hall. Wilcomb was taken out, and his place at center taken by Hodgkiss. Maddox replaced Hodgkiss at guard. Fluhr and Hartman were the best men for the Aggies and their individual work was the best on the floor.

The score was evenly balanced throughout the game. The largest lead was just before time when the varsity lead by five points. Four times the score was tied, the last tie was broken by a field goal, and from then on Montana's points, the points that won, were made on free throws. The number of field goals was the same for each team—6. The Aggies scored four times on nine free throws! The varsity made good seven out of eleven chances.

Summary of the Game.

Fluhr scored, Whisler fouled, Cottner failed on the free throw. Cummins scored, Wilcomb fouled, and Whisler threw the free one. Wilcomb, Fluhr and Wolfe scored in succession. Two Aggies fouled a varsity man and Whisler threw the gift shot. Another Aggie fouled and Whisler took another point. Wilcomb, Fluhr and Whisler scored. Hodgkiss fouled and Whisler salted down a point. Whisler fouled and Cottner threw his point. Wilcomb fouled twice in succession, Whisler threw one and missed one.

Whisler started the second half by fouling and Cottner added a point.

THE HIGGINS BILL IS FAVORED.

The Higgins bill, providing for a School of Forestry at the University was favorably reported by a house committee January 24, and will be up for consideration in the house soon.

Mr. Higgins was the father of the bill creating the Montana Law School two years ago.

With revenue from other sources practically assured the Forestry School will be on a substantial foundation if the Higgins bill does not fail to pass.

TO PRESIDENT CRAIGHEAD.

The attitude and the conduct of President Craighead in the campaign for a greater University may be no better described or tributed than by a quotation from that admirable poem of Kipling's on the ideal of manhood:

If you can keep your head, when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you trust your self when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
Or being lied about don't deal in lies,
If you can hear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools.—etc.

MISSOULA AND CONSOLIDATION.

As one state paper has said of the defeat of Senator Whiteside's bill for a greater university, "here endeth the first chapter."

The first chapter endeth, but the fight has just begun. The people of the state want the institutions consolidated. What the people want the people are going to get. Those who take a keen interest in education affairs only when their financial interests are concerned are not "the people." They are parasites.

To prove that the people of Missoula are not interested in the University except when they are threatened with its loss it is not necessary to point to the deficits of the varsity athletic games. It is not necessary to mention the roar that was not raised when the State Board of Examiners diverted the income of the University land grant to pay the interest on state bonds in 1908. It is not necessary to recall the protest of the Missoula Chamber of Commerce in 1910 when the examiners cut the appropriation from $296,000 to $103,000. The president of the University begged the chamber of commerce to protest. They roared—just like sick kittens. And when that same president was dismissed for "vague, intangible reasons" those same men purred with content. Nor need it be said that the president of the chamber of commerce and the former president, both business men, refuse to advertise in The Weekly Kaimin. It is not necessary to say that a few of the business men of the city are among the avowed "wolves" after the scalp of President Craighead because he promulgated the plan for consolidation. Nor is it necessary to say that Missoula, panegyrically the University city, in violation of the law, maintains a restricted district. It is not necessary to tell of the slim attendance at the Charter Day exercises.

It is not necessary to mention these things to prove that Missoula is not interested in the University. It is only necessary to mention the sneering attitude of the people toward the University and its students. That is enough to prove that the people are interested in the University only financially.

Nearly one-third of the students in the University are sons and daughters of Missoula residents. Missoula athletes are welcome to use the University gymnasium. The campus is transformed into a summer playground for Missoula children. The Assembly Hall is always ready for the free use of Philharmonic societies and amateur plays.

Still, Missoula is interested—only financially. How this may suggest the words of Wordsworth!

I've heard of hearts unkind, kind deeds

With coldness still returning;
Alas! the gratitude of men
Hath oftener left me mourning.

DANCE OR BASKETBALL?

When the students of the University put the new floor in the gymnasium four years ago by popular subscription they made the unwritten rule that no one should be allowed on the floor without rubber shoes, except at dances. They said, too, that no rosin should be put on the floor.

Perhaps in the flush of victory over the state college the students would not seek to reiterate the "no rosin" rule. The slippery floor makes fast basketball playing impossible. But when the proms come perhaps they will regret that they did not stop "gumming" the floor. Thirty men play basketball; the whole University dances. It is a question of that old principle "the greatest good for the greatest number." We cannot get along without dancing and we cannot get along without basketball, and a friendly reminder from the Executive Committee of the Associated Students that the floor should not be "gummed" will be received by the basketball men in like spirit.

Certainly the men who play on the floor without rubber shoes need not be reminded that they will ruin the floor for dancing if they persist in thoughtless violation of a just rule.

THE DEATH OF ORATORY.

For the first time in its history of the University, interest in oratory is lacking. Perhaps the reason for the lack of interest may be ascribed to the fact that the students this year have full control in all activities.

The University has won seven out of thirteen contests in the State Oratorical Association. Not to add to this record would be controversial to Montana spirit.

The University is going to try to be included in the new Northwest Conference Oratorical. She can get in this conference if the heretofore negligent manager of oratory will show his Montana spirit.

Oratory is an ancient art. He who possesses the golden tongue and the weight of facts and consistency may rule the world.

For the University to lack interest in oratory is to say that she is an uncultured student body.

Whatever kind of a factory Missoula may need she does not need a mud factory. She has the most efficient mud foundries in the country—quantity and slowness guaranteed.

Young people come to college to learn to think. Most of them spend their time trying to invent methods to avoid thinking. Few of them succeed in doing original work, even along that line.

Speaking of the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy, don't you think it is a hogish thing for Mr. Bacon's admirers' friends to claim that he wrote all those plays.

Sherman said war was hell. But Sherman was never through a varsity final exam week.

"Sleep, my little one, sleep." Yes, he does, when exams are over.

Now get busy, you loafer.

EFFICIENT MANAGER.

Peter E. Hansen, retiring as manager of The Kaimin, is conceded to be one of the most efficient and successful managers the paper has ever had. With little money other than that derived from advertising patronage to finance The Kaimin, Hansen's success has been admirable. He has not only "run the rag even with the boards"; he has added to the equipment in the offices of the paper.

Among university people Hansen is known as a conscientious worker; among the advertising patrons he is known as a "hustler." He is both. His connection with The Kaimin is not entirely severed, however, for he takes a place on the editorial staff.

A SACAJAWEA IN MODERNISM

Graduate Who "Equal Suffragized" Montana Honored by Her Admirers.

The most brilliant of the rallies held in every city in Montana Saturday night to celebrate the achievement of woman suffrage, was the banquet given at the Palace hotel by the Missoula County Central committee in honor of Miss Jeanette Rankin, '02. Other cities held street meetings, hall conferences and parlor rallies; Missoula, the home of the remarkable young leader demonstrated its joy by escorting her in state to the Palace cafe where almost 200 people had gathered to show their appreciation of her work.

"But I can only speak on street corners," said Miss Rankin, whimsically, when told that the people would want to hear her. "I could never address that great audience."

The fair young woman who went before the conventions last fall, alone, and unsupported except by her intense determination, is not really to be daunted, however by a gathering of men and women, who, whether they believe in her cause or not, most sincerely believe in her.

JEANETTE RANKIN, '02.

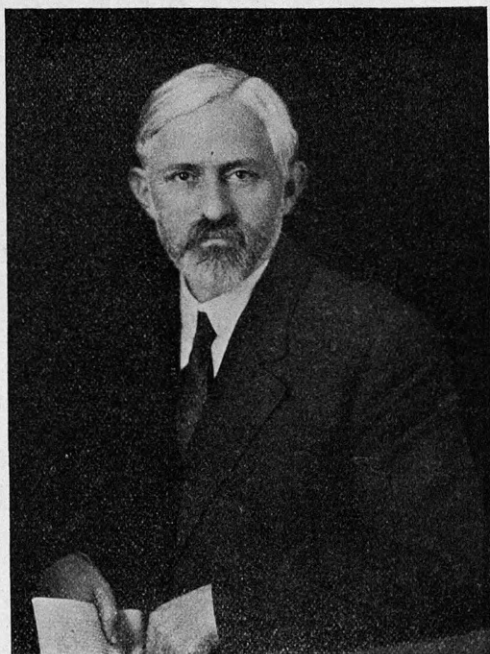

The dining room was not large enough to seat all who wished to be present. The decorations were in the suffragette yellow—yellow typifies the rising sun, and has been adopted by the suffragettes to symbolize the dawn of a greater democracy. An immense yellow satin banner inscribed "Votes for Women" was stretched across one end of the room, and a painting of Sacajawea on yellow satin decorated the other end. Sacajawea is the Montana emblem for equal suffrage. As W. J. McCormick wittily explained in his toast, "Sacajawea showed Lewis and Clark across the mountains, and Miss Sacajawea Rankin showed Lewis and Clark a few other things when she was down in Helena."

The tables were pretty with broad fern leaves and shaded candles and the place cards bore tiny banners and "Votes for Women" buttons. Rubber balloons bearing the same inscription floated among the palms.

Dean Stewart Presides.

Miss Mary Stewart, dean of women at the University and chairman of the county committee, acted as toastmistress. She looked strikingly distinguished in black velvet and black picture hat, and acquitted herself with a grace and charm peculiar to herself. Her introductory remarks, as she presented different speakers, were expressive of the appreciation due to most men and women who gave their encouragement and support when the cause was yet young and not yet popular. Her wit and sincerity characterized the speeches that followed. W. J. McCormick, Mrs. Tylar Thompson, Fred Angevine and A. L. Stone paid tribute to the young suffragette leader, and then Miss Stewart introduced

DOCTOR DUNIWAY INDUCTED INTO HIS NEW PRESIDENCY

PRESIDENT DUNIWAY, OF WYOMING

Representative educators from all parts of the west assembled at the University of Wyoming to witness the official inauguration of Dr. C. A. Duniway as president of that institution, January 24.

The exercises, which were unusually interesting and impressive, began at 10:45 and extended throughout the day. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., university was to have delivered the principal address of the day, but was detained in California by illness. The Hon. Timothy F. Burke, president of the board of trustees of the University of Wyoming, delivered the introductory address, after which followed the formal induction of Dr. Duniway into office. After the response by the president, some of the prominent educators present delivered addresses of congratulation.

On Modern Tendencies.

Dr. Duniway, in his inaugural address, spoke eloquently on modern tendencies of University education, dealing in particular with work of an out-reaching or extension nature. It will be remembered by those familiar with Dr. Duniway's work at the University of Montana, that it was his uppermost desire to have the University serve the greatest possible number of people in the state. This desire found realization in the establishment of a system of extension lectures and courses, which met with great public favor.

At the conclusion of the morning exercises all of the invited guests adjourned to the Normal School building and partook of luncheon, prepared and served by the department of home economics. After luncheon the university buildings were open to inspection.

Miss Rankin. In a short speech, full of warm affection and admiration, Miss Stewart told of the brave and persevering work by which this one woman has overcome all obstacles and brought Montana into the ranks of enlightened states.

Miss Rankin's Speech.

Nothing ever looked less militant than the dainty figure that rose blushing and smiling to greet her fellow citizens. Miss Rankin was intensely sweet and feminine in a cloudy creation of pale blue caught up with rose-buds, and the soft murmur of admiration that preceded the burst of applause was the tribute to her feminine charm that accompanies the admiration due her achievements. She spoke earnestly of the world movement for true democracy. Of her own part in the work she said little, but of the work itself, what has been done, and what still must be accomplished she spoke warmly. It was her farewell to Montana for a brief period.

Miss Rankin has recently been elected secretary of the national association—a singular honor for so young a woman, and is about to leave for the east, where she will take a prom-tion, student guides being provided to show the visitors about the various departments.

Lays Corner Stone.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the newly inaugurated president laid the corner stone of the new $100,000 agricultural building. Governor Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming delivered an address as did also Liberty H. Bailey, director of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

A reception was tendered to President and Mrs. C. A. Duniway by the University Faculty Women's club in the University auditorium at 4 o'clock. The ceremonies were closed at a formal dinner given by the university trustees in the gymnasium at 7 o'clock in the evening. This dinner was served to 300 guests in five courses and was prepared and served by the department of home economics.

Dean Ballantine, of the law school, Montana's representative at the inauguration, said upon his return from Laramie:

"Dr. Duniway enjoys his new work very much. He has a good university and is doing splendid service. The people of the state are very much pleased with their new president. I heard nothing but praise for his work."

They Favor Consolidation.

Dean Ballantine goes further to say that he heard a number of comments on Montana's plan for consolidation. "Wyoming has a consolidated university and the people of the state are enthusiastic in their comment upon Montana's plan. They believe consolidation to be the salvation of higher educational institutions."

inent part in the campaign in New York. She will manage Montana's representation in suffragette's parade in the inaugural ceremonies at Washington.

The University of Montana is proud of Miss Rankin. A graduate in the class of 1902, an earnest student for four years, and a firm friend of the institution during the subsequent years, Miss Jeanette Rankin's is a name that the University is proud to include in its records.

BALLANTINE TO MICHIGAN

Dean of Law School to Give Course in Contracts at Michigan University.

That the law school of the University of Montana has one of the best faculties in the west is a fact recently emphasized by an invitation from Dean Henry M. Bates of the law college of the University of Michigan, to Dean Henry W. Ballantine asking him to take charge of the course in contracts at the Michigan law college during the summer term of 1913.

Dean Ballantine announced his acceptance of the invitation a short time ago and will leave for Michigan soon after the close of this semester's work. The summer term of the University of Michigan begins June 23, and continues 10 weeks. Professor Ballantine will offer the same course in contracts at Michigan which he gives at Montana during the year.

The invitation from Dean Henry Bates is a recognition of the quality of the work done by the faculty of the University of Montana. Dean Ballantine is considered as one of the ten best authorities in law in the United States, and the request from the law department of Michigan only emphasizes his eminence, as a student of the law.

Dean Ballantine graduated from the Harvard school of law, practised for several years in San Francisco, where he became one of the most prominent lawyers, and from there came to the University of Montana.

Dean Ballantine will be the second lecturer Montana has had at the Michigan school of law. John B. Clayberg, dean emeritus, who is now a member of the San Francisco bar, is a lecturer at Michigan on mining and irrigation laws.

In former years, Dean McGovey of the Tulane school of law, has had charge of the course in contracts given at the University of Michigan law college, but this year he goes to the University of Chicago.

DEBATE TRY-OUT TO BE HELD FEB. 22.

Professor G. M. Palmer, debate coach, has received the statement of the question to be debated with Washington State College. Coach Palmer announces that the first try-out for the team will be held in the Assembly hall Tuesday, February 22.

The statement submitted by the Pullmanites is "Resolved, That a minimum wage scale to be operative in factories, workshops and department stores should be provided for by law. Constitutionality granted." Montana defends the negative of the question in the debate to be held here in April.

Coach Palmer expects to see some of the veterans and many of the freshmen appear for the team. Montana defeated W. S. C. twice in succession and the coach is anxious to make it three straight.

OBVIOUS.

Aunt Eliza came up the walk and said to her small nephew:

"Good morning, Willie, is your mother in?"

"Sure, she's in," replied Willie truculently. "D' you s'pose I'd be workin' in the garden on Saturday morning if she wasn't?"

THANE—LUCY WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Lucy and Shirley Thane, solemnized January 25 in the church of St. Francis Xavier, was one of the most brilliant and eagerly anticipated events of the social season in Missoula. The bride, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lucy, was born and reared in Missoula, attending the Sacred Heart academy and the University of Montana, loved and admired by a host of friends of her own age and those older. The groom is a successful young business man, who has won recognition and esteem during the few years that he has made his home in this city. Promptly at 8 o'clock Sister Donat of Sacred Heart academy played the wedding march from Lohengrin for the entrance of the bridal party into the church. In the procession to the altar the ushers, Charles Hayden and Allen Swift led the way. Then came the flower girl, Miss Marian Curran, daintily gowned in white with a pink sash and wearing a basket of pink and white sweet peas and made a fragrant path of flowers for those who came after her. Miss Abbie Lucy, sister of the bride walked next as maid of honor. Her gown was pale yellow charmeuse, veiled with yellow chiffon trimmed with yellow beads. The bridesmaids were Miss Isabel Roman, who wore a gown of pale green charmeuse trimmed with shadow lace and brilliants, with a border of fur, and Miss Edna Fox of Twin Bridges, whose gown was of lavender charmeuse, trimmed with shadow lace and brilliants. Each of the bridesmaids and the maid of honor had a chiffon cap in the same dainty color as her gown and each carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. Contrasting most beautifully with the pastel shades worn by her attendants, was the ivory white of the bride's gown, made of crepe meteor, trimmed with shadow lace. She wore a veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her father, John M. Lucy, went to the altar to give the bride away. Rev. Father Gilbert read the solemn marriage service and a male quartet sang "Ave Maria." Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the Lucy home on South Third street, where more than 150 friends called to offer congratulations and best wishes. The guests were received at the door by Matt Lucy and they were welcomed through the reception rooms by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lucy and Mr. and Mrs. Abbon Lucy. In the dining room Misses Jean Sloane, Cecile and Charline Johnson and Mildred Ingalls served choice refreshments from a table most daintily arranged with pink shaded candles and pink and white roses. The same pink and white colors were in the roses and carnations clustered against a background of ferns and palms through the other room. Mr. and Mrs. Thane left for a wedding journey to Seattle and other Pacific coast cities. They will be at home after March 1, in a charming bungalow on Stephens avenue.

SOCIETY

Athletic Ball.

The annual Athletic ball, given by the associated students of the university in the gym Tuesday evening, was a brilliant success. The gymnasium was transformed into the most alluring of ball rooms with its decorations of black and gold, cosy corners and a bower of yellow chrysanthemums in which punch was served. A splendid orchestra added greatly to the enthusiasm of the large number of students and town friends of the University who were in attendance. The patrons and patronesses of the affair who received the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keith, Professor and Mrs. Richter, Judge and Mrs. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, and Professor and Mrs. Scheuch.

Miss Kemp Hostess.

Miss Bernice Kemp was hostess at her charming home on Connell avenue, Tuesday afternoon, in compliment to the Misses Carrie and Jessie Wharton of Butte, who are guests of Miss Helen McLeod. The young ladies assembled for the pretty function were Misses Polleys, Coffee, Richardson, Power, Worden, Lockwood, Lucy, Fox, Avery, Hurlbut, Lombard, Berry, Johnson, Clarke, Roberts Tietjen, Elrod, Sloane, Gagnon, Ingalls, McLeod the guests of honor and the hostess. A game of bridge was played and daintily appointed refreshment trays served at its conclusion.

Iota Nu Dinner.

Sunday, January 26, a most delightful evening was spent at the Iota Nu house by several friends and members of the fraternity. At 6 o'clock a dinner splendid in every detail was served at a daintily appointed table. During the remainder of the evening several of the men of the fraternity entertained their guests with songs and piano selections. Those present were Misses Bernice Oldrich, Esther Birely, Bess Rhoades, Gladine Lewis, Rose Leopold, Sadie Stabern and Messrs. Burton Smead, DeWitt Warren, Carl Dickey, Herbert Kuphal, Pat Sheedy and Barclay Craighead.

Sophomore-Junior Sleigh Ride.

Saturday evening, January 25, the Sophomore and Junior classes decided to set an example of true class spirit and to break the monotony of the week end by a sleigh ride. A large bob sleigh left Craig hall at 8:30 loaded with an enthusiastic crowd of Sophs, Juniors and Frosh, chaperoned by Miss Oldrich. The party went directly to Bonner, where they danced until supper was served at a late hour. The return ride through town was greatly enlivened by the hearty welcome with which the roosters of Missoula greeted the party.

Studio Spread.

Thursday afternoon, the members of Miss Knowles' art class celebrated the close of the first semester with a spread in the studio. The members of the class provided a profusion of "good things to eat," which proved them artists in more than one sense of the word. The studio lent itself admirably to the spread idea, even the posing platform was of use. This, with a center piece of yellow snap dragons made an attractive table around which participants gathered. It was a most jolly and successful affair, which will probably become a feature of Miss Knowles' art classes in the future.

For Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mrs. John Lucy, Jr., has issued invitations for cards on Saturday afternoon in honor of Kappa Alpha Theta.

At Bridge.

Mrs. George Weisel entertained at bridge Tuesday evening, January 23, in honor of Misses Carrie and Jessie Wharton of Butte and Miss Edna Fox of Twin Bridges. The function was held in the beautiful Toole home on Gerald avenue. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. David Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Derge, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Freeze; Misses Carrie and Jessie Wharton, Edna Fox, Helen McLeod, Isabel Roman, Mildred Ingalls, Cecile and Charline Johnson, Abbie Lucy, Dorothea Lockwood, Ruth Worden, Eva Coffee, Gladine Lewis; Messrs. Fred Mason, Sidney Fernald, Fred Angevine, LaRue Smith, Massey McCullough, Charles Swineborne, Allen Swift, John McGough, Henry Turner, Walter McLeod, Roy Campbell, Paul Greenough, Lieutenants Phillion, Davis and Harding. Flower favors were given, red carnations to the men and pink to the girls. Clusters of flowers in the same shades were used for decorations.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA DANCE.

Legions of snow hurried into mad charge by a frigid wind from the mouth of Hell Gate canyon were powerless to prevent nearly 150 guests from enjoying the matinee dance given by Kappa Alpha Theta in the gymnasium Monday afternoon. All morning the wind beat the snow into drifts that stopped cars and upset taxicabs but the crowd came anyway. All afternoon the same wind spent part of its vigor fluttering streamers in Theta colors over the heads of the happy dancers.

It was the 43rd anniversary of the founding of Kappa Alpha Theta. The dance was a worthy commemoration of the event and in honor of the pledges Misses Alpha Buse, Isabel Gilbert, Donna McCall, Corrine McDonald and Gladys McCarthy, the guests danced.

Black and gold streamers hid the barniness of the gym. At one end of the room was a cozy corner fixed up in real "cosiness." At the other end was the punch booth decorated with flowers and ribbons.

The hostesses at the reception were Mmes. J. P. Rowe, A. W. Wilcox and the Misses Louise Smith, Gladys Freeze, Sadie Stabern, Bess Rhoades, Grace and Diana Uline, Stella Duncan, Grace Saner, Marguerite Bonner, Merle Kettlewell and Alice Hardenburgh.

Miss Coffee Hostess.

Miss Eva Coffee was hostess last Thursday afternoon at her home on South Fifth street in compliment to Misses Carrie and Jessie Wharton of Butte and Miss Edna Fox of Twin Bridges. Ten tables accommodated the guests for an enjoyable game of bridge, after which a daintily appointed tea was served by Miss Coffee with the assistance of Mrs. Hyde and Miss Gladine Lewis. The young ladies assembled in honor of the Misses Wharton and Fox were Mesdames M. J. Elrod, John Price, George Weisel, A. N. Whitlock, C. W. Donnally, Hugh Galusha, Hoover, Edgar Polleys, David Mason, Abbon Lucy, J. J. Lucy, Guerd Retan, Hugh Forbis, Gilbert Reinhard, Julius Derge, E. H. Freeze and the Misses Clarke, Leary, Serogan, Sloane, Cronk, Richardson, Kemp, Grace and Alice Matthewson, Lucy, Ross, Ingalls, Elrod, Avery, Tietjen, Hurlbut, Lewis, Birdsell, Cecile and Charline Johnson, McLeod, Polleys, Lockwood, Worden, Power, Murray, Roman and Lombard.

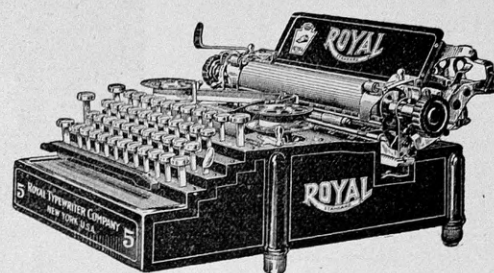

EVERYBODY NOT ABLE TO READ THIS BOOK.

L. P. Venen, formerly an instructor in Vashon college, somewhere in the orient, was a visitor at the library last week. Mr. Venen came to the University to see a copy of the "Old and New Testament" in the Armenian tongue.

Many years ago, when the University was in more struggling infancy than it is now, Mr. Venen gave the book to the University. Classes were held then in the building now known as the Willard school, near the Bitter Root tracks of the Northern Pacific. Doctor Craig was president of the University then. Mr. Venen remembers him very well.

The book was given to Mr. Venen by a professor who taught in Vashon college. The figures and characters in the work resemble a Chinese laundry bill with the "past due" sign on it.

UTAH FIVE IS HERE FEB. 13

Mormons Have One of the Fastest Teams in the West This Year.

Here is the big game of the season—Utah University in Missoula, February 13. Utah beat Montana in football by a lucky fluke and now the varsity has another chance to compare the standard of athletics in the two schools. A crowd twice as large as that which saw the Aggie game should be in the gym. The Mormons are there with the stuff and so is Montana.

A rally will be held probably on Wednesday night. The date will be announced certainly by the first of the week. A good rally is as helpful to a basketball five as it is to a football eleven, and now is a time when every student is needed.

The Utah five are on their northern trip, which embraces several games, including a meeting with the Aggies.

ONLY ONE TRACK MAN GOES UNDER LIMIT.

Track Captain Owsley has been busy the last few days inspecting his bunch of track men after the semester-end storm. He reports that only one man has been listed as ineligible. The rest came through in great style and "Punk" says it's now only a matter of keeping them up and watching their training.

Everything points to a remarkable track season. The veterans are all back and a large number of interscholastic point-winners will also be out. There are in addition two or three who have come from other parts of the country and whose reputations place them in the first class.

There will be the meet with the Aggies and probably one with W. S. C. Both Captain Owsley and Manager Weidman are anxious for another meet and if possible it will be arranged.

GRIZZLIES TO MEET WASHINGTON STATE.

Manager Armitage has received the contract for the long-deferred football game with W. S. C. It is signed by the Pullman representative and was passed by the executive committee of the A. S. U. M. yesterday. The game next fall will be played in Pullman on October 11, and the return game, also contracted for, in Missoula on October 10, 1914.

The last clause of the contract specifies a forfeit of $50 if either school cancels a date. In 1911 and last fall the game with W. S. C. was cancelled, the first time by the varsity and the second by the Washington college.

OLD ENGLISH LETTER FOR BASKETBALLERS.

The varsity basketball sweaters, earned in 1912, made their debut on the campus Monday. They are red, with a heavy roll collar. The varsity letter "M" is placed on the left hand side and is the old English style. The sweaters are heavy and of the best material to be had. The men are more than pleased with them, and are the most convincing argument that the sweaters are more than worth the hard work and knocks it took to get them. The honor roll was composed of Fred Whisler, Paul Gervais, Kenneth Wolfe, Pat McCarthy and Dan Connor. All these men, with the exception of Dan Connor, are back in the game this year.

Ah! Lovely appearance of soot. Maliciously smudgy and black, Not all the fierce scrubbing the co-ed can do, Will drive from the curtains its track.

FREE THROWS

Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight; turn on the heat again just for tonight; cut the street sprinkler afloat as of yore; wrap the north wind 'round our whiskers no more; warm up the bleachers with a soft, balmy breeze, the kind that we get in the spring if you please; let's have the campus all spoony and green; tie a can on the snowplow and the Boston baked bean; let's have some weather that's easy on toes; let us discard all these wintertime clothes; the poets call snow a soft feathery blanket, but I don't like to walk in the stuff, dash blank it; and where there ain't snow the sidewalk's so slick that often it rises and hits you a kick; this cold, chilly weather to health is a menace; you can take back your sleigh rides; I'd rather play tennis; Oh, again make it proper to wear B. V. D.'s; and let us have summer again if you please.

Pocohontas, Nathan Hale, Suspender Jack, Hendrickson, Isidore Whisler—heroes in a pinch.

If anyone had come on the campus Thursday and offered to bet 20 to 1 on the Aggies to win he would have been cast out as the most anemic sport that ever matched pennies. And it would not have been lack of patriotism for Montanans to keep their fountain pens and check books separated.

Right here is where we hand it to the S. E. of the Missoulian. He alone picked the winner and at the same time made the qualification concerning the Aggies defeat that now condemns them to the monicker "Aggies" forevermore.

And they never will be, they never will be Montana State College no more, It's not M. S. C. but Aggies they'll be 'Till we meet on the beautiful shore.

From where we sat none of the 10 men looked better than K. Wolfe. Last year he came on the floor directly from the pest house and his playing naturally savored of that resort. Thursday night, however, he was there with a come-back that would have made Jeffries a millionaire.

They burned not, neither did it flow. Yet we have a hunch that there was a little pile of combustibles all ready down in the Gallatin valley, and probably more.

On February 14 the varsity plays the return game with the Stevensville combination of old college stars. The varsity beat them in Stevensville but the Bitter Rooters have been working steadily since then and their improvement is reported to be as wonderful as that of the Montanans.

Thursday night's exhibition should surely draw a crowd for the 14th.

SIXTEEN MEN WILL BE GIVEN "M" SWEATERS.

If the recommendations of Coach Philoon and Captain Dornblaser are followed by the executive committee, 16 men will be given football sweaters this year. Of the following men Tom Busha was the only man who had not played in three halves of the regulation game, but in consideration of his hard and faithful work on the practice field and his excellent playing in the Gonzaga and Williamette games the team voted to give him a letter. Those recommended were:

R. H. Wiedmann, Merritt Owsley, Frank Gault, Ed Craighead, Leonard Daems, George Klebe, Clifford Day, Paul Dornblaser, Pat McCarthy, Burton Smead, Elizard Deschamps, E. Pat Kelly, Peter Ronan, Norman Streit, Lewis Hunt, Tom Busha.

"I'VE HAD A LOVELY TIME."

You sing a little song or two,
You have a little chat,
You make a little candy fudge
And then you take your hat.

You take her hand and say "good night"
As sweetly as you can,
Ain't that a hell of an evening
For a great big husky man?

VARSITY WINS FROM OLD MEN

Defeat Stevensville Collection of Old College Stars 29 to 8.

On February 17 the varsity basketball squad journeyed up the Bitter Root and defeated the Stevensville collection of old college stars 29 to 8. The game, however, was much better than the score would have it appear. The Stevensville squad is made up of men from Indiana, Wisconsin, Oberlin and other middle west universities, together with two from Lakeview high in Chicago and two or three from the high school. They have a good team but had been together but a short time before the game with the varsity.

Thirteen men made the trip. All were given a chance, and the game served its intended purpose of giving the coaches an opportunity of seeing the men under fire.

The Stevensville men have been practicing faithfully and have played several games since. They will be in Missoula next Saturday night and will no doubt keep the varsity hustling for the honors.

FAST BILLINGS TEAM WANTS GAME WITH "U."

Manager Armitage of the A. S. U. M. and Football Manager Klebe met with Physical Director Mustaine to discuss the schedule for the remainder of the season. The most important addition was the acceptance of the University of Utah for February 13.

A letter had been received from the "Triple B's," the crack independent team of Billings. They offered a game at Billings, but the date offered would necessitate playing the game on the same trip as the return game with the Aggies and was thought inadvisable. Their letter was answered and the proposal made that two games be played, one at Billings later in the season and one in Missoula, or if two games could not be played a date in Missoula could be made.

The Triple B's have already played the Aggies two games, breaking even with them. Last year they made a trip through the middle west with remarkable success. They have always been considered Montana's best team. Varsity and Missoula basketball fans in general will look forward to an opportunity to see this famous five in action.

Lack of Funds Prevents Extension Work in All But Engineering.

Owing to lack of funds the extension courses, which have been given for several years by the different departments of the University, are now limited to the School of Engineering. At present this work is being carried on in Helena and Livingston, but there are arrangements in progress for a course at the Northern Pacific shops in Missoula. This work, which is in drawing, includes autographic projections, development of surfaces and the making of drawings for simple machines. These courses are being given by Dean Richter and Professor Cunningham of the School of Engineering, and Mr. Inbush of the forestry department.

Much Interest.

A great deal of interest is being manifested by the students who are of all ages. The classes meet once a week—in Helena on Thursday and in Livingston on Friday. The men meet at 7:30 in the evening and work as long as they please, usually until about 11 o'clock. The professors are very enthusiastic over the interest shown.

Course in Electricity.

A course in electrical machinery is to be started in Helena, and Livingston in a few weeks by Professor Biegler. This work will include the study of the operation of the dynamo and the fundamental principles involved in the operation of the machine.

The University chapter is known as the Montana chapter. It is allowed to initiate debaters and orators in all the colleges of the state.

The members of Tau Kappa Alpha in the University now are Lucius Forbes, Edwin Stanley, Professor G. F. Reynolds, D. C. Warren, Carl Dickey and Harry Sewell.

fight the enemies of poor food from the platform. He was secured by the Redpath lyceum bureau, and from the platform of cities coast to coast, without being chained by governmental red tape, Dr. Wiley will carry his fight to the very firesides in the homes.

Dr. Wiley is a strong man, with a square, determined jaw, fearless black eyes and with a quaint and humorous style of delivering his lecture. He is over six feet in height, weight nearly 240 pounds and is 68 years of age.

Dr. Wiley has been greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences at every place he has appeared. He is original and every second is surprising his audience with some startling facts.

Dr. Wiley says that although many people possess more than $1,000,000, no one man is capable of earning that much, and no one deserves more than he earns. With this fact and truth as a basis for all his actions, Dr. Wiley is on the platform for the good and welfare of the common people. He is an enemy to the special interests, and as such has always been hindered by them. But now he is free to carry his fight as far as he desires.

Dr. Wiley will be at the Harnois theater Friday evening, and all students interested in the welfare of the country should be in the audience that faces him that evening.

MILLER TO ENTER HIS FATHER'S LAW OFFICE

R. Justin Miller, law, '14, left Tuesday morning for Palo Alto, Cal., where he will enter his father's law offices. He has completed the law course in the University. He will return in June to take his diploma.

Miller during his two years at the University has taken an active part in all student affairs. He was a member of the debate team that humbled Washington State College last year. As manager of the May day carnival Miller made that event one of the most notable in varsity history.

He served last semester on the executive committee of the associated students. During the fall he stumped the county for the Bull Moose ticket. He was president of the progressive organization in the University.

Miller was admitted to the bar last June. He conducted the moot court trials among the lawyers this fall. He was a graduate of Leland Stanford University.

ABER AROUSES THE ORATORS

Seven Promise to Contest in Buckley Oratorical
In March.

At a meeting called last Wednesday afternoon by Professor Aber, seven students signified their intention of going out for the annual Buckley oratorical contest. For a time the outlook for oratory was gloomy, but enough enthusiasm was stirred up by Professor Aber and Professor Reynolds to insure an interesting conflict when the time comes to choose an orator to represent the varsity in the state oratorical contest.

Contest in March.

The time for the contest was not definitely set, but in all probability will be held the last Wednesday in March, at least not earlier than the third Wednesday. This date was made in order to give the contestants ample time in which to prepare an oration, for it seems, nothing had been done in the way of preparation of subjects prior to the meeting called by Professor Aber. The time thus arranged for will give at least six weeks in which to prepare an oration.

Only One Tryout.

This year there will be only one tryout, the usual contests for the Buckley prize in oratory and for the selection of a representative in the state contest being combined in one. The reason for this change over last year's plan is that practically the same men go out for both contests thus eliminating any advantage of separate contests.

Inasmuch as the preparation of the orations will be a hard task, especially for freshmen, Professor Reynolds has offered to help any of the contestants who will come to him. He offered last fall, in connection with his advanced composition, a course in the writing of orations, but no one took advantage of it.

FIRE IN CRAIG HALL KITCHEN IS PUT OUT

A blaze that might have developed into a serious conflagration was discovered and extinguished by "Bill" Rogers in the kitchen of Craig hall Sunday night. "Bill," the cook at the hall, was making preparations for breakfast the following morning when he discovered that the fire in the stove had ignited the floor under the

NO CHANGE IN EDITORSHIP

Nine Students Enroll for Credit in Journalism
Under New Rule

Carl Dickey, '14, is to retain the editorship of The Weekly Kaimin for the remainder of the college year. In ignorance of the fact that the executive committee had retracted their acceptance of the resignation of Dickey at a previous meeting, George Armitage, manager of the associated students, presented the petition of LaRue Smith for the editorship at the last meeting of the committee. The committee by a vote of 6 to 1 voted to retain Dickey as editor.

By cutting down the requirement for credit in journalism Professor Reynolds, head of the department of English, has stimulated new interest in writing for the college paper. Under the new rule any student may secure one-half credit toward graduation by writing one column of reading matter for The Kaimin each week. In addition the student is required to read a book on journalism.

The Kaimin will now be edited and written almost entirely by those students enrolled for credit in journalism. Those who have enrolled are G. O. Baxter, Lewis Hunt, E. J. Stanley, Peter E. Hanson, Lucius E. Forbes, John Schroeder, Carl Dickey, Leonard Deems and Bernice Selfridge.

The new constitution of the associated students will provide that no man may edit The Kaimin who has not had previous experience either on the staff of The Kaimin or some other paper. This means that journalism in the University will be placed upon a substantial foundation, and will insure the students at all times a creditable Kaimin.

stove. The fire was easily put out with the small hose always kept ready for such exigencies.

The wooden floor was ripped out Monday and a brick one put in.

It is fortunate that the fire was discovered in its incipient stage. A blizzard was raging that night and a fire once well started could be extinguished only with difficulty.
