Foresters Prepare for Annual Ball

Preparations are under way for the annual Forester's ball, Feb. 6 and 7, according to Chief Push Don Schofield, Missoula.

A crew went out Sunday to obtain cedar boughs for the decorations. The cutting and hauling of Douglas fir trees will get into full swing over the Thanksgiving week end. Every member of the Forestry club will help in some way with decorations, Schofield said.

Commenting on the ball, Schofield said, "With the large present enrollment of the Forestry school and the fine spirit exhibited at Forestry club functions, this year's ball is going to be the biggest and best of the many excellent performances which have been put on in the last 31 years."

South America Will Be Subject Of Sound Films

Two sound films on Latin America will be presented tomorrow at 8 p.m., by the Spanish club, in the Journalism auditorium, according to Pres. Douglas Sheppard, Chinook.

The first film, "Our Neighbors Down the Road," depicts an automobile tour along the Pan American highway from Venezuela to southern Chile.

The second film, "The Bridge," shows the importance of air transportation in the development of the South American countries.

No admission will be charged, Sheppard said, and all students are invited.

Bus. Ad. Women Plan Honorary

Junior and senior women majoring in business administration who have maintained a C average or better are eligible to become charter members of Phi Chi Theta, proposed women's business honorary fraternity. Details of the fraternity will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Craig 205, according to Chairman Gloria Allen, Anaconda.

Miss Kathleen Campbell, librarian, will be guest speaker.

If it is impossible to attend this meeting students should notify a committee member or Mrs. Brenda Wilson, associate professor of business administration, and arrange to sign a petition, Miss Allen said. This is the last chance to become a charter member, she emphasized.

Fund Transfer Authorized By Central Board

Last Tuesday Central board authorized a temporary transfer of $17,960 from Central board funds to the Athletic board account, pending receipts of income from the California and Hawaii games.

Miss Maurine Clow reported on the Miss America contest held at Atlantic City this summer in which Carol Chaffin, Corvallis, participated. She asked the opinion of Central board on participating again this year, and if so, how the participant could be financed.

Central board felt it was good publicity, but they further felt that the problem of finances should be handled by some other organization rather than an all-school organization such as ASMSU.

They felt that Central board might contribute a small amount to the trip and suggested that AWS work out a program to contact parties who may be interested.

Hudson Named MEA Delegate

Thomas Hudson, Helena, will represent the local chapter of the Montana Education Association-National Education Association at the delegate assembly in Helena, December 5 and 6, according to David Thorn, Shelby, president.

The local chapter is on record as favoring a minimum salary schedule; tenure plan under which teachers will be notified by April 1 of the school year if their services are no longer desired and reason in writing for their not being rehired; five days sick leave a year cumulative up to 45 days; elevation of the salary ceiling from $2,000 to $4,000; issuance of permits to no teachers having less than one year of college or university training after the current school year and less than the minimum for prepared teachers after 1950; and that all teachers have four years training at the end of a ten year period.

Marybelle Lockhart, Missoula, is the alternate delegate to the Helena meeting. Hudson, Miss Lockhart, Edward Thomas, Missoula, Ailean Ruetten, Cut Bank, and Mrs. Helen Griley, student assistant, attended a meeting at Missoula County high school last week at which tenure, salaries and retirement were discussed.

Whitman Tourney Attracts Four MSU Debaters

Dan Johnson, Crow Agency; Dean Jellison, Kalispell; Frank Gonzalez, Helena, and Jerry Baldwin, Kalispell, leave Wednesday morning to participate in the Western Association speech tournament at Whitman college Dec. 4, 5, and 6.

The proposition to be argued concerns establishment of world government.

Frank Gonzalez will give an oration entitled "Those Who Cannot Remember the Past."

Gonzalez took first-place honors in the annual Montana State University Memorial oratorical contest, April 16. He also won first-place honors in the annual Montana Intercollegiate association contest April 18. At the 1947 Northwest Intercollegiate speech tournament at MSU, he again won first place honors in original oratory.

VA Eliminates Red Tape

Veterans studying full time at MSU will no longer have to make periodic reports of their earnings, according to Contact Representative B. T. Brudevold.

The VA adopted the policy after a survey indicated that only one per cent of the veterans in full time college training reported any difference between their estimated earnings and actual income during the school year, Brudevold said.

The new plan requires an original report of estimated earnings from productive labor for the full period of enrollment. This report is made at registration for the school year. If this original estimate is exceeded by earnings, then a supplementary report should be made.

Brudevold emphasized that any change in earnings which was not foreseen in the original estimate, and which would affect the veteran's right to subsistence payments, must be reported to the VA immediately.

For veterans taking part time courses, earnings reports will be required at least once a quarter, Brudevold concluded.

Theta Sigs Will Hold Annual Party

Women journalism majors will be guests of actives and Missoula alumnae of Kappa chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, at the annual party tomorrow night at 7:30 in J304, according to Pres. Jean Bartley, Great Falls.

Several new members will be tapped for membership in the organization, national honorary society for women in the journalistic profession, Miss Bartley said.

Speakers for the affair include Margaret Coucher of the Missoulian staff, who will address the group on the newspaper business, and Mary Wilson, who will give a short history of the organization.

Smith Writes Credit Chapter

Dean Theodore H. Smith, of the business administration school, has written a chapter in the 1947 Credit Management Yearbook recently published by the National Retail Dry Goods association.

Dean Smith is one of the two academic men to have chapters published in this book.

Dean Smith's chapter is on Consumer Installment Sales Credit Controls—Prewar, Wartime, and Postwar. He covers the history of the development of installment buying, the wartime regulation of credit and the opposition and advocacy of such a regulation, the importance of credit buying. It also has suggested plans for post-war retail credit buying, namely, community credit control, educational procedures for the consumer, and state legislation.

The book is published for use by stores of all sizes in the United States that belong to the national association. It is intended to give information to credit managers for use in aiding them to meet today's credit problems.

Men's Gym Slated For Roof-Lifting Next Year

The men's gym is scheduled to get a roof-lifting next year. But in the meantime, according to Maintenance Engineer T. G. Swearingen, "We'll just have to keep patching."

The leaky roof caused considerable inconvenience to vets bunking in the gym last fall, and proved annoying during the latter part of the basketball season, when it was sometimes necessary to mop the floor before starting play.

Swearingen said Thursday that although money is available to repair the roof, work could not be started this year because materials are not available. Plans call for removing the present tile entirely and replacing it with the type of roofing commonly employed on large airplane hangars.

The present skylights are responsible for much of the current leakage, Swearingen said, and will be replaced when the roofing job is done next year.

Kensley Rosen Will Present Violin Selections Tonight

A varied program of classical selections will be offered by Kensley Rosen, violinist, whose New York debut was acclaimed by critics and audience, when he appears on the stage of the Student Union auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

Mr. Rosen, a native of Seattle, will open his program with the "Devil's Trill Sonata" by Tartini. Other selections include Beethoven's "Sonata in E flat," Bach's "Chaconne" for violin alone, Schumann's "Sonata" and "Bartok Rhapsody."

The violinist first began violin studies at the age of five under the guidance of his father, who is a professor of music at the University of Washington. He made his first public appearance at nine, and has appeared as soloist with the Seattle Symphony orchestra and other coast symphony organizations.

Mr. Rosen will play on an Italian violin for tonight's performance, according to information received by Eugene Andrie, University Symphony orchestra conductor.

Students Will Get Second Chance For Sentinel Pics

Students who have been unable to have their pictures taken for the 1948 Sentinel, campus yearbook, will be able to have their pictures taken sometime after the first of the year, according to Doris Lund, Reserve, Sentinel file editor.

"Catlin's, official yearbook photographers, will be unable to take pictures until after the first of the year because of the rush of Christmas business which besieges photographers at this time of the year," Miss Lund said.

Miss Lund also pointed out that students will not be able to use any class pictures in the yearbook other than those taken by the official campus photographer.

"Nearly 1,000 pictures have been taken by the photographers," Miss Lund said.

Maucker Receives Personnel Appointment

J. W. Maucker, director of student personnel services, has been appointed a member of the committee on standards and training of the Western Personnel institute, according to information released by his office.

The institute is a research organization for western colleges, universities, and industries. The committee to which Dr. Maucker has been appointed studies academic standards and training.

The committee will make recommendations from its study at next year's meeting of the academic council of the institute.

IRC Will Discuss East, West Split

The International Relations club will discuss "The Split Between East and West" when club members meet tonight in the Bitterroot room at 7:30.

Five delegates who recently returned from the regional conference in Vancouver will act as moderators, Dr. Robert Turner, faculty adviser, announced yesterday.

The moderators are Joe McCracken, Dillon, president of IRC; Art Clowes, Glasgow; Ray Berry, Provo, Utah; Mary Farrington, Olympia, Wash.; and Mary Wijdenes, Missoula.

The delegates will also report on their activities at the regional conference.

Pioneer-Artist Exhibits Stills, Portraits

Mrs. E. L. Dana, Great Falls, is exhibiting a group of 17 paintings at the art building through Dec. 12, according to A. F. Arnold, assistant professor of fine arts. The exhibit will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. every week day during the period.

Originally from Terre Haute, Ind., Mrs. Dana studied art in New York and Paris. She came to Montana in 1892 by stage coach.

The majority of the pictures are portraits while some are still-life. One, a painting of a pony, was done by Mrs. Dana when she was 13, before she had any art training.

These paintings have been exhibited in several eastern cities and in Great Falls.

Red Cross Drive Begins Tomorrow

The Campus Red Cross unit will sponsor a week-long drive, starting tomorrow, to collect material for use in therapy work in the state hospital at Warm Springs, according to Mouriell Bottomly, Helena, chairman of the drive.

Materials that are urgently needed include wooden thread spools, bright-colored felt (old hats), scraps of plywood and soft light-weight wood, yarn, embroidery thread and hoops, carpet wafers, beads, leather, knitting needles, weaving looms, crochet hooks of wood, bone, plastic, or steel, and tating shuttles.

Donations are the only way to obtain necessary items, Miss Bottomly said, since no money is appropriated for their purchase. She added that collection centers include the dorms, the Student Union, sorority houses, and the strip house community center.

LICHTWARDT WINS 4-H CLUB TRIP

Don Lichtwardt, Helena, left Missoula last week to attend the International Livestock show in Chicago, Nov. 30 to Dec. 6.

Winner of the state tractor maintenance contest, Lichtwardt will be one of 26 delegates representing the Montana 4-H club congress.

Grizzly Gridders Looked Great

A smooth-functioning Grizzly eleven trampled the Colorado Rams on Dornblaser field Thanksgiving day.

For Boney Gorton, Don Leaphart, Arnie Scott, Ben Tyvand, and Bob Whalen it was the last home game in a Grizzly uniform and a fitting climax to their grid careers at MSU.

The team and staff put a lot of time and effort into building up a club which established the best PCC record ever made by a Grizzly team. The men missed a lot of school this year because of a rough traveling schedule. Incidentally, prospects for next year's schedule are considerably brighter.

Coach Doug Fessenden said the increased student turn-out at rallies, send-offs, and receptions supporting the team was a big factor in improving the team. It makes a difference when the players and coaching staff are shown that the student body is behind them.

It's too early in the season to tell how the basketball season will develop, but prospects are good. So let's get behind the hoop men and let them know we're behind them.

And to the football team, coaching staff, and training staff—great going. Few of us will be able to make the Christmas trip, but we'll be at the radio, cheering for you to clobber the Hawaiians.

President Truman set a good precedent last week when he appointed Jesse Donaldson, career postal service man, to the office of postmaster general, usually occupied by the chairman of the incumbent party.

The pre-Thanksgiving pardon of Boston's Mayor James Curley, though, smelled of unhealthy politics, and took the edge off the Donaldson appointment.

Letters to The Editor . . .

DROP DEAD

Dear Mr. Editor;

Last year I waited the entire year for a defense—a cheerful word about the cast of a play—I waited in vain but here I am—my patience is exhausted.

Why must the "holy word of the Kaimin" blast out at every play, and tear the student's non-professional performances to pieces? It seems to me that the immense amount of effort and time put forth by the student actors is forgotten. The fact that these students are merely humans—and I am sure—that these students realize their deficiencies more so than any one else when on the stage in front of their classmates.

Might I say that the article in the Kaimin is the only public thank you—the only spoken word of the student body (it is my belief that the school paper speaks for the students) that they appreciated the efforts of the students in the play. I do not want a glowing, flattering account of these amateur productions by any means.

And now we come to the drama critic! He has studied "Dracula" from every angle, and that of characterization for months. He fully realizes that these students are not attending a drama school and that their classwork is of first importance. Also that without this interest outside the classroom we would have no plays here at MSU. He is learned and sage and has done some acting himself. He understands the problems of openin nite, ah yes we have a drama critic here at MSU (here I mean no personal insult to Mr Smurr but rather his attitude shall we say) But it might be well if he would read the University of Washington's "Daily," and take a glance at the occasional review of a play. The criticism therein is most constructive, and there are some kind words. Were we on the Broadway stage these scathing criticisms of actors would be called for.

I am not defending any cast in particular or any persons, but the entire casts of plays from these continual criticisms.

I am certain I would fall dead (literally) if I ever read in some footnote in fine print "Great going fellas, we're proud of MSU's student actors.

While I'm writing I should like to say that the complete omission of the "A' cappella Chior" (spelling in this letter is the writer's.—Ed.) from credit for spreading good propaganda for MSU was a tremendous oversight. (Better come up and read some back issues.—Ed.) The tour last year to Butte, Anaconda, and Deer Lodge where the chior sang for the high school students and adults plus the trip to Helena to sing for the legislature certainly did not leave a bad impression.

Again I repeat if the Kaimin ever gave the students who work outside the classroom a cheer and a smile I'de fall dead.

Sincerely,
 Joyce Degenhart.
 (G-r-r-r. We hate everybody.—Ed.)

Cooking Equipment Comes for Center

War surplus cooking equipment for the service kitchen of the Community center arrived at MSU recently, according to Helen Gleason, professor of home economics. The new equipment will make large-scale cooking possible, she said.

The Community center is a meeting place for married students and their families.

Grizzly Basketball Season Opens With Two Victories

Two victories, both by huge margins, opened the Montana basketball season as Coach Jiggs Dahlberg's Grizzlies overpowered the Montana School of Mines Orediggers, 80 to 22, in Butte Friday and the Montana Normal college Bulldogs, 93 to 44, in Dillon Saturday.

Bob Cope, tall Grizzly forward, was high scorer in both games, piling up 19 points against the Mines and 28 against Normal. Lou Rocheleau, also a forward, placed second in the scoring column both nights with 13 points Friday and 17 Saturday.

Capt. John Cheek put on an outstanding performance for his hometown folks in Dillon, showing excellent floor work and adding 11 points to the Montana total.

The Grizzlies went on second half scoring sprees in both games, more than doubling their half-time scores. Montana scored 43 points in the second half of the Mines game and 56 in the second half of the Dillon contest.

Dahlberg took 10 men on the trip and used his reserves a good part of the time in both games. Not one Grizzly failed to score in either game.

"The teams we played were much smaller and less experienced than we were," the coach said, "but we did get a couple of ball games we needed before going into major competition."

"We are still very ragged, however," he said.

The Grizzlies take to the road again this week end to meet the powerful Idaho Vandals in Moscow Friday and Saturday.

Safety Training Mapped Out by Ski Patrol

A program for training and examining skiers for ski patrol work was mapped out by 14 university skiers last week, according to Bill Tremper, Missoula, chairman of the ski patrol committee of the university ski club.

The group decided not to affiliate with the national ski patrol organization because it takes too much time to meet the national's first aid requirements, Tremper said. However, all who have turned out have had quite a bit of first aid training, he said.

A review of the advanced first aid course will be conducted by O. F. Rydell, a first aid instructor who has had training under the national ski patrol, Tremper said. A skiing instruction course and a skiing examination later in the season are part of the program outlined by the group.

"The purpose of a ski patrol is the prevention and care of accidents on the slopes," Tremper said. "Members trained in first aid will go along on all ski trips to supervise safety and take care of any casualties."

The patrol plans to meet every Tuesday night from 8 to 10 o'clock, but a meeting place has not been decided upon.

Score at half: Montana 39, Normal 22.

Montana's shifty back scored three of six touchdowns Thursday as the Grizzlies beat the Colorado A and M Rams 41-7.

Grizzlies Beat Colorado Rams 41-7 In Thanksgiving Fray

One thing about the 1947 Montana Grizzlies when they bounce back they bounce both hard and high. And bounce they did against Colorado A and M Thanksgiving afternoon, winning 41-7.

Montana wasted little time getting the upper hand. Four plays after the kickoff Arnie Scott raced 10 yards around left end to score. Buck Preuninger converted. The first touchdown was set up by a Johnny Holding to Ray Bauer pass covering 50 yards.

Malcolm Sprints for Six

An exchange in punts put Colorado in the hole as Arnie Scott angled one out of bounds on the seven-yard line. Colorado kicked out of danger, but the Grizzlies struck back fast. Roy Malcolm took the ball on Montana's first scrimmage play following the punt and skirted the end for 50 yards and a touchdown. Preuninger converted.

On the first play of the second quarter Roberts went over from the three-yard line. Preuninger made it three in a row when he split the uprights with a perfect kick.

Fourth Trip to Pay Dirt

The next time Montana took the offense they scored their fourth touchdown. The pay-off came when Holding passed to Scott. The shifty halfback was trapped by Ram tacklers several times, but managed to break away and go 25 yards for the score. Preuninger's mechanical toe made good again. Montana moved into scoring territory once again in the second period, but the drive fell short on the Ram's 15. The half ended with Montana ahead, 28-0.

After receiving the second-half kickoff the Grizzlies were pushed back to their own 15-yard line on a holding penalty. Scott got the 15 back on the next play, and 56 yards to boot as he raced 71 yards for the fifth Montana score.

Ball-Juggling Score

Montana's final score came in the third period on one of the game's most exciting plays. Holding passed to Bauer in the end zone, but the big end had trouble hanging on to the ball as he was hit from two sides. Bauer made a final try, after juggling the ball twice, and fell to the ground for a touchdown and Montana's forty-first point. Preuninger broke the monotony by missing the extra try.

While Doug Fessenden was busy sending in and taking out substitutes in the final quarter, the Rams made their only score. Bob Hainlen did the damage when he went over from the six-inch line.

Ducat Demand Exceeds Supply

Over 500 applications for Rose Bowl tickets have been turned in and probably only 250 ducats to the New Year's classic will be available at MSU, Graduate Manager Gil Porter said yesterday.

The exact number of tickets to be allocated to MSU will be determined at a PCC meeting Dec. 8-10 in Boyes Springs, Calif. Price will probably be $5.50, said Porter.

Students wishing to make application can do so at Mr. Porter's office in the law school basement.

Five of Seven Greek Pledges Questioned Favor Change in Rushing to Allow Frosh More Time for Decision

BY GEORGE REMINGTON

Five of seven fraternity pledges questioned last week disapproved the present rushing system on the grounds that it doesn't give the rushee an opportunity to see all the houses.

Of the seven pledges, all of whom went through rush week this year, three favored keeping rush week during Freshman week but with major changes. Two thought no changes were needed, and two favored a longer period of rushing.

Kenneth Kirkpatrick, Kalispell, Sigma Phi Epsilon: "Rush week this year didn't seem well organized. It sort of left everybody wondering what was going on. The open house part of the proposed new plan should solve this."

Frank Helland, Glasgow, Phi Sigma Kappa: "I kind of like the present system, but I suppose as soon as I become an active I won't like it because of the lack of opportunity for actives to meet rushees and vice versa."

Orville Rostad, Lennep, Sigma Alpha Epsilon: "I don't think I made a mistake, but I see where a person could because the present system doesn't give rushees a chance to see all the houses. Also, under the present plan, many good men don't get rushed at all."

Greg Baldridge, Kansas City, Mo., Sigma Chi: "Under the present plan a rushee doesn't get a good perspective of all the houses because the rushing period is so brief. I don't think a two-day open house would help much because the period still would be too short."

Charles Grasseschi, Black Eagle, Sigma Nu: "I don't think any of the rushees had an opportunity to see all the houses. A man just saw the houses where he had friends. There should be a setup whereby a man has a chance to see all the houses."

Jim Snow, Butte, Phi Delta Theta: "I think there should be a longer period for rushing so that the rushees could get a better chance to look over all the houses more thoroughly. The best part of the present plan is that it doesn't interfere with the school work. Otherwise, I don't like it."

Don Payton, Eureka, Theta Chi: "I don't mind it the way it is. The first bunch I got in with I liked, and I didn't care much to see any of the other houses. Of course, it probably wasn't as easy for other men to decide as it was for me."

Swim Tests Given Today

Swimming tests will be given all day today to students who have not yet passed the compulsory exam, according to Dr. Agnes Stoodley, director of the division of Health and Physical Education for Women.

Students who have taken the required six quarters of physical education but have not passed the test should sign up at the women's gym.

New rulings are that all students (men and women) taking required physical education must pass this basic swimming test before the end of the sixth quarter or an incomplete grade will be given.

The test will include jumping into the pool and swimming 20 yards; swimming 20 feet on the face, rolling over and swimming 20 feet on the back; swimming 20 feet and returning to starting place; floating for one minute with a minimum of motion.

Tryouts Off; Ski Club Plans Gibbons Trip

Postponement of the trip and ski team tryouts at Whitefish this week end was announced yesterday by Bill Adams and Gub Akey, Whitefish. Poor snow conditions and the fact that the lift will not be in operation caused the action, they said.

Contestants who had planned to try out for the university ski team are urged to attend the ski club meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the Silver room, according to Scotty Gray, Forsyth, president. Possible dates for tryouts will be discussed, he said.

The club will consider a trip to Gibbons pass this week end instead of the Whitefish trip, Gray said. Twenty skiers who went to Gibbons Sunday reported ideal conditions.

Ninety students have now signed up for the Elkhorn trip, Jan. 10 and 11, Gray said. An $8 advanced payment may be paid at tonight's meeting or from 1 to 4 o'clock Thursday and Friday in the Bitterroot room, he added.

SIMPSON CHOSEN TEAM CAPTAIN

Chuck Simpson, Nutley, N. J., was chosen captain of the Grizzly swimming team last week, according to Bob Oswald, swimming coach.

Simpson swam for the Grizzlies last year and was outstanding in the 50- and 100-yard free style and in the relays.

CASTLE TO SPEAK

Dr. Gordon B. Castle, professor of zoology, will discuss the university biological station at a meeting of the Education club Thursday at 7:30 in the forestry library, according to Mrs. Gloria Walsh, secretary of the School of Education.

Briney Selected PCC 2nd Team End

In his first year as end for the Grizzlies, Frank Briney was selected second team left end of the all-Pacific Coast conference team picked by Bob Miller, Spokesman-Review sports editor.

Last year Briney filled a tackle position on the Montana squad but was switched to end this year because of his speed and exceptional blocking.

As an end, Briney proved to be outstanding on defense. This was evident in the Washington State game when he threw Cougar ball carriers for a loss on four consecutive plays in the last minutes of the game.

Frank comes from Butte where he earned six letters at Butte public—three in football, two in basketball, and one in track. He was an all-state tackle in 1944, his senior year.

After high school, Briney served 15 months in the navy. He will be no stranger to Honolulu when the Grizzlies play there next month as he was stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Briney is 20, stands 6 feet, and weighs 195 pounds. A sophomore this year, he has two more years of service with the Grizzlies.

Theaters Grant Students Rate

Each student must present a special student card in order to be admitted at the student rate at either the Wilma or the Roxy, said Frank Larson, manager of Fox theaters in Missoula.

These tickets, selling for 50 cents, will entitle students and faculty members to a 50-cent rate at the Wilma and 35-cent rate at the Roxy.

They are available at the Wilma office until 5:30 p.m. and at a special booth at the Roxy theater in the evening all this week.

Bus. Ad. Students To Call on Alumni During Holidays

Members of Alpha Kappa Psi and the Business Administration club are arranging to have business administration students call on MSU bus. ad. alumni during Christmas vacation, Dean Theodore H. Smith, of the business administration school, said.

The students are also asked to visit a bank and the chamber of commerce in their home town.

By making these visits, the students will acquaint alumni with the work the school is doing, the proposed new building, the development of the curriculum, new equipment in the school, and the achievements in the accounting department, Smith said.

It is also hoped that job possibilities can be found through these contacts and that the alumni will look to the school for manpower.
