GRIZZLY SQUAD TRAINING FOR EIGHT-GAME SCHEDULE

Special Release Gives Dope from Coach Clark and Mathews of Idaho

Facing one of the toughest schedules that ever confronted a Montana football team, the Grizzlies are being groomed for coming games by strenuous workouts under Head Coach Earl F. (Click) Clark and Coach Jim Stewart on Dornblaser field. Eight games are on the schedule. With the opening game of the season against Mt. St. Charles a week from tomorrow, the 33 candidates for the team were put through a series of stiff scrimmages this week to get in shape as soon as possible. The first candidates reported at the University September 15, and went through the first workout September 16.

In an interview given the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and Hearst Syndicate newspapers and released through George Scherck '22, Earl F. (Click) Clark, Montana coach, and Robert L. Mathews, coach of the Idaho Vandals, who meet the Grizzlies October 11 at Dornblaser field, made the following statements regarding the prospects of their teams:

"Championship football teams are not necessarily the product of triumphant freshmen eleven of the year before. And, Montana, contrary to the garrulous utterances of Grizzly gridiron followers and bombastic platitudes of the press will not win Pacific Coast and Northwest Conference championships this year. Montana last year had a wonderful freshman team and I hope that Montana will have a speedy, shifty, intelligent Varsity this year, but victories over Washington, Stanford, Idaho, and other conference teams are not won on paper.

"If Montana wins one or two Northwest conference games I will consider my work as Montana's first graduate coach successful. If the Grizzlies win a Pacific Coast conference game, I, like all Montana enthusiasts, will be elated.

"Grant Silvernale, quarterback and captain, a man with three years' experience, is back. Other eligible men to build this year's squad around are Meagher, O. Dahlberg, Maudlin, Shaffer, Hanson, Axtel, Ilman, Sugrue, and others of more or less ability.

"The freshman team brings back many men of promise to the eleven, including Kelly, quarterback, and Sweet, half, who are the bright lights of a brilliant freshman squad. If the rest of the yearlings prove as capable as Montana should have a fast, light, gritty team.

"But with a weak line, weakened more by graduation, with green material in the backfield and a scarcity of ends, it does not appear as if the Grizzlies will be hailed as a wonder team. But Montana should show the foundation of a football team, that next year and the year after will have to be considered by all conference eleven."

Mathews.

"Viewed at this early date it is difficult to determine wherein the football situation at the University of Idaho differs markedly from last year, save the schedule is perhaps a bit harder. Compensating this, however, is the prospect of more reserve strength than the Idaho team in the past has ever had. Just what extra contribution this extra strength will make will determine almost entirely what Idaho is to do on the gridiron this fall.

"Three of Idaho's most dependable and at times most brilliant players will be missing. Bob Fitzke, punter, and Morris Kline, center, have had their three years of college football while Abe Goff, center and guard, became ineligible when he received his degree in law. Fitzke's backfield job must be filled and if I am unable to develop a center that works as Kline did my attack will be seriously impaired. Goff was a powerful line-man and will be missed.

"Despite the loss of three veterans I still have fourteen lettermen from last year, all with one or two years of football experience. This list includes names that football followers are certain to hear a lot of before the season is over, regardless of whether Idaho wins all or none of its games.

"In it are Vernon (Skippy) Stivers, quarterback picked to lead George Varnell's all-coast team; Johnny Vesser of Coeur d'Alene, end; Charles (Dad) Hausen of Rupert, tackle; W. L. and Ray Stephens of Blackfoot, guards; Lyle Tapper of Richfield, guard; Lawrence Quinn of Boise, tackle; Neal Nelson of Burley, end; Sylvester Klefner of Twin Falls, halfback; Otto Heufner of Kellogg, end and halfback; Frank Kinnison of Payette, fullback; Victor Cameron of Boise, halfback, and Ted Bucklin of Idaho Falls, tackle and fullback.

"Reserve strength, and plenty of competition for the veterans, will come from the second stringers of last year and the sophomore candidates, for Idaho had a good freshman squad, not outstanding for its victories but unusual for its potential material."

Saints Strong

The first game of the season with the Saints is far from a set-up. Helena predications are that the "Fighting Saints" have an excellent chance to cap the state championship, for they have been strengthened by the addition of several new men, and Coach (Red) Maher is driving his men through a grueling grind in preparation for the game against the Grizzlies October 4.

Head Coach Clark, Montana's first graduate Varsity coach, is a three-letter man in football, having earned his letters in '14, '15 and '16. He graduated in 1917. He will be remembered by older Grizzly supporters as the man who made the touchdown against Syracuse in that memorable 6 to 6 tie Thanksgiving day 1915. Since graduating from the University Clark has gained an enviable reputation as coach of high school football teams in North Dakota and at the Everet, Washington, high school, where he succeeded Enoch Bagshaw when the latter took charge of the University of Washington Huskies.

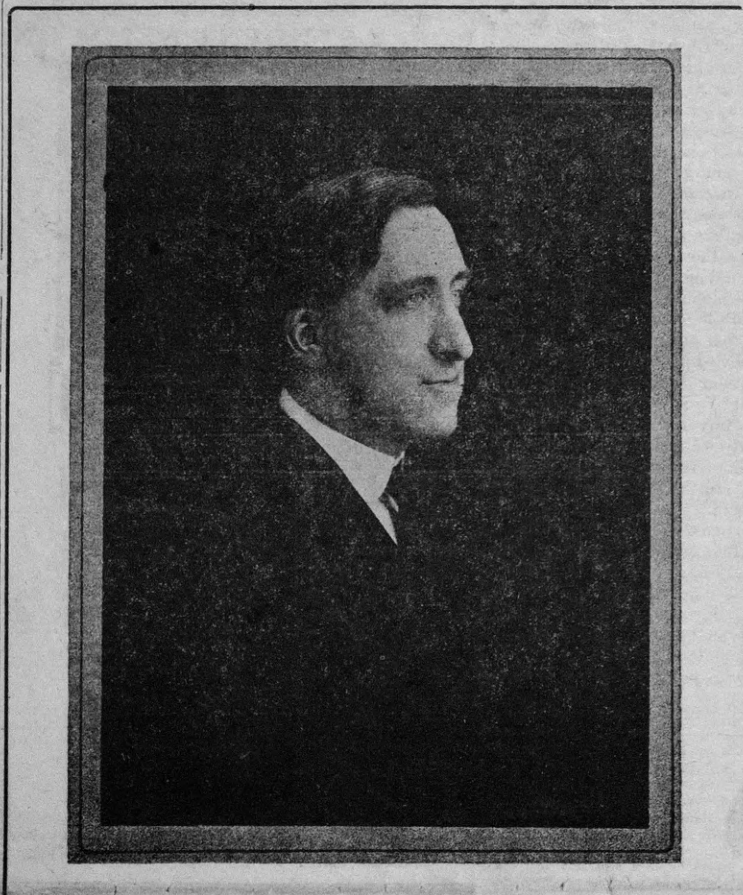

Coach J. W. Stewart will act as Varsity line coach, and will coach Varsity basketball and track.

No Clinches on Team

Coach Clark says that with one or two exceptions not a man on the Varsity squad has a place on the team, and that there is no such thing as first and second string teams at present. Everyone has to fight for his place on the team.

The Varsity loses seven last year's lettermen. Ted Pumper graduated. Neal Hyde and Duke Johnson did not return to school as was expected. Christie, O. K. Moe, and Taylor graduated, and George (Jiggs) Dahlberg completed his three years of conference football. The other lettermen back are Shaffer, B. Plummer, Silvernale (captain), Maudlin, Oscar Dahlberg, Ilman, Sugrue and Griffin. Additions from the championship Cub team are Kelly, quarterback; Sweet, halfback; Ritter, fullback; Cochran, sub half; and Burrell, Crimmins, Cogswell, Kain, Fletcher, Howard Varney, Thompson, Larson, Cub line-men candidates for the Varsity line. Others out for positions in the line are Meching, Crowley, Hanson, Murray, Axtel, Martinson, Campbell, Lang, Wilson, Pete Moe, and Young. In all there are nine men out for the Varsity backfield, with but one or two of the positions almost certain. They are: Kelly, Ilman, Sweet, Ritter, Silvernale, Griffin, Sugrue, Powell and Cochran.

The schedule follows:
October 4—Mt. St. Charles at Missoula.
October 11—Idaho at Missoula.
October 18—Washington at Seattle.
October 25—School of Mines at Butte.
November 1— Gonzaga at Missoula.
November 8—Pacific U at Missoula.
November 15—Stanford at Palo Alto.
November 22—Whitman at Walla Walla.

Prexy Clapp Greet You

The main purpose of University education is to stimulate an overwhelming desire for the truth and a knowledge of how the truth may be discovered. But of what value is knowledge of the truth if such knowledge is not at the service of others? The spirit of service is not developed very effectively by talking or even studying about it; its practice is necessary. The society in which you as students of the State University of Montana are placed requests certain services of you. Take hold of them willingly and joyously, enter into them with the enthusiasm and courage which makes youth and college worthwhile, and the rewards of happiness and satisfaction will be yours.

IDAHO CONTEST TO BE FEATURE OF HOMECOMING

OCTOBER 11 IS DATE SET FOR ANNUAL JUBILEE

Early Season Warm Weather and Big Battle on Home Field Are Anticipated.

Plans are being made for the best Homecoming that has been held at the University of Montana, according to Helen Newman, secretary to President C. H. Clapp. The date has been set for October 11 in order to take advantage of Montana's biggest game on the home field, that with the Idaho Vandals.

Formerly Homecoming has been held in November at the time of the Grizzly-Bobcat game, but since athletic relations with Montana State College have been discontinued the event has been scheduled earlier, featuring the Idaho game. Two years ago the first joint reunion for alumni was held here November 11 and last year Boreman entertained alumni from both the University and the State College on the same date.

Letters are being sent out to all former students and alumni by the committee in charge of arrangements and advertising plans are being carefully carried out. Many alumni are expected back and preparations are well under way for their entertainment.

BUREAU FINDS STUDENTS JOBS

Students Seeking Employment Should Apply to Secretary

Altogether, 485 jobs were handled by the employment secretary during the past college year, or 110 more than for the same period of 1922-23.

According to Helen Newman, student employment secretary, the principal work has been in the field of odd jobs and mostly for freshmen, the reasons appearing to be that the business men and other employers fill their part-time jobs with upperclass students they have met, and that upperclassmen generally take care of themselves through connections they have made during previous years of attendance.

About 700 postcards have been sent out to prospective employers in Missoula and vicinity, offering the services of the employment secretary in getting students for jobs. Nearly 100 applications for work have been received by the secretary, either written or by personal interview. Not many jobs have yet been found for students, with the exception of a few odd jobs.

All students desiring to work should call at the student employment secretary's office and fill in schedules for hours they desire work.

According to Miss Newman, everything is being done that can be to assist students arrange their programs so that their school work will not interfere with other work. Employers last year expressed themselves as well satisfied with the work done by students, and this year employers are being requested to report any unsatisfactory work done by students.

Large Freshman Class Enters and More Coming; Dorms Are Filled

With a large number of old students back, a large freshman class and a total of 1,125 students registered yesterday noon, the University has begun its thirtieth year. Many students who have sent in credentials have not arrived yet, but are expected soon, according to President C. H. Clapp.

One of the noticeable improvements this year was the ease and efficiency with which the registrar's office handled the host of incoming students. Main hall has been remodeled during the summer and the business offices and those of the registrar have been moved to the south end of the building where ample room has been provided to take care of the offices of the University for several years to come. This year, because of the remodeling that is still in progress in Main hall, it was necessary to take care of the sectionizing in the Forestry building.

The residence halls are filled to capacity and while meals are being served in South hall no regular schedule will be adopted until October 1, officers of the hall say. A new system will be used this year in regard to freshmen staying in South hall, to take care of the men that are pledged to fraternities. As a result of the cooperation of the interfraternity council and President Clapp, each fraternity will be allowed to take six men from the hall to live in their houses, and the remaining men will reside in the hall for the rest of the school year. By this system the halls will still remain filled and the fraternities will be able to have an added number of men in their houses. South hall has been reserved for freshmen, but if any vacancies occur after pledging, upper-classmen will be allowed to move into the hall, according to Ralph Neill, manager of South hall.

The officers for South hall are Ralph Neill, manager; Russell Niles, assistant manager; Jack Diamond, Stanley Griffiths, Einar Strommen, and Norval Ulvestad, proctors.

North hall and Craig hall, residence halls for women, are filled completely and meals have been served on a regular schedule during the past week. Mrs. Donald A. McClellan of Great Falls is director of North hall and Miss Lagratta Lawian is assistant director. Five leaders have been selected from upper-class women to assist the officers of the hall in their duties. The leaders are Annabelle Diamond, Alice Leese, Margaret Hughes, Eleanor Stevenson and Mary Joe Dixon. Mrs. Theodore Brantley is director of Craig hall for this year and no assistants have been selected as yet.

This year for the first time cuts will not be counted against juniors and seniors who are not on probation.

FORMER MONTANAN WILL DIRECT DORM

Miss Monica Burke, formerly assistant to the registrar, has returned and will succeed Miss Inez Boazarth as business director of North hall. Miss Burke attended Columbia University last year where she received a master's degree in home economics. This year Miss Boazarth is director of the Lawyers' club at the University of Michigan.

WELCOME!

WELCOME! That is a potent word. The good efforts of the Bear Paws and the Tanans in meeting trains has made one welcome for our incoming members. There was another welcome, just as enthusiastic, from the sophomores. This last was to draw out those little things in the freshmen that are dear to their hearts and heads. Did we say draw out? It would be more of a cutting out. But once having been properly sheared the freshmen will be welcomed some more. This other welcome is more of a "Well, come down to the house." That is deceiving and apt to turn the heads of many of the freshmen, but it will be over shortly. There is another welcome and that is from the faculty. And we add our cry.

With all this hospitality, who blames that startled frosh who graduates at the end of the fall quarter? It takes them a full quarter to realize that the welcome is meant and then another quarter out of school to realize that they took it too seriously.

We wish to warn the freshmen that after the welcome has seeped in to go to work. There is always a certain percentage of the freshmen and upperclassmen dismissed at the end of the first quarter and from this percentage there is a great hue and cry of injustice. But after the welcome has been given cordially it kicks back and twists into the old saying of Mr. Dana, "Every man for himself." See that you are not the one to be eliminated. Welcome!

Singing Them Again

ON this day of hearty welcomes, we wish to include a welcome to the course in "Elements of Philosophy." For a period of about ten years there has been no course like this and consequently students have had their "philosophy" around the fire-places and halls. Our morals were criticized in an adverse manner last year and great hullabalos made over courses in morals and religion. But without a knowledge of the proper application of religious principles we might be well-versed in these principles and still not have a sound moral sense. The philosophy course is a step in the right direction.

Last week we heard an old-time newspaper man say that one of the best and most eagerly "gobbled-up" news story was that of a minister of the gospel in trouble. How about it? You do read it then! Well, in the same way the most eagerly read news from our own campus is that concerning an error in moral judgment on the part of a student. In the first case the accomplishments of all ministers are forgotten and the fallen one stands out as an example of the rest. It is true that this is believed momentarily. In our own case the actions of one are taken for the moral caliber of all, despite the injustice of it in both cases.

A broad discussion of the foundations of morals in a philosophic manner will do much to point a better direction for exuberant spirits.

acquaint themselves with the interesting data to be found there.

The pamphlet was put out by the ASUM under the management of Einar Stromnes, business manager of the Associated Students of the University, and Paul McLean, a sophomore.

The booklet was titled "The Freshman Bible" because of the valuable information it contains, and because the knowledge of its contents is absolutely necessary to the new students, if they are to live a righteous and straightforward life upon the campus according to University traditions.

Much information concerning downtown shops is available in this pamphlet, and the students should patronize those business men who help make our campus activities possible. Procure your copies at the book store immediately!

there would be 45 or more vocational students registered at the institution this fall. A majority of these men will take work in the Forestry school.

At the close of the summer session degrees were granted to four of the disabled men: Frank A. Nelson, Prentiss Stages, and Ingolf J. Stromnes received a degree of B. A. in business administration and John W. Mahan was granted a certificate for the completion of the law course.

The Reed Johnson bill which was passed by the last session of Congress provides that all students training under the Veterans' bureau must complete their courses prior to July 1, 1926.

There is nothing like a
STETSON

MOST young men today know the importance of looking fit. Good appearance counts much in the game of life. The young man who dresses with taste has a decided advantage.

But—it is surprising how little thought the average man gives to his hat. It is his crown, yet he seems to stop dressing at the neck.

Be careful in your selection of your headwear. When you buy a hat, select a Stetson. Its style is right, its quality means long wear.

If father did the washing just once!

If every father did the family washing next Monday there would be an electric washing machine in every home before next Saturday night.

For fathers are used to figuring costs. They'd say: "The electricity for a week's washing costs less than a cake of soap. Human time and strength are too precious for work which a machine can do so cheaply and well."

You will live in a new age—an electrical age. Heavy tasks will be shifted from human shoulders to electric motors. Remember the letters "G-E". They are a symbol of service—the initials of a friend.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

The University chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War will hold the first meeting of the school year as soon as the push of registration days has passed, according to Commander Eugene J. Callaghan.

Plans are well under way for a successful Forget-Me-Not day drive which will be held throughout the United States November 8. The recent order to decentralize the Veterans' bureau from 14 district control offices to 51 regional offices will necessitate a change in local procedure in fighting claims before the bureau officials.

A new commander for the local chapter will be elected at the first meeting as Mr. Callaghan resigned from the office upon his election to the office of treasurer of the department of Montana, Disabled Veterans.

"MONKEY GLAND" APPEARS

"The Monkey Gland," a humorous magazine dealing in local as well as national wit and philosophy, made its initial appearance on the campus Tuesday. The publishers expect to present the magazine each month of the school year.

BIG SISTER MOVEMENT PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

One Hundred Twenty-Five Women Chosen to Aid Freshmen

The Big Sister movement has been very successful this fall, according to Mrs. Harriet Sedman, dean of women. One hundred and twenty-five upper class girls have been made big sisters to one or two freshman girls.

Although the big sisters did not meet their little sisters at the train, they did look them up later and help them register. "In some cases it has been impossible for the older girls to get in touch with the freshman girls but this has not been due to neglect. As a whole the upper-class girls have been very considerate in finding and helping their little sisters," said Dean Sedman.

BAND BOASTS BIG TURNOUT

Officials Plan State-wide Tour for Grizzly Musicians

Thirty-six members of last year's Grizzly band returned for the first rehearsal Wednesday night. This is fully twice as large a turnout of old men than has occurred in any previous year.

The band will rehearse nightly at 5 o'clock until after the first football game when rehearsals will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Over 50 men have signed up for band work this year and received instruments. The call has gone out for bass horn and clarinet players. All men in school who have had band experience and who have not signed for band are requested to try out for positions during the next week.

The plans of the officials in charge of the band this year call for a regulation military band of 36 pieces for the ROTC. Not more than 40 men will be used for the other jobs owing to the lack of uniforms. The best men who try out will be given the positions.

Plans for a statewide tour are being discussed and the proposition is receiving strong support on the campus.

Complete equipment for the year's work has been purchased. This marks a radical change of policy from previous years.

The men who will be in charge of the band organization this year are: Glen Connelly, president; Professor Ernest A. Atkinson, director; Lloyd G. Mather, assistant director and Harold Craven, student assistant and property custodian.

A great deal of competition for places is assured from the large number of candidates and the necessary limitation of the size of the first band. If the state tour can be arranged the competition will be even keener.

In discussing the proposed tour Wednesday night, President Connelly said: "I cannot understand why the Grizzly band should not be placed on the same basis as the Glee club and the other University activities. People throughout the state are asking for the band.

"At present a band is one of the best drawing cards which can be sent out to advertise an institution. Most of the important institutions of learning in the United States are sending bands on nationwide tours instead of statewide tours. The State College band of Bozeman has taken an annual tour for several years.

"Financially the proposed trip should be a success and return a neat profit for the benefit of the organization. It might even be possible to make the band a self-supporting organization.

"Should the proposed tour be realized, the band would automatically be placed on the same eligibility footing as the other student organizations on the campus. The benefit of the tour to the organization in this and other respects cannot be estimated," he concluded.

The proposed tour would take place in the middle of the spring quarter or at the close of the winter quarter and cover the most important cities of the state. It will be of the same duration as the Glee club's annual tour.

OVER FIFTY REPORT FOR FRESHMAN TEAM

Strong Washington State College Will Play in Missoula October 25

With two tough games already scheduled, Montana's freshman football squad, which now consists of 51 men, is being put through a stiff grind the first week of practice.

Captain R. E. Cummings, head freshman gridiron coach, announces that the yearlings will open the season against the strong Washington State College frosh here October 25, and will meet the Idaho first year men at Moscow November 1. A game with Montana State Normal college of Dillon is to be set for November, although it has not been definitely scheduled yet. A fourth game is to be scheduled later.

Thirty-five men reported for the first freshman practice Monday, and this number kept increasing until 51 men had been issued uniforms by yesterday afternoon.

Captain Cummings has Tom MacGowan, a former University football and track star and coach of the Lewistown, Montana, high school last year, assisting him with the yearlings. Tom is acting as line coach of the frosh.

The freshman team is being put through the fundamentals of football, with the workouts growing stiffer each day in order to get the team in shape for scrimmages with the Varsity, which will probably begin tomorrow or the first of next week. The yearlings as a team are big and heavy and should furnish an immense amount of reserve strength for the Varsity next year, although there are not the outstanding stars of last year's champion Frosh team.

The following men have been issued suits, according to Student Manager Bob Nofsinger's chart: Ted Hodges, Bill Hodges, Smith, Whitcomb, Veribus, Hansen, Husten, Garvey, Tyler, Kiely, Beese, Ronglin, Carpenter, Mainus, Kain, Morrow, Burns, McLaughlin, Liskum, Cornell, Peck, Brittenham, Miller, McKelsey, Wendte, Snow, Schultz, Callison, Elderklin, Lewis, Hudson, Converse, Wyatt, Colby, Strong, Antons, Streit, Meagher, Squires, Orton, McKenzie, Fritz, Semple, Hoffman, Rachell, Uhl, Breital, Brewer, Harmon, McGillis and Cowan.

English Instructor Is Accident Victim on Way to Montana

Miss L. B. Mirrielees, graduate of Leland Stanford University, who will take Miss Ellen Geyer's place in the English department, had the misfortune of breaking her leg in changing trains at Ogden, Utah. Miss Mirrielees was confined to the hospital at Ogden for ten days. She has reached Missoula in time to take charge of all her classes. Miss Mirrielees is a former student of the University, having attended school here in 1903 as a special student. For the past 12 years she has been in charge of the teachers' training school at the University of California and comes here highly recommended.

Wynema Woolverton, '23, is teaching English at the high school in Livingston.

Trains carrying incoming freshman girls were met this year by the Tanans, a sophomore honorary society organized by the Associated Women Students during the spring quarter of last year. Cars were furnished by members of the student body to conduct the girls to the residence halls.

No upper-class girls were allowed to meet freshmen at the trains, but those who were assigned "Little Sisters" during the summer were permitted to help them with registration. The Tanans made their initial appearance on the campus during the high school track meet in the spring quarter. All Tanans wear silver grey sweaters with a black "T" on a silver, copper and gold background.

Tanans who assisted in meeting of trains are as follows:
Beulah Gagnon, Mildred Gerer, Sammie T. Graham, Dora Hauck, Elizabeth Kilroy, Mary Kirkwood, Anne Nilson, Marcia Patterson, Sue Swearingen, and Henrietta Wilhelm.

Helen Carson, '24, is teaching at Radersburg, Montana.

Kaimin Develops Foreign Ad Field

More foreign advertising will be carried in the Kaimin this year than ever before, according to Harold S. Hepper, business manager. He has contracted for advertising space with the following agencies: Roy Barnhill Co., Inc. of New York City; the Western Advertising Association of Seattle, and the Collegiate Special Advertising agency, of New York and Chicago.

Among some of the corporations whose advertising will appear continually in the Kaimin are: General Electric Co., J. B. Williams Co., Remington Typewriter Co., Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., American Tobacco Co., Postum Cereal Co., Sanford Manufacturing Co., Westinghouse Electric, Born Tailoring Co., Eloiser-Hyneman Co., J. B. Stetson Co., Parker Pen Co. and the Western Products Co.

In addition to the above it is expected that there will be about 10,000 inches of local advertising this year from the business houses in Missoula.

ROTC ORGANIZES FOR AUTUMN WORK

All sections in ROTC met yesterday at their regular hours. Advance course students met yesterday for the purpose of organizing for work the autumn quarter.

Major Smith announces that military history, which has hitherto been taught to advanced students only, will be offered to sophomores this year.

There will be no general assembly for the autumn and winter quarters this year, all work being carried on in the different sections. In the spring quarters there will be one general assembly a week, a three-hour assembly on Monday afternoons.

The same textbooks will be used as in previous years and may be obtained at the student store. Uniforms are being issued today and the regular class work will start Monday.

NEWMAN SUCCEEDS BECKWITH

Miss Newman was former president of AWS and a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Penetratia and Quadrans.

CLIPPERS

Work Overtime on Many Scalps

Palmaid, Stacomb, vaseline, olive oil and other equally good and stable hair tonics and greases, that have so often brought under shiny control the stubborn locks of freshman and sophomore, are now little in demand by either class. That gorgeous, well-groomed hair, so important in every socially-ambitious student's life, now lies in sticky misery on the Higgins avenue pavement, its glory faded.

A right goodly number of underclassmen appeared on the campus Wednesday morning carrying on their necks that which resembled ostrich eggs. Several of the unfortunates, who had known better days, showed a great distaste for removing their caps, and when they did so their shiny pate were bright with rosy color.

Washington State College, Sept. 23.—Complete reports from the office of the registrar on the second day of registration show a total enrollment of 2663, which is an increase of 1393 from last year. There are also 87 vocational men registered.

This increase in enrollment brings to light an interesting fact. Thirty years ago the Washington State college planned to feed 40 students in the dormitory dining hall. Today the staff of college dietitians plans to feed 1,000 in three dining halls.

In those days a sack of potatoes lasted some time; now a carload of spuds lasts no more than 25 or 30 days. For then the total enrollment was 80 in the preparatory department and six in collegiate courses; now there are expected to enroll approximately 3,000 students in the college work.

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 25.—Tentative plans for this year's Homecoming week have been announced, although complete plans are to be formulated soon.

The celebration this year will last three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 20, 21, and 22. The program developed thus far includes a general reception and dance for all alumni and their wives Thursday night, a special meeting Friday morning, and open house in all fraternities from 12 to 1 o'clock the same day. Friday afternoon will be spent in touring the campus under the direction of the Homecoming committee.

and Friday evening has been set aside for a special feature not yet announced. Saturday open house will be held in the respective colleges primarily for those alumni who are not members of organizations. The football game in the afternoon will complete this year's reception.

Washington State College, Sept. 25.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the $20,000 beef cattle barns at the State College September 2 with all contents, some $5,000 of equipment and the winter's supply of feed for the college stock. All the animals, another $5,000 worth of purebred stock, were saved.

Washington State College, Sept. 22.—The annual Women's Walkout, sponsored by Mortar Board, women's senior honorary society, will be held September 28. At this Walkout every girl meets every other girl enrolled at the State College. This is made possible by a progressive receiving line headed by the dean of women and the members of Mortar Board.

A bonfire, food, singing, and speeches will be the features of the program, the speeches being made by presidents of the various women's clubs and honorary societies, each president explaining the objects and requirements of her respective organization.
