MASQUER TICKET SALES
ARE OFF TO FAST START

Masquer Summer Theater directors Wednesday reported brisk sales of season tickets and announced the cast of the Noel Coward comedy, "Hay Fever," which launches the summer bill Thursday, June 23.

Richard H. James, Jr., director of summer theater at the University of Montana, said season tickets offering patrons four adult admissions for the price of three may be ordered from the Drama Department by mail or telephone (243-4581) during the current subscription campaign. After the season opens June 23, tickets will be sold at regular prices for each production.

S. Joseph Nassif, associate director of summer theater and director of "Hay Fever," announced that the play is cast and is in rehearsal.

The cast features four Missoulians: Herb Carson as David Bliss, Susie Volkel as his daughter Sorel, Duncan Crump as Richard Greatham, and Dodie Norling as Jackie Coryton.

Georgia Tree, a graduate assistant from Billings, is cast as Judith Bliss, David's wife. Roger DeBourg, Red Lodge, who performed in many Masquer shows as an undergraduate at the University, plays their son Simon.

Other players are Michelle Nassif, a graduate student from Chevy Chase, Md., as Myra Arundel; Austin Gray, Neihart, as Sandy Tyrell, and Billie Marhenke, Missoula, as the maid.

The production is designed by James and costumed by Jeannie Belangie, Missoula. Assisting Director Nassif are Fred Norman, a graduate student from Phoenix, Ariz., and Joe Franey, Butte. Al Terhune, a graduate assistant from Winnebago, Minn., is chief technician.

"Hay Fever" will run in the air-conditioned Masquer Theater at 8:30 p.m., June 23-26 and June 30-July 3.
