THIS IS A LEHIGH VALLEY HEALTH NETWORK INTERNAL PUBLICATION ABOUT HAZLETON

Informatics Team to Present at a National Level

Lehigh Valley Hospital (LVH)–Hazleton’s clinical informatics team – Karen Young, RN, Marguerite Petsuck, RN, and Dan Patzek, RN – recently presented posters at the American Nursing Informatics Association (ANIA) conference held in San Francisco, CA. The posters, Breaking the Walls of Blood Transfusions to Form a Patient Safety Bridge and Burning the Medication Reconciliation Bridge, were created by the team with this year’s theme of “bridging informatics” and “patient care” in mind. Their medication reconciliation poster was selected by ANIA on its representation of the conference theme of a top patient care issue and will be developed into a national webinar to be presented by Young, Petsuck and Patzek.

Young also was awarded a national ANIA scholarship, which was presented to her at the conference. This was based on professional contribution, G.P.A., community service, and a goals statement. She is attending Misericordia University and is in her last semester for her Master’s degree in Health Informatics.

Congratulations to the clinical informatics team on their outstanding accomplishments.

Blood Drive Slated for May 12

A blood drive, sponsored by Miller-Keystone Blood Center, the exclusive supplier of blood products to LVH–Hazleton, will be held on Thursday, May 12, from noon–5 p.m. in the LVH–Hazleton lobby conference room. Register today by calling Janet Witkowski, administration, at 570-501-6204. Although you may never know the recipient(s) of your blood donation, your gift of blood today could be the gift of life to a neighbor, friend or family member tomorrow.
