ABSTRACT

This study was conducted to examine the relationship between effort, reward overcommitment and job satisfaction among academic staffs in public universities in the Northern Region of Peninsular Malaysia. A total of 331 questionnaires were distributed to academicians in four public universities and only 156 responses gathered in this study. The results showed that there is a positive significant relationship between job satisfaction and reward. Nevertheless, other factors were found to be not significant in predicting job performance among academics. Discussions elaborated on the importance of reward in understanding job satisfaction among lecturers. Finally, practical and theoretical implications, limitations of the study and recommendations for future research were also presented.

Keywords: Job Satisfaction, Effort, Reward, Overcommitment

ABSTRAK

Kajian ini dijalankan untuk mengetahui hubungan antara usaha, ganjaran, terlebih komitmen dan kepuasan kerja di kalangan kakitangan akademik di universiti awam di kawasan utara Semenanjung Malaysia. Sejumlah 331 set borang soal selidik telah diedarkan kepada kakitangan akademik di empat buah universiti awam dan hanya 156 jawapan diperolehi dalam kajian ini. Hasil kajian menunjukkan bahawa terdapat hubungan positif dan signifikan antara kepuasan kerja dan ganjaran. Walau bagaimanapun, faktor-faktor lain didapati tidak signifikan dalam meramal prestasi kerja di kalangan ahli akademik. Perbincangan selanjutnya menghuraikan kepentingan ganjaran dalam memahami kepuasan kerja di kalangan ahli akademik. Akhir sekali, turut dibentangkan mengenai implikasi teori dan praktikal, batasan kajian dan juga cadangan kajian lanjutan.

Kata kunci: Kepuasan Kerja, Usaha, Ganjaran, Terlebih Komitmen

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious and the Most Merciful

First and foremost, Thanks to the Greatest Allah SWT for giving me the strength, health and spirit to complete my project paper.

Next, I would like to express my deepest appreciation to my project paper supervisor, Dr. Johanim Johari for her valuable effort and time in providing me guidance and assistance during the entire process writing of the thesis. She has always generously given prompt feedback and useful suggestions and I am really appreciating from the bottom of my heart.

Furthermore, my gratitude goes to my friends, especially Nor Ajmah Mohd Yassin, Nur Asilah Mohd Taib, Nurul Fidtriyah Abdul Malik, Noraini Mohamad and Zati Iwani Zulkarnain who willing to help me by giving their ideas, knowledge and necessary information. Besides that, they are also continuously assisting to enhance my understanding toward research matters by sharing research materials.

Most importantly my love and thanks goes to my father Kamarol Bahrin Ahmad Zuhdi, my mother Saelah Halim and my family for their endless encouragement, loves, sacrifices, and patience throughout my study period. Without them it will be hard for me to complete this research and finish my study.

Last but not least, many thanks to those who had directly and indirectly given me assistance throughout my study.

Thank you so much. May Allah bless us!

CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction

This chapter is about the background of Malaysian higher education institutions and the importance of academic staff satisfactions in order to achieve government future plans and strategies. This chapter also, highlighted the problem statement for this study, research questions, research objectives, significance of the study, scope and definition of key terms. Finally, the chapter presented the organization of the research.

1.2 Background of the Study

Education is one of the important aspects in any nation and has a significant influence on everybody's life. It is an essential instrument to ensure the growth, development and success of any country. According to Peril and Promise (2000), education plays an important role in strengthening the social and development for enhancing the standard. This means, education gives a positive effect on generating an advanced community and improving the standard of human life. Through education people can become more civilized in their society. An uneducated people and society cannot become successful because they did not have the knowledge that can develop their minds. In addition the importance of education is undeniable because by having an educated people can gain respect and recognition from others.
