BASEBALL MEN ALL SET FOR OPENING GAME

SCHOUTEN'S VETERANS MUST STEP LIVELY; ROOKIES SHOW EXCELLENT ABILITY

Hope's athletic interests have turned from basketball to baseball. Coach Schouten has had a large squad of candidates under his tutelage for several weeks and, although weather conditions have forced them to stay in the gym, nevertheless Jack has had opportunity to select some good material.

For his pitching staff Jack has Albers, a veteran of three years, and Cole, who looked good last year. Bekken seems to be the best bet from the rookies. Jack is grooming De Velder for the backstop position. De Velder is "experienced in college baseball, but shows a willingness to work and should make good. First base seems to be the weak spot of the infield due to the graduation of Van Lente. Japinga will probably be given a chance at this position. De Groot at shortstop, Elenbaas at second base, and Vanden Brink at third are veterans but they will have to step very lively as the new men are pushing them hard. In the outfield Jack has three veteran candidates in Bovenkerk, Damson and De Pree. Hope is sure of producing a winning nine if the new men show up well.

But in order to win their games the team needs the student body at their games. It has been the tendency for the students to stay away from the games and as a result there is but a handful of rooters. Manager Bovenkerk has booked some interesting games. Hope will tackle opposition when they play Kalamazoo Normal, Notre Dame, Kalamazoo college, Michigan State College and St. Mary's.

With the student body behind the coach and the team Hope will come through a victorious season.

"Y" MEN AT SPARTA HI-Y CONFERENCE

Three Hope college men acted as discussion group leaders at the Kent County Older Boys Hi-Y Conference, held at Sparta March 26, 27, 28. The personnel of the trio was Neil Van Oostenberg, Roy Nattress, and Lester Kuyper. These men were sent out under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and this is another incident of the good work the college "Y" is doing, not only upon our own campus, but also in the nearby counties.

"I'm going to get an awful kick out of this," said the steward, as he bit the horse on the ankle."

VAN VLECKITES ELECT HOUSE COMMITTEE

Tuesday night, March 23, after Y. M. a meeting of all Van Vleckites was called at the Pilgrims' Home for the purpose of electing new house committee members. Bruno Bruns was unanimously elected House President for the coming year. Cornelius (Percy) Mullenberg was chosen as his assistant in keeping the peace on the second floor. On the first tier of cells Jack Soeter and Richard Jager, Van Vleck's promising merchant, were chosen as officials of the house committee. In this instance it was decided by the group that the most efficient noise makers, if placed in authority, would best enforce quiet hours. The third and last floor of the Home is represented by John Tysse and Bill Hughes on the committee. Hughes suffered a relapse upon having this position of dignity thrust upon him, but has since recovered nicely. Si Wiersma was a candidate, but since his duties in "square deal sailing" are heavy he resigned. The matter of having fire escapes provided was brought up by John De Bell, and one of the last acts of the retiring president was to appoint a committee to look into the matter. A few more details of business were looked after and then all adjourned to their several dens.

Y. M. C. A.

The last of a series of illustrated lectures on the life of Christ was given by Prof. Hinkamp on March 23, before a meeting of the two Y associations. The views of this lecture dealt with the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ. Some of the most remarkable paintings of all ages were thrown upon the screen and with them Prof. Hinkamp gave a very beautiful review of the passion week of the Saviour. The agony of His death and the joyousness of his resurrection were very vividly shown by the pictures Mr. Hinkamp showed. Many helpful Bible passages were also quoted by him so that the true meaning of Christ's mission was shown more clearly than ever.

TRUE TO HISTORY PRESENTATION OF HERO OF REFORMATION

The classic eight reel moving picture, "Martin Luther, His Life and Time," will be shown in Carnegie Hall on April 14th, afternoon and evening. This will probably be the only opportunity that the people of Holland will have to see this great historical and educational picture of the life and times of Martin Luther.

It is a true to history presentation of a great hero of the Reformation. It is full of action, dramatic, gripping and fascinating. It brings the message of four hundred years ago that is equally needed today. This picture will change the mere historic figure of Martin Luther into a living personality that will become a living force for good in our community and in our own personal lives.

This picture is being shown throughout the country by the "Lutheran Film Co. Inc." with great success and is strengthening the Protestant church to establish and maintain a more

CONTEST REVEALS EXTRAORDINARY TALENT IN ALL CLASSES

The annual Raven Contest in Oratory, held in Winants Chapel Thursday evening, March 25, proved to be a contest of the highest quality throughout. Most of the orations were of such high quality and the orators so evenly matched that the judges had a difficult task in picking the winners. When the ratings given by the different judges were compared it was found that the first award was won by Russell Damstra and the second prize went to Neil Van Oostenberg. The first and second prizes consist of thirty and twenty dollars respectively, which will be presented to the winners on commencement evening. The A. A. Raven prize in Oratory was established in 1908. The winner of the first award will represent Hope college in the contest of the Michigan Oratorical League next year.

In addition to the two juniors who won the prizes honorable mention must be given Lester Bossard, a sophomore, who won third place, and Jacob Pelon, a freshman, winner of fourth place.

The Raven contest is open to all college men except seniors, and we believe that the growing interest in this contest is one reason for Hope's high rating in the M. O. L. This year some twenty-five young men entered into competition for the Raven Contest, of whom the following seven entered the finals:

- Henry Burggraaf—"A Corrected Vision."
- George Cluennou—"Your Charge and Mine."
- Glen Severance—"The Constitution."
- Russell Damstra—"East Versus West."
- Jacob Pelon—"No Weapon Shall Prosper."
- Neil Van Oostenberg—"Thy Neighbor."
- Lester Bossard—"A New Spirit of Diplomacy."

SENIORS WIN INTER-CLASS TOURNAMENT

The Hope College inter-class basketball tournament failed to break precedent and the Seniors copped the tournament with a perfect score. The Juniors and Freshmen were tied at .400 per cent with the Sophs. trailing at .200 per cent.

- The final results were:
- Sophs. 12; Frosh 9.
 - Juniors 11; Seniors 21.
 - Seniors 13; Sophs. 11.
 - Juniors 15; Frosh 16.
 - Juniors 10; Sophs 8.
 - Seniors 15; Frosh 13.
 - Frosh 20; Sophs 6.
 - Seniors 12; Juniors 11.
 - Juniors 17; Sophs 16.
 - Juniors 10; Frosh. 9.

United Protestant front in their religious activities. It is through the efforts of the Hope College Y. M. C. A. that Holland people will have this rare opportunity to see this wonderful religious, educational, and inspiring picture.

The afternoon presentation will begin at 4 o'clock, giving all the school children an opportunity to see this production. The evening presentation will begin at 8 o'clock. Admission for children will be 25 cents, for adults 50 cents.

MANY HOPE GRADUATES TO BE TEACHERS

FIFTY-FOUR HOPE COLLEGE SENIORS TO TEACH NEXT FALL IS PLAN

A great deal of work which is done at Hope college that is seldom heard of in Holland, outside of the local campus, is the work of the appointment bureau, of which Prof. Egbert Winter of the Educational Dept. is secretary. This committee has annually the task of securing positions for the seniors who expect to teach in the various schools in Michigan and surrounding states.

Last year sixty-one of the ninety odd graduates were placed in the positions they were fitted for. This year there are approximately fifty-four seniors who are working for their state teachers' certificates and, in addition to granting the certificates, a position is to be found for each one. Twenty-three of the present class who are planning to teach are from Holland.

A few weeks ago an annual booklet was issued containing the names and qualifications of the various seniors. They are sent to practically all school superintendents of Michigan. In addition the local committee is linked up with like committees from other state colleges. The secretaries meet at Ann Arbor frequently to discuss the circumstances connected with this work.

Every year the number of teachers going out from the local college mounts, until at the present time a fairly large percentage of total graduates have chosen that profession after leaving Hope.

In order to enlarge the scope of this work, plans are under way for the visitation of all Hope teachers, and securing written reports of their work, both for the purpose of helping the teachers in their teaching experience and to form closer relations between the superintendents of the state and Hope college.

Hope teachers have obtained an enviable reputation for scholarship, character and willingness to co-operate in the various communities in which they have been placed.

In sending out these graduates with a Christian education as teachers, Hope is fulfilling one of the worthy ideals of her founders, namely to prepare Christian teachers and ministers. Seniors working for state certificates:

- Albers, Stanley, Hamilton, Mich.
- Anderson, Margaret M., Kansas, O.
- Banninga, Edith D., Grand Rapids, Mich.
- Barkema, Anne, Holland, Mich.
- Bayles, Marthena, New Brunswick, N. J.
- Bos, Henry, Hudsonville, Mich.

ed that the thing modern college students need is vision. Mr Rader ridiculed the conceit that is so often shown by the modern college man and he strongly emphasized the need of religious insight and outlook. His illustrations were amusing but tremendously fitting. His final appeal to the students was to let Christ come into our lives and to transform us unto His likeness.

LUKE RADER HOLDS GOSPEL MEETINGS

RADIO EVANGELIST DAILY INSPIRES MANY

During the past two weeks evangelistic meetings have been held in Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the Churchford mission. These meetings were conducted by members of Paul Rader's mission of Chicago. Luke Rader had charge of the preaching service, aided by Mr Johnson, song leader and soloist, Mrs Luke Rader, soloist, and Mr Latham, a master of the piano. Each of these persons is very capable in his special line so that Holland people were especially favored with this talent.

The chapel exercises of Friday morning March 26, were conducted by this group. The piano and vocal solos given by Mr Latham and Mrs Rader were very much appreciated by the students, as was also the singing, led by the radio announcer, Mr. Johnson. A splendid address was given by Mr. Luke Rader. He declar-

NEITHER SICK NOR DISGUSTED

A little disagreement now and then; we all relish it, don't we? And that is probably why the "battle of words" between Disgusted and Uncle Bim has been watched with interest by the majority of Hope students. Mr. Hunter is disgusted, and instead of whispering it to his friends, he broadcasts it to the world at large; it is printed in the Anchor. That was final. It does our hearts good to find someone with courage of his convictions; some one who is willing to face the consequences; for of course, a statement like that is bound to find opponents.

So along came Uncle Bim, who, in a lengthy and more flowery flow of rhetoric, attempted to answer the charge made by Disgusted. And we say "attempted" because the general opinion seems to be that the sick but optimistic Uncle missed the entire point of Disgusted's tirade. The plot thickens.

Whether the affair is ended or not remains to be seen; but one thing is certain: there is an insistent and growing demand that athletics play a bigger part in our college life, and the demand is a worthy and laudable one. It is our opinion that Disgusted meant not so much to condemn our oratorical celebration as to convince us of the need of more "pep" and energy in our athletic activities. And who can deny that need?

After coming from a high school where those who miss a football game are slackers, and where mass meetings with bonfires and all the other accompaniments are held before the big games (and this is a perfectly normal school), it is almost enough to disgust any one to see the delegation that watches Hope's football games. Our basketball games are better, but we could show a great deal more enthusiasm without having a bit too much. Our chances for victory are bound to improve with the growth of our desire for victory.

Perhaps we, too, have missed the point of Disgusted's argument. But we still maintain that, while it is excellent to encourage our orators and to celebrate their victories, it is just as essential for the reputation of our college that we show more interest in athletics.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:—
Let me repeat the letter of March 17 that brought such a storm from Uncle Bim. "Imagine a bunch of supposed-to-be-he-men going crazy because a lady and a gentleman rank high among the school orators of the state. Is it normal or abnormal? Does it take place in any of the other colleges of the state? Let us use the same energy in talking up our athletic activities. Perhaps victory is not as certain or the coaching as excellent, but victory is none the less sweet. Why not have a spring foot-ball practice for everybody? Let us plan now for victories on the football field next fall. Then we may have a genuine celebration. I am disgusted because Hope students went crazy in the celebration of a forensic victory and not because it was fittingly celebrated. I am disgusted because Hope students do not vocally support their teams. Ask Jake or George if this is done at the games and look into your own experience and see if it is done before the game. There are very few students at Hope who come home hoarse from a game that the team lost. I am disgusted because Hope students are all there when victory seems to be certain. Then we compliment the coach. When material is poor and indifferent then we give the coach the royal razz. If my statement regarding the coaches is taken as a slur on the athletic coach, I most sincerely retract it. However, it does reflect the attitude of large numbers of the students on our campus and it is with them that I am disgusted.

So I remain, still,
DISGUSTED.

STUDENT FORUM

I am thankful for a student forum in which to relieve myself of a few thoughts. The first thing that hangs heavy upon me is the honor system. Freshmen usually feel greatly shocked the way it is abused. Sophomores are very apt to take advantage of it to the fullest and Juniors and Seniors seem to be absolutely oblivious to its many faults. Probably at no college is there such a thing as a perfect honor system but our honor system is abused to such an extent that it is the same as none at all. It is obviously unfair for the dishonest student to receive marks based not on his knowledge of the subject in hand but on his much vaunted ability to gyp. There is only one plausible solution since the present enforcement machinery has absolutely failed. Every one of our literary societies should adopt an honor code for itself along similar and more stringent lines than the present college code. In signing the pledge the members should sign the name of their society together with the words "Student of Hope College." This should prove an acid test for the society's loyalty to the college and of the individual member's loyalty to the society.

The second problem that hangs equally as heavy is the subject of absences both unexcused and excused. This can be better stated in one question. Is it fair to cut tests and take a test when the questions are known? This is a common practice under our present system and its results do not encourage the conscientious student to do better work.

Yours,
REFORMER,

Alumni News

Raymond Lull Zwemer, '23, has been appointed to a national research fellowship at Harvard University for next year. For the past three years Mr. Zwemer has been teaching and doing research work at Yale University, where he received a scholarship after leaving Hope. The fellowship amounts to $2,300 a year, and calls for full time effort in research work.

Dr. E. J. Blekkink, D. D., has recently been elected a member-at-large of the Pi Gamma Nu, a national Social Science Honor Society. Dr. Blekkink will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of his ordination this year. For the past fourteen years he has been on the faculty of the Western Theological Seminary.

Helene Van Kersen, '25, was unfortunate enough to have to undergo a serious operation for appendicitis while visiting in Pontiac, Michigan. Fortunately she is recovering nicely. Jeanette Top, '24, had a most unpleasant shock at Big Rapids, where she is teaching in the high school, on last Friday night. As she was returning to her boarding house thru a dark alley after dining downtown, she was fired on. She was uninjured, but had a nervous collapse upon reaching her room. All Big Rapids is excited about the "sniper", who has not yet been caught.

Anne Voskuil, '25, has been engaged as a teacher in the Big Rapids High School, and has already begun her work. Three other Hope graduates, Jeanette Top, Mary Boer, and Edna Reeverts are also on the teaching staff there.

Thomas De Vries, '23, has been appointed to take charge of the department of physical chemistry at Purdue University. Mr. De Vries, who is only 24 years old, was a student in the physical chemistry department of the University of Illinois when he received the offer. He has already taken over his new duties. He was valedictorian of his class, and received his Master's degree at Illinois in 1924 after a year spent there on a scholarship. During his two years there a scholarship and an assistant professorship in physical chemistry have also been granted him. This year he has been working toward a fellowship, an honor which was recently conferred on him.

Campusology

The latest book added to Hope's library is very unique in character. It is a necessary book, beginning a list of "Proper Amusements for College Students." The college is indeed fortunate to be the recipient of such a gift. The donors wish to be unknown, but to give them proper credit modesty allows that all appreciation should be given to the freshman and junior classes. It is entitled, "How to Play Wink."

In the preface to this book one learns that in these days of pleasure seeking and ennui youth resorts to anything. However, Wink is not anything. It is a most successful ice-breaker, if ice exists between college boys and girls. This condition may just be the natural fear of the male for the wiles of women.

After two years of college life juniors are tired of all amusements. The old cry of "Something New" increases. The "Frosh" are still new and in the age when anything delights. This accounts for resorting to primitive ways of amusement, such as "Wink" and "Farmer-in-the-Dell." The latter is in the form of old fashioned dances, now being revived. To be beautifully executed, the participants must indeed be graceful. The vocal cords are also given ample exercise in this splendid game.

The game of "Wink" calls for a number of pretty girls. This is essential. They are placed on chairs in circular groups. One vacant chair should be provided, but if the game lags, two are permissible. Behind each chair a good-looking boy is stationed. They must be good winkers, strong, and quick to act. Attentive girls are most desirable. Clever ones easily elude the clutch of the grasping male. When the game begins to go slowly reverse, and let the boys be seated. Girls being naturally fickle, let the boys be winked away too easily. Women like variety. If you tire of the game stop and let your eyes rest by gazing at the ceiling or the floor. After two hours you will have spent a most successful and delightful evening. The only objection to the game

The Ox Woman

On an East Indian farm, where the crop is tea, a wooden plow turns up the rich black soil. A woman drives, another woman pulls—and a black ox pulls beside her.

Six hours under a tropical sun, a bowl of cold rice—and six hours more. Then the woman goes to her bed of rushes, and the beast to his mud stall. Tomorrow will be the same.

The American home has many conveniences. But many American women often work as hard as their Oriental sisters. They toil at the washtub, they carry water, they churn by hand—all tasks which electricity can do for them at small cost, in half the time.

The labor-saving possibilities of electricity are constantly becoming more widely recognized. And the social significance of the release of the American woman from physical drudgery, through the increasing use of electricity in and about the home, will appeal instantly to every college man and woman.

The electric light, the electric iron, the vacuum cleaner—the use of electricity on the farm for pumping water, for milking, and for the cream separator—are helping to make life happier. General Electric research and engineering have aided in making these conveniences possible.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

Questions

In what way can the question column be improved?

To give suggestions for improvements along any single line of work or thought is a dangerous task, because in so doing, there is an unconscious tendency of conveying a thought which would imply that you could do better than the man who has been appointed for that specific duty. If that thought should chance to materialize we must make the logical deduction that the aspirants for the job are many. Since that is absolutely beside the question we can proceed without insinuations. The Reporter has thus far done very commendable work; all the questions have been timely and very interesting. However, the suggestion which I would make is that he be more regular. Have articles in every week instead of skipping a week now and then.

—Henry Burggraaff, '27

I think the question column could be improved if once, in a while two people were to take opposite sides of a question, and write their opinions. For instance, some such moot question as: "Is the World Going Straight to the Bow-Wows?"

Discreet revelation—not display—is charm's secret

Patrician elegance in dress is discreet and charming revelation of the feminine figure, not a bold display. Walk-Over shoes have that same style secret. Here is one of many smart and dainty styles, made to reveal the lithe, attractive grace of the youthful foot, with added loveliness in the quiet beauty of clinging fit, and the unmistakable smartness of Walk-Over quality.

Humor

THE LOST KEY A Mid-Night Drama

Caste:
Hero—Ted.
Heroine—Cornelia.
Warm Friend—Josh.
He—"Good Night."
She—"Good Night."
Soliloquy by Hero: "What a splendid night."
Action scene. Ted makes a grand dash for Van Vleck Hall. Our Hero stops suddenly as he reaches the third floor.
Rapid thought. My key.
Further action. Frantic search.
KEY GONE!
Hero hastens to Seminole Hall. Attempt to call Heroine by phone proves futile.
Hero sleeps with Warm Friend.
Next Day. Ted visits his classes in his Sunday suit.
Another search. Heroine finds lost key beside armchair.
Moral: Don't lose your keys.

Gebhard doesn't know where the lights are at Poppen's because he never uses them.

Although this is supposed to be a humor column the editors feel that at this psychological moment it becomes both necessary and expedient that we should run a series of adds for the general financial betterment of the student body at large, or to be more explicit, for that type of non-essential student of mechanical arts who persistently peruses that well known science entitled organic Fordology. Petitions are in order for a new chair to seat his royal carbureter William McCullough Tuttle. We could suggest an efficient and experienced collaborating staff:

Doc Galman—Racing expert
John De Bell—Systematic and Scientific Parking.

Tim Cramer—Rear-end efficiency.
Dick Mallery—How to be happy tho arrested, etc.

Laboratory fees—$.25 per hour.
Tuition $1.00 down and $10 when we catch you.

For Sale—Cheap. 1 For. l. Good references. Registered and pedigreed. Gerard C. Pool. Call anytime after midnight. Pilgrim's Home, R. F. D. Answers to the name of David.

Personal

Will the man, woman, or child who took Clyde's flat tire please give it the air.

Kloote: "How is the shoe business?"
Hemkes: "It is very trying—off and on."

She: "And all he did was pour out sweet nothings."
He: "Ah! So he carries Life Savers too?"

Den Herder: "Say bo, got a cigarette?"
Hatfield: "Sure, want to see it?"

Next Year At Hope
'28: "I lost control of my Ford yesterday."
'27: "How come?"
'28: "The prexy found out about it."

The lowest man I ever knew, Borrowed my teeth, and asked for a chew.

The only difference graduation makes in a man is that "this blamed place" becomes the "dear old Alma Mater."

Killey's in love!
IMAGINE THAT!!!!??

Reporter: "Whose funeral is that?"
Bystander: "John Brown's".
Reporter: "You don't mean it!"
Bystander: "What do you think he's doing—practicing?"
