Married Here Start Trip Down Mississippi

MAY GO TO SOUTH AMERICA
OR RETURN VIA NEW YORK.
WILL DECIDE WHEN GULF OF MEXICO IS REACHED

A very interesting article appears in Grand Rapids Herald telling of a venturesome young couple who are right now floating down the Mississippi river having skirted the shores of Lake Michigan to Chicago then via the canal to "The Father of Waters" before starting in their matrimonial work. A week ago they were married in Holland. The story by a staff reporter follows:

By Doris E. Moore
In Grand Rapids Herald

People have been embarking on the grand adventure of married life for decades—but not so literally as Melvin Jelsema and his wife, Marjorie. These two Grand Rapids young folk spoke their vows last Friday in Holland and dashed over to Grand Haven to embark on their honeymoon.

The Vanastorbits can have their acres of yachts for honeymoons and fishing trips, so far as the Jelsemas are concerned—they began a voyage Friday from the Grand Haven pier in a 26-foot, two-masted auxiliary ketch, the hull of which is a coast guard boat, made over by the young bridegroom especially for the wedding trip—the first part of which will last if everything goes well, about a year.

The two, in their "Viking," will follow the shoreline of Lake Michigan to Chicago, where they will spend a few days, and meet, they hope, paint company officials (the brand they used on their boat) and a radio corporation president (the ketch has a radio, too). After their stay there, they will leave through the drainage canal into the Illinois river, which they will follow about 840 miles and hit the Mississippi north of East St. Louis. There their trip really will begin.

They'll sail down the Mississippi at their leisure, stopping at such points of interest as Memphis, Tenn., Baton Rouge and New Orleans down to the Gulf of Mexico where, probably, the first major decision of their married life will be made—whether to go to Florida or to follow the Central American coastline. However, if their luck holds out and they can make a deal with someone to obtain a larger boat, perhaps a 45-foot schooner, they'll go on to South America—and the real adventure.

To see the world
In this event, there will be no settling down for the Jelsemas for probably five years. They both believe in seeing the world through young eyes. But, if they can't sell the "Viking," they'll go up the coast to New York and return home in about a year—which is quite a honeymoon anyway it's looked at.

Mrs. Jelsema, formerly Miss Marjorie Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burton, 1053 Chatham st., N.W., at 21, is practically as good a sailor as her husband. She's been at it for four years and, besides her sailing ability, she writes, so she will keep a diary of their trip, for publication in fiction form. She, however, hasn't seen so much of the country as her husband, Chicago is the extent of her travels.

This trip will be Mr. Jelsema's third attempt to get into South America. He's tried hitch-hiking, hopping freight trains and stowing away on boats. In 1933 he hid on board the Rotterdam at Galveston, Tex., and got as far as Havana, Cuba, before he was discovered and sent back to New Orleans. But this time he hopes it's in the bag. He has also traveled through every state but the New England group and Montana. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jelsema, 1532 Clyde Park ave., SW.

Lucille and Jimmy are visiting in Ellsworth.

Proclamation

THE RED CROSS
Mayor Gives Message

It not only is a pleasure, but a duty I owe, to speak a few words in behalf of the American Red Cross.

Throughout the nation a drive for membership will begin at a most auspicious time, namely Armistice Day, and it is altogether fitting that the drive here in Holland and elsewhere in Ottawa county, be under the auspices of the American Legion.

No one could possibly know better what the Red Cross has meant to suffering humanity—suffering because of malice, greed, race hatred and jealousies have brought appalling results through a war in which the veterans participated.

The American men, the flower of the nation know from observation the sacrifices, the dangers, pestilence and death that these "Angels of Mercy" had to cope with during that terrible slaughter.

The Red Cross nurses were fairly under the cannons' mouth, there was no malice in their hearts, no hatred in their souls, but there was a great willingness to minister to the suffering and to make more easy the short span left for the dying, regardless of creed, color or nationality.

Any words I might say, as this relates to the work of the Red Cross in war or peace, would be weak testimonials as compared to the beacon lights of achievement which we all know about.

I only wish to add that I heartily endorse the campaign to be launched in Holland and if I can be of any service during this time, American Legion, I am yours to command. Sincerely and mutually,
Nicomemus Bosch—Mayor.

PRINCIPAL RIEMERSMA HEAD OF GRAND JURY

The law and courtroom will be an interesting study to Holland educators. At least three school men are now serving on the grand jury, convening in federal court and presided over by Judge Raymond.

Principal Riemersma, who is a juror, has been chosen foreman of the grand jury and Leon Moody, also of the high school faculty is serving as a member of the jury.

Wm. Arendshorst of the board of education was drawn on the traverse or trial jury. The grand jury serves first to find out whether there is evidence enough in the different cases to warrant a trial before the traverse jury.

This trial jury starts work after the grand jury is through and has voted "true bills," which means that there is evidence enough to warrant a trial.

Your editor was secretary of the grand jury just thirty years ago and a jury seldom fails to bring "true bills," since Uncle Sam's men play a waiting game against an offender, getting half a dozen indictments rather than one or two.

Any way, it's a most interesting study and serving on a jury of that kind is not only a duty but a privilege.

FENVILLE TO HAVE $10,000 DEPOT

The Pere Marquette budget for 1936 includes a $10,000 brick depot at Fenville.

Our neighbor to the south is by far the best station on the line compared with population of towns as large and larger. Here is the outlet for thousands of acres of fruit and celery and fruit buyers come in large numbers to this heart of the "fruit belt." Many buyers from large city markets have made permanent homes there and the fruit appeal has made this the summer playground for hundreds every season.

A few weeks ago the old red depot which had served for more than a half century, was burned with all contents including the old cat, the depot pet for years, and now an old box car has been temporarily rigged into a station. Fenville deserves a new station and undoubtedly the P. M. is planning accordingly.

Holland Will Do Its Share For Red Cross

"ANGELS OF MERCY" WILL NOT BE GIVEN DEAF
EAR WHEN LEGION-
AIRES MAKE DRIVE

Armistice Day auspicious occasion when drive is to start in city and county

The Holland City News predicts that Holland and its environs will go over the top easily during the membership drive in behalf of the American Red Cross.

Holland knows what the Red Cross means. This tremendous group are "Angels of Mercy" during periods of dire distress. It would be superfluous to enumerate the monuments that the American Red Cross has built for itself—only recently in the World War and right now in the Ethiopian-Italian conflict.

This nation has indelibly printed upon its mind the work of the Red Cross within our own borders, among the flood sufferers, the earthquakes in California and recently in Montana. When the blasts of a tropical storm left a wake of death and destruction in Florida recently, the Red Cross was on the scene within the hour.

At a recent meeting Mr. C. C. Wood of Holland was made county chairman of this drive and after organizing Holland through the good offices of the Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion, he has been right on his toes organizing the rest of the county. He made several contacts yesterday and is out again today.

In Zeeland the Karsten post, American Legion will be in charge of the drive with Commander Simon Elhart as chairman. All Zeeland citizens there are getting back of this organization in order that Zeeland may fill its quota of more than 300 members.

In Vriesland F. W. Van Haisma is the chairman; in Jamesville, Lewis Zagers; in Hudsonville, George V. Steketee; Allendale, Fannie Thayer; Coopersville, Mrs. John Laug. This list will be augmented by this evening with chairmen from every part of Ottawa county.

Holland is to put on quite a pretentious drive. The curb flags will be out during the entire campaign—only the Red Cross flag will alternate with the stars and stripes—first an American flag and in the next socket a Red Cross flag and so on down the street. This arrangement is very auspicious since there is no organization that follows the flag as does the Red Cross, even in times of war. It is not an organization for war, but a fine body of women and men who endeavor to ally the suffering that war brings.

They strive to heal the appalling residue left by war. They are the healers of a distressed humanity. Friend or foe, the soft hand of the Red Cross is extended to all alike.

The membership in the Red Cross is but one dollar and up according to what the heart and pocketbook dictates. When the Legionnaires call, respond quickly, according to your means.

The entire city will be organized into groups and the chairman of these groups is to be Ernest V. Hartman, at one time Commander of the local post. At a legion meeting held in the city hall last night definite and final arrangements were made to start the drive on Armistice Day, next Monday, to continue until Holland goes "over the top."

You can aid these different groups by being prepared when they call. Successful contacts the first time save so much time for busy men than if calls have to be made repeatedly to secure the membership.

It might be interesting to know that a former Holland man, Dr. Wm. De Kleine, a former physician here and a graduate from our local institution is head of the medical department of the Red Cross at Washington, D. C. and surely he will look with interest when he finds that Ottawa county, where he was born, stands near the top of the list.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN ON GRAND HAVEN BOARD

Dr. E. J. Hoek, Grand Haven dentist, was appointed to fill a vacancy in the board of education Tuesday night after the board discovered it functioned for six years without the seven members required of a third class school district board. Under an act of the state legislature in 1929, all fourth class school boards automatically became third class and were to consist of seven instead of six members. He is a brother of Ray Hoek of Holland.

At Tavern, Sixty Attended Dinner

Sixty members and alumni of the Knickerbocker society of Hope college celebrated the 26th birthday of the organization Saturday night at a dinner in the main dining room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

James Ver Meulen of Grand Rapids and Ralph Muller of Zeeland were speakers. John M. Vander Meulen, Jr., president of the active chapter, was toastmaster. Herman Van Ark, a senior class member, presented a toast to the society.

Music was furnished by Richard Niessink of Kalamazoo. A feature of the program was the presentation of a miniature gavel to the Rev. Richard L. Vander Berg of Zeeland, president of the Knickerbocker Alumni association, by Mr. Vander Meulen.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. Simon Denuyl is buying apples at De Grondwet building on River street. Last week he shipped a car load of Michigan apples to Minnesota and they were beautiful.

There is only about six inches of mud on the county roads leading into Holland and farmers entering town with their teams resemble the Dakota "dugouts" on wheels, and Main street is little better than the rural road. Note: Your editor remembers when wagons sank into the mud batter on 8th street nearly to the hubs. The main street was a mixture of gravel and clay with the latter oozing through in wet weather. What a blessing concrete and "black top" has been in this vicinity. A motor car could never have negotiated the terrible roads around this city fifty years ago.

There is quite a scrap in Holland over the postmaster's post. The entire city wants to see Wm. Verbeek returned—a man who has ably conducted the office for 21 years. The news has a column story on the political fracas and seemed to especially favor Mr. Verbeek. The files of the News states: "Mr. Verbeek has every right to hold that office upon every principle of civil service. Everyone in Holland concedes that no effort should be made to 'bounce' Mr. Verbeek. But despite the Holland sentiment the political gods at Washington have decided that Mr. Verbeek has got to 'get up and get' despite the home wishes." Note: Applicants at that time for the place were Joe Allen, for many in the Knights of Labor party; John Verschure, A. C. and W. M. mail clerk, who was supported by all Holland railroad men; Fillmore Bird, a son-in-law of Jan Roost, a political power in Holland, and Jacob G. Van Putten, who came from a strong Democratic family in the early days. The Van Puttens living in Holland today all belong to this family tree. The final outcome was when Jacob G. Van Putten was appointed by President Grover Cleveland and already at that time Ed Westveer, recent postmaster, was seen at the stamp window. The News spoke of civil service. At that time this law was not yet in existence although the Democrats made much of drafting this law in their campaign platform, therefore the friends of Mr. Verbeek pointed this out as a reason for his retention.

Civil service is now in vogue but does not include postmasters. That position is still a political plum to be passed around with every change of administration. Mr. Verbeek was a fine gentleman, loved by everyone. He later entered the furniture business. Mr. Van Putten later became a manufacturer and was head of the Holland Furniture Co. for years. He was elected mayor repeatedly and held other positions of public trust. Both men were good public citizens and servants. The political scrap then was better by in spite of it the post office remains always well conducted, the principals have long since passed away and "time marches on."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

After the election an all night session. The aldermen were so sleepy very little was done at the council meeting the night following and after a few minutes adjournment took place, much to the relief of the "city fathers." Note: At this election Warren G. Harding, president and vice president. Ottawa county gave the above named Republican candidates more than 5,500 majority over Democratic candidate Cox of Ohio. Delbert Fortney was elected sheriff over Patrolman Sam Meuwesen, Democrat of Holland; Orrie Sluiter was elected clerk, John Den Herder, treasurer; James Danhof, judge of probate; G. W. Kooyers state representative; Henry Siersma, drain commissioner; Fred T. Miles, prosecutor. Governor Groesbeck defeated Democratic candidate Woodbridge N. Ferris for governor by a vote of 2,654 to 1,229.

Mrs. George Schulling narrowly escaped electrocution when the current from an electric flat iron she was using shot through her body and she was unable to release her hand from the handle. As she fell to the floor the cord was pulled out of the socket and this, it is believed, saved her life. Mrs. Schulling was at home alone.

Russell Baumgartel and Paul Purdy of Grand Rapids had a day off in school because of teachers' convention and hiked all the way to Holland to visit their friends, Wm. C. Vanden Berg and Vaudie Vanden Berg of the local oil company. They made the trip in eight hours. No "hitch hiking" then yet.

John Du Mez has raised a second crop of strawberries on his farm at Lugers crossing. The berries are on display in the Du Mez Bros. show windows.

Rev. H. Harmelink, a graduate of Hope and seminary, was very agreeably surprised when the congregation of the First Reformed church of Zeeland, through their spokesman, presented him with a purse of $556.

Van Raalte Home As A Museum Is Suggested

SEVERAL MEMBERS
JOIN EXCHANGE CLUB

The Exchange Club members here discuss the all sorts of topics. You've heard the title saying, "The death headed the feast." Well, it isn't as bad as that, but Ray A. Brown of Greenview gave a pretty good idea of the life of an undertaker.

Brown is a sunny sort and didn't have the undertaker complex so often pictured in the cartoons. Undoubtedly it's all in the day's work. He gave an interesting historic review of Egyptian Mummy days and embalming which began more than 5,000 years ago under King Tut. He stated that all oriental countries had strange methods of burial, at least, so considered by the civilized nations. He mentioned Dr. T. Holmes as the founder of modern embalming.

Mr. Arthur Visser as the next speaker was enthusiastic over several projects that might be considered as a benefit to the city, among them the retention of the Holland County club, a good old fashioned Fourth of July celebration, a community boat so all might enjoy Holland's inland lake, and a "little 'Nederland'" with a real mill. He also suggested that the old Van Raalte homestead at the east limits be set aside as a museum where curios and relics connected with Holland might be shown.

Members added to the club since June 30, 1935, are: Theodore Baker, Charles Van Zven, M. Everett Dick, Carl F. Cook, Nelson Miles, Cornie Kragt, Sam McCoy, Dr. Garrett Heyns, James McDaniels, Henry Brusse, George Mool, Rexford Chapman, Irvine Wolbrink, Fern H. Ault, Dr. Gabriel Bos, Jack Bos, Russell Boeve.

President Jacob Prit, presented a "Certificate of Service" certificate to each Exchangeite.

HOLLAND FURNACE CO. SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Substantial business gains by the Holland Furnace Co. revealed in a quarterly financial statement today offered further indications that Holland is reaching a normal industrial trend.

Continuing its summer pace which black ink took place of red, the net earnings of the plant are well over a half million dollars.

The Geese Fly High

By Albert Stoll, Jr.
In Detroit News

Indian Summer is ended; cold weather is on the way; look for a cold, long winter, these and other discouraging weather forecasts come to us on the wings of the wild geese as they wind their way south in answer to the migratory urge. But as prophets of what is to come, the wild geese are no different than any other wild creature. They are merely preparing for the time when Old Boreas spreads his blanket of desolation over their northern breeding grounds; ice-locking and snow-covering every semblance of food and refuge. Wild geese know that this is to follow shortly after their progeny take to the air with strong wing beats. They know that there will be no solace and comfort for them in their northern breeding ranges for the next few months, so nature sends them south to a more hospitable climate where food is no problem and refuge and sanctuary are abundant.

This migratory urge may come on the heels of a blustery, cold storm that may take hold of the flocks with a suddenness that must be startling to the birds themselves and for no apparent reason. But they must migrate just as certainly as the sun rises and sets at night. Many times we have had early migrations of wild geese, possibly urged by unusual weather disturbances, and following this the flocks will linger for weeks along the migratory route, basking and feeding in winter wheat fields and resting on the placid surface of some adjacent lake. They appear in no hurry to reach the marshes and deltas of the South and are content so long as food is abundant. And this year is no different than others, for wild geese have been observed for the last few weeks in flocks of varying sizes winging their way to sunshine and plenty. There is no mistaking their kind for the faint honk of the leaders and the broken V flight formations send their identity down from the skies.

HOLLAND INSTALLATION THIS EVENING

Henry Wolters post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and auxiliary as the news goes to press are holding a joint installation of officers Thursday evening in Masonic temple. Chief of Staff William Hayes of Kalamazoo and Department President Pearl Musser of Kalamazoo are in charge. J. F. Sundin is the new post commander and Mrs. John H. Tiesenga auxiliary president.

PROCLAMATION

November 6, 1935.
To the Citizens of Holland:

Next Monday, November 11th, is Armistice Day. It is my sincere hope and wish that Holland will observe this day in a manner in keeping with its purpose.

Let us not forget the sacrifices made by those who fought and died for us that we might live. Time has a tendency to make us forget great sacrifices. Let it not be said that the Citizens of Holland have ever forgotten the great deeds of the brave soldiers of the World War.

Respectfully yours,
Nicomemus Bosch
Mayor.

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Vande Lane opened the meeting with prayer.

Alderman Al Van Lente was not present because of "flu," which has now nearly flown. We hope to see Al back at the next council meeting.

Aldermen and newspaper men and city officials all shook hands, glad to see one another after a three weeks vacation. There are about four of these a year.

Heinie Prins was absent since he was called to Lansing to get instructions on a new position in the Liquor Control Department.

A house that has been troubling the city was authorized moved from 185 E. 20th St. to some place outside the city. Sewer connections were ordered for the place so the owner thought they had better move where sewer connections were not necessary.

Alderman Bultman gave a very fine report stating that the 26th St. project had been approved and that 35 men would be given employment for at least four months. He also stated that if you want to see some good work done you should drive over some of the dirt streets in the south end of the city and you would find them graded and scraped. The Mayor spoke up and said, "I have heard some very fine comments and I commend the work. Bultman, you have brought in a very good report."

Alderman Drinkwater brought up the old matter of repainting the second floor of the city hall which included the City Clerk's, City Treasurer's rooms and the lobby, for which the city has paint and varnish. The staircases will also be varnished. The lowest bid was $177. Alderman Drinkwater's motion carried unanimously.

Alderman Drinkwater caused a laugh when he said, "When the project was first brought up it was turned down. I brought up the matter then because I knew there was a lot of paint and varnish used on the stairs which was fast disappearing for other projects in the county. I kept my eye on that paint all summer and it's still there, so 'let's hustle and use it before somebody else gets it.'"

City Attorney Parsons brought another laugh. "It seems that the Holland hospital needs interior painting but it seems something went wrong with putting over that project," said Parsons, "and now they have thrown the paint job in the laps of the hospital board and while there are plenty of laps there, these are not enough to cope with such a problem, so I am taking it from the laps to the shoulders of the Aldermen." The matter was referred to the committee on public buildings for investigation jointly with the hospital authorities. The committee members are Aldermen Drinkwater, Huyser and De Cook.

Alderman Damson gave the bright news that sidewalk reconstruction is going on again under WPA, that three crews are busy and in all, 45 men are being put to work, and that 12th St. had been newly finished.

It was unanimously decided that the advertised delinquent light and water bills be assessed against the respective pieces of property where the bills were incurred. Compulsory sewer assessments also went that way.

The authorized city engineer Zuidema and city assessor Peter Van Ark to clean up certain property descriptions and indefinite and incorrect descriptions as they appear on the tax roll. Some descriptions are far from clear and should be straightened out.

It seems that some junk man wants to continue junking in a shed on Columbia ave. and 8th st., near where the new service station is being erected. Alderman Drinkwater who hates junk and cleaned the second ward, got on his feet and said, "If that junk shop was in the second ward I would have cleaned it out long ago." Laughter. "I move that this junk shop be forbidden." And it was forbidden.

Alderman Huyser in presenting an amendment to the sidewalk ordinance, saw the amendment held up, at least for a time, since every Alderman had a different thought on the matter. The section in question brought out an argument that the man who laid stamped on each end. When you talk of concrete, Alderman "Plasterman" gets all heated up. He said, "I am not afraid to have my name on my sidewalk. If they break to pieces I'll lay them a new one." The Mayor got Kalkman going when he said, "But Casje, suppose another contractor lays both ends and you lay the middle, and the two ends break up and yours remains, you'll get the blame for the whole business." Then Kalkman brought a tale of laughter when he earnestly and soberly said, "I want my name on every block, that's good advertising."

When the Sidewalk amendment was brought to a vote by motion of Alderman Bultman, supported by Alderman Van Zoeman, it was turned down, Mayor Bosch, retiring from the chair, calling Alderman Huyser to preside.

While the sidewalk ordinance was being discussed Alderman Kalkman was on his feet for the fifth time and said that a special inspector should be appointed to inspect every sidewalk after it was laid. Other aldermen objected to this, stating that that was a matter for the city engineer's office and they also thought that such a move would be a slap at our able engineer, Alderman Kalkman stated that this was not his intention but that the engineer was too busy.

A request by Louis Padnos, 120 River ave. for necessary lateral sewer connections to make it possible for him to make sanitary sewer connections was referred to the sewer committee.

Fourteen applications for building permits were approved. Interest companies in the amount of $125 were ordered paid.

Application of Harold Youker for a soft drink license at 22 W. 23rd st. in a new drug store was referred to the license committee with power to act.

City Pledges Its Share In Relief Plan

MISS VENEKLASEN DIRECTOR OF WELFARE APPEARS BEFORE COUNCIL AND TELLS OF PLAN

It is evident that men shall work to get relief and all applications are closely scrutinized.

A very important matter came before the council as was expected after the recent Board of Supervisors meeting where resolutions were passed that each unit, township or city take care of its own unemployed and welfare, the state paying 60% and the city or unit 40%. The plan, according to the board of supervisors report is fully given on the first page of section 2.

After considerable discussion and questioning Mayor Bosch in that plan to the council, asked that that body vote unanimously in assuming the 40%. During the past year the city has been paying into the county fund $1250 per month. It was a liberal share and the county welfare has always appreciated it.

Mayor Bosch stated that with the state and federal government assuming 60% and the community 40%, and with the unemployed considerably reduced, he was sure that Holland's share would not exceed the $1250 per month that had already been paid for the past year. Holland pledges itself for a year beginning Nov. 1st.

Miss Deborah Veneklasen, who was in the audience, gave a full explanation of this 40-60 basis and stated that all cases are being closely scrutinized so there will be no lapping over and work would be provided for those who were out of work if they were in the right classification.

She stated that between last year and this year there was quite a difference between the case load then than now. In 1934 there were 1846 cases. Now the case load is below 800. She says that only unemployed will be taken care of by the WPA. Then Miss Veneklasen elaborated on pensions which could and who could not receive aid.

She stated that all employables must work if certified by BIA and assigned by the United States Employment service. No applications or employables who have received relief prior to November 1st, 1935, are eligible.

In the unemployable group are the aged of pension age who must accept pension or will be denied relief by the state ERA funds. However, ERA will supplement relief in part where the pension is inadequate.

Where mother's and widow's pensions are inadequate, here too, relief will be supplemented in part, but should there be an employable person in the family group, this pensioner will be put to work, several projects being created for that purpose.

Projects for women have been submitted by the ERA acting sponsor in which women employables will be placed. However, there is an employable person in any family group such individual will be put to work in his or her line of work.

Three lines of work were suggested as those which would be available, sewing, clerk working work and bookbinding. Everything is done, Miss Veneklasen stated, to take folk off the relief roll and let them make their own way. That is the prime object of this new set up.

It is apparent, and that is the consensus not only of the officials of the state, but especially of the board of supervisors of this and other counties and the city officials, that relief money must be judiciously spent. You can be assured that there is going to be no waiting and that on the other hand the deserving will not be neglected but it is going to be thumbs down on those who will not work or even try. It is the intent of the government to make it possible to get (Continued on Page 4)

Mayor Bosch here injected the following, "You can slap our Jake Zuidema in the face, on the back or elsewhere, but you can't hurt him. He is too good a fellow and too able a man." Nothing came of the inspector business, however, it being considered that if the engineer had no time he could send his assistant Louis Dalman or another experienced man of his staff. Anyway this should not get away from the engineer's office, dividing the responsibility.

City Engineer Jacob Zuidema presented plans and specifications for the proposed job of paving Van Raalte ave. with sheet asphalt which is estimated to cost $43,823.30. Application has been filed with federal authorities for PWA project. If approved, the PWA grant of 45 per cent will be $27,531.78. A cost of $55,996.72 must be borne by abutting property owners, plus six per cent interest over a ten year period to run the total to $47,875.64. Plans call for the paving of this street from 28th st. north to Lake st., and Lake st. to Washington Blvd. It is further proposed to pave Tenth st. from Van Raalte ave. to the Pere Marquette tracks at the entrance to Kollen park. The street would have a six-inch concrete base. The hearing is set for Dec. 4.

A request by Louis Padnos, 120 River ave. for necessary lateral sewer connections to make it possible for him to make sanitary sewer connections was referred to the sewer committee.

Fourteen applications for building permits were approved. Interest companies in the amount of $125 were ordered paid.

They're off! Melvin Jelsema and his wife, Marjorie, left Saturday on an extended honeymoon on board their 26-foot auxiliary ketch. They were married in Holland, leaving immediately from Grand Haven on their "Viking." The ketch is a two-masted boat, remade by Jelsema from the hull of a coast guard vessel.

Our next Post meeting will be held on Wednesday the 27th. This is just before Thanksgiving and after the business is out of the way we will see who wins the chickens, etc.
Our colors went to the St. Louis convention, and we are now in receipt of an Honor Band to attach to the staff commemorating that fact. It isn't every Post that gets its colors in the National Parade.
Chuck Van Lente was up at the meeting on the 6th, minus his appendix. You'd never notice it however. Chuck spent the usual stretch in the hospital about three weeks ago. We are glad to see you again, Charlie.

IS FIRST GRAND HAVEN WOMAN DRAWN ON CIRCUIT COURT JURY LIST

Mrs. John Vyn of Grand Haven has been drawn on the November jury list for Ottawa county circuit court. This is the first time a "county seat" woman has been drawn for circuit court jury service, although several women from Holland have served.
Up until a few years ago no women were given an opportunity of jury service, and Ottawa county was one of the few counties, after sufferage was granted, where women's names did not appear on jury lists. During the past few years names have been submitted but never has the list included more than one woman.
The others from this city who have been drawn for service are John H. Donker, Jacob DeGlopper, Ollie Nietring and John Dirkse. The remaining members are Herman Steggerda, Holland City; Derk Nies, Zeeland City; John Sheridan, Allendale township; Bert Lubbers, Blendon township; Phil Lechman, Chester township; Mack Easterly, Crooktown township; Gerrit Schut, Crooktown township; Rohumul Syoboda, Grand Haven township; Philip Vogen, Holland township; Luke Van Rhee, Jamestown township; Chris Stremmer, Olive township; Wm. FOOTBALL PAST AND FUTURE

Triumphant over Grand Haven by the largest margin since 1918 and the days of Franklin C. (Cappie) Cappon, Holland high school's football team will close its season at Riverview park Saturday afternoon with Muskegon. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

Holland piled up a 26-0-0 margin over the county seaters at Ferry field, Grand Haven, Saturday before more than 3,000 persons. About half of whom were from Holland. The Holland second team made it a double victory by scoring a touchdown with 29 seconds to play to win, 13 to 7.

It was a gala afternoon for Holland. Hope college, playing her homecoming game at Riverview park, scored a 6-0-0 upset over a powerful Hillsdale college team in M.I.A.A. battle. Saturday. Hope plays Wayne university in Detroit.

Although neither team made a first down in the first half, Holland scored a touchdown in the second period when Frank Flanagan, left halfback, returned a punt 39 yards to the one-yard line. Arthur Krone-meyer, fullback, plunged over on the first play.

In the second half, Holland turned the battle into rout with three touchdowns, two of them by Alfred Morris and another by Flanagan. Paul Houtman and Bob Van Taten-hove each kicked an extra point.

Hope's lone touchdown came in the second period when Fred Jam-ing, fullback, twisted across the goal from the one-yard line. During the second half Hope played de-fensive ball exclusively and kept the Dales well away from the goal.

The college ends its season next week Saturday with Michigan Normal of Ypsilanti playing here.

Several members of the local American Legion auxiliary attended the meeting and entertainment arranged by the Zealand unit in the Zealand City Hall Monday evening.

Plans for a trip to the Legion hospitals at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, are being planned by the local group for next Wednesday, Nov. 13. Cars will leave for the day's activities at 8:45, and plans call for a dinner and program to be given at each of the two hospitals. Those planning to make the trip are asked to notify Mrs. Martin Juppings, telephone 2076.

ALLEGAN COUNTY FARM AGENT ASSIGNS COMMITTEE MEN & PLACES OF MEETING

A. D. Morley, Allegan county Agricultural Agent sends a review of some length covering the new changes in all wheat contracts, a resume of which is given in short below: The places of meeting in this vicinity and all dates as this relates to Allegan county are also given. These new wheat contracts not only applies to Allegan county but to Ottawa county and all other counties in Michigan as well.

The contract covers the years 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939. The grower may terminate the contract at the end of two years, providing he does so before June 1, 1937 and obligations are executed. The contract signer agrees to adjust his acreage in the amounts presented by the Secretary of Agriculture but in no case to be over 25%. Should there be a year when there is no acreage adjustment, the contract signer will not seed an acreage greater than his base. The contract signer agrees to plant not less than 64% of the base acreage each year. In case the contract is terminated or cancelled there will be no benefit payments. The standard base period is 1935-36.

The signer agrees to use his adjusted acres for the planting of erosion preventing and soil improving crops. Summer fallow or land resting. Planting or utilization of crops for pasture. Forest trees or shelter belt. These acreages to be in addition to the normal acreage so used and also additional to adjusted acreage used under other adjustment contracts. Adjusted acres should be of the same quality land on which wheat is sown.

No stated sum will be paid as in the old contract. The basis for payment will be 54% of the wheat base on the farm. The first installment for each year the contract is in force will be 2-3 of the difference between the average farm price of wheat and the parity price of wheat as of a date prior to July 1st of that calendar year. Parity price of wheat or fair exchange value is the price which would give a bushel of wheat the same purchasing power it had in the prewar period of August 1909-July 1914. Benefit payments are made after the compliance has been made by the contract signer. The cost of local expense is deducted from the same check. The contract signer may designate a beneficiary in case of his death, disappearance or incompetency during the period of the contract. This will do away with considerable "red tape" experience in the old contract. In cases of attachments, garnishment, bankruptcy or other legal processes pertaining to the contract signer, the secretary may terminate the contract or suspend payments. In case the contract is cancelled for any of the above cases, the contract signer will not be expected to return any payments received if in compliance on the contracts.

HAMILTON NEWS

M-40 has been completed. The George Chalmers Paving Co. is putting the finishing touches to the road which was the worst in Michigan and now will be one of the finest in the state.

The paving of the 7 miles between Holland and Hamilton, by the Grace Construction Co. was finished about three weeks ago. The two bridges were completed last week and are now being used. However, the company still has a crew grading and leveling the shoulders. Gravel on this part of the highway will be placed next spring.

The finest stretch of pavement, however is within the limits of town a distance of about a mile. The elevated necessitating moving of buildings, the removal of trees and sidewalks and cutting down of the hills on both sides of Rabbit river. A 36 ft. pavement with drains, curbs, driveways and approaches at all intersections runs the entire length of town. New sidewalks have been laid and approaches to the new bridge and all spaces between walks and paving have been sodded down, giving the highway a boulevard appearance and making Hamilton a beauty spot under way between Holland "the home of the saints and Allegan the home of the Judges. Work was started by the George Chalmers Paving Co. of Grand Rapids on August 15, employing an average daily crew of 60 men, most of whom were local folks. A tremendous amount of work was done preparatory to the actual paving. Besides the removal of trees and buildings the leveling of the street required the removal of 12,000 yds. of dirt. One mile of sewers was dug and placed and 60 catch basins were installed. 34,000 square yards of cement was laid; 7,000 ft. of curb and driveways, 1,500 feet of sidewalks and 5,000 sq. yds. of sod was put down.

Hamilton folks feel that their long wait has been more than rewarded and appreciate the "Big Deal" given them by the state. Holland in the persons of Wm. Connelly, Ben Mulder of the Holland City News and others deserve a great deal of credit for the new highway, in-as-much as Hamilton's hope was very much in a depression regarding a new road when their good neighbors took matters in hand and obtained quick results. However, local folks are happy that the work was done by the George Chalmers Paving Co. of Grand Rapids, who proved themselves to be the finest bunch of men in that line of work. Their first consideration during the entire period of construction was the convenience and benefit of the local people. All work was planned and done so that resident might experience the least inconvenience and at several stages of the work the company took the "short end" for the benefit of local folks and motorists. On the job they were a crew of happy, pleasant and big hearted men. After working hours they were pleasant guests entering into the life and custom of local folks. The community greatly appreciated the fact that no Sunday work was done at any time, unless absolutely necessary. Everyone heartily agrees with one of the leading local business in his remark "They are the finest bunch of men you can find anywhere." We are sorry to see them leave and assure them that if Hamilton can be of any service to them at any time, she'll do it 100 per cent. Studied Rednebor of the Western Messenger had charge of the services at the American Reformed church last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Hookma and Julia Waatman were in Detroit last week visiting relatives and friends. While there they enjoyed a sight seeing trip into Canada. John states that the trip was very fine, but that the Canadians are either very inquisitive or suspicious since they were thoroughly questioned and searched before they were permitted to go on.

U. S. Gov. Wheat Contracts Are Some Different

COUNTY FARM AGENT OUTLINES NEW WHEAT PROGRAM

The new wheat program, covering a period of four years started in Ottawa county Oct. 31 at which time Don Hootman met a committee to discuss the program. Seven men were selected by directors of the Ottawa Wheat Production Control Association to take charge of accepting and writing applications. The seven who are carrying on this work are Glen Taylor, Ellis Peck and Frank Hambleton of Coopersville, Bob Andre, Jenison Dick De Kleine, Jamestown, Clarence Raak, Olive and L. R. Arnold, secretary of the association. Signing of contracts started Nov. 1 and continued thru Nov. 7. Meetings were held in all districts.

The sign-up under the new four year program will not include as many as was the case in 1933. This is due to the fact that diversified farming is carried on in this county, and the program does not fit in many cases.

A second series of meetings has been scheduled by L. R. Arnold, County Agr'l. Agent, to accommodate those who could not get to the first series, also to make necessary corrections in some applications.

The new program calls for a 5% reduction in 1936. The signer of a contract has been guaranteed parity price on his farm allotment. During the past two years since the program has been in effect the wheat crop in the United States has been below normal due to dry seasons. This has brought about

Ottawa County Board Adopts New Relief Plan

SUGGESTS THAT COUNTY UNITS SHARE IN TAKING CARE OF RELIEF CLIENTS

The board of supervisors at a special meeting early in the week approved recommendations to the county units that the total cost of relief, aside from that met by the state emergency welfare relief commission, shall be borne by individual townships and cities in the county.

However, this amount is not to exceed 40 per cent of the cost incurred for clients exclusive of administrative costs of the commission. It was also recommended that it shall be required of the county commission that it contact and consult with the supervisor of each local governmental unit regarding the granting of relief to any and all clients within the unit.

It is suggested by the board that if the governing bodies approve the plan that the units shall turn over at the end of each calendar month of sum equal to 40 per cent of the cost for that month to the county treasurer. The treasurer will in turn pay the money over to the county relief commission. The agreement goes into effect immediately and is dated ending Oct. 31, 1936.

If any city or township fails to participate in the agreement the action shall be construed to mean that such unit does not care to take part in the proposed plan of sharing relief costs between the state and local units. The county relief commission will then withdraw state assistance from that unit.

A proposal that the supervisors appoint a committee of three of its members to advise with the county commission on all matters pertaining to extension of relief during the time of the agreement was turned down. The recommendation as a whole was passed by a vote of 26 to 1. James Van Valkenberg of Holland, auditor of the commission, was present and assured the board that all employes will be taken off relief by WPA this week.

Under the new plan the county units are relieved of about 60 per cent of the welfare burden which naturally includes Holland. The state relief commission had informed the county that during the fiscal year starting Nov. 1, 1935, there would not be available sufficient federal and state funds to take care of the persons in need of relief.

ENGAGE SOLOISTS FOR 'MESSIAH'

At a meeting the Choral union of Holland, Monday afternoon, it was announced that two well-known artists have been engaged as soloists for the production of the "Messiah," which is to be presented in Memorial chapel at Hope college on the evening of Dec. 17. The soprano solo will be sung by Miss Marjorie McClung of New York city, formerly of Grand Rapids, who has attained distinction abroad and in the East and made her successful debut with the Grand Rapids symphony orchestra last spring. The bass solo in the Christmas production will be sung by Raymond Koch of Chicago known throughout the middle West as one of the finest singers of oratorio and dramatic roles. The "Messiah" will be sung by a chorus of approximately 150 voices, combining the Holland civic chorus and the Hope college chapel choir. Prof. W. Curtis Snow will conduct.

BUILDING PICKS UP IN ZEELAND'S AREA

Building activity has increased in Zeeland the last week. The old Zeeland Record building is being remodeled and will be rebuilt for store purposes. The Zeeland Ornamental Co. is building a 60x120-foot addition to its present plant, the building to be one story high. Several new homes are in the course of construction and the new postoffice building is virtually finished, with the exception of the interior metal work, delayed in shipment.

M-40 RELOCATION JOB IS LET FOR $16,829

Low bids on six road construction projects, including one in Allegan county, were approved Friday by Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner. The entire list of jobs called for expenditures of $473,724, with Allegan's project costing $16,029.00. The program in the neighboring county calls for 2,112 miles of grading and drainage structures on a relocation of M-40 south of Dunningville to eliminate two Pere Marquette railroad crossings. Brown Brothers of Battle Creek were the low bidders.

WORK BEGUN ON FOUR APPROVED PROJECTS

It was announced Saturday at Federal Re-employment service headquarters in the post office that 161 men would be assigned work on the WPA program in Ottawa County.

Monday work began on the road between Chester and Wright townships and 100 men from the southern half of the county were given work. Tuesday ten additional men began work on the Holland sidewalk repair project and the number was swelled to 40 on that work.

Wednesday 30 went to work on the Grand Haven fire engine house project and 21 others reported for work on county roads in the Grand Haven area. The minimum security wage in Holland is $4.00 per month for unskilled labor.

SUMMER RESIDENT OF SAUGATUCK IS KILLED

News of the death of Rev. G. Gilbert Stansell, 53, has come to his many Saugatuck friends. For several summers Dr. Stansell lived on the David C. Cook estate at the mouth of the Kalamazoo river and he was closely associated with both the Methodist and Episcopal churches, frequently serving in both pulpits.

He was on his way as newly appointed pastor to the Cuyler Avenue Methodist church in Oak Park, Ill., when the car driven by his 16-year-old son sidwiped a parked truck. Dr. Stansell was killed outright, but the boy was uninjured. He is survived by his widow, one brother and six children.

GENEROUS DONATION FROM MRS. C. E. HODGE

The Woman's Club of Saugatuck received a one thousand dollar gift which Mrs. C. E. Hodge had pledged.

The sincerest thanks go to Mrs. Hodge and the club trusts a blessing may follow her generous donation to her and her loved ones and may the club house always prove an honor to the village as well as to itself and its members. Saugatuck Commercial Record - Mrs. Hodges lost a brother by death on September 25 at Batavia, Ill.

a higher price for wheat. Under such conditions the program does not show its real value to the farmer. If a large crop is harvested, followed by low prices the guarantee of parity price means much to the farmer. Parity price during the past year was $1.12 per bushel. Actual farm price was about 75c. Benefit payment in 1935 was 39c per bushel. In the case of a large crop with price of wheat down to 50 or 60c the benefit payment would be much greater. The farmer who is not in the program will receive this 50-60c per bushel. The farmer who does sign the contract will receive this market price on his wheat, also will have the benefit payment on his allotment, so that for all of his allotment he would receive parity price.

Following is the schedule set for signing of applications

Bagged Just Before the Season Opened

Acting on a tip that someone was running coon dogs out of season in Allegan county, Conservation Officers John Kroll (left) of Kent county and Ira Antler of Ottawa county arrested Perle Johnson, a farmer living near Dor, and confiscated the 37 pets shown here. The officers descended on Johnson Thursday morning of this week, only about 12 hours before the legal coon season was due to open. Included in the seizure were 19 skunk pets, 13 opossum, 3 coon, 1 badger and 1 muskrat. Johnson had taken the animals by hunting with dogs. He told the officers he began the illegal night hunting about the middle of October. Friday morning Justice V. W. Ferris of Allegan sentenced him to 15 days in jail in addition to a fine of $50 and costs of $7.25, with an additional 30 days if he fails to pay. His hunting license also was revoked for one year.—Courtesy Grand Rapids Press.

FARMERS TO LEARN OF SUGAR BEET ALLOTMENT SOON

Farmers in this vicinity as well as elsewhere will soon learn the number of acres that are to be planted to beets in 1936 as scheduled by the AAA.

It is possible that sugar beet producers will be allotted more acres than was the case last year since from present figures it is estimated that the total sugar consumption will be 4 per cent to 5 per cent above that of the present year.

The original acreage allotted the Lake Shore Sugar Company of Holland last year was 4,607 which was raised to 5,200, and later unrestricted. No definite information as to 1936 acreage has been received here at this time.

According to a dispatch from Washington the increasing of allotments for 1936 is said to depend entirely upon whether for the country as a whole there is estimated for 1936 a total sugar consumption in excess of the 6,350,000 tons estimated for the present year.

Sunday School Lesson

November 10, 1935 Ezekiel Teaches Personal Responsibility-Ezekiel 33: 7-16

Henry Geerlings

It is no surprise to any student of history to learn that there were deep searchings of heart among the Jews when their land was taken from them.

The ground of their argument lay in their contention that while they had not been guilty as others before them, nevertheless they were punished and their fathers escaped. Of course we must remember how the first commandment, which speaks of visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations, had become a part of the thinking of the Jews, and furthermore, how they had been taught to conceive to the nation as a unit, each individual either rejoicing or suffering with the entire society group.

Still there were not wanting passages through the early legislation which stressed the matter of personal responsibility. It is true that remained for Jeremiah and Ezekiel to discover the individual soul and to set forth the doctrine of personal responsibility in its clearest light.

Now that Judah had fallen the harder part of Ezekiel's prophetic ministry was past. The exiles had come to have more faith in him. They did not antagonize him as formerly they had. They respected his views. He had predicted the fall of Jerusalem, and it fell, and that fact gave them larger confidence in his wisdom.

One important truth must be noticed here. The Jewish nation had for the last time acted as a unit. The national solidarity of former generations would never again return. From this time forth the people were to act as individuals. That is why such emphasis on personal responsibility was needed at this particular time.

And the prophet was now to stress both in his own life and in the lives of his hearers that great truth.

When Nehemiah was rebuilding the wall about the city of Jerusalem he stationed watchmen at intervals upon the wall so that they could give the alarm if their enemies, Sanballat and Tobiah, threatened to make an attack. Just such a watchman was Ezekiel to be, only in a spiritual sense.

The prophet was supposed to see the danger before others. He was standing on the spiritual watchtower, and had his message from God. The first responsibility was his, and if from sloth, or fear, or cowardice he should fail to warn the wicked of their danger, the wicked would perish, but the guilt would rest upon the watchman.

On the other hand, if he issued the warning faithfully, he was free, no matter what the outcome. The captives had come to think of their state as a deplorable one. Now that their temple and their land had been snatched from them and were in the hands of peoples who never knew God, they could not see much hope for the future.

They were as men pining away with death staring them in the face. They were thoroughly disheartened. At this point the word of the prophet was sorely needed. These exiles were still the children of God. He had not cast them off. What they needed to do was to remember first, that God has no pleasure in the death of the wicked; and second that they could avert the death that threatened them by repenting of their sins and turning from them to the Lord.

They were to know it was their spiritual and not their physical state was their greatest calamity. Let us suppose a captive had been listening to the preaching of Ezekiel, and that he felt as he did so that he was a sinner, deserving to die. But in that sermon was not alone warning, but hope also. He heard it said that God has no pleasure in the death of the wicked, and that the vilest sinner may be returned. Then and there he would be told by repenting of their sins and doing, and he turned his face toward God. What was the state of that man? He had met the conditions on which God grants forgiveness and bestows the gift of eternal life. But that right-about-face included in it making right everything possible, returning any unjust gain, restoring the unfair pledge he had exacted from another, and such other corrections which were within his power.

This rule of life has its confirmation in the New Testament. It would be a cruel fate under which we live if it did not lie within man's power to turn from evil to good when he comes to see the guilt and wages of sin. God has been pleased to make the largest possible place in this world for love and virtue and truth.

HEINZ 57 See if you don't like HEINZ Soups ..best! HERE'S a sporting proposition: Go to your grocer and pick out two tins of your favorite variety of soup— one of Heinz and one of any other brand. Try them both, side by side. If you don't like Heinz best, we will give you back the full purchase price of both tins! After all, we make soup the same way you do. We simmer it long hours in small, open kettles. We stir, taste and season—just as you do. And when it's just right, we seal it hermetically in spotless tins. Never dilute or mix any Heinz soup—just heat and serve. We use the same sort of ingredients you buy, too. Cream thicker than whipping cream; pure creamery butter. Every tomato we use is grown under the supervision of our own agricultural experts—from prize seedlings raised in Heinz hothouses. We even make our own noodles! In short, we make the sort of soups you yourself make—the same way you make them. Make the side-by-side test today. Your money back, if you don't like Heinz best!
