Ground Observer Corps Planned

A Ground Observer Corps will be organized in Holland soon as part of the local Civil Defense program, according to Dale Fris, post supervisor. The Ground Observer Corps, which will report aircraft activities in this area, will be part of a nationwide chain of such observer groups on observer posts. The overall plan is to establish such posts every eight miles in order to augment the radar system. Radar is not too efficient in detecting low flying aircraft; thus, human eyes are necessary in the air program. An observation tower will be built at 28th street and Washington Ave., next to the city water tank. City Council has donated the land, through the Board of Public Works. On Saturday, March 26, members of the Christian Labor Union in Holland will donate their time to build the post. All materials are being donated by local concerns, including lumber, glass and cement companies. After the post is completed, local Civil Defense personnel will conduct a campaign, in cooperation with the Air Force, to recruit persons to man the post. Men and women ages 17 and over are asked to volunteer only two hours a week for the important work. Local volunteers will relay reports directly to the filter center in Grand Rapids. Any residents interested in this work are asked to contact Fris.

Allegan Council Okays Purchase For Parking Lot

ALLEGAN (Special) — City officials were authorized Monday night by the city council to acquire and necessary for the construction of a $135,000 160-stall parking lot on the Kalamazoo River bank at the rear of stores fronting on Brady and Hubbard Sts. The action was taken after City Manager P. H. Beauvais submitted a report which showed the $80,000 bond issue needed could be paid off by 1965 even if the expanded parking facilities produced only slightly more revenue than that received from the present meters. In fact he pointed out that the 40 bonds falling due after July 1, 1960, could be called on that date if revenues come up to "minimum expectations." According to engineer's estimates, actual construction costs for the plan will total $113,345 Cost of meters, engineering and legal fees, and acquire land will bring the total to $135,195, $60,000 of which is already available in the parking meter fund. Beauvais based his estimates on an $80,000 issue payable over a 10-year period with interest at 4 percent. Revenue estimates were based on a current return from meters of 2 1/2 cents per meter. He assumed this figure would come down to about 21 cents per day. Forty meters in the Water St. lot were estimated at 20 cents per day while the 150 meters in the proposed river front lot were figured at 15 cents.

The Dutch will return to Burton Junior High gym Friday night at 8:30 to tangle with Muskegon Heights, victors over Grand Rapids Union 82-52. The Dutch, fired up for the tournament game after a 3-12 season, pounced on the opening ball and held the upper hand for the entire game. Muskegon Catholic, although winless in 15 starts had stayed with Holland the first three quarters in their initial meeting in Holland last month, but were no match for the Dutch Wednesday. Holland hit its highest shot percentage of the season, 46 percent, sending 27 baskets through the hoop in only 59 attempts. Holland gave the parochial five 63 shots but countered on the majority of the rebounds and prevented the smaller Catholic unit from getting seldom more than one shot at the basket. Muskegon Catholic made 15 baskets for a mediocre 24 percent. Carl Simpson, starting at center, hit on a hook shot in the first 10 seconds and put Holland into the lead. Les German sank a layup on the return up floor to tie the score but Bill Japinga's driving layup seconds later put the Dutch into a lead that was never relinquished. Holland moved ahead to a 14-7 first period advantage. The Dutch continued to keep the fast break moving in the second quarter. Holland scored frequent baskets on long passes to an open man under the basket or on layups resulting from about three-quarter court dribbles. The Dutch sank nine out of 17 shots in the second quarter in building up a 36-16 halftime margin. Holland's halftime percentage was an impressive 14 out of 31 for 41 percent. After tallying the 22 points in the second period, the Dutch slowed down somewhat in the third quarter, made a few bad passes, and the Muskegon five picked up slightly. The Dutch made five out of 17 shots in the quarter for 45 percent. Coach Fred Weiss substituted freely in the contest giving the entire Dutch lineup a chance to play. School Board To Act Monday On Pay Raises

The Board of Education is expected to take action at its monthly meeting Monday on teachers' salaries for the coming year. For the past month the board has had under consideration a proposed salary schedule which the public school teachers adopted by a vote of 81 to 55. The new schedule, which would put men and women teachers on an even basis for the first time in Holland, calls for a starting salary of $3,400 a year (A. B. degree) and after 14 years of experience a top salary of $5,550. Teachers with master's degrees receive $300 a year more. For them the new salary schedule starts at $3,400 and ranges to $5,850. The present salary schedule for women starts at $3,200, reaching a top of $4,600 after 14 years. Men receive $100 more, starting at $3,300 and ranging to $4,700. There are about 135 teachers in the public school system and about half have taught 15 years or more. The new schedule, if passed, would mean salary increases of $850 to $950 a year for half of the teaching staff. The Board of Education, however, feels such increases should be progressively achieved. Grand Haven Board of Education earlier this week adopted a new pay schedule calling for a starting salary of $3,500 and top of $5,400 for A. B. degrees. Master's degrees receive $200 more. The schedule, however, will be reached in progressive steps not to exceed $400 increases in one year for any one teacher. It is the first salary schedule in which there is no differential between men and women pay schedules. Holland's present salary schedule provides for a straight $100 a year increase as the 14 years progress. The proposed schedule provides an average increase of $150 a year, with $200 on the third, fifth and 10th years, and $100 increases the last three years. The professional problems committee of the Teachers' club has compiled a comprehensive booklet, giving detailed data on salary expenditures on the various levels, comparisons with salaries paid in other cities of like population, summary statements on replies to a salary questionnaire, facts on state and national basis, supplementary salaries, present and proposed salary schedules, sick leave practices and general recommendations. According to the teacher's committee, adoption of the proposed salary schedule means an increase in salaries for the coming year of $83,700. Supt. Walter V. Scott said, however, that this figure does not include the normal increase under older or new schedules, and on the basis of maintaining the present teaching staff, the increase would run well over $100,000. For the current year, Teachers' salaries total $542,950, plus $13,208.82 in supplementary salaries which includes some $4,400 for sports. An additional $2,275 is spent for travel. Supplementary salaries list study and travel, special education, Girls Athletic Association, Dutch costume supervision, cheerleaders, sports, klompen dance, vacation teacher, chorus, senior play, magazine campaign and band. The school board has been giving careful consideration to the people's ability to pay in the present area of taxation. Under a new Supreme Court ruling, Holland must stay on the state equalized figure of some $14,000,000, but board members feel it would be unwise to push taxes to the limit. The state figure is about 33 percent higher than the county equalized figure of some $31,000,000 for the city. If Holland would reduce the millage so that tax dollars received for schools would be about 25 percent more instead of a full 33 percent, Supt. Scott figures Holland will receive an additional $77,000 in taxes. The board has decided to boost outside tuition to $200 from $175, and this will bring in another $17,000. Together with anticipated increases in state aid, the added revenue may total $130,000 of which some $60,000 would be available for teachers' salaries. Supt. Scott has recommended that the board adopt the new schedule provided it be progressively achieved with due regard to the tax schedule. He also said due consideration must be given to other schools employees.

Zeeland to Have Plastics Plant

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland will have a new industry by June 1. Camfield Fibre Glass Plastics Inc., of Grand Haven, will move into its local site by that date, it was announced Wednesday by Lawrence V. Meyering, firm president. The new factory will be built on approximately five acres located on North Centennial St., a block north of Zeeland Softball Park. About 17,000 feet of the 21,000 feet of planned floor space will be given over to manufacturing. Offices, laboratories, rest rooms and other such areas will fill the remaining space. Elzinga and Volkers, Holland contractors, have been awarded the building contract for the new factory, which will face west on Centennial St. Materials already have been ordered. Office area will be of face brick construction. Manufacturing area will be 120 by 140 feet. Building plans call for the steel to be up next month, and roofing an enclosure to be completed by May 1. Electric, water and sewer facilities will be provided by the city. Although the factory site was about 660 feet north of the city limits, the Chamber of Commerce, which negotiated the move with the company during the past three months, received a favorable reply on their request to city government to accept the chamber's purchase of 13 acres for annexation to the city. The company is to be built on part of this property. Zeeland township board leased the property to the city. The firm works only in the reinforced plastics field, using glass fibre and polyester resin as materials. Manufactured products include chemical laboratory drawers, office machine housings, laundry set tubs, a "flying saucer" sled, and several military products such as radio and radar reflecting antenna and electrical components for aircraft. Research work in the field has been done under government contract. Employment policy and a procedure for accepting job applications will be announced soon, Meyering said. Most employees will be women, with 40 to 50 persons employed at first and employment gradually increased to about 100.

Public Invited to Hear Expert Arborist Tonight

Tonight's public meeting of Holland Tulip Garden Club will be of special value to those persons interested in "the proper trees to fit the space" in their own yards or in city plantings. Allegan Council Okays Purchase For Parking Lot

ALLEGAN (Special) — City officials were authorized Monday night by the city council to acquire and necessary for the construction of a $135,000 160-stall parking lot on the Kalamazoo River bank at the rear of stores fronting on Brady and Hubbard Sts. The action was taken after City Manager P. H. Beauvais submitted a report which showed the $80,000 bond issue needed could be paid off by 1965 even if the expanded parking facilities produced only slightly more revenue than that received from the present meters. In fact he pointed out that the 40 bonds falling due after July 1, 1960, could be called on that date if revenues come up to "minimum expectations." According to engineer's estimates, actual construction costs for the plan will total $113,345 Cost of meters, engineering and legal fees, and acquire land will bring the total to $135,195, $60,000 of which is already available in the parking meter fund. Beauvais based his estimates on an $80,000 issue payable over a 10-year period with interest at 4 percent. Revenue estimates were based on a current return from meters of 2 1/2 cents per meter. He assumed this figure would come down to about 21 cents per day. Forty meters in the Water St. lot were estimated at 20 cents per day while the 150 meters in the proposed river front lot were figured at 15 cents.

Coach Fred Weiss Substituted In Contest Giving Dutch Lineup a Chance to Play

Coach Fred Weiss substituted freely in the contest giving the entire Dutch lineup a chance to play. All but two of the players managed to hit the scoring column in racking up the 73-point total. This total is identical to the number rolled up over Muskegon in December and that the high mark for Holland this season. Tom Klomprens, junior guard, sank the 73rd point with a driving layup in the final 10 seconds. The points were the first scored by Klomprens this season and he was mobbed by teammates after the final buzzer. Holland had its best shooting quarter of the season in the final eight minutes. The Dutch tried 14 shots and sank eight for a phenomenal 77 percent. Catholic had its best period in the final quarter scoring 15 points and sinking four out of 12 baskets. The final score was the biggest margin between the teams in the contest. Japinga led Holland with 14 points while Tom Overbeek and Kleinheksel followed with 13 and 12 respectively. Joe Dempsey led the Crusaders with 13 tallies. A crowd of 800 watched the contest. The crowd got larger as the game progressed with many fans coming in from Grand Rapids Union and Muskegon Heights. Bob Saunders, regular Dutch guard and Holland captain, who broke a leg earlier in the week in a fall, accompanied the team out will not play in the tournament. Herk Butler, former Hope College basketball player and presently leading western Michigan officials, officiated the game. Butler is scheduled to referee the rest of the Burton "A" tourney and quarter final and semi-final games.

School Board To Act Monday On Pay Raises

The Board of Education is expected to take action at its monthly meeting Monday on teachers' salaries for the coming year. For the past month the board has had under consideration a proposed salary schedule which the public school teachers adopted by a vote of 81 to 55. The new schedule, which would put men and women teachers on an even basis for the first time in Holland, calls for a starting salary of $3,400 a year (A. B. degree) and after 14 years of experience a top salary of $5,550. Teachers with master's degrees receive $300 a year more. For them the new salary schedule starts at $3,400 and ranges to $5,850. The present salary schedule for women starts at $3,200, reaching a top of $4,600 after 14 years. Men receive $100 more, starting at $3,300 and ranging to $4,700. There are about 135 teachers in the public school system and about half have taught 15 years or more. The new schedule, if passed, would mean salary increases of $850 to $950 a year for half of the teaching staff. The Board of Education, however, feels such increases should be progressively achieved. Grand Haven Board of Education earlier this week adopted a new pay schedule calling for a starting salary of $3,500 and top of $5,400 for A. B. degrees. Master's degrees receive $200 more. The schedule, however, will be reached in progressive steps not to exceed $400 increases in one year for any one teacher. It is the first salary schedule in which there is no differential between men and women pay schedules. Holland's present salary schedule provides for a straight $100 a year increase as the 14 years progress. The proposed schedule provides an average increase of $150 a year, with $200 on the third, fifth and 10th years, and $100 increases the last three years. The professional problems committee of the Teachers' club has compiled a comprehensive booklet, giving detailed data on salary expenditures on the various levels, comparisons with salaries paid in other cities of like population, summary statements on replies to a salary questionnaire, facts on state and national basis, supplementary salaries, present and proposed salary schedules, sick leave practices and general recommendations. According to the teacher's committee, adoption of the proposed salary schedule means an increase in salaries for the coming year of $83,700. Supt. Walter V. Scott said, however, that this figure does not include the normal increase under older or new schedules, and on the basis of maintaining the present teaching staff, the increase would run well over $100,000. For the current year, Teachers' salaries total $542,950, plus $13,208.82 in supplementary salaries which includes some $4,400 for sports. An additional $2,275 is spent for travel. Supplementary salaries list study and travel, special education, Girls Athletic Association, Dutch costume supervision, cheerleaders, sports, klompen dance, vacation teacher, chorus, senior play, magazine campaign and band. The school board has been giving careful consideration to the people's ability to pay in the present area of taxation. Under a new Supreme Court ruling, Holland must stay on the state equalized figure of some $14,000,000, but board members feel it would be unwise to push taxes to the limit. The state figure is about 33 percent higher than the county equalized figure of some $31,000,000 for the city. If Holland would reduce the millage so that tax dollars received for schools would be about 25 percent more instead of a full 33 percent, Supt. Scott figures Holland will receive an additional $77,000 in taxes. The board has decided to boost outside tuition to $200 from $175, and this will bring in another $17,000. Together with anticipated increases in state aid, the added revenue may total $130,000 of which some $60,000 would be available for teachers' salaries. Supt. Scott has recommended that the board adopt the new schedule provided it be progressively achieved with due regard to the tax schedule. He also said due consideration must be given to other schools employees.

Eagles Take Easy B District Win; 2,500 at Game

Hudsonville's high flying cage squad moved into regional tournament play this week by taking a well deserved, 75-50 decision over the Holland Christian quintet in the district finals on the Civic Center court Saturday night. The Eagles make their regional bid at Western Michigan's court in Kalamazoo, along with district winners from five other sites.

By far the largest crowd ever to witness a cage game in Holland filled the Civic Center to overflowing with an inestimable number turned away. Tournament Manager Raymond Holwerda couldn't give an official figure, today, but observers set between 2,500 and 2,600 a conservative figure.

Told in its simplest terms, the story of the game was Hudsonville racing to an almost unbelievable first half margin, and then holding on for the victory. Coach Ray Gerkins' Eagles set a phenomenal shooting average to build up an 42-13 lead at the intermission.

Christian, with tremendous courage and determination, rallied with everything it had at the second half, scoring 20 points in the first five minutes of the third quarter to whittle the lead to 14 points. However, to keep up the fabulous pace was almost too much to expect, and the Eagles managed to keep the Dutch at bay for the remainder of the tilt. As it was the Dutch outscored the winners, 37-33 in the final half.

The first half was nothing short of a nightmare for the Dutch. The hotter the Eagles were at the hoop, the colder became the locals. Christian hit five out of 42 tries in the first half. Meanwhile, Hudsonville displayed a well balanced offense around its fine center, Rich Hoezee. Although Hoezee was doing a good share of rebounding, it was the tremendous drive of Garth Lowing and Roll Schut which set the pace for the Eagle offense.

Besides the fact the Maroons weren't hitting in the first half, both John Mulder and Gary Vander Ark were forced to ride the bench for a good portion of the time with a dangerous number of personal fouls.

After the score had been knotted at three all, the victory-hungry Eagles raced to a 12-3 margin, never again to be headed. With Hudsonville raining baskets from all angles, the Maroons had plenty of shots with no success. By the end of the period it was 18-5.

The second stanza was the same story as the first, with Hudsonville continuing to pour it on. Midway in the period they led 26-7 with more to come. By now the jittery Dutch had another woe—missing foul shots. The Maroons hit only three out of 13 tries in the first half compared to the Eagles' 16 for 25. At the end of the half it was Hudsonville, 42-13.

Christian opened the second half with such vengeance that the fans were talking about the great comeback staged in the state finals against River Rouge last year. Unleashing all their stored up emotion of the first half, the locals scored 10 points in two minutes time before the Eagles could connect on a single foul shot. Using an all court press and Jun Buursma and Dave Bos hitting from outcourt, the Dutch pulled to a 44-30 deficit midway in the period. However, the Eagles rallied their forces at this point to hold this margin and increase it to 60-40 at the end of the period.

Christian managed to play on better than even terms for most of the final period, despite the fact that reserves played against the Eagle regulars for part of the time. But the momentum of the drive was ended and Hudsonville coasted to the win.

Coach Ray Gerkin's club was an outstanding aggregation here Saturday night and is a worthy representative of this district tourney. Should they continue to play this brand of ball, they must be stamped as one of the favorites to cop the Kazoo regional.

From the foul lane the locals hit on 10 out of 24 tries and Hudsonville on 29 out of 44 attempts. All of Hudsonville's starters hit double figures with Hoezee leading with 20 followed by Jack Kole with 16. For Christian, Jun Buursma led with 16 followed by Vander Hill with 10.

Christian so closes its season with a respectable 13-7 mark against a rugged schedule.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vandewater

Michigan's greatest statewide sports attention getter—the high school basketball tournament—swings into action again tonight with regional games scheduled throughout the state. Regional play will continue through the rest of the week with 32 champions being crowned Saturday night.

District play in Classes B, C, D and E (Upper Peninsula) was completed last week and as expected the annual downfall of previous champs or highly-ranked teams has begun. In Class B, St. Joseph ranked second in the regular season's ratings just out in first night play to Buchanan, 60-57. Also in B, St. Clair, with a 14-1 season's mark, was dumped by Algonac, 74-70 in a district semifinal and East Grand Rapids, ninth ranked team, took a 60-56 beating from Wyoming Park in opening night play.

Over in Class C, four of the 10 top ranked teams have already hung up sneakers for the season. Three Oaks, after compiling a 17-1 season's record for fifth ranking, lost out to New Troy, 74-71, in the district finals. Lakeview, seventh best in Class C, was edged by Cedar Springs 54-52 in the district finals.

Unbeaten St. Charles, with 16 victories and the ninth ranked team, took a trouncing in the district finals losing to St. Bernard, 75-46. Muskegon Christian, top C team most of the season but dropped to sixth in the final ratings and a 14-2 mark, lost in the first game to Scottville, 43-36. Scottville, in the regionals, is the No. 1 ranked C team.

Covert, fifth in final Class D rankings with a 16-1 record, lost to Benton Harbor St. John 50-48 in the district finals. The rest of the Class D ranked quintets came through district fire.

Class E Alpha, defending state champ, can win the crown again with two victories Saturday. The Class E title is reserved for Upper Peninsula teams with under 75 students.

River Rouge, defending Class B champ, is still in the running with three district wins. The Rougemonts are in the same regional with Inkster, fourth ranked including a 15-0 season's record and two district wins. Lansing St. Mary, defending C champ and now competing in Class B, has moved into the B regional at Albion. St. Mary was the top Class B team with a 16-record. Gobles, Class D defenders, were defeated in the district finals by Schoeller, 45-41.

Detroit All Saints scored 124 points in defeating Detroit St. Anges in a D district final game. The score was the highest posted by one team in district play. The lowest score so far recorded in tournament play was six points by Flint Genesee in losing to Gaines.

Muskegon Heights, Class A defenders, begin regional play against Grand Rapids Union at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday night. The game will be preceded by the Holland-Muskegon Catholic Central game at 7 p.m.

Looking at the teams and regional centers involved, the Traverse City D and Portage A regional should be two of the hottest tournament spots. Five of the six teams at the Traverse regional are ranked teams. Three, Freesoil, Copenish and Ellsworth, finished two, three and four in state ratings behind Spring Arbor. Assessment Hike Sought in Allegan

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan's city council will be faced with three alternatives in the sewer department if the charter amendment to raise the minimum special assessment from 25 to 100 percent of assessed valuation fails to pass at the April 4 election.

In the first of a series of interviews on the two charter amendments which will be up for a vote April 4, City Manager P. H. Beauvais said that if voters fail to approve raising the assessment limit, the council will have three choices:

1. Raise sewer rates to meet the city's share of new construction costs where property assessments are not high enough to pay a fair share;

2. Change city policy and pay the city's share from the general fund; or

3. Stop building new sewers.

None of the three choices will be fair to taxpayers, Beauvais pointed out. Taxpayers in the city at large would carry the burden for building new sewers—or paving streets—of benefit only to a limited number of residents if either of the first two courses are followed. And, he said, if the city stops building sewers entirely, that would mean the end of real estate development within the city.

The city manager said he had been directed by council to attempt to explain the reasons behind its action in putting the amendment on the ballot, due to the "many misconceptions which have been circulated in recent weeks."

The present charter limits the amount of a special assessment for such improvements as sewers and street paving to 25 percent of the total assessed valuation of each parcel of property. The council hopes voters will approve an amendment increasing the limit to 100 percent, Beauvais said.

Sunday School Lesson

March 13, 1935 Prayer in the Christian's Life Matthew 6:5-8; 7:7-11; James 5:13-16.

By Henry Geerlings Doctor Torrey used to say that if a Christian's prayer life was right all other aspects of his life would be right. He would be right with God, walking in loving obedience to His will. He would be right with himself, having no bad conscience to accuse him. He would be right with his fellows, because he would not be indebted to them. That, in itself is proof of the important place that prayer should have in the life of a Christian.

We can go back to the earliest times that are recorded and find examples of men of God who showed that prayer had a large place in their spiritual life. Abraham was in their spiritual life. Wherever he was a man of prayer. Wherever he pitched his tent he built an altar to the Lord. Moses the great lawgiver prayed again and again an Israel in her follies and distresses and brought relief to her.

Joshua, the warrior, resorted to prayer in carrying out his mission, falling on his face before God, who gave him victory. Samuel, David, and the prophets were all men of prayer.

But the great example of a praying man was Christ. A study of His prayer life will prove most rewarding. He prayed privately and publicly. He prayed for Himself and for others. He more than any other is our example as a praying man. It is recorded in the Scriptures many times that He sought communion with His Father. He felt the need of doing so, and He was strengthened by it and He found joy in it. One might think that He, the Son of God, would not need to have access to prayer, but He was the Son of man also, and was set about with many limitations. He taught us most about prayer through His own habit of prayer.

Jesus taught His disciples how to pray and so the whole world or that part of it that wants to learn how. To get the mind in the right mood for praying He would have that mind get a beautiful and confidence creating conception of God. The prayer who believes that God is his Father and the Father of his fellowmen too will come to Him with a readiness and a confidence and a reverence that many another idea of God would not encourage. Much depends upon what one thinks of God as to what he expects from Him.

The Father concept as to God implies as between Him and His Children a kindredness of feeling and a community of interests. In this prayer he seeks also to emphasize reverence for the One to whom a man prays.

Prayer is not an ordinary conversation with God. It is not a mere emergency call. It is not a mere phase of a religious fervor. It is the soul seeking to establish a vital contact with God. It is a fine endeavor to hide one's self in the great sheltering heart of God. It is an effort to bring one's own will in a surrender to the divine will and at the same time in the most earnest way to have the human will cooperate most vigorously with the divine will in setting up the kingdom of God in the earth.

Prayer is the process of establishing a partnership with God that God and man may together prosecute the biggest business upon the earth. Jesus seeks to impress upon the prayer that the biggest consideration in the art of prayer is not man himself, but man's powers of soul linked up with the interests of God and then liberated across the world for every good purpose.

In our growth in the Christian life we should gradually grow away from the thought of asking and the effort to secure from God only things of a material nature. While this is not always wrong, it is not the essential meaning of prayer. Prayer should come to mean to us communion and fellowship with God. It should mean an effort to find out the will of God for ourselves rather than the changing of God's will for our benefit.

Prayer is the third realm of Christian activity where Jesus asks for utter sincerity. There were those in His day who cared more for the display they made before their fellowmen than their high privilege of communing with God. He saw them standing on street corners and in other public places for hours at a time, praying before the public might see and admire them. In order that the Christian might cultivate the proper attitude, Jesus recommended the secret quiet place.

Library Building Now Under Study By Planning Group

Mrs. Donovan Stresses Need for More Room; Submits Rough Sketch

Holland's planning commission has taken under advisement a study for a new library for Holland, following a presentation by the Library Board at a monthly meeting of the commission Thursday night in City Hall.

Mrs. Lucille Donovan, Library Board president who made an initial presentation to City Council two weeks earlier, spoke for the board and distributed information on new plans including a rough sketch of what the board would like in a new building which the board would like to see built just south of City Hall.

The present library on the second floor of City Hall has 3,894 square feet of space, and the new plans would call for roughly 14,650 square feet. The sketch lists special reading areas for adults, young people and children, a reference room, a room for audio visual aids and exhibits, a librarian's office, work room, rest rooms and the like.

The library board specifically asked the commission to recommend to City Council that the board be given $2,500 for preliminary planning for a library building, and that negotiations be made with the Board of Education to obtain the aid of Arthur Read, building supervisor, for preliminary planning.

The commission will take the matter under advisement and may possibly have a report for the next meeting April 7.

City Planner Scott Bagby explained the master plan of Holland which calls for a City Hall addition in 1955 and a library about 10 years hence. Some consideration was given to the possibility that the library could be placed in the new City Hall addition, but Bagby said there also might be merit in a plan for locating a library elsewhere, using the released space in City Hall for expanding office area, and yet retaining the parking area to the south.

Library Board members present were Mrs. Donovan, Mrs. Henry Steffens, C.E. Drew and Mrs. Preston Luidens. Present from the AAUW which maintains a special interest in the public library were Mrs. Orlie A. Bishop, president, Mrs. Stanley Boven and Mrs. Ted Boeve. Mrs. Bishop spoke for AAUW.

Others present were planner Bagby, Stuart Boyd, Ward Hansen, Jacob Zuidema, W.A. Butler, Herbert Holt, Walter Vander Haar, A. Frank Schwarz, Clarence Grevenoged and Robert Visscher. Visscher presided and City Manager Holt served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. William G. Winter, Jr.

In other business, the commission approved a recommendation of City Engineer Jacob Zuidema to vacate River Ave. from 29th to 32nd Sts., mainly because the undeveloped property would require extensive fill and involve large paving costs. This action is in keeping with the overall plan for city development.

Arrangements are being made for a meeting with the Chamber of Commerce board of directors March 21 to discuss ordinances and overall planning.

Library Adventures

The present year marks the centenary of two of the best known poems produced in America—"The Song of Hiawatha," by Longfellow, and "Leaves of Grass," by Walt Whitman. Get ready to face a lot of articles, even books perhaps, about those two works of art that came to life a century ago this year.

Some universities and colleges are even offering special courses to celebrate the two events. And some critics are pointing out, with entire reasonableness, that if the year 1855 produces two works of art even one fifth as great as the year 1855 gave us, this will be a banner year in American literature.

Of the two, "The Song of Hiawatha" was looked upon by its own generation as incomparably greater than "Leaves of Grass." Today that judgment is exactly reversed; virtually all critics, both here and abroad, are agreed that "Leaves of Grass" is so much greater than "The Song of Hiawatha" that there is no comparison between them.

The centenary of "The Song of Hiawatha" ought to have a special interest for the people of Michigan because the scene of Longfellow's poem is laid in this state. The Hiawatha National Forest, in the Upper Peninsula, is the location where the action of the poem is supposed to have taken place, long before Columbus and his white men came to the New World. Longfellow never visited the scene, but obtained the material for his poem from Henry Schoolcraft, in charge of Indian affairs in this region of America.

The poem became instantly popular, and it has retained its vogue ever since in the hearts of the masses of the American people. Of late years it has been compelled to face an increasing barrage of objection from the critics, and today it is generally regarded as belonging in the second rank of American poetry.

The case of "Leaves of Grass" was almost exactly the opposite. It was so lacking in qualities of popularity that the commercial publishers refused to touch it. As a result Walt Whitman, who was a printer by trade, published it himself. He was completely unknown, however, and the book was almost still-born. Those few who read it often became violently antagonistic. This was so true that some years later, Lincoln's Secretary of the Interior, in whose office Whitman held a minor position as a secretary, fired him for having written the book.

Ralph Waldo Emerson was one of the few who saw that "Leaves of Grass" was a great work of art. But even Emerson's great fame couldn't put the book over. Although Walt Whitman published several editions, he did not live long enough to see the turn of the tide in his fame as a poet. When he died in 1892 he was still poor and neglected and generally looked upon as a kind of superfluous. It was not until the twentieth century that today's Whitman came to be appreciated.

The reason for the popularity of "The Song of Hiawatha" and the hostility to "Leaves of Grass" is easy to see. Longfellow's poem is highly romantic, Whitman's the reverse. The masses of readers invariably love the ideas that are familiar and that are nice and comfy. Just as invariably they react unfavorably to ideas and points of view that are strange to them and that bluntly call a spade a spade.

Whitman had to wait three quarters of a century, but today he has far outstripped the fellow-poet who won instant popularity.

Curiosity Leads To Three Arrests

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The curiosity of Trooper David Verburg of the Michigan state police led to a chain of arrests Saturday when he checked a parked car on Lincoln St. in Robinson township.

The first thing he discovered was that William Schuitema, 19, route 1, Grand Haven, was trying to hide some beer, and so Schuitema was arrested on a charge of beer in possession.

While Verburg and Schuitema were in a nearby home to learn how long the car had been parked there, Bruce Waite, 19, route 2, Grand Haven, who had been in the vicinity, got someone to give the car a push and drove a short distance down the road before returning to inquire from the officer what was going on.

Verburg recognized Waite as being the same person whose operator's license was suspended March 3, and charged Waite with driving with a revoked license. Verburg then checked ownership of the car, and identified Richard Watts, 19, route 2, Grand Haven as the owner. Watts received a summons for permitting a person with a suspended license to drive, and also for defacing the year of his birth on his operator's license.

Schuitema and Waite were arraigned in Municipal Court Saturday afternoon. Schuitema was sentenced to pay $25 fine, $4.30 costs and serve two days in the county jail. Waite was sentenced to pay $50 fine, $4.30 costs and serve five days in jail.

Watts will be arraigned on or before Thursday.

PUZZLING ACCIDENT — Ottawa County deputy Len Ver Schure scratches his head as he tries to figure out how Robert Holtrust, 22, of 290 Birch Rd., managed to fit his late model car in between two trees without hitting them. Holtrust crawled out without a scratch even though the top of the car was crushed down to the level of the front seat. Apparently Holtrust paid no attention to the "Keep Out" sign at right prior to the accident. However he left the scene immediately after and was arrested a short time later. The accident occurred late Sunday afternoon at the end of North Shore Dr. Deputies released him later pending charges. Park Township No. 2 firemen were called to take care of smoldering wires.

Dutch Improved In Last Cage Tilt; Look to A Tourney

GRAND RAPIDS (Special) — Holland high ended the regular basketball season here Friday night losing to Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, 72-58. The loss gave the Dutch a dismal 3-12 season record, one of the poorest in the school's history, but the improved Holland play caused a ripple of "hope for the tournament" to circulate among Dutch followers.

The Dutch will open Class A regional play next Wednesday against Muskegon Catholic Central at Grand Rapids Burton Junior High School.

Seven Escape Injury

Seven Zeeland residents escaped without injury late Sunday night when their car skidded on M-21 near the divided portion of the highway east of Zeeland and rolled over. The driver, John Scholten, 50, route 2, Zeeland, said he was westbound on M-21 when the car started skidding, slid off the road and rolled over. Names of the six passengers were not known. Damage to his '49 model car was estimated at $250, Ottawa County deputies said.

Admits Guilt

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Anthony Joseph Deverney, 17, route 2, Grand Haven, was charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident when an off-duty officer, Sgt. Charles Rumsey, linked a badly damaged car Saturday afternoon to one which may have been involved in an accident early Saturday morning. The young driver admitted the guilt on questioning. The early morning crash knocked down a fence on the property of Emil Klompen, retired city police officer, on Jackson St.

Large Audience Lauds Concert

The Hope College Symphonette, which will leave March 29 on an eastern concert tour, won the praise of a large audience in Hope Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon. The orchestral program, conducted by Prof. Morrette Rider, performed one of the concert programs to be given during the tour.

A program highlight was the appearance of Prof. Anthony Kooiker as piano soloist in Haydn's "Concerto in D major for Piano and Orchestra." Prof. Kooiker, who will tour with the symphonette, gave his usual excellent performance with fine support from the Symphonette.

The Symphonette itself — a select group chosen from the college orchestra — certainly is well qualified to represent Hope in the East and may well be a source of pride for the college.

Conductor Morrette Rider deserves plaudits for his well-balanced group which easily handles an ambitious concert program. Outstanding were the Mozart "Prague" Symphony and "Intermezzo Sonfonic" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni. Both were beautifully done.

Royal Neighbors Mark 60th Anniversary

Royal Neighbors, at a regular meeting Thursday night at their club rooms, made plans to celebrate their 60th anniversary. It was March 21, 1895, that the organization was chartered by the state of Illinois to sell insurance.

Local Royal Neighbors will celebrate the anniversary with a pot-luck supper on March 24 at 6:30 p.m.

At Thursday's meeting, games were played and prizes awarded. March birthdays were celebrated. Mrs. Stella Dore was in charge.

Volleyballs

City Attorney James E. Townsend who appeared in a minor role in Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" program Feb. 16 honoring Capt. Sam Magill, the officer who negotiated for the surrender of 20,000 German troops in France in 1944, has received the medallion which Edwards said would be given to all 19 men of the 24-man platoon who shared in the program.

It's about the size of a silver dollar and is neatly engraved with all the information as to dates and places. The designer mimicked up the words regiment and division and put them in the wrong places, but who cares, Jim doesn't.

We suggested he bore a hole in the medallion and let his wife Corinne wear it as a necklace. He could put it on his own key chain, but let's give the lady a break.

Along with the medallion, Jim got a long-play record of the half hour program. Only one thing's the matter: The record is 33 rpm, and Jim's phonograph is for 45's. Appliance dealers, take note, huh?

We salute the entire Junior High school student body in being able to keep a secret.

A week or so ago, Principal Bernice Bishop marked her birthday anniversary and the students arranged a little surprise. While one teacher kept Miss Bishop engaged in a conference, the entire student body filed quietly to the gymnasium. Then the gym teacher through a rose got the principal into the building where she was greeted with a lusty "Happy Birthday to You."

The youngsters presented her with a gift too. We understand each one contributed three pennies.

Charles Hapeman, of 36 River Ave., saw five killers near the softball diamond on Third and Pine Ave. Thursday afternoon, and another one at the same place Friday. He said the killee is a summer bird, not usually seen at this time of the year in the north.

Does that mean summer is coming fast?

Eludes Armed Deputies In Driving Snowstorm

Armed Ottawa and Allegan County deputies spent several hours late Sunday night searching for a prowler without success.

The search on 32nd St. between Lugers Rd. and the Windmill Station, was hindered by a driving snowstorm that covered tracks almost as soon as they were made.

Deputies said the prowler had entered the Junior Ressegule home on 32nd St., but was frightened away by Mrs. Ressegule who was home alone with her children at the time.

Officers followed a set of footprints leading from the house but lost them near the roadway. Deputies believe he escaped in a car, parked nearby.

'Song of Ruth' Reviewed For Local Literary Club

Ottawa County Real Estate Transfers

One of the oldest and best loved of all love stories, the Biblical story of Ruth, provided the setting for an absorbing book review at a regular meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon.

Particularly appropriate for the Lenten season was the selection of "Song of Ruth," written by Dr. Frank G. Slaughter, which was reviewed by Mrs. LeRoy V. Walcott of Grand Rapids, well known reviewer who made her first appearance in Holland.

With no notes or aids of any kind, Mrs. Walcott dramatically portrayed the action-packed story in an hour-long review, referring often to the Biblical verses and bringing an exciting new setting to a story which points to today's need for tolerance and understanding of racial prejudice fully as much as it did 2,500 years ago. The story traced the departure of Naomi and Elimelech and their two sons, Mahlon and Chilion, from Bethlehem to the land of Moab because of famine. The family dwelled there 10 years and the sons married two young Moabite women, Ruth and Orpah. As silversmiths, Mahlon and Chilion were set to work making swords in Moab, an assignment which was of grave concern in view of the fact that the weapons were destined to be used against their own people in Israel. Their decision to return to making plowshares and tools led to developments resulting in their deaths and the escape of Boaz, Israelite leader who had run into a trap on coming to Moab to negotiate for peace.

The political situation in both Israel and Moab provided a convincing background for story developments in greed for power, prejudice and intolerance. Leading villain was Hedak, Moabite military leader who planned the march to the sea. Fully as penetrating was the intolerance of the Israelite women toward Ruth when she returned with her mother-in-law to Bethlehem.

Mrs. Walcott said "Song of Ruth" was one instance in which the book followed a motion picture. She said Dr. Slaughter had gone to Hollywood to do the script for a picture and then wrote the book while the picture was in production.

Mrs. Bruce G. Van Leuven, president, called attention to a Public Affairs meeting next Tuesday at 1 p.m. with Mrs. John B. Martin of Grand Rapids speaking on "Our Schools—What Must Be Done."

Byron Center Tops Fennville to Grab C District Crown

Ganges

Byron Center, the only team in the Holland Class C district tournament with a winning season's record, won the district crown at the Civic Center Saturday night. The Bulldogs stopped a mediocre Fennville five, 37-27 to move into the regional tournament at Vicksburg this week.

The teams battled on even terms in the opening period before the Bulldogs began to control play in the second quarter. A three-quarter court press in the second quarter and continued the rest of the game, prevented the Fennville five from getting shots.

Both teams, bothered by the capacity crowd of 2,500 and the large floor, had trouble hitting baskets. The winners countered on only 11 two-pointers out of 64 chances for 19 percent. Fennville sank eight baskets out of 59 shots for a poor 14 percent.

Byron Center scored the first basket. Fennville sank three consecutive foul tosses before the Bulldogs countered with another goal. After matching baskets, Byron got four more points before the buzzer while Fennville grabbed another basket and foul shot. The Bulldogs led 10-8 at the end of the first period.

Getting over twice as many shots in the second quarter, Byron Center managed to sink four baskets in the second quarter. Fennville made one basket in the second period. The halftime score favored the winners 19-12.

Trying to get possession of the ball in the third period was costly to the Blackhawks. Byron Center, "cold" in the third period sank only one basket, the same number scored by Fennville, but managed to come through on foul tosses. Gord Goorhouse, Byron Center forward and first half scoring mainstay, drew the shots going in for shots. He made four free throws. Two additional Byron foul shots gave the winners a 27-14 third quarter lead.

Fennville outscored Byron Center in the fourth quarter, 13-10. The Blackhawks made four buckets and the Bulldogs two in the last period. Bart Middlebusch, Byron forward, made five foul tosses to lead the scoring in the fourth quarter.

Of the 11 baskets made by the winners in the game, Goorhouse and Jim Vande Wege, sophomore guard, each made five. Middlebusch got the other two-pointer. Goorhouse led the scoring with 14 points and Vande Wege had 10. Art Coxford made four of Fennville's baskets and led the scoring with 11 points.

Ex-FBI Men Know Ropes in Cases of Alimony Dodgers

Allegan Prosecutor Finds Delinquents And Makes Them Pay

ALLEGAN (Special)—An ex-FBI agent, armed with Michigan's new "Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement Support Act", is making it hot for Allegan county alimony dodgers who have left for parts unknown.

Allegan's Prosecuting Attorney Dwight Cheever has been instrumental in getting 12 fathers in seven states back on the right path by paying support for their children in Allegan county. Three other cases are pending in two other states.

Cheever admits that his training as an FBI agent has made the job of tracking down the errant fathers a lot easier. He also pointed out that nothing could be done without the cooperation of law officers in other states.

Most of the dodgers have been tracked down through correspondence with police in distant cities after Cheever gets a tip on the general area in which the man is believed to be living.

Once they're pinned down, most of the fathers start paying their alimony again, but the law has another weapon if they are reluctant. The threat of extradition is returned to Allegan to face charges of leaving the state owing alimony is step no. 2 if they fail to start paying again.

L. T. Geiger, of Dorr, arrested recently through the cooperation of Fort Pierce, Fla., police, was extradited and is out on bond pending trial for leaving the state with a debit on his alimony account.

Cheever said there is no way for his office to get the dodgers to pay up their back alimony, as this is a civil matter, but he does take pride in the number of "inactive accounts" that are current again as a result of his efforts.

Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith said Cheever had been more successful with cases of this type than any other prosecutor in this area.

A man in Oregon, now paying regularly, had been on the missing list since 1948 until Cheever tracked him down. Another man, missing eight years, was found living elsewhere in Michigan and his account became active again.

Cheever—and their ex-wives and children—are waiting patiently for two other men to be freed from penitentiaries.

In addition to the direct benefit to the dependents, Cheever's diligence also pays off for taxpayers for, as he points out, virtually all of the alimony dodging cases referred to him are receiving state and county funds in the form of direct relief or aid to dependent children.

He said the procedure for getting the legal machinery working is quite simple. The wife files a petition in Circuit Court and is granted a court order showing that she is entitled to support. A certificate is mailed to the court having jurisdiction over the ex-husband and the prosecutor in that locality takes over to enforce the court order.

Sentinel Gets Its First Order for Tulip Edition

Tulip Time is coming. The Holland Sentinel has received its first order for festival editions from a Dupo, Ill., resident who dug out an order blank from two years ago to list orders for himself as well as others in East Carondelet Ill., Webster Groves, Mo., and Brunswick, Me.

The letter came from Michael W. Morgan, who wrote, "Having already enjoyed the splendor of your wonderful festivals in previous years and knowing that I'll be unable to return this May, I am enclosing $2 along with several names for your festival edition."

The average North American uses 800 pounds of wood a year while the average African uses about 125 pounds.

'Shades of Spring' Style Show Attracts Over 450

Splashes of brightly colored tulips and daffodils and the scent of hyacinths provided a spring-like setting for the fashion show "Shades of Spring," staged Thursday evening in the Woman's Literary club house.

An enthusiastic audience of over 450 attended the two showings, sponsored by the Ottawa County Nurses Association. Proceeds went to the Student Nurse Loan Fund, set aside to give financial aid to young women entering professional schools of nursing.

Twelve nurses and three nurses aides served as models. Members of the Future Nurses Club were ushers.

The eloquent narration by Mrs. Dorothy Bennett brought to life part one, "Easter Parade," which included many French originals and other beautiful fashions of sheers, linens and cottons from basic blacks to pinks and orchids.

Outdoor furniture, table and umbrella, made a lovely setting for part two, "Casual Clothes," featuring bathing suits, play clothes, lounging dusters and peignoir.

An archway of white mums and greens with lighted candelabra set the stage for the final part of the show, "The Wedding." This included gowns for various wedding participants, climaxed by a lovely bridal gown of white satin, tulle and chantilly lace.

Gay organ music by Mary Ann Cumerford and Mrs. Jean Engelsman provided an appropriate background for the show. Intermission entertainment was done by the Miss Chords, vocal quartet from Zeeland, who delighted the audience with their harmonious arrangements.

Federal Judge Issues Injunction

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent has issued a temporary injunction restraining William H. Boer of Holland from disposing of or showing any documents and records he allegedly took from Holland Furnace Co. to any person other than an authorized agent of the furnace company.

Judge Kent set March 11 at 3 p.m. as date for a hearing on the furnace company's suit to force Boer to return all papers and documents allegedly belonging to the company that are now in his possession.

The furnace company's suit contends that Boer, who was secretary and assistant treasurer of the company from March, 1949 until June 30, 1953, had numerous confidential papers belonging to the business in his possession when his relationship with the company was terminated.

The company's suit said that no monetary value could be placed on papers and documents, but that it would substantially succeed the value of $3,000, the minimum amount for which a suit can be filed in U.S. District Court.

The suit was filed in federal court because the company is incorporated under Delaware corporation laws. Judge Kent issued the temporary injunction the same date the suit was filed, March 2.

Former Local Man Has Encouraged Consolidated Schools Since 1915

A former Holland man, now retired, who has championed consolidated schools since his undergraduate days at Hope College, is itching to get back to Albers, Iowa, these days so he can help out in his pet project—a consolidated school system.

He is M. Z. Albers, currently staying at the home of his brother, George, at 254 College Ave.

Albers retired as superintendent of Hardin County, Iowa, schools Aug. 1, 1954. He arrived in Holland to visit his brother Jan. 8 and plans to return to Iowa soon where he won't be idle.

"I want to help out in the Alden Township elementary grades where there's a shortage of teachers, or work as a full-time administrator," he said.

Before graduation from Hope in 1915, Albers wrote a thesis on consolidated schools and since that time he's been putting his ideas on the subject into practice.

He was superintendent of one of the first consolidated schools in Iowa from 1915 to 1919. He then moved to Bondurant, northeast of Des Moines, also a newly consolidated school. He was superintendent of the consolidated school at New Providence from 1924 to 1936 when he moved to Hardin County and stayed until retirement last year.

The first wave of consolidations occurred in Iowa from 1914 to 1926. On that date there were a total of 389. Later the state was more interested in organizing consolidated schools on a statewide basis to encompass larger areas and increase enrollments.

Earlier a consolidated school included 16 sections and later from 75 to 120 sections. The county boards of education were asked to make surveys and studies and tentative consolidations of each county were submitted to the state superintendent of public instruction.

From 1915 to 1926 there were seven consolidated schools in Hardin County. From 1946 to 1954 the area included in each of the seven units was doubled and new consolidations formed. They are called community school districts to develop the theme of community service.

In the specific district where Albers was in charge there were two towns with 800 persons each. The schools were consolidated with the seventh, eighth and ninth grades in one building and town. The 10th, 11th and 12th grades are in another building in the other town. Elementary schools exist in each town.

Albers glows when citing advantages of consolidations. Through wide experience he finds consolidated schools are able to acquire better teachers, provide better opportunities to students and foster more far-reaching projects such as safety, soil conservation, art and wildlife projects.

Albers is willing, and he has compared his pupils to those from urban areas in Iowa and they are on a par. He had a brother working in the Des Moines school system and could draw a comparison that in most instances turned out in his favor.

Albers is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Albers of Overisel and his mother came to this area with the Van Raalte Colony. While taking time off from his studies at Hope to manage his father's 200-acre farm, he filled in one day for a teacher named Jennie Dubnik at Overisel School. That convinced him to turn his thoughts from a medical career to teaching and he's been at it ever since.

Albers' work on consolidations has elicited nationwide attention. His name has been listed in "Who's Who in American Education" and the "International Blue Book."
