Police Believed Girl Driver Was Alone in the Car

Injured Man Still Said on Stretcher At St. Mary's Hospital

GRAND HAVEN (Special) Two persons were injured, one critically, in a crash early Saturday when a car missed a curve uprooted a tree on Harbor Ave. not far from Grand Haven

Ralph Smith, 23, route 1, Grand Haven, was not expected to survive his injuries which consist of multiple fractures of both arms and legs as well as bones all over his body.

However, Monday his condition was reported as "satifactory" He was a passenger in a car driven by Nancy Wells, 17-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Wells, of 411 Barber St., Spring Lake. Miss Wells' injuries were mostly facial, with a possible fractured jaw. Both were taken to Municipal Hospital, but Smith was immediately transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids where at 9 a.m. today he had not been removed from the stretcher because of his critical injuries. Miss Wells is a nurses aide in Municipal Hospital. She had gone off duty at 11 p.m. Friday. Smith was so firmly wedged under the instrument panel of the '55 model Miss Wells was driving that officers at first believed Miss Wells was alone. A second wrecker had to be called to pull out the collapsed right side of the car so that Smith could be removed. City police said skid marks measured 178 feet on the pavement Newcomers Club annual style and 182 feet in the sand, for a show luncheon Wednesday in the total of 310 feet before the car Tulip Room of the Warm Friend hit the tree which was eight feet Tavern to more than 100 includoff the pavement. The car which ing members and guests. Attrachad the tree embedded in the tive decorations in blue featured right side was demolished.

Grand Haven's last fatal accident occurred May 17, 1953, claiming the life of Bette Martin.

DIVERSION - Grade school children had plenty to tell their classes about this morning after seeing a fire and a real rescue on their way to school. The fire was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Wieren, 430 Washington Ave. and the rescue was in the form of the family parakeet, which was brought, cage and all, out onto the lawn. The fire started in the first floor bathroom and swept along a joist across the house between the first and second floors. Three trucks were called and firemen worked about 45 minutes. Damage was estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000 by Fire Chief Andrew Klomparens, who said the cause is not known. Much of the damage was the result of smoke and water.

New Groningen Advised to Stay With Zeeland

District Appears Contented; Straw Vote Not Asked

The New Groningen school district, its teenagers securely tucked away in Zeeland High School, was not asked to take a straw ballot on suburban school district consolidation Tuesday night.

About 75 residents of the district met with the citizens' study committee of Park and Holland townships and were advised that their position adjacent to Zeeland makes it logical that they continue to look in that direction.

It was not a selling proposition. The audience was relaxed and objective, seemingly interested more in the Holland area school problems as observers than partici-

Walter Vander Haar, chairman of the townships' study committee, explained that the reason for the New Groningen meeting was to inform the district of what the committee had done. A part of the New Groningen district lies within the Zeeland city limits and 35 high school students from the district attend Zeeland High School on a tuition basis.

Annexation Advantages Lost in Shuffle of Facts?

In an informal discussion on local annexation problems Monday night, the Board of Education concluded that so much emphasis to date has been placed on finances, taxation, school sites and boundary lines that the general advantages of a well integrated community school program have been lost in

Supt. Walter W. Scott in reviewing developments on alternate proposals said he believes the program as proposed by the Holland Board of Education annexing some 11 districts to the city district plus political annexation is a sound pol-

But while the board agreed that there is no reason at present to change basic policies, there also was general agreement with President Wendell A. Miles' statement that the board would never turn a deaf ear to persons trying to work out a constructive educational pro-

Miles reiterated his statement niade at the Dec. 27 meeting of the boards of sending districts and the Holland Board of Education at which time the policies were outlined. At that time he said the districts would likely want to meet to study and discuss school programs, and members of the Holland board would be happy to meet with any such groups at any

"The board should not at this time say whether one or more schools will be built. That usually is decided after a lot of citizens' meetings," Miles said.

Alvin J. Cook said a well integrated school program might even eventually include 13th and 14th grades in view of the fact that colleges everywhere are overcrowded. He said political and school annexation could provide well organized recreation programs throughout the entire area. The adult evening classes could be expanded and community workshops set up. The eventual necessity of more junior high schools could provide even better community cen-

It was agreed that a good educational program for the children setting forth high educational standards is far more important than school sites.

"We are not belittling anybody for their efforts put forth in solving their own educational problems, or of finding their own answer to the board's policy statement," Scott said. He also explained new developments in the Citizens Annexation Advisory committee which has appointed a sixman steering committee to clarify certain issues with the Board of Education, City Council and other

Besides the questions of school and political annexation, there may be some question on the board's annexation deadline of March 1, 1958. At its Dec. 27 meet ing, the board's policy set forth: "Districts recommended for annexation to the school district are advised that no additional students will be accepted on or after Sept. 1, 1958, unless such annexation takes place prior to March 1, The policy also provides that high school students from districts not recommended for annexation may be admitted on payment of tuition on a year-toyear basis only as facilities of the Holland district will permit

There was general agreement that co-terminus boundaries of city and school district would be the most desirable answer, a feeling which is confirmed by some law-

With many situations still to be worked out, it is entirely possible that some changes will be made, but Supt. Scott preferred an attitude of new creative approaches to the word "compromise" which has been bandied about a great deal the last few weeks. "In the long run, we must remember what is best for all the people," he said.

President Miles said once the advisory committee has recommended boundary lines, the school board will be in a position to give all the needed information to the people. Until a definite program is determined, preliminary information might prove confusing. Supt. Scott said industries in outlying areas are concerned over proposed programs, and industries in the Beechwood area are meeting with school leaders at Beechwood Wednesday night while other industries are meeting later with the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Supt. Scott and Vern Schipper, director of the adult evening school, reported on a visit to Flint to study the community - school workshop program operating in 35 out of the 41 schools in Flint. Under this program, schools open at 7 a.m. for various functions and classes which continue all day into the evening. This adult and youth program operates six days a week. Courses of all kinds are offered to all age levels besides a good share of athletic activity. T.E. Van Dussen Elected

Board Concerned Over Proposed Tuition Formulas

Teachers Committee Expected to Report On a New Principal

Supt. Walter W. Scott expressed concern over House Bill 230 on proposed tuition calculations at a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday night. He said proposed formulas if applied to this year's tuition would reduce the cost of tuition from $233 to $199 resulting in a loss of more than $30,000 in revenue. He said other districts likely would be similarly

He also was concerned over the bill which would amount to a $53,-000 reduction in state aid for Holland, based on this year's enrollment. The bill would decrease deductible millage which is the equalizing factor in the aid. The board took no action but will consider proper resolution's later if necessary.

Scott also suggested an informal meeting soon with the professional problems ommittee and the welfare and salary committee to discuss the merit study which has been in progress for two years and salary proposals. This meeting may be held later this month.

He also announced that the teachers' committee of the board probably will have a recommendation at the April meeting concerning a new principal for the high school

Scott announced that Dr. Daniel A. Poling of Philadelphia, well known church leader, will address High School commencement exercises Thursday, June 6, in Civic Center. Dr. Poling is the father of the late Rev. Clark V. Poling, one of the four chaplains aboard the Dorchester who drowned after giving their life belts to servicemen during World War II.

The teachers' committee recom mended that Fred Weiss' request to be released as head basketball coach be accepted with regret. The committee also recommended that Robert Connell be appointed head basketball coach. The appointments already are in effect, but Junior High league, will migrate the committee took this action so that the items could be officially entered in the minutes of the Board of Education, A letter was read from Weiss who expressed his appreciation for the cooperation shown through the years.

The report from the Recreation committee recommending that City Council appropriate $20,000 and the Board of Education $10,-000 for a city and school sponsored program was presented. It was the Council last week.

Christian Endeavor

Become A True Disciple Mark 8:34-38; II Corinthians 5:17 By Darell Franken

Sunday, March 17 To become a True Disciple of mere ethical behavior. Ethical behavior is a characteristic of a Christian, but it is not the total God's will for his life, made possible through Christ. In the "casestudy" and "discussion" which follows, try to get your group to discover what True Discipleship means. A Case-Study

"A certain pastor had taken his daughter, Roberta, to a middlewestern state to have her registered as a student in a Christian college. The young lady had been a professing Christian for a number of years, and had been active among the young people of her father's church and in the wider circle of the denominational association. But, said the father, the president of the school had taken the girl and her father into his private office and had an intimate talk with her about spiritual things... The college president said to this girl: "Now, Roberta, you have had a Christian upbringing, haven't you? Your father is church all your life, and have been and yet not be born again?

Christian Wins B Title Easily Over Hudsonville

Maroons Crack Zone to Prance To 55-28 Victory

Combining a superb defense with some good shooting, Holland Christian's cage squad breezed to the class B district championship Saturday night by downing Hudsonville, 55-28. A sellout crowd of 2,600 fans watched the Dutch make easy work of the Eagles to advance to the regionals which begin here Tuesday night.

The championship was the first the Dutch had taken in the last three years, although they had won five straight previous to that time. Christian's win also came by way of revenge for a defeat pinned on them by Hudsonville in the district finals two years ago.

For the second successive tournament game, Coach Art Tuls' Maroons were called upon to crack a zone defense, and it was done handily on both occasions. Hudsonville used a 2-1-2 defense, and the locals completely punctured it by working through as well as shooting over it. By midway in the third stanza, Coach Roy Gerkin switched to a man to man defense, which also proved no problem for the Dutch.

Meanwhile Christian was using a switching man to man defense of their own which almost completely bottled up the Eagles deliberate 1-3-1 offense. Hudsonville managed to hit on only nine baskets out of just 43 tries, but many of these were from well outcourt and of the hurried variety. Christian, meanwhile, collected on 26 out of 75 attempts from the field. The individual defensive star of the night was Christian's Herm Tuls who held the leading scorer in the Kenewa league, Norm Schut, to just 10 points.

Another big factor in the Dutch victory was their domination of both backboards. Christian's Warren Otte and Cal Klaasen had little difficulty in sweeping the boards for the Dutch and also set up several easy layup shots.

The first quarter was a slow moving affair with the count knotted at 4-4 midway in the period. The Dutch started to find the range at this point and took a lead which they never relinquished. Hudsonville hit five fouls in the period before connecting for their first and only basket after at the period's end.

Paced by Dave Klaver and Ron Weener with their outcourt shooting, the Dutch soon jumped to a 19-9 lead after three minutes of play. Schut hit two of his patented jump shots in the second period

But with 10 seconds left, Plagenhoef stepped to the line and put the Dutch out of reach with a pair of charity tosses. Muskegon got in one more shot and Hilbink was fouled taking the ball down and scored the final two free shots after the game ended.

Muskegon started with a manfor-man defense but changed to a zene when Holland went through them in the first quarter for a 15-5 lead.

Overway had six points in the first quarter and Hilbink four while Stewart had all of Muskegon's tallies. Muskegon crept up in the second quarter as Holland made several bad passes and made mechanical errors and the Big Reds outscored the Dutch, 13 to seven to whittle the lead to 22-10 at halftime. Holland moved the ball sharply in the last half and waited for good shots against the zone. Hilbink and Aye benefited from Muskegon's aggressive play as they were fouled frequently. Slim Dave made nine of 10 chairty tosses in the game, seven in the second half and Aye tallied six of eight, five in the second half. The Dutch outscored Muskegon, 17 to 13 in the third period depsite only four baskets, two each by Hilbink and Plagenhoef. The rest of the points were attained on free shots. Muskegon, aided by Bud Bowen's seven points, outscored Holland 12 to nine in the fourth period. Plagenhoef's two baskets were the

GRANDSTANDING ... Sports Splinters

By Randy Vande Water Memo to Joe Moran: Why not add wrestling to the Holland High

It is the fastest growing sport in Michigan and several schools in the area have successful teams including Allegan, East Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Portage and Niles. Grand Haven is considering it for next fall's sports program. The little fellow gets a chance to meet someone of comparable size in wrestling and some of those out of proportion guys also get an opportunity to compete. Wrestling coaches point out the sport teaches the importance of self-confidence and self-reliability perhaps more than some of the team sports, where if one boy fails somebody else can pick up. High school and college wrestling is a strictly follow the rules deal and its nothing like the mon-

Maroons Break St. Joe's Press To Win, 65-53

Holland Christian's fired - up age outfit moved into the second round of regional play on the Civic Center court Tuesday night by whipping the St. Joe Bears, 65-53 before 2,300 screaming fans Christian now takes on potent Allegan in the 7 p.m. game on Thursday in another B tourney doubleheader.

Christian's win was a convincing one as they opened up a 15-point lead in the final minutes of the contest The Dutch actually turned the game into a near runaway in the closing portion of the tilt as they broke through the Bears' favorite weapon - the full court press. St. Joe found the Maroons ready and waiting for the press in the fourth period, and Holland iced the win in a hurry.

The Hollanders were leading 47-41 when the Bears went into their pressing tactics. They narrowed the count to 48-45. before the Dutch started driving through the press for easy layups. Within three minutes' time, the count stood 62-49, and it was all over but the shouting.

The Maroon's key to the hard fought win had to be in their tremendous desire for a win and the defense designed by Coach Art Tuls for Jason Harness and Dave Dase, the two big guns for the Bears. Although Warren Otte and Ned Joldersma on Harness and Cal Klaasen on Dase did great individual jobs, it was the team effort which really turned the trick. Harness always had a man in front and behind him to keep him from getting the ball for a decent shot. The defense was so designed also that the Dutch invariably had a rebounder in front of Harness to keep him from tipping. When it was all over, Harness had 13 and Dase just four.

Christian also had control of the boards with Klaasen, Otte, Dave Klaver and Joldersma doing yoemen work. In the back court it was the fine work of Herm Tuls and Roger Mulder that kept the Bears in plenty of trouble. Again Bill Bocks, former Holland High Tuls substituted freely, and it and Hope College athlete, who won paid off for the Maroons in the the Al-Van League championship stretch drive. REASON TO BE HAPPY - Chuck Looman, one of Holland's alltime star bowlers who rolled his last 300 game six years ago, just missed another perfect game last week by one pin. Looman, who once rolled an 800 series, has bowled seven perfect games in his career. He had nine strikes in a row in his latest effort and the first ball of the 10th frame was a good "Brooklyn" but the six pin remained standing. Looman picked up the six pin for a spare and followed it with a strike for a 279 game, highest single game rolled this season. This game, plus games of 201 and 228 gave Looman a 708 series. This is the top mark of the year. Walt Wlodarczyk, Floyd Johnson and Jake Boersema topped the total during the past (Sentinel photo)

Harrington, Lakeview Districts Shun Straw Vote

The proposed consolidation of 15 school districts outside Holland into a single district with its own high school facilities received a Buursma Stuck severe jolt Thursday night when residents of Harrington and Lakeview school districts refused even to cast a straw vote on their feel-

This is in direct contrast to what with school districts north and east of the city at which residents voted overwhelmingly on straw ballots in favor of consolidation.

An address by Clarence Jalving and comments from the floor by Peter Boter highlighted the meeting, which was called to present to the people the results of a citizens's study committee from Park and Holland townships.

Jalving, a representative on the 32 - member Citizens' Annexation Advisory Committee and chairman of its newly - formed steering committee, asked the audience of more than 250 if they, "because of pride," want to "turn away someone who wants to help us?

He pointed to the present bonded indebtedness of $1,400,000 in the 15 districts and the 1,000 - student, $1,600,000 high school that is being discussed in terms of the consolidation. Such a school would probably not be adequate by 1965, he said, and he expresesd concern over the financial situation of the outlying areas if an addition or another school had to be built by them then.

Jalving also assured the people that, as a banker, he would not buy school bonds from a district with such valuation and such indebtedness.

Rotarians Hear Of Risk Policies

The role of casualty insurance last spring's tornadoes, wind and hail storms was described to member of the Holland Rotary Club Thursday noon (March 7) by C. B. Kingman, representing the Michigan Insurance Information Service.

Kingman detailed the manner in which casualty insurance companies and adjusters move immediately into storm - damaged areas to expedite loss payments and speed reconstruction.

Such activity, he explained, is routine elsewhere for the insurance companies, but not until this year was Michigan considered to be part of the tornado belt.

Because it now appears that tornadoes may be expected in Michigan each spring and summer, he said, the Michigan casualty industry's speakers bureau is relat-
