Mayor Proclaims Fire Prevention Week in Holland

Calls on All Citizens To Remove Hazards, And Make City Safe

Mayor Robert Visscher proclaimed next week as Fire Prevention Week in Holland at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night. His proclamation calls upon all departments of city government to participate actively in a campaign for improved fire safety and urges the fire department and schools to work with the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations for a successful program. He also requests every citizen of the community to take part in relieving hazardous conditions and making "our city a safer community in which to live and work."

Council also adopted ordinance No. 433 establishing the office of clerk of Municipal Court in which said clerk will be charged with maintaining complete records of all civil and criminal proceedings in Municipal Court under the supervision of the municipal judge. The ordinance will become effective Nov. 1.

Council adopted a request from Hope College to pave the curb strip on the north side of 12th St. from Columbia Ave. west to the entrance of the music building for the purpose of angle parking. Approval was given an agreement with Benjamin Altena for closing a city drain on the north-west corner of River Ave., and 28th St. at a total cost of $240 of which the property owner will pay half.

Council okayed final payment of $13,185.22 to the West Shore Construction Co., on the 1956 paving contract.

The city manager's report included copies of the Ernst and Ernst audit material for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Also distributed were copies of a proposed administrative code prepared by Public Administration Service in accordance with its contract dated Nov. 16, 1955. It was recommended that the code be received for information until such time as Council has had an opportunity to study it.

A petition calling attention to the short section of East 28th St. between Columbia Ave. and State St., and requesting immediate action for an improved status of the area was referred to the city manager for report and recommendation. The petition expressed the consensus that the road should remain open and be paved provided there be no truck traffic. If the road is closed or open, residents ask in any case that a sidewalk be placed on the north side of the street to permit children in the neighborhood to walk in safety.

A Board of Public Works report on a municipal electric system for the city of Holland, prepared by Black and Veatch, consulting engineers, was accepted for study.

Council approved change order No. 2 for Getman Bros. for a contract calling for $7,678.52 for rip-rap at the low service station.

Bids were read on money and securities insurance and Council approved low bid of the Visscher-Brooks agency for $364.49, subject to approval of policy by Insurance Audit and Inspection Co.

Petitions requesting paving of 31st St. from Van Raalte to Cleveland, and Fairhill Dr. from Cleveland to the turn-around were referred to the city manager for report.

HUDSONVILLE STILL REBUILDING — Six months ago Wednesday just as Ottawa County residents were eating their evening meal a tornado skipped across the county and nearby Allegan County dealing death and destruction. Many still remember and will probably never forget that night of terror as houses came crashing down over their heads or were swept away. Eager hands probed into the wreckage seeking the dead and injured. Those same hands have been busy rebuilding ever since. The top photograph shows the wreckage of the John Meppelink home on Port Sheldon Rd., April 3, as workers searched for possible injured. John, his wife, Elizabeth, and 10-year-old daughter Betty were injured. The bottom picture shows the Meppelink home today from the rear yard while to the left, across the street, another home begins rising. (Sentinel photos)

Football Festival Scheduled by HHS

The annual Football Festival, which serves as the Homecoming celebration for Holland High School, is underway at the school this week, and will be climaxed with the crowning of the queen and a semi-formal dance Friday night. The queen will be revealed Thursday night at a bonfire to be held at 7:30 on the 22nd St. practice field. The bonfire will also serve as a pep rally, with the pep band, cheerleaders and a speaker set for the evening.

Following the football game with traditional rival Grand Haven Friday night, the queen, who will be crowned by Holland High Mayor Tom Bos, will reign at "Stairway to the Stars," the Homecoming dance, in the Civic Center.

Chairman for the 1956 festival is Phyllis Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Smith. Coronation chairmen are Bill Kuyper and Bruce Van Leuven; publicity, Edwina Racker; bonfire, Jo Ann Elhart; Roxanne Rudolph and Barbara Becker, decorations; Bill Stryker, elections for queen.

Boys of Holland High School nominated 10 candidates for queen and court on Sept. 28. On Tuesday five girls were chosen by ballot of the entire student body. The senior girl with the most votes will be queen and the next four will be her court.

Student council members are building a float for the queen and her court. Coronation events will take place during halftime at the game Friday night.

Investigate Breakin

Burglars moved into Ottawa County Wednesday night in an attempt to loot Chet's Service station on 136th Ave. and Port Sheldon Dr. A window was broken to gain entrance and a number of items were piled outside the station when they were frightened off shortly after 1 a.m. this morning. At least four break-ins are under investigation in Allegan County on US-31 just south of Holland, that have occurred in the last few weeks.

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Six months after the tornado, it's still apparent that Hudsonville underwent a disaster, but the most tragically hit areas look like the finished part of a planned housing project.

Probably 65 of the 70 houses that were flattened on April 3 have been rebuilt, according to William Vander Laan, building inspector and township clerk.

In the stricken areas, new homes are being built in front of, alongside of, and behind the remains of demolished dwellings.

Farmers are harvesting crops that didn't look like they would be planted last spring. Commuters who work in nearby cities are busy at their jobs and are returning to bigger and more modern homes in many cases.

Vander Laan estimated that a $585,000 has been spent in rebuilding in the township, and set the average cost of each new house at $9,000.

Most of the new homes have been built on the same sites, but some families have moved to more advantageous or comfortable locations.

In some cases where only a barn or smaller building was lost, stronger and more attractive replacements have been erected.

The rebuilding in many cases was so fast that people are already settled down in their new homes. But they still are reluctant to talk about the tragic night when 18 lives were lost. They feel that they either suffered too much to want to recall the details, or that they were spared and don't feel qualified to speak for their neighbors.

But they all thank the various organizations which came to their aid.

Mrs. Sebus Berghorst, now living in a one-floor modern home, said the church and the Red Cross had helped them most. "And the clothing," she said unbelievably, telling of the tremendous amount that had been offered to them.

Home Entered

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — State police are investigating a break-in at the Lavern De Witt home in Ferrysburg. Children returning home in the afternoon discovered that the back door had been forced open. A record player, about 15 records and some $9 from a piggy bank are missing.

The practical demonstrations are being conducted by qualified instructors from the Rod and Gun Club and the Holland Rifle Club and are sanctioned by the National Rifle Association.

An opening night meeting was held Tuesday and attracted 60 youngsters and attracted 60 youngsters. Most of the people taking the course are between 11 and 15 years old.

Zeeland Company Seeks $1,200 in Civil Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Suit has been filed in Ottawa Circuit Court by De Bruyn Feed and Produce Co., of Zeeland seeking judgment of $1,200 from Ohio Casualty Insurance Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, representing balance due from a former employee covered under bond with defendant.

The Zeeland company alleges that on Dec. 24, 1955, William Drummond, an employee working in Wisconsin, requested an advance of $1,500 on a cabbage crop he planned to raise and promised a chattel mortgage on his car, tools and equipment.

The Zeeland company advanced the $1,500, but Drummond paid only $300 on the amount he received. The Ohio firm is the bonding company which covers De Bruyn employees.

Area Republicans Welcome Nixon To Grand Rapids

Ottawa Delegation At Kent Airport For Vice President

GRAND RAPIDS (Special) — A crowd of about 300 persons greeted Vice President Richard M. Nixon at 11:30 a.m. Monday at Kent County Airport when his campaign plane touched down, two minutes ahead of the 11:15 scheduled arrival time.

A good delegation from Ottawa County was on hand to meet the vice president, who flew to Grand Rapids early Monday from Tampa, Fla. Included in the Ottawa group were Yvonne De Jonge of Zeeland, president of the Ottawa County Young Republicans; Henry Geerlings, Reemer Van Til, George Van Koeveering, chairman of the Ottawa GOPs, Charles R. Sligh, Jr., Mary McLean, and Avery Baker.

The Hudsonville Unity Christian School band played at the airport when Nixon, accompanied by his wife, Pat, came off the plane to be greeted by Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit; Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr.; Mayor Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids and John D. Martin of Grand Rapids.

The vice president was presented a bouquet of roses by Judy Milanowski, 3, of Grand Rapids, and then went to a nearby hangar for a press conference. The crowd of newsmen and cameramen at the field almost matched the enthusiastic crowd of about 300 Republicans.

His news conference Nixon said he changed his reservations at a hotel in St. Petersburg, Fla., during the weekend when he learned that the hotel he was originally staying in was discriminating against Jews. He makes it a practice during his travels to stay at non-discriminatory hotels.

He was asked if he had an answer from a telegram he sent to Walter Reuther in reply to Reuther's question about governmental action in bringing about a four-day work week. Nixon said he had no answer, but that the four-day week would come about through increased productivity, not through governmental action.

Nixon said that when he was in Nashville, Tenn., the Negroes attended public meetings he held there. He also said it is the duty of both parties to plan their schedules in order to encourage the breakdown of prejudices of discrimination.

When asked about education — whether or not he would reply to Stevenson's remark that teachers salaries be raised with federal funds, Nixon said he is planning to make a major statement on the issue later. However, he said he feels that Stevenson put himself "on shaky ground" in commenting on aid to education, and "in so doing he made a case for a Republican victory by saying that aid to education had failed." He said, "The Federal government must assist and supplement, not dominate education."

After the press conference, the vice president's motorcade started for the Pantland Hotel through fairly heavily crowded streets. At one point along the route, he stopped the motorcade to shake hands with some teenagers. Confetti was thrown from windows along Monroe Ave. Nixon got out of his car and walked the last block to the Pantland after stopping to talk to a lady in a wheel chair.

When he spoke from downtown Grand Rapids, Sen. Clyde Geerlings, Rep. George Van Peurseem, George Van Koeveering and Yvonne De Jonge were on the platform with him.

Third False Alarm In Week Sounds Today

The third false alarm in less than a week today brought swift condemnation from Chief Andrew Klomparsens.

Klomparsens said the alarm from in front of Van Raalte School shortly before 1 a.m. today was no doubt the work of children.

He said the other two alarms were thought to be the work of youngsters. Klomparsens urged parents of school aged children to advise them of the danger of turning in false alarms.

Ironically today's alarm followed Wednesday night's proclamation of Fire Prevention Week next week by Mayor Robert Visscher.

Blind Parking Meters Will Be Put in City Lots

No More Parking On Other Guy's Nickel Except Along Streets

You can't park on what's left of the other guy's nickel any more. One of the last opportunities to get something for nothing goes down the drain soon when "blind" meters will be installed in all the city parking lots.

Blind meters show only a green "Legal parking" or a red "expired," contrary to the ordinary kind which show to the minute how much time separates you from a ticket.

Blind meters are in some of the lots now, and the rest are being shipped. City Manager Herb Holt said, though, that meters along the streets will stay the way are.

The reason for blind meters — or for any meters at all — is revenue, Holt explained. Receipts for the next couple of years to pay for recent lot improvements and purchases, according to city auditor John Fonger.

The parking meter fund now stands $49,956 in the hole as a result of lot purchases last year. Lots themselves have been the biggest source of expenditure with $32,212 being put into land purchases and another $27,192 going for parking lot improvements.

That increased revenue is needed is borne out by the intake last year. The meters accounted for slightly less than $34,000.

With the added income from blind meters and the paying off of new lots, the fund should be balanced within two years.

The total revenue could be increased by a small amount if everyone who parks would put real money in the meters. A look at the glass jars kept by the treasurer brings out some strange substitutes for pennies and nickels.

Mutilated American coins and Spanish, Canadian, German and South African tender are the most commonly found items that can't be turned in at the bank.

But there are odder things with which people try to outwit the mechanical regulators. Tokens for kiddie rides in amusement parks, charms from bracelets, washers, pin ball slugs, car keys, milk bottle caps and even an Ike button were found in the collection.

Some of these ingenious devices actually register a few minutes on the meters, but most of them merely wreck the machines, judging from the number of pieces from the meters themselves which are found mixed with the money. Fonger figures about 20 counterfeit pieces are found in each week's collection.

Parkers who got tied up downtown or who thought no one would check the meters while they dashed into a store coughed up $6,170.10 in overtime parking fines during the year ending June 30, Fonger's reports show.

Labor Group Aids In Chest Drive

The Central Labor Trades Council (AFL) of Holland recommended full cooperation of its membership in the coming Community Chest campaign here, it was decided at a meeting Wednesday night of representatives of the various locals. The group met with Chest Campaign Chairman James Taylor of the Erich Benke home.

Also attending the meeting were Ray Garritt of Muskegon, AFL labor representative on the Michigan United Fund, and Roy Gaunt of Lansing, field representative for the Michigan United Fund. Garritt emphasized that labor leaders always encourage community service.

Benke, the host, suggested that employees in Holland increase their contributions this year. Although chest leaders levy no definite assessments, the board has indicated that a half day's wages (or four hours) as a minimum contribution per year. In most cases, such contributions are matched by management.

Representatives at Wednesday's meeting were Andrew Smeenge, Paul Danielson, William Heeringa, Herman C. De Vries, Paul Van Loo, Ray Barkel, Jake Doorneveld, Maynard Batjes, William Krulthoff, Arthur Horning, Arthur Coffey, Erich Benke, Bud Kalkman and Victor Van Oosterhout.

Paul Danielson was named by the council as a nominee to the Community Chest board of directors to succeed Victor Van Oosterhout whose term expires this year.

Holland's Community Chest drive to raise $66,050 will be staged Oct. 22 through 27.

City police issued Genzink a ticket for failure to yield the right of way. Officers estimated damage to the two cars at $800.

Kiwanis Protests Boys' Schedule At Civic Center

Club Wants Assurance Of More Regular Setup; Committee Is Named

About 18 representatives of the Holland Kiwanis Club appeared before City Council Wednesday night to protest the "uneven" schedule for their Boys' Club activities in Civic Center last year and to seek some assurance that the schedule would be better this year — namely one night a week.

The Kiwanis problem was presented by Gabriel Kulte who prefaced his remarks with the information that City Council had allowed $600 in last year's recreation budget for "rental" of Civic Center facilities on certain nights when the building would not be in use by revenue-producing events.

Kulte charged that out of the 24 nights scheduled for boys' activities there were so many changes that it was most difficult to maintain a schedule of any kind.

Also speaking for the Kiwanians was Gerald Van Wyk who pointed out that the city has no YMCA facilities. He added he was cognizant of the difficulties in book-ings for Civic Center.

City Manager Herb Holt said it was the general policy of Civic Center operations to be as self-supporting as possible, and the program called for fitting in boys' activities at such times when there was no other use or need.

Civic Center Manager Earl F. Price said the Kiwanis club last year asked for Tuesday nights, and this was granted fairly regularly early in the season, but during January, February and March when basketball demands are at their height, he said it was difficult to satisfy the schools, let alone the "free" activities. He appeared sympathetic, however, to the leaders, saying "nobody likes to be booted around."

Councilman Robert Kouw pointed to the "selling pitch" at the time the bond issue was being promoted to build such a recreational building. "It was supposed to be a great place for youth, and I didn't hear much about revenue," he said.

Finally, Mayor Robert Visscher suggested that a committee of three Councilmen meet with a committee of three Kiwanians, the city manager and the Civic Center manager, and report back next meeting. Later in the evening, the mayor appointed Councilmen John Beltman, John K. Vander Broek and Laverne Rudolph to represent Council.

In other business, Council denied an application of William Mokma to move a 1½-story dwelling from 49 West 12th St. to 48 East 14th St. Motion to deny was made by Robert Kouw, seconded by Bernice Bishop. Although no explanation was given in the brief action, the property involved is the Ed Brouwer home which adjoins the city hall parking lot on 12th St. and had been under consideration for the county court house branch in this section of Ottawa county.

Attention was called to a meeting of the Holland Planning Commission tonight at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at which time the Board of Education will present its area study. It will be a joint meeting of Council, Board of Education and Planning Commission.

With no objections offered at a public hearing, Council approved special assessment rolls for five sewer projects in the Harrison Ave.-Wildwood area, and gave property owners until Oct. 20 to pay said assessments in full without interest. Thereafter, the amount will be divided into five equal annual installments.

A communication from the Library Board stating that the board has gone on record to the effect that the board would like the area from the parking lot of the city hall on 12th St. west as far as necessary for a new library building was filed.

A Board of Public Works communication suggesting that the lawn area at the Fifth St. power plant be blacktopped for parking purposes for Riverview park events was referred to the city manager for report.

City Clerk Clarence Grevenog announced that Don Ver Hulst of the Board of Public Works has been selected by city employees as employee delegate to the annual retirement system meeting to be held Oct. 18, and Erma Kortering of the hospital is alternate. Officer delegate is City Auditor John Fonger with Clerk Grevenog as alternative.

School Report Submitted After 8-Month Study

Report Recommends General Annexation to City School District

About 50 persons who have been working the past eight or nine months on an area school study gathered in Lakeview School Tuesday night to hear reports of the various committees and to approve the report which in general recommends annexation of some 35 school districts in Ottawa and Allegan counties to the Holland city school district.

Under such a centralized program, solutions could be worked out on pressing problems, particularly those on the secondary school front where crowded conditions in Holland High School demand immediate consideration for enlarged facilities. During the three-hour meeting, detailed reports were given on community study, school programs, enrollments, buildings, transportation and finance, but the scope was so broad that it was virtually impossible to assimilate an eight-month study in a single meeting.

James Hallan, member of the Holland Board of Education, presided and J. J. Riemersma gave the invocation. Dr. Byron Hansford of Michigan State University who served as coordinator for the study emphasized that the cooperation has been excellent. "School leaders are sincerely concerned over solving their own problems. Our function was one of counseling — not telling the people what they should do," he said.

Also present was Dr. Roland Stroble of the Department of Public Education, who gave valuable information on how other districts are meeting their problems.

The report, which will be printed and distributed later, points out that 30 of the 35 districts under study look to Holland as the commercial, social, religious and educational center, and if there is to be any change on the educational pattern, such changes must be considered most carefully. Perhaps one of the greatest problems is the complex finance situation with its differing bases for assessments, millage, state aid returns, and taxation.

It is generally agreed that Holland city citizens would be unwilling to assume full responsibility for a new $3 to $4 million dollar high school when more than 50 percent of the pupils in the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades come from outside the city. It also was recognized that state aid reimbursement for tuition will continue to decline. This is interpreted as a "squeeze" tactic in forcing reorganization of school districts with an ultimate view to having every district provide education for its children from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Recognition was given to a state department recommendation that to provide the best education for children there should be $10,000 in assessed valuation for each pupil in the district.

Generally, people concerned with school problems are asked to think of the overall picture in terms of "maximum educational opportunities for the most reasonable costs." City school leaders admit their school program could not be so "fruitful" were it not for the larger enrollment.

The next step, according to School Supt. Walter W. Scott, will be a general education program to acquaint all persons with the findings of the area survey. There is a great need for expediency if badly needed high school facilities are to be ready by 1960. With church facilities already in use this year, it is expected that even more temporary facilities must be secured the next few years.

Grand Haven Education Board Backs Tax Boost

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The Grand Haven Board of Education voted supporting of the county proposal for increasing the 15-mill limitation by one mill to provide funds for erection of county buildings at its meeting Monday night.

The recommendation, supporting an affirmative vote on the measure in the Nov. 6 election, was urged as a matter of record. The period of the increase would be four years.

At the election held Aug. 7, the millage increase was not included and the mill voted at that election would come out of the 15 mills divided between the county and the township and county schools.

Allegan Will Bear Down to Collect School Tax Bills

District Plans to Levy Largest Tax Bill in Community's History

ALLEGAN (Special)—A request that the city bear down in its efforts to collect unpaid personal property tax money due the school district accompanied a report itemizing the largest school tax bill in the community's history which was presented to the city council Monday night.

School board officials indicated they were anxious to receive $3,138 in unpaid personal property taxes from the years 1953-54-55. The council authorized Deputy City Treasurer Robert Hoyt to take steps to collect the delinquent taxes.

The Allegan school district will levy a total tax bill of $180,916 against property owners within its boundaries this year, the report indicated. Of this amount, $94,236 will be used for operating expenses, $54,018 will be applied against bonded indebtedness on new elementary schools and $32,662 on bonds voted last year for construction of a new high school.

The district includes all of Allegan township, parts of Trowbridge, Watson and Valley townships, but city property owners will pay the largest share, $160,435.88, of this year's record school tax bill.

Also at Monday night's council meeting, City Manager P. H. Beauvais reported that work on the municipal parking lot—virtually at a standstill for the past two weeks because of a shortage of steel rods and turnbuckles—has resumed and that "no further delays are foreseen."

Work on another city project, the new city hall on Locust St., is on schedule, Beauvais reported, and the various departments are expected to be open for business in their new quarters on Monday, Oct. 22.

The council approved the application of Wilbur Akom for a new SDD license for the Akom Grocery at the corner of Grand and River Sts. If Akom's application receives state approval, it will give Allegan its first package liquor store—other than the state operated store—since H. D. Tripp, then a state senator, tore up his SDD license on the floor of the senate in the course of a legislative hassle over state operation of the liquor business.

Other items on Monday night's agenda included approval of a $120 a year salary increase for Fire Chief Floyd Harter, in line with increases recently granted other salaried city employees; and approval of a change in the plot plan for the new Union Telephone Company exchange soon to be built at 411 Hubbard St.

Some more reshuffling of personnel was done this week by Coach Loy Lovitt in preparing the Holland High reserves for Grand Haven.

The reserves battle the Little Bucs Friday afternoon at River-view Park at 4 p.m.

Lovitt is working with Jim Van Putten, quarterback last week, in the left half spot vacated by Ken Hill, who has been moved up to the varsity. The reserve team's leading ground gainer, Hill will do a lot of the varsity punting.

Into Van Putten's quarterback post, Lovitt shoved Hubby Harrington. Clark De Koeyer, a regular end for the first three games, has taken over the right halfback post and another lineman, Jan Nienhuis, regular tackle, will be the fullback.

Lovitt's top lineman, Larry Vliem, tore some cartilage in his knee in the Heights game and will be lost for the year. Vliem was leading the Dutch in tackles.

Others who will be out this week are: Bob Gordon, end who has a knee injury and Harold Wise and Bob Teall, both halfbacks, bothered by sore knees. Duane De Neff has been sidelined by appendicitis along with Bill Byrne, who has been sick.

Russ Prins, who played guard last week, has moved into De Koeyer's end spot and will team with Ron Dorgelo. Gene Van Heukelom and Rick Smith will be the tackles this week and Clyde Gibson and Steve Slag the guards. John Ely will start at center.

Substitutes expected to see a lot of action include: Kent Rowder, Steve Brunink, Bob Vischers, Jack Damson, Bruce Fogarty and Teall, if the knee responds.

Tackling practice and pass offense are being worked on most this week.

Lovitt expects with the loss of Hill's power running the passing attack will provide the best offense. Disappointed with the tackling against the Heights, Lovitt will emphasize it all week.

Age Doesn't Stop Mrs. Mullenburg

Mrs. Sena Mullenburg, of 78 West 12th St., celebrated her 82nd birthday Wednesday, but her method of celebrating is a bit novel.

One of the things she did Wednesday was call a list of people by telephone to see whether they are registered for the Nov. 6 vote. She uses the telephone instead of personal calls because she fractured her hip sometime ago and finds it difficult to get around.

Mrs. Mullenburg's interest in civic life is closely associated with her church interests. Her husband, the late Rev. T. W. Mullenburg, was a minister in the Reformed Church for many years, and the family moved here after his retirement. All the children attended Hope College.

Mrs. Mullenburg plans to cast an absentee ballot in the Nov. 6 election because she finds it difficult to get about and wait in line. She underwent surgery twice for the hip fracture, but she doesn't allow that to interfere with one of America's most priceless privileges—casting the ballot.

Youth Bound Over In Homicide Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Donald M. Flower, 19, Kalamazoo, was bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of negligent homicide at an examination in noon. The charge resulted from a Municipal Court Monday afternoon fatal accident Aug. 12 on US-31 in Grand Haven township in which Robert D. Lutz, 59-year-old high school superintendent of Kentland, Ind., was fatally injured.

Dr. P. J. Van Kolken, medical examiner, testified that Lutz died of a cerebral hemorrhage and a compound fracture of the skull. Others testifying were Frank Morton, Sr., who was traveling with Lutz; Herman Van Zantwick, ambulance driver, and State Police Officer Ramon Rolandson.

Testimony brought out that Lutz and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Morton were en route to Ludington and were pulling a 14-foot fiberglass boat with motor and fishing equipment. The two men decided to check the equipment inside the boat and the car pulled off near a barricade. Then as Lutz was directing Morton in getting the car and boat back onto the highway, Flower's convertible hit the trailer and the impact sent the motor of the motorboat through the air striking Lutz.

Flower's bond of $500 was continued. He will appear for arraignment during the October term of Circuit Court.

The Holland Ministers Social Circle of the Reformed Church will meet next Monday at 2 p.m. at Calvary Reformed Church.

Century Club Members Hear Atomic Engineer

The Holland Century Club held its opening dinner meeting at the American Legion clubhouse Monday evening. Fall flowers and autumn leaves arranged by Mrs. Paul Fredericksen and Mrs. William Winter, Jr., centered the tables.

Mrs. Edward Donovan, president of the club, welcomed guests and members and announced that the executive committee had honored two long-term and faithful members with honorary membership. Those honored are Mrs. N. Dykhuizen and Mrs. C. J. Hand.

John Donnelly, vice president of the club, announced that the club's three vacancies in the membership were to be filled by welcoming back three former members who had been on leave of absence, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth De Pree and Miss Laura Boyd.

Mrs. Donovan paid special tribute to three club members who had died since the club last met in April. All three, Mrs. Oggel, Dr. Abraham Leenhouts, and Daniel Ten Cate, were outstanding club members and citizens.

The speaker for the evening, Dr. Henry Gomberg, assistant director of the Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project, was introduced by Dr. Marion de Velder. Dr. Gomberg talked on the "Recent Developments in Peace Time Atomic Energy" using slides to illustrate his lecture.

He first introduced his audience to the physical plant showing its size and location in relation to the University. This great University Laboratory was established as a War Memorial in 1948. Returning war veterans at the university were anxious to have the university establish something other than a statue or a plaque as a memorial. As a result, it was decided to establish an Institute to study the peacetime potential of atomic energy.

This is not a government laboratory but is instead a study group of all the University faculty. Anyone may advance an idea, but that idea must come out of the educational routine of the university. This is ideal for the scientist since he has freedom of experimentation unshackled by governmental restrictions.

Dr. Gomberg told of the nuclear reactor which will be dedicated on Nov. 16. This has been built by the Ford Motor Company Fund and will be open for review by the public after its dedication. It will be the most powerful reactor in any university of the world. The nuclear education program at Ann Arbor has the finest of equipment, as Dr. Gomberg said. "If we do not produce, it will not be because of any shortage of equipment." By drawing on the university faculty Dr. Gomberg feels that the work at the Phoenix Project maintains a freshness because there is constantly a challenge of ideas. "We are always looking for a new idea," said Gomberg.

"Energy now will be limitless," said Gomberg "but there is enormous work to be done to determine how shall we control and use it." Dr. Gomberg feels that all the world recognizes the potential for destruction, and that prospects for war have come and gone for we know we had better sit down and talk it over. "We haven't come to grips in war because we're scared, and I hope we stay scared," said Gomberg.

For peacetime uses Dr. Gomberg again stressed the limitless power we now have from uranium and thorium. He said our high standard of living in this country is due to our great supply of power, and with this new supply of energy we face the problem of raising the living standard of the entire world. Here is a great challenge for the future.

The great possibilities of irradiation was next stressed by the speaker. The field of medicine is doing tremendous research here. Already much has been done to irradiate and preserve certain types of tissue so that it may be stored and used in the field of surgery.

Much experimentation has been done in the area of parasitic disease. Dr. Gomberg himself has done extensive research in the field of trichinosis where irradiation has been able to control the disease.

Food preservation by irradiation is one of the fascinating studies being made. Dr. Gomberg said it was impossible to enumerate the limitless applications of the peacetime uses of atomic energy, but he showed his audience that the Phoenix Project is certainly a most valuable unit in the national and international drive to improve man's lot through the peacetime applications of atomic energy.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Dr. and Mrs. de Velder on the evening of Nov. 5 when the club will hear Charles Smith, humorist, from Western Michigan College of Kalamazoo.

Dr. Gomberg addressed the Hope College student body in Memorial Chapel this morning. Holland High School physics students were guests.

West Olive Boy Killed In Bike-Truck Accident

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A West Olive boy was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by two trucks as he pedaled his bicycle home from the Agnew School. Carl Scheil Jr., 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheil, Sr., was hit first by a moving van eight miles south of Grand Haven and then run over by a loaded steel truck. Carl and his brother, Henry, 7, rode their bikes to school for the first time Tuesday. Henry was a few feet behind his brother. The two were going to turn off US-31 into a side lane leading to a nearby store. Henry told Ottawa County Under Sheriff Harris Nieuwsma that the first truck, a moving van driven by Melvin Mannurs, 24, Muskegon Heights, was right alongside them. Henry said he yelled at Carl not to turn but he apparently didn't hear him and turned into the side of the moving van. The impact bounced him off onto the pavement directly in the path of the steel truck. The trucker, Arthur Kitchen, 40, Akron, Ohio, said he was unable to stop in time and rode over the boy's body. Nieuwsma said neither driver was held although Mannurs was charged with driving without a chauffeur's license and will appear in Grand Haven Municipal Court Thursday morning. ### Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water
Firemen's hats weren't designed for baseball players but George Zuerink has one ready for his locker — and it's a shiny, white "chief's" hat at that. The "chief's" hat is the second of the big righthander for the Baltimore Orioles picked up this season. And well he should have. For Zuerink was definitely "chief" among the American League relief hurriers in number of appearances this year. Zuerink got into 62 games, tops among the Junior Loop hurlers. Of that number he saved many for the sixth place Orioles, especially in the early part of the season. The Maryland Fireman's Association presented Zuerink with a "regular" fireman's black hat in June after his fine success in the first two months of the campaign. Then the firemen topped it off by giving Zuerink, the "chief's" hat just before he left for home. As George told the firemen, that "black regular" hat got sort of belted around in some of those ball games later in the summer "but he hoped to really get a good start with the chief's hat next year." Zuerink, who with his wife and daughter arrived in Holland Monday night, is definitely looking forward to 1937. He feels he has had the most successful season in the majors and is all set for a return to Baltimore. Naturally he is hoping and expecting an increase in salary. To get ready for next season, Zuerink is picking up with the "Virgil Trucks" barnstorming group, scheduled to visit many Western Michigan communities including Fennville, Oct. 13. Zuerink will join the group Oct. 11 and return Oct. 21. He will also be throwing 'em in for Charley Maxwell Day at Paw Paw Thursday. Zuerink talked to Manager Paul Richards about 57 a couple of weeks ago. And the Baltimore manager, who Zuerink considers the best in baseball, told him to "keep in shape" and what pitches to work on. So, during the barnstorming Zuerink plans to work hardest on developing his "fork ball. Richards worked with him on it often late in the season and he pitched it successfully. This pitch gives George that "extra pitch" to come back with at batters. He has been throwing sinkers, sliders, slips, and fork pitches primarily this summer. The fork ball would be used most of the time on left-handed batters. Zuerink, in reviewing the 1936 season, said his new sliker and slip pitch were coming through for him in the early games when he was appearing almost every day. But as the season went along, the hitters were waiting for the slider and several did connect. Zuerink had good success in getting out Mickey Mantle, the American League's batting champion. He faced Mantle five times, walked him once and retired him three times. The one hit was a single. Zuerink said this season seemed "longer" than any of the other four he has been in the big time. Besides his 62 appearances, he was warming up in the bullpen frequently, probably about 50 more times, he estimated. Zuerink said he had his most trouble with Washington hitters. Manager Chuck Dressen had his hitters crowd the plate and it makes it difficult to pitch to them. The big righthander, who noticed Tuesday that the Detroit Tigers are reportedly looking for a relief pitcher, would like to get back with Detroit for "sentimental" reasons. Zuerink is high in Jack Tighe, and thinks he would do a "great job" with Detroit. As for Richards coming to Detroit, Zuerink commented "he has it pretty good where he is" but if he did "he would do a good job because he really works with young players." "The Baltimore people have been wonderful to us," Zuerink said, "and we like it there a lot." The first time he received his fire hat, Zuerink was driving the fire truck with sirens roaring. "I felt like crawling under the seat," George said. Zuerink is looking forward to August, 1937 because that will mark his fifth year in the majors and make him eligible for pension. This past season Zuerink's ERA hovered around 2 points up until the all-star game Zuerink pitched 96 innings, gave up 110 hits, walked 34, struck out 22 and had a 7-6 record. During the off season, George will be at his new home in Waukegan. He again plans to sell life insurance, officiate basketball and handle some speaking engagements. As for the series George is picking the Yankees. Had it been the Braves, he was set to attend some of the games in Milwaukee.

New Humane Society All Ready For Model Program for County

The goals and operation of the newly-formed Ottawa County Humane Society were described today by its president, George Heeringa, of Holland. Heeringa also outlined the membership drive which will be launched during November. The creation of the Ottawa County Humane Society was the result of a general concern in the county for an organized program of humane activities. It was felt that although the separate towns of the county made provision for the collection and housing of stray or unwanted dogs, cats, and other small animals, a county-wide organization, supplemented by private financial support, could extend the range of services and coordinate humane activities. More over, long-range goals of more humane education and civic pride in the care and disposition of domestic animals could be undertaken. Similar organizations have for some time existed in neighboring Michigan counties. The Ottawa County Humane Society hopes to profit by their experience and create a model humane program for the county. The real heart of any humane program might be summed up in the words of Albert Schweitzer, "a reverence for life" — a deep concern for the well-being of the countless numbers of domestic animals that live side by side with us in the community. It will be the purpose of the new society to help stimulate interest in eliminating unnecessary cruelty and suffering for our animal population. The society will assist in the recovery of lost pets and placing them up for adoption. A splendid new shelter is nearing completion that will provide temporary housing for 75 dogs under the most sanitary and efficient conditions. This shelter incorporates the newest innovations in the design and construction of small animal housing. Funds for the building have already been secured through generous donations. But the year-to-year operation of the shelter along with the additional services of the society will be dependent on public support through membership. The Ottawa County Humane Society will work closely with local law enforcement agencies in finding foster homes for temporarily homeless pets and in the enforcing of laws dealing with the humane treatment of animals. The society will work for the passage of all desirable humane legislation. All these activities will be made possible by the contribution of time and money by the people of Ottawa County. Such support will be sought next month by the launching of a membership drive. Memberships in the Society will be sold for $1 a year for adults and 50 cents for children. This appeal for membership will start Nov. 12 and it is hoped that virtually every child and adult within the county will take this opportunity to become a part of this worthwhile work.

Blind Person Registers For Election on Nov. 6

Are you registered? Eva Burton is, and is probably required a lot more effort on her part than any other voter in Holland. Miss Burton, blind and crippled for many years, as a voter in the Nov. 6 election for the first time in her life. She has always been interested in political activity, but this will be the first time she will vote. Miss Burton made up her mind she was going to vote this year long before any block worker called at her home. And a few days ago her sister, Mrs. Peter Michaely, took her in the car to City Hall where City Clerk Clarence Grevenoed obligingly registered her at the curb. When Miss Burton was 10 years old, she fell down a stairs, injuring her back and the optic nerve, resulting in blindness. At home with the Michaelys at 227 West 19th St., she manages to get around quite well, and even operates her own magazine subscription business by telephone. Years ago she attended school for the blind in Lansing to learn Braille. Miss Burton's consistent cheerfulness is an inspiration to the people she comes in contact with. The volunteer worker who called at the Michaely home to check on registrations said the brief visit was one of the most rewarding of all her calls. Learning Miss Burton's interest in politics was only one of the many experiences that block workers have had in canvassing the city of Holland with an eye to checking on registration, get out the vote, and political finances. Meanwhile, Clerk Grevenoed's office on the second floor of City Hall is busy these days working on registrations. General qualifications are: citizen of United States, must be 21 by election day, live in city 30 days. Grevenoed said response has been gradual, but generally good and he urges persons to come as soon as possible to avoid long lines by closing day Oct. 8. Persons who will be 21 only shortly before election day must register on or before Oct. 8. To date, the clerk's office has registered 337 new voters. Total number registered is 8,006, compared with 8,881 four years ago. Grevenoed estimated some 800 persons should register by closing time Oct. 8. He suggested that persons determine in advance just where they are to register. Only persons living in Holland city register at City Hall. Those living in townships register with their township clerks.

Fire Marshall Praises Allegan Council Action

ALLEGAN (Special) — In a letter to city councilmen praising them for taking the initiative in planning a new city fire hall, District Fire Marshall Walter Burns, of Paw Paw, warned that the present situation could result in a "major disaster." Commenting on the board's action in placing a $60,000 bond issue and one mill tax increase on the Nov. 6 election ballot for the purpose of building a new fire hall on Monroe St. Burns said the condition of the present hall constituted a serious situation. With four heavy trucks parked on a badly weakened floor, Burns said there is a strong possibility of a cave-in, with all four trucks falling into the basement. Although this would be a disaster in itself, the fire marshal indicated such an accident might result in a fire which, without equipment to fight it, could spread throughout the entire business district.

EATING HABITS

Over the country today there has been many changes in the eating habits, less of such foodstuffs as bread and potatoes, with more and more fruits, vegetables, eggs, dairy products, fowl and beef. A great many of these goods are now processed by the manufacturers and processors so that they are ready for us when we are ready to purchase them in the many food outlets. This saves time and labor for the housewife but according to the Department of Agriculture experts are expecting these trends to continue. They also anticipate, however, that the result of present research on nutrition may alter a great many of the eating habits. They seem to think that it may, for example, cause more cereals and potatoes to be recommended to provide the balanced diet for better health.

It is these facts are true then this may help with some of these problems along the surplus lines. We here in our country seem to have more than we can use. While in many other parts of the world there does not seem to be enough to go around.

This is one of our great problems. There would seem to be a way. Some time we in this country of ours must find a better way to handle the natural resources. We have noticed of late that there are some of the steel grain storage bins appearing in our rural areas. We wonder just how much money is spent to store the surplus commodities that we produce.

It would be wonderful if there was a way to educate all of our people to start saving our natural resources. It would also be a good idea to try and find some way to reduce the many wastes that are found in our many branches of government.

If you believe that you have a way why not talk to our elected officials and people that are now running for township, county, state and national offices. We all must pay part of the expense for our government operations. The more we waste the more tax we will need to collect. This allows less and less for each one in our great country. This is another good reason for making sure that you are registered, then you can vote in November.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, October 7 The Creation Story Genesis 1:1-5, 9-12, 26-28, 31ab By P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.) The first chapter of Genesis has caused much controversy. Often those who were engaged in the controversy did not understand each other fully. Today this chapter is better understood because its true purpose has come to be appreciated the more. In this lesson we are told that God created this universe.

I. God is the Creator. There are two words that appear a number of times in Genesis 1—the words God and good. The bible says that this universe is not the result of blind, impersonal force but it has an intelligent Creator. When this universe was created we do not know. The Bible simply says, "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." To create means that God made something out of nothing. How God created this universe matters little—He created it, this is important. Since God created this universe it is dependent upon Him. It is not self-existing. When God created this universe He had a purpose in mind. Creation reveals a purpose.

The first description we have of this earth is interesting. It is recorded in the second verse that "the earth was without form and void." The author is interested in this earth, not in the universe. The Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters and gave life, order and light to the formless mass. Note the order of life—first vegetable, then animal and then man. God created light first of all.

The chapter tells us that God created this universe in an orderly manner. From the lowest form of life God came to the highest. Man was created on the last day of the week. Most scholars think that the term "day" used in this chapter refers to great periods of time. The Psalmist refers to the day of provocation and this day lasted forty years. During the whole period of creation God was at work—He planned and He created. II. God created man. After God had created this earth and made it ready for man He created him—male and female. Man is not the product of nature. He did not emerge but he was created. Before God created man He said, "Let us make man in our image" and then He did so. Man is separate from the animal creation. Only man is an image-bearer of the Almighty. Every person, regardless of his color or race or nationality, is an image-bearer of God.

Man is the image-bearer of God in a threefold sense. Man can think the thoughts of God after him—he bears the rational image of his Maker. In addition man is like God in another respect—he has a sense of what is right and wrong. Due to sin this sense was dulled but it is still there. Man is also like God in that he was given dominion. In these days we are delighted by the fact that man's power over nature is increasing—God granted him sovereignty over His creation which he partially lost through the fall.

We Christians believe in the dignity of man for two reasons. The first is that man is the image-bearer of God and the second reason is that Christ died for fallen man. Wherever the Christian faith is believed there man is considered valuable. Of course it is true that since God created man he is responsible to God and this adds much to the importance of life. God made everything good. After God had finished the work of creation He passed judgment upon it and called it good. Today there is much that is good in this world and much that is bad. The bad is here because sin is here. We live in a well-ordered, beautiful, sin-smitten world. Christ came to redeem not only man but also this fallen world.

1. God has told us the story of creation. 2. It is far more intelligent to believe in creation by a loving God than to believe in blind force. 3. The universe proclaims the greatness of God. 4. Man was meant for a high position. 5. Christians value man highly because he was made in God's image and Christ died for him.

Woman's Literary Club Opens Season With Tea

"Something Funny Always Happens," a light-hearted interpretation of excerpts from the books of Emily Kimbrough, proved to be just the right type of program for the opening meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon.

The clubhouse was crowded for the event which opened with a dessert tea at 1:30 p.m. Phyllis Crosby Brinkley, who has been called Wisconsin's foremost young interpretive dramatic reader and lecturer on literary subjects, charmed her large audience by sharing many humorous anecdotes credited to Miss Kimbrough who herself took to the lecture platform in 1946.

Borrowing Cornelia Otis Skinner's description of Emily Kimbrough as "brilliantly witty and amazingly kind," Mrs. Brinkley gave a brief biography of Miss Kimbrough and then proceeded to dramatize some amusing anecdotes of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" with emphasis on the Montreal embarkation and the hilarious fur cape situation in Paris.

Miss Kimbrough's experiences have multiplied since she took to the lecture platform 10 years ago and her latest book, "It Gives Me Great Pleasure," provided some of the most humorous sketches for Mrs. Brinkley's presentation. The speaker pointed out that, isn't so much what happens to Emily Kimbrough but how she reacts to it—whether it be some amusing incident on the lecture platform or some moving experience on the true meaning of the coronation.

Mrs. Alvin D. Bos, club president, presided at the opening meeting and Mrs. I. J. Lubbers read the club collect. In the reception line at the tea were Mrs. Bos; Mrs. Clarence Becker, first vice president; Mrs. Carl Harrington, second vice president; Mrs. Bert Selles, recording secretary; Mrs. Andrew Sall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Hoeksema, treasurer. Directors posed.

Mrs. Harrington served as chairman of the tea, assisted by Mrs. William Plum and Mrs. Carroll Norlin, general division chairman. They are shown in above picture with Mrs. Henry Ter Haar, a director. Left to right are Mrs. Plum, Mrs. Norlin, Mrs. Ter Haar and Mrs. Harrington.

200 Parents Attend Harrington P-T Meeting

Approximately 200 parents were present at the first Parent-Teachers Club meeting of the Harrington School Tuesday evening. The meeting was held in the school gym.

Parent conferences with teachers were held from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Mrs. J. Kingschott, club president, was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Gordon Van Putten, vice president, introduced new members of the Parent Teachers Club, the board members and the teachers.

Mrs. Sib Ten Hour was the speaker. As field representative of the Parent-Teachers Association Council of Grand Rapids, she spoke about her work in organizing PTAs throughout surrounding counties. She explained the functions of the PTA to the Harrington group who plan to become affiliated with the state and national organization. Ellen Oosterhaven played a piano solo entitled "March of the Little Tin Soldiers."

The social committee composed of Mrs. Sam Bevervyk, Mrs. M. Oosterhaven and Mrs. James Walters served refreshments. The next meeting will be in the form of Parent-Teachers Education conferences and will be held Oct. 29 through Nov. 2, beginning at 2 p.m. with scheduled appointments for each parent.

The room prize for having the most parents at the meeting Tuesday night went to the kindergarten roof with 62 per cent of the parents being present. Intoxicating drinks made from honey, barley and grapes were known at least as early as 1,000 B. C.

Judge Invites Briefs in Case

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr has given attorneys in a case involving an alleged work stoppage at Holland's water treatment and filtration plant until Oct. 12 to file briefs in the case.

Defendants in the case are the Grand Rapids Building & Construction Trades Council, and David L. Aimerigi, the union's agent, and local 70 of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe-fitting Union, and their agent, Robert Hall.

The unions have been ordered to show cause why they should not be enjoined from calling a strike or refusing to use or handle goods in an effort to force the C & C Construction Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., the general contractor on the plant, from doing business with a subcontractor which employs non-union workers.

The construction firm contends there would be a work stoppage on the $845,000 plant if the non-union firm is permitted to work on the job. The non-union firm involved in the case is the Mooi Roofing Co. of Holland. However, a Mooi spokesman said the firm's employees are members of the CLA (Christian Labor Association).

A hearing on an order to show cause against the two unions and their agents was held in federal court here last week. Thomas Roumell, a national labor relations board official, requested the show cause order. He said that as a result of the alleged dispute other subcontractors have stopped work at the request of the unions.

Holland Freshmen Score Second Win

Holland High's freshman football team racked up its second straight victory Tuesday night with a 13-7 decision over Grand Haven under the lights at Riverview Park.

The Dutch, coached by Ed Damson and Ted Boeve, scored both of their touchdowns in the first half. Ron Maat, halfback, scored the first touchdown on a 10-yard reverse in the first quarter. The extra point attempt by Rich Wolterman was good.

The second touchdown was a 14-yard pass play from halfback Bob Marshall to Harley Hill in the second quarter. The extra point attempt was not good.

Grand Haven came back and dominated the second half of play and scored on a quarterback sneak by Lee Wiles from the one yard line. Scheffers kicked the extra point.

The Bucs recovered a Holland fumble on the Dutch 30 to set up the scoring play. Holland's backfield appeared to be superior but the Grand Haven line usually held the upper hand in the contest.

He Tried to Pass Car On Right; Just No Good

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Pete Ferguson, 20, Muskegon, is under treatment in Hackley Hospital in Muskegon for a possible fractured back received when his car collided with another car at 10:30 p.m. Saturday on US-16 in Coopersville. Sheriff's officers said Ferguson was attempting to pass a car driven by Harold Cheynes, 22, Grand Rapids, on the right side. This maneuver resulted in a fender bender torn off Fergusons car, causing it to go out of control. The car rolled over twice before knocking down a telephone pole. Ferguson was pinned underneath the car. Officers charged Ferguson with reckless driving and having no operator's license.

Christian Endeavor

Let Us Break Bread Together I Corinthians 10:16-21 by Darrell Franken Sunday October 7

To the leader: This is World Communion Sunday. All over the world Christians will be meeting together in separate groups to celebrate the Lord's Supper. This is the Last Supper of the man who came to redeem people from sin. This person was Jesus Christ. He redeemed sinful humanity by giving His perfect life. Every Communion Service calls to mind that sacrifice. The following ideas could be incorporated into a short talk on Communion. (If you write some of your ideas on a blackboard, this will help your listeners remember what you have said.)

Other Names For Lord's Supper There is no universal name for this celebration. People of different cultural and religious background have labeled this event in several ways. Here are some of them; "Thanksgiving," (Protestant); "The Breaking of the Bread" (Protestant); "Holy Communion" (Protestant); "The Eucharist" (Catholic); "The Mass" (Catholic); "The Divine Liturgy" (Greek and Russian Orthodox); "The Present" (Armenian and Coptic Church); "The Oblation" (Armenian and Coptic Church); "The Consecration" (Ethiopian Church).

It would be helpful to your audience to find the meanings of these in a dictionary. Then as you write them on a blackboard you could explain each one.

Types of Celebrations Holy Communion is celebrated in many different ways in the Christian Churches today. (1) In some churches the people participate in this event while sitting in their seats, while others go down to an altar and there received the elements. And in still other churches the people sit around a table provided for this sacred event.

(2) There are some denominations which use fermented grape juice, while others use unfermented grape juice. (3) Some people prefer unleavened bread to leavened (sailed) bread for use in this service.

(4) Some denominations hold "closed" communion, while others feel free to invite all visiting faithful Christians to the "table of the Lord".

(5) And finally, the number of times it should be celebrated also differs. Some hold communion every Sunday. Others hold it only four times a year.

In spite of these variations the general meaning of Holy Communion is widely agreed upon. To be sure, there are variations which cannot be discussed at this point, but the following would probably not be disputed.

- "Celebration of the Lord's Supper leads the faithful: 1. to remember His personal redemption by the blood of Christ. 2. to remain grateful for the salvation made possible by the death of Christ. 3. to work and witness for the Kingdom which Jesus Christ established. 4. to keep alert for the ultimate return of Jesus.

In as much as your pastor knows your denominational view of the Lord's Supper, he has many valuable ideas for you. Do not neglect him as a resource for more ideas for your talk.

Grand Haven Council Denies Zoning Request

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Grand Haven city council Monday night denied the Plumb's Super Market, Inc., request to rezone a block of property along new US-31 from residential to commercial.

Mayor Claude Ver Duin also announced that the Michigan Brass Co., lots, adjacent to the plant and held by that firm since 1902, were returned to an industrial zone— their designation until the new zoning ordinance was adopted.

Other lots adjacent to the filtration plant, light plant and new electric service building were changed from residential to business classification by council action.

Mayor Ver Duin emphasized that the 1953 zoning along US-31 was only temporary to control orderly development along the highway.

Volleyballs

We have an interesting and self explanatory note from Junius B. Wood, summer resident of Waukazoo, who has returned to his permanent home in Silver Spring, Md. We enclose his letter as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This is the American city where voters are the only election day prize. Local citizens do not vote. Child-like, they are heard but not seen. In the nation's highest seat of government, everybody talks politics but only those whose legal residences are in other parts of the country can vote.

The two national committees spend millions wooing voters everywhere from Alaska to Key West with literature and radio pep talks but the few thousand absentee voters marooned in the nation's capitol are the only live specimens seen here. These rare political guinea pigs get more per capita attention than any of the millions where the right to vote is a neighborhood privilege.

Today's mail brings a colorful warning to register and vote at the national election of Nov. 6. Enclosed are two printed blanks to be filled in for absentee ballots from Michigan. Actually, the reminder was not needed as the wideawake clerk of Park Township, Ottawa County, sends the ballots for every election. The national significance is broader.

Vice President Nixon and other party spellbinders are warning the party against over confidence. Giving substance to the Republican warnings, today's facilities for absentee voting are provided by the Democratic National Committee. So far, neither suggestions nor help for an excited voter have been offered by the Republican National Committee.

While the party's busiest campaigner haranges the hinterlands to make the welkin ring for the Grand Old Party and its candidates, the mighty in headquarters slumber. Apathy may be a Republican trait. When Homer Ferguson was making his last campaign for United States Senator, I asked an Ottawa County party stalwart why a mass meeting was not staged for his visit to Holland. "Not needed, the Republicans have Ottawa County in the bag," he exclaimed not as well wrapped up as returns showed later.

Politics are approaching assembly line efficiency. I was curious to find out how the important Democratic National Committee had learned that two modest residents of Washington and must vote by mail. A businesslike woman's voice answered when I inquired, "You can't expect us to give away our trade secrets," she explained as if I were a competitor asking for the details of next year's model.

"But telephone or call if we can be of any help, even notarize your ballot," she helpfully offered. "Will the committee also mark my ballot for me?" I asked. "No, you do that yourself," she explained. The United States has not reached the efficiency of the Soviet Union where the party committee picks the candidate and citizens vote for that one—or else.

The Hunter's Moon on Oct. 19 follows close on the heels of the September feature, Harvest Moon. "The full moon on the 19th, which is the first full moon following the Harvest Moon in September, is a great boon for hunters, hence the name," said Professor Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

A striking effect of October is the noticeable shortening of days. "Dropping from somewhat less than 12 hours at the beginning of the month," the astronomer notes, "the daylight period will last only about 10 hours and 20 minutes by the end of the month."

During the 14 evening hours of October, several attractions will light the sky. Two meteor showers are scheduled for the month. One will appear in the north around Oct. 9, and the other in the east around Oct. 22.

Mars will continue to shine as a bright object this month. Although it is steadily increasing its distance from the Earth, it will still be relatively near and will continue to dominate the southern sky, the professor says.

Among the prominent stars, Capella (The Goat) will be rising in the northeast around sunset. "This is the third brightest star visible from the northern latitudes," the astronomer comments, "and it has a temperature and yellow color very much like our Sun." Professor Losh suggests that if the Earth could be placed halfway between Capella and the Sun, Capella would send us more than 100 times as much light as our Sun.

And for the early risers, Jupiter and Venus, both morning objects, can be witnessed passing close to each other on Oct. 25. "On that morning," Professor Losh says, "These two objects, both rising about three hours ahead of the Sun, will be a bright double planet, the two planets barely separable."

Bob Urschalis, all conference as a freshman; is again quarterbacking the Hornets. He is 5' 7", 160-pounds and came into his own with his passing in the Hope game last year.

Bob Miles, all-state at Kalamazoo State High last season, is the starting left half. He teams with Jim Smith, 5' 8", 155-pound junior and Sam Harrington, 6'1", 165-pound senior. The latter two are both lettermen.

September Cool And Bone-Dry In Holland City

Rainfall Early Sunday Amounting to .38 Inch More Than All Month

September was colder than usual, and almost bone dry, a check of the month's weather statistics by Observer Charles A. Stokete of Hope College revealed Monday.

Holland's average temperature during September was 62.3 degrees or .9 degrees below normal. The rainfall for the entire month amounted to only .52 inch, or 3.44 inches below normal. Rain fell on only five days. Of the month's total of .52 inch, .38 inch fell Sunday morning.

Only the rainfalls of August and July which amounted to almost 3/4 inches each month "balanced" the season and even though the land has been dry the last few weeks, there still has been plenty of "green."

Fog was reported only one day during September and thunder on three occasions. Frost was reported on a few occasions with the lowest reading of 32 on Sept. 20. This was the lowest September reading in several years.

Maximum was 86 degrees, compared with 90 in 1955, 99 in 1954, 97 in 1953 and 94 in 1952.

The minimum was 32, compared with 42 in 1955; 34 in 1954, 29 in 1953 and 39 in 1952. Average temperature was 62.3, compared with 63.9 in 1955, 64.8 in 1954, 64.4 in 1953 and 65.3 in 1952.

Average maximum was 73.9, compared with 65.6 in 1955, 74.8 in 1954, 77.1 in 1953 and 76.4 in 1952. Average minimum was 50.6, compared with 52.1 in 1955, 54.8 in 1954, 51.7 in 1953 and 51.1 in 1952.

Precipitation measured only .52 inch, compared with 1.82 inches in 1955, 2.35 inches in 1954, 2.94 inches in 1953 and 2.99 inches in 1952. Precipitation fell on five days, compared with eight days in 1955, 12 days in 1954, 13 days in 1953 and 11 days in 1952.

Greatest amount of rain in a 24-hour period was .38 inch, compared with .80 inch in 1955, .59 inch in 1954, .85 inch in 1953 and 1.28 inches in 1952.

Brewton School Director Speaks

Members of the executive committee of the Women's Missionary Union of Zeeland Classis, along with various committee members, were entertained at a potluck supper Thursday evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Tanis, West Central Ave., Zeeland.

Special guests included Kenneth Young, director of Southern Normal School at Brewton, Ala. The union recently assumed a half share in the support of Mr. Young. He spoke briefly to the group following dinner. He was introduced by the union president, Mrs. Henry Kuite.

Young related incidents about campus life and activities at Brewton and emphasized the Christian atmosphere present not only on the campus but spilling over into activities outside the school. "About one half of the public teachers in the county are graduates of Brewton," he said, "and so carry the Christian influence of Southern Normal into the outlying areas."

The campus boasts seven beautiful buildings for the 350 students, 44 of whom live at campus dormitories. The school name, Southern Normal School for the Education of Negro Youth was recently changed to Southern Normal School for the Education of Youth of Alabama, due to the Supreme Court action regarding segregation. Young said that some groups are ready to comply with this action, but action is slow regarding the race problem. He believes, however, that in the next 10 years great changes will take place in the deep South.

He also told of the Rev. Andrew Branche, former director of the school who suffered a stroke several years ago. His condition is improved, but he is unable to work. Rev. and Mrs. Branche live at Tuskegee, Ala., where Mrs. Branche supervises children's work in the county. Young also asked for prayers for Miss Betty Blou, scholarship student at Central College, who is going into full time Christian service.

Mrs. Tanis was assisted with arrangements and serving by Mrs. H. Koop, Jr., of North Holland and Mrs. K. Winstrom of Zeeland.

Library Looking Glass

The Murder of the Man Who Was Shakespeare, by Calvin Hoffman—Who wrote Shakespeare's plays? The man in the street naturally replies, "Why, William Shakespeare, of course. Why should anyone doubt it?" Public opinion has little doubt that Shakespeare wrote the plays which rank among the greatest in English literature, and most of the experts likewise do not doubt it.

However, there have always been certain well informed and inquisitive critics who do not agree with this verdict. The latest of these is Calvin Hoffman, who sets forth in this book the idea that Shakespeare's plays were written by his contemporary, Christopher Marlowe.

The way in which Hoffman arrives at this strange conclusion forms a fascinating literary detective story. Two important considerations combined to set him forth upon a 17-year investigation of the true authorship of these plays.

The first of these is that the known facts of Shakespeare's life do not in any way tell us that he was a writer. The second is that there are literally scores of lines in the so-called Shakespearean plays which closely resemble lines in Marlowe's plays.

According to historical investigation, Marlowe was murdered in a tavern brawl in Deptford, England, in the year 1593 at the age of 29. By the time of his supposed death he had established himself as the most brilliant of English playwrights. Shakespeare suddenly appeared upon the London stage four months after Marlowe's murder. That, it must be admitted, is a most strange coincidence. In Hoffman's mind it aroused a suspicion that would not be silenced, but that he went right on writing plays under the assumed name of a current London actor named William Shakespeare.

bear his name, Hoffman replies that such indifference to the matter is not warranted. "And if, in all earnestness, you grow to love and reverence his works you cannot assume an attitude of indifference toward the suffering soul who haunts, now visibly, now invisibly, the length and breadth of the works."

Library Adventures

—Arnold Mulder

For the first time, so far as I know, the history of Michigan has been written in terms of the literature of the state. The book is called "Our Michigan Heritage," and it is by Dr. Kathleen I. Gillard.

Dr. Gillard does not presume to provide all the historical details of Michigan's story. But before she comes to the last page she gives us a fairly complete picture of what has been happening in the two peninsulas over a period of three centuries. And she does it by sketching in the backgrounds out of which Michigan writing grew.

To take an illustration that is near at home, although from my angle it suffers from being personal, Dr. Gillard gives a fairly complete account of the books and articles that some of us have written about the Dutch immigration to Michigan. In doing so she succeeds in giving the general reading public a good idea of that part of the state's history.

She uses the same method to tell about the Finns in the Upper Peninsula. Such writers as Leonard Cline have exploited that background in their novels and poems. And the Germans and Scandinavians and Anglo-Saxons are treated in a similar way.

The order of the story is chronological. First there was the period when the Indians occupied the state, long before the white man came. Dr. Gillard treats that part of our history in terms of Longfellow, whose "Hiawatha" of course exploits that background, and in terms of the books of Henry Rowe Schoolcraft and of others whose literature deals with the Indians.

The next phase was the French period. Again the story is told in terms of the literature that the French occupation produced. Then came the English, briefly, but not very importantly in terms of literature.

The American period covers about half of the volume. It is this section that will be most valuable to future writers concerned with the story of Michigan's writing men and women. Dr. Gillard has left few stones unturned in telling her story; hers is the most complete account of what Michigan writers have done that I am acquainted with. Because I have written fairly extensively on this same theme, I am often asked for information. In future I shall merely refer all such inquiries to Dr. Gillard's book. The publishers call the book "definitive"; that term is not inaccurate; so far as I know, no one else has come within shouting distance of the present author for completeness of detail.

As to Michigan literature, interesting though it is, she comes to the same conclusion to which many of us had come long ago—that it is not yet of Nobel Prize calibre. She quotes an article of mine in a 1939 issue of the "Saturday Review of Literature." Sober honesty compels the admission that authors—upper case authors—are about as rare in Michigan as the "skunk bear" ever was and that the flowering of literary Michigan is still in the future." (Incidentally, she does not so much as mention the name of Edgar Guest, thus informing her readers with eloquent silence what she thinks of his so-called poetry.)

But Michigan is not different from many other states in this respect; Nobel-quality literature is scarce. But Dr. Gillard asserts that the authors of Michigan "have brought together some interesting writing of the second order that has the merit of appeal because of its intellectual vigor or that is important to the Michigan people because of its closeness to the lives of the men and women who wrote it."

Rather pathetically, Dr. Gillard died shortly after the publication of her book. The book was clearly the labor of a lifetime.

Niekerk Church Celebrates 90th Anniversary With Special Service

Niekerk Christian Reformed Church, on 112th Ave. near 24th St., celebrated its 90th anniversary Tuesday evening.

The church began its existence 90 years ago with 63 charter members, 35 in full communion and 28 children by baptism. Most of these came from Graafschap, leaving that church because of transportation problems. The Graafschap pastor, the Rev. D. Vander Werp, presided at the organizational session.

At that time, the church was one of a dozen in the Christian Reformed denomination. Since then, there have been 13 pastors and despite many hardships, these have been overshadowed by periods of joy and prosperity.

The church of 500 members now occupies its own unique place in the community and its spiritual influence has been felt afar. Several of its "sons" have occupied places of honor and importance in the educational and ecclesiastical field—Prof. A. J. Rooks, Prof. Ralph Janssen, Prof. Jacob Geerlings, the Rev. Edward Boeve, the Rev. J. J. Weersing, Missionary Albert Huisjen, the Rev. John Geerlings and others. Rev. Boeve is still active as pastor of Cadillac Christian Reformed Church and Prof. Geerlings is now on the University of Utah staff.

Several young men of the church are now in training for the ministry and many young people have gone into affiliated fields.

The pastor, the Rev. John Beebe, presided at the anniversary celebration. Recognition was given to the oldest living member, Walter Veurink, 84, whose parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit J. Veurink, were charter members. Youngest member is Sharlene Rae Kraal, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kraal.

Among former members present were Mrs. John Janssen, age 89, Riep Van Dyke, age 86, and former pastors, the Revs. Andrew De Vries, Martin Bolt and Ralph Heynen, who brought greetings.

The choral society of 28 members, directed by Roger S. Greenway, sang several numbers and instrumental numbers were provided by Ronald Kapenga and Jay Wedeven. Choruses were sung by six children led by Chrislyn Wagenveid, who officiated at the organ. Marjorie Wedeven was pianist. Speaker was the Rev. Edward Boeve of Cadillac. Greetings were extended by former members and Dr. J. T. Hoogstra spoke for Holland Classis. Beautiful bouquets graced the platform.

The present consistory includes Elders John Wedeven, Nick Boeve, Clarence Brower and Cornelius De Vries; Deacons Eldon Walters, Richard Kapenga, Harold Helder and Gradus Wedeven. The pastor is president of the consistory.

CARS, TRAINERS, SPONSORS — Five new cars were recently given to the Holland public school system by the New Car Dealers' Association in conjunction with the First National and People's State Banks. The five cars will be used to instruct tenth graders in Holland High School and adults in the fundamentals of driving. Under state law, all youths under 18 will have to take the course before obtaining a driver's license. Pictured are Robert Sloum, program coordinator; Gene Vande Vusse of R. E. Barber, Inc.;

5 New Cars Received For Student Training

To cope with the new law that makes drivers' education a requirement for all persons under 18 who apply for drivers' licenses after Feb. 2, 1937, the Holland public schools have two full-time instructors teaching sophomores in Holland High School the fundamentals of operating an automobile.

The Holland New Car Dealers' Association, assisted by the First National and People's State banks, has provided five 1936 cars to be used in the training. The cars will be replaced with 1937 models when they are available.

The program is available to all youths, in or out of school. It is also being given to adults, through the adult education system. Don Oosterbaan and William Noyd instruct the students and Earl Borlace teaches the adults.

The program started at Holland High in 1930 as an elective subject. It is now compulsory. Students are given a minimum of 30 hours of classroom instruction and an additional six hours of behind-the-wheel driving.

The drivers' education requirements also apply to 16 and 17-year-olds who are now operating motor scooters on special permits. They will not be able to secure drivers' licenses without presenting a certificate that they have passed the course. No one can take the course who is under 15 and a half, so 14 and 15-year-olds now driving motor scooters will have to wait.

Last year four cars were used in the program, but increased enrollment necessitated the additional car this year.

Instruction on the highway is given for the last of nine tests, and the City Council has approved use of the Civic Center parking lot for other practice.

Robert Sloum, co-ordinator of the program, said plans are being formulated to offer the course during the summer of 1937.

Michigan law requires the course be offered to all students, so Sloum is working with Holland Christian High School to make the program available to those students.

Tigers Tally Twice In First Half and 3 Times in Second

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (Special) — Muskegon Heights Tigers' first clawed at, then strangled and finally furiously shook the life right out of Holland here Friday night, 3-0, before 4,000 fans at Phillips Field.

The Tigers, displaying another strong running game, mixed with a good passing attack, just were too much for Holland. It wasn't that Holland wasn't playing. They were just playing a better ball club. It was Holland's first loss.

Holland, try as they would just couldn't go anywhere and ended the night with a total of 43 yards gained. Only twice did the Dutch penetrate into the Tigers' territory.

The Dutch spent one series of downs on the Heights 44 following a downed punt in the second quarter in the closing minutes moved to the Tigers' 20 from mid-field.

But the rest of the time it was Muskegon Heights. They were out to make up for the blanking received on a same field a week earlier.

Bad Holland punts kept the Tigers running in Holland's backyard all through the first quarter.

With Larry Alderink doing the booting, the first one was blocked after the first Holland scrimmage series had failed. The boot went five yards and landed on the Holland 40.

His second boot of the quarter traveled one yard and stopped on the Holland 34. This kick followed an unsuccessful Heights series of hitting the tackles. Holland's offense moved the best of the game right prior to the boot. Bob Bolks hit tackle for seven and Ron Kuylers hit the other side for eight.

Then came a holding penalty followed by another five by Bolks through center and a Tom Steel boot for eight.

After ripping up through tackle to the Holland 20, Al Hill recovered Heights fumble and stopped the first Tiger threat.

Holland went no where and this time Alderink kicked from the Dutch 11. The ball went straight upward and traveled seven yards.

Now again on the prowl, Tom Christopher scored with the first of the end sweeps but was called back because of clipping to end the first quarter.

The clawing continued and on the first play of the second quarter Al state basketball player "6'6" Ed Burton put on couple of skyhooks on his already long claws and picked off a pass. He grabbed it on the Dutch 12 and ran down to the seven.

Then Christopher, on another famous Heights end sweep completely reversed his field and was in with the first score. Tom O'Neil's kick was good.

The Heights applied what proved to be the strange hold with about four minutes to go in the first half. After Holland had been on the Tiger 44 and not moved they kicked. On the third play Christopher broke away from 25 yards but fumbled and Ron Kuylers fell on the ball on the Holland 45.

Here, Holland tired a pass. Dale Streicher caught the ball 10 yards out right in the stomach, it bounced out a second later and Ken Howell gobbled up the ball and made 10 yards. Holland caught a bench penalty for 15 yards and on the next play Christopher, slashed off the tackle, headed down the sidelines for 30 yards to score. Ted Van Zanden and Striecher blocked the kick to make it 13-0 at half.

Holland didn't come back from that second touchdown. That one had done the choking and it was now apparent that the Tigers were out to knock whatever life was left right out of the Dutch.

They struck again with 7:30 gone in the third quarter on a 40 yard end sweep by O'Neil. He ran the point, after a penalty nullified the kick and was unsuccessful.

On Holland's first series after the score, Willie Mc Carthy intercepted Tom Steel's pass, on the Holland 49 and scooted to the Dutch 30 where he lateraled to Dutch Burton, who straddled the sideline for the final 30. O'Neil's kick was good.

Still in the third quarter, Don Mosier recovered a Holland fumble on the Dutch 28. In seven plays the Tigers were to the Holland four, but here, the Dutch turned in the best goal line stand of the season. In the second series the Tigers lost 12 and ended on the 18 where Holland kicked out.

Now trying the airplanes, basketball buddies, Howell connected to Willie Mc Carthy for a 44-yard pass and Willie pranced in with the final tally with 5:50 remaining. O'Neil made the kick.

The Tigers final kickoff gave Holland the ball on the Muskegon Heights, 49. With Vern Teske, playing his first varsity game, ripping over runs of six and 16 yards, plus Ron Kuylers six, the Dutch were down to the Tigers 21 in a flash. But a fumble and incomplete passes ended the threat.

Holland meek next Grand Haven at Riverview park next Friday night. The Dutch now have a 1-1 record. Grand Haven stopped St. Joe 19-2 and has 2-1 record.

Zeeland Drops 6-0 Decision To Coopersville

ZEELAND (Special) — Coopersville's football team scored a touchdown midway in the second quarter here Friday night to defeat Zeeland 6-0 and remain unbeaten in its quest for a two-year unbeaten string.

The Broncos, who last year tied Zeeland for the Kenewa League championship, now lead the league with 2-0. Zeeland has dropped all three of its games this season and has a league mark of 0-1.

John Kriger, Coopersville half-back, smashed on a cross buck off tackle and romped 63 yards for the game's only score. The extra point attempt was no good.

The touchdown came at 7:30 of the second quarter and climaxed a couple of periods that saw both clubs moving pretty much all over the field.

Zeeland, too, came close in the first half. John Bloemendaal, right halfback, broke loose for 23 yards in the second quarter to the Bronco 20.

In the fourth quarter, Zeeland completed a 28-yard pass from quarterback Ron Beyer to left halfback Ron Bekins down to the Coopersville 22. But again the Chix were held. Beyer was thrown for a nine yard loss.

Coopersville made it to the Zeeland three yard line in the fourth period but the Chix line held. With first on the three, Jerry Myaard, who led Zeeland with 15 tackles, turned in a good defensive job.

The Broncos also got to the six yard line as the first half ended. Norm Le Mieux, Coopersville versatile halfback, carried for 18 yards in this drive which started at mid-field.

Myaard, Rog Yntema and Dave Baron stood out on defense for Zeeland and Robert Pawoski and Ken Kriger, as a middle linebacker, were real bears for the Broncos.

ARE YOU REGISTERED? It just happened this couple wasn't and they were happy to learn how to do it in Holland. This took place when Mrs. G. E. Ducey (right) called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boar, 187 West 15th St., on a general political survey. She learned that the Boars had moved to Holland recently from Traverse City and were anxious to retain their voting privileges. Mr. Boar is with the C and O Railway. Instructions are simple for city residents. They just report to the city clerk's office on the second floor of City Hall. County Council To Meet Nov. 12

GRAND HAVEN—The first general meeting of the newly-organized Ottawa county council, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be held at Allendale public school Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. Leon T. Ruiter, Grand Haven, president, announced today. Last spring a group of parents and teachers from several points in the county and representing seven schools took steps to form a council in Ottawa, similar to the large council in Muskegon and other counties. By-laws have since been approved by the Michigan congress and a charter has been granted. Ruiter is president, Mrs. Gerald Pellegro, Jr., Ferrysburg, is vice president, Mrs. Peter De Graff of Spring Lake is secretary and Mrs. Robert Ten Brink, Allendale, is treasurer. Allendale was selected for the first meeting because of its central location. No program is planned by the executive board. The purposes of the council and how the different PTA groups can assist each other will be discussed. Ruiter reports that there are 342,000 members in the PTA, PTO, PTL and mothers clubs in Michigan alone. There are 126 schools in Ottawa that have PTA groups or some other type of parent-teacher group, but only 10 of these schools have an affiliation with the national congress.
