Employment Declines In Holland Area

Employment in Holland Industries dipped in November from the October level but more layoffs were expected in the next two weeks.

The Holland Chamber of Commerce, in its monthly report on employment completed today, said 9,523 persons were employed in industry as reported by employers. That figure compared to the 10,012 reported at work in October.

Zeeland reported 2,968 at work today compared to the 3,230 working last month.

But Roscoe Giles, executive director of the chamber, said the figures today did not reflect those workers who will be furloughed later this week or next week.

Zane Cooper, manager of the Holland office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said he expected an additional 550 persons to be out of work in Holland by the end of this week, including those affected by announced layoffs, and another 400 persons laid off by the end of next week.

Cooper said he has added four persons to his staff since November 4 to handle the increased caseload of persons filing for or receiving unemployment payments.

Latest firm to announce layoffs was Holland Die Cast where the second shift was laid off affecting about 110 persons.

United Way Still Short Of Goal

Faced with a difficult economic situation the Greater Holland United Way reported reaching 87 per cent of its goal Friday.

Campaign chairman Gary White said he was hopeful the goal could be met but said new sources of support were going to have to be found.

One division reported going over the top. The construction division, headed by Mike Meidema and Junior Nyhoff, reported 111 per cent of its goal or $5,424. Public-civic, headed by Bill Sysma, neared 100 per cent of its $22,960 goal.

The industrial division reported 92 per cent of the goal or $160,400 while the other divisions reported about the same amounts as two weeks ago.

The goal this year is $268,576. White said if the total goal is not met, it could mean a cut in allocations to the agencies receiving financial support from the United Way. GHUW supports the work of ten human service organizations in Holland and 23 others in the state and nation.

White said he was optimistic the goal could be met and urged those not contacted through places of employment or by mail to send their contributions to the United Way offices at 33-35 West Eighth St.

County Airport Committee Meets

At the request of Committee Chairman Robert Hall of Park Township, the Ottawa County Airport Planning Committee met Tuesday in City Hall to review the needs of the entire county.

Representatives of Coopersville, Grand Haven, Zeeland, Holland and Park Township were present and were assisted by aviation planners from the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The state and federal airport system plan was reviewed as it affects Ottawa County and the surrounding area.

Most stressed was the need for inter-governmental cooperation and, though the committee is charged with evaluating only Ottawa County's needs, future planning will probably require input from Allegan County and other adjacent governments.

The next meeting was scheduled for Dec. 3 and the committee hoped they would be able to finalize their recommendations for the Ottawa County Commissioners at that time.

The chief of staff reported on acceptance of a patient scheduling plan designed to eliminate cancellation of surgical patients because of lack of bed space.

A check was received for $890.41 as half the payment in a gypsum antitrust case settlement in connection with wall-board used in the latest addition to the hospital. An additional $890 was expected later.

Layoffs Put Strain On State Office

Layoffs and cutbacks in industry and service industries have forced the caseload at the Michigan Employment Security Commission to jump five times what the level was a year ago, according to Zane Cooper, MESC office manager.

Cooper said for the two-week period ending Nov. 8, 2,549 individuals were served either with new claims or payments compared to the 475 a year ago. He said cutbacks in employment were noted in the furniture, automotive and the home construction industries and related supplier industries.

Largest layoff in the Holland area was the 300 at General Electric last week and the 130 laid off two weeks previous.

Cooper said some service industries, such as restaurants, also were trimming their staffs but retail stores apparently were maintaining their employment.

Allegan Has Center For Handicapped

ALLEGAN — The $800,000 Allegan County Development Center designed to provide care, training and therapy for an estimated 200 physically and mentally handicapped residents from two years to young adults is scheduled to open Feb. 1.

The 30,000 square foot building was approved by voters in June, 1973 and is located at Grove and Academy Sts. in Allegan, site of educational facilities for 115 years.

The center provides services for all categories of physically and mentally handicapped under one roof, according to William Sexton, superintendent of the Allegan County intermediate school district.

The facility will centralize the services for the handicapped including the trainable school in the Hudson Corners School, the daycare center at Blackman school and Precious Acres sheltered workshop.

Funds for the building and equipment were from a district sinking fund and the $650,000 bond issue approved by the voters.

The site of the center continues the use of property for educational purposes. Judge H.H. Booth built and opened a private school in 1857. Some of the virgin pines which made up the grove where the old school was located are still standing.

Sexton said the intermediate school board and architects have been praised for saving as many of the old trees as possible.

A public grade school, junior high and high school have occupied the site which was last used in 1971 when junior high students moved from the former high school building to the new L.E. White junior high school.

Hearings Set On Uses Of Housing Fund

Holland City Council Wednesday set dates for public hearings on the uses of funds under the Community Development Act and awarded a contract for carpeting City Hall.

Hearings dates at which citizens may present their suggestions for federal funds under a proposal to rehabilitate or redevelop areas of the city were set during the regular council meetings Dec. 4 and 18 in City Hall.

The low bid of J.L. Hudson's Contract Division for carpeting in City Hall was approved over the objections of two councilmen. The low bid was $3,960.

Hudson's is a Grand Rapids branch of a store located in Detroit and councilmen Ken Beelen and James Vande Poel voted against the motion, arguing they favored a contract with a local firm. Four local firms submitted bids, all of them higher than Hudson's.

Areas to be carpeted include City Council chambers as part of a remodeling project and third floor rooms to be converted into additional office space and two existing small offices.

Council adopted revisions in the traffic schedules prohibiting parking on the east side of Harrison Ave. between 27th and 28th Sts.; elimination of parking on the south side of 30th St. for 64 feet east of Van Raalte Ave. and making 24th St. a stop intersection at Azalea Ave.

Board Okays Contracts For Five

Five additional administrative contracts were renewed at the West Ottawa Board of Education meeting held Monday evening.

Three year contracts calling for 42 weeks of service in each school year were approved for elementary principals Gus Feenstra and Wayne Nyboer and regular three year contracts were renewed for Director of secondary Education Duane Hooker and Middle School Principal Edward Roberts.

A one year contract for the school year 1974 - 75 was approved for business manager Gordon Scheerhorn.

Board President Ed Haltenhoff noted that the board still had action to take on one administrative contract.

In other action the Board authorized the Business manager to submit a registration report to determine liability to the Michigan Employment Security Commission indicating the board's choice to make payments under benefit reimbursement.

The board also authorized the school district to enter into a two year agreement starting Jan. 1, 1975 with Fredericks, Paul and Associates, Inc., to provide service as unemployment tax consultants. The board directed that the firm be notified that the school district would not renew the contract beyond the two years.

On recommendation of Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte Tom Page was appointed girls bowling coach and Jim Brinkman, assistant seventh grade basketball coach.

The board also approved West Ottawa's participation in Section 33 of the state aid act which deals with the districts participation in the paperback books program and that the administration be implemented to the extent limited by the budget.

Van Raalte explained that the district's administrators have met with WOEIA members who conducted an opinion poll under professional guidance. Purpose of the meeting was to develop ways of improving matters of concern expressed by citizens polled.

The survey results showed a high degree of satisfaction (over 80 per cent) but did identify areas of greatest concern which will receive the attention of both administrators and the WOEIA.

Van Raalte also indicated that the district has made application to borrow $750,000 to finance school operations until taxes are received.

Among several pieces of correspondence the board acknowledged a letter from 38 West Ottawa parents and taxpayers requesting among other items that the high school counseling department and Middle School organization be carefully examined.

The next regular session of the Board will be Dec. 16.

Doctors Talk Of Diabetes In All Ages

Three area doctors discussed "Diabetes, Birth through Retirement" at the November meeting of the Ottawa-Allegan Unit of the Michigan Diabetes Association.

Taking part were Dr. Robert L. Weeldreyer, Dr. William M. Bremer and Dr. Eli A. Coats. Dr. Weeldreyer discussed problems diabetes adds to pregnancy including tendencies toward large babies which are less mature than their size would indicate. He cited advances in medical technology that can aid the diabetic who becomes pregnant.

Dr. Bremer talked about diabetes in children and said juvenile diabetes comes very rapidly and the child will usually be very sick, thirsty and going to the bathroom a lot and experience a weight loss. Dr. Coats discussed diabetes in the adult and said the adult diabetic did not have as many problems as the child because the adults had learned how to handle the disease. Eating habits were consistent and patterns of work and exercise were regular.

During the recent diabetes detection drive 1,700 persons were screened including 540 at the Zeeland Hospital.

The next meeting of the unit will be Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Heritage Room of Holland Hospital with Dr. Richard Lepink discussing diabetes and the heart.

Piersma Expects Dutch To Have Fine Season

It might take a little while for Holland's basketball team to come around but veteran Coach Don Piersma expects the Dutch to be a fine ball club.

"We only have one returning starter in Dennis Lawson but we have nice depth this year and we're working hard in practice," said Piersma.

Piersma, who is entering his 12th year of coaching, continued, "We've gone back to a two-guard system again and I expect us to be a faster team this year. Our philosophy is to run and penetrate."

He added, "We'll run more this year than last. This kind of ball causes turnovers but we think it's exciting and we have the fellows that I feel can run it right."

"We could even make 30 turnovers in a game and still win the thing."

Piersma has two fears. One, shooting is spotty and two, rebounding.

George Unwin; Lighting and Sound Crew — Ted Bosch, Joel Dorgan, Steve Dykema, Bob Johnson, Dave Maatman, Mike Nutting, Brian Rogers, Ned Timmer, and Jeff Van Eck; Make-Up Crew — Kris Dryer, Ida Galvan, Karen Geertman, Kathy Haiker, Karen Haverdink, Jean Hawthorne, Betsy Macicak, Jane Moes, Cherie Nienhuis, Marie Overholt, Sue Schumaacher, Julie Slenk, Debby Smeenge, Jayne Stoner, Julie Van Eck, Kim Wojohn.

'Eet Smakelijk' Duo Treats Literary Club

By Lorraine Hohl
They did it again! The Junior Welfare League, always counted on to do something unusual or different treated the Woman's Literary Club to an afternoon program that pleased everybody in the capacity audience.

Kim Miller and Sheri Beebe of the Eet Smakelijk cookbook committee prepared a gourmet luncheon on the stage right from the beginning of the boning of the chicken breasts to the final touch of chocolate charlotte russe.

The mouth watering menu consisted of breasts of chicken supreme, with sour cream mushroom sauce, wild rice casserole, ruby red salad, lemon bread and chocolate charlotte russe.

A long table on the stage was equipped with several electrical appliances to heat and keep the food warm. Because of the time element involved several of the ingredients were pre-cooked, but both Leaguers showed exactly how to put them together. As a bonus, each member received printed copies of the menu. And, as a special bonus, fortune cookies with the names of the items on the menu inside told who the lucky winners were for each food item.

In introducing the program, Mrs. Landis Zylman, League president, announced the coming charity ball on Dec. 7 and also told the club that Eet Smakelijk copies were available at special rates.

Mrs. R. J. Kuiper, Literary Club program chairman told the women a few facts about Junior Welfare League which amazed many. League is 42 years old and now has 80 members. They have sold 30,000 copies of their famous cookbook at a profit of $100,000. This money has been generously distributed to agencies benefiting Holland area children including the hospital nursery, OB room, pediatrics playroom and other departments working with children.

Tuesday was Philanthropy Day with Mrs. Guy Bell telling of her committee's function and how grateful the recipients were for the special gifts at the holidays.

Following the program, desserts, especially prepared by League members were served in the tearoom. Buffet and kitchen arrangements were by Pat Eldean, Kay Rivera, Jan Doyle and Joanne Nitz.

Vander Hill Optimistic About Team's Chances

Dave Vander Hill, Holland Christian's basketball coach has sharpened up his game and hopes his 1974-75 Maroons are just as sharp this winter.

The second year Maroon basketball mentor, has one of the "deadliest" shots of anyone in the school system and gets good practice on his executive Waste-basket-ball everyday in his office.

"That was a gift from my family," said Vander Hill laughing.

Christian went through one of its poorest seasons last year but Vander Hill is optimistic about this year's five.

He said Monday, "We have a bunch of great kids with a great attitude. They're a very eager group and I'm looking forward to a fine season."

"The starting positions are still up for grabs," Vander Hill stated. "We should have more depth this year and we're definitely not thinking this is going to be a rebuilding year."

Vander Hill has three returning starters in seniors Jon Houseward and Keith Frens and junior Dave Van Langevelde. Houseward is a 6'3" "Jumping Jack" forward while Van Langevelde, a forward stands 6'4" and Frens, a center is 6'6".

Three other lettermen back are guard Del Petroelje, Jack Scholten and Dave Gritter. All are seniors.

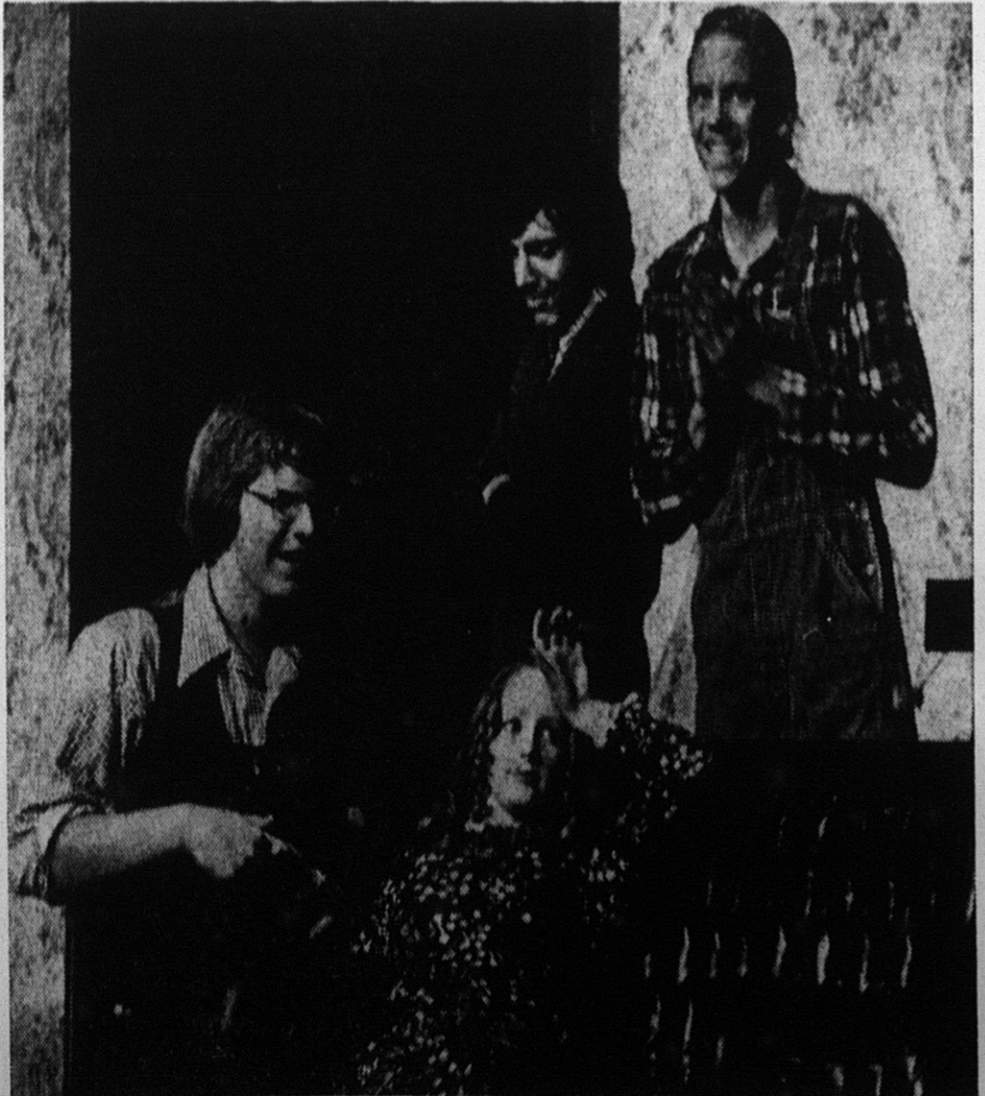

"We have seven players up from the jayvees that are pushing the seniors for starting positions," Vander Hill commented.

The group includes 6'4" Joel Vogelzang, 5'11" Tom Zoerhoff, 6' Mike Van Wyk, 5'9" Mike Vander Ploeg, 6'3" Ron Geerlings, 5'11" Randy Buursma and 5'10" Kraig Boeve.

No sophomores are listed on the varsity roster at this time.

Christian plays the exact same teams this year as last and will entertain Grand Rapids South Christian in a scrimmage Friday.

Coaching the reserves again this year is Dan Vander Ark. Ed Heethuis is running the freshmen program.

THE FIRST SNOW

The first snow seems to tempt some hardy souls into a stream of words about the beauty of winter, its crisp air, its clean look, its call for a bit more vigor. But that isn't true of all of us and frankly we have considerable trouble building up all that enthusiasm for the change of season that shows itself by about five inches of snow, some slippery roads, and the inevitable ice on one's windshield.

But the winter weather does have its rewards, and especially for those who delight in getting out on the ski slopes. And we can well imagine that the ski resorts find the cold and snow delightful and are looking forward to weekends of brisk business.

On the other hand, with the added price of gasoline and diesel fuel, we are quite sure the city will have to dig somewhat deeper to pay for keeping the city streets in riding condition.

As we said, all of us don't jump into this snow bit with the same enthusiasm. The fact of the matter is, we had pretty well come to the point of acceptance, when a friend called to say he was leaving for the south. That about did it.

Sunday School Lesson

Jonah 4:
Beyond Racial Barriers
By C. P. Dame

This is the last lesson of the series and we plan to study it on the Sunday before Thanksgiving Day. It is worth noting that the man described in the lesson had many reasons why he should have been thankful but he overlooked them all. May we be different. This lesson teaches that God cares for people irrespective of race, color or nationality.

I. God is gracious and therefore cares. The book of Jonah is looked upon by some scholars as a parable while others accept it literally. The book has been called the greatest missionary book of the Old Testament. It has a message for our time which has racial problems. The more often one reads the book the more two facts stand out — god is great and gracious and man can be and too often is selfish and petty.

In 2 Kings 14:25 Jonah is called God's servant. God told him to go to Nineveh "and cry against it; for their wickedness has come up before me." God knows what goes on in cities and in villages too. Jonah took a ship for Tarshish which was west. Nineveh was east, disobeying God and trying to run away from him. The book refers several times to things God did — sent a storm which led to Jonah being tossed in the sea and saved from death by a great fish which swallowed him and cast him in the sea again after he had prayed in its belly.

God gave Jonah a second chance, called him again to go to Nineveh and he went and preached with great success so that he has been called the greatest preacher of the Old Testament. Nineveh repented and God saved the city from destruction.

II. A man can be petty — even a preacher can be. Jonah sat outside the city waiting for the city's destruction but it did not come. Under a booth which Jonah had made he pouted like a schoolboy. God prepared a gourd for Jonah to give shade to Jonah which gladdened him. God prepared a worm which caused the death of the plant and left Jonah unprotected from the hot rays of the sun, made him faint and eager to die. God noted the anger of Jonah, and asked him a question about it. God told him that he had pity because a plant died for which he did no work, should he not spare "Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and left hand; and also much cattle?"

The New Testament tells us that God cared so much that he sent his Son, Jesus Christ in the world to die for mankind. The Book of Jonah closes with a question. We have the answer. Let us make it known!

Dershem Explains Computer Science To Kiwanis Club

Dr. Herbert Dershem, associate professor of mathematics and computer science at Hope College, explained to the Holland Kiwanis Club the purposes and unique aspects of the computer science program at Hope at a meeting Monday.

In this day of widespread computer use, it is necessary for an educated person to be aware of the opportunities and limitations of the computer, according to Dr. Dershem. For this reason, Hope College offers several levels of computer studies.

There is an introductory program in computer appreciation which parallels the survey program in art or music for the student with a limited interest in computer science.

There is an emphasis program for the student with a major in some other discipline such as physics, psychology or business who also wants extensive exposure to computer science.

There is also a program leading to a major in computer science for the student wishing to make this the basis for a career. At present 40 per cent of the students participate in the program at some level.

The staff is primarily applications oriented and they are equipped for this since its members are qualified in other fields as well as the field of computer science. Ben Franklin Etta Fox Topic At Pickel Home

By Ruth Keppel

In preparation for America's bi-centennial in 1976 the Etta Fox Chapter of Quarters Monday enjoyed a program on Benjamin Franklin, one of America's greatest statesmen. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Pickel. Mrs. Al Vanderbush was co-hostess.

Mrs. Pickel presented the program. Franklin was a great genius with sound common sense, new ideas and ideals. His formal education, ended at the age of ten when he became an apprentice in his brother's printing shop.

At 23 Franklin owned his own printing office and was publishing the Pennsylvania Gazette, which today survives as The Saturday Evening Post. For the next 20 years he was the foremost journalist in the colonies. "Poor Richards Almanac," issued annually for a quarter of a century, made him known from city mansion to frontier cabin.

While making fame and fortune as a writer, publisher and printer he was studying foreign languages, experimenting in science and taking conspicuous part in local affairs. He was continually in public service without compensation. He organized a Police Department and was the first American to organize a Fire Department.

In Philadelphia he started America's first free circulating library. He invented rockers for his easy chair, a portable fireplace called the Franklin Stove. He never took out a patent on his many inventions.

Franklin spent over a quarter of a century abroad in the service of his country. His discovery of the identity of lightning and electricity made him the best-known American in Europe.

In congress he helped frame the Declaration of Independence. His last public act was to affix his signature to a memorial to the state legislature, as president of the Pennsylvania society for the abolition of negro slavery. He died in 1790 at the age of 84.

Art Glass Expert To Talk to Rotary At Thursday Meet

Squadron Leader James Rush of England will be the guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Motor Inn.

Telling the club about "The Ingenious Beilbys," the Royal Air Force officer, retired, will be accomplishing a double purpose. He will talk about the fabulous Beilby art glass and visit a direct descendant of the famous English family who first created the glass.

James Beilby of Holland (the American spelling of the name) is meeting Rush in Toledo and bringing him to Grand Rapids for another lecture in the Woman's Club there on Wednesday before coming to Holland.

After his Rotary appearance, the author of the "Ingenious Beilbys" will be a guest of Lois Beilby Knooper in Zeeland and later at a family dinner in the Holiday Inn of Holland.

Rush is considered one of Britain's foremost authorities on English glass. His family has been associated with the glass industry for more than 300 years. He is at present chairman and director of his family business, James Rush & Co. Ltd., of Bridge Glassworks, Newcastle upon Tyne, England.

He has written the best seller which has received world acclaim and has been referred to as "one of the most beautiful books ever written about glass." By Shirley Weersing

Holland Garden Club members are busy this month preparing for their traditional Christmas Craft Shoppe to be open for the public Thursday, Dec. 5, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Civic Center. Mark your calendar now.

There is no admission charge, and the public is invited to come and go throughout the day — to enjoy coffee or lunch with friends, to browse and buy, to work on projects or collect ideas.

General chairmen Mrs. Gordon Boone and Mrs. Chester Smith are coordinating the displays and demonstrations to include old favorites and new ones. At their own boutique they'll have an assortment of Christmas supplies, decorations and gifts for sale.

Ribbons by the yard will be available from Mrs. J. D. Jencks and her helpers, who will also be adept at making up bows to order.

Wreath chairmen Mrs. Frank Boonstra and Mrs. Richard Van Haver are taking orders now through Nov. 30 for 24- or 36-inch fresh evergreen wreaths. They'll be on hand to sell those thus reserved. A few wreaths will be for sale that day while the supply lasts.

Mrs. James Darrow and Mrs. Harry Wendt will offer potted plants, some of which were started by the horticulture study group of the club.

Bundled fresh greens will be available from Mrs. Vern Schipper and Mrs. Frank Taylor.

Mrs. Jerome Hurtgen will show sample "apple" trees and rings and have the kits with instructions for sale.

Santa's Attic will offer odds and ends of ornaments, white elephants, toys, puzzles and books. Mrs. Ralph Lescohier needs donations and will pick up items.

Always popular is Mrs. Harley Hill's display of original and unique containers and decorations from her studio.

Mrs. Robert Albers and Mrs. Tom Vander Kuy will show their antiqued tree ornaments and offer instructions for those who'd like to learn the process, along with their antiqued bottles which will be for sale. Expected to be sell-out favorites are the dried wreaths and sprays created by their flower arranging study group from many unusual materials, including glycerinated evergreens, grape vines and oak leaves.

Sand candles in various shapes and sizes, including hanging ones, will be demonstrated by Mrs. James Dykema, who'll have space for you to work on your own that day for half the price of the finished ones.

Refreshments of coffee treats and a hot lunch will be served during the day by Mrs. Donald DeWitt's committee.

As always, proceeds from Garden Club activities go to fund many continuing projects related to conservation, garden therapy for school children, civic landscaping and beautification. Mrs. Clark Weersing is publicity chairman.

Chorale at Its Best In Chapel Concert

Holland's tradition of appreciation for and participation in choral music brought a knowing audience to Dimnent Chapel Friday to hear the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

They were not disappointed. Beginning promptly at 8:15 p.m., the distinguished group launched its program with the Bruckner Mass in E Minor. This immediately established a standard of precision attack, warmth of interpretation and wondrous sound.

Following intermission, the chorale, singing a capella for the most part, whipped through a series of presentations with wide range and varying moods culminating in the whistling echoes of Leonard Bernstein's, "The Lark."

The human voice as a musical instrument has limitations of range and timbre, but a group of voices, welded into a unity of sound, minds attuned to the meaning of words and color of notes can send shivers down the spine as no other source of music.

The acoustics of Dimnent Chapel gives color to music as no other building used by the Concert Association can. All the glorious tones of the comparatively small group, without distortion, from merest thread of sound to full-throated chorus, surrounded the attentive audience.

For the chorale, it was undoubtedly a hard night's work. Such perfection, produced with so little evidence of effort, is not easily attained. But for those who sat raptly wrapped in sound, it was a short evening of first-rate entertainment.

Halfway House Holds Out Hope for Area Alcoholics

By Cathleen Collins
A halfway house is halfway between where and where? Ask an alcoholic.

The Chester A. Ray Center, 118 East 9th St. is such a house, opened in February 1974 for male alcoholics who have moved just beyond the tight web of addiction, but who have not yet worked out a full life for themselves.

The Center has room for eight men, and though length of stay is open-ended, they are advised to remain at least 90 days. Residents are screened by personnel and the first criteria is five days away from alcohol and other drugs before admittance. This insures that the individual is committed to recovery.

The Halfway House is named for the late Chester A. Ray, a western Michigan Circuit Court judge, who, as a recovering alcoholic, was active in helping other alcoholics and, through his many speaking engagements, in helping remove the stigma surrounding the disease. The Center is operated by Ottagan Alcoholic Rehabilitation, Inc. (OAR Inc.) which provides educational services, occupational health programs for business and industry and counseling for the alcoholic and his family. They also are available 24 hours a day for crisis intervention.

The goal of OAR Inc.'s work in the community is to build greater understanding of this least treated of the treatable diseases. That it is a disease, emphasizes Bob Klein, executive director of the Center, and a recovering alcoholic must be recognized. The alcoholic is one with a chemical imbalance which guarantees that if he drinks he will have trouble with alcohol. Alcoholism was diagnosed in 1956 by the U.S. Surgeon General, the U.S. Department of Public Health and the American Medical Association as a disease "serious, complex and progressive."

This is not to be understood however as predestined addiction: the development and scope of the disease is tied to every aspect of an individual's life, emotional, financial and spiritual. The route to recovery must also then be multi-faceted, but in the light of the physical pre-disposition to alcoholism, fundamental to recovery is abstinence.

Klein cites a recent statement issued jointly by the Board of Directors of the National Council on Alcoholism, of which OAR

Inc. is a member, and the Executive Board of the American Medical Society on Alcoholism, that alcoholics cannot safely return to limited use of alcohol. This in response to some current claims to the contrary.

It is the knowledge that these men and women can be reached and the disease overcome that gives an urgency to OAR Inc.'s work in the community. It is currently conducting a fund drive and has set a goal of $50,000 to meet both the cost of daily operations and monthly mortgage payments on the Ray Center and to continue their community activities.

OAR Inc. is partially funded by the state through the Ottawa County Public Health Department. Donations from service clubs and others in the community have furnished the home and helped to make mortgage payments. It is attractive and comfortable: Alcoholics, says Klein have long been treated as second-class citizens, but here we give them a place to come home to.

OAR Inc., was formed in December, 1971 when a group of recovering alcoholics met with some community leaders seeking support for the development of a halfway house for alcoholic men. It was organized and began to seek funds on community and state levels.

A house was found but zoning ordinances prohibited the use of the property for its purposes. Fourteen months later, a zoning ordinance was approved which would allow installation of a halfway house and it has since been used as a model by other communities.

Making up OAR Inc.'s full-time staff of three are Klein, executive director, Alice Lee Gould executive secretary, and Pauline T. Korb, Halfway House director. Assisting part-time is Joan Brower. Its officers are James F. Brooks, president, Jack D. Rutledge, vice-president, Kenneth Vander Woude Ph.D., secretary and Robert D. DeBruyn treasurer.

OAR Inc. is not affiliated with Alcoholics Anonymous, but cooperates with it in order to work as constructively as possible with alcoholics. Bob Klein adds, "The most complete and effective program of recovery is the one available through the AA program. This is true because through AA and Al-Anon, the alcoholic and his friends and relatives of the alcoholic can participate in his or her recovery."

Within the framework of the house on 9th St. and that of OAR Inc.'s history and operation move human lives given a chance for growth. "Beautiful things are happening: God lives here," says Alice Gould, also a recovering alcoholic. Because recovery is the day-by-day process that life is, she feels that the labels success or failure are useless, only knowing that at the Ray Center are life and hope. For those who leave the Halfway House and return to drinking the staff maintains the hope that a seed will have been planted that will someday take root.

OAR Inc. does not take a public stand on alcohol itself, neither promoting or discouraging its use. Klein feels that for some its limited use may have beneficial effects, but the alcoholic, he emphasizes does not drink to gain those effects; he drinks regardless of the consequences.

For these the Ray Center functions as a way-station on the long but increasingly rewarding road to recovery from alcoholism.

Revenue Sharing Ideas Recounted at Workshop

The Revenue Sharing Workshop, sponsored by the League of Women Voters under the direction of Joanne Brooks and Sylvia Clark, met at Phelps Hall Monday.

Mrs. Eleanor DeKruif acted as moderator for the meeting. She reviewed the purpose of the meeting and introduced the commissioners Jim Dressel, Eunice Bareham, Raymond Vander Laan, Herb Wybenga, Marilyn Sherwood and Kenneth Raak.

Mrs. Clark reviewed the objectives of the workshop which were to inform interested citizens of the nature and policies of General Revenue Sharing Funds. She introduced David Meyers, Human Relations Council vice chairman, who said $30 billion had been allocated for revenue sharing funds from 1972 to 1976, by the Federal Government. The state gets 1/3 of the funds and the county, 2/3.

The purpose is to give (1) financial relief to hard pressed cities and counties, and (2) to decentralize government and its alienation of people toward government. It is hoped there would be a transfer of power from Central to local government. Central Revenue sharing offers the potential in making decisions at the local level.

The biggest areas have been in public safety, but Housing and Community Development Funds with a $8.5 billion will be a new potential opportunity over the next four years.

Jim Dressel, chairman of the finance committee, explained the workings of the general revenue sharing budget. The biggest share should go into capital outlay and the county must prepare for it. They are looking for long range projects. Bridges need repair in Ottawa County and $750,000 has been allocated for this project. Other priorities include: sanitation, public transportation, recreation, libraries and social services for the poor and aged.

A report of the expenditures of the general revenue sharing funds was distributed and a short resume was presented on each entitlement period. These financial reports are open to all citizens in the county.

Mrs. Barbara Couch, commissioner from Muskegon county said they received $1 million a year from these general revenue sharing funds. They have up to five years to spend the money in capital outlay and have now allocated much of these monies to unemployment programs in Muskegon. Industrial development has been allocated $800,000 under a county economic commission. The park system and remodeling of various public buildings have top priority here.

Nancy Clark, commissioner from Berrien County, explained how they spent funds. She said they felt human services came first and have remodeled the County Hospital with a big share of their funds. She felt the people can identify needs at the local level and should be involved in making decisions on how this money should be spent. Welfare reform is needed and should be studied throughly.

The meeting moved to Durfee Hall where the group of 75 people

Jager, Mrs. Henrietta Brower and Mrs. Josie De Kleine were welcomed as a guest, Casey Rienstra. Six persons were also honored for November birthdays.

President Gerrit Petroeije gave the invocation and the Rev. Calvin Bolt of First Christian Reformed Church gave the devotional message. "My Friend, Jesus Christ." A trio from Drenthe Christian Reformed, Mrs. Len De Wigt, Mrs. Rich Hunderman and Mrs. Henry Blauwkamp, accompanied by Mrs. Stan Loumsa sang and Mrs. Dora Schrottenberger gave a reading. Group singing included Dutch Psalms and hymns.

Announcement of the Dec. 12 Christmas party was made and the group voted to meet Wednesday, Nov. 27 for their next meeting.

ple enjoyed a buffet dinner sitting at tables according to birth date. Here the open discussion continued between members of the workshop. At the conclusion Jack Koerper from West Michigan Regional Planning Commission presented future needs in Ottawa county which include acquisition of more property for parks, shore line studies, additional funding for bike paths, law enforcement, solid waste management and a jail rehabilitation program.

Jim Dressel concluded by emphasizing that anyone can come to the commission meetings anytime with ideas for special projects. He felt there was a lack of communication between citizens and county commissioners and urged people to contact individual commissioners with questions or suggestions.

Mrs. Sherwood and Mrs. Bareham also urged citizens to contact commissioners who need ideas from the people they represent.

A recorder from each of the twelve tables made a brief report of table discussions on present problems, before the meeting was adjourned.

Lloyd Van Raalte To Swim Back-Off In Marathon

The suggested motion read: "That the board approve the concept of a swimming marathon on Dec. 13 and 14 to earn money for purchasing an electric timer for swim meets and that L. Van Raalte be the back-off (sic) swimmer in this swimming marathon with $10 guaranteed by the West Ottawa Athletic Boosters for the first lap he swims."

The motion came as a light-hearted break following a discussion of the budget but board members and Van Raalte puzzled over the term "back-off" rather than "lead-off."

Board member Don Ladewig chided that when Van Raalte sees the rules that he probably would do just that: "back off." Ladewig quickly added that he would pledge $10 for Van Raalte's second lap.

MEA Holds Bilingual Meet Here

Approximately 175 school administrators, teachers and aides participated in a two day MEA bilingual - multicultural conference held at Federal School on Friday and Saturday.

Holland teachers, John Per-mesang, Siola Mac Farland, Barbara Schuiling, and Peg Krause, demonstrated classroom materials and techniques used in Holland's increasingly successful bilingual program. A representative from the Michigan Education Association spoke of the implications of the recently passed bilingual bill (bill no. 4570).

Also held during the two sessions was a demonstration of Latino dances and also an art demonstration and exhibit.

A lengthy presentation was made on the new children's television program, Villa Alegre, who is shown locally on channel 35 at 11:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Dom Vaca of Oakland, Calif., a representative of bilingual children's television which produces Villa Alegre spoke of the program's origin, showed video tapes of the program and played music from the show.

Sentinel's Unit Headed By Tubergan

West Ottawa dominates the 1974 Sentinel's all-area football team with six players while five other schools put on three gridgers apiece.

Heading the Panther list is junior tailback Scott Tubergan, a bonafide all-state candidate. Tubergan rushed for a school record 1,015 yards this past season and was the big reason the Panthers set their best record ever at 6-2-1.

Also elected from West Ottawa were defensive back Matt Johnson, linebacker Tim Hill, middle guard John Renkema, guard John De Vries and offensive end Ken Hamstra.

Johnson and Hamstra led the Panthers in pass interceptions with four each while Renkema and Hill ranked among the team leaders in tackles. Hamstra also caught 19 passes for three touchdowns.

De Vries was one of the reasons that the Panther backs rushed for over 150 yards a game.

Hill and Tubergan are all-area repeaters. All six of the Panthers were also first team all-conference.

Named from Holland were linebackers Tom Ter Haar and Brian Bouwens and defensive back Ross Nykamp.

The three were the defensive leaders for the Dutch and each had outstanding seasons, according to Coach Ray Backus.

Ter Haar, a co-captain, was also on the all-area unit in 1973. Nykamp and Bouwens are noted for their powerful hitting.

Saugatuck put guard Don Berry, a 1973 repeater, linebacker Joe Bekken and defensive tackle Rick Klainyk on the dream squad.

Bekken, another all-state candidate, led the Indians in tackles with 14 per game and according to Coach Jack Lampen, "can definitely" play college football.

Lampen said Berry was one of the most coachable boys he ever had and also a "terrific" blocker while Klainyk was second on the squad in tackles with 10 an outing.

Selected from Zeeland were linebacker Tim Barkel, guard Dirk Pyle and defensive end Brian Boss.

Pyle was the strong side guard of the Chix and did all the pulling. Barkel was the No. 1 tackler on the team with over 10 solo tackles per contest.

Ross, was not only a defensive standout but ranked with the best in the area in the kicking department as well.

Allendale's brilliant junior quarterback Mark Wiersma, heads the Falcon list of three gridgers. Wiersma threw for 949 yards and 12 touchdown passes for Coach Bill Friberg's club this past year.

Offensive tackle Dan Stanton and slotback Larry Hall were also named from Allendale. Stanton was a two-way performer for the Falcons while Hall grabbed 16 passes for 374 yards.

Hudsonville completed the list of three players by placing offensive end Ron Van Dam, offensive tackle Dale Dalman and quarterback Bill Brinks on the unit.

Brinks passed for over 500 yards and six TDs for the Eagles and was co-captain of the team. Van Dam hauled in 16 passes for 300 yards and according to Coach Bruce Zylstra is almost "as good" as Al Yoak was at Hudsonville.

Dalman was not only a fine blocker but led the Eagles in tackles from his linebacker spot.

This was the first year that so many linebackers have been all-area. The big reason is that each coach usually puts some of his best people at those spots and each coach figures his boy is better than the others.

Mark Naber of Hamilton was also named at linebacker. Naber led the Hawkeyes in tackles with close to 15 an outing and also was a fine offensive end.

Doug Koopman, another Hawkeye, was all over the field for Coach Bob Stool's thin squad. Koopman played offensive tackle and middle guard on defense. Stool feels confident that both fellows can play college ball.

Completing the all-area squad were Fennville's fine halfback Rick Bushee and offensive end Mak Moeller.

Bushee rushed for over 100 yards in almost every game while Moeller a big 6'3" 190-pounder, had fine hands and did an outstanding job for Coach Gary Frens this past season.

Mrs. E. Wenzel Gives Program For Xi Beta Tau

A cultural program on "Embroidery" was presented by Mrs. Ernest Wenzel at a meeting of Xi Beta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at the home of Mrs. Paul Lamberts.

Mrs. Wenzel told how embroidery has been used for centuries to decorate clothing, wall hangings and linens, and how threads were spun of fleece and wool and dyed by different plants. Silk thread was discovered in China and gold thread was used primarily in India. Needles were found of wood and bone.

She then demonstrated how to embroider and the various stitches and also demonstrated the modern liquid embroidery. She displayed articles of both types of embroidery.

A picture of the famous Bayeux Tapestry, a rare workmanship of embroidery picturing the Norman Conquest that hangs in the library of the French town of Bayeux, was shown.

Mrs. Lloyd Dunwiddie presided at the business meeting. Several events were discussed including the Valentine Dinner Dance to be hosted by Preceptor Tau Chapter at Carousel Mountain on Feb. 1.

Raymond Lamb Sets Event For Former Students

Raymond Lamb, a former teacher and principal at Beechwood school, is planning a reunion of former students and old friends of the area on Dec. 5. His eighth grade graduates at Beechwood alone number over 200, one of whom is Lloyd Van Raalte, the present superintendent of West Ottawa Schools. Beechwood school was then the largest rural school in Ottawa County.

Lamb, whose life's work has been with boys and girls, started his career teaching at Pine Creek school in 1923. Starting in 1926 he taught in the New Groningen school until going to Beechwood in 1929. At Beechwood he graduated 12 eighth grade classes. In 1941, Mr. Lamb, still dedicated to working with youth, accepted a position with Michigan State University as an extension 4-H Club agent, the job he held until his retirement in 1966.

Mr. Lamb's wife is the former Wilman Van Doesburg of Holland, who also taught school for 32 years. They chose to return to Holland for their retirement and reside at 445 James St.

A committee composed of representatives from each of Mr. Lamb's eighth grade graduating classes at Beechwood, is assisting him with plans. An effort is being made to locate all members of these classes. Also, a general invitation is extended to all other students, parents of students, club members and friends who would like to greet Mr. Lamb personally.

The event will take place in the West Ottawa cafeteria on Thursday, Dec. 5, at 7:30 p.m. The committee plans an evening of fellowship and renewing old acquaintances, with Fred Bocks Jr. as master of ceremonies.

Serving on the committee are Theresa (Wiersma) Windemuller, Harvey Riemersma, Ruth (Borgman) De Kraker, Nina (Overbeek) Prins, Harold Borgman, Ed Riemersma and Bernard Knoll. Also Harriet (Van der Schaaf) Baker, Della (Van Bemelen) Dekker, Cornelia (Cauwe) Kootsier, Ethel (Klein) Swierenga, Shirley (Knoll) Steketee and Gene Hiddinga. Phyllis (Knoll) Kuna is chairman.

Entertaining senior Ben McKnight captured the most valuable golf award. McKnight paced the Dutch golfers to a fine 14-4 season by averaging 79 for the year. Ted Boeve is coach. For the second straight year.

Nolan Named Area Coach of the Year

It took him three years to do it but Coach Deb Nolan is credited with turning around the West Ottawa football program.

Nolan guided the Panthers to their best record ever this past season at 6-2-1. Included among the victories were three wins and a tie over Class A schools.

Both the 1968 and 1969 Panther clubs held the mark.

Things didn't start out too rosy for the Panthers in Nolan's first year, as the squad only won three of nine outings. Last year they had a disappointing 2-7 slate and many West Ottawa fans were yelling for his scalp.

But in 1974, the Panthers with brilliant tailback Scott Tubergan leading the way, rolled to their finest season in history.

Nolan, a former University of Michigan player was assistant varsity mentor at Grosse Pointe South, a Class A school for four years before coming to West Ottawa.

He was assistant freshmen line coach at Michigan in 1964 and was line coach on Central Michigan University's freshman unit in 1965.

Nolan accepted the head football coaching spot at his old high school (Clare) in 1965 and finished his two-year stint with an overall 11-6 mark.

He left Clare in the fall of 1967 to accept a post as varsity line coach at Waterford-Mott High School.

The 31-year-old Nolan lettered at U-M under Coach Bump Elliott as a guard and linebacker. He was a fine baseball pitching prospect at Clare.

Nolan is only the second football coach at West Ottawa. The first was Ron Weatherbee, now the "voice of the Panthers."

Three other coaches were considered for area coach of the year. They include last year's winner Bill Friberg of Allendale, Jack Lampen of Saugatuck and Bruce Zylstra of Hudsonville.

Friberg directed the Falcons to a 6-1 slate this year compared to 7-1 in 1973 while Lampen saw his Indians win five of nine tilts in 1974 compared to a 3-5 record the year before. Zylstra's Eagles won three more outings this year and tied one for an overall 4-4-1 mark.
