The death of Hendrik J. Hesselink Pas occurred Sunday at the home of his son, Jacob E. Pas, two miles south east of the city. Mr. Pas was 87 years of age and lived in this vicinity since 1848 when he came from the Netherlands. He was well known to the pioneers of this locality and had many friends. He is survived by two sons, Samuel E. Pas, of Thule, S. D., and Jacob E. Pas, of this city and one daughter, Mrs. H. J. Kooyers, of this city. In an interview relative to the carrying of dogs on the G. R. H. & L. M. interurban railway, B. S. Hanchett, the secretary, says: "No railroad is anxious to carry dogs of any description, but we wish to accommodate the sportsmen all that we can. If we carry their dogs, however, the owner of a bull dog will expect us to do the same with him. We will therefore make a rule to carry dogs in the smoker, provided they are muzzled. Of course, we understand that no bird dog is vicious or dangerous, but under this ruling we will have to carry other dogs and for the protection of our patrons and our employees we must ask that all dogs carried must be muzzled while on the cars. We think that this will be satisfactory to the sportsmen."

The Allegan Ministerial alliance composed of Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian ministers, has adopted a code of procedure for funerals. They ask that the minister who is to officiate be consulted as to time of service; be furnished a brief biography of the deceased, and a conveyance to and from the place of service; that no service be held at the hour of public church service, and that Sunday funerals be discontinued, so far as possible; that the remains lie in state, and that viewing them at the service be discontinued; that no more than three hymns be used, and the entire service be brief; that no one be expected to uncover his head in open air because of the danger to health; that exercises at the grave be short, and that the wearing of mourning be discontinued after the obsequies, because it is a custom of heathen origin.

Of what use is a coroner in Ottawa county?, says the Grand Haven Tribune. Men meet violent and even mysterious deaths every two or three weeks and the coroner, and in many cases even the sheriff and officers are not even notified. Take the Conklin case for an example. A man was either kicked to death or murdered there three weeks ago. Not an official of the county was notified until a few days ago. In the Jackman murder case the coroner was not notified until days after the crime, and the local justice had then taken upon himself the responsibility of the inquest. Justice Whipple did his work well and contributed no small share to unraveling the mystery, but it is said that legally no person has the right to do so except the county coroner. In case that it is impossible to get that official in extreme cases the justice may do so. But in this county, county justices appear to look after the coroner's duty. Coroners Kiel and Yates, one for the northern and one for the southern tier of townships, should have this business, or the office should be abolished.

John Scheerhooren, a young man 19 years of age working in the Holland furniture factory, let liquor get a little the best of him Tuesday and became very pugilistic in his demeanor. J. A. The death of Mrs. H. Van den Berg occurred at her home in Zeeland last Friday after an illness of several months. The West Michigan band will give a band concert at the Lyceum opera house November 4. It will be a very good entertainment and should attract a crowd that will fill the hall. Musicians from out of the city will take part in the program and some clever specialties will be interspersed with the concert numbers. The members of the West Michigan band have had to contend with a great many difficulties in the past and very little encouragement has been given them by the people of Holland. Nevertheless they have steadily improved and Holland now has the second best band in Western Michigan as was shown by the recent band tournament. It takes time, trouble and money to do all this and the citizens of Holland should show their appreciation of the band by liberally patronizing the concert.

FAILURE PLACES THE EMPIRE IN PERIL.

The Cost Thus Far Has Been $700,000,000, Besides 18,000 Lives—Kruger's Historic Pledge More Than Fulfilled—Demoralization Produced in the Army.

London, Oct. 14.—In any country whose constitutional traditions were less deeply rooted than Britain's what is now transpiring here would be a certain prelude to revolution.

There is a fierce public indignation at the inconceivable levity and ignorance with which the enterprise was begun and the criminal stupidity with which it has been conducted.

Tremendous Cost. The opening of the third year's campaign is signalized by the publication in both jingo and the anti-war press of retrospects of the government's war, the record fully justifying the gloomiest apprehensions.

It was estimated that the cost of the war would be $50,000,000 with a field force of 47,000 men, which parliament was assured would complete the conquest of the republics in three months, but up to date the cost has been $700,000,000, besides 18,000 lives, the aggregate casualties being 75,000.

Kruger's Pledge Fulfilled. Paul Kruger's historic pledge to the world that the price England would have to pay would stagger humanity is now on everybody's lips.

It was jeered at when originally published in the London Chronicle, but at the height of the present supreme crisis the public is dismayed by the intemperate, undisciplined outburst against critics by Gen. Buller, demonstrating the demoralization which has been produced in the army by the stress of the ignominious campaign. Meantime the ministers are doing nothing—or worse.

Kruger Very Ill. Berlin, Oct. 16.—The Muenchener Zeitung prints a dispatch from Hillversum which says that Mr. Kruger, in spite of all denials, is severely ill.

Well-Known Journalist Dead. Milwaukee, Oct. 14.—Lansing Warren, editor and publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel, died Sunday from an attack of typhoid fever. Mr. Warren was taken ill about three weeks ago. He had been actively engaged in newspaper work for more than 20 years, and previous to his connection with the Sentinel was business manager of the Chicago Inter Ocean. He was considered a thorough newspaper man, having served in most all of the responsible positions which go to make up the competent editor.

KILLED BY THE DEPUTIES.

Lower House of Episcopalian Convention Rejects Canon on Marriage and Divorce.

MATTER TO REST FOR THREE YEARS.

The Measure Passed by the House of Bishops and Then Adopted in Committee of the Whole by the House of Deputies Is Decisively Defeated on Final Vote.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The troublesome question of marriage and divorce was set at rest for another three years Tuesday by the action of the house of deputies of the triennial Episcopal convention in rejecting both of the proposed canons on the subject, which were passed by the house of bishops. The greatest fight of the convention has been over section 4 of canon 36, virtually forbidding the remarriage of a divorced person by a priest of the church. This had passed the house of bishops and been adopted by a yeoman and nay vote in committee of the whole of the house of deputies. When the committee rose and reported its work to the house a decisive vote was taken not only on the troublesome fourth section, but on the entire canon, which was rejected as a whole. Canon 37, which provides for the disciplining of persons marrying again after being divorced, met with a similar fate.

The house of deputies passed an amendment to article 10 of the constitution permitting modified forms of worship which in spirit is similar to the famous Huntington amendment recently defeated. The amendment, though credited to Dr. McKim, of Washington, was in reality presented to the convention of three years ago by Dr. Huntington. The bishops have yet to act before the amendment can become part of the constitution.

Both houses appointed members of a standing committee on capital and labor which is to investigate the subject with a view to the peaceful settlement of disagreements between employes and workmen and report to each general convention.

House of Deputies Working Overtime

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The triennial convention of the Episcopal Church of America, now drawing to a close, has considerable work yet to be accomplished. For this reason the house of deputies has decided to lengthen the hours of its afternoon sessions and will hereafter strictly confine the speakers to the limit.

The house of bishops met in executive session and proceeded to the consideration of business.

Bishop Wells, of Spokane, spoke briefly after the noon time prayers at the women's auxiliary, which remained closed during the afternoon, the members in a body attending the funeral of Mrs. Mary A. E. Irving, the honorary secretary, who died on Monday.

A reception was held at the Japanese church mission Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended.

MAKE LONG REPORT.

Medical and Surgical History of President McKinley's Case Given by His Physicians.

New York, Oct. 16.—The physicians and surgeons who attended President McKinley through the closing days of his life on Tuesday presented to the State Medical society gathered here in semiannual session a lengthy report covering the medical and surgical history of the case of the martyred statesman. It was signed by Dr. Matthew D. Mann, Herman Mynter, Eugene Wasdin, Charles G. Stockton, P. M. Rixey, Roswell Park and Charles McBurney, and was read by Dr. Mann, who discussed the features as he proceeded. No reporter was present, but a general summary of it was given out by one of the physicians. Dr. Mann did not mention the operation, omitting that altogether. He described the president's symptoms and treatment from day to day, going into the fullest details.

Continuing, he said: "If you ask me what caused the president's death I could not tell you. I doubt if that will ever be discovered. Amongst contributory causes, however, were the president's age, his lack of exercise and his naturally weak heart, which made his pulse high."

Dr. Mann was asked by one of the listening medical men why the "X"-ray was not applied so the missing bullet might be located. Dr. Mann replied that there was nothing in the condition of the patient to show that the bullet was doing any harm, and he said that if the "X"-ray had been used it would only have been to satisfy the curiosity of the physicians and the excitement attending the operation would have been harmful to the patient, so the doctors refrained from using the "X"-ray apparatus.

The total number of deaths of officers and enlisted men during the year was 67, a percentage of less than 1.25. Yellow fever has now been almost driven from the island owing to the energetic war upon the mosquitoes and the sanitary precautions adopted.

Regular Service Between Holland and Grand Rapids On Interurban

Cars are now running regularly between Holland and Grand Rapids on the Grand Rapids, Holland and Lake Michigan electric road. The service is not all that the company desires as the double track could not be completed in time for traffic this winter on account of the scarcity of steel rails; but it is very good, nevertheless, and the heavy patronage of the past week is a proof of the popularity of this mode of travel. That part of the road between Holland and Zeeland and between Jenison and Grand Rapids is in excellent shape. The double tracks are well laid and well ballasted and cannot be excelled by any road in Michigan. The remainder of the road has a well constructed single track with double track in some places, thus doing away with long waits on switches. It takes about an hour and a half to make the trip now but this time will be cut down before long.

The first regular passenger car went over the line last Monday afternoon. It left Holland at 1 o'clock in charge of Superintendent Kinch. Motorman Stewart and Conductor Harris and was well filled with passengers from Holland and intermediate points. Over some parts of the road a speed of 40 miles per hour was maintained. Among the passengers who made the first trip were Mrs. M. J. Kinch, Mrs. Geo. W. Pardee, Messrs. Con DePree, Ed. Vaupell, J. B. Mulder, and Dr. F. S. Ledebor.

Cars are now running regularly between here and Grand Rapids. Trips are made every two hours. The last car leaves Holland at 10 o'clock and returning leaves Grand Rapids at eleven. The fare to Grand Rapids is 49 cents. The regular schedule has not been arranged on account of the scarcity of cars; but they are expected from Cleveland every day and as soon as they come it is expected that a schedule will be arranged whereby cars will leave for Grand Rapids every hour.

John Water, president of the company, was in the city this week. He made several trips over the road and is well pleased with everything.

Common Council

At Tuesday night's meeting of the common council the clerk reported written acceptance of resolution passed by the common council October 8, 1901, relative to placing poles, etc., on Hay street, Christina street, Land street and Twentieth street, filed by the Holland & Lake Michigan railway company in the clerk's office October 11, 1901 at 10:52 o'clock a. m., filed.

The clerk reported that the West Twelfth street, the Eighth street sewer and the Ninth and River street sewer bonds had been sold to C. J. DeRoo, and presented treasurer's receipt for the amount viz. $7486.00.

Accepted and treasurer ordered charged with the amount.

The clerk presented invitation for the Health officer to attend the conference of Michigan Health officers to be held at Ann Arbor Nov. 21 and 22, 1901.

A resolution was passed recommending that a temporary loan of $2500.00 be made and certificate of indebtedness be issued for said amount due Jan. 2, 1902.

Interesting Meeting of the S. O. T. A.

The S. O. T. A. held their first meeting of the year Saturday, Oct. 12, at Hope college. There was a large attendance and a most interesting program.

In the morning Prof. D. B. Yntema gave an address on "Teachers Reading Circle Work." On the same subject excellent suggestions were offered by Prof. Ladd, Prof. Nykerk, and Dr. Kollen.

After which Prof. A. J. Ladd presented the subject "Primary Reading." This subject was discussed in the afternoon by the members present.

The election of officers followed. Those elected were N. B. Stanton, president; Ben Mulder, vice president; Miss Zora Benedict, secretary; and Edward C. Stanton, treasurer.

Plans for the year work were also discussed. The executive committee is to arrange to have the time spent most profitably at the meetings. All teachers are urged to be present at each one. The next meeting of the S. O. T. A. will be held in Zeeland.

There are six persons in Holland who have not yet ridden on the Grand Rapids Interurban, and all of the six are cripples.—G. R. Press.

Board of Supervisors Struggling with Re-Equalization

The October session of the board of supervisors is on and it promises to be one of the most interesting in the history of the county. The question of re-equalization is up for consideration and will doubtless occupy the attention of the supervisors to a great degree. The majority of the members contend that owing to the changes made in the Holland rolls it was absolutely necessary to re-equalize; but interested people of Holland say that it is now too late to re-equalize and those people stand ready to question the legality of the act of the board should it decide to re-equalize.

A vote on equalization was taken, standing 18 for and 4 opposed. Supervisor Pruim allied himself with the supervisors from Holland in opposing it.

Prosecuting Attorney McBride has given the board his opinion that the board could re-equalize; but his decision will not be accepted as final by the people of Holland and it is likely that a fight will be made.

The Board of Supervisors is supposed to be a republican body, by virtue of the fact that its membership is composed of two more republicans than democrats, but at Thursday afternoon's session in all the offices voted on, Democratic officers were selected.

Wm. Whipple was defeated for drain commissioner by ex-Supervisor Dickerson of Tallmadge. Two ballots were taken.

Mr. Stanton was re-elected school examiner.

Wm. N. Angel was re-elected to the county poor commission by a practically unanimous vote.

This morning the board took the steamer Antelope for the county infirmary, to examine that institution.

Leonora Jackson Captivates Audience

Miss Leonora Jackson has in captivity the hearts of many residents of Holland. Everyone that heard her at Winants chapel last Monday evening unconditionally surrendered to the power invested in her by the great gift of music. She is complete master of the violin, and by mastery over that instrument gains ascendancy over the hearts of all who are fortunate enough to hear her. She played selections covering the entire field of music touched by the violin and showed marvelous brilliancy at every stage. Sounds never before made through the instrumentality of the violin were made by her sweeping bow. If the eyes of the hearer were closed he could be led to a belief that some other instrument—a flute, a cornet, a harp or a zither—was used in producing the bewildering melody.

Miss Jackson's playing is characterized by color, dash and brilliancy, with just enough firmness to show that she has every phase of feeling in perfect control. All of her great gift, her wonderful power were brought into requisition last Monday evening to the delight of her hearers. Besides the regular numbers on the program she responded to encores by rendering the cradle song from the "Jocelyn" and a catchy selection of her own composition.

Miss Jackson was ably supported by William Baur, the pianist, and Harry J. Fellows, tenor. Mr. Baur is a smooth, conscientious performer on the piano but his attractive stage presence and cavalier-like bows made the greatest hits.

Mr. Fellows will be heartily welcomed should he ever come to Holland again. He has a pure, sweet and sympathetic tenor voice and interpreted every number in delightful manner. His English selections were particularly noticeable because of his excellent enunciation. Every syllable could be distinguished. Some singers seem to try to make the words they utter unintelligible, to the agony of their hearers; but Mr. Fellows is the reverse, as every word was clearcut and distinct.

If the other numbers of the Hope college lecture course are as good as the Leonora Jackson concert company those holding tickets may consider themselves fortunate, for the course will be better than ever before.

Before beginning the regular program last Monday night, Prof. J. B. Nykerk, chairman of the lecture course committee, announced that several special numbers would be given besides the regular course. He said that arrangements were under way to have Rev. Dr. Fulton of Grand Rapids give his lecture on the Ober Omergau Passion Play.

The St. Agnes Guild of Grace Episcopal church will give an entertainment at the home of Mrs. Peter Brown, Ninth street, on Halloween eve, October 31. It will be a "ghost party" and many of the guests will appear in ghostly costumes.

The death of Mrs. R. Roo, of Crisp, occurred Wednesday at the home of her son. Her age was 80 years. She is survived by four sons.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

C. D. Richards, rural box inspector for the government postal department is in the city. He came for the purpose of inspecting the boxes along the rural routes and is making the rounds with the carrier of rural route No. 2 today.

Great Lady Commander Frances Burns of the Michigan L. O. T. M. conducted a lodge of instruction at Grand Haven yesterday. There were three sessions and the entire day was taken up with work. Nearly 150 outside visitors were present, the representatives of twelve different hives.

The Ludington Chronicle, the semi-weekly established in Ludington a few months ago by E. E. Brown, formerly of Allegan, has been sold to George W. Peavy of Flint and Herbert T. McCutcheon of St. Clair. It is stated that from the first issue, the Chronicle has paid its way and that Mr. Brown's reason for selling is ill health. He will rest for a year before taking up work again.

A large number of teachers and workers in the parochial schools of the Holland Christian Reformed churches met in Muskegon yesterday for the purpose of discussing the advisability of organizing a district union. At the conclusion of the discussion it was voted to establish such a union, and pending the permanent organization a board of five members was elected. Rev. H. Van Hoogen, of this city, is one of the members of the board.

The Loyal Circle of King's Daughters met at the home of Mrs. Thurber last night and elected the following officers for the year: President, Miss Mamie Ver Weij; vice president, Miss Agnes Habermann; secretary, Miss Margaret Kramer; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Scheppers; program com. Miss Maude Kleyn and Miss Gertrude McKay. The society has begun preparations for a Christmas box

J. De Spelder, one of the early settlers of this locality, died last Tuesday morning at the age of 81 years after an illness of three months. Mr. De Spelder came here in 1848 and had always been closely identified with the early pioneer life of toil and hardship. He was a conscientious, upright citizen and won the esteem and confidence of all who knew him. He is survived by a widow and three sons Rev. John A. De Spelder, of Holland, Mich., Dr. E. De Spelder of Drenthe and Peter De Spelder, of this city. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon.

Recently John W. Perkins, of the state tax commission visited the office of the register of deeds on a tour of inspection. Speaking of his visit the Detroit Journal says: "Perkins found a swindle in Ottawa county. The register of deeds at Grand Haven had several deeds which had been forwarded by Chicago parties for registering. When the property described was looked up it was found to be located in Lake Michigan. One piece of land was in the lake of Grand Haven, and another in lake off Olive township. It is understood that both parties to the transaction are Chicago attorneys. The deeds were returned to the unsophisticated purchaser with the statement that he would have to build a dock to get to his 'fruit farm'."—G. H. Tribune.

At a meeting held in Grand Haven Wednesday night the Grand Haven State bank was formally organized, and the following officers and directors elected: President, John C. Post of Holland; vice president, Peter Brusse of Grand Haven; directors, C. Ver Schure, G. J. Diekema, George P. Hummer, George E. Kollen, of Holland, K. T. Vander Bosch, Albert Lynn, of Grand Haven, and L. Veneklaassen, of Zeeland. Silas M. Wright, of Grand Rapids, formerly cashier of the National City bank of Grand Haven will probably be made cashier of the new bank and ex-County Treasurer Lynn, paying teller. The bank building will probably be ready for occupancy within thirty days.

The schooner, R. Kanters, formerly clearing from this port and well known to every resident of Holland is attracting great attention in marine circles on account of a daring feat of seamanship undertaken by her skipper, Capt. Blake, who made a round trip of over 500 miles in fall storms with no other crew than a 19-year-old boy. Just as the Kanters was ready for sea, Oct. 1, the crew of the vessel, including the mate and cook, got into a controversy with Capt. Blake and declared that they would not sail his vessel unless he granted their demands. Captain Blake is a Hollander and the same Dutch spirit that is holding the British in check in South Africa boiled over. The boy alone of all the crew had remained on board the vessel. Turning to him Capt. Blake asked him if he would take the chances for the trip and the lad agreed. Capt. Blake slept only in the day and the two stood watch and watch at the wheel. When it was necessary to set sails, they would lash the wheel for a time and both work together.

The steamer Puritan was not taken off the Holland & Chicago route this week. The Soo City is being fitted out for the fall trade and was not ready to be put in commission in her place. The Soo will be ready in a day or two, however, and the Puritan will be put on the Benton Harbor-Chicago route, as announced last week. The Puritan was unable to clear from this harbor Monday night on account of the heavy sea.

Christopher Luther is under arrest on the charge of setting fire to the barn of Mrs. Bliss of Robinson township. At his examination which was begun before Justice Pagelson of Grand Haven Tuesday, Fred G. Betke, one of the witnesses for the prosecution, testified that he crept up to the window of Luther's house shortly after the fire and listened to a conversation between Luther and his wife in which the former made the following statement: "John Bliss is to blame that I lost my nets and therefore I set fire to the barn. God sees all small things. We must help God to punish such people that are treacherous, and for that reason I have burned her barn. Mrs. Bliss must have plenty of witnesses to prove I done it. They have not seen me." The examination of Luther will be concluded today and some interesting developments are expected.

On the morning of Sept. 23, John M. Seelman, a well-to-do farmer living three miles north of Conklin, was found lying behind one of the horses in his barn with an ugly hole in his skull. He was carried into the house, but protested so strongly that no doctors were sent for until about noon, and when Drs. Scotte and Knepper arrived he would not allow them even to make an examination without using force to hold him. Seelman died Thursday and was buried the following Sunday. None of the county officers was notified and even the coroner was left in total ignorance of the case. A few days ago, however, Sheriff Dykhuis learned of the affair and an investigation made by him develops the fact that with George Seelman, his son, Pat Finnegan and a Mr. Baker, Seelman was on a drunken spree in Conklin the night before his death, and that all of the party with the exception of George Seelman slept in the barn that night. The injured man was found by Baker. There are some indications which point to foul play and it is possible that there may have been a drunken row and that Seelman's body was placed behind the horse to hide the crime. The sheriff is still investigating the case but no arrests have been made.

We, the jury find that the deceased came to his death from heart failure caused by not taking Rocky Mountain Tea made by Madlon Medicine Co. 35c Haan Bos.

Hoffman-Fileman

Miss Rose D. Fileman and Cornelius Hoffman were united in marriage last Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Will Hayes, 13 West Eighth street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Bergen in the presence of relatives. The rooms were tastefully decorated in green and white and a pretty effect was made by falling autumn leaves. The bride was attired in black silk with a lavender and white waist. She was attended by Miss Cora Aabford, of Grand Rapids. Jacob Hoffman, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Ashford and Mrs. Tozer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are at home to their many friends at No. 3 East Eighth street.

or too poor to drink Jav. Mar. Mo. Coffee. The famous brand is blended to suit the taste of many. Its price is made to fit the purse of all. It is fine flavored and has rich aroma. The air-tight cartons explain its goodness. The large buying and selling of Gillies' New York coffee reasons for its low value. Try a package. Never mind its low cost. Theodore Klinkhammer died this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams, 66 West Tenth street of pneumonia. Mr. Klinkhammer was employed by C. E. Bartlett, who has the contract for the construction of the Elzibth street sewer. He was one of the largest and strongest men on the gang and attracted considerable attention because of his well built, muscular physique. His home is in Evanston, Ill., where he leaves a wife and eight children. The remains are in charge of Nibbelink & Son and will be sent to Evanston for burial.

The Miller-Church Sign company has been dissolved, Mr. Church has purchased the interest of his partner and will hereafter conduct the business alone. He has arranged for advertising boards to be placed on the entire line of the G. R. H. & L. M. electric road and has sold several hundred dollars worth of space. J. E. Church has paid particular attention to the making of electric light signs and has fitted out several places of business with signs showing the names of the merchants with electric lights.

Montaville Flowers meets every demand, and meets them all pleasingly. He is an impersonator of great versatility and wide resource. He succinctly tells the story in dialogue, culled from the original; happy in his choice of passages, because keeping in mind that the dramatic quality is the indispensable essential to prevent monotony. Thus he has a story full of spirit, and one that in itself holds an audience. He develops it with evenness, and throughout it wears the language of the author. Mr. Flower's work as presented in the series of recitals here, is something to be proud of.—The Louisville Courier Journal.

M. J. Knoch, superintendent of the G. R. H. & L. M. railway company, is making a tour of inspection over the road between here and Grand Rapids today. If he finds conditions favorable, hourly service to Grand Rapids will be started tomorrow. The fare from the city limits of Holland to the city limits of Grand Rapids is 39 cents. Adding 5 cents for fare to city limits of Holland and 5 cents for fare from the city limits of Grand Rapids to any part of that city makes the total fare from any part of Holland to any part of Grand Rapids 49 cents.

George H. Hulzenga, a well known and popular young man of this city, who was formerly of the firm of Martin & Hulzenga, will open a jewelry store Nov. 1 at 36 East Eighth street. A Finnish Attack

An attack was lately made on C. F. Oiller of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c. at Heber Walsh's drug store.

A DELAY ON THE RAIL

(Copyrighted by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

No. 6 was late. That was an unusual happening on the D. & H. R. R., and the division superintendent, standing on the little platform at Hoopston waiting to take No. 6 back to headquarters, was plainly annoyed. It is a serious thing for trainmen to vex a division superintendent, and when they go so far as to cause him to postpone his dinner hour far beyond its accustomed moment they may expect to hear something uncomplimentary and official through the medium of the envelopes marked "Railroad Business" which are dropped from the express cars of through trains.

Superintendent Wheeler was not a quick-tempered man, but as he walked up and down the Hoopston platform, glancing at his watch from time to time, anyone with half an eye could have seen that he was not in an angelic frame of mind. Inside the office the telegraph was ticking merrily with more "railroad business," and at length Superintendent Wheeler thrust his head in the door for the tenth time and asked: "Anything new from No. 6?"

"She's 35 minutes late at Albion, sir," replied Operator Ryan, briskly. "They've made up eight minutes time, sir."

"Have you yet heard what's the matter?" asked the division superintendent, brusquely.

"Don't know for sure, sir," but I guess it's a hot box," said Ryan, and the superintendent continued his nervous walk up and down the platform.

Twenty-three miles away No. 6 was whooping over the shining rails like a vestibule limited, although it was only a "combination freight," lately invested with the dignity of a badly frayed passenger coach tagging on behind the heavy box cars for the few passengers who desired the accommodation of a "way" train. But to-night No. 6 was not running on freight schedule. She was more than 40 minutes late, and as Joe Kelly looked from his perch beside the lever and saw his companion shoveling coal into the capacious maw of the engine he encouraged him to redoubled efforts.

"That's the stuff, Jack," he said; "toss her in and we'll make up a bunch of it anyhow. We're hitting her up for 24 miles an hour right now, and that's pretty good for old 348, that's been on freight runs for five years. I bet those jays back there were surprised when we cut through there like a mail train," he went on, keeping a sharp lookout ahead, "but we can't let a hot box put us in the hole half an hour, or we'll all be laid off, from the conductor down to the wiper that forgot to oil the journal."

He had got thus far in his chat and Jack was grunting assent from his dusty place among the lumps of coal when the engineer suddenly stood upright and leaned half way out of the cab window. Then with a convulsive movement he threw the lever clear over and shut off the steam. An instant later the sharp bark of the whistle calling for "brakes" awoke the echoes.

"What's the matter?" demanded the fireman, springing up to his side of the cab, half ready to jump.

"I don't know," said Kelly, peering into the half gloom ahead of the train, "but if some one isn't swinging a red light across the track down there, I'm a goat. See it—off to the left of the track, and he placed his hand on the throttle, for the heavy train was still bounding at a fearful rate.

"Right you are," said the fireman; "that's a red one all right. Will we make it?"

"Oh, yes, we'll stop before we get there," said Kelly, confidently. "Wonder what it is—rail broken or a hold-up?" and he laughed a bit nervously. The conductor, who had been alarmed by the whistle for brakes and the grinding of the iron shoes against the heels, came running over the top of the freight cars and clambered over the coal into the cab with the two men.

"What is it?" he demanded.

"Don't know," said Kelly, "take a peek yourself. Red light ahead."

The train had begun to slacken speed by that time and was fast approaching the slowly swinging lantern. At last it thundered to a stop and stood panting while the conductor sprang off and ran ahead. There stood a youth not more than 20 years old, doggedly swinging a lantern, while a frightened girl of 17 clung to his arm and looked with wide eyes on everything.

"What's the matter here?" demanded the conductor; "what are you flagging this train for?"

"We want to get aboard," said the young man, stoutly.

"What?" shrieked the conductor, "do you mean to say you've stopped a way freight that's 40 minutes late just because you can't wait for the passenger that comes through at ten o'clock?"

"That's just it," said the young man, with much dignity; "we can't wait for the passenger. We want to go on this train. You see, the fact is," he went on, growing confidential and taking a tighter hold on the little arm hanging in his, "we're going to town to get married. We've been going for married for a year now, but Mabel's—that is, the young lady's—parents object, and we want to get to Dayton on this train. If we wait for the late train, it—why, don't you see—it don't get to Dayton until after midnight."

"Hot ho!" interrupted the conductor, "an elopement, eh? Well, I'm darned if I don't like your nerve. Come on, get aboard, then. Don't delay us any more than you have."

Five minutes later No. 6 was tearing over the rails toward Hoopston with a pair of turtle doves nesting in a double seat in the passenger coach. Superintendent Wheeler had his speech all ready when the train slowed up at Hoopston. The conductor swung off and touched his hat.

"Hot box at Penway Junction, sir," he explained; "we've made up 14 minutes."

"What was that other stop for, reported by the operator at High Ridge?" demanded the superintendent. " weren't you late enough, without stopping for passengers?"

"Elopement, sir," explained the conductor.

"What?" thundered the superintendent, but when the conductor took him to the door of the coach and in a whisper explained the case and pointed out the blissful lovers, the division superintendent hummed and hawed and rubbed his chin and rubbed his eyes, and no member of that train crew was laid off.

AMERICANS FORCED BACK

Macabebe Scouts Fail to Drive Out Strongly Entrenched Insurgents Near Lipa.

LIEUT. BEAU KILLED IN THE FIGHT.

Philippines Well Armed and Seem to Have Plenty of Ammunition—Determined by War Department to Send Troops to Philippines to Take Places of Discharged Men.

Manila, Oct. 11.—A detachment of the Twenty-first company of Macabebes Thursday encountered a large force of insurgents near Lipa, province of Batangas. Lieut. Beau, of the Macabebes, was killed and one of the force was wounded. The enemy was strongly entrenched. After two hours' fighting the Americans retreated to await reinforcements.

The insurgents numbered over 300, were armed with Remington and Mauser rifles and apparently had plenty of ammunition.

Martin, a teacher at Mauban, was captured by insurgents while visiting a neighboring town under an escort of native police. The next day his captors, relenting, tied him in a hammock and carried him to a point within a mile of the town and released him, saying he was a noncombatant.

Police Carried Off.

The entire police force of Catang, province of Tayabas, numbering 11, have been carried off by insurgents, armed only with bolos. Presumably the police made no resistance, though they were well armed with carbines and revolvers.

To Send Recruits.

Washington, Oct. 11.—It has been determined at the war department to send troops to the Philippines to take the places of those whose term of enlistment expires. Where the reenlistments are not large in any one regiment, their places will be filled by separate detachments of recruits. If any considerable number of enlistments expire in a single organization it is probable that the organization as a whole will be returned from the Philippines and another regiment sent to take its place.

Changes His Base.

Manila, Oct. 14.—The military authorities have received word that Gen. Miguel Malvar, the insurgent leader, is believed to have left the province of Batangas, Luzon, and to be planning an operation in the province of Bulacan, where insurgent conscription has been progressing recently. The country there is mountainous and well adapted to guerrilla warfare.

Force to Remain.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Unless conditions materially improve in the Philippines within the next few months there will be no reduction of the military force of the island. While no positive decision has been reached on this point, the officials of the war department are not sanguine over the situation in the archipelago as they were several months ago.

A Strange Death.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—David Wark, aged 20 years, of West Philadelphia, was electrocuted in Fairmount park Tuesday night while playing football. Wark was playing on one of two scrub teams and the ball was punted into the air and lodged in a large globe of an electric light. The arm on which the lamp was hung was lowered, and when it came within reach Wark grasped the ball and fell dead. The spheroid had become wet from the grass and thus formed a conductor for the powerful electric current.

Falls from Window.

Washington, Ind., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Parmenter, wife of Lieut. Henry E. Parmenter, a naval officer on duty here, fell from a fourth story window in the Portland flats Tuesday morning, and, striking on a stone sidewalk 50 feet below, received probably fatal injuries. Mrs. Parmenter had been in poor health for some time.

Most Must Go to Jail.

New York, Oct. 15.—Johann Most, the anarchist, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary in the court of special sessions for publishing in his paper, the Freiheit, an alleged seditious article on the day following the shooting of the late President McKinley.

High Price for a Colt.

London, Oct. 16.—R. S. Siver's crack bay colt Duke of Westminster, by Orme out of Gantlet, has been purchased by G. Faber for 21,000 guineas, the record price for a two-year-old.

Mourning Period Ends.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The 30 days' period of mourning prescribed by President Roosevelt in respect to the memory of the late President McKinley expired yesterday.

Shipbuilders Busy.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—A great revival in shipbuilding is reported in all parts of the country, every working yard being crowded with orders. Many plants are to be enlarged.

Cuba Will Hold Elections.

Havana, Oct. 14.—The elections for all officers except president will be held December 21 next, and that for president will take place February 24, Cuba's national holiday.

Wants an Investigation.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The president has requested Gen. Torrance, commander in chief of the G. A. R., to investigate charges against Commissioner of Pensions Evans.

THE PACIFIC OCEAN CABLE

Attorney General Knox Makes His Report on Matter to President and Cabinet.

NO EXECUTIVE ACTION IS NECESSARY.

Needs of the Navy Stated in the Annual Report of Rear Admiral Crowninshield—Final Census Report on the Population by Sex, General Nativity and Color.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Attorney General Knox made a verbal report to the president and cabinet Friday regarding the result of his investigations into the Pacific cable question. His conclusion was that under the law of 1866 any domestic company could land any cable on the shores of the United States or of its possessions. The president and cabinet were convinced by the verbal report that no executive action is called for at this time.

President's Policy Indorsed.

Five members of the cabinet, Secretary Long, Secretary Hitchcock, Secretary Wilson, Attorney General Knox and Postmaster General Smith, were present at Friday's meeting, which was devoted largely to the consideration of appointments under the various departments. The question of southern apportionments generally again came up and the president reiterated his policy of appointing republicans if suitable applicants could be found and if not of appointing gold democrats. His policy in this respect meets the approval of the cabinet. The appointment of Dr. Clayton to the collectorship of internal revenue in South Carolina was considered in this connection.

NEEDS OF THE NAVY.

Abstract from the Annual Report of Rear Admiral Crowninshield.

Washington, Oct. 12.—In his annual report to the secretary of the navy, Rear Admiral Crowninshield, chief of the navigation bureau, speaks of the reduction made during the past year in the strength of the Asiatic fleet, which was drawn upon to furnish two vessels to reestablish the European station and will be further diminished in order to permit of the commissioning of at least two training ships and an increase of the North Atlantic squadron by two gunboats and of the Pacific squadron by possibly one. It is particularly desirable to have some small ships for gulf service on the Atlantic side. It is said that the operations on the Asiatic station were marked by uniform success and that the conduct of our sailors and marines in China in the main was all that could be asked for.

Sailors were enlisted during the year to the number of 9,826, making the total men in service 18,825. From this number there were 3,158 desertions.

MALES IN MAJORITY.

Census Report Shows They Compose 51.2 Per Cent of Population.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The final census report on the population by sex, general nativity and color of the several states and territories was issued Friday. This last bulletin of the series covers the entire country. It shows that the males number 39,059,242 and constitute 51.2 per cent. of the total population in 1900, while the females number 37,244,145, or 48.8 per cent. There is a slightly larger proportion of females now than ten years ago. There is a difference in favor of males at the present census of 1,815,097, as compared with an excess of males for the equivalent area in 1890 of 1,500,370. There has been an increase in total population of 13,233,631, or 21 per cent., since 1890, made up of 6,744,179 males and 6,489,452 females, representing an increase in males of 20.9 per cent. and females 21.1 per cent. There are 65,843,302 native-born persons and 10,460,085 foreign-born persons, the latter element constituting 13.7 per cent. of the total population in 1900, against 14.8 per cent. ten years ago. The foreign-born show an absolute increase during the decade of 1,151,994, while the native-born have increased in ten years 12,081,637.

As to color and race, the population in 1900 is made up of 66,990,802 white persons and 9,312,585 colored persons, the latter figure comprising 8,940,789 persons of negro descent, 119,050 Chinese, 85,986 Japanese and 266,700 Indians.

Of the total white population, 56,740,739 are native whites, constituting 74.4 per cent. of the total population, and 10,250,063 foreign whites, constituting 13.4 of the total population.

Bank Robbed.

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 12.—News which reached here Friday morning told of the robbery of the bank at Narka, Kan., 40 miles southwest, some time Thursday night. Expert safe blowers used dynamite on the steel safe and secured $15,000, principally in cash.

A Fall Treasury.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Nearly $1,250,000,000 is the enormous sum of money which the United States treasury has now in its possession. This is an aggregate of wealth never before equaled in the history of this or any other country.

Many Vessels Wrecked.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—Thus far reports have been received of the loss of some 40 vessels in the North sea during the recent storms. Many lives have been lost.

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 16.—Henry H. Aplin (rep.) has been elected to congress from the Tenth district to succeed the late Congressman Crump.

MESMERIST SUED BY GIRL.

Paris Physician Incurs Endless Trouble After Bold, Impudent Exercise of His Powers.

Dr. Vial has been indicted at Paris upon the singular charge of mesmerizing a Miss Thorne, an Australian girl who was sitting opposite him in an omnibus. The defendant admits his guilt, but pleads scientific interest as his excuse.

He says that while he was riding in the omnibus with another physician their conversation turned to hypnotism as a means of controlling innocent people for the perpetration of criminal acts. In order to convince his doubting friend, Dr. Vial, having noticed the nervous disposition of a girl opposite him, waggled that he would put her in a trance and cause her to follow them without speaking to her. The experiment succeeded. He fastened his eyes upon Miss Thorne and she soon gave evidence of being under mesmeric influences. The physicians then stopped the omnibus and alighted, followed by the girl, who dogged their steps a few paces behind.

At Dr. Vial's office, in the presence of several physicians, experiments were conducted which proved his contention. For example, when he ordered her to go stab a fruit vender across the street Miss Thorne seized a knife and started immediately. It was then that Dr. Vial roused her from the trance, explaining everything, apologized and even offered to pay any demand. Miss Thorne went home dazed and afterward was very ill. She told her brother what had happened and he, after thrashing the doctor, sued for damages. The court has postponed giving judgment in the case.

TOKIO WANTS DEEP HARBOR.

Japan Engineer in This Country Gathering Information to Be Used in Making Vast Improvements.

Yeiya Nakajima, chief engineer of the city of Tokio, Japan, and professor of engineering and mechanics in the University of Tokio, is in this country on a tour of inspection. In an interview he said:

"After a careful examination of your rivers, harbors and wharves, I have arrived at the belief that I can, by dredging, bring big ships up to Tokio. We are about 20 miles from Yokohama, and there will be a lot of work to be done, but we will do it. Tokio has about 1,500,000 inhabitants, and her interests would be greater than they are now if we had a waterway through which big vessels could pass to the city. Even at Yokohama vessels must be unloaded by lighters.

"The whole job—dredging and wharf building—will cost about $21,000,000 of your money. The interest on money is high over there and we would have to borrow a great deal. Counting interest and all, the $21,000,000 will amount to $50,000,000 before the job will be finished. But I am sure the city will do the work. American methods will be followed."

From New York Mr. Nakajima will go to Yale to attend the bicentennial celebration. He says that Tokio is to have a trolley line, and he is anxious to become acquainted with American trolley methods.

A MATHEMATICAL QUIZ.

Will of a Milwaukee Man Divides His Small Estate in Most Puzzling Manner.

Heirs of Peter J. Gergen, whose will was filed for probate at Milwaukee, Wis., the other day, probably will be forced to resort to higher mathematics to ascertain the amounts to which they are respectively entitled.

In its directions regarding the distribution of the estate, which is valued at $3,500, the will is a curiosity. The property is to be divided among the widow and eight children, and the allotment to the children is made in the following language:

"Mary to receive for her share $200 more than the other children, Nicholas to receive $50 less than the other children, John to receive $70 less than the other children, Anna to receive $30 less than the other children, Joseph, Peter, Gabriel and Frank to receive an equal share, which shall be $200 less than Mary, $50 more than Nicholas, $70 more than John and $30 more than Anna." Peter Gergen, one of the sons, was named as executor in the will.

Mixed His Metaphors.

A prize essay on temperance was recently published in Liverpool, England, but whoever adjudicated the prizes must have been fond of mixed metaphors. Here is a paragraph from the successful paper. The writer enlarged on the evil of sending children for beer, thus: "They sip some out of the jugs as they wend their way home, thus introducing the thin end of the wedge, which is certain to spring up into a harvest of drunkenness. Think, oh, think, of these weary little ones going down life's hill over a thorny road. They are bound to float out into eternity, with no hand to shake their dying pillow. Brethren, pray for them, and help to lift them out of the quicksands, which will burn into their very souls." It is alleged that when the author of this literary composition received a sovereign for his work he entered the nearest public house and got "gloriously drunk."

Military Ballooning.

The Swiss military authorities have determined that next year the training of military balloonists shall be systematically taken in hand. The first balloon company to be formed is to consist of eight officers, 22 noncommissioned officers, 161 privates, with an establishment of nine riding and 99 draught horses and 28 vehicles.

DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price.

By Worthless Reprints

reprints are very misleading. They are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, while they are all prototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which was sold for about $5.00, and which was much superior to these imitations, being a work of some merit instead of one Long Since Obsolete.

The Webster's Unabridged Dictionary published by our house is the only meritorious one of that name. It bears our imprint on the title-page and is protected by copyright from cheap imitation. As a dictionary lasts a lifetime will it not be better to purchase the LATEST AND BEST.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and or it. We thrive or starve, our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by. When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00. all druggists.

A Fitting Tribute

A CITIZEN OF HOLLAND, PAYS A WELL-EARNED TRIBUTE The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic endorsement of merit to the following scores that have appeared before. Mrs. M. Shonaker, 256 West 15th street says: "I suffered from constant heavy aching pains across the small of my back so that I could not rest comfortably at night in any position and during the day I felt tired and languid. The kidney secretions became badly affected, irregular, too frequent, scanty, and were attended by a good deal of pain besides depositing a heavy sediment. I suffered also from headaches and spells of dizziness so that I either had to sit down or hold on to something to keep from falling. I used a great many different remedies but without obtaining any benefit. Friends advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and used them. They helped me from the very start. They are the best remedy I ever tried, and I have no hesitation in recommending them."

Foot Ball Tomorrow. Holland vs. Otsego

There will be a hot time at the base ball park tomorrow even if the weather is cold. Otsego, the home of the best athletes in Michigan, will send a sturdy crowd of athletes to struggle for supremacy with the Holland team. The visitors are the strongest of the strong and the swiftest of the swift, and they will try to show that they deserve the highest honors as well on the gridiron as on the base ball diamond. They will be cheered to their work by Otsego rooters and will try to prove worthy of the confidence of all.

But Holland will be in the reckoning and will furnish foeman worthy of their best efforts. They will go on the field with the determination to make the first game a victory and will make the fight of their lives. This is the first opportunity to show their prowess and they will try to show that they are made of good stuff. The game will be fast and furious from the kickoff and should attract a large crowd. Jim De Pree, manager of the Holland eleven, says that the boys are as hard as nails and able to stand the roughest kind of work.

Game will be called at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Admission 25cents.

Sporting News

The season for the Twin-City club since re-organized, has been a successful one so far as winning is concerned, having won eight games, out-played in one, and held-up and robbed in one. Financially, the club is a loss, and will not be in existence another year from present indications. Putting on the back is cheaper than going into ones pocket.—Douglas Record.

The Allegan base ball club defeated the Muskegon Reds at Muskegon Sunday by a score of 5 to 3. Kitson, the Allegan man that pitched for Boston the past season, was in the box for Allegan and threw the Reds into nervous prostration by his curves. Weaver of Holland caught for Allegan and held Kitson like a veteran.

From the Grand Rapids Democrat comes a wierd pipe story stating among other absurd things that "there still remains almost one thousand dollars" in the treasury of the Holland base ball association, that "next year it proposed to put in a cracker jack team with several outside players," that "such a team will draw better than last year's team," that Grand Haven won the county championship" etc. It is scarcely necessary to state that not a statement of the above is true. It is about nine hundred dollars from the truth regard to the amount in the treasury. It is not "proposed to put several outsiders in the team next year." Such a team will not "draw better than last year's team," for the people would not patronize a team of outside players, as they would rather, see the home boys play. So far as the county championship is concerned Grand Haven does not lay claim to it.

Holland has had good foot ball teams in the past; but the conditions are so favorable for the sport this year that the team for this season is the best ever seen on the gridiron in this city. Tomorrow the boys will be pitted against the strongest eleven in Western Michigan but they are not dismayed by the prowess of their opponents and will undoubtedly render a good account of themselves. They are trained to the hour, every man is as hard as iron is eager for rough work and will fight to the last ditch.

SEEKS LONG MISSING MOTHER.

Rich Manufacturer of Leadville, Col., Starts Search at the Old Home at Kenosha, Wis.

Earl C. Brown, a prominent manufacturer of Leadville, Col., is in Kenosha, Wis., on a strange mission, and one which has brought to light a peculiar story of other days in Kenosha. Brown is at Kenosha for the purpose of making an effort to find some trace of his mother, Mrs. James Brown, who disappeared from Kenosha under mysterious circumstances more than 28 years ago.

All the facts in connection with the story cannot be discovered. "The widow Brown," as the mother of the Leadville man was known in Kenosha, had resided on Ashland avenue for many years. One day it was noticed that the blinds in the little cottage were closed, and as the days went by people began to wonder as to the cause. Finally, on going to the house, they discovered it was empty. The widow Brown was not to be found anywhere. Her best dresses were folded neatly on the bed, and everything was neat and clean, but nothing had been left to show where or in what manner the widow had left her home.

There seems to be reason to believe that Mrs. Brown met with foul play somewhere, and it is possible that she was murdered in her home and her body secreted; but the little house remained closed for so many weeks before strange hands took control that a criminal would have had plenty of time to cover his crime. Many of the earlier inhabitants of the city recall the disappearance of Mrs. Brown, but none of them are able to throw any light on the question.

MOORISH PRISON SYSTEM.

Sultan of Morocco to Begin a Reform to Correct a Pitiable and Brutal State of Affairs.

A dispatch to the London Times from Tangier, dealing with the announcement that the sultan intends to reform the Moorish prison system, says anything more pitiable than the present state of the prisons it is impossible to imagine. Any Moroccan subject is liable to be seized and incarcerated at any moment, often without the pretense of a trial. The rumor that he has saved a few dollars is sufficient excuse for his imprisonment.

The state of affairs in the prisons in the cities is bad, says the Times' correspondent. That of the prisons in the country baffles description. Many of them consist of small, high-walled yards, with no shade, no shelter, no water supply, and no sanitation.

To add to the horror, the prisoners are chained by their necks to a long, heavy iron chain, sometimes as many as 50 to one chain, without a yard between each. Heavy shackles are also riveted to their legs. The conditions in the subterranean dungeons are even more awful.

The sultan intends to change all this. He will overhaul the prisons, sending inspectors to report upon their condition. The prisoners are to have sufficient rations, supplied to them by the local officials.

TO STUDY FRENCH ORDNANCE.

Mexican Artillery Officers to Spend Two Years in That Country by Order of President Diaz.

Fifteen Mexican artillery officers have sailed for Antwerp en route to France, where they will study the manufacture and manipulation of the French ordnance. The officers, with a single exception—Col. Gilberto Luna—are captains or lieutenants in the artillery branch of the Mexican army. They have been commissioned by President Diaz to spend two years at Le Creusot and study the famous artillery made there, which has been adopted by the Mexican government in place of the German guns formerly used. Col. Luna, in an interview, said that the Mexican army was in splendid shape. The country was free from brigands, he said, and in every way was in a peaceful as well as prosperous condition. On the day previous to his departure from the City of Mexico, Col. Luna had a long talk with President Diaz, who, he said, is in splendid health.

Gold Bar for Field Museum.

Rev. Dr. William Copley Winslow, vice president for the United States of the Egyptian exploration fund, announces that the London committee has voted to present to the Field Columbian museum the curious bar of gold found at the royal tombs of Abydos. An exact facsimile has been received by Dr. Winslow and placed in the Boston museum of fine arts. It has been mounted on black marble, and is about five inches long. The name of Alia is incised on the cartouche, such as it then was, and probably dates about 4750 B. C. Near the top of the bar is a hole, which causes Dr. Winslow to suggest that it was used for ornamental purposes, but Prof. Petrie thinks its purpose was unknown.

Deep-Sea Mine Found.

Capt. Strand, of the Santa Ana, which has just arrived at Port Townsend, Wash., reports having found a deep sea mine of unusual richness. When he weighed anchor at Nome a considerable quantity of mud was brought out, and some of the miners aboard prospected it with the result that several small nuggets of gold were found, the largest of which was worth one dollar. The Santa Ana was anchored one and a quarter miles from shore in six fathoms of water, and the captain expressed the opinion that with a deep sea dredge a large amount of gold could be secured.

HORRIGAN'S VICTORY

BY OTTO KNEY.

Horrigan was his name, and after his little victory over his section boss his fame extended along on both sides of the division, and even beyond. Horrigan hated Marty, the foreman, as did every man on that section. Marty had an overbearing way about him, "which he got bossin' dages on a construction job," as Horrigan put it.

Section 8 comprised the stretch of track between Bx and Mn, and owing to the heavy traffic over it was being repaired constantly by Marty's gang. Marty lived near Bx, while the section house was at Mn, but for some reason he was allowed to live at Bx.

"Full," said Horrigan. Marty had two ways of getting home after work. One was to flip the six o'clock freight, which left Mn any time between six and midnight. The other was to go home on the handcar, after inveigling two of the crew to "pump" him home. The reward for this was some sort of a snap job on the next day, and, while Marty's personal popularity wouldn't carry him far, yet there were always two men ready to run him home on the car on occasion.

Naturally Horrigan was never seen propelling Marty home, and this fact angered the boss, because Horrigan was the only member of the crew who refused to do that service. If hard work was to be done Horrigan was ordered to do it. If there was any way of working Horrigan overtime without entering it in the time book it was done.

Horrigan's reciprocity was sincere. A section hand has very few opportunities of returning such favors, but when they were found the principal was returned with good interest. If anything could be done to upset Marty, Horrigan did it. In fact, he came to look on it as a duty as much as his periodic visits to the priest. If Marty would order some useless piece of work done, Horrigan would pass the wink down the line, and the orders would be carried out, even if every man jack of the crew knew that the work would have to be done over.

Horrigan argued it this way: "Are we the boss? Don't he get crisp when we don't obey orders? We're laborers, not foremen! He's the boss."

When Marty found out his error he would have it rectified, fuming inwardly all the time, because he would not admit that he was wrong. But though he patched up his reports so that the loss of time incident to the error did not show, yet they came back almost invariably with a query as to the cause of the delay in finishing up a piece of track or a complaint as to the time required to do a certain job.

So it went on all the time, boss and crew at pick points. Frequently Horrigan's name would be sent in to the office for insubordination, with a recommendation for discharge, but it would come back with a request for complainant and defendant to report at headquarters. The inevitable result of the joint "dance on the carpet" was that Horrigan never missed the pay car.

Things kept going on this way for a year, and all concerned were tired of it. Marty did not dare to ask for a transfer, nor did he want to give in. Both savored of a tarrish on his dignity, and that was unbearable. One day late in the spring the gang was working on the track, and Horrigan was replacing a worn rail, with the assistance of Dugan. The other men were spread along the track for a considerable distance. It was mid-morning, and Horrigan did not want to take out the rail until the limited, due at 9:30, had passed. But this morning the limited was late, and in its stead a light freight train was moved along the block. Marty had not noticed that the limited had not passed on schedule, as his back had been turned while drinking with a farmer in a field along the track.

It was ten o'clock, and Marty, thinking that the limited had passed, ordered the defective rail taken out. Naturally Horrigan was averse to breaking the line until the limited had passed. Marty, unobservant, took Horrigan's backwardness for laziness, and spoke to him sharply:

"Say, you sodger, do you think you're the president? How much work do you expect to do in a day?"

Horrigan's answer was drowned in the torrent of abuse spouted by Marty, and with Dugan for a witness that he had protested against breaking the rail until the limited had passed, proceeded to draw the spikes from the rail, meanwhile keeping out a wary eye for the semaphore at the end of the block.

Out came the rail, and the new one was put in position. Just as the fishplates were being bolted in preparatory to spiking the rail the hoarse whistle of the limited's engine was waited down the track.

"They've got a new whistle on her," said Marty to one of the men, with the freight in mind.

"Guess so," replied the man, tamping at a tie, with that ready acquiescence generally granted a superior, he be right or wrong.

With the freight in mind, Marty allowed the two men to finish replacing the rail alone, as he figured that it would be completed by the time the freight arrived. But the limited—never running on a freight schedule—flew on in an effort to gain some of the lost time. The signal tower operator saw the track was not clear, and threw the semaphore to "danger," the limited stopping just beyond the new rail.

On seeing the cause of the delay the engineer cursed the track crew with that fluency peculiar to railroaders, and was vigorously joined by a newcomer who ran up with the conductor.

"What, do you mean to hold up the limited on a job like this?" angrily inquired the conductor's companion. "Where is your boss?"

And Marty ruefully stepped forward. "I thought the limited had passed us on schedule time, sir."
