BY WAY OF INTRODUCTION:

Accountability is an "in" word these days. It is well that this is so, for those in positions of public trust should be ready at all times to give an account of their stewardship. It is in this spirit that we have prepared this report. We have sought to give an accurate review of the operation of the College this past year, a complete accounting of our resources, and a realistic assessment of how well we have achieved our mission.

Hope is not a public institution in a technical sense; yet public service is an essential element of our mission. We are concerned about freedom, justice, compassion, and righteousness. We invite any student who so desires to attend Hope College. Persons from all walks of life and many different institutions share in the work of Hope College through their gifts. Thus, in many ways, we are a "public institution" and consequently we believe that anyone, and particularly any person who supports the College, is entitled to full and accurate information on the College.

We hope that as you read this report you will sense the enthusiasm which the Board of Trustees, faculty, staff and students have for this College; our continued striving for excellence in all we do; our efforts to be good stewards of the resources entrusted to us; our commitment to maintain the vitality of the Christian context in which we operate; and our gratitude to all who share in the work of the College.

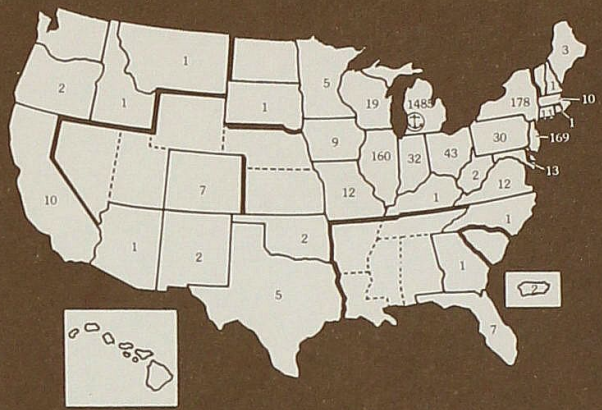

The future holds many economic, social, political, and spiritual uncertainties. Our commitment is to continue a 116-year tradition of excellence in Christian higher education by being sensitive to the changing circumstances yet faithful to our historic mission. The continued participation of alumni, friends, churches, and institutions will be vital in the days ahead. We trust that this report will commend faithful and generous support for this mission.

We invite your careful reading and welcome your counsel or inquiry.

OUR MISSION

The mission of Hope College is to offer programs of recognized excellence in the liberal arts, in the setting of an undergraduate, coeducational, residential college, and in the context of the Christian faith. Since our accountability relates directly to how well we have accomplished this mission, we do not hesitate to ask ourselves such questions as: Are all of our programs of recognized academic excellence? Is the residential life of the College making an effective contribution to the growth and development of our students? Are the out-of-classroom activities — such as cultural events, intercollegiate athletics, and fraternity and sorority life — contributing appropriately to our mission? Is the Christian faith a vital dimension in the life of the College?

Accountability also involves financial issues. Is the College operating on a sound financial base, as economically as possible? Is the financial aid program adequate to meet the legitimate needs of students, and is it fairly and equitably administered? Are the physical facilities, and the maintenance of them, adequate to meet our commitment to excellence?

There are also personnel matters. Is Hope College a challenging and congenial place to work? Are the compensation programs just, adequate and equitable?

Are we satisfactorily fulfilling our larger responsibilities — to parents, alumni, and friends; to the Church; to the community; to business and industry; to government; to education in general?

Although we cannot touch on all these areas in detail in this report, we have sought to be thorough in the major areas, and to share some insights into how the Board of Trustees, administration, and faculty are seeking to fulfill the mission of Hope College.

AN OVERVIEW

1976-77 was a rewarding year in many ways. Yet our primary accomplishments are the most difficult to report, for they relate directly to what takes place in the hearts and minds and lives of our students. Moving among our students, one senses many wonderful gifts — noble character, keen mind, sensitivity to values, mature faith, purposeful living, and a genuine sense of dedication and optimism. We recognize that our students come to college with many of these qualities, which is a tribute to their homes, churches and schools. It is a privilege for us to build on this foundation as we seek to make these undergraduate years a truly outstanding and rewarding experience for each of our students.

Observing and talking with students as they approach graduation provides excellent insight into what has taken place in their lives during their years at Hope.

Despite the excellent increase in contributions to the operating fund, the percentage of contribution support to the total operating budget increased from 7.6% to only 8.2% last year. Although this is a good trend, support from contributions totaled 15.6% in 1967-68. It is clear that to prevent student fees from increasing substantially, the College must be able to increase income from sources other than students. It is also interesting that total expenditures in 1976-77 increased by only 5.7% over 1975-76. This was accomplished despite large increases in energy costs and an inflation rate of approximately 7%.

Some students have discovered and developed talents which they scarcely recognized they possessed when they came to college. Many have found at college their calling to their life's work; often this is quite a different field than they had originally planned. For many, these were years of discovery and growth in the faith, and in the development of a Christian world and life view. And, judging from the number of weddings during the summer following graduation, one discovers that many college romances do blossom into marriages!

We faced a major challenge this year as we sought once again to operate with a balanced budget. This was a difficult goal to achieve because of a somewhat larger attrition than anticipated between semesters, and fuel costs which exceeded budget by $52,000. Through careful control of costs, the generous support of many, and the cooperation of the entire faculty and staff, we were able to achieve a balanced budget — our tenth successive year of operation with a balanced budget. Complete details are given in the section of this report prepared by our chief fiscal officer, Vice-President William K. Anderson.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS

A number of significant developments occurred this year which relate directly to our ability to fulfill our mission with excellence.

■ Build Hope, a major fund-raising effort which the Board of Trustees launched in 1972 under the leadership of Dr. James M. Ver Meulen, was officially concluded on December 31, 1976. The total amount received in gifts and pledges was $10,407,690, significantly exceeding the goal of $8,850,000. A very fitting victory celebration was held on Homecoming weekend. The impact of Build Hope will be felt for years to come, both in terms of the specific accomplishments and because of the spirit of enthusiasm and confidence which was generated.

■ Construction of the new Health Fitness and Physical Education Center began in February, 1977; completion is scheduled for the summer of 1978. This 86,000 sq. ft. building will contain facilities for a comprehensive program in health fitness and physical education. In the design, the architects achieved an exceptional combination of attractiveness, function, and economy. The total cost will be $3,586,000. At this writing, we have received $3,355,000 in gifts and pledges, and we are seeking to complete the funding as soon as possible.

■ In April, Hope College received a grant of $371,175 from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation to support, over the next three years, the development of a comprehensive program in health fitness. The goal of this program is to enable our students, faculty and staff, and persons in the community to acquire the knowledge, habits and skills which will promote a life-long commitment to health fitness. We see this as part of our commitment to educate the whole person — mind, body, and spirit. The new Health Fitness and Physical Education Center has been designed to accommodate this program. With this facility, the resources of the Kellogg grant and our dedicated faculty, we are confident that we can develop a program which will further our commitment to achieve excellence in every aspect of the life of the College.

■ The cultural life of the College continued to thrive this past year, both through the presence of a number of distinguished guest speakers and artists, and through the contributions of our faculty and students.

The Music Department, with its long tradition of excellence, enjoyed another outstanding year. The Christmas Vespers, the Chapel Choir (which this year toured the Midwest), the Symphonette (which toured the East), the Symphony Orchestra, the College Choir, the various bands, and the faculty and student recitals all contributed greatly to the cultural life of the College.

With our excellent facilities and the dedication of faculty and staff in the Theatre Department, a truly outstanding theatre program, during both the academic year and the summer, has been developed in recent years. The Hope Summer Repertory Theatre has contributed much to the cultural life of the community and has provided our students with opportunities to study with professionals in a unique learning experience.

■ More than 15% of our students participated in intercollegiate athletics this past year. Our men's teams placed second in the all-sports competition in the MIAA and won championships in cross country and baseball. The women's program is developing very successfully under the leadership of Prof. Anne Irwin.

A decision was made this past year to restructure the MIAA to provide competition for women as well as men. In another change, the rules of the MIAA were modified to permit, for a trial three-year period, member teams to compete in the NCAA Division III championships.

Our commitment is to achieve excellence in intercollegiate athletics while maintaining our primary focus on academics and values, and to operate without athletic scholarships. Thus we provide students with an attractive and viable alternative to the professionalism which marks much of the intercollegiate sport scene today.

■ Of great significance to our academic program has been the development of a comprehensive program in faculty development. The value of such programs had been demonstrated for several years through the Wilson, Reimold, and Den Uyl faculty summer grant programs, and through support in the sciences from the Research Corporation and the National Science Foundation. The grants which we received in 1975 from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and in 1976 from Lilly Endowment, Inc., both for faculty development, have been of great help in extending this program to many other faculty members. During the summer of 1977 more than half of our faculty were involved in faculty development programs; in many cases these faculty members worked with students to realize these goals. It is also significant to note that four of our faculty members, Professors Michael P. Doyle, John J. Shaughnessy, Elliot A. Tanis and Henry Voogd, had major textbooks published during this past year.

The continued vitality of our academic program is directly related to maintaining a comprehensive program in faculty development. We are seeking to provide long-term support for this program through designated gifts for endowment.

■ An example of our efforts to encourage and improve innovation and creativity in our students was our May Term course, "Discovery in Chemistry," which was funded by the Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation Inc. through their "Innovation in Education in Chemistry Program." Three internationally-recognized innovative chemists each spent a week on campus, sharing with our students their approach to discovery.

who shared in our mission through their generous gifts.

The chart on page 5 gives a summary of gifts received during 1976-77. The decline in total giving from 1975-76 is accounted for entirely by the decrease in bequests received. It is also significant that in 1975-76, we received a single gift of $500,000 which was a very substantial amount to make up from other sources.

We note with particular appreciation the increased giving from churches. We have sought to maintain a vital, mutually-supportive relationship with our churches, and have found this to be a rewarding association. We truly appreciate the support which these churches give to the College.

Our Annual Fund is used for the direct support of the operations of the College. The increase in gifts to the Annual Fund over the past three years has been both dramatic and of vital importance to our operating with a balanced budget.

During this year, the Council for Advancement and Support of Education presented Hope College with the second place award for improvement in alumni giving for 1975-76 among the nation's private colleges with an enrollment over 1,500. This same organization awarded Hope with a citation for the excellence of the spring issue of the "Hope College Magazine." We extend our congratulations and appreciation to all who made it possible to achieve these national recognitions.

The data for our Annual Fund for the past three years is contained in the chart on this page.

In addition to gifts actually received, many persons have told us during this past year of arrangements they have made to support Hope College through estate planning. Such support is a significant contribution to the future strength of the College, and we are grateful to all who have made such commitments. Through our Donor Financial Planning Office, we will be pleased to be of assistance, on a completely confidential basis, to alumni and friends in any aspect of their estate planning.

Two other sources of support, though not part of our development program, are of vital importance to the operation of the College. These are certain sources of funding for our financial-aid program, and designated grants from foundations, corporations, and certain government agencies. Information of these sources of support is shown in the charts on pages 7 and 13.

*Includes $60,000 — $70,000 each year from the Michigan Colleges Foundation. Most of these gifts are from business and industry.

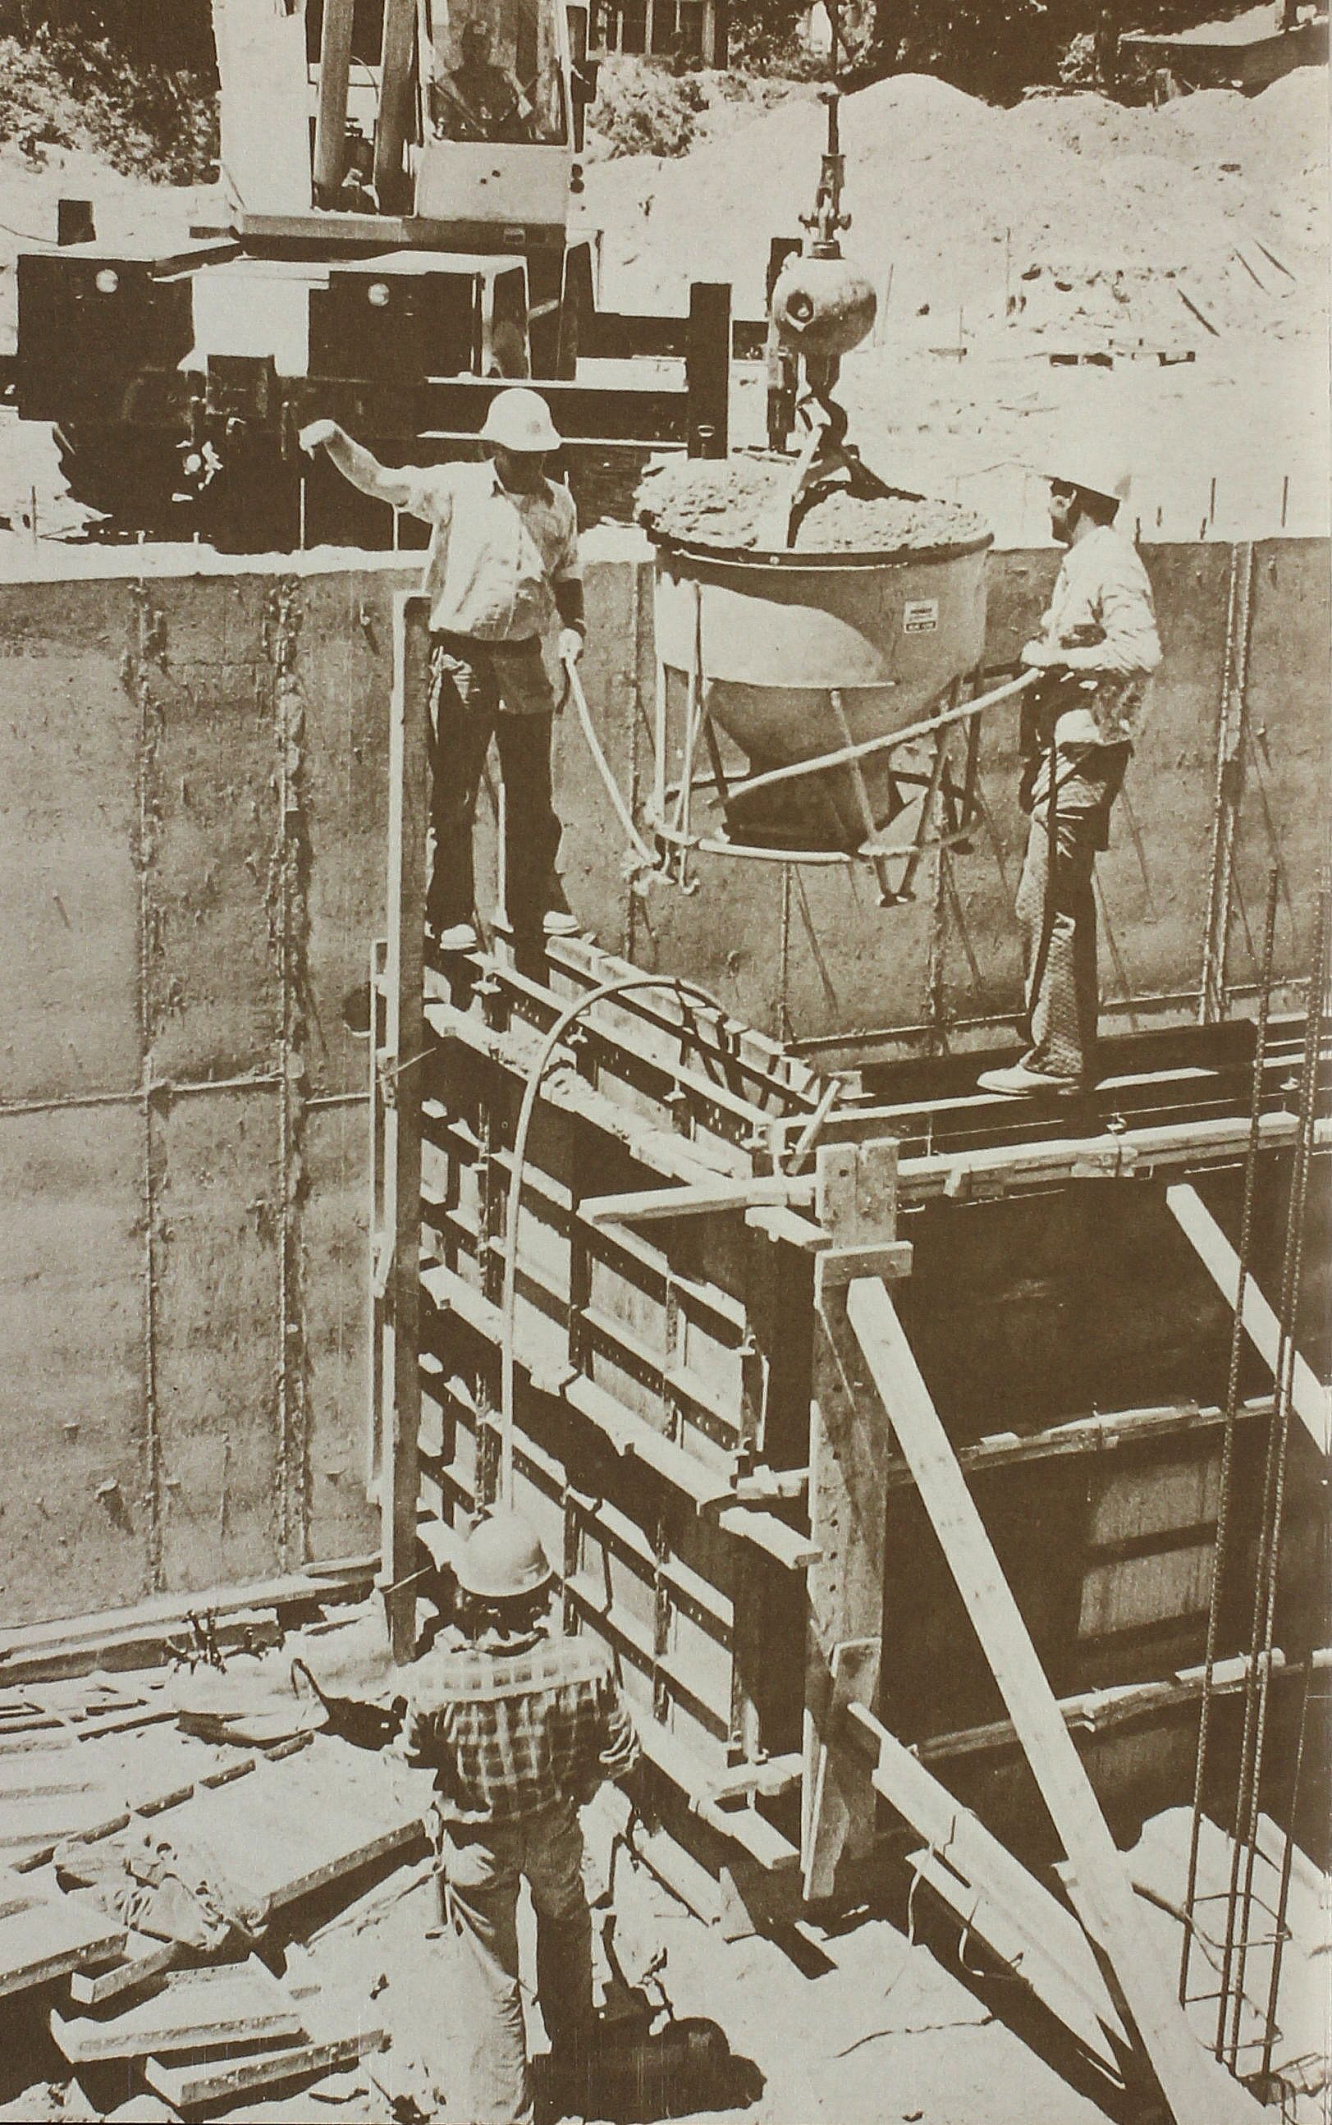

In regard to financial aid, the Michigan State Competitive Scholarships and the Basic Education Opportunity Grants go directly to students. Thus, these funds appear in our operating statement as tuition income. Yet, these funds which our students receive are of vital importance in enabling them to attend Hope College. The Michigan State Grants and Scholarships are limited to residents of Michigan. Most states follow this same practice; this has the unfortunate by-product of tending to reduce out-of-state enrollments. Hope has had a long tradition of having many out-of-state students and this heterogeneity has contributed much to the vitality of the College. We are taking compensating measures to ensure a substantial out-of-state enrollment. The maximum level of Michigan Tuition Grants and Scholarships has been $1,200 for the past four years, which means that these grants have not kept pace with inflation. We are grateful that there is some movement to increase these in the near future.

The funds which we receive from the National Science Foundation have been a key factor in the development of our strong programs in the sciences. This agency has, over the years, done a remarkable job in distributing funds equitably and wisely in the support of science education and research. We hope that resources from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts will be available to enable us to develop added strength in these areas of our academic program. Grants which a number of our younger faculty members in the sciences have received from the Research Corporation, which is really a philanthropic foundation, have been particularly helpful to them in beginning their scholarly work at Hope.

Our Upward Bound program has been funded each year for the past nine years by the U.S. Office of Education, enabling us to provide a very effective educational program for academically able, but economically disadvantaged high school students in the Holland area. It has been encouraging to observe the academic progress of many of these students, and to note that a number successfully complete a college program. Hope College provides, as part of our commitment to serve this community, some support for this program from its own resources.

A LOOK AHEAD

As we look to the future, we do not see any significant change in our basic mission. Yet, there will be many changes in the context and environment in which we must fulfill this mission. The number of high school graduates will decrease steadily in the years ahead; the evidence points to continued increases in costs; some resources may be in short supply; a simpler life style will likely be in store for all of us; social issues and problems will, in all probability, be increased and compounded. The challenge before us is to cope with these changes and contribute to the development of a just and equitable society as we fulfill our basic mission to our students.

In the light of these considerations, I see the following as very significant challenges to us:

Maintain enrollment at the present level, which is the full capacity of the College.

There are many advantages for doing so, but the primary one is to serve the maximum number of students to the best of our ability.

Strive for academic excellence in every area.

Hope College has achieved recognized academic excellence in many areas. Yet, we cannot rest on our laurels, but must continue to strive for an academic excellence which embraces both the effectiveness of our teaching and the quality of our scholarship.

Continue to be attentive to the quality of residential life.

Residential life is a vital part of a student's experience at Hope. We must give continued attention to the physical facilities, social life, and overall quality of our residential and community life in order to make college living the finest possible experience for our students.

Complete the campus development plan.

With the completion of our new Health Fitness and Physical Education Center, no further new construction is planned. However, the renovation of Voorhees Hall and Carnegie-Schouten Gymnasium are key steps in the development of our campus facilities. Modest renovation is also needed in Van Zoeren Library and Van Vleck Hall, and there should be some expansion of the Phelps Hall dining facilities. Each of these is an important step in the orderly development of our facilities.

Bring an increased number of minorities into the mainstream of the life of the College.

In general terms, this is a main agenda item for legislators, bureaucrats, and pressure groups. Our commitment to this goal, however, is not in response to such pressures, but to fulfill a commitment which has marked the life of the College during its entire history. Our goal is to develop creative and imaginative ways to achieve racial heterogeneity at the College.

Develop additional resources.

One of the greatest problems the College continues to face is to have the resources to fulfill our mission while keeping costs at a level which our students can afford. Only a few of our students come from homes with family income at the poverty level. Yet, many do come from homes of modest means. It is imperative that our costs be such that Hope College is available to them. We plan to meet this need by stressing increased giving to the Annual Fund, initiating a major effort to increase our Endowment Fund, and by continued economy and efficiency of operation.

Maintain the vitality of our Christian commitment.

Every aspect of the life of the College is influenced by our Christian commitment. Our values, our sense of stewardship and responsibility to students, the concept of our community, and our perspective on a world and life view are all influenced by this Christian commitment. Informed, vital, personal faith, the natural outworking of this faith in the total life of the College, and a dynamic spirit of freedom and openness have been distinctive marks of Hope. We will make every effort to maintain and strengthen this commitment in the future.

This is our Annual Report for 1976-77. We submit it with gratitude, acknowledging the goodness and grace of God, and the vital role which many persons have played in the life of the College this past year.

Financial Statement

Although student enrollment for both semesters was slightly less than the College had budgeted and energy costs were much higher than anticipated, Hope College ended the fiscal year with a modest operating surplus. This surplus was generated through the efforts of the entire College community. Expenses were curtailed, the work week of some employees was reduced, the development office exceeded its fund-raising goals, and large student enrollments were produced for both the May and June terms.

Although we were pleased with the financial results of the past year, we realize that the years ahead will continue to be filled with many financial uncertainties. We must work hard to increase non-student income and reduce costs if we are to meet the challenges ahead.

Cost cutting must be achieved, not at the expense of our programs, but with new and better ways of doing things. This past year the College has installed its own primary power and telephone systems which will save substantial funds. More work needs to be done in the areas of energy conservation, productivity, and long-range planning. We feel that we can meet these challenges.

We are very much aware of the value of the external support we receive from our friends and that the financial stability of Hope College is dependent upon the continued interest of our many constituencies. Thank you for this support, and we promise that we will be good stewards of the funds you have provided.
