Cooper Library Book Project
A postmodern writing / poetry / spatial / intervention

This investigation and subsequent intervention in the Clemson University Cooper Library pays homage to the process of Nina Katchadourian's Sorted Books project. Her method involved sorting through a collection of books, picking out particular titles, and eventually arranging the books into groups so that the titles could be read in sequence, from top to bottom.

7 students from Professor David Detrich's Advanced Sculpture class have located their version of Sorted Books throughout the library complex.

Can you find all 7?
