HONORARY DEGREE
PAUL EUGENE BLACKWELL
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Paul Eugene Blackwell, who finished Clemson as a distinguished military graduate twenty-nine years ago, has risen to the rank of Brigadier General of the Army during an outstanding career which included a key command role in Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm.

A native South Carolinian born in York, General Blackwell has a long association with Clemson University, including a stint on the faculty of the Military Science Department as Assistant Professor of Military Science (1970-73). For this he won national honors as an outstanding ROTC instructor.

During the Persian Gulf War, General Blackwell was a commander of the 3rd Armored Division which led the attack of the coalition forces into Iraq. He was decorated for exemplary actions which were vital to the division during deployment from Europe, preparation for war, and victory over the Iraqi Republican Guard Corps. Last September he was the University's guest of honor at the homecoming game where all of America's Desert Storm soldiers were honored.

His student career at Clemson began in 1959 when he enrolled as an undergraduate after graduating with honor at York High School. He majored in Agricultural Education at Clemson while completing the Reserve Officers' Training Corps curriculum. General Blackwell was awarded the Bachelor of Science degree with honors (1963) and was a distinguished military graduate, receiving his commission as a Second Lieutenant of Infantry. He remained at Clemson for two more years to earn his Master of Science degree in Horticulture and Agricultural Education (1965). He also has completed a number of important military education courses and schools, culminating in graduation from the Army War College (1983).

General Blackwell has held a wide variety of command and staff positions which have taken him to many states and foreign countries. Prior to his assignment in the Persian Gulf, he held a variety of important career-building assignments in the United States, Vietnam, and Germany. His present assignment is at Garlstedt, Federal Republic of Germany, as Commanding General of the 2nd Armored Division (Forward) and Commander, Bremerhaven Military Community. He will be promoted to Major General in June and assume command of the 24th Infantry Division (Mechanized), Fort Stewart, Georgia.

His many decorations include the Silver Star with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Legion of Merit with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star with "V" Device and eight Oak Leaf Clusters, the Purple Heart, the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, the Army Commendation Medal with "V" Device and three Oak Leaf Clusters, the Army Achievement Medal, the National Defense Service Medal and numerous foreign decorations for gallantry.

He is married to the former Janet Glenn of York, and they have one son, Paul Eugene, Jr.

General Blackwell's contributions to the defense of his country and the achievements in his profession have brought great credit upon him and to his alma mater and are held in the highest regard by his fellow alumni and all South Carolinians. It is a privilege to honor him with the presentation of the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

The President's Award

Mrs. Page Morton Hunter's lifelong career of individual volunteerism and public service reflects significant personal commitment to the advancement of education and to the improvement of the human community.

After earning degrees from Mercer and Emory universities, the Gray, Georgia, native advanced the Allied Cause during World War II by helping to establish libraries at United States Army and Air Force installations across the country. In 1943 she became chief of libraries for the Third United States Air Force.

Following the war, Mrs. Hunter lived in New York City, where she was involved in extensive volunteer work for her church and community and for the fledgling United Nations. She would meet arriving UN-delegation staff members from around the world and help them settle into their new surroundings.

By 1973, Mrs. Hunter had returned to the South and become assistant director of the Athens, Georgia, Regional Library. It was during this period that she married the late Thomas Mitchell Hunter, a 1909 Clemson graduate and a distinguished engineer and inventor. Together the Hunters shared a suite at the Clemson House and great love for Clemson University. Evidence of this love includes The Hunter Endowed Chair of Bioengineering, The Hunter Honors Lecture Series, and The Page Morton Hunter Engineering Fellowship.

Clemson is honored to count among its special friends Page Morton Hunter and, in recognition thereof, proudly presents to her The President's Award.

SALLY ABNEY ROSE

Mrs. Sally Abney Rose, daughter of the late John Pope and Susie Mathews Abney, has been a trustee of The Abney Foundation since it was founded by her mother in 1957 and is the only surviving member of its original board. For several years she has been a Clemson neighbor, residing on the Clemson Highway near Anderson, and a supporter of numerous activities of the Clemson community.

While Mrs. Rose is not a Clemson alumna (Converse College in Spartanburg has that honor), Clemson is proud to claim her as a member of our University family. As evidenced by her work with The Abney Foundation, one of Mrs. Rose's chief areas of interests is higher education. Clemson has been — and is — a primary beneficiary of this interest. With her wholehearted support, The Abney Foundation established The Abney Foundation Scholarship Fund at Clemson, with a total contribution to date of $1.45 million, and in 1981 the Foundation donated $1 million to the University to establish the Abney Chair of Free Enterprise.

Mrs. Rose's interests have not been entirely focused on Clemson. Her benevolence also has benefited her alma mater and many other schools at which The Abney Foundation provides scholarships. Further, many agencies in the health field, another of her prime interests, are indebted to her as well.

In appreciation for her widespread interests and in particular her interest in Clemson, the University is honored to bestow The President's Award upon Sally Abney Rose.

FRANK J. WIDEMAN, JR.

FRANK J. WIDEMAN, JR.

For more than two decades, Frank J. Wideman, Jr. has provided leadership in charitable causes and higher education throughout the Palmetto State. This is reflected by his active involvement in numerous civic endeavors and his distinguished tenure as Executive Vice President of The Self Foundation, long noted for its support of projects that advance the quality of life in South Carolina, particularly in the areas of higher education and health care.

Mr. Wideman, a Floridian by birth, graduated from Episcopal High School in Virginia. He has a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina and a law degree from the University of Florida.

Upon returning from World War II as a first lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps, Mr. Wideman practiced law in Florida and the District of Columbia for 18 years. In 1969, he moved to his ancestral home near Bradley, South Carolina, and became a trust officer of South Carolina National Bank, serving Anderson, Greenwood and Aiken.

Clemson has benefited greatly from Mr. Wideman's advice and assistance over the years. Most recently, he was instrumental in The Self Foundation's gifts for The Clemson University Student Center and The Multiuser Biotechnology Facility.

For all he has done to improve the lives of South Carolinians and for his service to this university, Clemson presents with pleasure the 1992 President's Award to Frank J. Wideman, Jr.

The Academic Procession

The Academic procession is composed of the faculty, staff, officers, Trustees, and honored guests of the University. Faculty enter by college and each college is preceded by its marshal, a senior faculty member, with the college baton, described under University Regalia.

Following the marshal is the college banner bearer. Each banner is a combination of colors that declare the disciplines taught in that college. These colors, which were established by the American Council on Education, are as follows:

College	Colors	Discipline
Agriculture	Maize	Agriculture
Architecture	Brown Lilac	Fine Arts Architecture
Commerce & Industry	Copper Drab	Economics Business
Education	Light Blue	Education
Engineering	Orange	Engineering
Forest & Recreation Resources	Russet Sage Green	Forestry Recreation Education
Liberal Arts	Dark Blue White Cream	Philosophy Letters & Humanities Social Science
Library	Lemon	Library
Nursing	Apricot	Nursing
Sciences	Golden Yellow	Sciences
Staff	Purple & Orange	Academic Support

Collegiate faculty follow their banner in order of academic rank wearing academic costumes of medieval origin. Those who have received their degrees from institutions outside the United States wear costumes specified by the awarding institutions.

The academic costumes of faculty whose degrees are from United States' institutions are specified by a uniform code maintained by the American Council on Education. Caps are black and are usually mortar boards with tassels. Doctors of Philosophy wear gold tassels usually of metallic thread; other degrees wear black or discipline colors.

The bachelors' gown is simple and black with long, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns, also black, are longer than bachelors. Older gowns have sleeves that terminate at the elbow while those since 1960 have sleeves extended to the wrist. Doctors' gowns are full, with bell-like sleeves. The front is marked by velvet panels and the sleeves are marked by three velvet bars. While most gowns are black with black velvet, one variation is to replace black velvet with velvet in the discipline color. A second variation is a colored gown usually of the university's colors.

All hoods specify the level of degree, the discipline studied and the awarding institution. First, degree level is signified by the size of the hood with bachelors' smallest, masters' larger, and doctors' quite large and of a different shape. Clemson does not award hoods to bachelors. The width of the velvet trim also conveys the degree. Secondly, the discipline is indicated by the color of the trim edging the hood to form the throat over the gown. Finally, the color of the hood's lining specifies the awarding institution. The colors are displayed in combinations that are drawn from heraldry. Notice that the Clemson University hood is lined with purple through which is an orange chevron (a "V"). Although many combinations are duplicated by dozens of institutions, Clemson is presently the only institution with that registered combination.

The officers, trustees, and honored guests wear academic, ecclesiastical, or military regalia as set forth by their professions. They are preceded by the University marshal. Clad in a gown of office in gold and purple, the marshal wears no hood and bears the University mace. At the ceremony's close, the faculty do not exit as a part of the recessional but are dismissed, along with students and guests, when the marshal leaves the coliseum.

The University Regalia

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic club-like shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's pre-history. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staves of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by the late Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

Coat of Arms

Designed by Clemson University graphic artist, Connie Floyd, the coat of arms represents the historic three-fold mission of this institution: teaching, research and service.

Pictured on the cover, the coat of arms is divided into three parts. The bottom contains a series of open books representing the concept of teaching as the basis of the land-grant university. The white of the books and the purple of the background designate the teaching mission of the University as it is achieved through undergraduate and graduate instruction.

The upper portion of the shield contains two sets of calipers and wheat sheaves illustrating the measurement system for research, as well as Clemson's tradition in agriculture and Extension. The three symbols — the books, calipers and wheat sheaves — also represent the humanities, technology and science.

The entire shield is joined by a small orange center shield bearing a white tiger mask symbolizing the abiding spirit of Clemson.

The crest is a gold palmetto tree, which emphasizes Thomas Green Clemson's desire that Clemson become "the people's university" for South Carolinians. It rises from a band of purple, orange, white and gold. The outer pair of colors, purple and gold, are the official colors of the University; the inner pair, orange and white, are Clemson's student colors.

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; but circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affairs to Belgium, 1844-1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry, and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has ten major academic units. These are the College of Agricultural Sciences, the College of Architecture, the College of Commerce and Industry, the College of Education, the College of Engineering, the College of Forest and Recreation Resources, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Nursing, the College of Sciences, and the Graduate School.

The institution is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; various curricula are accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board, National League for Nursing, Society of American Foresters, American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme always.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests,
For our past is grand,
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale.
Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;
And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.
