Nation's Top Defensive Line!

Press Information

Press, Radio and TV

If you're assigned to cover a game in Clemson's Memorial Stadium this fall, the following hints will be helpful:

ENTRANCE TO STADIUM/PRESS BOX

Enter through Gate 13 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the south-east corner. Should you have need to pick up tickets at our press will call gate, they will be at Gate 13. Come through Gate 13, and go straight ahead to the elevator which will take you to the press box.

PRESS BOX

There are two levels to Clemson's press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a dark room, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks and athletic directors for Clemson and the visiting team. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 104 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet, and the telecopier room.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

We'll appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to BOB BRADLEY. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

PARKING PASSES AND COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS

There are a limited number of these available for use by the members of the working press, and the sooner we know of your need, the closer we will come to filling your request. Your request should be made directly to BOB BRADLEY.

TELECOPIER AND ELECTRONIC SERVICES

Our press box is equipped with eight (8) outside lines and outlets for your telecopiers, and at no charge to your paper. We will have three telecopiers at the game which can be used on a first-come, first-serve basis, and we also have press box assistants who are available to send your copy as necessary. THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR ANY OF THESE SERVICES. It is the responsibility of each writer to make prior arrangements with any other electronic transmission. Electrical and telephone outlets are at each seat for other equipment.

We furnish a typed play-by-play, individual and team stats, and coaches' quotes. Also, our communications center staff furnishes a packet of first half action shots - six 8 x 10 black and white prints free upon request.

LOCKER ROOM INTERVIEWS

Bob Bradley will escort those writers wishing to go to the Clemson dressing room, whereas the visiting SID will make the trip to the opponent's dressing area. This usually takes place with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The dressing rooms are located beneath the West end zone stands to your left from the press box.

Between these covers you should find just about everything you need to know about the Tigers. Please don't hesitate, however, to call on us at any time.

DANNY FORD'S WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Every Tuesday during the football season, Danny Ford will hold his weekly press conference.

The first gathering is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 30, prior to the season opener with Western Carolina, and the 11th and final regular season session is planned for Tuesday, Nov. 15, prior to the South Carolina game. There will also be a press conference on Sept. 27, the Tuesday of Clemson's open week.

DAILY SPORTS REPORT

The Clemson Sports Information Office tapes a 3-minute daily sports report each morning, Monday through Friday, with emphasis on the sports during their respective seasons. Interviews are conducted with the various coaches, as well as players. To get an up-to-date report on the Tigers, call 803-654-4402.

BEST TIME TO CONTACT COACH DANNY FORD

If you find it impossible to attend his weekly press conference, Coach Danny Ford is usually available for telephone interviews in his office daily, Monday through Friday, from 10:30-11:30 a.m., and from 2:30-3:30 p.m. His office number is 803-656-2101, ext. 260.

FALL PRACTICE PLANS

New Clemson players will report to campus August the 2nd. Returning players will report the 7th for physicals. The annual Fan Picture Day is set for August 14th in Memorial Stadium.

Practice will begin on the 9th and work in pads will begin on the 12th.

Cover Artwork: The painting on the 1983 Football Guide is another work of Jim McQueen of Newland, N.C. The painting highlights the strength of this Clemson team, the defensive line. Jim Scott, William Perry, Edgar Pickett and William Devane are all key members of that strong first line of defense. On the back, # 26 Tim Childers and # 60 James Farr, are two players in their third seasons as starters.

Edgar Pickett had 37 tackles last year, but 10 of them were for losses, the most on the team.

Let Your Fingers Do The Walking In The Orange Pages

Bob Bradley, in his younger days.

Accomodations

There are two major motels in Clemson proper, the Ramada Inn (803) 654-7501, and the Holiday Inn (803) 654-4450. But, they are booked on game weekends, so if you are in a bind, call Bob Bradley at the sports information office and he will try to pull a few strings.

Alma Mater

Written by A.C. Corcoran of the class of '19 with music by Dr. Hugh McGarity.

Where the Blue Ridge yawns it greatness
where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign Supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

Alumni Association

Located on the Clemson campus and directed by George Moore. His office number is 656-2345.

Attendance

An ever-changing number at Clemson. With upper deck addition to the North Stands, the new overall capacity at Memorial Stadium is 73,915 permanent seats. That figure does not include 5,000 fans in the east end zone on the green grass area.

Actually, you know we will use a crowbar and get that figure up to 80,000 by getting everyone to breathe in on the grass bank. The progression has been steady as the 1977 capacity was 43,451 in 1978, it went to 53,306, and in 1982 the important number reached 57,307. Thus, since 1977 the permanent seating capacity has risen by 30,444, or an increase of 70.06 percent. Heading into this season the record crowd is 66,510 for last year's South Carolina game, but that record will be eclipsed on September 3 of this year.

And, she's only a sophomore.

Babcock, Sharon

J.V. cheerleader who is Clemson's answer to Marcus Dupree. (awesome looking as a freshman). Has best pair of legs God created in the decade of the sixties.

Bradley, Bob

Name Clemson Memorial Stadium press box will be known as after Clemson Sports Information Director Bob Bradley retires. Now in his 29th year of service, Bob was recently presented the Distinguished Service Award by the South Carolina Hall of Fame. He has also been presented the national award as Most Valuable Tobacco Chewer the last 20 years.

Broadcast Network

The Clemson football games can be heard on 65 radio stations across the Southeast. Jim Phillips is "The Voice of the Tigers", a position he has held since the 1968 season. Tim Bourret, Associate SID at Clemson and editor of this verbose section, is the color analyst, a position he has held since way back in 1982.

Brown, Ray

The most outstanding, controversial and entertaining interview on the Clemson football team. We might bring him to every press conference in case Danny runs out of words toward the end of his allotted time. The Chubby Wells of Clemson football.

Bruise Brothers

William Perry and William Devane cause us a lot of problems in the Clemson sports information office. They both play the same position, both have outstanding ability, have similar stats and split the playing time at middle guard. We are at a loss from a promotional standpoint, so just vote William Perry-Devane on your All-American and All-ACC ballots this season.

Central Spirit

The corps of wild, wacky people, that plot the semi-organized activities of the Clemson fanatics. They are responsible for pep rallies, scheduled and impromptu, and general carousing at football games. This year's chairman is Bonny Bragg of Greenville, SC.

Cheerleaders

Ranked eight in the nation in last year's national competition held in Dallas, TX. Unlike the Clemson football team, which also was ranked eighth in the final AP poll, the cheerleaders have nearly everyone back. Most importantly, all the female cheerleaders are returning.

Cheerleader Roster:

George Davis, (Head Cheerleader)
Kathy Anderson	John Mixson
Woody Binnicker	Johnny Peden
Rick Conte	Sheryl Pitts
Beth Cousins	Russell Ragen
Randy Faile (Tiger)	Arian Roberts
Bill Goudelock	Sherry Thrift
Pat Hook	Jay Watson

Cheerleading

Totally forbidden in the Clemson press box. Violators will have to meet the wrath of Bob Bradley.

Colors

Burnt orange and Northwest purple officially, but you will see a lot of white and blue. The Clemson orange is PMS 165 and the blue used on the trim of the stadium is Reflex Blue.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members, in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that. Clemson has been a charter member of every conference it has been affiliated with.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981 and 1982. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948.

Cricket

Not an insect when it comes to covering Clemson. Former student assistant Cricket

Yates has finally graduated (Rome was built in half a day by comparison) and is now serving the media as Assistant SID at Georgia Tech. She will make a return appearance to her old stomping ground and press box telephone on September 24 when the Yellow Jackets come to Clemson. She will answer every question you have for her, except her team preference on that day.

Czar

Another familiar face in the Clemson press box, the Czar is David Fowler who travels from Myrtle Beach, SC, usually the day of the game, to run the stat crew and generally keep everything in order. He can solve most of your problems on game day and get you a great room at the Hilton in Myrtle Beach in the off-season.

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gain a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on.

Defense

A 5-2-4 alignment is the most often used, but Clemson has had much success using a "Bandit" defensive end out of this formation. Andy Headen played the position superbly the last two seasons, but he has moved on to the New York Giants. The success rate of his replacement will determine the "Bandit" use this season.

Draftees

A total of 10 players were taken from Clemson by the NFL drafters last season, a record in Clemson history and the third most selections from one school in the nation last year. Clemson has now had 26 players chosen in the NFL draft since the 1979 pow-wow of poohbahs in New York.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (803) 656-2110. The Clemson University police number is (803) 656-2222.

Enrollment

Clemson is the third smallest school in the ACC when it comes to student numbers (only Wake Forest and Duke are smaller). The enrollment figure currently is 12,093, and that counts everyone, undergrads, graduates, dogs, cats, and amoebas in the biology lab.

Faculty Representative

Dr. B.J. Skelton is the faculty rep for Clemson, a position he took over just last year. His office phone number is (803) 656-2283.

Fall Practice

Believe it or not, Clemson freshmen must report to camp on August 2nd. It gets earlier and earlier every year. Soon the Clemson Spring Game will be held on the day of the ACC basketball tournament championship. The veterans report to Clemson on August 7th, with workouts beginning August 9th and hitting in pads starts August 12th. The annual fan appreciation day will be held Sunday, August 14th.

Field

The football field for Clemson football and all NCAA games is exactly 120 yards from endline to endline and 100 yards from end zone to end zone in length. The width of the field is 160 feet.

Film Clip Service

Each week the Clemson SID office and the Communications Center put together a 10-play highlight package on the previous week's game complete with script on the enclosed plays. The video tape is available for TV stations by calling Bob Bradley at (803) 656-2114, or Tom Shockley (803) 656-3204.

Food

Some of the finest Southern cuisine is available at Clemson football games, but you get only one trip through the line so make the most of it. When Georgia comes to town, just follow David McGrew, former Clemson student assistant and present Georgia Assistant SID. No one can put more food on one plate than him and he will be glad to give pointers in the art before the game. The menu features fried chicken, sliced roast beef, ham and turkey, lettuce, tomato, various cheeses, chili and hot dogs. And don't forget the world-famous butterscotch brownies.

Ford

Well-known car manufacturer. Popular slogan of sixties said, "Ford has a better Idea." Made Ara Parseghian even more famous by using him in car commercials in the sixties. Also name of the famous Dan Ford, outfielder for the Baltimore Orioles, and Clemson's only football National Coach of the Year.

Football Secretaries

June Roach and Elaine Swearingen are the real coaches of the Clemson football staff and are totally responsible for all correspondence, complaints, controversy, wins and losses. They do a superb job and usually carry out all duties in as humorous a manner as possible. They can be reached at (803) 656-2101, ext 260. But, don't call them to set up interviews, call the SID office.

G.E.

Popular name of a refrigerator, it is the nickname of Clemson's All-America middle guard William Perry. A Clemson teammate (see Brown, Ray) gave him the name in 1981 because his size resembles that of a refrigerator.

Giants

Major league baseball organization Clemson President Bill Atchley was affiliated with as a minor league pitcher in the 1950s. Also name of football franchise that drafted nearly half of Clemson's senior class last year.

Goal Post

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts which are 20' or more in height and 23'4" apart. The crossbar is 10' high.

Heisman

Name of first Clemson coach (John) to lead the Tigers to an undefeated, untied season (1900). Served as coach at Clemson between 1900 and 1903 and had a well-known trophy named after him, an award still given today.

Sherry Thrift

Homecoming Queen

Sherry Thrift won the honor last year at the annual Tigerama theatrics. She also is a Clemson cheerleader and is depicted in the painting on the back cover of this press guide.

Homecoming Results

Clemson fans get especially fired up on Homecoming and the result has been a 11-0-1 record since 1970. Here are the year by year homecoming results since 1922.

Howard, Frank

Name of well-known former outfielder with the Washington Senators. Hit 49 homers one year and is now the manager of the New York Mets. . . (We're only kidding, Coach Howard.) Frank Howard is the legend of Clemson football and he still brightens everyone's day in the Clemson Athletic Department. His office number in the Jervey Athletic Center is (803) 656-2100. Give him a call for some great quotes, information on Clemson football history, or to take out an advertisement in Kickoff.

Interview Policy

Interviews during the week for Clemson players or coaches should be arranged through Sports Information Director Bob Bradley. Call us for your request and we will get the player to call you collect. Sorry, no home numbers of players will be distributed because too many media have had a tendency to call for midnight interviews.

IPTAY

Athletic scholarship fund-raising organization that has been as successful as any in the country, and is the main reason for Clemson's strong alumni and subway alumni support.

Jervey, Frank

Mr. Clemson passed away last spring. The man the Jervey Athletic Center is named after. Served Clemson in various capacities for nearly 65 years.

Kickoff

All Clemson home football games kickoff at 1:00 P.M. It's been this way for some time with the exception of the 1979 Maryland game when ABC moved the time of the game to 3:20 P.M. We won't have that problem this year.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it, go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Mac's Drive-In

Here is a bit of Clemson-Americana. Legendary hamburger establishment frequented by Clemson athletes, athletic staff and general rah-rahs 12 months a year. Reservations are not necessary.

Mascot

The Clemson Tiger is one of the most famous and glamorous mascot positions in the country. He kisses homecoming queens, chases chickens, cavorts with officials, stirs a crowd, and sets pushup records from week to week. Check tapes of 1981 Wake Forest game and you'll see a record-breaking performance few Clemson athletes have achieved, 476 pushups. Randy Faile is now in his second year as the starting Tiger.

McJunkin, Joe

Feisty elevator operator at the Clemson press box. He has served in this capacity since 1958, or since Clemson has had a press box elevator. Don't cross him if you don't have your press pass, its a long fall from the press level deck to the bottom of the elevator shaft.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There will be one under the North Top Deck as soon as the contractor removes his equipment.

National Champions

Believe it or not, we were in 1981

Newlyweds

Assistant SID Kim Kelly, is now Kim Kelly-Bishop after tying the knot with Bill Bishop of Greenville, SC last May 7. Assistant Equipment Manager Paul Wessinger married Sylvia Johnson of Camden, SC in July. Assistant trainers Larry Sutton and Bert Henderson are both slated to be married in the coming academic year. They must have gotten a hold of the wrong medicine one day.

Offense

Basic I-formation attack that relies on the running game. Tailbacks carried the ball out of this formation 34.1 times per game and Clemson ran the ball overall 77.6 percent of the time in 1982. The 1981 team ran the ball 77.5 percent of the time. But, with a 21-1-1 record over the last two seasons, no one is complaining. Most Clemson fans would not trade this slate for a pass-oriented 6-5 Stanford team.

Orange & White

period of time. Wives and children of media are not allowed in the press box.

Pepper

Legendary member of the Clemson unofficial photo crew, who also puts in some time in the press box. Unmistakable when wearing his full orange suit on game day. Owns more cameras that Carter has liver pills.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" for 15 years now. Won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting last year when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. Broadcasted most of that game while standing up with a walker. After mid-summer golf test, he is now in 100 percent health.

Promotions

Anything related to promotions, wild hats that buzz, or clocks that play Tiger Rag, should be handled through Allison Dalton. His number is (803) 656-2101. He is responsible for Clemson's new licensing program and will answer your questions in the advertising and promotional realm.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West stands. At about 12:50, the team boards two busses and drives around the periphery of the Stadium to the East side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 167 times.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to run Down the Hill (see Running down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is suppose to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked up it in Death Valley, CA.

Red-Shirt

A total of 26 Clemson players were red-shirted because of injury or lack of playing time in 1982. Fourteen of the red-shirts were freshmen. Thus Clemson has 34 freshmen on this year's roster (20 signees and 14 red-shirts).

Rogers, George

Heisman Trophy winning running back

who never scored a touchdown against Clemson in 81 carries.

Section G G

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill).

Stat Crew

Composed mostly of the Clemson sports information office and alumni of the SID office. Norb Goebel and Larry Nash are the official statisticians and they have worked together for about 15 years. Goebel is in his 30th season of keeping the passing stats. We have a big crew and will provide you with more trivia on the game than you would care to hear about. Yes, we keep tackles, time of possession, a play-by-play and drive chart in addition to the usual stats. And, don't forget that all important first-down yardage.

Telecopier

We still use a couple of these dinosaurs and we will send your copy free of charge if your paper has not seen the light and installed a computer.

Telephone Installations

To order phone lines for a broadcast or a telephone by your seat in the press box call June Kennedy at (803) 798-7310.

Two-on-the-Fifty

Most often used request heard by Clemson Ticket Manager Van Hilderbrand. He has a few more tickets to play with than he did last year, but they still will be hard to come by for Georgia and Georgia Tech. His number is (803) 656-2118.

Upper Deck

We've got just about as many as anyone. The new one on the North Side of the field cost 15 million for 15,000 seats (or 1,000 a seat). There are also 70 luxury boxes located in the new addition. The upperdeck on the South side was completed in 1978 and it holds 9,388 people.

Walker, Herschel

Heisman Trophy winner who never scored a touchdown against Clemson despite carrying the ball 61 times in his career in Clemson-Georgia contests.

Weather

For an update on the weather in the Clemson area the day of a game call (803) 232-5931.

Weatherly, Shawn

Possibly the most famous and certainly the best looking of the former Clemson athletes. Former Clemson women's fencer Shawn Weatherly won the 1980 Miss Universe contest and still comes back to a Clemson football game now and then. We do not put out a release when she is coming to a game because we can only hold 104 writers in our press box. And, it would certainly hurt press attendance at other local college football games.

Will Call

Located at Gate 13 at Clemson Memorial Stadium, Bob Bradley usually drops the passes off by 11:00 A.M. for a 1:00 P.M. game.

21-1-1 And Counting

1983 FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

No team in America has been more successful than Clemson in won-loss terms over the last two seasons. Danny Ford has used a consistent offense and a big-play defense to run up a 21-1-1 record over the last couple of years, gained two Atlantic Coast Conference championships and the school's first National Championship.

"Where do we go from here?", is a logical question for Clemson followers because the heart of the last two clubs has moved on to the pro ranks. Thirteen starters off last year's club and a total of 28 lettermen overall have graduated off the 1982 club leaving Danny Ford with a lot of holes to fill. Ten seniors off last year's team were drafted by the NFL, the third most by a school in the nation and the most in Clemson history. Additionally, only three players that started off the 1981 national championship team are still around.

"We have lost a lot of key people in key positions off some pretty good football teams," said Head Coach Danny Ford, who will be entering his fifth full season as the top mentor of the Tigers. "We have a lot of young people who need to become football players in a hurry. We have talented athletes, but many who have never showed us anything in front of 80,000 people."

Ford realizes he has many positions to replace, but feels this is not his biggest rebuilding year. "If we had not gotten so much work out of Mike Eppley and Anthony Parete at the quarterback position last season, I would say this would be our biggest rebuilding task ever. But, their return will help a lot because the quarterback position is so important.

"But, we do have to find some linebackers, a bandit defensive end and some running backs who want to run with authority. These are important positions on our team because we have become a tailback-oriented team offensively and a team that depends on the bandit end defensively."

THE DEFENSE: (Seven of 12 Starters returning, 18 of 33 lettermen returning)

Clemson will no longer benefit from the intelligent play of free safety Terry Kinard, the most decorated defensive player in the nation last season. All-ACC defensive end Andy Headen, and linebackers Johnny Rembert, Otis Lindsey and Danny Triplett have also departed, but some solid defenders do return for Clemson's point prevention unit.

Clemson was 10th in the nation in rushing defense last season and with the return of seven lettermen, including five players who have started at one time or another in the down line-men's corps, opponents should once again struggle to gain 100 yards rushing a game against the Tigers in 1983.

William Perry is perhaps the most highly regarded of the defenders, although he plays only half the game. The All-ACC pick was a third-team All-American according to the Associated Press last season and chances are the 320-pound middle guard could move up to the number-one AA unit by the end of his junior season. He had 52 stops last season, including nine for losses. William Devane, the other half of the "Bruise Brothers", had 45 tackles in splitting the time with Perry and he might be the second best middle guard in the South.

James Robinson, Ray Brown and Jim Scott all will battle for the two starting tackle positions. Robinson came back from knee surgery in 1981 to have a fine junior year in 1982 as he made 42 stops. Scott was the surprise of the year as the senior had 52 tackles, including six sacks to tie for the team lead. Brown was a starter early in the year and he has been plagued by injury throughout his career, but the Rome, GA, senior is ready for a solid senior season. He was a starter for Clemson in the 1979 Peach Bowl.

Edgar Pickett is the leader at defensive end. The senior from North Carolina started only seven games last season, but led the team in tackles for loss with 10 and he found time for six quarterback sacks. The former fullback should be an all-star candidate for 1983. Roy Brown is also a candidate to start at the other defensive end slot. He has been at linebacker most of his career, and will be looked to as Andy Headen's bandit end replacement.

Clemson has had a reputation for producing linebackers over the last few years, but the Tigers have no incumbent all-star in the position for 1983. Chuckie Richardson is the only player on the Clemson linebacker roster with any experience in game situations at that important position. The junior had 40 stops last season and started the last two games. Eldridge Milton, Henry Walls, Kevin Gemas and Keith Williams all red-shirted at the position last season and will have a chance to land a starting berth in 1983. Williams and Walls, freshmen in eligibility, were the top two tacklers in the Spring Game last April.

For the first time in four seasons Terry Kinard will not be in the Clemson secondary picking off passes, but Clemson does return three starters to a secondary that will certainly be busy in 1983. Tim Childers is a senior returning for his third season as a starter and the strong safety has come up with many timely plays in the last couple of seasons. The Gaffney, SC, product was third on the club in tackles last season with 59 and he also found time to set an ACC record for the longest non-scoring fumble return in a game with an 83-yard gallop against Western Carolina.

While Childers will be at the strong safety, three players will battle for the starting cornerback slots and all three have been starters in their career at Clemson. Ty Davis started the last nine games at one of the cornerback slots for the Tigers and had 39 tackles for the season. Reggie Pleasant was a walk-on who opened some eyes in 1982 with 22 stops, and added three pass deflections. Rod McSwain, a starter at two positions in his career at Clemson, sat out the spring to run track, but will challenge for a starting berth.

Due to the presence of Jeff Suttle, strong safety might be Clemson's deepest position.

James Robinson and Edgar Pickett are two reasons Clemson has the best defensive line in the nation.

Brian Raber is also a member of the Clemson wrestling team and pinned an opponent in 37 seconds last year, fifth fastest in Clemson history.

Suttle, also a senior, played about 40 percent of the time a year ago and often came up with an important tackle or deflection. Twenty-seven of his 36 tackles were individual hits last year.

Kinard's replacement should be a battle between Billy Davis and Ronald Watson. Davis, who also plays on the Clemson baseball team, has been Kinard's backup the last two years and has served as a fine punt returner. He had a big punt return against Nebraska in the Orange Bowl two seasons ago and had the clinching interception in the win at Maryland last year. Watson started at cornerback before a knee injury forced him to the sideline. Vandell Arrington, Ken Brown, Kenny Danforth and Mike Isaacs also will be in the defensive back picture.

THE OFFENSE (Four of 12 starters returning, 23 of 36 lettermen returning)

On paper, Danny Ford has to fill many holes in his offense as players who accounted for only 19 percent of the rushing yardage, 47 percent of the passing yardage and 29 percent of the receptions return for the 1983 campaign. The wide receiver and running back slots were the positions hit hardest by graduation.

Clemson tailbacks averaged 34.9 carries per game last year and the Tigers ran the ball 77.6 percent of the time so it is apparent that the ground game is very important in Danny Ford's offense. While there will be a battle for the tailback slot, it is apparent that Kevin Mack has a lock on the fullback position. The senior from Kings Mountain, NC, rushed for 193 yards in 10 games a year ago and started three contests. He is one of the finest blockers on the Clemson roster.

Three sophomores and two freshmen will battle for the tailback slot vacated by the graduation of Cliff Austin and Chuck McSwain, a combination that picked up over 4,000 yards over the last four seasons, Austin finished last year second in the ACC in rushing, while both players ended their careers in the top seven in rushing at Clemson.

Terrence Flagler, Stacy Driver and Steve Griffin all saw limited action as freshmen tailbacks a year ago and showed flashes of brilliance at times. Flagler saw the most action as he carried 29 times for 120 yards, a 4.1-yard average. Griffin averaged 3.7 yards per rush on 19 carries and Driver picked up 18 yards in the five games he played in. Kenny Flowers of Daytona Beach, FL, and David Barnett of Charleston, SC, both red-shirted their freshman seasons at Clemson. Flowers had an excellent spring and is the best bet to start at tailback this year. He is a 200-pounder who runs a 4.5, 40 so the natural ability and strength is there.

Kendall Alley and Richard Butler are the top two receivers among the returnees. Starters Jeff Stockstill and Frank Magwood have departed, opening the doors at the receiver positions. Alley was third on the club in receptions last year with nine for a 15.9 average, while Butler, the brother of the Buffalo Bills' Jerry Butler, caught two passes for 30 yards.

Pat Charleston, Ray Williams, Shelton Boyer and Sebo Browning all sat out their freshman seasons and will compete this year for the starting slots.

Kevin Mack is Clemson's best offensive player.

Mike Eppley and Anthony Parete saw much more action last season than most people thought they would and that experience will make a difference for the young Clemson offense this year. Eppley started five games and led the Tigers to five victories, while Parete played in all 11 contests in some capacity.

Eppley, the only football-basketball starter in Division I of the NCAA, connected on 37-69 passes for 450 yards last year, a 53.6 percentage. He is an option quarterback who might be as adept a ball handler as Clemson has ever had. Just ask opposing ACC basketball defenses as Eppley averaged almost five assists per game for the Tiger basketball team last season. Parete threw as many touchdown passes as Homer Jordan last season and connected on 66.7 percent of his passes in limited service.

James Farr and Cary Massaro will anchor the Clemson offensive line in 1983. Farr is in his third season as a starter and is an all-star candidate for this year. Massaro gained his first season in starting status last year and the senior from Pennsylvania showed progress all year.

Andy Cheatham is expected to move into the other starting guard slot with Farr. He served as a backup behind Brian Butcher last season. Steve Reese will jump into this battle as the sophomore showed promise last year, and was ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for his performance at Virginia.

The two tackle slots are wide open. Joe Ellis, Jeff Cruce, Alex Hudson and Reid Ingle are the top candidates.

K.D. Dunn is the incumbent at the tight end position, although many others will see action there. Dunn caught eight passes last year to finish fourth on the club in that category and he also snared two scoring aerials. Jim Riggs, who red-shirted his freshman year, was moved from defensive end to tight end this past spring and was the top receiver in the Spring Game.

THE KICKING GAME

Both placekickers and the starting punter return for the Tigers in 1983 to give the Tigers a solid rating in the special teams category. Bob Paulling was the all-conference kicker according to the Associated Press last year as he connected on 12-15 field goals and finished second on the club in scoring with 68 points. He has hit 35 straight extra points and needs just two more to break his own Clemson record for consecutive extra points. Donald Igwebuikwe, Clemson's long field goal man, who has booted the longest field goal in the ACC in each of the last two seasons, will be back for his junior season. Only 26 of his 57 kickoffs were returned last season.

Punter Dale Hatcher averaged 40.7 yards per boot a year ago, a relative slump compared to his 43-yard average as a freshman that led the league. He did set a Clemson record for punts inside the 20 as he nailed opponents 21 times in that poor field position. He averaged 47 yards a punt in the Spring Game on 17 punts as he booted for both teams.

Linebacker Chuckie Richardson had 21 of his 40 tackles last season over the final three games.

Coach Ford Comments...

OVERALL VIEW OF THE SPRING

"Injuries put us behind schedule much of last spring and we did not need that to happen. We are a very young team and needed the work. We did get our 20 workouts in and found some good young players, but we could have gotten a few more breaks with injuries and the weather. You couldn't see much of our team in the Spring Game because it was played in a downpour.

"I feel we have the raw talent to be a good football team, but we don't have many players with excessive amounts of game experience. It is a world of difference to play in front of 80,000 people on Saturday afternoon."

THE OFFENSE

"Offensively we got a little behind at quarterback this spring and some other positions because of injury. Mike Eppley missed the entire spring practice because he had to have cartilage surgery right after basketball season ended. Anthony Parete had a knee problem throughout the spring and missed some valuable time.

"I won't look to name a number-one quarterback until this fall because Mike missed the entire spring and Anthony did not play as much as Mike did last year. They will have to continue their battle this fall, but I am confident both can do the job. There is nothing wrong with having two quarterbacks, we could go into the season with two number-ones at that position.

"We do need to find some tackles. We were very thin there this spring when Jeff Cruce and Joe Ellis, two experienced players who are solid candidates to start, missed the spring with injuries. We should be in good shape at guard and center. We think James Farr (guard) and Cary Massaro (center) are two of the best at their position in the conference.

"Wide receiver is also an area with a lot of youth. Shelton Boyer, Sebo Browning and Ray Williams looked good at the wide out positions this spring, but it was tough for them to get timing down with the injury problems we had at quarterback. Chances are, when we start the season we will have a quarterback in the game who has never completed a pass to three of our top four receivers."

"Kevin Mack is our best football player right now. He probably will line up at fullback this fall, and if he does, we will certainly go to the fullback more than we have in the past. He is a fine blocker with a great attitude and was our leading rusher all spring.

"We had five players at the tailback position at the start of spring and I wanted to be able to name a starter at the end of spring practice, but I can't. I don't really know anything more than I did about that position than I did at the start of spring practice on February 28. All five (Kenny Flowers, Stacey Driver, Terrence Flagler, Steve Griffin and David Barnett) looked good at times and look terrible at others."

THE DEFENSE

"The defense was a lot farther along than the offense this spring. I can't tell if our defense was that great or if our offense was that bad. I hope it is somewhere in the middle so we will be a balanced team.

"We might have the deepest frontline in the country this year. We really should be two deep with our down linemen, and they played like veterans this spring. With William Perry and William Devane we have the best middle guard tandem in the nation and tackles James Robinson, Jim Scott and Ray Brown all had great springs.

"Edgar Pickett will definitely be a starter at one defensive end. He had some incredible scrimmages. He has outstanding quickness and will be one of our team leaders. We do have to find a bandit defensive end, however. Andy Headen started the last two years for us at that position and saw most of the playing time. Roy Brown played well there this spring.

"We have only one linebacker on our roster who has played in more than one game at linebacker in his career. That player is Chuckie Richardson and he missed most of the spring with an injury. But, this is a position where we have a lot of talented young people. Keith Williams was the leading tackler in the spring game, and Henry Walls and Eldridge Milton both made a lot of big plays this spring.

"We have a lot of experience returning in the secondary, but we won't have Terry Kinard and that is like losing two players. He was a coach in the game and always directed the other players. Ronald Watson and Billy Davis will fight to take over Kinard's position. Watson was a consistent player this spring and Davis missed the spring while playing with our baseball team.

"Tim Childers will be a fixture at strong safety, while Ty Davis, Reggie Pleasant and Rod McSwain will fight for the corner spots. I think we have finally found the right position for McSwain, it took us four years to do it."

OVERALL STRENGTHS

"I think this team will have a lot of enthusiasm. There was some spirited competition for a lot of starting positions, important starting positions. Everyone is anxious to play in an 80,000-seat stadium.

"Defensively we should be a good football team. We have a lot of experience on the defensive line, we might be as deep as any team in America in that area.

"I think the quarterback position should be a strength because we have two good team leaders who can pass or run. Mike and Anthony have the team's respect and confidence and that is important."

OVERALL WEAKNESSES

"We will have to rely on unproven talent at many positions, especially what many people call the skill positions. We need to find a consistent tailback because our offense has been geared toward a hard-running tailback the last few years. Actually, we need to find two tailbacks to continue the system we have used in recent years.

"The bandit end is an important area for us, as his actions play an important part in our defense. Since we have used the bandit end defense at Clemson we are 21-1-1 and I don't think it is a mere coincidence. Andy Headen did a great job for two years and now we need to find another.

"On paper, linebacker is a problem, but I think we have talented young people in that area. We just have to see how they will react in front of a big crowd."

Reggie Pleasant played in only three games and had never made a tackle before last season. In 1982 he started six games and made 35 stops.

Tiger Sports Program

For the fourth time in the last five years the Clemson sports program has been ranked in the top five in the nation. The survey conducted by the KNOXVILLE JOURNAL takes into account national rankings in many selected sports, and the Tigers have finished in the top 36 in the last eight years. So, it is evident that Clemson athletics are on firm ground.

One of the highlights of the '82-83 season was the football team's number-eight ranking in the final AP Football Poll. Additional evidence of the football team's excellent showing was exemplified as 10 players were drafted by the NFL, two signed free agent contracts and one has ventured to Canada to further his career. Several of the players have cast their lot with the USFL.

But, football was not the only game in town at Clemson in 1982-83. Eight other teams finished in the top 20 in the nation in their respective sports' final polls. The golf team finished fifth, the highest rating ever attained. The soccer team finished eighth, making this the 10th time out of 11 years that the soccer team has either finished first or tied for the top spot in the conference. The women's tennis team finished seventh, the men's tennis squad concluded another successful season rated ninth, women's indoor track finished 10th, while the men's and women's cross country teams finished fifth and eighth respectively.

In addition to the seven top 10 teams, women's indoor and outdoor track finished in the top 20, and the men's indoor and outdoor track teams concluded play in the top thirty in the nation.

On an individual level, the Clemson program continued to excel, as 17 athletes received All-American status in 1982-83. Additionally, 54 athletes achieved All-conference honors.

Four Clemson athletes were MVPs or individual champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and three others were chosen as the national senior Player-of-the-Year in their particular categories. Terry Kinard was named the National Defensive Player-of-the-Year in football, while Jean Desdunes was named the National Senior Player-of-the-Year for 1983, the third men's tennis player in Clemson history to be so honored. Tina Krebs claimed the national championship in the 800 meters at the NCAA Championship in women's indoor track. Jody Trucks was the ACC Most Valuable Player in women's tennis, while freshman Gigi Fernandez came within one point of being the first athlete in Clemson history to win an NCAA individual singles championship. Also, two-sport star Hans Koeleman was honored as the ACC individual champion in men's cross country, as well as the ACC Most Valuable Player in men's outdoor track.

Mike Eppley received national distinction in the 1982-83 academic year as he was the only Division I football-basketball starter. He guided Clemson to a 5-0 record as a starting quarterback on the gridiron, and he dealt out over 100 assists as a starting point guard on the Clemson basketball team.

At Clemson: Set an all-time Atlantic Coast Conference record for a non-scoring fumble return last year when he scampered 83 yards with mid-air recovery against Western Carolina ... also set an all-time Clemson record in that category ... finished the season very strong and ended up third on the team in tackles with 57 and was the top tackler among defensive backs ... also had more tackles for loss than any other defensive back as he enjoys making a safety blitz now and then ... only two tackles short of 100 for his college career ... has been a starter in 18 of Clemson's last 23 games, including 8 of the 11 last year ... played in every game, but was slowed a bit early in the season when he suffered a head injury against Boston College ... played only the first quarter of that game and had to be helped off the field after making a tackle ... came back strong against Kentucky with six tackles ... had eight stops against Wake Forest in the Mirage Bowl, he also had his only overseas fumble recovery against the Deacons ... third on the club in passes broken up last year with six ... averaged 6.6 tackles per game over the last eight games of the season after getting only 1.3 stops per contest over the first three games of 1982 ... had his best all-around game at N.C. State when he had six tackles and two pass deflections and a touchdown saving tackle ... had his highest film grade against Duke when the coaches graded him at 108 ... he and William Perry are the only returning defensive starters off the 1981 National Championship team ... runs the 40 in 4.8 ... married with one son ... getting prematurely grey around the temples ... Clemson's 1981 nominee for the "Where Did He Come From Award" ... came from virtual obscurity to earn a starting berth as a strong safety ... had Clemson's only sack of the Orange Bowl, a 12-yarder on a third-down play against the Cornhuskers ... third on the interception list with three ... had a theft in the Tulane, Georgia, and South Carolina games ... he made a diving catch of a tipped ball to get his interception against South Carolina ... started in 10 games, but he missed the Duke contest due to an injury ... his best game of the year came against Georgia when he had career high five solo hits, four assists, and an interception ... got a coaches' grade of 103 percent in that game ... played JV ball in 1980 ... suffered a shoulder injury that required surgery after spring practice ... red-shirted his freshman year due to injury ... solid all-around athlete who came to Clemson as a quarterback, so he knows how opposing signal-callers think.

In High School: a standout performer at Gaffney High School for Head Coach Bobby Carlton ... a four-year letterman in football ... an honorable mention All-American and participant in the North-South All-Star game ... led his team to a conference championship and garnered all-conference honors ... voted Offensive Player-of-the-Year by his teammates ... ran the 40 in 4.8 last spring ... majoring in administrative management ... born 7/25/61 in Gaffney, SC.

At Clemson: One half of Clemson's "Bruise Brothers" duo at middle guard ... combines with William Perry to give Clemson the best middle guard tandem in the nation ... started four games at middle guard, but he and Perry virtually split time at that position ... had more tackles in 1982 (45) than he had previously in his career (43) ... got off to a great start and had a great ending as he had a career-high eight stops against Georgia in the opener and against Wake Forest in the season finale ... got a film grade of 95 percent for his efforts in the game versus Georgia ... had six stops and a caused fumble in the Virginia game in the rain ... had only two tackles against Duke, but both of them were sacks ... consistant player who is equally adept at stopping the run and the pass ... has made at least two tackles in each of Clemson's last 23 games ... has made a steady improvement each year he has been at Clemson ... has gained 25 pounds since he was a freshman, mostly through his work in the strength training room ... runs the 40 in 5.15 and can bench press 375 pounds ... Coach Tom Harper says "William is the kind of kid you like to have around your program. He is an extremely dedicated player, he works hard all the time, and he has been a good influence on the younger players." ... in 1981: teamed with Danny Triplett in the Orange Bowl to force a Nebraska fumble and then recovered it on the Cornhusker's first possession ... that play was shown significantly in Sports Illustrated the following week ... 75 percent of his tackles in 1981 were first hits ... started eight of the Tigers' games at the focal point of the front five ... had his best game of the year in the season opener against Wofford when me made seven tackles, including three for minus yardage and one sack ... averaged 33 plays per game in 1981 ... had four sacks on the year ... one sack stopped a late South Carolina drive in that 29-13 win ... started the first six games of the season ... received his highest film grade for the year against Georgia when he got an 88 ... In 1980: appeared in seven games overall as a freshman middle guard ... had by far his best game that year against Duke when he made seven tackles.

In High School: selected for the 1979 Shrine Bowl an the 1980 East-West All-Star game ... named Player-of-the-Year for Onslow County in 1979 for Ray Durham at Jacksonville High ... named all-county, all-conference, All-East and all-state in 1979 ... made 15 sacks in 12 games his senior season ... lettered two times each in football, basketball and track ... is nicknamed "Devo" by his Clemson teammates ... Danny Ford says, "William's improvement over the past three seasons has been tremendous. I look for him to have a great senior season, both on the field and in the leadership department." ... majoring in elementary education at Clemson ... born 5/28/62 in Jacksonville, NC.

At Clemson: One of the finest all-around student athletes in the nation ... only Division I basketball-football starter in the NCAA in 1982-83 ... equally outstanding in the classroom, he had a 3.5 grade point average in administrative management last spring to join the roster of Clemson students on the dean's list ... first football-basketball starter at Clemson since Stan Rome in the 1974-75 academic year ... came to Clemson as a result of the Frank Johnstone Jervy Scholarship in 1980, which is given to a most outstanding student-athlete ... first athlete to receive the scholarship since Steve Fuller won the grant in 1975 ... has had some injury problems while at Clemson with left knee and a wrist injury ... in spring of 1981 he suffered a broken wrist in football practice sessions that forced him to miss most of spring practice that year, then, in April of 1981, he had left knee ligament damage while playing in a pickup basketball game ... suffered knee injury to same knee while playing basketball against South Carolina on 2-12-83 ... came back and played in last three games, then had arthroscopic surgery for the cartilage problem on 3-18-83 ... has never hurt the knee playing football ... will be in top shape for the fall.

Football - had a perfect record as a starting quarterback for Clemson last year (5-0) ... did not play at all in the first two games of 1982, then made his first college start on the gridiron in the fourth game of the season against Kentucky ... hit 9-13 for 95 yards in the Homecoming game, his best contest of the season on a passing percentage and total offense basis ... had starting berths against Kentucky, Duke, N.C. State, North Carolina and Maryland and the Tigers were victorious in every game ... did his most passing against North Carolina when he attempted 18 aerials and hit Frank Magwood with this first collegiate touchdown pass ... came in as a reserve against South Carolina and Wake Forest as Homer Jordan got the starting nod in his last two games as a senior ... Eppley hit 10-17 in passing over his final three games of the season ... runs the option smoothly, some say he is a better option quarterback than Homer Jordan ... has the ability to wait to the last minute before pitching the ball to the trailing back ... completed 50 percent or better of his passes in seven of the games he played in and in four of the five games he started ... red-shirted the 1981 football season ... third-string signal-caller during the 1980 campaign, he played in two games (Wake Forest and Maryland) ... hit 10-14 passes for 171 yards in a JV win over Georgia that year.

Basketball - ranked sixth on Clemson's all-time assist list heading into his final season on the basketball court ... has averaged over five assists per game over the last two seasons and has led the club in assists per game the last two years ... started 17 games in a row between December 15 and February 12 of last year ... missed the first six basketball games of last year while he was with the football team ... played on December 11 and started on December 15, quite an accomplishment considering he did not shoot a basketball between September 1 and December 1 ... hit 10 of his first 13 shots from the field last year ... scored his career high of 11 points on five different occasions ... won the Hustle Award and tied for Best Defensive Player

Award ... had 12 assists against Baptist ... had the best all-around game of his career against North Carolina on the hardcourt last year as he had 11 points, seven assists and did not commit a turnover in 31 minutes ... starting point guard for Clemson in 1981-82 as he finished fifth in the ACC in assists ... won three team awards that year as he won the Assist Award, the Hustle Award and tied for the Most Improved Award ... had a season high 10 points against Ralph Sampson and Virginia.

In High School: had an outstanding high school career at Harding High ... football high school All-American in 1978 and 1979 ... played in the Shrine Bowl ... completed 64 of 124 passes for 950 yards his senior season ... averaged 14 points and eight assists on the basketball team ... had a perfect 4.0 average for four years in high school ... runs the 40 in 4.8 ... an administrative management major ... born 7/22/62 in Gastonia, NC.

Strength Training

One of the major reasons behind Clemson's competitive edge in all sports is the highly-developed strength and conditioning program. In just eight years, the program has come from a few dead weights and store-bought weight bench to one of the finest and most well-equipped facilities in the nation.

The recently-expanded strength training room contains nearly three-quarters of a million dollars of CAM II machines for quickness and muscle-fiber development, Nautilus machines for strength and flexibility and numerous free weights which also aid in strength development. The facility was designed not only for the football team's training, but for all 17 of Clemson's varsity sports and the cheerleaders.

Each sport has its own program with the weights that will exercise all groups of muscles that are used in the sport over a period of three workouts in five days. The program for basketball is designed for each individual, but the football regimen is broken down by positions. There are specific programs for linemen, offensive and defensive backs, quarterbacks, kickers, and receivers.

Entering his first year as director of the strength program is Sam Colson, who resigned his position as men's track coach last spring to move into the weight room. Colson is well-versed in conditioning, as he was an All-American at Kansas in the javelin, one of the most physically demanding specialties in sports. This knowledge of training plus Colson's ability to teach made him the logical choice to succeed George Dostal, who left Clemson for the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

In the past, the emphasis in the strength program was building bulk and mass on the athletes and overall strength totals have been rising steadily. However, Clemson has now reached a level with the football team where better pure athletes, not just better football players, are being recruited (10 Clemson football players participated in other varsity sports in 1982-83). With this change in the quality of athletes, the strength program will make a lateral shift to include more total body conditioning.

The new overall strength program will include more flexibility drills and running, and will also build stamina, in addition to making the athletes as strong as possible. This new emphasis in the program, was the reason the overall team strength did not increase in 1983 as much as it has in past seasons.

Clemson has placed four football players on the All-America Strength Team over the past two years, which places Clemson among the nation's leaders in that category. Clemson has reached new levels of athletic prowess due to its strength program, and that is a trend that should continue for many years to come.

Clemson University

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Brief History

Clemson University has been a land-grant, state-assisted institution since its founding in 1889. It was then that the General Assembly of South Carolina accepted the bequest of Thomas Green Clemson, which set aside the bulk of the Clemson estate for the founding of a technical and scientific institution. Clemson College formally opened in July 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students.

In 1955 the college changed from "military" to "civilian" status for students and became coeducational. Clemson awarded its first Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1960 to a student in plant pathology. In 1964, in recognition of expanded academic offerings and research pursuits, the legislature formally changed the college's name to Clemson University.

Administration

The University is governed by a board of 13 members, including six elected by the state legislature and seven self-perpetuating life members, in accord with the will of Thomas G. Clemson. The board is primarily responsible for setting policy and approving budgets and expenditures. The University's day-to-day operations are administered by its president; vice presidents for academic affairs, business and finance, and student affairs; and the president's executive staff.

Campus

The University campus, located on the former plantation of statesman John C. Calhoun, consists of 600 acres and represents an investment of approximately $270 million in academic and administrative buildings, student, staff and faculty housing, service facilities and equipment - 77 percent of which have been constructed since 1950. While offering these excellent modern facilities, the University retains its air of tradition through such landmarks as Fort Hill, the home of the Calhouns and Clemsons; Tillman Hall with its clock tower, the statue of Thomas Clemson, and the Outdoor Theater.

The campus is surrounded by 20,860 acres of University farms and woodlands devoted to research in forestry, agriculture, and agricultural engineering. In addition, 9,698 acres throughout the state are devoted to Agricultural Experiment Station research and 4-H Club work, for a total of 31,195 real estate acres.

School Colors and Nickname

The late William J. Latimer, 1906 graduate of Clemson College, did some extensive research on the football program at his alma mater, and offered the following in regard to the school's nickname and colors:

Professor Walter Merritt Riggs, who coached Clemson's first varsity football team in 1896, and who also served as head coach again in 1899, is said to have "planted the seed" for the school's grid program.

In referring to the players from that first team, Latimer said, "Due to the lack of helmets and head protection they (the players) wore long hair. These long manes might have gained them the name of Lions had it not been for the orange and purple striped jerseys and stockings that resembled tigers. The latter nickname seemed to stick."

Latimer then observed about John Heisman's 1900 Clemson team: "They had been called Tigers early in their career. And Clemson used the insignia of a Tigers' head with bared fangs, with the motto 'Eat Em Up Clemson' before Heisman's day."

Latimer's findings are substantiated by the fact that Riggs had played football at Auburn (nicknamed Tigers) and that its colors were orange and blue.

The official colors of the school are Northwest Purple and Burnt Orange, with the predominant colors on today's athletic uniforms being orange and white.

Joe Sherman '34, former Clemson sports publicist, news bureau director, and director of Clemson's alumni relations, offered the following in his book, The Clemson Tigers, which was published in 1976:

"It is extremely doubtful that anyone can tell you with certainty how the Clemson colors swung from purple (and a rather pale purple, at that) and gold to what for several years was described as Northwestern purple and burnt orange.

"But that the colors have changed, unofficially if not officially, is a fact and there is a story about it that is probably as good as any other explanation.

"It says that in the early years of Jess Neely's tenure, he found it almost possible to get uniforms in purple and gold that would be 'color fast.' In other words, between constant exposure to both the weather and the washing machines, the purple and gold faded markedly and became difficult, if not impossible, to recognize for what they were supposed to be.

"So, working with professional color people in the school of textiles and with sporting goods manufacturers, Neely finally arrived at deeper colors (a slightly deeper purple and a gold that became orange) that were more color fast in that they held up better under the rays of the sun, the agitations of the washing machines and the carry-over from season to season."

Still, most people believe that the purple and orange are the true colors.

The Tiger Paw

Throughout the United States, there are many universities that sport a Tiger as their mascot. Very obviously, a Tiger is a Tiger no matter how you portray the caricature. However, 13 years ago, Clemson came up with a logo that separates this University from all the other Tiger-loving universities in America. The Tiger Paw was born in 1970, and Clemson has stood out ever since.

The birth of the Tiger Paw, which now greets every opposing team on the highways to Clemson, actually came about as a bit of an accident. In 1970, then President R.C. Edwards wanted to "upgrade the image of the University." Consequently, Henderson Advertising was contracted to do just that.

The agency began by writing to all the schools in the United States who had a Tiger as their mascot. The schools all sent pictures of their official Tiger.

After viewing all the Tigers in America, it was decided that a Tiger was a Tiger. There was absolutely nothing distinctive about a Tiger. So, after several weeks, an astute ad agent came up with the idea of a Tiger Paw. Without realizing what he had done, that agent kicked off an idea that soon made Clemson one of the most distinctive Tiger schools in the country.

The first order of business was to find a design for the Tiger Paw.

A request went out to the Museum of Natural History in Chicago to get a plaster of paris mold of a tiger's paw. Probably for someone's great personal risk, a mold was made and sent to Greenville.

The idea of the Tiger Paw has mushroomed so much at Clemson that the symbol now appears on the Clemson football helmets, all the athletic uniforms, and every Clemson souvenir imaginable. Glasses, shirts, pants, underwear, napkins, cards, stationery, and even political ads have all utilized the Tiger Paw.

Clemson recently has applied for registration of The Paw with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office as a part of its new marketing program. It will take two or three years for the patent to be issued.

Along with the many entrepreneurs who have taken advantage of the Tiger Paw to sell their products, some other universities such as Ohio University have begun using the Tiger Paw as its symbol recently. Furthermore, other schools have taken their cue from the Tiger Paw and have begun using paw imprints of wildcats and other animals as their school symbols.

The Tiger Paw has been a very successful and widely used representation of Clemson University and especially its varsity sports. The distinctive logo is one of the most recognized symbols in the South, and by far the most distinctive form of a Tiger mascot in the country. It's hard to believe that if R.C. Edwards hadn't wanted to upgrade the image of Clemson University, Clemson fans would not have anything to paint on their faces at football games.

Herschel Walker and George Rogers, two of the last three Heisman Trophy winners, played seven games, and carried the ball 143 times between them, but never scored a touchdown against Clemson.

Head Coach Danny Ford

No one has a better two-year record in major college football (21-1-1) and most of the credit for this impressive mark has to go to Head Coach Danny Ford. In 1982, Ford took Clemson to its ninth Atlantic Coast Conference Championship and in 1981, he guided the Tigers to the pinnacle of college football with a National Championship.

Ford deservedly was named National Coach-of-the-Year in 1981 by United Press International, the American Football Coaches' Association, the Football Writers of America, and the Washington Touchdown Club, in addition to many other local football clubs. Ford was also the youngest head coach (33) ever to take a team to a national championship.

Ford is also the youngest fifth-year coach in Division I of the NCAA, but the now 35-year-old Gadsden, Alabama native has been associated with more winning teams and programs than most coaches come in contact with in a lifetime. Including his years as a player at Alabama under the late Bear Bryant, Ford has been associated with college football for the last 16 years. Fifteen of those clubs have had winning records and 11 have gone to bowl games. Additionally, the 16 teams have had a record of 132-48-4, a .728 winning percentage.

Ford has brought his winning attitude to Clemson University. Now in his fifth full season as a head coach, Ford has led the Tigers to a 36-10-1 record and three bowl games since taking over on December 10, 1978. That was a fine day in Clemson athletics because the University announced that Charley Pell had relinquished the head coaching duties of the 1978 Gator Bowl to Ford. Nearly 40 years after hiring 31-year-old Frank Howard, Clemson had hired a gifted 30-year-old to lead the Tiger forces on the gridiron.

Ford conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial power Ohio State in the Gator Bowl in his very first game as head coach. Few mentors in NCAA history have made such a celebrated and successful beginning.

With this list of accomplishments, it is little wonder that the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Charley Pell's successor. Danny Ford not only had the backing of Pell, but also from the members of the Clemson football team. He was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach for the Tigers. After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

Ford began his association with college football in 1967 when he started for Bear Bryant at Alabama as Ken Stabler's sophomore tight end. He played three years for Bryant, (including three wins against Clemson) and was an All-Southeastern Conference choice, All-SEC academic selection and team captain during his senior season.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts in 1970, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. Upon earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, he was made a full time assistant under Bryant for the 1972 and 1973 seasons. The Tide went to four more postseason games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's current head man then accepted a position as an assistant coach on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974 to 1976), before he was beckoned to Clemson by Charley Pell, who had just been named the Tiger's head coach. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

And only 23 games later, Ford became head coach of the Tigers at age 30, the youngest Division I head coach in the country.

The Golden Anniversary of IPTAY

On July 1, 1983, IPTAY began its 50th year of Service to Clemson University. From a modest beginning as a secret organization, IPTAY has grown into one of the largest athletic scholarship fund raising groups in America. But the success we now enjoy at Clemson did not just happen.

It was during the summer of 1934 that Dr. Rupert H. Fike, a physician from Atlanta, Georgia, had the idea to begin a secret organization, a "fraternity" of sorts, that would raise funds for athletic scholarships for Clemson. On August 20, he recruited eight other gentlemen to meet with him at his home in Atlanta. Meeting with Dr. Fike were: George Suggs, Gene Cox, E.C. Hutchens, Bill Dukes, J.R. Pennell, George Klugh, Milton Berry and Jack Mitchell. Together these men drafted the constitution, created the ritual, and developed the codes and symbols that only initiated IPTAY members knew. Parts of the ritual included a pocket piece with symbols, a secret hand shake, and unusual greetings. Different titles included: Exalted Bengal Tiger (Executive Secretary), Exalted IRYAAS (Head Coach), Bengal Tiger (President), Persian Tiger (Vice President), and Sumaira Tiger (Secretary-Treasurer). Some of the anacronyms used were: "GOCAMS" (Giving our Clemson all my support), "IRYAAS" (I received yours and acknowledge same), and IPTAY (Industry, Preserverance, Temperance, Assistance, Youthfulness), as well as I Pay Ten A Year.

But IPTAY has not succeeded because of secret symbols and initiations. It was only a secret organization for 4 years. From its beginning with 162 charter members, IPTAY continued to grow until, in 1954, Dr. Fike realized a need for reorganization. A complete revamping of the club took place, and it was decided to have a board of directors composed of nine people. Three of these would be appointed by the Chairman of the Athletic Council, with the remaining six being elected to represent the six congressional districts. In 1950, Gene Willimon had been hired as Executive Secretary and would be joined by three officers, a President, a Vice President and a Secretary-Treasurer, that would be elected from and by the Board of Directors. The first IPTAY Board of Directors was comprised of Calhoun Lemon, Vic Chapman, R.C. Edwards, Paul Quattlebaum, W.G. DesChamps, Harper Gault, Edgar Rosamond, and J.O. Freeman. The main objective of the directors was to create more interest in IPTAY and Clemson University. In 1958, IPTAY Representatives were appointed for the first time and this group now numbers over 500 strong and donates untold volunteer hours promoting Clemson.

As the years passed, the numbers continued to grow. There were 5,200 members in 1954 which became 10,000 in 1959 and now number over 18,000 for the 1983 year. In 1936, Jess Neely said that the sky would be the limit if IPTAY could raise only $19,000. Thanks to the leadership of people like Gene Willimon, George Bennett, and Joe Turner, IPTAY crossed $1 million in 1977, $2 million in 1979, $3 million in 1981, $4 million in 1982, with $5 million for the 1983 year. The total program has been in the Top 20 for four of the last five years, and with this type of support, it is no wonder that IPTAY has had twenty consecutive record breaking years.

Rupert Fike

But what is IPTAY? By constitutional definition, IPTAY is a non-profit, tax exempt organization with the primary goal of providing scholarships for student athletes at Clemson University; it is self-supporting. But IPTAY is much more than numbers. IPTAY is 19,000 people who believe that Clemson deserves only the best. And, these people are willing to work unselfishly to make and keep Clemson number one. Athletic Director Bill McLellan believes, "Without a doubt, the unprecedented period of growth in Clemson athletics since 1954 would not have been possible without the support of IPTAY."

In an article written for the Alumni News in 1963 President R.C. Edwards observed, "It is utterly impossible to measure in a material sense all that IPTAY has meant to Clemson in the past generation. It would be equally difficult to predict all that IPTAY can and will contribute in the years that lie ahead." IPTAY gives scholarships to athletes and that continues to be IPTAY's primary function. In recent years the scholarship program has been expanded, but IPTAY has maintained Dr. Fike's primary purpose of promoting a finer Clemson University through a first class athletic program. Areas of improvement have included lights for Riggs field, funds for the master transportation system, permanent seating for baseball, computer learning aids for the Department of Education, travel funds for the band, and provided the seed grant for the Fine Arts Center. It is through the commitment of IPTAY members that the North Stands Addition became a reality to make Death Valley the finest stadium in the Southeast."

We are completing the first fifty years of a long journey. But where will IPTAY be fifty years down the road? "The key to Clemson's success has been and will continue to be people," according to Joe Turner, Executive Secretary of IPTAY, "If we have unlocked a unique quality on Saturdays at Death Valley or in Littlejohn, it is because of the love and sincerity of the people who support the Tigers. It is this commitment that has taken Clemson through the first 50 years and will certainly keep Clemson "Number One" through the next fifty years."

University President

DR. BILL ATCHLEY,
University President

Dr. Bill Lee Atchley possesses a list of credentials that is impressive and noteworthy. He boasts a history of involvement that, not only includes his professional career, but also extends beyond the campus. This background of involvement at the highest level and his background as an administrator were the deciding factors in his selection as the new Clemson president when Dr. R.C. Edwards retired in 1979 after 22 years of guiding the University.

Dr. Atchley is not one to rest on his laurels, however, as he has initiated plans for a major energy research and development center at the University to serve the entire state and he has unveiled plans for a $25 million, privately funded campaign to endow the Strom Thurmond Center for Excellence in Government and Public Service. In addition, Dr. Atchley has initiated Clemson's "Challenge to Greatness" program, which will raise $89 million for the University's Centennial celebration in 1989, and he has established the Clemson Medallion, an award which recognizes individuals who have rendered "notable and significant service and support to Clemson and who exemplify the dedication and foresight of its founder."

Dr. Atchley came to Clemson from West Virginia University where he was dean of the College of Engineering beginning in 1975. Under his direction, the engineering department achieved its highest enrollment in the history of the school, and became the largest research department at West Virginia. The engineering department received several grants from the federal government in the fields of energy research, occupational health and safety research, and personal rapid transit research due to Atchley's guidance.

While at West Virginia, President Atchley used his knowledge in the engineering field to work on some of the problems facing our country today. He served as the chairman of Governor's Commission on Energy, Economy, and Environment as well as acting as the science and technology advisor for the West Virginia House of Representatives and Senate. Atchley also served in a similar capacity for West Virginia Governors

Rockefeller and Moore. Another committee that Atchley chaired was the state environmental committee.

President Atchley has received many honors stemming from his work in engineering. He was named to the list of Who's Who in Engineering Education and is a member of the Academy of Sciences and the Outstanding Educators of America.

He even found the time to serve as the chairman of the American Society for Engineering Education in the Midwest, became a member of the American Society for Civil Engineers, and sat on the West Virginia Board of Registration for Professional Engineers. Presently, Atchley is a member of the board of directors of the American Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Prior to his tenure at West Virginia, Atchley taught at the University of Missouri at Rolla from 1957-1975. He earned his undergraduate degree in civil engineering at Missouri in 1957 and finished his masters work in the same field in 1959 at Missouri. President Atchley then received his doctorate at Texas A&M in 1965.

A very active sports enthusiast, Atchley has a superior knowledge of athletics. His expertise is especially proficient in baseball, a sport he played professionally in the fifties with the New York Giants organization.

President Atchley and his wife, the former Pat Limbaugh, have three children. Julia is a 24-year-old graduate of Southeast Mississippi University with a major in special education. Pam is a 21-year-old senior at Clemson, while David is a 17-year-old senior at nearby Daniel High School.

Athletic Director

BILL McLELLAN,
Athletic Director

Clemson Athletic Director Bill McLellan joined a select group of Clemson graduates in the summer of 1982, as he was named a Distinguished Alumnus of Clemson University. It is an honor richly deserved for a man who has done much to significantly improve the standing of the Clemson Athletic Department and the University as a whole on a regional and national spectrum.

In the last decade Clemson's sports program has made a swift rise on the national scene and McLellan's administrative ability is a primary reason. The Tigers have been ranked in the top 36 in the nation the past seven years and overall, four of the last five years Clemson athletics have been ranked in the Top 5 in the nation.

In a sense, Clemson's athletic program has grown as McLellan grew into his role as athletic director. The result is one of the best athletic facilities in the country. "We've been forerunners in a lot of ways, and we've shown that we put what we earn back into our facilities," said McLellan.

Only the third man to own the title of athletic director at Clemson over the last 48 years, McLellan was elevated to his present position February 4, 1971, following what had been more than a decade of service to the University's athletic organization.

A native of Hamer, S.C. the 49-year old McLellan graduated from Dillon High School and entered Clemson where he earned a pair of football letters, and was a member of the Tigers' 1952 Gator Bowl team.

He joined the athletic staff May 1, 1958, from Clemson's Department of Agricultural Economics and Seed Certification where he had spent one year as assistant agronomist and two years as assistant economist.

Although carrying the title of assistant business manager, McLellan had been credited with handling the majority of the department's athletic business and operation long before his appointment into his present role.

In 1966, McLellan was named assistant athletic director and two years later was appointed associated athletic director.

The Tigers can boast of the finest athletic facilities in not only the Atlantic Coast Conference, but in the South as well.

The modern and spacious Jervy Athletic Center is one of the most complete facilities in America, and this complex serves as the home for Clemson's 17 sports - 11 men's and 6 women's.

The basketball Tigers play before packed crowds in attractive Littlejohn Coliseum, and many of the Clemson games are telecast on either regional or national networks.

And the football Tigers, after averaging better than 63,000 attendance at home last fall, play in a remodeled Memorial Stadium this year that will hold some 80,000 people in 1983. The stadium has increased in capacity by 70 percent since 1977.

McLellan earned a BS degree from Clemson in agronomy in '54 and a master's in agricultural economics in '56. He is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, S.C. They have four children - Suzy, a graduate of Winthrop College, Cliff and Bill, graduates of Clemson and Arch Anna, a junior at Winthrop.

Bill McLellan has served Clemson as a player, coach and administrator.

Athletic Staff

BOBBY ROBINSON, Director of Athletic Programs

An organization as large as the Clemson Athletic Department requires a multi-million dollar budget and the responsibility for making the business decisions falls on the shoulders of Director of Athletic Programs Bobby Robinson. Robinson came to Clemson in 1973, and has done an outstanding job as Clemson's financial success in all areas has occurred under his guidance.

Robinson's responsibilities include the budgeting and administration of Clemson's football and basketball teams, making travel arrangements, administering the grant-in-aid program, hiring athletic department personnel, arranging contracts for the department, and handling all purchases.

Robinson graduated from Furman University in 1968 with a BS degree in business and political science. He was a member of the varsity golf team and the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman.

Robinson worked in his family's business in Columbia after graduation, and in 1970, was hired to work in the Office of Student Affairs at Clemson. In 1973, he moved to the athletic department and was named assistant to the athletic director in charge of business operations. In 1980, he was elevated to his present position.

Robinson is also the former golf coach of the Tigers. He gave up the position in 1983, to fully concentrate on his duties as associate athletic director. Before he left, however, Robinson guided the Tiger linksters to a fifth-place national finish, the team's highest ever in 1983. Previously, he had guided the team to two other appearances in the national championships and Clemson's first ACC golf title in 1982.

Robinson was born in Columbia, SC, and graduated from A.C. Flora High School in 1964. While in high school, Robinson lettered in golf, football, basketball and baseball. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and the Key Club.

The 34-year-old Robinson is single.

EARLE AMBROSE, Assistant Athletic Director

The Firemen's Fund Agent in the Clemson Athletic Department is Earle Ambrose, as he is a man who wears many hats. In his role as assistant athletic director, Ambrose is responsible for negotiating numerous contracts for the department, assisting the athletic director in administrative functions, and overseeing the ticket and parking operations for all Clemson sports. As pilot for the athletic department, Ambrose ferries teams to events, carries coaches on recruiting trips, and retrieves stolen planes from the Bahamas, as he was called on to do in the summer of 1983, as one of the department's planes was taken from its hangar.

Ambrose came to Clemson in 1973 to assume direction of the ticket office. He was promoted to the position of assistant to the athletic director in 1979 after serving as ticket manager for six years. During his tenure as ticket manager, sales skyrocketed 48 percent. Ambrose has been an outstanding addition to the department and he continues to aid in the smooth distribution of tickets to Clemson sporting events.

Ambrose joined the Air Force at the age of 18 and he spent 30 years in the service prior to coming to Clemson. He saw combat duty in World War II and he traveled extensively while rising to the rank of colonel.

Ambrose graduated from Greenville High School in his native Greenville in 1942. The 58-year-old Ambrose is married to the former Betty Bradley, the sister of Clemson Sports Information Director Bob Bradley. The Ambroses have two daughters, Jane and Ann, and a son, Skip.

BOB BRADLEY, Sports Information Director

The last few years have seen Clemson athletics rise to a new position of public awareness, and keeping the Tigers in the minds of media and the public alike is the job of Bob Bradley. A recognized leader in his profession, Bradley has received every conceivable award and has become one of the most respected men in the sports information field.

The knowledgeable and personable Bradley was elected president of CoSIDA, the national organization of sports information directors, during 1974-75. He received the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year in 1976 and he was also elected by his peers to the organizations' Hall of Fame. Under Bradley's direction, the Clemson Sports Information Department has won a total of 33 national and state awards for their brochures and press guides in the last five years. During 1979-80, Clemson won nine awards for its work, which was the second highest total among Division I schools that year. The SID office won six awards each in 1980-81 and 1982-83 and garnered a total of nine in 1981-82. Included in the nine awards in 1981-82 were six national award-winning press guides, more than any other school in the country.

Several student assistants who worked under Bradley have gone on to full-time positions in the sports information field, an indication of Bradley's dedication to sports information. Additionally, Bradley was honored this past spring by the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame for his special contributions to athletics.

During his college days at Clemson, Bradley was the editor of The Tiger, the student newspaper. In addition to his task of being editor and sports editor of that weekly publication, Bradley also worked for the Greenville News-Piedmont on both a full and part-time basis. Bradley graduated from Clemson in 1951 with a BS degree in textile manufacturing. He served in the Air Force for four years.

The 58-year-old Bradley was born in Randleman, NC, and is a graduate of Greenville (SC) Senior High. Bradley is married to the former Louise Madewell of Dallas, TX. The Bradleys have two children, Dorma, who is married and has one child, Amanda, and Robert, a sportswriter for the Anderson Independent.

JOE WHITE, Academic Advisor

While each sport has a coach in the field, Joe White is the coach for all Clemson athletes in the classroom. As the academic advisor, White's job is to ensure that each of the nearly 400 Tiger athletes make reasonable progress toward a degree in their respective major fields of study.

The 37-year-old White is entering his third year as academic advisor. He came to Clemson in the spring of 1981 from Virginia Tech where he had served in a similar capacity for five years.

A native of Elizabeth City, NC, White received his BS degree in physical education from Campbell College in 1968. After graduation, he taught physical education and coached in the public school system in Fayetteville, NC, until 1971.

White joined the VPI coaching staff as JV secondary coach in 1972, and was promoted to head JV coach in 1975. He was named academic advisor in 1976.

In addition to his duties as academic advisor at Virginia Tech, White was in charge of the football program for the Hokie all-sports camp for three summers. He also worked as a counselor for the school's basketball camp in 1980.

White is married to the former Joyce Davies of Gastonia, NC. They met in college while he was playing baseball and she was a cheerleader for the Camels. The Whites are the parents of two children, Michelle (7/28/73) and Chris (5/25/77).

ALLISON DALTON, Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing and Media Relations

The Clemson Tiger Paw is one of the most universally recognized symbols in college athletics, and the man responsible for licensing its use is Allison Dalton. Dalton is entering his fifth year as promotions director and his first as assistant athletic director.

During his tenure, Dalton has been responsible for getting the Tiger Paw copyrighted, which will eliminate any use of the symbol for commercial gains and he oversees the high-successful Orange Aids marketing program. As assistant AD, Dalton will continue to handle the athletic department's marketing efforts and will oversee the operation of the sports information office.

Dalton, who earned both his bachelor's (1960) and master's (1964) from Clemson in industrial management, served as state campaign co-ordinator for U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond for a year prior to becoming manager of the Clemson House Hotel, a capacity he served in until coming to the athletic department in the fall of 1979.

After receiving his undergraduate degree, he served two years in the U.S. Army as assistant printing control officer at Fort Bliss, TX, and he was discharged as a first lieutenant. Following his master's degree, Dalton was a management trainee and staff assistant for Karastan Mills for two years and was then in partnership with his brother in the furniture and carpet business.

Dalton is married to the former Carolyn Jones of Pickens, SC, and the Daltons are the parents of two children, Brett (4-10-66) and CeCe (3-8-68).

DWIGHT RAINEY, Assistant Athletic Director for Non-Revenue Sports

Clemson's major sports such as football and basketball have become names on the national scene, but just as dramatic has been the Tigers' arrival in non-revenue sports such as soccer and track. Dwight Rainey, who is entering his first year as an assistant athletic director, will be responsible for all areas of these rapidly growing and improving sports.

Rainey, 38, comes to the Clemson administration from the basketball office, where he served as Head Coach Bill Foster's top assistant for the past eight years. While with the basketball program, Rainey was responsible for recruiting, scheduling, on-the-floor instruction and administrative tasks. Clemson's basketball schedule was ranked among the top 25 hardest schedules in the country while Rainey was in charge of that task.

Rainey was the first assistant hired by Bill Foster upon the head coach's appointment as Clemson, and Rainey had spent nearly one-third of his life in association with Foster. That time included his career as a player and an assistant coach.

He prepped at Clarkston (Ga.) High School where he was a stand-out athlete, earning letters in basketball, baseball, and golf. He earned a spot on the Georgia All-Star basketball team and led the South squad with a 16-point performance to walk away with the most valuable player honors.

His performance landed him a scholarship at Shorter College (Rome, Ga.) where his association with Foster began. During his stay at Shorter, he paced the Hawks to a 94-23 slate and was a Converse All-America selection as a senior. He was ranked as the eighth-best free throw shooter in the country as a senior.

His coaching debut was made as a Foster assistant at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte where he spent five seasons with the 49ers before coming to Clemson.

SAM COLSON, Strength Training Director

Sam Colson is entering his first year as strength and conditioning coach for the Tigers and he inherits one of the finest programs and most complete weight facilities in the nation. Colson relinquished the reins of the men's track program last May to take his new position when George Dostal left for a similar position with Atlanta of the NFL.

Colson is no stranger to strength training, as conditioning was a vital part in his success as a standout javelin thrower at Kansas and as he guided the Tiger track team from mediocrity to the respected program it is now.

As a competitor at Kansas, Colson was a three-time All-American and was NCAA Champion in 1973. He was also a three-time AAU All-American and he was the 1974 AAU National Champion. Colson was the top United States entry in the 1976 Olympics in Montreal, where he was fifth with a throw of 282-4. Colson's best throw came at the US-USSR dual meet in Durham, NC, where he took top honors in 1974. Colson was also named to the Jayhawk Hall of Fame for his accomplishments at Kansas.

Colson, a native of Mankato, KS, came to Clemson in 1974 to complete work on his master's degree in education. He served as an assistant track coach while completing his studies and was named head track coach in 1977.

During his stint as the head coach, Colson's men's cross country teams captured ACC championships four times, including three straight starting in 1980, and finished in the top 25 teams nationally five out of six years. The women's cross country program grew from fifth in the conference in 1979 to fifth in the nation in 1982. On the track, Colson's teams claimed one ACC title outright and shared another, and 31 Clemson athletes were named All-American.

Colson, 33, is married to the former Cathy Roberto of Concord, CA, and the Colsons are the parents of one son, Nathaniel Howe (5-18-83).

BOBBY DOUGLAS, Equipment Manager

Making sure that Clemson's athletic teams dress as well as they play is the responsibility of Equipment Manager Bobby Douglas. Douglas takes great pride in the appearance of the Tigers on game days and he also strives to insure the player's safety by keeping the equipment in good working order. Douglas is also responsible for the associated athletic equipment such as football, basketballs, baseball bats, and track hurdles.

Douglas assumed his present job on July 16, 1982, when former equipment manager Len Gough was named assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. Douglas has served as the assistant equipment manager since December 1978.

Packing and planning for extended road trips has become one of Douglas' specialties, as the Clemson football team went to four bowls in a period of five years and in 1982, traveled to Tokyo, Japan for the Mirage Bowl. The Tiger basketball team is also a frequent traveler, as the team regularly makes trips to Christmas tournaments.

Douglas, born on September 9, 1955, is a 1974 graduate of Toms River High school in New Jersey. He ran cross country, indoor and outdoor track and was a three-year letterman in each sport. He came to Clemson on a track scholarship and ran with the team his freshman year. He went into managing at Clemson as a student in his junior year. During his sophomore year he served as co-Sports editor of the Tiger, the Clemson student newspaper.

Douglas, a native of Montclair, NJ, received his bachelor's degree in industrial education from Clemson in December of 1978 and became assistant equipment manager almost immediately.

VAN HILDERBRAND, Ticket Manager

Seats at Clemson football and basketball games have become very sought-after commodities in the last few years, and it is Van Hilderbrand's job to ensure the smooth distribution of tickets to all Tiger sporting events. In the four years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, Hilderbrand has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball.

The demand for tickets has risen as Clemson's athletic teams have continued to win and Hilderbrand has continually met the challenge of finding places for both fans and students to sit. Hilderbrand will also have the added challenge of handling requests for tickets in the new 15,000 seat addition to Memorial Stadium in 1983.

Hilderbrand, a native of Clover, SC, began working in the ticket office as an undergraduate when he enrolled at Clemson in 1970. He graduated in 1974 with a BS in recreation and park administration.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson as assistant ticket manager. Three years later, he was named to his present position.

Hilderbrand attended Clover Senior High School, where he was a four-year letterman in basketball and a three-year letterman in baseball. Hilderbrand, 31, is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover. The Hilderbrands have one son, Van, Jr., who was born December 31, 1979, the same day Clemson played in the Peach Bowl.

FRED HOOVER, Assistant Athletic Director

One of the most rapidly changing areas in athletics is the field of sports medicine, and keeping Clemson on the frontier is Fred Hoover. Now in his 23rd year as trainer for the Tigers, the 53-year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is responsible for purchasing of athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He later served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and from 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work. In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association - Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children--Catherine, a Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan, a senior at Clemson.

JOE TURNER, Executive Secretary of IPTAY

For the past four years, Clemson's IPTAY club has been recognized as the number-one athletic scholarship fundraising organization in America and Executive Secretary Joe Turner has been one of the prime movers in IPTAY's growth.

IPTAY received a record 2.9 million dollars in 1979-80, Turner's first year as executive director, and after hitting the three and four million dollar mark in succeeding years, IPTAY raised a total of 5.0 million dollars for 1982-83. Turner has also been largely responsible for maintaining IPTAY's 20-year record of increasing yearly contributions.

Turner graduated from Clemson with a BS degree in industrial management in 1971, and while he was an undergraduate, he was a Dean's List student. He was a member of the Blue Key and Tiger Brotherhood honorary fraternities and he was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Turner's professional service to Clemson began in 1971 when he took the position of associate director of alumni relations. During his tenure with the Alumni Association, Turner completed work on his master's degree in management. He was named executive secretary of IPTAY in 1979.

The 34-year-old Turner is a native of Williston, SC, and he graduated from Williston-Elko High School in 1967. He is married to the former Cathy Anne Campbell of Gadsden, AL, and the couple has two sons, Joseph Jackson, Jr. (7/13/76) and Tate (3/2/81), and one daughter, Anne (12/17/78).

Paws For Pushups

Of all the colorful sidelights to Tiger football – running down the Hill, pep rallies, Tigerama – the antics of that sideline showman, the Tiger, stand out. It has been nearly 30 years since the human Tiger first made his appearance in Death Valley and many Tiger stories get better each time they are retold.

The Tiger's tail is a much-sought-after prize at away games, as frequent attempts to claim the trophy have resulted in fight between the student bodies of the opposing schools. Tigers have been seen on goal posts, riding motorcycles, marching in visiting schools' bands, kissing homecoming queens, and generally getting into all kinds of mischief. But, THE Tiger tradition that has gained the most attention is the pushups.

Tiger mascot Zack Mills started a new tradition in the fall of 1978 by doing pushups for every point Clemson scored. This doesn't appear to be so difficult at first glance, but the pushups are done cumulatively. That is, when the gridiron Tigers scored to bring their point total to 17, the mascot Tiger would also do 17 pushups. When the team scored to bring the total to 24, the Tiger would do 24 more pushups, not just seven more. During the 1978 season, Mills established four Tiger pushup records, including the NCAA single season mark of 1,334 pushups in 12 games.

Mills served as the Tiger for two seasons, and in 1980, he turned the stripes of the suit over to Ricky Capps. The rookie Tiger could only manage 600 pushups, as the football Tigers of 1980 were not the scoring machine they had been the two previous years.

In 1981, things picked up, as the on-field Tigers lit up scoreboards to the tune of 338 points in 12 games. Due to the efforts of the National Champions, Capps concluded his senior season with 1,155 pushups, which nearly doubled his 1980 output, and Capps ended his career with 1,755 pushups.

Capps will also be remembered for the setting of the individual game pushup record. On Halloween Day 1981, Clemson scored 82 points against Wake Forest on the way to setting 11 Clemson records and tying three others, setting four conference records and three stadium records. While the team was running up and down the field, Capps was pumping off a total of 465 pushups, a pushup total that may not be broken.

The mascot from Wake Forest showed how spirited he was when Clemson scored its 76th point. Capps was near the point of exhaustion when the Deacon came to the aid of his fellow mascot. The Deacon did the 76 pushups for the Tiger, as the fans counted the total. Clemson scored again to make their point total 82, and Capps, now sufficiently rested, was able to complete the 82 pushups. Capps was recognized by Tiger Band at the 1982 Orange Bowl, as he was allowed to dot the "i" in Tigers, an honor usually reserved for dignitaries and other big-wigs.

Capps made the symbolic passing of the head to Randy Faile for the 1982 season, and Faile proceeded to bring further honor to the Clemson Tiger as he was named National Universal Cheerleader Association Mascot-of-the-Year at the national championships in Dallas, TX. Faile, a native of Aiken, SC, also was the first Tiger to perform overseas, as he worked off 72 pushups in the Mirage Bowl in Japan. Faile will be among the returning lettermen this fall, looking to add to his career total of 954 pushups in his senior season.

While it appears that the man inside makes the Tiger what he is, the suit is also a story in itself. The head weighs in at about 20 pounds, while the suit tips the scale at 45 pounds. The stripes are lined and quilted, which makes for a lot of weight loss to the Tiger's soul during a ball game. Mills, Capps, and Faile all report shedding up to 12 pounds in a single game, and to keep the suit from smelling like the inside of an old sweatsock, it must be cleaned three times a football season.

The legend of the Clemson Tiger continues to grow, and the question, 'Who is that masked man?' will be heard more and more frequently in the coming years.

Tiger Radio Network

While the Clemson football team has reached many milestones over the last couple years, "The Voice of the Tigers" has also reached some significant plateaus. Last year Jim Phillips broadcasted his 175th Clemson football game and his 400th Tiger basketball game. His voice is synonymous with Clemson athletics.

Since 1968 Phillips has described the action with his staccato and accurate style. Five times the Sportscaster-of-the-Year in the state of South Carolina, Phillips is regarded as one of the best in the South.

Dedication is also one of his watchwords. This was never more evident than at the 1982 Western Carolina football game when he broadcast the contest just five days after disc surgery. He did the game standing up with a walker the entire contest, but radio listeners never knew the difference.

He is equally versed and successful in his account of Clemson basketball and baseball playoff games. In 1982-83 his streak of 386 straight basketball broadcasts was broken when he could not be in two places at the same time. He missed the basketball season opener in Anchorage, AL, as he was describing the Clemson Tiger football team's ACC championship clinching victory in Tokyo, Japan. But, he did not miss another game the rest of the season and has now broadcast 414 Clemson basketball games in the 16 years he has been associated with the network.

The former President of the Atlantic Coast Conference Sportswriter Association also serves as host of Clemson football and basketball coaches shows on radio and television. He was also a veteran of a dozen years as Sports Director at WFBC-TV.

A native of Youngstown, OH, Phillips is also the sports director of WFBC-radio in Greenville, SC, where he hosts a successful sports talk show that airs five nights a week.

Prior to coming to Greenville, Phillips did play-by-play for Kent State University in both football and basketball for two years. During that period, he was the sports and program director for WFAH radio in Alliance, OH. He also free-lanced a late night sports show on WJAN-TV in Canton, OH.

Tim Bourret will handle the color commentary for the Tiger football network. Clemson's associate sports information director has worked with Phillips on Tiger basketball games the last four years, and this will be his second year on football broadcasts. Bourret holds an undergraduate degree in Finance and a master's degree in communications from the University of Notre Dame. Over the last five years 33 of his press guides and programs have won national awards.

WFBC AM/FM, headed by general manager Bruce Buchanan, will again be the flagship station for the Clemson Network, with as many as 70 stations to air the Clemson games for 1983. The network will be handled through the office of Greg Anderson at WFBC in Greenville. Any questions regarding the network should be directed at Greg at (803) 271-9200 or Allison Dalton, Clemson assistant athletic director, at (803) 656-2101.

CLEMSON TIGER FOOTBALL

1981 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Clemson Milestones

Clemson has been among the elite of the Southern football powers for many years. Dating back to the early 1900s when John Heisman coached the Tigers to an undefeated season, Clemson has been synonymous with greatness on the gridiron.

The tradition flourished under Hall of Famers Jess Neely and Frank Howard as Clemson was selected to play in the Sugar, Cotton, and Orange Bowls during their combined tenure. Those gentlemen are two of the reasons Clemson has more ACC championships and more victories than any other conference school.

Danny Ford continued the tradition of excellence in the contemporary era and has brought the Clemson program to unprecedented heights. The list of accomplishments for the Clemson football program through the guidance of college football's youngest national championship head coach is second to none.

In the 1978-82 time frame Clemson had the seventh best winning percentage in the nation on the way to 46 victories and three bowl bids. The Tigers finished in the top 10 in the nation three times, one of only seven teams in the nation that could make that claim. Additionally, there were nine wins over top 20 teams, 13 All-Americans, 39 All-ACC players and 28 television appearances. All of the figures mentioned in the previous statement were high marks for the ACC.

And, most importantly, the team recorded three conference titles and the University's first unanimous National Championship. There is a new kid on the national block and he wears an orange helmet with Tiger Paws.

1982 In Review

Sept. 6 Clemson at Georgia

(National TV)
Weather: Warm, Clear 75°
Attendance: 82,122

The much-heralded matchup between the first two National Champions of the '80s, Clemson and Georgia, came down to the defenses and breaks. Clemson got the first break in the nationally televised contest when Georgia fumbled at its 11, and three plays later, Tiger quarterback Homer Jordan sneaked in from the six. Georgia got on the board in the second quarter when Dale Carver blocked a punt and Stan Dooley recovered in the end zone. Kevin Butler added two field goals to provide the final margin for the Bulldogs. This was Clemson's first loss since the 1980 season and it marked the fourth consecutive year Georgia failed to score a touchdown after a sustained drive on the Clemson defense. Also, for the third straight year, the team with the better offensive statistics lost the game.

Sept. 18 Boston College at Clemson

(Regional TV)
Weather: Hazy, Hot, 89°
Attendance: 63,118

Clemson first met Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl and the 12 contests have all been close affairs. The 13th meeting followed the pattern, as Clemson escaped with a 17-17 tie. The Tigers opened the game with a consistent ground attack that resulted in short touchdown runs by Chuck McSwain and Cliff Austin. Boston College, however, came back with an 80-yard ground march capped by Troy Stradford's 11-yard run. BC quarterback Doug Flutie completed a 58-yard air drive with a 15-yard pass to TE Chris Schoen to start the fourth quarter and Kevin Snow added a 37-yard field goal to give the Eagles a lead with 11 minutes to go. Clemson came back to tie the game on Donald Igwebuikwe's 37-yard field goal, but Igwebuikwe's 43-yard attempt with eight seconds left drifted just left and Clemson had its first tie since 1977 and its first non-decision at home since 1976. After being nationally ranked every week since the third game of the 1981 season, Clemson dropped out of the Top 20 after this game.

Sept. 25 Western Carolina at Clemson

Weather: Cloudy, Warm, 70°

Attendance: 61,369

Western Carolina played Clemson close in the 1980 campaign, but few people felt the Catamounts would play well in Death Valley in 1982. However, Western did come prepared and actually led at halftime. In the end, however, Clemson wore the Cats down for a 21-10 win. Bob Paulling kicked a 31-yard field goal to start the scoring, but WCUs Dean Biasucci kicked a 48-yard effort to tie the score. Tim Childers returned a fumble 83 yards, the longest non-scoring fumble return in ACC history, to set up Paulling's second field goal. Clemson came back in the second half with a four-play, 38-yard drive capped by Chuck McSwain's six-yard run. After a Johnny Rembert interception, McSwain carried over from the two for his second touchdown of the game. The win evened the Tigers record at 1-1-1 and Clemson reentered the nation's elite with a 19th place ranking in the UPI poll.

Oct. 2 Kentucky at Clemson

Weather: Warm, Clear, 82°

Attendance: 63,115

The Clemson senior players decided the week before the Homecoming game with Kentucky to bring out the orange pants for the fifth time and the britches did the trick as the Tigers dominated the game from start to finish. The Tiger defense held the Wildcats to minus 14 rushing yards and allowed only one sustained drive. Sophomore Mike Eppley started at quarterback and he drove the Tigers 64 yards in nine plays on the opening drive for the touchdown. Cliff Austin capped it with a five-yard run off tackle. Eppley and Kevin Mack then moved Clemson 94 yards in 11 plays, with Austin scoring his second touchdown on a one-yard blast. The second half picked up where the first ended, as Eppley drove the Tigers 79 yards and Austin scored for the third time on a 10-yard run. Anthony Parete entered in the fourth quarter and he drove Clemson to its final points of the day, a 26-yard Bob Paulling field goal. Kentucky scored its lone points after a 71-yard, 11-play drive late in the fourth quarter.

Oct. 9 Clemson at Virginia

Weather: Continuous Rain, 70°

Attendance: 30,971

WTBS brought in portable lights for the first night game ever in Scott Stadium, but Clemson was the major benefactor as the Tigers scored early and often to claim a 48-0 win. This would be one of the most productive offensive nights for Clemson, as three backs went over the 100-yard mark. Cliff Austin scored his first touchdown of the night on a fourth-and-goal situation from the one and he later added another score from the three. Bob Paulling kicked a 48-yard field goal, his career best, while Donald Igwebuikwe added a 36-yarder with three seconds left in the half. Homer Jordan and Mike Eppley joined the scoring parade, as Jordan arched a perfect 33-yard pass to Rod McSwain. Eppley made a pitch at the last possible instant to set Chuck McSwain free for an 82-yard scoring run. Clemson led 34-0 at the break. The Tigers got their final points on runs by Jeff McCall and Anthony Parete in the second half. With the shutout, Clemson recorded its 22nd win over Virginia in as many tries.

Oct. 16 Duke at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, 68°

Attendance: 62,822

It was a day for the offense to shine as Clemson rolled up 520 yards in total offense and Cliff Austin put his name in the record book as he rushed 260 yards on 27 carries. He broke Don King's standard of 234 set against Fordham in 1952. Duke struck first with an 80-yard air drive, highlighted by Ben Bennett's 42-yard pass to Chris Castor. Mike Eppley drove Clemson 80 yards on the land route and Austin scored from the one, the first of three touchdowns he would score in this game. Austin scored on a 47-yard run in the second quarter and on a four-yard blast in the third period. When Johnny Rembert intercepted his second pass in five plays, and rambled 43 yards for the touchdown, the rout was on. Anthony Parete entered late in the game and tossed a six-yard scoring pass to K.D. Dunn, and a 42-yard bomb to Frank Magwood to close out the scoring for Clemson. Clemson moved back into both wire service polls after this game with the number-20 spot in AP and a 17th-place tally in UPI.

Oct. 23 Clemson at N.C. State

Weather: Cloudy, Windy, 51°

Attendance: 47,300

There was no winner in the second annual Textile Bowl, only a survivor, as Clemson walked away with a 38-29 win over N.C. State. State scored first on a four-yard run by Joe McIntosh after Clemson fumbled the opening kickoff. Clemson scored two possessions later when Jeff McCall carried over from the one after a 50-yard, nine-play drive. After a State fumble Cliff Austin put the Tigers up on a one-yard dive over the middle. Chuck McSwain scored on the first play of the second quarter with a one-yard run to put Clemson up 21-7. State added a 43-yard field goal and after an interception, Tol Avery threw a 17-yard scoring pass to David Davis to pull State within five points. With one second left in the second quarter, Donald Igwebuikie kicked a 55-yard field goal, his career best and longest in the ACC in 1982, against the wind to give Clemson a 24-16 lead at intermission. In the third quarter, Austin scored from the 14 and McCall added another touchdown from the one to push the Tigers' lead to 38-16. This marked Clemson's fifth straight win after an 0-1-1 start to the season.

Nov. 6 North Carolina at Clemson

Weather: Sunny, Clear, 54°

Attendance: 63,788

The Clemson-North Carolina showdown in 1981 was the biggest game in the ACC's history with both teams ranked in the Top 10. The 1982 contest was just as exciting and important in determining the league champion. Rod Elkins drove UNC 65 yards to the Clemson 19, on the first series, but on fourth down, he was injured and would not return. He had hit seven straight passes to set up a field goal. Mike Eppley marched Clemson 50 yards in eight plays and Bob Paulling knotted the scorer with a 46-yard effort. Scott Stankavage moved the Heels to the Tiger 20, where Barwick added a 36-yard kick. Clemson then drove 80 yards in 14 plays to score its only touchdown of the game on a five-yard sprint out pass from Eppley to Frank Magwood. After a 33-yard pass from Eppley to Magwood, Paulling added his second field goal, a 42-yarder, and Clemson led 13-6 at the half. After a 23-yard punt return, the Tar Heels moved 55 yards in eight plays to score on Stankavage's three-yard toss to Arnold Franklin to tie the score at 13. Paulling added the final points of the day with a 46-yard field goal. North Carolina moved to the Clemson 15 on its last possession, but two successive incomplete passes gave Clemson the ball, and the Tigers were able to run out the clock for the win.

Maryland is the only conference team with an overall edge in the series over Clemson, but each time the game has been for the ACC championship Clemson has been the victor. Although the 1982 contest only decided a portion of the title, Clemson still prevailed 24-22. On Clemson's first possession, Mike Eppley guided the Tigers on a 16-play, 65-yard land drive. Cliff Austin carried the final five yards for the score. After a short Maryland punt gave Clemson the ball at the Terp 28, it only took seven plays before Chuck McSwain carried over from the one. Maryland then drove 71 yards in 14 plays to get on the scoreboard as Chris Badanjek carried the final yard to make the score 14-7 Clemson at the half. Homer Jordan drove Clemson 42 yards for the third touchdown. Kevin Mack capped the drive with a one-yard plunge. Bob Paulling added a 16-yard field goal as the final quarter began and Clemson led 24-7. Maryland came back in the final period as Boomer Esiason passed 37 yards to Greg Hill. On the Terps' next possession, Esiason passed 70 of the 71 yards of the drive, and Badanjek scored from the one. Maryland had one more opportunity, but Billy Davis ended the threat with an interception and Clemson ran out the clock. Clemson moved back into the Top 10 after this game.

Nov. 20 South Carolina at Clemson

Weather: Cloudy, Mild, 52°

Attendance: 66,210

The 80th renewal of the Clemson-South Carolina game had all of the earmarks of an upset, as USC came into the game with a 4-6 record, while Clemson was 7-1-1 with a seven-game winning streak. An inspired South Carolina drove to the Clemson eight-yard line before the Tiger defense and the slippery footing stopped the drive, and Mark Fleetwood kicked a 30-yard field goal to start the scoring. A 51-yard pass from Homer Jordan to Jeff Stockstill moved the Tigers to the USC 9, and Cliff Austin ran off tackle on the next play to score. Mike Eppley engineered an 18-play, 91-yard land drive in the second quarter that consumed seven minutes and 25 seconds, and Chuck McSwain carried the final yard for the points. Near the end of the half, Terry Kinard intercepted his 17th career pass, which tied the ACC career marks for thefts. Austin ran most of an 80-yard drive at the start of the fourth quarter and he closed out his career with a two-yard touchdown run. Austin gained 117 yards on the day and he became Clemson's seventh leading career rusher with 2,139 yards. The Clemson seniors closed out their home careers with a 19-4-1 record for four seasons and the game marked Clemson's third straight win over arch-rival South Carolina.

Nov. 28 Clemson vs. Wake Forest

(Toyko, Japan - Mirage Bowl)

Weather: Clear, 48°

Attendance: 80,000

Clemson traveled 8,000 miles to claim its ninth overall ACC title and its third in five years with a 21-17 win over determined Wake Forest. The Tigers donned the orange pants for the eighth time in the sixth annual Mirage Bowl and for the eighth time, the "pants factor" did the trick. After James Farr recovered a fumbled Wake Forest punt, Clemson moved 25 yards in seven plays to score on Kevin Mack's one-yard dive. Wake then drove 71 yards in 12 plays to take the lead on Gary Schofield's two-yard toss to Dan Dougherty and Harry Newsome's conversion. Clemson then drove to the Wake 13, where Bob Paulling kicked a 30-yard field goal. A fumbled kickoff gave Clemson the ball at the Wake 22 and Homer Jordan threw a touchdown pass to K.D. Dunn two plays later. Clemson led 16-7 at halftime. The Deacons took the second half kickoff and drove 77 yards to the Tiger three before Newsome kicked a 20-yard field goal. Clemson took the next drive and worked down to the Wake 26 and Paulling added a 43-yard placement. Wake Forest narrowed the gap with an 85-yard pass-run play from Schofield to Tim Ryan. Clemson got its final points late in the game when Schofield was pinned in the endzone by Jim Scott and William Devane for a safety.

Clemson Memorial Stadium

For the past several years, the old problem of supply and demand has been causing headaches for the Clemson ticket office. With ticket demands going through the roof and only a limited amount of seats, something had to be done. The answer was the new upper deck for Clemson's Memorial Stadium.

For the third time in the last five years an addition has been completed which makes "Death Valley" look even more ominous to visiting opponents. The north stands have been double-decked since the 1982 season, bringing the permanent seating capacity of Memorial Stadium to 73,915.

Western Carolina Prospectus

Western Carolina coach Bob Waters looks at the upcoming season with guarded optimism due to lack of an experienced quarterback on the depth chart, a lack of depth in some areas, and a difficult early-season schedule. The strengths of the Catamounts will be the skill players on offense, a developing offensive line, a strong defensive front, a talented secondary and a solid kicking game.

Western will open the '83 season without a pair of All-Southern Conference performers in tailback Anthony James and quarterback Ronnie Mixon, but the returning talent is impressive. Leonard Williams and Melvin Dorsey are veteran backs with much playing time while Ron Edmondson and Randy Mosteller were impressive last season as rookies. Western's trademark is the forward pass, and "Mini-Cats" Eric Rasheed (5-8) and Kristy Kiser (5-7) return as starters to continue that tradition of filling the airways.

The defensive front at Western enters the season as possibly the strongest since the school entered the Southern Conference in 1977. End Louis Cooper and Bernard Jones combined for 27 tackles in opponent backfields last season, while Mark Buffamoyer and Jim Luther return as starters in the line.

The kicking game is regarded by many as Western's strongest in many seasons with all-conference Dean Biasucci (17-26 in field goals and 22-24 in extra points) handling the placements and Steve Kornegay (41.0 yard average as a freshman) doing the punting.

Boston College Prospectus

An explosive offensive backfield, a battle-tested defense and one of the nation's most challenging schedules are the highlights of the 1983 Boston College football outlook.

"We have the opportunity to be a very good football team in 1983," says third-year coach Jack Bicknell. Bicknell, the unanimous choice as District I Coach-of-the-Year last season, directed the 1982 Eagles to an 8-2-1 regular season record and a berth in the Tangerine Bowl -- Boston College's first postseason appearance in 40 years.

Bicknell's optimism is well-founded. Heading the list of returning players is one of the premier quarterbacks in the nation -- Doug Flutie. Flutie, a 5'10", 175 lbs. junior, passed for a school record 2,749 yards last season and pitched 13 touchdown strikes along the way. He picked up just about every individual honor offered in the region as he helped engineer one of the Eagles' most successful seasons in a generation. After throwing two interceptions in the first half against Clemson last year, Flutie completed 18-35 attempts for the game for 242 yards. The nimble Flutie engineered three scoring drives in the second half and actually had given BC the lead before Clemson came back to tie.

On the defensive side of the ball, senior linebacker Steve DeOssie (6-2, 240 lbs.) is a one-man wrecking crew who will be a strong candidate to joining Flutie on the All-America rosters this season. Playing in only 10 games last year, DeOssie led the team with 135 tackles -- 17 of them against Clemson, and 21 more against West Virginia.

The defensive line of the Eagles is a mixture of youth and experience and should be tough against the run, with seniors Rob Swanke (6-2, 255) and Paul Shaw (6-2, 230) returning. Joining DeOssie at linebacker will be senior Ed Von Nessen and a cast of capable replacements. The secondary features three returning starters in Tony Thurman, George Radachowsky and Dave Pereira. Two backups with experience will vie for the fourth spot this fall.

The 1983 Boston College schedule is demanding. National champion Penn State heads up an impressive home schedule that also includes Alabama, Clemson and West Virginia. Traditional Eastern foes Temple, Rutgers, Syracuse, Army, Yale and Holy Cross round out the '83 slate.

Georgia Prospectus

Georgia's Bulldogs have been the winningest team in America the past three seasons with a 33-3 overall record and 32-1 regular season mark. During that stretch, the Dogs have won three SEC championships, one national championship, been to three consecutive Sugar Bowl games, and finished with national rankings of 1st (1980), 5th (1981), and 4th (1982).

Maintaining that level of success is in serious jeopardy as Vince Dooley looks to the prospects of 1983. Tops on the list of concerns is the loss of 1982 Heisman Trophy winner Herschel Walker, who is now with the USFL. The Dogs will also have to replace three other key performers on offense and rebuild the heart of the Georgia defense. The other major concern is the status of starting quarterback John Lastinger (6-1, 190, Sr.) who suffered a serious knee injury in the spring game. His rehabilitation will be slow and he's questionable in terms of the early season.

Georgia's offense will have several all-star performers to focus on especially in the offensive line. Five starters return there including tight end Clarence Kay (6-3, 225, Sr.) who Dooley says "is as good as any in the country." OT Guy McIntyre (6-3, 255, Sr.) and OT Jimmy Harper (6-5, 270, Sr.) are both all-star caliber.

The defense lost six regulars; however, returning are four 1982 all star players including All-America roverbck Terry Hoage (6-3, 196, Sr.) who led the nation in interceptions last season. Others are All-SEC players safety Jeff Sanchez (6-0, 180, Sr.), linebacker Tommy Thurson (6-2, 215, Sr.), and defensive tackle Freddie Gilbert (6-4, 245, Sr.)

All-SEC Placekicker Kevin Butler returns as a junior after two record-setting seasons to hold down the PAT and field goal chores.

Georgia Tech Prospectus

Bill Curry

Despite the presence of quite a few familiar faces, Georgia Tech football takes on a different look this fall. For the first time in almost two decades, Georgia Tech will cease to be an independent in football. Tech becomes eligible for the ACC title and no one could be happier than fourth-year coach Bill Curry. "For the first time in a long time, we are part of a conference," said Curry, whose team posted a turn-around 6-5 mark last fall. "We have a chance to be champions of something and I expect us to compete for the championship of the ACC this year."

Offensively, Tech will employ a balanced attack which revolves around the I-formation. The key area appears to be the line, where some young, untested players will have to come through. A pair of 1982 starters, seniors Derek Gwinn and Dean Waters are the cornerstones of the rebuilt line at left tackle and center, respectively.

Whomever does the blocking, they won't have to generate too much room in opposing defenses because Robert Lavette, one of the premier runners in the country, doesn't need much daylight to operate.

Lavette utilized his 4.5 40-yard dash speed last fall to lead the ACC in rushing (1,208 yards), all-purpose running (1,570 yards), scoring (10.4 points a game), and touchdowns (19). The latter mark was a school record while his scoring average was the second-best figure in the nation. A bonafide All-America candidate, Curry believes his junior tailback is potential Heisman Trophy material. Lavette's two-year totals of 2,074 rushing yards, 3,132 all-purpose yards and 156 points rank him first nationwide among returning juniors in all three categories. Among all returning players, Lavette rates fourth in career rushing, second in career scoring and second in all-purpose running.

Defensively, Tech should show considerable improvement, especially against the run. Three starters return at linebacker headed by senior Rob Horton, who is the leading returning tackler with 100 hits last fall. Joining Horton will be sophomore Ted Roof, who was named to a freshman All-America team while playing as a reserve last year. Sophomore Pat Swilling and junior Dante Jones return to man the outside linebacking posts.

In the secondary, Jack Westbrook, who led the ACC in punt returns, will be at strong safety, and Mike Travis, another returning starter, will see action at free safety or one of the corners.

Virginia Prospectus

Head coach George Welsh and his staff enter the 1983 season with far fewer question marks than existed a year ago, as Virginia hopes to improve upon the 2-9 record posted in 1982.

During the disappointing campaign last fall, Welsh's charges lost five games by a touchdown or less, including a three-point loss to N.C. State (16-13), and four-point defeats at the hands of Navy (20-16) and James Madison (21-17). One of Welsh's goals this season, aside from general team improvement, is achieving a winning record, something only two Virginia teams (1968, 1979) have been able to accomplish since 1952.

First-year tailback Antonio Rice rushed for 764 yards and six touchdowns to finish as the runner-up to Michael Ramseur for the ACC's Rookie-of-the-Year honor. During the latter part of October, Rice was the leading freshman rusher in the nation at the NCAA Division I-A level, and he ended a stellar season as UVA's leading rusher, averaging 69.5 yards per game.

Third-year man Wayne Schuchts who sat out the 1980 season after transferring to UVA from Colgate, came on in the fourth game of the year to win the starting quarterback job, only to suffer a broken rib in the third quarter of the win over VMI. Still, Schuchts' statistical performance - 76-of-176 for 1,243 yards and six touchdowns - is the eighth best year ever for a UVA quarterback, based on passing yardage, and his 320 yards passing against Wake Forest is an all-time single-game UVA mark.

With the return of these two, along with fellow Roanoke Times All-State selection Jeff Walker, Charles McDaniel and Jim Dombrowski, experience will be a plus for the Cavs in 1983.

Look for the new crop of first-year men to contribute to the Cavaliers' rising fortunes in 1983, also. "On paper, we had a good recruiting year," comments Welsh. "We got two of the three things I thought were really crucial for us. We recruited three quarterback prospects; all three of them would have a chance to play for us early here. We had about a dozen or so linemen, which we really needed badly."

Duke Prospectus

The 1983 Blue Devils return 52 lettermen and 16 starters from a team that finished 6-5 in 1982, thus achieving the school's first back-to-back winning seasons since 1970 and 1971. However, all is not rosy in the Duke camp - a closer look reveals some major losses among departed starters.

The Atlantic Coast Conference Player-of-the-Year as selected by the ACSWA, Chris Castor, is gone as are two of the best offensive tackles in the ACC, Tim Bumgarner and All-ACC performer Robert Oxendine. Fullback Greg Boone, who was nominated for the Jacobs Blocking Trophy, and the school's all-time leading receiver among tight ends, Carl Franks, have also departed. Defensively, the main loss is All-ACC linebacker Emmett Tilley.

First-year Duke coach Steve Sloan will welcome back a number of talented players for the fall campaign. Leading the returnees is All-ACC and 1982 Associated Press ACC Player-of-the-Year Ben Bennett. Bennett, who has been chosen as nearly everyone's preseason All-America choice, is the all-time leading passer in the Atlantic Coast Conference and needs only 3,009 yards to become the all-time leading passer in NCAA history. He will be joined by another bona fide All-America candidate, 1982 All-ACC center Philip Ebinger. Beyond those two, the Blue Devils will be depending heavily on tailback Mike Grayson who has led Duke in rushing the past two years, and wide receiver Mark Militello who led the ACC in receiving last year with 52 catches.

On defense, the Blue Devils return their second leading tackler from last year, linebacker Ralph Alderman, along with cornerback Johnny Hill, who intercepted four passes last season, and top-notch defensive lineman Bill Smith.

The kicking game will be handled by Ken Harper and John Tolish. Tolish averaged 41.3 yards per punt last year while scoring 53 points, hitting on 26 of 27 extra points.

N.C. State Prospectus

Coach Tom Reed, who comes to N.C. State from the cradle of college coaches, Miami of Ohio, faces a rebuilding job in his first season with the Wolfpack. Reed must find replacement for three departed offensive linemen, including two-year starter Jeff Nyce at center, and quarterback Tol Avery.

Clemson fans remember Avery because he hit 22 of 33 passes against Clemson a year ago as N.C. State scored the most points against Clemson in the last two seasons, 28. Avery is gone, but most of his receivers are back and the top running back, Joe McIntosh, who has always played well against Clemson.

One major bright spot on the offensive side, however, is that McIntosh will be returning for his junior season. McIntosh has carried over 2,000 yards in his brief career and was ACC Rookie-of-the-Year in 1981. McIntosh averaged 4.3 yards a carry last season, and he is a threat any time he touches the ball due to his 4.6 speed in the 40. Quarterback Ron Laraway, who saw a good bit of game action last year, will assume the starting signal-caller's spot and has some capable receivers in TE Tim Foster and FL Ricky Wall.

The Wolfpack's top two hit men, linebackers Vaughn Johnson (167 total tackles) and Andy Hendel (161 tackles including 15 against Clemson last season) both return to anchor the defense. N.C. State will also count on the line play of seniors Mitch Rushing at middle guard and Todd Blackwell at one of the tackle positions.

The secondary is somewhat suspect, as starters Dee Dee Hoggard, Eric Williams and Perry Williams have all graduated. Reed will have to build a secondary around senior Don Wilson, who was the leading tackler among the defensive backs and third-leading tackler on the team.

The Wolfpack started a pair of freshmen kickers last season in Mike Cofer (placements) and Marty Martinussen (punts) and they did a more than adequate job. Cofer kicked a 43-yard field goal against Clemson last year, so the N.C. State kicking chores are in good hands.

State faces a relatively easy schedule, so Reed's rebuilding effort may go along better than planned, but he has to find consistency at quarterback and the secondary must grow up in a hurry.

Wake Forest Prospectus

With sixteen starters returning from last year's squad and an experienced senior class, Deacon Head Coach Al Groh is optimistic about the 1983 season. After finishing a year ago with a 3-8 record Groh feels his Wake Forest squad has benefitted from the additional year of experience.

The most experienced of the team's units is the offense which returns nine starters from a year ago. One of the strongest parts of the team will be the offensive line where senior guard Danny Martin anchors a line which should be much improved over a year ago. Martin, an All-ACC candidate, will be joined by returning starters Ken McAllister (G), Michael Nessel (C), and Bobby Morrison (T) to give the Deacon offense the ability to run or pass with effectiveness.

The key to the Deacon passing game lies in the arm of senior Gary Schofield, one of the most prolific passers in Atlantic Coast Conference history. All-ACC split end Tim Ryan has been moved to flanker while Chip Richmond will be the other starting split end. Kevin Wiczorek will replace two time All-ACC tight end Phil Denfeld.

Another bright spot in the Deacon offense is the return of a group of talented young running backs led by ACC Rookie-of-the-Year Michael Ramsey. Ramsey will be joined by senior fullback Dan Dougherty as well as sophomore Topper Clemons and freshman Ira McKeller.

The defense should be led by linebacker Malcolm Hairston and strong safety Danny Rocco. Hairston should be improved with a year of experience at linebacker under his belt while Rocco returns for what should be an outstanding senior season.

The play of the defensive line should be improved with veterans Tim Salley, Bruce Mark, Michael Hodgson, and Tony Coates returning. The linebacking corp should also be improved with Steve Litaker joining Hairston as David Phiel and Todd Landis return as the leading candidates at outside linebacker.

The secondary will have several new faces to go along with returning starters Danny Rocco and Ronnie Burgess, who has been shifted to cornerback from free safety.

Sophomore Rory Holt, who saw action as a starter at the end of last season is expected to start at the other cornerback while sophomore Reggie McCummings, a wide receiver as a freshman, is the leading candidate for the starting free safety spot.

North Carolina Prospectus

Despite major losses in the offensive front, North Carolina could again challenge for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship this fall. The Tar Heels were 8-4 last year, finishing 13th and 18th in the wire service polls. However, several key players are gone from that team, including All-America guard David Drechsler, All-ACC guard Ron Spruill, tailback Kelvin Bryant, All-ACC linebacker Chris Ward and All-ACC outside linebacker Mike Wilcher.

Still, Coach Dick Crum has the nucleus remaining to field another strong team. Heading the list of returnees for Carolina is All-America defensive tackle William Fuller, a finalist for the Outland Trophy last fall. Other top all-star candidates for the Tar Heels are offensive tackle Brian Blados, place-kicker Brooks Barwick, strong safety Willie Harris, tailback Tyrone Anthony, tailback Ethan Horton and tight end Arnold Franklin. Carolina set a school total offense record last season and the offense again has fine potential if replacements can be found for Drechsler, Spruill and center Steve McGrew.

Scott Stankavage is a capable quarterback and Eddie Colson is a top-flight fullback. The tailback spot is in good hands with Anthony and Horton replacing Bryant. Although three of last year's front five are missing on defense, that unit should again be a solid one. The kicking game figures to be a strong point with the return of punter David Lowe, kickoff man Rob Rogers and Barwick, who made 20 of 23 field goals last season.

Maryland Prospectus

Bobby Ross, in his first year as the Maryland football coach, installed a new offense that produced 35 school records and led the Atlantic Coast Conference in scoring with 32.1 points a game.

It would seem the loss of 10 lettermen from the offensive unit would create a problem in 1983 but in reality the offense could be improved this fall. Quarterback Boomer Esiason and the entire starting backfield returns. Esiason, one of the top quarterbacks in the nation last fall was even more impressive in the spring and according to Coach Ross made great improvement. Esiason passed for 2,553 yards and 20 touchdowns in '82 including a 251 yard and two touchdown performance against Washington in the Aloha Bowl.

Willie Joyner rushed for 1039 yards and seven touchdowns as the starting running back and Dave D'Addio returns as the fullback. Sophomore Rick Badanjek has worked at both running back and fullback and scored nine touchdowns as a freshman.

Defensively, the system has been the same for the past decade but seven starters in the eight man front are gone with only J.D. Gross returning as a starter up front. The secondary should be improved with experience and added talent. While the defense will not be the overpowering defense Terrapin fans have become accustomed to, it should be more than adequate. There is a decided lack of experience up front and a lack of depth.

Esiason and offensive guard Ron Solt are All-America candidates, according to Coach Ross. Jess Atkinson carries a streak of 51 consecutive extra point kicks into the season and has scored 147 career points with 63 of 65 PAT's and 28 of 43 field goal attempts.

Outside linebacker J.D. Gross and inside linebacker Eric Wilson should excell along with Lendell Jones in the secondary. Jones had seven pass interceptions last fall including, a Maryland and ACC record, four in the Duke game.

Pete Kock and Tyrone Furman will anchor the defensive line while Kevin Glover has made the move from tackle to center and could excell there.

South Carolina Prospectus

A new era in South Carolina football begins as Joe Morrison starts his first season as head coach of the Gamecocks. The task in front of Morrison will not be an easy one, but with 45 total lettermen returning, it could be made much easier. The Gamecocks entertain one of the toughest schedules in football, playing four post-season bowl teams and opponents who won 69 percent of their games in 1982.

Mark Fleetwood, a senior placekicker, returns as one of the team's top All-America candidates. Last season, Fleetwood kicked 19 of 20 extra points and had 17 of 18 field goals. He kicked a school-record 58-yard field goal against Georgia last season and is 27 of 33 in field goals in his two-year career.

Key offensive starters returning include Thomas Dendy, a sophomore running back, Todd Berry, a senior running back, and Cas Danielowski, a senior offensive guard. Dendy gained 848 yards last season on the ground and was named one of the 12 best freshman players by USA Today. Berry gained 577 yards last season on the ground including 129 yards against Navy.

Key defensive starters returning include J.D. Fuller, a senior inside linebacker, and Rickey Hagood, a senior middle guard. Fuller was in on 121 tackles last season and also had three interceptions. Fuller has been in double figures in tackles 18 of his 22 games. Hagood, whose enormous size (6-3, 285), makes him one of the stellar defensive linemen on the squad, had 98 tackles last season.

Tiger Bowl Games Reviewed

1940 Cotton Bowl January 1, 1940 - Dallas, TX Clemson 6, Boston College 3

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season and had come within a blocked extra point of escaping the regular season without a loss. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wistar Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Bryant missed the extra point.

A 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 45-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

1949 Gator Bowl January 1, 1949 - Jacksonville, FL Clemson 24, Missouri 23

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shut out of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led 7-0.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After the kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play march with quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw an errant lateral that hit the ground in the end zone and was covered by a teammate for a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched a 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, halfback Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

1951 Orange Bowl
January 1, 1951 – Miami, FL
Clemson 15, Miami (FL) 14

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shut-outs. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back" to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40 and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami went 95-yards in five plays for its second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time at 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitchout from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. J.D. Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

1952 Gator Bowl

January 1, 1952 – Jacksonville, FL

Miami (FL) 14, Clemson 0

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game – a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, as defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricane did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

1957 Orange Bowl

January 1, 1957 – Miami, FL

Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later starred with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Trailing 20-0, Clemson coach Frank Howard told his players that he would resign if they did not play any better in the second half. Having been sufficiently shaken, Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells's three-yard run. Bussey's extra point try was good.

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a reverse for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

1959 Sugar Bowl

January 1, 1959 - New Orleans, LA

LSU 7, Clemson 0

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored early and often to take 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

1959 Bluebonnet Bowl

December 19, 1959 - Houston, TX

Clemson 23, Texas Christian 7

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started to put Clemson up 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard halfback pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns to put the Tigers ahead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for one score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide and Clemson led 16-7.

Clemson returned to their running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

1977 Gator Bowl

December 30, 1977 – Jacksonville, FL

Pittsburgh 34, Clemson 3

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making their first bowl appearance in 17 years. First-year coach Charlie Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending national champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football prowess for Clemson.

1978 Gator Bowl

December 29, 1978 - Jacksonville, FL

Clemson 17, Ohio State 15

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller, himself, ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive, but an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big-Ten team.

1979 Peach Bowl
 December 31, 1979 – Atlanta, GA
 Baylor 24, Clemson 18

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' led to 24-10.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining second for the win.

1982 Orange Bowl
 January 1, 1982 – Miami, FL
 Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big-Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 27 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big-Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble game Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-America receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis' 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Jeff Davis, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive and the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.
