ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Praise to the almighty God for giving me the faith and strength to complete this thesis. Despite all the obstacles, I somehow knew that you would not let me struggle alone. Thank you for being with me along the journey to the completion of my master's degree.

My deepest appreciation goes to my supervisor, Madam Kan Ngat Har, who has been earnestly and patiently giving me guidance, advice and suggestions for making this thesis valuable. Thank you for your guidance and support. Without your direction I would have not been able to complete this work. I am truly honoured and grateful to have had the opportunity to work under your supervision. My thanks also go to Miss Ruth Ong Lok Tik, who gave me guidance in the early stages of the writing of my thesis. Thank you again.

To all my comrades: Alice, Marleena, Wendy and Clarice; my sister, Zamzarina, thank you for being supportive in your respective ways. My profound thanks go to my dearest friend and colleague, Jane, who never stopped encouraging and motivating me throughout the writing of my thesis. Without your moral support and words of encouragement, I would not have handled this battle successfully.

Lastly, to all the staff of the Faculty of Languages and Linguistics, University of Malaya who have worked along with me, thank you for making my study here a pleasant

one. To my dean, Dr. Andreas Totu, thank you for your advice and support, and of course, to University of Malaysia Sabah, thank you for sponsoring my study. To all my respondents in the study, thank you for your cooperation and for permitting me to use the information we collected together for the purpose of this study. To all, I'm truly thankful!
