"The Cry of Youth"

Under this appropriate heading, Dr. John W. Carr, president of Murray State College, publishes in this paper this week as well as in every newspaper in Western Kentucky, "an appeal to the people of Western Kentucky" which should bring a deep throbbing heart to the purchase that is interested in the least in the most important task of our lives—the proper training and education of our young men and young women.

Not only is this letter being broadcast through the press but a copy of it is being mailed to every school executive, each minister of the gospel, the entire list of women's clubs and civic clubs in the districts and in each county in Western Kentucky.

Surely this eloquent and touching appeal will not fall on ears that will not hear or hearts that will not feel. There can be nothing sadder than a deserving boy or girl denied, through circumstances beyond his or her control, the glorious opportunity to obtain a college education. It is an opportunity that is fleeting, a current that must be taken when it serves or we will lose our ventures.

Youth is with these young people but, for a little while. It must not be that they shall have to stand by the roadside and watch, with agonized eyes, opportunity go by and they cannot grasp it. There is an old saying that "where there's a will, there's a way." We trust that those who are in position to aid some worthy boy or girl will lend a helping hand in the hour of need. If some boy or girl has abandoned hope that he or she will renew their courage, big a little deeper and labor a little harder to realize their dream.

This community needs these boys and girls just as they need Murray College. Surely, Murray ought, like Abou Ben Adhem, lead the names of all the rest when the roll is called of those who have served best in opening the gates of opportunity to eager youth, which is crying for a chance to help itself.

And when the people of Western Kentucky respond to this clarion, impassioned appeal they come not to the aid of Dr. Carr, of the college, of the community, of Murray or even the boys and girls—but to themselves as a people and a section.

College Education Pays

College campuses from Maine to California and from Florida to the frozen fastnesses of Northern Canada will blossom forth in the early autumn, with a brilliant crop of green, perhaps the only example of nature's handiwork which does don a coat of green at the time of the first frost. Thousands of boys and girls as well, products of last June's high school and preparatory school graduating classes, will enter upon the most important period of their education. Their motives for entering college are many and varied, and range from the desire to "make" the football team to spend four years in what seems a prison, where learning is forced upon unwilling neophytes in allopathic doses. It is only fair that the freshman should know what he is going to receive in college and to what extent he will be benefited.

This association is a more or less intimate friendship with members of the college faculty and should beget in him a proper respect for intellectual prowess. He will meet men who through long devotion think their lines of work outshine all others. Thus a capacity for judgment if formed in discerning the more important from other degrees of importance. Constant mingling with his kind in all manner of college and extra-college activities has a large effect upon the forming of character in the young student. A man who can meet men upon a common ground of intelligence and good judgment, discuss the problems of the day in the manner which he learned in college circles stands higher in the opinions of his fellows. But character and personality without learning to do constitute a college education, no does a pedantic belief that "book knowledge" is sufficient. Athletics, class room mental vigor and campus activities all contribute toward the finished product of a college graduate. A college man has learned to think, to concentrate upon a question and delve into myriads of conglomerate facts and extract those applicable to the subject.

JUST JOTS

By Joe

The back page cover of the Saturday Evening-Post costs more for one issue than the entire annual advertising revenue of The Ledger & Times even in 1929. Probably not the smartest thing he has done but ranking high among his astute public acts is President Roosevelt's decision not to ask a two hundred million dollar loan to Russia.

Harry Lee Waterfield has made a notable and laudable improvement of the Hickman County Gazette, Clinton, which he recently bought. Mr. Waterfield has just installed a new Linotype machine with the most modern type faces which give his paper an appearance of the highest excellence but the greatest improvement is in the all-important matter of content. A town several times the size of Clinton might justly be proud of the paper Mr. Waterfield is publishing. And since he is a native of Calloway county and a graduate of Murray State College, we take a special pride in his accomplishments.

WANTS INFORMATION ON STONE SCHOOL

September 6, 1934. To Readers of Ledger & Times: I am taking this means of gathering some information which is of very great interest to me, and I feel that the readers of this valuable paper can furnish the data desired.

I should like to know the names of the teachers of Stone School from the beginning of its history and any other historical data concerning the establishment of this school. I feel that it is improbable that any one individual possesses knowledge of all this information. I should like to know the name of the teacher, the date of his years of service in the school, and his present address if he is living. I also would like to have the name and address of individuals who formerly attended Stone School and have gone out into the World and achieved distinction in any particular line of endeavor.

I will appreciate a letter from any one having any of the above information which we feel will contribute to a program in which a great many people in Calloway County will be interested. Yours truly, Ernest H. Cannon, Registrar, Western State Teachers College.

A watch will be given to the Jessamine county Negro 4-H club boy who has the best record in the care and feeding of pigs.

CHOICE OF EGG, NUT, LUMP

The applications out? You will receive a letter of explanation. This committee has worked hard and long on this and we feel they have about gotten everything in fine order. They should be commended for their untiring work.

Feed stuff is going to be high if bought this winter and every one should store all feed for winter that they can get in. Be sure each farmer has enough not to have to buy. If any one has surplus hay, it should be easy to dispose of this year at a fairly good price. See lots of hay being cut now and think it is a wise idea to put up all that one has.

Murray should be proud of her municipal airport, at least in comparison with Paducah. Our field is smooth and mowed while Paducah's simply appears to be and is nothing but a weedy field with markers in the corners. If we keep our field in good shape, as we have thusfar, there is no doubt but that fliers will seek it out when they are obliged to land in this section. We are candidates for Western Kentucky airplane stops.

At least the bi-partisan combine practices the state motto, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

With the close of our work Saturday, we had taken 714 Cotton Tax Exemption Applications which represented 3000 acres, according to the applications.

We hope to have the warrants here for distribution early part of next month, according to Clyn E. Williamson, cotton assistant.

We received for distribution, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, 256 rental checks for tobacco totaling $4,583.60, and we are expecting some more in a day or so.

To date we have had about 600 applications for Tax Exemption on tobacco and we will continue to receive applications this week.

Our county allotment committee has met their quota allotted to them from the State Statisticians office and the contracts will be ready for the second signatures by the last of the week. It is very important to get all these signed and moved to Washington at once. We only have 15 days to accomplish the rest of this work and we hope all contract signers will be at the appointed place on the day notified and at the proper place. This will cause less confusion and will assist in moving.

Valley charges breach of promise suit against him is crank litigation. He, him, maybe the boy's right at that.

When some perplexed person inquires "Where are we going?" the said thing is that no one knows.

Cubs trying to sell Chuck Klein reminds us that many people don't want what they wanted after they get it.

A tobacco exchange has opened in New York but the tobacco exchange we are interested in is the exchange of about 20 cents a pound from the buyer to the Calloway county grower.

Another thing wrong about law enforcement is that criminals only too often give nothing but bond and get nothing but a trial.

Thoroughbreds Preparing for Toughest Schedule in Their History

37 Reporting to Coach Stewart Daily; Night Football in New Stadium, Plan

Thirty-seven Thoroughbreds are being groomed by Coach Roy Stewart, assisted by Athletic Director Carlisle Cutchin and Freshman Mentor John Miller, for the S. I. A. A. 1934 Derby. The Racehorses will not go to the post in the conference race until October 8 when Stetson University comes to Murray for the first engagement between the two eleven. A trial match will be run here on September 23 or 29 with Lambuth College as the opponent.

Prospects for another great Blue and Gold eleven are bright but the enthusiasts who would predict that the Thoroughbreds would make it two undefeated and untied seasons in a row would simply be letting his loyalty run away with his judgment. Murray has, by far, the stiffest schedule in her history, and it will be much more difficult to run off without serious trouble than last year's card, which itself was tough plenty.

Waiting to Prove Staff
Neither Stewart nor his charges have cold feet toward any foe on the program; neither are they going out and broadcasting to the cock-eyed world that they are lords of all they survey. They have simply decided that they are going to do their whangest to capture every conflict—preferring to win their victories on the sod than in the locker room.

Work on the college stadium was renewed last week through the Emergency Relief Administration. Approximately 30 men, each working 35 hours a week, are employed on the project. They have been busy this week laying forms to close the gap in the west side tier of seats and expect to be ready to pour concrete the middle of next week.

The entire field has been sodded and this week's rains have been favorable to the new grass getting a toe-hold. While the playing field in the new stadium is not drained it is "turtle-backed" and will drain readily.

While the field may not be ready for the Lambuth game, a majority of the home games this year will be played in the stadium, in which the college, the community and this section take just pride.

Murray has too many stars who have won their spurs to need enumeration. Those fellows who won S. I. A. A. and all-State mention—last year certainly need no boosts in this article. Simmons, Buge, Woodall, Mullins, McKenzie, Wesley, Ken, Elder, Thurman, Moss, Greenwell, and Keith King have all won their spurs and just about everyone, especially those who played against them the past two years, know what they can do.

Good Fresh Recruits
From last year's freshman squad there are Miller, Alderson, Herndon, Land, Duguid, Tolson, Gunter, Taylor and Basan. Alderson and Miller are a pair of likely-looking ends—but whether either can make us forget the dependable and alert Brinkley will depend entirely upon them.

There is no doubt but that Land is going to be a power in that line. This baby is plenty tough and he can take it, as his opponents are going to well find out ere 1934 has joined her sister years in gridiron history. We call him "Pig Iron."

Gunter is a plugging young center from Paducah who should prove a capable understudy for McKenzie and Wesley. And Jim Edd Duguid, a local boy, should show the stuff that's truly in him in that line this fall. Jim Edd has gotten to be a big boy and learned a lot of football last fall.

Organ Back in Fold
One of the big gains this fall is the return to the fold of Casey Organ, who was such a power on the 1932 freshman team. Organ is a big, powerful, smashing line-man who can take it and give it in a big way. Benny Cook, who was quite handy around last fall, had scholastic difficulties and dropped out of school. Benny will be missed.

Lester King is another valued player to return to school this fall and is a candidate for a steady berth. Bradley Thurman, a swell ball player, and Lester are fighting deadly competition for all they have to beat out of a job at fullback is none other than Mr. Keith King, who plows like a No. 19 Oliver and bowed over enemy tacklers like nine-pens all last fall.

Russell McCracken is looking like a real ball player out there every afternoon. Mac had a bum ankle that slowed him up considerably last fall but this season is in fine fettle.

Stumpy Rayburn should be valuable in the line and Nob Shelton has the final year to prove himself a crackerjack end. Same goes for Joe Torrence, who needs ped out of school. Benny will be missed.

Union is also said to have the best team in the past six years and the Big Red may cause the Horses some difficulty.

Vaughan Woodall, the blond buckaroo from Marion, Ky., and the mightiest atom in the S. I. A. A. will lead the Racehorses from his tackle position. "Weenie" is a vigorous fighter with more determination than an Army mule and the bird who lays down in a ball game is going to have Woodall promptly on his neck.

1933 Stars Missed
There is no doubt but that the Blue and Gold will sadly miss Captain Leonard Bryant, Howard Allen, Herman Shaw, Ronald Brinkley, Darom Grisson and some others but there's no reason why Stewart shouldn't have as good a team this year as last, even though he may drop a game or two.

Direcfs Athletics

to speed up his getaway. Joe is a big powerful boy. Taylor is showing some nice stuff at end and Tolson should be a mighty good man to have around. Charley Jenkins and Scotty Morse have this last year to prove themselves the backs they ought to be. Charley was kept out practically all last season by illness. "Moheek" is as fast a man as there is on the field if he would ever decide to use that speed in a game.

Lambeth Is Stronger
If reports from the Lambuth camp are true the first contest will not be a set-up. The Methodists had a right fair squad last year and meeting them right after the Western game, the Thoroughbred varsity had its uncomfortable moments. Lambuth is said to have had such a good fresh team last year that only two of 1933's regulars are able to make the first team this season.

Lester King is another valued player to return to school this fall and is a candidate for a steady berth. Bradley Thurman, a swell ball player, and Lester are fighting deadly competition for all they have to beat out of a job at fullback is none other than Mr. Keith King, who plows like a No. 19 Oliver and bowed over enemy tacklers like nine-pens all last fall.

And the first fan who hollers "wool" when a game goes wrong this year should be promptly taken out and shot.

The year's card follows—

Vaughan Woodall, the blond buckaroo from Marion, Ky., and the mightiest atom in the S. I. A. A. will lead the Racehorses from his tackle position. "Weenie" is a vigorous fighter with more determination than an Army mule and the bird who lays down in a ball game is going to have Woodall promptly on his neck.

Coach Ty Holland Faces Huge Task of Rebuilding Tiger 11 Around 5 Men

Graduation is the goal sought by every high school student and commencement is the culmination of a high school career but the joy of that spectacular and desired occasion often brings nothing but a severe headache to a football coach who must, perforce of his profession, always look ahead to the season of the year when the nights turn cooler and the leaves turn brown.

Which is just another way of saying that Coach Preston Holland, "Ty" to his myriad of friends, is faced with the stupendous task of building a winner at Murray High School this year with the nucleus of five lettermen. Which bold statement is enough to bring an ague and cold sweat to any coach even in a midnight dream. But those who know Coach Holland and the boys he has under his wing at Murray high school this fall are confident that ere this season has been dropped into the ash can that the Tigers will have an eleven that everyone of us can justly be proud of. There are several reasons for this.

In the first place Ty has already shown that he can take a more or less incoherent mass of aspiring young football players and wield them into something that bears a striking resemblance to a real football team.

In the next aisle, the boys who play football at Murray high school have a deep respect and in most cases a genuine affection for the quiet, modest, efficient young man who strives so diligently and efficiently to teach them what this great American game is all about and how to play it as a team instead of eleven individuals.

This doesn't mean that we are predicting the Tigers to have a team like that of 1932 and neither is anyone else. Such a prognostication would be suicidal—at least to the alleged prophet's reputation as a football seer.

Glen Warner, Howard Jones or even the late, lamented Knute Rockne couldn't take five lettermen and build a championship eleven. It just simply isn't being so these days—or any other days, past or future.

In fact, the Tigers are almost sure to get off to a slow start and a few lickings along the start shouldn't discourage the boys, the coach or their many loyal supporters in Murray. An entirely new team must be molded, experiments must be performed to determine how this and that will work. Unfortunately, football teams can't be built on paper. The only successful method is trial and error. There's a big opportunity for errors and it certainly is a trial—especially to the instructor.

Thanks to the Murray softball league the Tigers will have a splendidly lighted field this year and it is to be hoped that the attraction of night football will bring some badly needed shekels in the Tiger coffers.

But to get to the team. About thirty-five boys are working out diligently and they are working hard for some previously unhardened and unused lads are going to get those six open places in the starting lineup. At least six starters do not have letters for only Wayne Flora, captain and center, Dynamite Dunn, full back, Coy, James Rudy Allbritten and "Dub" Elkins have earned their "M's".

Coach Holland has a valued assistant in Paul Perdue, the peppery little guard and captain of the Thoroughbreds in 1933, who is deserving most of his time to the line. Charles T. Yarbrough, "Dub" Russell, Pogue Outland, Charles Jones, graduated Tigers, have also been lending a helping hand this week toward getting the boys in shape.

The sterling worth of the five lettermen enumerated above is well known. James Rudy Allbritten appears to have developed more than any of the quiet since last year and I'll venture to assert that, barring injuries, James Rudy will be getting a good share of the limelight this year. That is, if he carries on as he has begun.

Flora was only a substitute last year but is capable performer and a leader—depended on and liked by all his teammates. Dynamite Dunn, of course, speaks for himself through his feet as he darts up and down the field. Dynamite has gained 15 pounds since last season, now weighing in at 141, and has lost none of his speed. Just as tough as ever, too.

Gene Irwin, on the varsity for the first time, shows high promise and Faughan, who got in some games last year, gives every evidence of performance.

Elkins appears set for a big year at end and Bill McCoy could make the varsity if he would just ever make up his mind that he wants to.

Among the more promising of the non-letter men, in addition to those suggested above, are R. Stubbins, end; Pat Covington, quarter and Van Hais, guard.

The enthusiasm, energy and loyalty of the Tigers as they get ready is inspiring to all who watch them. The boys have the spirit that builds winning teams.

The first test of the new machine is nigh on us as the squad will journey to Morganfield Friday week to meet the Guerrillas, always a good team—A goodly crowd of fans is planning to go and lend their hearty encouragement to the cause.

The following Friday night, the initial night contest will be held with McKenzie, a long-standing foe, on the bill. The full schedule follows:

Sept. 21, Morganfield, there; Sept. 23, McKenzie, here, night; Oct. 5, Metropolis, there; Oct. 12, Mayfield, here, night; Oct. 19, Bowling Green, here; Oct. 26, Central City, here, night; Nov. 2, Fulton, there; Nov. 9, Dawson, here; Nov. 16, Princeton, here; Nov. 23, Grove High School, there.

Other games on the schedule may be changed to night games.

Bernice Grogan Severely Injured

Bernice Grogan, about 65, prominent farmer of the east side of the county, will recover from severe and painful injuries which he suffered Friday night of last week when the buggy in which he was riding was struck by a truck of the Bishop Transfer Co. driven by Wilfred James.

Mr. Grogan was pinned on his right side resulting in the shattering of his right hip and the breaking of his right collar bone and four ribs. Fortunately no complications have developed and Mr. Grogan will be able to leave the Mason Memorial Hospital in a few days. His physician, Dr. H. Calvin Smith, said, however, that Mr. Grogan would have to convalesce several months at home. He was resting well the middle of the week.

Few details of the accident were obtained. The driver stopped but became frightened and left the scene of the accident. Relatives said, however, that they did not blame him for the accident and no charges have been placed.

Mr. Grogan's horse was discovered grazing in the yard of a neighbor who investigated and Mr. Grogan was found lying unconscious on the highway. He was brought to the hospital by Charley Hale, who happened along a few minutes after Mr. Grogan was

Ford Tri-motored Plane Visits City

A Ford tri-motored plane visited the city Monday under the sponsorship of Beale Motor Co. and the Jackson Purchase Oil Co. The big bus came in from Paducah at eleven o'clock and remained over until the same hour Tuesday, when it took off for Mayfield.

Quite a number took rides Monday afternoon and several went up Tuesday morning.

A party of nine Murrayans drove down to Paducah Monday morning and rode the big ship back to Murray. They were T. O. Buncum, Oda McDaniel, T. Sledd, Jr., Charley Crawford, Gingles Wallis, Harry Sledd, R. H. Falwell, Earl Holland. They reported an uneventful trip, taking 33 minutes from the take-off at Paducah. The ride was slow and a little rough due to a cross wind.

The pilots also lost their direction temporarily when they followed the Illinois Central railroad toward Mayfield, mistaking it for the N. C. & St. L. line south.

Counties To Get Sales Tax Shares

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6.—Distribution of the counties' share of the three per cent gross receipts tax collection probably will begin in November followed by allotments at quarterly intervals.

If the new tax produces $10,500,000—the estimate of its sponsors at the special legislative session—the counties will receive $3,500,000 a year as the law requires that one-third of the revenue be distributed among the counties on the following basis: One-third according to population, one-third according to area, and one-third equally.

The act stipulates that the total revenue from the tax be converted through the Auditor into the State treasury and that two-thirds of it be credited to the general fund.

The remaining one-third, the act states, "shall, by the Auditor of Public Accounts, on or before the 15th day of the second month following the end of each quarter, be credited to a fund to be known as the 'county road fund,' and shall distribute said fund immediately to the several counties of the Commonwealth."

CLAY STUDY MADE BY MURRAY GROUP

By L. J. Hortin

A study of the clay deposits of Western Kentucky and Tennessee in the territory near the proposed Aurora Dam is being made by the Murray Chamber of Commerce with the view of ascertaining the extent, nature, and possibilities of this world-famous clay.

Samples of the clay at Pottertown, Ky., in Calloway County, only a few miles from the site of the proposed TVA power dam, have been obtained by the Chamber of Commerce here. These samples will be sent to government and university geologists for analysis and a report on the possible value and uses of the various kinds submitted.

When Dr. A. E. Morgan visited Murray and the dam sites on the Tennessee River near here, he stopped at Pottertown where he took samples of the clay with him for later analysis. While addressing a huge "Aurora Dam" audience at Murray State College, Dr. Morgan declared:

"The Valley region has all the resources we need... clay in western Tennessee and Kentucky which is wonderful material for china and pottery."

Arthur Hargis, manager of the pottery and clay mine at Pottertown, Ky., told the Murray Chamber of Commerce this week that the demand for his clay products had steadily increased during the past three years and that at times last year his plant was unable to supply the demand. It is believed that the clay of this entire section is unexcelled anywhere in the world.

According to George I. Whitlatch, assistant geologist of the Tennessee Division of Geology, as reported in the Paris, Tenn., daily, this deposit of clay "runs in a continuous belt beginning in Illinois and running through Tennessee." Of particular interest to those advocating the construction of the Aurora Dam is the fact that this belt parallels the Tennessee River and the TVA development in the lower valley.

Among the known uses for the various kinds of clay are: for pottery, earthenware, brick, tile, bleaching motor oils and cotton seed oil, chinaware, and extraction of various chemicals. A further study of the enlarged possibilities of the clay products is being pursued by the Murray Chamber of Commerce.

Among the kinds of clay in this region are: ball wad, stager, and stoneware clays. At present the clay at Pottertown is dug out by manpower, using picks and shovels. Manager Hargis said that at no point was the clay there over 20 feet underground, and in many places it was on the surface. The men are now digging it from a spot where a small stream has carried away the top soil or "overburden."

The chief obstacle, Mr. Hargis pointed out, is the removing of this overburden. With the introduction of cheap power and efficient machinery by the construction of the Aurora Dam near here, officials believe this region as well as others can be profitably developed in respect to the clay industry, giving work to many men and adding to the economic wealth of the communities.

The early history of the clay industry here is not known, but it has been ascertained that pottery making took place long before the Civil War. The discovery of pottery at Wickliffe Mounds, recently excavated by Fain King, is evidence that this clay probably was utilized by the ancient races, antedating even the Indians.

MRS. W. F. PADGETT CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Beulah Jones Padgett, wife of Mr. W. F. Padgett, one of the owners and managers of the Ripley Box & Basket Co., passed away at the Methodist hospital in Memphis Saturday night, September 1. She had been in failing health for over a year, but was only carried to the hospital about three weeks ago. However, she had received the finest medical attention from physicians here and in Kentucky, her former home, having made several trips here for treatment. She was also the object of the dearest attention and affection that any husband could lavish upon his wife, even to the extent of absenting himself from his business at any and all times when he could be of service to her, and neighbors and friends likewise vied with each other to show their fondness and esteem for this good woman by words of kindness and loving ministrations. So beautiful and attentive to each other had been the married life of Mr. and Mrs. Padgett that those who knew them best said they were the most affectionate couple they had ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Padgett came to Ripley about 10 years ago, and in addition to the extensive business enterprise, the Ripley Box and Basket Co., which was launched by Mr. Padgett and his associates, he and his wife at once became active members of the Ripley Methodist church and later he was elected a steward, which position he now holds and has filled for several years. As long as her health permitted, they attended the services of the church with that regularity which becometh a true Christian and church worker, and after illness forbade her coming, their constant prayer was that she might regain her health and again take their places in the house of their Lord.

Mrs. Padgett, who was 58 years of age, is survived by her husband; two brothers, B. F. and E. C. Jones; a sister, Mrs. Elmer Young, Gilbertsville, Ky.; five half-brothers, Hulon, Clay, Boyd, Virgil and Wyman Jones and two half sisters, Mrs. Herb Inman and Mrs. Ovie Allen, all of Paducah, Ky.

The remains were brought to her home in Ripley Sunday, where many friends called to express to the husband their deepest sympathy in the loss of his dear companion, and to look upon her sweet face for the last time. On Monday morning the body was taken to Paducah for interment. Funeral services were held that afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Fountain Avenue Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Howell Taylor. Prior to last November Rev. Taylor was for four years pastor of the Ripley Methodist church, and her pastor, and fitting indeed was it to have one so familiar with her lovable character to officiate on this occasion, and pay her the beautiful tribute she so justly deserved—Ripley, Tenn. Teeth and Your Health

Our teeth in many instances are the fundamental causes of both good and bad health. Well cared for teeth promoted better health in the entire system. Teeth that are decayed and infected with pus are a menace to health and always affect some other organ of the human body, interfering with its correct functioning and presage a run down condition or more specifically, a serious ailment, resulting in many cases, fatally. X-ray Service, Ultra Violet Ray Treatments.

One hundred years ago the neglect of dentistry by the medical profession led to its development as a special study, and while the relationship was recognized by some, only in comparatively recent years have both the medical and dental professions definitely realized the relationship between the condition of one's teeth and health in general.

Sir William Osler, one of Europe's greatest authorities on internal medicine, has said: "There is not one single thing in preventive medicine that equals mouth hygiene and preservation of the teeth." Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minnesota, says: "It is quite as important that dentists have a general knowledge of disease as it is that physicians have it, and while it is true that the dentist should refer many patients to the physician for medical examinations, it is also true that the physician should refer many more to the dentist for the good of the patient."

He further states: "Neuritis, arthritis, anemia, asthma, ulceration of the stomach, gastritis, colitis, high blood pressure, colds, bronchial infections and many other systemic infections result from infected teeth and three-fourths of the abdominal cases operated on at the Mayo clinic are the consequential results of infection arising from the teeth."

These and countless other similar statements by eminent authorities on disease, strongly substantiated the fact that many of our physical ills are often caused by ulcerated teeth and diseases of surrounding tissues. Dentists have consequently acquired a general knowledge of the physical ailments, and in so doing have made dental practice a most important specialty in preventive medicine.

For this reason it is important that everyone have a thorough dental examination at least twice a year.

"Dr. C. C. Kemper's office is located in Mayfield on South street, phone 205, and is one of our prominent professional institutions which is enjoying a large and well merited clientele from the city and surrounding territory."

This office has made a scientific study of the diseases and ailments of the teeth and is performing a public service that commands the highest commendation as the work is done in a most satisfactory manner.

The genial gentleman in charge, Mac McClain, overlooks nothing in trying to please and amuse his patrons. This waiter, who has tasted and enjoyed their fine beers as well as the food and refreshments believes that the air of conviviality and camaraderie will make you feel as this writer felt, "that it is one of the finest places in Kentucky to spend a happy evening."

DISCRIMINATING WOMEN SHOPPERS CHOSE PAYNE'S STORE FOR DRYGOODS

To be merely rendering an average service in an average establishment is all well and good. But to be able to give a service that is just a little in advance of others in an establishment that has become a feature of the commercial life of the community, that is indeed something well worth while. And that is just exactly the case with Payne's store in Mayfield on the South side of the square.

First they insist that their service is dependable. You know that you are going to get value received and courteous treatment when you trade here, because past experience has taught you that they are personally interested in you and your trade. This you are afforded the dependability of trading with people whom you know and who know you and at the same time you have your choice from a very large stock and are served in the most efficient and modern manner.

These are some of the secrets of success of this well known and ever popular establishment. These are some of the reasons why that trade increases each season. These are but a few of the reasons that we wish is this review to direct the special attention of our readers to Payne's store as one of the essential factors in the life of the community and as a place to buy the best merchandise of the day. SHELTON STOCKYARDS IN MAYFIELD HEADQUARTERS FOR HORSES, MULES

Years ago the farmer was at a disadvantage in marketing his livestock because of transportation facilities and the difficulty of finding a ready market. As a consequence stockyards were established to aid the farmer in the marketing of his stock.

A modern stockyard such as this concern always has a market where they may get the highest prices. At the Shelton Stockyards in Mayfield you will find the horse and mule headquarter for this part of Kentucky. This is one of the main parts of the business and is carried extensively along with the buying and selling of hogs, cattle and sheep.

Clay Shelton conducts more than an institution for his own city as his activities extend for many miles in all directions and the buyer and seller alike know that here they are given the fairest treatment. They offer a most complete service, having all the room necessary to keep all stock until it is sold.

Variety Store Offers Value

Nowhere else can there be found a line or an assortment that surpasses those shown by the F. W. Woolworth Co. and few indeed are able to approach it in these features and at the values here offered. The service distinguishes this store above the others of the ordinary kind in similar lines.

The great service that Woolworth's Store extends to the public makes it a great economic value to the community and thus they are rendering the public the highest type of mercantile service.

The success of this modern merchandising firm is due to two outstanding features in the organization. First the strength of their collective buying, second the high order of the service in their stores. The F. W. Woolworth Co. is a recognized meeting place for shoppers from all the surrounding territory.

The enormous buying power of Woolworth's and their ability to secure mill output are outstanding features not lost sight of by the people. They know that an establishment of this character can quote prices that the smaller shop is unable to meet. The middleman's profits are deducted from the cost to the public.

Secret Ambitions of Outstanding Students - Edd Kellow. Preceding the program, Evelyn Jones was crowned "Miss Hardin High School" in a very beautiful ceremony. Miss Jones, a titan-haired five-foot four-inch bunch of personality, was elected over Hazel Lamb, Alice Katherine Darnell, and Anne Lawrence. She was crowned with a dahlia and snow-on-the-mountain crown placed on her brow by the maid-of-honor, Hazel Lamb.

The Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Johnston, met Monday morning and elected officers. Those elected were: Joe Edd Cope, president; Edd Kellow, vice-president; Edna Earle Anderson, secretary.

The club will meet Friday morning and draw up a constitution and decided on rules governing the initiation of a new member.

The seniors have put in an order for their invitations, diplomas, and made their ring contract permanent.

Hazel F. E. A. Notes

Education has become altogether too formal according to Dewey. Most people think that education must take place in the school-room, but real learning can take place in their natural settings, such as farm practice offers.

Farm practice is for the purpose of teaching Future Farmers to become better farmers. It is human nature for people to work toward goals. It is necessary to have goals in farm practice.

and when the hen is not in laying condition they are close together.

The handling quality of the layer is also an important point in culling, and that of the skin serves as a very good indication of the laying ability. In a good layer the back is usually wide, of good length and the skin over the body is soft, pliable, and of good texture.

One other important feature that should be kept in mind in culling, is to note the time of the molt. Poor layers usually molt earlier than good ones.
