L. D. BROWN MEETS DEATH ON HI-WAY

Taken Home by Bonnie Garrison After Car Struck Him Lying in Road.

L. D. Brown, 22 years of age, met his death on the North Highway a short distance below Dexter "sometime" Sunday night or Monday morning. The exact conditions under which he met his death remain unknown and some thought is held by relatives that possibly he was struck by a hit and run driver or was the victim of foul-play.

Brown was carried to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, of near Hardin, by Bonnie Garrison, Murray, after the car of Garrison's struck him about 3 o'clock Monday morning. Garrison was returning to Murray from Detroit with passengers when his car struck him before he could stop as Brown lay lifeless in the road. Brown was caught underneath the car and dragged and it was necessary to jack the car up before extracting Brown.

Although badly mangled, Brown was conscious to some extent when taken home but could tell nothing of the conditions under which he was hurt but knew Garrison and introduced him to the family and asked them to pay Garrison for taking care of him. His mother tried to secure from him information regarding the incident but he lost consciousness after being given "shots" to ease his pain. Brown was brought to the Key-Houston Clinic for treatment. His injuries were numerous including two fractures of the right leg and two to the right arm, a badly crushed left shoulder and severe injuries to the head.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the West Fork Church. Elder Lloyd Wilson was in charge of the services and burial was in the church cemetery.

Surviving are his parents and four brothers, Leonard, Detroit, Edwood, Harry and John Thomas and two sisters, Mrs. Charlie Hatcher, Detroit, and Misses Mabel and Alta Brown, at home.

1935 Softball Program Announced for Murray

Season Starts April 22; to Play 3 Times Weekly; Name Board

The times may vary with the length of the days as the season progresses. In order to conserve as much time and finances as possible, it was unanimously decided that the players pay the regular admission charge thus enabling the League to furnish balls for the games. There will only be three sessions of two games each per week, and under no circumstances will this routine be varied unless rain or unfit weather postpones a session, which may have to be played on Friday night. In any event there will be only three sessions per week. There will be absolutely no games played for the benefit of charity or any causes whatsoever except to reduce the now existing indebtedness on the lighting system furnished the High School.

The managers voted that the Board of Governors should consist of Hall Hood, Boyd Gilbert, and Stanley Pallen. These gentlemen will have absolute control of the interpretation of all rules as to eligibility, forfeits and the like and shall be authorized to mete out punishment when such becomes necessary. The smaller still was owned by Otis and Herbert Walker officers stated and Herbert was arrested at the still site. The still was in operation. A second party escaped by running.

The larger still was located on an old still site and was not in operation then but showed evidence of recent operation. The tube and accessories were in good shape and practically new and several barrels of souring mash were nearby. The still was estimated to be between 300 and 500 gallon capacity.

Two Stills Were Seized in Raid on East Side by County and Federal Officials; 1 Arrest.

Calloway county officers working with Federal men took the largest still yet taken Tuesday in a raid which netted two stills and four gallons of whiskey and 20 barrels of mash. The stills were about a mile apart and located just North of the Center Ridge road.

SHOWERS FAIL TO DAUNT 4TH MON.

Immense Crowd Here Transacts Much Business on Annual Trade Day; Good Order.

Typical April weather, with threats of showers all day and finally a heavy rainstorm, that broke late in the afternoon, failed to ruin Murray's big annual trade-day. Fourth Monday in March. The immense throng arrived early and stayed late and was in the best order in years.

Fourth Monday last year, officers made a series of raids on bootleg and home-brew joints, and this year, taking the warning, the places that dispense joy water were out of stock. Though there was some drinking, as will always be, not a single drunk was observed and this situation was generally reported.

The "swopping ring" was active all day and was the last to cease activity. It is estimated that almost 150 mules were purchased. About 15 trucks, loaded with the animals, moved out after dark.

It was estimated that approximately 4,000 pounds of fish were sold during the day, the price ranging from two to 10 cents a pound. Trade was good in all mercantile lines and though vendors of heavy merchandise probably got the best play there was a big volume of sales in dry goods and clothing.

At one time during the rainstorm clouds were blowing from three directions. The ground wind was blowing for the north while cross currents above were whipping clouds in from the southeast and southwest. Some minor damage was caused by the wind and rain.

Several reports from wind damage were received. The roof of the J. H. Churchill storehouse was damaged and the silo of Hugh Gingles and the roof of the home were both damaged and the roof of the home of Otis Edwards, near Backsburg was partially blown off.

RABIES MENACE IS LIKELY TO BREAK OUT AGAIN—OUTLAND

Another outbreak of rabies is expected again this year Dr. J. A. Outland, county health officer, states. Dr. Outland in making the prediction was basing it on the fact that to date there have been more rabid dogs reported than there had been last year. Last year it was necessary that the county board of health quarantine all dogs. Several persons were bitten and endangered and a considerable loss in livestock was suffered.

A report from a dog's head sent off the first of last week was that it was rabid. The dog, a stray, was killed on the farm of Elbert Lassiter, east of Murray. Two dogs were killed in Murray last week after they showed signs of being mad and three dogs were killed in the county for the same reason earlier in the year.

City and county officials are making a closer drive on the licensing of dogs than they have in several years. The situation has been described as a deplorable one in the county due to the allowing of stray dogs to live. Outbreaks of rabies have been known in the county every year for several.

With the refinancing of the bridge bonds, it is pointed out that the rates may be adjusted in the new setup. In the old bonds, the toll rates have been set and, without re-financing, the adjustment would have been difficult. It is expected that the rates may be lowered from the 80c present toll to about 50 or 60c existing elsewhere.

The Murray Chamber of Commerce recently authorized T. R. Jones of this city to represent the organization in its plea for lower rates and for road building at the last meeting of the State Highway Commission in Frankfort.

The road committee of the Murray Chamber of Commerce has drafted a road program for Calloway County and indications are that this program may soon be put into effect.

Assurances have been received that the Murray-Hazel highway will be hard-surfaced as soon as the weather permits this spring. The road to the southwest part of the county has been surveyed and preliminary work is progressing as fast as circumstances allow.

Last winter the Murray Chamber of Commerce officially protested against the excessive rates across the Tennessee River Bridge. As a result of this first project, the commission ordered an investigation and a checkup of the situation, recommending an adjustment.

Mr. Jones reported that the second protest last week was given earnest consideration and that the order for refinancing was entered by the commission.

The rates across the Egner's Ferry Bridge are higher than anywhere else in the state, and citizens of West Kentucky contend that these excessive tolls are hindering the development of this section. The cooperation of other cities in the section has been secured in this matter, inasmuch as traffic from Benton, Paducah, Mayfield, Fulton, and other cities is being diverted by the high toll rates.

Way Paved for Lower Rates on Egner's Ferry Highway Bridge

Since the State Highway Commission has announced that the bridge bonds of Kentucky are to be re-financed, the Murray Chamber of Commerce believes there is a strong likelihood that the excessive toll rates across the Egner's Ferry Bridge may be reduced.

The Problem of Peace and War

Condensed from
by
GEORGE H. DERN,
Secretary of War

An address delivered on January 30th, 1935, at the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense, held in Washington, D. C.

The question of war still remains. It is the one overwhelming question that mankind has never solved. It is a problem that arose long before the dawn of history and is as much of a riddle in our own civilized epoch as it was in the primitive days of savagery. Statesmen and churchmen have cried, "Out damned spot!" but the spot is still there. When some idealists say war is wicked, futile and obsolete, there are other idealists who still ask, "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?"

You do not need to be reminded that our country was born in war, and that therefore the results of war are not wholly bad. If the ancient Greeks had not been willing to fight and die at Marathon, Thermopylae and Salamis the Persians would have wiped out the beginning of our western civilization and Europe would have become an extension of Asiatic civilization. If the Romans had not persisted in defying Hannibal, African Carthage, with its gloomy and horrible religion of human sacrifice, would have taken possession of Europe. If Charles Martel had not defeated the Mohammedan hosts at Tours in 732 what would have become of Christianity? Were all these battles in defense of our civilization great mistakes?

There is no doubt that war has played a major part in shaping history. Nevertheless the desire for peace is universal and I prefer to speak of the preservation of peace rather than the glory of war. There is much superficial talk about peace.

A pacifist, strictly speaking, is opposed to war under any circumstances even for defensive purposes. He believes in the doctrine of turning the other cheek—a fine Christian precept which hardly any Christian practices.

A militarist, in the strictest sense, believes in wars and battles as the only proper means for settling quarrels between nations. Militarists of this sort are as sionists who brought it on were all civilians.

How about the war between the States? It would be most ridiculous to charge the army with inciting that war when the Army itself was divided in that conflict.

There are plenty of us who remember that those who stirred up the Spanish-American war were not soldiers but crusading civilians in and out of Congress. And the world war? There was hardly an Army officer among those who inflamed the public mind until Congress was forced to declare war.

No, the Army did not cause any of our wars; but it stopped every one of them. The people bring about wars, and the Army brings about peace. It would be as logical to say that fire departments cause fires and that the way to stop fires is to disband fire departments as to list the Army and Navy among the causes of war.

We may have such confidence in our pacific intentions as to feel that we do not need an Army, but we can be certain that there are no potential aggressors in the world.

More Genghis Khans, or Napoleons, who would look with covetous eyes upon our lands and wealth if we are not able to protect them? Does the history of the world during recent years give us comfort to those who would like to believe that aggressive warfare is a thing of the past, and that force and violence have been relegated to the limbo for forgotten evils?

The Army desires peace just as fervently as do civilian peace lovers for soldiers know better than any others what a hellish business actual warfare is. They suffer most from its horrors. They have no desire to make widows and orphans of their wives and children. It is a grotesque fallacy that the Army and Navy are always spoiling for a fight. Their mission is to keep us out of trouble and to get us out of trouble.

There is another popular fallacy that ought to be exploded. It is the hypothesis that military training at colleges and high schools creates a spirit of militarism in the boys. When I was a student at the University of Nebraska military drill was compulsory and it was disliked by most of the students, not because they thought it would make them militarists but simply because they regarded it as a nuisance, like higher mathematics and Latin. It made us obey orders instead of doing as we sweet pleased. It required us to be too confoundedly particular about our appearance, and it necessitated punctuality and politeness. It laid so much emphasis upon doing our work with precision and thoroughness.

I recall only two fellow students of several thousand who went in for an Army career as a result of training received from our popular and efficient commandant, Lieut. John J. Pershing, but all were personally benefitted and better prepared to do their part in the country needed them.

My observation has been that most of those who denounce the R. O. T. C. system as militarization of our youth have never had a son in a R. O. T. C. unit, but do have vivid imaginations. Perhaps they are like the girl who was crying because she had a sad thought that she might get married some time and might have a baby and the baby might fall in the river and be drowned.

The officers of the United States Army are drawn from all elements of society and constitute a good cross section of American citizenship. They believe in the good old American motto, "Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute." And they are not convinced that the world as a whole has yet reached the millennium in which national avarice and ambition and prejudice have been outgrown and renounced forever. And so they feel, as most Americans believe, that, though we covet the lands or wealth of no other country, we had better carry a little burglary insurance for a while yet.

The Father of his Country was wise in his day and generation, and much of his advice is still good, despite that modern progress has completely transformed the country which he knew and loved. On the subject of national defense his policy was, "in time of peace, prepare for war." Surely no one would accuse George Washington of being a truculent, swash-buckling militarist. Surely he had seen enough of the hardships and cruelty, the horror and waste of war to be heartily sick of it. But Washington was not a man to blink at the facts. Although imbued with deep love for his fellow man he, too, took the world as he found it. He did not expect too much of human nature. He took man as God had made and endowed him—not as an Angel from Heaven.

There can be no organized society without some kind of police power. Even in a small town where all residents are presumed to be friends and neighbors, the policeman is still necessary, and in a large city an armed police force is required to protect the lives and property of citizens. If we need protection against our own neighbors and fellow citizens, how can we feel secure against the evil intentions of distant enemies, whose ambitions and jealousies and problems we do not comprehend?

When domestic crime and violence are abolished within the nation, it will be safe to say that there is no danger of international trespasses, but not until then.

The most highly civilized society is still based on force and it is idle to say that force is obsolete. It is begging the question to say that in our domestic relations we have renounced force and settle disputes through the orderly processes of the courts. The fact of the matter is that behind every judge there stands the policeman or the sheriff, ready to enforce the court's decrees by force if need be.

The most ardent peace advocate will advance his own hopes faster if he will frankly recognize these facts and quit arguing from false hypotheses.

What are some of the causes of war? Trade restrictions which are intended to benefit one country by destroying the industries and impoverishing the workers of another country are one. Mutual distrust is another thing that keeps nations jumpy and ready to fly at each other's throats. Racial and national prejudices are another cause of friction that may generate heat enough to start a conflagration. We ought to cultivate international good will and international good manners. If we want other nations to love our country we ought to make our country lovely.

In these directions the peace organizations can find an outlet for all their energies. Let them begin at home by breaking down our own bumptious sense of superiority.

ity, our prejudices against other countries and other forms of government, our selfishness and our provincialism, so that we shall recognize that peoples of other nations are human beings like ourselves, and not some other sort of animal to be hated and feared. A little more fairness and tolerance, a little more friendship and brotherhood—these are the things that will reduce the danger of war. Let them continue their efforts toward intelligent limitation of armament, so as to make invasion more difficult.

Finally, let the efforts toward international co-operation be kept up. A policy of isolation is a dangerous policy so far as preserving peace is concerned. Intense nationalism, such as we are now cultivating, is more apt to breed wars than to prevent wars. Friendly co-operation, not frenzied rivalry, points the road to peace.

All Taxes Are Sales Taxes

(Ashland Independent)

No form of taxation is so bitterly assailed as the sales tax. The political "friends of the common people" have been especially virulent in denouncing it, on the grounds that the burden of the tax falls more heavily on persons of small and moderate means than on the wealthy.

That is all very well. But a very vital point that the people do not realize is this: There is no other kind of tax so far as the effect is concerned, than the sales tax.

Every tax must be paid, and paid in full, by the ultimate consumers of goods and products. Every tax levied increases the cost of necessities and luxuries we need and buy and use. When we buy a pair of shoes we must pay a score of taxes—the tax that was paid by the raiser of the cattle, by the railroad that transported them, by the factory that tanned and cured the leather, by the manufacturer, by the distributor, and finally, that paid by the dealer—is included in the cost of the pair of shoes we get. That is true of food, clothing, entertainment and everything else.

You may not agree with this statement but I think it is the truth if I ever wrote it: This country will not snap out of the depression or solve its problems until its people realize that they

Beckham Ends "Point of View" Debate

In a letter to the editor of the Courier-Journal, former Governor Beckham said last week:

"I have noticed several letters in the Point of View column raising a controversy as to whether Mr. Thomas Rhea had supported me in a number of campaigns in which I was a candidate. While some may think that it would not have been so reprehensible in him if he had opposed me and others hold it against him as 'treasonous' and take it if he did not support me, I feel that in justice to truth I should state the facts and bring the debate to an end. In my race for the senate in 1914, he was my campaign chairman and again in the race for governor in 1927, and in both instances he rendered loyal and valuable services to my candidacy. Indeed, in all the years since he became active in state politics I have never had occasion to doubt the value of his services or his loyalty to me when I was a candidate."

Bro. Thomas Pate, Church of Christ, was in charge of worship Sunday morning and a representative group was in attendance. This is Bro. Dr. Skinner has had to cancel his engagements on account of illness and we join his hosts of friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

A meeting of those having aspirations to be members of the Camp Murray Cubs was called last week. About 20 new men turned out in evidence. Practice and work on the diamond has been delayed, however, due to weather conditions. Cunningham, Williams, Farley, Miller, Johnson and Downey are the members of last season's team who will probably be able to play with the Cubs again this summer.

The click of typewriters and increased activity in the company orderly room mark preparations for the discharge of some 20 men from Camp Murray on March 31 due to expiration of terms of enlistment. There are no compulsory discharges this period and these men are leaving to be with parents or to accept employment.

"EXPERIENCE IN MACHINERY LED ME TO pick rollator refrigeration" writes a technical man from Dayton

Of course. Anyone skilled in mechanics would choose Norge for its mechanical superiority. Just as an economist would choose it for its savings. Or a modern housekeeper for its convenience. Or an interior decorator for its beauty.

Consider all these factors when you select a refrigerator for your home. When you have satisfied your self that Norge is the beautiful refrigerator, with the best planned interior arrangement and the most conveniences, then look to the mechanism.

The Norge Rollator cold-making mechanism has but three slowly moving parts, is surplus powered, almost everlasting, actually improves with use. And it uses so little current that Norge savings—in food and refrigeration costs—are as high as $11 a month. Many Norge owners report even greater savings.

Get the facts about Rollator Refrigeration. Get the figures on savings. Before you select a new refrigerator for your home, see the Norge.

termining the various salaries paid umpires, score keeper and any other who may be necessary in keeping the League and its property in good condition.

It is hoped that the present session will see the lighting system completed and paid for, and any other improvements that have become necessary for the comfort of the large crowds that have so enthusiastically accepted the game as played in Murray. The rules and regulations concerning play and eligibility are as follows:

1934 RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE MURRAY PLAYGROUND LEAGUE

Rule I

There are no age requirements.

Rule II

Each owner or manager shall select his entire personnel which shall consist of not more than fifteen men. The list shall be submitted to the Board of Governors at least seven days before the league play opens. If the manager selects less than his full quota before the seventh game of his team's schedule is played in either half, he will not be permitted to add or exchange men after that game.

Rule III

Players traded will not be permitted to play again during the season (either half) on the teams from which they are traded.

Rule IV

Once a player is added to a team's roster, he becomes the property of that team when properly reported to the Secretary.

Rule V

Penalty for use of an ineligible player is loss of the game by forfeiture, and a repetition of this violation will lead to permanent disqualification of the offending team at the will of the Board of Governors.

Rule VI

A team owner or manager may not bring to Murray for a league game a player who does not maintain his residence in Calloway County on or before April 15, 1935.

Rule VII

Students of Murray State College and members of local C. C. C. Camp, who are bona fide residents of Calloway County are eligible for play.

Rule VIII

This same procedure will be used to determine the winner of the second half. The Championship of the league will be awarded at the completion of play of three out of five games between the first and second half winner. All games in the playoff will be played at the conclusion of the regular season.

Penalties and Protests

1. Protests must be made to the umpire in writing before the game is over.

2. The Board of Governors will have the final decision on all protests.

3. A team must be ready to play immediately on schedule time or forfeit the game. The umpire may use his discretion in permitting a team a few minutes extra, but under no circumstances is a game to start more than ten minutes late.

High School Visitors' Day to be March 29 at Murray; All Students will be Guests

Dr. Carr To Speak on Program of Morning

"High School Visitors' Day" will be sponsored by Murray State College Friday, March 29. President John W. Carr has announced. All high school students from every high school in Western Kentucky are invited. County clubs from other states will also invite students from their respective districts.

Programs will be presented in the morning and in the afternoon in the auditorium to entertain the students.

Dr. John W. Carr, president of the college, will address the assembly in the morning. Following Dr. Carr's address will be a music program presented by the college band, the orchestra, and other musical organizations.

In the afternoon program, the physical education department will give an acrobatic performance. Three one-act plays will also be presented.

This will be the first time that all students have been invited to such an occasion. In previous years, the college has sponsored "high school senior day" where only seniors were invited.

All county clubs will be expected to extend personal invitations to the high school students and to assist in entertaining them, asserted Dr. Charles H. Carr, acting dean of the college.

In connection with the "high school visitors' day," the Nathan B. Stubblefield Physics Club will present a program on Thursday evening, March 28, to those students that are especially interested in science.

"The Electric Eye" will be the topic on which Dr. H. Carr will address the group.

The students will be permitted to inspect all buildings and laboratories throughout the day.

"The purpose of the visitors' day" is to entertain the high school students and to become better acquainted with them," stated Dr. H. Carr. "We also want to familiarize them with the fine educational institution which exists in their midst."

The program, which will be presented in the auditorium, is as follows:

10:30—Music, College Band.

assessed $10.00 for its franchise, the money to be placed in the Murray Municipal League for the illumination of the diamond. That will be the only charge for a team, outside of equipping its players as it sees fit.

3. A firm in good standing will keep its franchise in the league from year to year. One which drops out during the season or in any way hampers the progress of play will be placed on the "Black List."

4. The schedule will be printed in The Ledger & Times and the managers must have their teams on the field at the designated times.

5. Each manager is expected to be thoroughly acquainted with both these local rules and the official regulations, and any ignorance of the rules will not be an excuse for their violation. It is up to the manager to see that all his players know the rules.

6. A game may be postponed only with the sanction of the board that the diamond is unfit or the weather unsatisfactory.

7. Once the game is under way, the umpire of balls and strikes is in complete charge and may banish a player for continued unsportsmanlike conduct. The board will investigate such situations and more serious punishment may be meted out.

The Board of Governors

1. The Board of Governors will have full and complete authority on all matters pertaining to the softball league.

2. It is the power of the board to amend these rules should such an occasion demand it.

Big Sugar Refinery Coming to Cairo

The Spreckles Sugar Refining Co. has purchased the Singer Plant at Cairo. This plant covers 30 acres of ground.

It is understood that this large company expects to store great cargoes of sugar at that point, and inside of two years develop it into a refining plant at that place in the event of the development of the Aurora Dam and deep water up the Tennessee River.

This will be the only inland refinery in the country and will be a great saving to the people in the purchase of sugar.

Many activities are being revived at Cairo and Mound City. With the Mississippi and Ohio tributaries Cairo, Paducah and all other towns around will be benefited by the bolting of the dam, which will also be flood control.

Cairo people are ready to help in any way to push the dam.

Kentucky Members of W. O. W. Will Meet in Evansville Soon

HEAD CONSUL ODIE DUNCAN EXPECTS LARGE ATTENDANCE AT STATE MEETING

An unusually large attendance of members of the Woodmen of the World of Kentucky is expected.

Elaborate ceremonies will attend the formal induction into membership.

At this meeting delegates also will be elected to the national convention, the supreme representative legislative body of the Woodmen of the World.

Woodmen of the World members, it was pointed out, are always keenly interested in the progress of this state because the national association has a large investment in its municipal, county and state securities.

Members and delegates will review the achievements of the past year and make plans for continued growth and expansion this year.

Nineteen-thirty-four was a year of outstanding achievements for the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association, when more than $84,000,000 in new business was written. This was an increase of more than $34,000,000 over 1933.

The gross assets of the association have grown to more than $119,000,000, making it outstanding as the largest and richest fraternal life insurance association in the world. The consistent growth of the association, which operates in 44 states of the Union, is shown by the fact that in 1934 its gross assets increased more than $4,000,000, with a net gain of 12,322 members.

The association has invested more than $108,000,000 in government, state, county and municipal bonds. Since its organization in 1890 it has paid in death losses and disability benefits more than $246,000,000. It has a membership of more than 355,000.

Woodmen officials generally give credit to President Bradshaw for the unusual achievements and growth in the last two years. He was elected to the presidency after serving the national organization for many years as general attorney. He has taken an aggressive interest in all Woodmen of the World activities and in particular has developed his personal attention to improvement and enlarging the War Memorial tuberculosis sanitarium at San Antonio, Tex., an institution where members of the organization are cared for without cost.

Director, R. E. Miller, Dallas, Texas, and General Attorney, Rainey T. Wells, Murray, Kentucky.

Head Consul Duncan said he expected a big attendance because of the record-breaking achievements of the Woodmen of the World during the last two years under the leadership of De E. Bradshaw, president of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association.

One of the features of the meeting will be the initiation of a large class of members from all sections of the state.

Mrs. Roy Harrison of Murray and Miss Jewell Hill of Hazel spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Paris guests of Mrs. Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Osburn.

Thomas Chesley Scruggs is in Jackson, Tenn., for a several days visit with his brother, the Rev. Quincy Scruggs.

Miss Mildred Singleton left Saturday for Chicago, Ill., where she will enter the school of Fellowship work.

Miss Jewell Hill spent last Monday in Mayfield as guest of Mrs. Volora Hill.

Henry county poultrymen tested 2,884 birds for B. W. D. with 152 reactors.

American Hospital Association Praises Work of Mason Hospital

(Reprinted by Request)

The Mason Memorial Hospital received high praise from the American Hospital Association in an editorial published in the March Bulletin of that organization.

Under the caption, "The Altruism of Private Hospitals", the following editorial was written:

"Sunday, February 17, the William Mason Memorial Hospital burned to the ground. Through the heroic efforts of the nurses and attendants, the 42 patients—several of whom had recently been operated upon—were removed to places of safety. Not a single life was lost, and the only injury sustained was a slightly sprained ankle which one of the nurses experienced. The property loss was over $200,000. The hospital carried $60,000 insurance.

"But this is not the story. What is more important is the altruistic service which this little hospital in the hills of Western Kentucky, privately owned and operated, had rendered its people for more than 20 years. It had never cost the city, county, or the state of Kentucky a penny either in its construction or in its operation. In all its history of more than 24 years the William Mason Memorial Hospital has cared for every charity patient who has come to it. It has never turned a patient from its doors, no matter what his financial condition or where he came from.

"Its policy, consistently followed through the years, has been to care for the sick of its community. Regardless of color race, or creed or position in life, it has given the best possible care that it was capable of rendering.

"It has been successful, not only in developing its plant, and extending its service, but in building the foundation of its growth upon the good will and appreciation of its community.

"When the hospital burned the people came to its relief. Homes and buildings were thrown open to patients and nurses, and everyone helped the hospital to get into comfortable quarters until it could rebuild.

"We are sometimes forgetful of the service which the 1,367 privately owned and operated hospitals in this country, the vast majority of which are small hospitals in rural communities, are consistently rendering to the sick poor. In many instances their struggle for existence assumes heroic proportions. More than 300 of them have closed during the period of depression and their people have since been deprived of hospital facilities.

"Orchids in large bunches for hospitals like the Mason Memorial Hospital, who forget their financial interests in the altruism of their service to their patients, regardless of race or color, creed or position in life."

In addition to writing the above editorial in the Bulletin, Dr. Bert W. Caldwell, executive secretary of the American Hospital Association, wrote a personal letter to Dr. W. H. Mason, saying in part: "I want you to know how much we sympathize with you in the loss of your hospital by fire and how much we want to cooperate with you to help you in your new venture. I hope that from the ashes of this hospital a new one will rise that will be a monument not only to you personally but to the fine service which you and your institution have rendered your community for so many years."

The officials of the Mason Hospital have received hundreds of telegrams and letters from friends all over the nation, offering advice, assistance, and sympathy. Gov-

FEMININE FIVE TO PLAY HAZEL

All Star Woman's Basketball Team to Meet Hazel Boy's Team at Hazel Saturday Night.

The St. Louis All-Stars, girls basketball five will meet the Hazel boy's team at Hazel Saturday night. The program is being sponsored by the Hazel High School. The game will begin at 8 o'clock and a popular admission will be charged.

The team is the U. S. Professional girl champions and is one of the greatest entertaining events on the road. They play fast basketball with boy's rules and play against the best men's teams in the country.

The game here will be their only game in this county and likely this section. They played in Graves county last year but have been making some of the larger centers this year.

errors, eminent surgeons, administrators, lawyers, heads of medical and surgical associations, former patients, and interested persons from New York, Boston, Texas, California, Wisconsin—in fact from practically every state in the United States—have offered their cooperation in the matter.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends for the kindness, sympathy, and beautiful flowers, Dr. Stark and Mr. Churchill for their faithful services; Bro. Pogue and Bro. Davis and Bro. Myers for their comforting words during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. May God bless you all—Mrs. Richard Boggs and children.

WEST MAPLE STREET
Now Representing Hudson-Built Cars in Murray and Vicinity

Now On Display!

"No wonder you chose Hudson and Terraplane to sell!" That's what our friends are telling us as soon as they try these 1935 Hudson-built cars.

Here are some of the features that made us decide that these cars—above all others—offer most of what this year's buyers want in a car. Come in and see these features for yourself. Drive these cars. Compare them with what other cars offer. Special showing all this week.

America's Only Bodies All of Steel!—Floors, sides, sills, pillars, doors and even roofs of solid steel. Only Hudson-built cars give you this complete protection.

Rotary-Equalized Brakes!—They always STOP you safely, in a short, straight line. Tests by Detroit police proved that Hudson-built cars stop 40% faster than police require for perfect stopping.

Record-Breaking Performance and Ruggedness!—In February, a Hudson stock car at Daytona Beach added seven new official performance records to the scores already held by Hudson-built cars. Ruggedness proved as no other cars ever proved it—in the recent 175,000-mile Ruggedness Runs. More of Everything!—Balanced riding... more power from less gasoline... oil economy doubled... up-to-the-minute streamlined style that will stay in style... extra wide seats with plenty of leg room... and...

THE ELECTRIC HAND
The year's only basic mechanical improvement. Easier, safer driving. Smoother, faster gear shifting without taking a hand from the wheel! Standard on Hudson Custom Eight; optional at small extra cost on all other 1935 Hudsons and Terraplanes.

AND LOOK AT THE PRICES! $585 and up for Hudson-built Terraplane (85 or 100 horsepower)... Hudson Six $695 and up (93 or 100 horsepower)... Hudson Eight $740 and up (113 or 124 horsepower). All prices f. o. b. Detroit for closed models.

Terraplane De Luxe Coach $645 f. o. b. Detroit (Rear Wheel Shields Extra)

To the Patrons of Route No. 3

I take this method of extending my sincere appreciation to each of you for your many complimentary remarks about me as your Rural Carrier. I want to assure you that it has been a genuine pleasure for me to serve you as a carrier.

I shall always remember each of you very kindly for the many things you have given me in a material way while on the route. I am leaving reluctantly but I am confident Mr. Roberts will carry on a splendid mail carrier and I only hope that you give him that same co-operation you have given me the thirteen years I have tried to serve you. I won't say good bye for that sounds too long but will say good luck and good health to each of you.

In taking over Route No. 2 I realize I am following a good carrier in Mr. Redden who has served you for a long time. I only hope I can equal him as a carrier for you have spoken very complimentary of him as your carrier.

Report of Beale's Removal Erroneous

An article from Frankfort printed in the press of Kentucky, including The Ledger & Times' last week stated that Elmus J. Beale, Murray, faced the prospect of removal from the state board of charities and corrections, unless he resigned to make room for an appointment from Northern Kentucky.

It is learned by The Ledger & Times on good authority that this was an error and that the story was erroneously conceived by an employee of the Courier-Journal's Frankfort Bureau. The facts in the case are that the newspaper man was familiar with the fact that a place on the board was to be made for a northern Kentucky political leader and assumed that Mr. Beale was the one scheduled for removal when he happened to see the Murray member of the board in Frankfort.

George H. Rudy, Owensboro, resigned from the board the latter part of last week and the northern Kentucky man was appointed in his place. This fact gives support to the contention that Mr. Beale's removal was not intended.

Though he is subject to removal at the will of the Governor, as are all other of the Chief Executive's appointees, Mr. Beale's appointment was for four years from the time he was sworn into office and the Governor and the Board of Public Welfare have always received the heartiest cooperation from Mr. Beale.

Producers Should Keep Records of Hogs Slaughtered

Every farmer who sells or exchanges hog products from hogs slaughtered by him should keep a written record of such sales or exchanges.

This point is emphasized by County Agent J. T. Cochran and local county-hog committeemen in their efforts to acquaint farmers and commercial handlers of meat products with the facts about the liability and collection of the hog processing taxes.

The record of sales of hog products is essential in determining the liability of the producer, processor and feeder-processor for the processing tax during any marketing year. County Agent J. T. Cochran said. Though producers and feeders are not required to pay the tax with respect to hog products which are derived from such of their hogs as are slaughtered by them and sold to the commercial handlers, they are liable for the processing tax with respect to hog products sold to or exchanged directly with consumers—except for certain exemptions allowed to producers only.

The producer, in particular, needs the record in order to prove his eligibility for certain exemptions allowed only to farmers who slaughter hogs of their own raising. The producer is not only exempt from the tax with respect to slaughtering for consumption by his own family, employees or household, but he is allowed a 300-pound exemption on all sales or exchanges made directly with consumers when such sales or exchanges total not more than 1,000 pounds during any marketing year. The current marketing year began November 5, 1934.

As soon as the producer sells or exchanges with consumers more than 300 pounds of hog products, he becomes liable for the tax and must file a processing-tax return.

Cotton Payments Help Cash Basis Farm Operation

Rental and parity payments to Calloway county cotton producers who have signed the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's cotton contract will enable many farmers of the county to operate their farms on a cash basis again in 1935, it is pointed out by County Agent J. T. Cochran.

The cotton program not only has increased prices for lint and cotton-seed and raised farm income by direct payments but has distributed this increased income more evenly through the year, County Agent J. T. Cochran says.

Rental payments made in two installments in 1934 and received by growers during the cultivating season and at harvest time, supplied cash when it was needed in the operation of the farms.

Under the 1935 cotton-adjustment program, cooperating producers will again receive payments on their rented acres, at the rate of 3½ cents per pound on the adjusted acre yield for the base period. The program permits the producer to rent from 25 per cent

1897 Ballot Owned by Peyton Thomas, Hamlin

Peyton Thomas, well known citizen of Hamlin, has a rare curiosity in a primary election educational ballot of Calloway county for March 27, 1897. The ballot was had by Mr. Thomas' father who was prevented from getting to his polling place by the abnormally high water of Tennessee River, which was on a rampage. He said that his father was much disappointed in being unable to get to his voting precinct to vote for D. Jones, father of the present jailer, Conrad Jones, who was then a candidate for that same office.

The Rev. W. A. Baker has called in his appointment for this place fifth Sunday.

Miss Nance of Paris, was a week end visitor with her cousin, Miss Leila Ellis.

Miss Marjorie Warren and Mr. Clarence Erwin were married last Saturday and were dinner guests Sunday at the home of the groom and his brother, Tom Erwin, and Mrs. Erwin. Relatives and friends join in good wishes to this fine couple.

Excepting the funeral of an infant from near Mayfield, a grandchild of Rip Cooper, it had been some five months without a burial in the church cemetery, with the death of Mrs. Stanley Gooch in February. On March 11 the body of W. D. Kelly, Jr., of Hazel, was laid to rest in this church cemetery by the side of his uncle, Georgia Kelly. Mr. Kelly had less than a week's illness and was only 27 years of age.

Last Saturday the body of Lytton Ellis was laid to rest in this cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Story, Mrs. Alice Ellis and grandsons, Hazel Lee Boyd, were Saturday night guests with their mother, sister, and aunt, Mrs. Belle Story, near Boydsville, and joined Sunday in the celebration of Mrs. Story's birthday.

Lytton Ellis Dies
Lytton Ellis, who had for several weeks been troubled with a cold, had flu first of last week but was up most of the time. On Thursday morning he was critically ill. Dr. Miller was called immediately, then Dr. Will Mason. They gave but little encouragement as spinal meningitis with complications of flu (and he had not entirely recovered from measles of a year ago) which is so often fatal. Mrs. Maddox, a faithful nurse, many times by artificial respiration revived him but at the dawn of day Friday, March 23, Lytton, at the age of 18 years, passed away.

The writer, an aunt, was one of those who saw the beautiful smile on his face as he was nearing the Crossing.

Though his going was sudden, he, in conversation with his mother a short time ago, had spoken of bright manifestation. He was an active member of the Epworth League, and at about 8 years of age united with the church at Pleasant Grove.

Lytton is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Ellis, three brothers, Orene, Shannon, and Harvey Ellis; one sister, Polly. Also a sister-in-law, Mrs. Shannon Ellis, and niece, Mary Miller Ellis, survive. Beside his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Charlton, many uncles and aunts and a host of other relatives and friends mourn his passing.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from Pleasant Grove by his pastor, Bro. W. A. Baker. A large crowd was present and his body was laid to rest under a mound of flowers in the church cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were the Hazel basketball squad and coach, Bob Miles, J. C. Rowland, Milstead Tucker, Brooks Underwood, L. K. Pinkley, and Mr. Jack Kelly. Active pallbearers: Forrest Paschall, Stark Erwin, Jim Erwin, Hewlett Cooper, Thomas Myers, Cletus Myers.

Dr. C. R. Ellis, Frank Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Ellis of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Justus Ellis and children of Cunningham, Ky., came in for the Ellis funeral Saturday.

Faxon High School

Most everyone is back in school this morning after a very hard week, in which we took part in two scholastic tournaments. The first at Hazel on Tuesday and the second at Murray Friday and Saturday.

At Hazel we were rated as second best in Public Speaking events, having won second place in debate, first place in extemporaneous speaking by Wilson Gantt, and second place in poetry reading by Virginia Collier. Our record was exceeded by only Hazel, who won first place, with the total of 48 points while we made a total of 41 points.

One of our contestants was counted ineligible in the county tournament, but was allowed to speak in the district meet. Alvis Colson won first place in bass solo, while our male quartet composed of Alvis Colson, Oleta Bogard, Vernon Billington, and Voris Parker won third place.

In the District speaking tournament at Murray Friday, March 22, Wilson Gantt speaking, Virginia Collier was rated third in poetry reading, and Clarence Grogan, the one considered ineligible in the County tournament, was learned unofficially, tied for sixth place among the fourteen contestants in oral interpretation. Our negative debate team lost the first debate of the tournament to the affirmative of Hickman, Ky.

We are planning on the biggest time of the year when the Leaders League Society presents a three act comedy entitled "Mammy's Lit' Wild Rose." The cast of characters are: Daniel French, from the city, Joe Clark. Lester Van, Daniel's chum, Hollis Roberts. Wade Carver, an unwelcome suitor, Auburn Shetkels. Orpheus Jackson, a native Romeo, Rudy Barnett. Old Joe, "Dat's a fac", Oleta Bogard. Rose O'May, Mammy's Lit' Wild Rose, Rubene Roberts. Mammy, Celie, a black treasure. Edna Mae Tutl. Hester O'May, Rose's maiden aunt, Jerlene Bogard. Peggy French, Daniel's sister. Hilda Colson. Letty Van, Peggy's chum, Virginia Collier. Babe Joan, a mountain charmer, Robbie Williams. Mrs. Courtvane, a lonely woman, Edna Mae Roberts.

This is to be accompanied by the best string quartet of Calloway county composed of Chester Yarbrough, Prentice McCuiston, and Hule and Obie Warren.

Music begins at 7 o'clock, the play begins at 7:30. There will Remember Saturday night, March 30!

Across the River

Spring is here again and the time for beginning again, so if the trees and grass which have been apparently dead all winter, can begin to peep forth, surely we who have survived very comfortably, can also find sufficient courage to get out the old garden hoses, the rusty chicken fountains, the dilapidated flower boxes and the scraps of reserve energy not expended on last year's disappointments, and begin to try, try again.

I went to church again Sunday. Heard Bro. Nelson preach a good Missionary Baptist sermon on missions. He might have thought I was hypnotized if he chanced to see me sitting back there with my eyes closed, but I was only trying to imagine myself back in my old home church at Sulphur Spring and, was wondering who at that moment was occupying the old organ stool there, and who and how many were singing in the old choir. My! but I'd like to attend Bro. Keys' singing school there!

Spring is a time for memories I guess. Peach blossoms and the like just start me to wondering how the old orchard looks back home, and if the old rose bushes are beginning to bud, and all that sort of thing. Then I know I'd better get out and feed my baby chicks or clean up the chip pile or do something diverting or first thing I know I'll be "bawling" of sheer homesickness.

I can't think of any unusual happenings around here in the last few days.

BOY MOVIE STAR IN PERSON AT CAPITOL

Manager Clifton Morris, of the Capitol Theatre, was fortunate in being able to book here at the Capitol in personal appearance for the two days of Sunday and Monday, Billie Vallie, famous juvenile, screen and stage star. Billie does imitations of famous people, such as Greta Garbo, Stepin' Fetchit, Mae West, and many others, as well as repeating famous introductions he had made of such personages as Jack Dempsey and Jim Lonsdale.

The child prodigy is best known for his work in the Al Jolson film, "Mammy," and also in the films of "Sunny Side Up," in which he sang the theme song, appearing with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in this big success and as the little rascal in "Our Gang Comedies." At the Capitol Theatre, "Sonny Boy," as Billie Vallie is called, will do impersonations of famous people and sing. He will also relate the story of how he broke into moving pictures. He is now on a personal appearance tour, having appeared in 43 Fox and Warner Brothers Theatres. From Murray he goes West to Texas to make several appearances and thence on to Hollywood.

"Sonny Boy," in addition to the famous films mentioned, has appeared in 15 "Our Gang Comedies." "Growing Up" was one of his last pictures, while he also appeared in "The Bishop Murder Case." He was crowned "King for a Day" at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago; was a guest of the Italian Admiral Balbo; has pictures made with such notables as Floyd Gibbons, Ralph De Palma, and many others. At present, "Sonny Boy" is only eight and one-half years old, but has unusual intelligence for his age. He first appeared in pictures in "Lucky Duck" at the age of 18 months. Mae West is his favorite actress and Warner Baxter his favorite actor. Fishing is his chief sport. "Sonny Boy" is a native of Palm Beach, Fla., and touring with him is his mother.

He is indeed a versatile entertainer and promises to give Murray movie fans a "big run" for their money in his personal appearance here.

games with Mint Spring was anticlimaxed by his consternation and terror when one of the Fort Henry outbuilding which "died" by a creek, became undermined by recent rains and toppled over backwards with seven of the students inside. None received serious injuries, though he carried two to Dover for medical aid.

Eagle, here's an item worthy of your column. Meddies Estelle, Blanche and, Mable Spickard motored up to church Saturday afternoon, but when they would have started home, the car wouldn't have its switch turned on. In spite of all the suggestions offered by the church, on all profers of the assistance of the teams and wagons, the ladies sat in the car (or walked on) till near six o'clock, by which time a lot of unpleasant things had been said about Ford's newest invention. Just before the sun went down, and when the pastor and the congregation had shaken their heads and said "We've done all we can do," and had slowly filed homeward, leaving two disconsolate but determined women alone, these suddenly discovered it was the spare tire key they had been trying instead of the switch. Classical?

Mr. Raymond Kirks, another Mr. Kirks, Raymond's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Cathey and children and Miss Hazel Dennis were guests at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Spickard last Sunday week. Rural schools here will not close for another month at the end of which many of the teachers plan to attend the teachers' convention at Nashville.
