THE HYGROMETER AND ITS USE. The hygrometer is an instrument that will foretell atmospheric conditions favorable for house-burn before actual damage takes place. It consists of two thermometers. The bulb of one being surrounded by a wet wick, the other remaining dry. The hygrometer is placed in the midst of the tobacco to be cured. Experience has taught that a temperature above 100 degrees and dry thermometers must read 3 degrees or more apart to have safe conditions for curing tobacco. When the two bulbs read closer than 3 degrees, the humidity is too low for safe curing. If the weather is hot, dry, and sultry, top ventilators should be opened to allow the damp air to pass out. In wet weather, artificial heat should be used to stimulate circulation of the air, and increase its water holding capacity. Yellowing is the first step in curing and it proceeds rapidly after the tobacco is thoroughly wilted, if the temperature and moisture conditions are suitable. The ventilators may be opened during the curing period. The critical period in curing tobacco is after yellowing when the color is fading. It is the time when house-burn is most likely to occur. The conditions which cure house-burn are: (1) Tobacco which has passed through the yellowing stage and turned brown (2) Relative humidity in excess of 90 degrees (3) A temperature range from 70 degrees to 90 degrees. In hot, sultry weather, when house-burn frequently occurs, open ventilators are all that is needed when the air is practically saturated, heat should be used to raise the temperature 10 degrees to 15 degrees above the outside temperature. The best temperature is 85-95 with a difference of 5 degrees to 8 degrees in the reading of the two thermometers. It usually takes about five days to set the color of tobacco. Finishing. Thoroughly cured it still like the finish. The amount of heat may be increased to 100 degrees with a difference of 8 to 15 degrees between the readings. After the fiber and stems are cured there is no advantage in using heat in excess of 90 degrees. Water should be used to keep tobacco from drying too fast. The Hazel F. F. A. boys will

False Wedding Report Mistreats Principals. The Ledger & Times keenly regrets that a false wedding report got into its society columns last week. We are advised by the principals that there was indeed no wedding of Miss Janie Hendrick and Raymond, Edwards on August 30 or at any other time.

This newspaper always keenly regrets false news reports, and particularly those of weddings. It makes every effort to prevent them. The rule in this office is that no anonymous reports of weddings will be printed without substantiation. However, in the stress of moving last week that rule was overlooked.

We tender our sincerest apologies to the principals and at the same time we desire to censure severely the person or persons who had such a poor idea of a practical joke.

Marriage is always a serious matter and never an excuse for fun or jokes. Please do not use this newspaper as an instrument to embarrass anyone by a false report of a wedding or anything else.

Please remember that wedding reports will not be printed when mailed in without the name and address of the writer.

Faxon School News. By Wayne Dyer. The Faxon softball team won their first game Wednesday, September 2, over the community pick-ups by a score of 6-0.

The Faxon boys went to Aurora Friday, September 4, and defeated the Aurora boys by a score of 6-5. The boys played excellent ball and were given plenty of competition.

The score, going into the seventh inning, was 5-4 in favor of Aurora with two on base. Donelson hit a long double to left, scoring the tying and winning runs. Thompson pitched splendid ball and received good backing.

The lineup for Faxon follows: Folwell, ss; Thompson, p; Donelson, cf; Gantt, lb; Brandon, cf; Barnett, lf; Rasdale, 3b; E. Thompson, rf; Burken, c; Ross, 2b. The Cardinals have a game scheduled with Hazel Friday, September 11.

The pie supper Saturday night, September 5, was a success with a large crowd in attendance. The girls brought 27 pies, which the boys bought briskly. A quilt donated by Rubene Roberts, was given away and Sylvester Ellis happened to have the lucky ticket.

The school sponsored a contest selling tickets, the class selling the most tickets getting a free trip to any softball game the Cardinals play. The sophomores won the contest on selling 46 tickets but were closely followed by the freshmen who sold 45 tickets.

Nannie Burken, a sophomore, sold the most tickets with Annie Helen Rasdale of the freshman class, a close second.

We are looking forward to the community fair which is to be given October 16. There will be contests between all the rural schools in Faxon community, both scholastic and athletics. The agriculture department will sponsor a dairy show, poultry show and farm products contest. We also have a softball game with Almo on that day.

Mr. Walston plans to take a judging team to the state fair at Louisville September 16-19. Those who will go on the team are: Talma Burken, James Brandon, and Voris Parker.

Miss Folwell, as library director, has organized her force of volunteer student among which are: Nannie Burken, Sadie Neil Dyer, Estelle Jones, Kathleen Duncan, Virginia Travis, Dorothy Elliott, and Pauline Hunt. Before school opened Annie Helen Rasdale, a freshman, helped the librarian get the library in readiness for the opening. The records show that the new books purchased last year have been used regularly but not one has been lost.

Chiropactic Cures Gall Stone Colic. The first day of July I developed a very severe case of indigestion. The second day found me no better so I called on Dr. W. C. Oakley, chiropactor. I related my symptoms to Dr. Oakley and he informed me that he thought I was suffering with gall stone colic and that I should watch my stools for stones.

I began taking a series of adjustments, in a few days I was feeling much better. On the third week I passed 90 gall stones ranging in size from that of a grain of wheat to that of a large pea. This gave me the greatest relief of anything that ever happened to me.

When I called on Dr. Oakley my heart was beating 90 times per minute, my temperature was 103. No one but a sufferer of this trouble can realize the pain I endured. After the first adjustment my temperature left me, my heart quieted down to normal and I gradually began getting better and today I can eat any kind of food and all I want without the slightest ill effect.

In the summer of 1930, apparently, I had the same kind of colic. My physician diagnosed my case as appendicitis and sent me to the hospital where I submitted to an operation and had my appendix removed. I seemed to have gotten better for awhile then it began to have the same light attacks of colic every few months and each time the attacks were more severe until I had the attack that led me to a chiropactor's office and apparently to a cure. Dr. Oakley did not use the knife or any medicine, he simply moved a few vertebrae in my back and neck which relaxed me, made me feel better and which ultimately made the common gall duct open large enough to pass 90 stones from my gall bladder. The only regret I have is that I did not go to Dr. Oakley at first, he would have saved me a still in the side, a big expense and a lot of suffering. Any way I am well and I thank Dr. Oakley for my health. I am 22 years old and I can face the future with a new determination. Luther Jones, Benton, Ky.

The re-union of Company "B", 113th Ammunition Train, a world war organization, arranged by Jesse H. Henley here last Sunday afternoon at the Baptist Picnic Grounds was a tremendous success. Veterans of the outfit from seven states brought their families, including a few grandchildren, and American Legion, presided as master of ceremonies. Several Calloway veterans, all of whom were given a blanket invitation by Mr. Henley, attended the occasion.

Dexter School News

This week ends the first two months of our school. We have been very busy this past week taking examinations.

We played Utterback's ball team last Friday and won over them by one score. We also met the Biskley team and lost the count by one score. We plan to play many other schools in the near future.

Our daily attendance has been very good. Billy Ray Walton was absent two days on the account of the death of his father. We are very sorry and hope Billy will soon return to school.

The fourth grade is still working on their poem booklets.

The third grade is planning to have a health show, so they are very busy.

The fifth and sixth grades are studying Western United States. They have just completed the unit on the great landing.

County Schools Gain Financially With Many Improvements in Plants

The annual financial audit of the Calloway county board of education, published in this edition in compliance with state law, shows that the board has continued to improve its fiscal condition despite the marked improvements in its various plants and equipment throughout the county.

The past two years has witnessed not only a considerable increase in the value of the county's school property and equipment but also has seen a deficit of two years ago turned into a respectable cash balance.

Two years ago on July 1, the deficit was $3,562.69. During that year by good management the board succeeded in wiping out the deficit and having a cash balance of $5,814.49 at the end of the year. During the past fiscal year, ending July 1, the board received more than $6,000 less than during the previous year, yet was able to make a large number of additional improvements and increase the net cash balance to the credit of the board to $7,394.20, a gain of approximately $1,500 during the twelve months.

A Tribute

A tribute to the memory of Mrs. Lillie Orr from The Ladies Bible Class of Sinking Spring. Written by Mrs. J. J. Gough.

A beautiful life God has given us. One that was ever so willing to trust.

Her daily journey did not weary grow. Because each forward step was full of heavenly glow.

Often she said: "The path grows sweeter day by day. As she travelled along the celestial way."

A beautiful character from us had flown. To await the glorious resurrection morn'.

Weep not dear loved ones all its well. O' pure love and friendship unending.

Though on earth we shall not again hear her voice. Her spirit whispers to our soul rejoice.

The church, its pastor and her friends will keenly feel the loss of her devoted and loyal Christian life, but we humbly submit to our Heavenly Father's will, in the language of our Savior we say: "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven."

HAVENS TO PRACH ON REAL RECOVERY

"Real Recovery" will be the sermon subject of A. V. Havens, pastor of the First Christian Church, at the morning worship service next Sunday.

"Recovery, reconstruction, reformation and relief are key words of our present-day circumstances," Mr. Havens said, in commenting on the sermon. "In seeking to effect the changes which these words indicate," he continued, "we must be sure that the results will be lasting and permanent. We must be sure that our recovery and reconstruction and reformation and relief are real and not merely temporary. For if they are simply temporary," he said, "it will only be two or three years until our condition will be far worse than it has ever been. This sermon," Mr. Havens said, "will attempt to set forth a genuine basis for real recovery."

The service will begin at 10:45. The Sunday School will begin at 9:30. The Young People's Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 6:30 Sunday evening. This meeting will be for all young people of college and high school age.

County Schools Gain Financially With Many Improvements in Plants

The annual financial audit of the Calloway county board of education, published in this edition in compliance with state law, shows that the board has continued to improve its fiscal condition despite the marked improvements in its various plants and equipment throughout the county. The past two years has witnessed not only a considerable increase in the value of the county's school property and equipment but also has seen a deficit of two years ago turned into a respectable cash balance. Two years ago on July 1, the deficit was $3,562.69. During that year by good management the board succeeded in wiping out the deficit and having a cash balance of $5,814.49 at the end of the year. During the past fiscal year, ending July 1, the board received more than $6,000 less than during the previous year, yet was able to make a large number of additional improvements and increase the net cash balance to the credit of the board to $7,394.20, a gain of approximately $1,500 during the twelve months.
