HOMEMAKERS PLAN CLUB PROGRAMS FOR NEXT YEAR

Work Includes Study Of Home Furnishing Problems In County

Plans for six lessons in home furnishings to be given to Homemakers Clubs next year, were made at a committee meeting in Murray Wednesday, July 10. This will be the third year in which a major project on home furnishings was selected by Calloway County Homemakers for study.

During this period the members had lessons on slip-covers, reclaiming discarded furniture, herbony in home furnishings, arrangement of furniture, window treatment, and selection and use of accessories.

In October this fall the women will study floor coverings, which will include the selection and placing of rugs, care of linoleum rugs and painting worn linoleums.

In November and December the lessons will be on walls; selecting, hanging and cleaning paper, and painting walls and woodwork.

Pictures will be the subject of the January and March lessons. This will include how to select, hang and clean pictures and mirrors, making picture frames, and equipment for hanging pictures.

The sixth and last lesson, given in April, will be on lamps; selection of electric table and floor lamps, care of oil lamps, and converting oil lamps to wired lamps.

The lessons will be given by Miss Venice Lovelady, specialist in home furnishings, from the University of Kentucky, and Miss Rachel Rowland, home demonstration agent.

Goals were set up at the planning meeting for the individual members and Clubs to reach in the home furnishings project. They are:

1. Each member adopt at least 12 improved practices from the six lessons.
2. Each member pass on home furnishings information gained from the lessons to at least six non-members.
3. Each club send at least one leader to each training meeting.
4. Have a community or county tour after the completion of the project in the spring.

Those who planned the project at the meeting Wednesday were Mesdames James Overby, Clifford Smith, Fleetwood Crouch, J. A. Outland, Olla Brown, and Miss Lovelady and Miss Rowland.

Green Tomato Mart Bugged Down Here

After 56 cars of green tomatoes had been shipped from Murray, the market bogged down last week and closed until the ripe tomato season is in. W. H. Brooks stated today that last week's rain spoiled the growth of the green tomato crops to the extent that the markets kicked back on the local shipment. The tomatoes were described as rain-checked and were refused by the buyers.

No more green tomatoes will be received. Mr. Brooks stated that ripe tomatoes will be received next week and expected the price to be around 65 or 70 cents per bushel.

The tomato crop is a disappointment to local growers this year, due to the fact that this year's crop had produced about 1000 acres in comparison with the 250 acres raised last year. Only 35 cars were shipped from here last year.

Dates Changed For County Fair

The dates for the County Fair have been changed to Sept. 18, 19, and 20, according to Ray Treon. This change was necessary because of the change in dates of the Jersey show at Mayfield. That show was formerly announced for the first week in October but will be Sept. 25, 26, 27.

The above changes were made to accommodate the county agents and home demonstration agents of Calloway and Graves counties who were called to a meeting in Lexington the first week in October.

Calloway leaders want to have the fair here before the Mayfield Fair.

Mr. Treon announced that the premium lists will be distributed within a few days.

Truman Okehs 19-29 Draft Extension

WASHINGTON, July 16—President Truman today authorized extension of the draft to men 19 through 29 and Selective Service quickly tightened up on deferments.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, instructed local boards that occupational deferments must be allowed only to those few registrants whom they find to be "indispensable and irreplaceable to the national existence."

Farmers and farm workers will continue to get special consideration, however, and fathers are exempt.

Rooms For 347 Students Found in Murray Canvass

In response to prospective students' request for places to live while attending Murray State College, rooms for 347 have been located the past week in a door-knocking campaign by Murray residents.

The house-to-house canvass is not completed, according to Max Hurt, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Forty two teams have reported out of the 56 pledged to do the job of finding rooms for 400 students.

According to the reports turned in, rooms have been promised for 238 boys, and 79 girls. Thirty apartments for married couples have been pledged for use in September.

There are rooms pending for 124 students. Some of the homes were uncertain and promised to call in to Mr. Hurt their decision. Rooms for 54 more students may be obtained. Families who would like to help in the rooming situation here—have promised to rent rooms to college students provided they can get materials such as bath-tubs, stoves and other items in time for use.

The above figures and reports are convincing facts, if one needs convincing, to prove that Murray will cooperate in a program that is vital to the needs of the community. The town was asked to "move over" and make room for some men and women to live while they attended school here. In response to this request by Dr. Ralph Woods, president of the college who had more applications for enrollment in the college than he had rooms, the home folks have lived up to the traditional hospitality.

They have hung the latch strings and the welcome sign on the outside.

Rationing of Sugar Urged Until 1948

Washington, July 15.—Top OPA officials are convinced that sugar rationing should continue until the spring of 1948 regardless of whether the price control.

Deputy Director Geoffrey Baker and George A. Dice, director of sugar rationing, told reporters today that more people want more sugar now than at any time during the war.

Industry users, they said, seem "almost frantic" to get all the sugar they can find.

Sugar rationing is authorized by the Second War Powers Act. They predicted the United States will barely squeeze through this year with the present ration.

Heirens Said Ready To Give Full Confession To Three Slayings In Return For Life Sentence

CHICAGO, July 17 — William Heirens, 17, was reported today to be ready to give a full and complete confession to three of the nation's most shocking crimes— including the premeditated kidnap-slaying of six-year-old, Suzanne Degnan.

It was understood that an agreement had been reached between the state's attorney's office and defense counsel whereby Heirens would confess the three murders in return for recommendation by the state for a life sentence, instead of the electric chair.

Heirens, who has been charged formally with 24 burglaries and five assaults during a fantastic dual career as a fun-loving, religious college student and a primitive, maddened criminal, was disclosed by the United Press Monday to have admitted the three murders.

that greedy capital and John L. Lewis have joined hands to elect Lt. Col. Philip Ardery. They have succeeded in raising the price on every article used by the people, from the cradle in which they rock their babies to the coffins in which they bury their dead.

They have taken money from the farmers, clerks, teachers and others too numerous to mention, whose salaries ARE LESS THAN ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A MONTH, and paid it to rich corporations and czars of labor.

NEW CONCORD NEWS

The revival at New Concord Church of Christ was well attended last week. Cars lined both sides of the road and the high school grounds had to be used for parking space. But Concord's just a busy little place these days and Mr. Riley Miller shouldn't wonder why it is that every time it rains, it rains on Concord. Most of our little village attends some church and if we would only forget our doctrines and creed and have no creed but Christ, no law but love and try to make the world an easier place to do right in and a harder place to do wrong in, we'd all render better service than by arguing. From our little corner of the world we really get to see lots of people daily. It's so fascinating just wondering every morning who will stop in today that we hardly take time to do our household.

Breds Will Use "T" and Single-Wing, Coach Moore Says

Murray State's 50 thoroughbred and head coach Jim Moore will use the "T" formation, augmented by the single wing, this fall, it was indicated here today.

Moore described his 10-game schedule as a "pain". The principal "pain" producers for him are probably Mississippi State, Ohio University, Chattanooga University, and Marshall College, not overlooking the possibilities of such toughies as Eastern Kentucky, Western Kentucky, Tennessee Tech, Evansville College, Eastern Illinois, and Morehead State.

Despite this rather gloomy outlook, Moore admitted his boys would probably appear on the playing field for each contest. "We'll carry a squad of 50," he conceded.

Lettermen returning include Charlie Walsh, Harold Manson, Clifford White, Braxton Sanford, Kenneth Evert, Tommy Walker, Vito Brucchiari, Wid Ellison, Bud Dubia, "Flip" Sanchez, Paul Willoughby, Alfred Sherman, Sam

France Sends Out Invitations To Conference

PARIS, July 9.—France sent out invitations today to a European peace conference of 21 nations July 29 which will have full freedom to fix its own rules of procedure without Big Four dictation.

V. M. Molotov, making one of Russia's biggest concessions in the history of the Foreign Ministers Committee, broke the Big Four's worst deadlock and cleared the way for the unshackled peace conference for which James F. Byrnes had fought tooth and nail.

Four basic recommendations to the peace conference comprised the foundation for the compromise reached last night after two strenuous sessions.

The recommendations were: 1. There shall be a "general commission" or a steering committee consisting of one representative of each of the 21 nations, which shall operate on the basis of decision by two-thirds vote.

2. The conference shall have the right to suspend or amend its own rules of procedure.

3. Actual details of work on the satellite peace treaties shall be done by five "political commissions" as suggested by Molotov. They will comprise in each case the nations actually at war with the satellite whose treaty is under consideration. France will be represented on each commission, but without a vote save in the case of the Italian treaty.

4. In decisions of the political commission, whenever there is a two-thirds vote, the minority shall have the right to submit its opinion to the full conference. In cases lacking a two-thirds vote, the committee in question shall submit two reports embodying the opinion of the factions within it.

In addition, there will be two economic commissions, as proposed by Molotov Saturday—not to study economic questions connected with the Italian treaty and one to consider questions connected with the Balkan treaties.

Running water has been installed in 20 farm homes in McCreeky county since Jan. 1. A concrete-slab sink 12 by 25 feet, holding about 90 tons, has just been completed on C. McGree's farm in Grant county.

Several Floyd county farmers plan to sow alfalfa in late summer, since rains prevented spring seeding.

It is estimated that about 400 acres of Ky. 31 fescue grass in Christian county will produce 75,000 pounds of seed.

The Waverly Homemakers Club in Union county is promoting the exchange of seeds and bulbs among its members.

Eight homemakers' clubs in Boyd county have completed the study of "Business Affairs Women Need to Know."

Twenty-seven members of homemakers' clubs in Kenton county have asked for plans for making laundry carts.

Mr. Gatton told County Agent Northington that overflow land should be improved and rotated with pasture crops, manure applied and crop residue returned to the soil. He said his net income from pasture would compare favorably with the income of farmers who grew only corn and soybeans, over a period of years.

Improvement of production on overflowed in McLean County long has been a problem, according to Mr. Northington.

When County Agent Leary Northington recently tested the soil on the Leet farm he found it well fertilized with lime. Two tons of limestone to the acre have been applied twice in 10 years.

Mr. Leet said the county agent he planned to complete his soil-building program by growing cover crops.

A soil-building program followed by T. H. Leet in McLean County has increased corn yields from 30 bushels to 76 bushels to the acre in 10 years and produced good alfalfa, red clover and mixed grasses.

Wilderness Road Theme Of Meeting

By RUSSELL DYCHE, Director Kentucky State Parks.

If you live along the old Wilderness Road, or near one of several Central Kentucky towns served by it, you will have an opportunity during the first eight days of August to see the above Lincoln wagon and North Carolina schooner bed, drawn by these same oxen, the sort of outfit as was often seen on that first "wagon road" to connect the "new settlements" with the old, during its heyday and latter years. They can't tarry long, for the oxen and wagon and the men who accompany them must be back at the Levi Jackson-Wilderness Road State Park not later than Friday, Aug. 9, to participate in the great Laurel County Homecoming, an annual event the "Week-end of the Full Moon in August."

This year the theme of the Laurel County Homecoming is "The Wilderness Road", this being the 150th Anniversary of the building that vehicular turnpike from Crab Orchard to Cumberland Gap, the event that opened the vast wilderness so lately infested by hostile Indians, for settlement by the whites.

This picture was taken on The Wilderness Road in the Levi Jackson Wilderness Road State Park. In the background is a corner of the old "Jackson Stand", one of the first taverns—forerunner of the modern tourist courts—to be built along The Wilderness Road, and one of the very few still standing. Towns to be visited are: Cumberland Gap at Kentucky-Tennessee border, Middlesboro, Pineville, Barbourville, Corbin, London, Mt. Vernon, Crab Orchard, Stenford, Danville, Harrodsburg, Lawrenceburg, Frankfort, Versailles, Lexington, Paris, Winchester, Richmond and Berea. Local newspapers will be notified of the exact time when schedule has been determined.

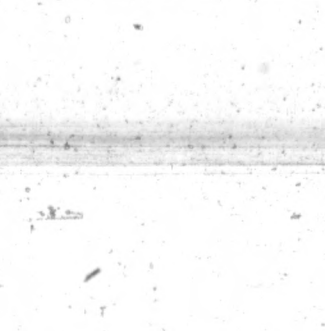

The Laurel County Homecoming, originating with the opening of the Levi Jackson State Park in 1925 and expanding to three days by 1939, was abbreviated during the war years to a program of music and dancing Saturday nights and an all day singing on Sunday. This year the Friday night program of more serious, yet still popular music, is being revived. The dates are Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 9, 10 and 11.

Soil Building Gets Results in McLean

A soil-building program followed by T. H. Leet in McLean County has increased corn yields from 30 bushels to 76 bushels to the acre in 10 years and produced good alfalfa, red clover and mixed grasses.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women may have brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help: 1. It should stimulate appetite, aid digestion - thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. 2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to "purely functional" periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you tried it.

What Kentucky Farmers Are Doing

Running water has been installed in 20 farm homes in McCreeky county since Jan. 1. A concrete-slab sink 12 by 25 feet, holding about 90 tons, has just been completed on C. McGree's farm in Grant county.

Several Floyd county farmers plan to sow alfalfa in late summer, since rains prevented spring seeding.

It is estimated that about 400 acres of Ky. 31 fescue grass in Christian county will produce 75,000 pounds of seed.

The Waverly Homemakers Club in Union county is promoting the exchange of seeds and bulbs among its members.

Eight homemakers' clubs in Boyd county have completed the study of "Business Affairs Women Need to Know."

Twenty-seven members of homemakers' clubs in Kenton county have asked for plans for making laundry carts.

Mr. Gatton told County Agent Northington that overflow land should be improved and rotated with pasture crops, manure applied and crop residue returned to the soil. He said his net income from pasture would compare favorably with the income of farmers who grew only corn and soybeans, over a period of years.

Improvement of production on overflowed in McLean County long has been a problem, according to Mr. Northington.

When County Agent Leary Northington recently tested the soil on the Leet farm he found it well fertilized with lime. Two tons of limestone to the acre have been applied twice in 10 years.

Mr. Leet said the county agent he planned to complete his soil-building program by growing cover crops.

Mr. And Mrs. Henry Adams Were Married Thursday, June 27, In Princeton

A wedding of interest to West Kentuckians was solemnized Thursday afternoon, June 27, at the First Baptist Church, in Princeton, when Miss Mary Nell Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Euen Farmer, Franklin street, became the bride of Henry A. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Adams, Mayfield, formerly of Murray.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, southern smilax and tall baskets of calla lilies and white gladioli, interspersed with cathedral candelabra and white tapers. At the pews were bouquets of smilax and gladioli tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Ethel Griffin, of Clarkdale, Miss., organist, Sara Delia Cunningham and Meredith Brown, soloists, rendered the nuptial music, Jack Giagnini and George Richie lighted the candles as the organist played, "Chir de L'Alce." Prior to the ceremony, Meredith Brown sang "Because," and Sara Delia Cunningham sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bride came to the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a portrait gown of heavy faulle taffeta, with a fitted bodice, buttoned with self covered bottom, pointed sleeves and a voluminous skirt, falling into a long train. Her coronet veil was of imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

Miss Joyce Farmer, of Clarkdale, Miss., who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a blue embroidered marquisette gown—over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Misses Caroline Wren, of St. Louis, Mo.; Virginia Joiner, and Sue Farmer, wore pink gowns of embroidered marquisette, identical in design with the maid of honor's.

The attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink roses, baby's breath, lacy fern and delphinium. Each girl wore a tiny gold locket, gifts of the bride. Little Miss Carol Winters, the flower girl, wore a ruffled gown

Ground Oats Replaces Flour in Spicy Oatmeal Cake

Something new has been discovered in the cake world: a recipe which uses ground oats instead of flour! Spicy Oatmeal Cake defies cake connoisseurs. It has a flavor that is delightfully different. Grinding rolled oats with the fine blade of a food chopper is the special trick called for in the recipe. And the cake is as easy to combine as muffins, since it uses the same technique.

Spicy Oatmeal Cake

Time: 25 minutes Temperature: 350°
2 1/2 cups Rolled Oats (which or old-fashioned, uncooked)
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup melted shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons water
4 beaten eggs

1. Grind oats with fine blade of food chopper. Measure 2 1/2 cups of the ground oats.
2. Mix together ground oats, sugar, soda, salt and spices until thoroughly blended.
3. Add raisins, nuts, melted shortening, vanilla, water and slightly beaten eggs, stirring lightly.
4. Bake in two waxed paper lined 8-inch round layer cake pans in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 25 minutes.

Ex-Chauffeur for Hitler Says He Saw Fuehrer Dred

NUERNBERG, Germany, July 13.—Hitler's former chauffeur, Erich Kempka testified today that he saw the Reichschancellor the afternoon of April 30, 1945, and also helped carry Eva Braun's body outside for cremation.

Kempka also told the international military tribunal he saw Martin Bormann, missing aide of the Fuehrer who is in trial in absentia, blasted by a bazooka shell with such force that it was impossible for him to be alive either.

The chauffeur referred to Eva Braun, the bride of a few hours, as "Adolf Hitler's wife."

When he told how he saw the body of the Fuehrer rolled in a blanket, with only the booted legs hanging out, he said: "It wasn't the same Adolf Hitler." He was impressed that the blanket used was too short.

"I can say he died the 30th of April between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. I didn't see him die."

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that clogs the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, acidity or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer aching backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will find a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to hold out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

John Garfield, co-starred Lana Turner in "The Postman Always Rings Twice," coming to the screen of the Varsity Theatre next Thursday and Friday, was born in New York City. A prize for debating during his school days led him to acting and a scholarship at the Hecksher Foundation. After experience with the Eve LeGal-lene Civic Repertory Theatre, he made a hit in the Paul Muni play, "Counselor-at-law," and from then on scored in a number of Broadway successes among them "Golden Boy" and "Having a Wonderful Time." In 1938 he made his screen debut in "Four Daughters" and became a star in his first picture. Now one of Hollywood's most-in-demand actors, Garfield has such pictures to his credit, as "Pride of the Marines," "Between Two Worlds," "Destination, Tokyo," "Thank Your Lucky Stars" and "Tortilla Flat."

Many farmers in Bullitt county are keeping only half the number of sows usually kept.

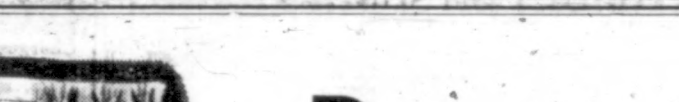

The McLean County Farm Bureau ordered 650 bushels of hybrid corn for its members.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Belle Kuykendall was born February 18, 1872, and was called to her heavenly home July 5, 1946, age 74 years.

She professed faith in her Lord and Saviour at an early age, and was a member of the Oak Grove Baptist church, where she remained a faithful member until death. She was married to W. F. Kuykendall December 12, 1889. To this union were born two children, one daughter, Mrs. Fay Miller, of Union City, Tenn.; one son, Oscar Kuykendall, of Texarkana, Ark.

Almost three years ago she was stricken with a paralytic stroke, of which she had been an invalid since that time. She suffered much, but bore her suffering with patience, often speaking to her devoted husband, her children, and friends, of her desire to depart this life of suffering to be with her Saviour.

She was a kind, devoted companion, a sweet loving mother and grandmother, a kind, good neighbor, a friend to all. She leaves to her children, Oscar and Mayce; the two children, Oscar and Mayce; Wade, of San Antonio, Texas; two great grand-children (which were so dear to her) Joan, and little Billy Wade; also two sisters and five brothers and many friends.

We would say, weep not for Aunt Belle is at rest.—A Friend.

Rupture

Expert Coming to MAYFIELD Again

Geo. L. Howe

Well known expert of Indianapolis, and ex-U.S. Army Medical Corpsman, will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Hall Hotel, Mayfield, Wed., July 24th, from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is personally demonstrated and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Do not overlook the opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P. O. Box 5233 E. Michigan St. Station, Indianapolis 1, Ind.

John Fetterman Is 1946-47 Editor Of College News

The 1946-47 editor of the College News at Murray State College is John Fetterman, son of Mrs. J. L. Fetterman, Danville.

During the war he served three and a half years with the Seabees as yeoman first class, two years of which were spent in the Solomons.

He was a member of the college band his first year, 1939, at Murray. Now a junior, he is vice-president of the Vets Club, and a member of Kipsa Pi, Journalism club, and the Twentieth Century Commerce Club.

In 1944 he married Miss Evelyn Manner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Manner of Decatur, Ala. They have an apartment at 711 West Main street.

Last year's editor-in-chief was Miss Maxine Crouch, junior from Lynn, Groves.

THE FARMER AND HIS PRODUCT

By T. O. Turner

The farmer and his produce always under control by the manager of trade, or the political divisions of governments.

The President, just a short period of years from a small town clothing merchant, a child of fortune in political circles with nothing to indicate his superiority in knowledge of business or government, now poses as entitled to control both the legislative and executive, czar of our federal government—not willing for the majority of Congress to formulate a rule of control of business in peace times.

He is entirely on the side of organized graft of labor who has gone away a head of all manner of business, with day schedule of labor entirely inadequate to manufacture and distribute merchandise to restock the country.

With badly needed merchandise required to make progress in the rehabilitation of our country to peace time, the farmer who works from daylight to dusk with no overtime or double-time sees the cost of building and repair material highest in history. Still now, after an opportunity to get a reasonable price under lapse of OPA, with subsidies off, the price is not much higher than OPA with subsidies which had to come from the taxpayer. They are trying to make us believe that prices are held down. They think as long as bonds can be sold and subsidies can be paid, prices are lower. The common man knows better, because under the subsidy way, the supply is getting lighter all the time.

If we are to have Congress with the great cost to the taxpayer, will the members not have an opinion of their own and formulate a program that business including the great business of farming can operate under?

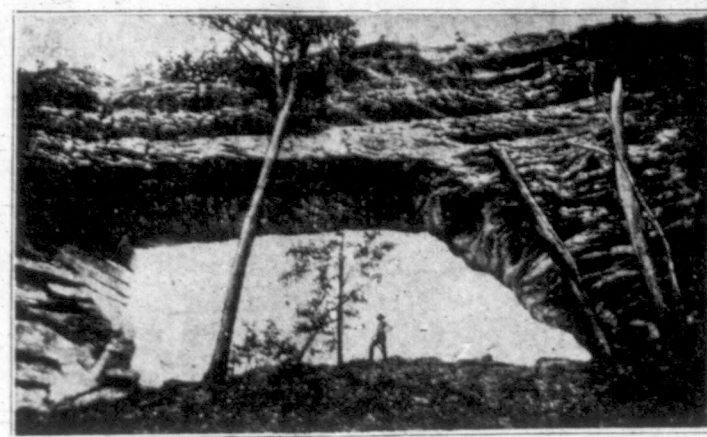

This organized bunch in cities in great industrial centers whose works are on the premises of eight hours, doing not more than might be done in six hours, except with the double pay to finish out a reasonable day's work having six hours of daylight and six hours of night to dress up and revel in so-called luxury, spending more each day for unnecessary things than the farmer makes, then set up a howl because the farmer gets a little rise, to the extent that production is falling which will amount to a panic in a short time.

Is there no way that the Congress can manage to control the situation and send the Senate Bill to the President? Let him veto it or not, and wait until a new Congress comes to re-enact a new control bill if necessary. This would give us a five-monthly breathing spell and let business management have a chance, and the farmers plan for a crop for 1947.

In former years Democrats fought subsidies and Republicans enacted them for big business only. Now the Democrats want to give it to all and issue bonds to cover the cost. But old-time Democrats want no subsidies but want to be allowed to follow a simple way of life which cannot be controlled from a centralized government at Washington. No one in every day life can follow the rules which are not understandable, and unworkable in every day affairs with the change of seasons and conditions of the uncontrollable elements. Space is too short for such a subject.

About 1,500 acres of ladine clover in Fulton county will be saved for seed this year.

Natural Bridge Stages Great Comeback

By RUSSELL DYCHE, Director Kentucky State Parks

Showing the greatest post-war increase in patronage of any Kentucky State park is Natural Bridge in Powell county, which was visited by 490 per cent more people in May, 1946, than in the same month last year. This showing is due, in part, to the fact that because of its distance from population centers and heavily traveled highways, Natural Bridge suffered more than any other State park from war conditions. In this connection it might be said that each Kentucky State park received an increase of patronage of 31 per cent or more, with an average increase of 134 per cent.

The oldest recreation area in the State park system, Natural Bridge has always been one of the more popular, and now, with many additional facilities assured, as well as the restoration of the dam in Red River which was lost in the 1937 flood, still greater popularity is in store for it.

For many years operated by the L. & N. railroad as a Sunday excursion attraction, Natural Bridge was given Kentucky as a State park by the L. & N. in 1924, one of its first four park areas. Hemlock Lodge, a hotel of some 30 rooms, was built soon afterwards, has since been operated by the same concessioner and has become widely known because of its good food. Three cabins provide for overflow crowds. Applications for reservations should be mailed to the park at Slade, Ky.

The entire "Red River country", one of the most scenic areas in Kentucky, is easily accessible from Natural Bridge, containing more than 15,000,000 pounds of rock, forms a roadway 30 feet wide, and is reached by two well maintained trails. The parks is a mecca for hikers, and among its attractions are the Devil's Gulch, the Balanced Rock, salt-peter mines and a cave.

Dr. Woods Writes Letter To Citizens

TO THE CITIZENS OF MURRAY.—May I take this opportunity to thank the Chamber of Commerce, the press, all civic organizations, the churches and theatres for their interest and untiring efforts in carrying out the College Week campaign to secure rooms for students who will be attending Murray State Teachers College this fall.

I am especially grateful to Max Hurt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to representatives of the Woman's Club, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, the Young Business Men's Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club and to the ministers of our churches and others who assisted with the house-to-house campaign; and I desire to express my grateful thanks to the people of the city for their wholehearted response and the sacrifices which they are making to provide rooms for students attending this college.

Through your cooperation and assistance, Murray State Teachers College will be able to write a more significant chapter in the years ahead.

Sincerely yours,
R. H. WOODS,
President

Rooms Available At Murray State

President Ralph H. Woods announced today that all students planning to attend Murray State College this fall should make application immediately, including requests for room reservations.

"There are still rooms available for students here this fall", Dr. Woods said. The new quarter will open September 23 with an enrollment expected to be the largest in the history of the college.

"Under the leadership of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, churches, and civic organizations, a house-to-house canvass for rooms has been conducted and we have been assured accommodations for a large student body this fall", Woods explained.

The Federal Public Housing Authority has recently assigned 80 additional dormitory quarters for the use of single student veterans. In addition to the 80 dormitory units assigned, the college has secured a total of 114 temporary family dwelling accommodations for veterans, 33 through purchase and 81 through the cooperative program.

"The 114 family units are already occupied or reserved", President

Woods asserted. "Throughout the year every effort has been made to provide homes for the married veterans and we are continuing our canvass to secure additional homes in the city for these and other students."

Not only is Murray State providing homes for its prospective students, but the college is also introducing additional courses for the benefit of the veteran and civilian students, Dr. Woods announced. Industrial Arts has been added to the college curriculum, beginning in September.

Seven Convicted In Used Car Black Market Case; Verdict To Be Appealed, Attorney Says

DETROIT, July 11.—A Federal Court jury of housewives today convicted seven men of conspiring to violate used car price ceilings in what the OPA called its "biggest black market case."

The all-woman jury deliberated an hour and 20 minutes in finding the group of five Kentuckians and one each from Illinois and Missouri guilty of a scheme netting an alleged $3,000,000 in illegal profits.

Attorneys indicated they would appeal the verdict, which carried with it possible maximum penalties of two years in prison or $10,000 fines, or both.

Twenty-two other previously had pleaded guilty to participating in a conspiracy centered at auction lots in Murray, Ky., and Cairo, Ill., and involving purchases and sales of a government-estimated 5,000 automobiles.

Convicted today were Ben Fishel, 33, named as operator of the Cairo lot, and Noble Dick, 37, Murray, Ky.; Edd West, 40, Poplar Bluff, Mo.; John D. Lovins, 35, and John C. A. Nelson, 45, Paducah, Ky.; and Hentori Farley, 37, and Gordon Ivy, 32, Benton, Ky.

Judge Arthur Koscinski deferred sentences pending probation reports on the seven. He also had deferred sentences for the other 22.

The government charged half the 5,000 cars sold at Cairo and Murray were "definitely known" to have been procured in Detroit. Some were bought on streets and at homes through the operations of "spotters" the government said. The seven who fought the charges contended they had operated as individuals and competitors rather than as a "combination," as the government alleged.

Judge Koscinski continued surety bonds of $1,000 for each and, at the request of government attorneys after the guilty verdict, ordered them to post $5,000 personal bond in addition.

Thirty-one men originally were named defendants in the conspiracy indictment. U. S. Attor-

Tobacco Field Meets To Be Held July 19

Arrangements have been made by County Agent S. V. Foy for two tobacco field meetings to be held in the county on Friday, July 19. Russell Hunt, tobacco specialist from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, will lead in the field observation and the discussions of the best paying practices in the growing, harvesting, housing, and curing of the tobacco crop.

The first meeting will be held at the farm of Earl Burkeen in the Shiloh community at 9:30 a.m. An afternoon meeting will be held at the Murray State College farm, one mile west of Five Points, at 2:00 p.m.

Both dark fired and burley tobacco will be observed and discussed at each of the meetings. Farmers are urged to bring their questions concerning both types of tobacco to the meeting.

A general invitation is extended to all farmers, agricultural leaders and teachers, and representatives of the tobacco industry in Murray; and a special invitation is given to veterans in agricultural training.

Twenty-eight Laurel county farmers, 4-H and FFA members have enrolled in the corn derby.

JOE BROWN AND "PEANUTS" JOHNSON COMPILE FOOTBALL STRATEGY FOR FALL

In the men's dormitory at Murray State College there is a light that burns into the wee hours nearly every night.

It isn't because of a game of checkers or a too long neglected term paper. James "Peanuts" Johnson, head football coach at Owensboro, and Joe "Barrel" Brown, recently picked to report to Owensboro in September as assistant football coach, are carefully planning a lot of unpleasant things they are going to try to make happen to some high school football teams in central and western Kentucky next fall.

Joe made his first contact with the gentle art of football at Danville High School. He played center on some of the best teams ever fielded by that school and was named All State in 1934 and 1935. In 1935 he was also picked as All Southern. Between seasons he busied himself with basketball, golf and tennis. He was named All Regional in basketball in 1934 and 1935.

In 1937 Joe, with a high school diploma and a serious neck injury made two discoveries in rapid succession at Murray. His new roommate was a boy from Clay, called "Peanuts" Johnson. "Peanuts" also had more than an idle interest in the center position on the Thoroughbred squad. Both of them played three years of varsity ball at Murray. Joe was made into a tackle.

In September of 1941 Joe went to Gleason, Tenn., as football coach. The year before Gleason had lost every game on the schedule including an open date so nobody paid much attention to Coach Brown's talk about winning football games. "Barrel" closed his season with 7 wins and 3 defeats.

The Marines made him a Second Louie and shipped him to Guadalcanal. After 26 months of overseas duty he was returned to the states and discharged.

Like a lot of other veterans, Joe decided the G. I. Bill's offer to free college work was his best

Dr. R. T. Skinner Named Editor of Baptist Paper

The Rev. Dr. R. T. Skinner, native of Murray, and son of the Rev. J. E. Skinner, now retired, Murray, has been named editor of the Western Recorder, Kentucky Baptist weekly paper, published in Louisville.

Dr. Skinner was pastor of the First Baptist Church, Bowling Green for the past 12 years. He has also held pastorates in Birmingham, Tenn., and Stetson University, Jackson, Tenn. and Stetson University, Deland, Fla.

He will assume his duties in Louisville September 1.

When he arrived at Murray he made two discoveries in rapid succession. His roommate was a man from Clay, Ky., named "Peanuts" Johnson, and "Peanuts", as head coach of Owensboro, was looking for an assistant.

"JOB DIVIDENDS" at General Electric

For the year 1945, $35,000,000 in addition to wages was spent by General Electric in extra benefits for employees

It isn't a new thing for General Electric to put more than money into pay envelopes for its employees.

"Job dividends"—these extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—have a sound business reason. To be successful, a company must be efficient. A man with fewer worries can produce more efficiently, which makes further benefits possible.

Profit-sharing plans, relief and loan plans began over 10 years ago at General Electric. Life insurance for employees, cash for suggestions began over 20 years ago. Pension plans were started 33 years ago. And vacations with pay began 53 years ago.

Every employee has a stake in the future of General Electric. For out of its success—and only out of success—can come further advances in living standards. That is the aim of General Electric, not alone for its employees, but for the public, who gain by new and better products, continuously improved.

"Cheap Teachers Come High"

Cheap Teachers Come High is the title of an editorial that appeared in the Christian Science Monitor July 8. That name can well apply to this editorial today.

Last week W. Z. Carter gave to the newspapers an article that explained where the money for education came from. He started his article by saying, "We only get what we pay for as true in education as in the world of commerce."

In the Courier-Journal Sunday was an article entitled, Kentucky Faces a Teacher Shortage Worse Than During War Years. We have been thinking that shortage of teachers was only a war problem and teachers would be plentiful this year.

According to the article, the teacher shortage may continue for five or ten years. The reason given is easy to understand. College students are training for professions that pay more than teaching.

Following is a bulletin sent to educators throughout the state by John Fred Williams, Superintendent of Public Instruction:

In procuring personnel for the public schools this fall, we are facing a more serious teacher shortage than during any of the war years. In addition to the 5,000 emergency certificates which have been issued during the 1945-46 school year, 1,000 other old certificates have been reinstated on an emergency basis.

Figures show that the number of college students taking teacher training has decreased 75 per cent since the war. More and more students are going into the fields of specialists and are shying off from the field of teaching.

Mr. Carter's plea last week was for property owners to be fair in listing their property for taxation. He emphasized the fact that most property was listed at prices that were prevalent in before-the-war periods.

The immediate remedy for the shortage in teachers in Calloway County, and such duties should start at home, is to increase the source of money. That may be done by increasing the taxes.

The Calloway Board of Education recently took advantage of the privilege of raising the tax rate for education from 75 cents to the limit, $1.50.

Parents and other citizens who have been content to put teachers less than the school janitor, less than the waitress around the corner, have a time of reckoning ahead of them. By all accounts, the current teacher shortage is due to get worse instead of better.

Teachers as a class are noted for their devotion. They have more money first. Perhaps, too often for the public good, they have served the children and hidden their own sacrifices. But the day of reckoning seems to be eminent. The profession has a sickness.

An article in the Ladies Home Journal in July quoted a teacher who gave up the profession after 19 years as saying:

Considering the requirements, it is the most shabby paid of all work. Any boy or girl today who would consider teacher training, must, it would seem, have the soul of a worm and the spirit of a mouse.

Only a coupling of citizens to support the profession, to be willing to pay the trained, educated workers in charge of their children, to honor the men and women who teach, will get at the causes. Until then, able young people will not choose teaching, experienced teachers will not stay in it—and the children coming along in schools poorly staffed, will pay the sorry price.

Murray's Dining Services Increased

Hotel National dining room is open again, thus bringing Murray to the top in hotel and restaurant service. For many months the hotel dining room was closed because of a shortage of food and help during the war.

Many public spirited citizens complained about the lack of such a dining room here, and rejoiced that it was reopened.

Many have missed the privilege of having a private place to entertain friends and guests when the hotel dining rooms were closed.

Now that the place is open and operating under difficulties of food and labor and the high cost of operation, it should be patronized by the community. It was opened, not to bring money alone, but to add Murray in the program of making this a well rounded place, and to give guests and tourists an assurance of complete hotel accommodations.

Mrs. Lloyd Albritten is in charge of the dining room, and with her experience in this work, the public is asured of excellent food and courteous attention. Murray has a reputation for good restaurants. They are known to be clean, attractive, and offer excellent menus. The owners of the local eating places have cooperated with the town in maintaining the reputation for good food and service, a requisite for the popularity of any town.

The Chamber of Commerce, in planning an advertising program to attract guests and tourists to the Kentucky Lake and a stay in Murray, has advocated the reopening of the hotel dining room so that people coming to this area will know in advance they will have no trouble in finding a place to eat and sleep while here.

The individuals who have taken an interest in maintaining eating places of high quality, are to be commended for their contribution to the goodness of the town. The Woman's Club has done a patriotic part in keeping a private dining room open during the strenuous months past, and furnishes an ideal setting for large groups of people. Had it not been for this group of civic minded women, Murray would have been without a place for public meetings.

Again and again has Murray been confronted with problems that determined her progress. This time as has been the case in the past, she has come through with winning banners. Murray is equipped with good restaurants that serve palatable foods, a hotel that offers everything that adds to the comfort of guests, a club house for the special entertainment; and the Kentucky Lake just on the outskirts to furnish vacation attractions to guests and home folks alike.

It is good to be able to tell the world that everything that one could want for a home or for a vacation is in Murray, Kentucky.

HEART THOUGHTS BY L. HART

Frank Ryan says he recently spent four full days in New York City, and that was enough for him. He still believes that Murray is the best looking place he has ever seen including all his miles wandering with the First Cavalry Division in the past six years.

One would believe that Western Kentucky is in competition with the Blue Grass section when visiting the farm of Dr. Bob Mason located between the Coldwater and Lynn Grove Highways, on what was once known as the Stonewall Kemp place, is a new stock barn that is probably one of the finest. The fences around the place are made of white sawed posts, and neatly stretched wire topped with tailored strips that give the impression of the thoroughbred farms near Lexington.

You would have been just as excited probably as was Mrs. Noel Melugin had you been with a group of Thursday afternoon golfers on the Kentucky Lake. She, Mrs. Graves Hendon, and Memphis Tenn. and Mayfield guests were trying out the Melugin boat when Mrs. Hendon picked up a rod and reel and cast into the stream near Nash's Boat Dock. She got the surprise of her life when a big-mouth bass struck, and she pulled him in. While the others sat with mouths open, she cast again, and another bass, larger than the pound and halfer got hooked.

At the meeting of the Young Men's Business Club Monday, the members voted to go on record as endorsing the home demonstration agent's appropriation for another year, and also asking that the funds for the county library be furthered. This report will be sent to the Fiscal Court for consideration at the next meeting in August. The magistrates voted last meeting to eliminate the appropriation for the library, the tent on the Reports on the stage are that Zelia Carter caught a whopper last week, and the result so pleased him that he has been bragging about it loudly. We have seen no one who saw Carter's fish, but we will take his word for the size.

Not all women can catch fish. One reported that she and her party sat on the lake's edge all two afternoons recently and had a lot of nibbles and a lot of bait stolen, but no catch.

Mrs. Ed Duguid, Jr. and I had fun Friday morning canvassing North Fourth street from Spruce to Chestnut in interest of rooms that might be used by students of Murray State College. We began our work at one o'clock and found the housewives busy doing the regular work.

The first stop was at the home of Mrs. Rip Fuller. We found her making bread. The next stop was at Mrs. Novel McReynolds. She was making good smelling catnip. Mrs. Mason Evans was conning peaches. An appetizer almost got the best of us as we journeyed on down the duck-knocking job to find Mrs. Ed Adams eating beets. Our last call was at the home of Mrs. S. F. Wrye who was peeling apples for canning.

ments and possibly two rooms, we hurried to the restaurant to get something to eat and drink. Visiting in 23 neat and attractively kept homes, and smelling all the good things cooking was an inspiration to go home and do a little cleaning and cooking, too.

Dr. Ralph Woods will go all the way with you. He does his part and asks nothing of the other fellow that he will not do. That was the comment made on the street here this week about the president of Murray State College.

This comment was made after a review of the interview that Grover Wood-James had with Dr. Woods last week when he called at the Woods home in interest of the house-to-house campaign for rooms for college students.

This campaign began at the request of the college president. At the launching program at Wells Hall the night of July 8, Dr. Woods asked the Rev. T. H. Mullins to show the 150 door-knockers there how to do their stuff. Grover Wood used the preacher's technique on Dr. Woods from the time he knocked on the front door until he got the doctor's signature on the dotted line. The call ended after Dr. Woods had signed up for three girls and two men to room in his home.

According to figures made up on reports of the canvass, Murray is going to produce sufficient rooms for all students to have a home while attending college here. Dr. Woods set the pace—others followed.

At the meeting of the Young Men's Business Club Monday, the members voted to go on record as endorsing the home demonstration agent's appropriation for another year, and also asking that the funds for the county library be furthered. This report will be sent to the Fiscal Court for consideration at the next meeting in August. The magistrates voted last meeting to eliminate the appropriation for the library, the tent on the State Health Commissioner P. E. Blackerby: Not all tuberculosis has been found. Of the 14,000 estimated cases in Kentucky, only 8500 are known to health officers. This means that 5500 persons have active tuberculosis and do not know it and are innocently exposing their families and friends to the disease.

Dean Thomas P. Cooper, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture: Widespread extension of rural power lines and telephone lines is needed in Kentucky, for better farm production and more satisfactory living conditions. Only about one-fourth of all Kentucky farms now have central-station electric service.

N. O. Kimbler, Secretary, State Teachers' Retirement System: All the States surrounding Kentucky pay their teachers better than the State of Kentucky. We used to two decades ago vie with Indiana. When Indiana passed us in her educational program, we consoled ourselves with being out in front of West Virginia. In 1940 West Virginia passed us by. For a few months we could compare our school system with Tennessee, but not any more favorably. Thank God for Arkansas and Mississippi. Dr. Maurice F. Seay, University of Kentucky: Kentucky school system employ (as of 1945-46) 17710 teachers, but 4500 teachers hold emergency certificates. Some of these teachers are not even high school graduates. One-fourth of Kentucky's teachers do not meet even the lowest legal qualifications. Joe Betts, Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation: Probably as many as 80 per cent of Kentucky people look to farming or to business with farm people as their chief means of support, and most of the remaining 20 per cent are indirectly affected by farm prosperity or depression. The purchasing power of farmers determines the volume of business done by a large segment of Kentucky's business, industry and labor. Harry W. Schacter, President, Committee For Kentucky: We recently reported that a Committee for Alabama, a Committee for Georgia, and a Committee for North Carolina had been formed, postponed after our own Committee. Since that writing, two additional Committees have been formed—the Committee for Louisiana, Kentucky is indeed blazing a trail in Democracy!

Letters To Editor

WHAT IS THE MALARIA MOSQUITO LIKE?

The mosquito that is responsible for carrying and spreading malaria in this country belongs to a family called anophelids. This type of mosquito is a delicate, slender insect with long legs and spotted wings, and when resting, it sits with its body pointing upward and its hind legs in the air. For this reason it is sometimes called the "saccharbat".

The male of this species, when seen under a magnifying glass, has busy plumes on its head and can be distinguished in this way from the female. The male does not bite people, but lives mainly on juices of grasses, vegetables, and fruits.

It is the female who is responsible for passing the malaria parasite from one person to another. She is a very shy insect, and is easily frightened away by any sudden movement. For this reason she seems to prefer biting people when they are asleep. Since her bill is very fine and sharp and her song is low, she does not easily awaken people, even when she bites them.

When the female bites a person who has malaria, she draws up with her meal of blood some of the tiny malaria parasites. She keeps these in her body long enough for them to develop thousands of young parasites and these she injects into the next person she bites. In this way malaria is spread from the sick to the well in an endless chain. It is believed that no other insect in this country carries the malaria parasite in this way.

If people only knew this mosquito better, they would be able to destroy many every season. It is only by destroying these mosquitoes and by depriving the female of a breeding-place that we will be able to stop the spread of malaria in a community.

Very encouraging reports are being made in regard to the control of mosquitoes in our city and adjoining territory. Since there has been so much rain during the past 10 days it is difficult to find all of the breeding places.

I earnestly request that all property owners cut the weeds, drain all regions where water stands and above all have cans, barrels, buckets, etc. emptied.

If every one will cooperate we can still make a greater improvement in curbing both the pest and malarial carriers. A physician reported this week that a number of cases of malaria were in Murray. It can be readily seen that it could be an epidemic if we do not pull together.

If you have the malarial germ in your system be careful not to be bitten by any mosquitoes as that will spread the disease. Let's go citizens! Help eliminate the dangerous enemy. W. B. MOSER

Legion Post 73 Sells Property on Vine St.; Buys Nearer Town

The American Legion, local post 73, sold at public auction June 17 the vacant lots on Vine street, owned by that organization.

Connie Ford was the successful bidder. George Hart was the auctioneer. The lot was purchased by the local Legion members about 10 years ago, for $400. It sold under the hammer last month for $3,000, which is a nice per cent increase by anybody's figures.

The group of veterans of World Wars I and II voted at a regular meeting several months ago, to sell the above mentioned property and buy another lot nearer town. Recently the house and lot owned by Mr. and Mrs. Berry Hendon located two doors north of the Hotel National, was purchased by the Legion. If plans develop, the group will construct a Memorial Building on the location.

MRS. WILLIAM BRECKENRIDGE ARDERY Recelegan PARIS, KENTUCKY July 10, 1946

Dear Mr. Turner: Judge Arderly and I want to express our deep and lasting gratitude for your kindness to our son, Phillip, by publishing such a splendid testimonial. We will not soon forget this courtesy. The war exacted much of Phil... he is no longer a boy, but a man of mature judgment. After leading air missions over Sicily, Italy, Austria, the Ploesti Oil Fields, Berlin and rocket coasts of France, I feel his life was spared for a purpose. One by one, he saw the other three group commanders who went over with him, blasted from the sky.

Phil is not talking about his service to his country... he seldom mentions it. Few young men offered their all as cheerfully as he did and he would not approve of my telling you these things. However, because you have proved yourself our good friend, I feel you will understand. Thank you again so very, very much. Sincerely, JULIA S. ARDERY.

I appreciate the above letter, and am glad to do anything for any young man who is capable and has served our country so well. Come in to see us every time in town. T. O. TURNER

80 Dormitories Are Assigned To Single Student Vets of MSC

"Murray State Teachers College at Murray, Ky., has been assigned 80 dormitory facilities for the use of single student veterans," announced Charles B. Lawrence, Jr., Director, Region VIII Federal Public Housing Authority, 2073 East Ninth street, Cleveland, Ohio.

This assignment is made possible by federal legislation authorizing funds enabling the EPHA to supply temporary housing accommodations to local communities for married veterans and their families and the families of distressed servicemen and to educational institutions for student veterans, both married and single.

The program is a cooperative one in which both the federal government and the city will participate. The completed project becomes the property of the college, which is responsible for its management while in use and for the removal of the temporary structures when the housing emergency is over.

In addition to the 80 dormitory units assigned today, the college has secured a total of 114 temporary family dwelling accommodations, 33 through purchase and 81 through the cooperative program. Fifty family units were completed in May, 1946, and are now occupied by married student veterans and their families. Sixty-four more are now on the way to the campus.

"It is hoped these dormitory accommodations will alleviate the plight of veterans returning to college in securing adequate housing facilities," added Lawrence.

Veterans' Corner

This column is published weekly through the cooperation of this paper. Question should be mailed to the Veterans Employment Representative of the United States Employment Service, Mayfield, Kentucky.

Q. Please explain the difference in compensation paid to disabled officers and enlisted men.

A. Disability pensions for officers and enlisted men are the same, depending on the rating given to them by a Veterans Administration rating board. The minimum payment is $11.50 for 10 per cent disability and the maximum is $115 for 100 per cent disability. Officers retired for disability, which was incident to service or incurred in "line of duty," received 75 per cent of their pay if retired for disability, but they must have 20 years service.

Q. Recently you replied to a reader's question about a special discharge emblem for Army Air Forces personnel by saying they wear the discharge emblem of the Army. This was true, but I understand that in recent years the A.A.F. has been issuing its own emblem. Can you verify this?

A. You were informed correctly. The A.A.F. did issue its own discharge emblem for a short time as A.A.F. separation centers and mail emblems to personnel discharged before the emblems were available. Issue of the special winged discharge emblem has been stopped by War Department orders. Former A.A.F. personnel will not be able to obtain them, and A.A.F. personnel, still a part of the Army, will wear the discharge emblem of the Army.

The Veterans Employment Representative will be in the Court House, Murray, every Monday morning.

Landlords Can't Accept Rent After Eviction Notice

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 9.—Kentucky landlords who seek to evict tenants now that the OPA is out will find that its death may backfire on them.

A paragraph in the Kentucky Revised Statutes says: "Acceptance of rent after forfeiture by tenant of right to hold premises deprives landlord of right to eject by forcible detainer."

This law was in effect under OPA, but extensions of from 90 days to six months were granted by OPA and tenants kept on paying rent for up to six months after suit for eviction was filed.

Now there is no OPA and magistrates are governed by Kentucky law which holds a landlord cannot accept rent from a tenant following the 30 days in which the landlord gave the tenant to vacate the premises.

Landlords who have accepted rent in such cases must start all over again in eviction proceedings, according to the law. This means at least 30 more days of grace for tenants.

Revival to Be Held at Lynn Grove Church
