Murray Postmaster Advises That Christmas Packages Be Mailed Early To Avoid Rush

At no time in the year is the Postal Service challenged for efficiency in service more than during the Christmas season. It is the desire of the Post Office Department that every patron of the United States Mails shall have the same prompt and safe service throughout the holidays that it strives to maintain throughout the rest of the year when the volume of the mail is ordinary and routine in its nature.

The local Post Office at Murray, Ky., pledges on the part of the entire personnel, a sincere effort to make the Christmas time happy and pleasant so far as the service of the mails can be concerned. Patrons of the office can have some part in the satisfactory operation of the mails at their local office and other offices of destination of mail.

Parcels and greetings should be mailed early. This prevents congestion in the mails. Furthermore, parcels that are loaded with bulky items are more apt to be damaged and crushed than if they were more lightly distributed in lighter train and truck loads over a number of days prior to the customary Christmas rush.

Articles that are fragile should be wrapped with extreme care and perishable matter should be plainly marked and so wrapped as to prevent spoiling before reaching destination.

What Price?

By Lynn B. Kingston
What a college of Western Kentucky have diamonds in their own back yard—in the form of Murray State College.

For example we take the following: The Murray State Thoroughbred football team has just closed a championship season; last year the net squad turned in a remarkable record.

Only a few nights ago we had the opportunity of hearing Murray State's 65-piece orchestra present a program over WSM, Nashville.

Then at the approach of the Christmas season when our minds are turned to the idea of love and fellowship, not only with our neighbors and friends but still a higher Master, did we take time Sunday afternoon to attend the program at Murray State College.

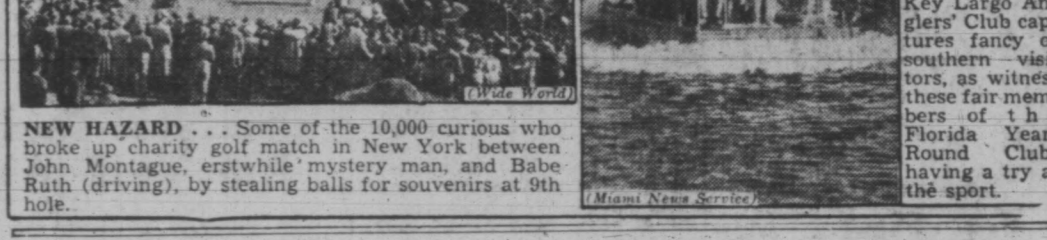

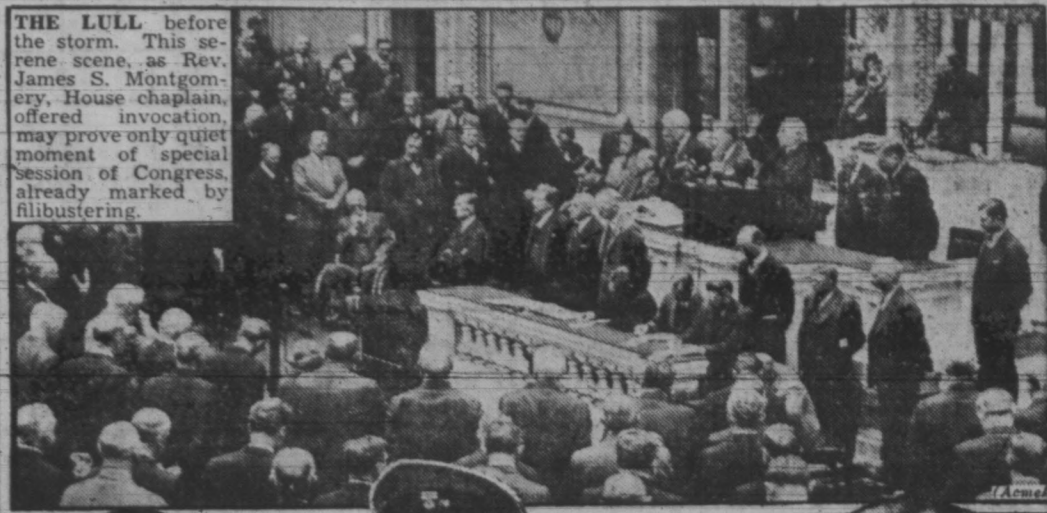

What price education? I ask you what price? What did those who attended the program pay to hear the best? Just the time and effort was the huge amount rippled.

A Christmas Awakening

WITH Christmas drawing near, why can't we get together and make plans? Robert Dutton rode no further. With calm deliberation, he put the heavily scrawled letter back into the envelope.

Always the impractical Hal, he said slowly. "No wonder he never gets anywhere." A list of appointments waited upon his desk. Visits from two of the most important men in town; a delegation about a right-of-way through a tract of land he had just purchased; a reminder of a talk he had promised to make at a luncheon.

Then, as if resenting his weakness and sentiment, he dug into his mail again. But try as he would, he could not concentrate on the things that had meant everything to him before. Something had happened to Robert Dutton; a Christmas greeting from a secretary whom he had scarcely noticed left him visibly unsettled.

Christmas memories surged through his brain. He was back in the old home again. Everybody was rushing around in circles. He saw the big tree in the corner of the parlor; the kitchen table piled high with good things to eat. And Mother and Dad, with happiness beaming upon their faces.

He picked up Hal's letter again. After all, maybe his old brother wasn't so crazy? The thought was pushing through his mind that maybe it was he who lacked real sense.

This time he read the letter in a different mood. "Let's give Dad and Mother the surprise of their lives. Let's go down and make one grand Christmas for them. You can turn everything over to someone else for a week—anyone can handle things like that—there's nothing personal or precious about them!"

"Nothing personal or precious about them!" He turned the words over in his mind. Hal was right. Someone else could handle the things that had seemed so terribly important. A few hours of confusion, perhaps; then things would go on as before. The world would forget him in a day.

His fingers reached for the pen upon his desk. "Dear Hal," he began. "I heartily agree with your proposal that we get together and make plans to give Dad and Mother the biggest surprise and the grandest Christmas ever." He was smiling broadly, almost laughing aloud, as he finished the letter with a flourish.

On Christmas Day

Is this a dream—this peaceful quiet, this day? Pale sounds that float on silence, dreams, long sleep. Recurring miracles, warmth, mysteries of touch, The flow of life on lambent Southern winds!

The reddening East in jeering answer laughs While Nippon guns in China's crumbling towns Distort the day with toasts to Martian gods In bloody wreckage o'er the reeling world.

Kays Selfish Christmas

Martha Manning Thomas

TOBY BARNES, just home from the office, stood regarding his wife with amusement. "You have the manner, Kay, of being about to leap up and wave a flag. What's happened?"

"I've just discovered something important about myself." Kay's short, light curls were becoming haphazard. Her eyes were of an intense blue. She was slender and young and vivacious. "I'm supremely selfish." She rose to her feet and gesticulated with both hands. "I want to be utterly, gloriously enclosed in ME!"

They both laughed. Then Kay ran forward and dragged her husband down into a wide, comfortable chair, squeaking in beside him. "You're a perfectly grand guy," she smiled, "but this Christmas, my man, I'm going to be superbly selfish, as an experiment. Will you try it too, Toby?"

"All right," he agreed, "I'll take you on."

The next morning Kay tilted a pert, gray hat on her curls, and walked imperiously to the shopping district. "I'm fed up with being poor, and scrimping and saving so I can be generous in mean, little ways. Today I... spend on myself!"

She felt guilty and ridiculous, and she turned her eyes away from a haberdasher's window where gentlemen's furnishings were invitingly displayed. Toby needed masses and masses of things. No, just this once she would spend with a bang all she had on something frivolous for herself. Toby had promised to do the same.

At noon she happened to notice a tall person standing by the next street window. He was absorbed in thought. Kay hardly breathed while the man suddenly plunged into the store door. She crept close to a sheltering pillar while she watched what happened inside.

She saw the man point to a woman's rich, quilted housecoat. She saw him pay for it, and leave, but without a package under his arm. Just the sort of housecoat for which she had yearned hopelessly.

She gasped in dismay. For one hot second she was possessed with anger. Toby wasn't playing fair. He had no right to make her feel ashamed and abject on Christmas morning!

When Toby's flapping overcoat was out of sight Kay slipped into the same shop, going straight to the counter her husband had left. "May I inquire," she asked crisply, "if that quilted housecoat just purchased, is to be delivered to Mrs. Toby Barnes?" She gave the house address. The clerk was startled into admitting the fact.

Kay threw up her chin. "I asked my husband, Mr. Barnes, to step in here today to buy that for me. I've changed my mind. May I exchange it for something else I prefer?"

The clerk weakly nodded. Christmas eve found Kay a bit cryptic. Toby carelessly inquired if a package had been delivered that afternoon—Kay said yes; it was waiting in the closet. And it was, though not quite what Toby supposed.

Kay was excited as a child on Christmas morning. There were waffles for breakfast and especially good coffee. Afterwards Mrs. Toby Barnes shoved her tall husband into his big chair. "Sit there," she commanded him, and left the room.

"When is this fine exhibition of selfishness going to begin?" he shouted after her. "I want to see it in action!"

Kay returned with a large package elaborately wrapped. Toby looked pleased. "There you are," he said. "I'm sorry, Kay, to fall down on our agreement, but I knew you wanted the dazered thing."

"There you are!" cried Kay hurling the box at him. "I simply will not let you squander your money on expensive things for me, Toby."

Toby opened the box, drawing forth a manly, well-tailored dressing gown for a tall gentleman. "You know," muttered his wife in a small voice, "you haven't a thing to sit around in at home."

"So this," he raved, "is the great exhibition of selfishness! And where is your housecoat, I'd like to know?"

Kay, in a thin, quivering voice, begged him to be kind while she explained.

JUST JOTS

By John

Only six more shopping days till Christmas. It is always the store bird that gets in worst, but in the plentiful stocks of the stores of Murray you can find appropriate gifts for all at the price you want to pay.

In this week's issue of the Ledger & Times you will find the largest array of Christmas advertising ever carried by any paper in any one issue in the history of Murray. To every reader this means an easy guide in selecting those gifts that you still need.

And speaking of Christmas, this reminds me of Santa Claus. The railroads of the United States are not asking for Santa Claus, not a subsidy from the government as some industries are desiring. They are only asking for a minimal increase of freight and passenger rates which would enable them to continue successful operation and keep up the high standards of service they've set in the last 10 years. If they are not granted this increase soon they cannot keep up with improvement. The request of the Interstate Commerce Commission to grant this increase last week was unexpected. The railroads need public support. They are one of the three great industries in the United States, and as well as employing millions of men at high wages, they are one of the largest users of raw materials.

This warm weather is ideal for the tobacco in shape to move in the January market. In all markets that are not open, the weed has been bringing good prices, and this should be a boon to the spirits of Calhoun county farmers.

The Japanese are adding injury to insult. First they blew down the U. S. flag and poles in the Yangtze river. Now they airman have destroyed American lives and sunk the U. S. Gunboat, Panay. The situation is probably ably will be ironed out in diplomatic circles. However, apologies from their government does not right a wrong. We must stand up for our rights. We must keep meddling in the Orient, we are apt to get into it. We must withdraw our forces from the scene of the conflict. All Americans there had been warned previously to get out and stay out. Why should the U. S. be dragged into another World War, just to boost a few commercial interests? We cannot live without foreign commerce, but we can do without a little bit, especially since it lies in the Far East war zone.

America does not want war—Japan does. Japan has been on an imperialistic expansion policy since 1895. America's world has all the land it needs. Why not get out and stay out? Let's make our first line of defense in the Philippines, Guam, and Hawaii. Fortify those outposts snugly and the Orient would not dare encroach upon the United States.

Tularemia or Rabbit Fever

The advent of the hunting season always arouses renewed interest in tularemia, a disease of rabbits which may be communicated to man. This disease has been reported in Kentucky since 1928. In 1936, a total of 100 cases with seven deaths, was reported.

The incidence of tularemia is highest during the months of November, December and January, the hunting season on rabbits. It is during this period that the animals are hunted for sport and trapped for the market and their carcasses handled by hunters, housewives, market men and cooks, in whom the disease most often occurs. All persons handling rabbits, either in sport or for the market or in the preparation of their carcasses for food in the home, are advised to take special precautions against infection.

Tularemia has been recognized in rabbits, ground squirrels and other small rodents for many years. Wild rabbits, however, are the principal animals affected in Kentucky and constitute the chief source of the disease in man. Domestic rabbits, raised in rabbitries, are not a source of danger. The disease in wild rabbits is caused by a small germ, introduced into the rabbit's body by the bite of a rabbit tick, wood tick and certain species of fly.

After introduction the germs enter into the blood stream, multiply rapidly and are carried to every part of the animal's body, invading, particularly, the liver and spleen. In these organs the germs produce decay of the tissue cells, causing innumerable abscesses to form which appear as white spots varying in size from that of a pin point to that of a pin head. These spots, if carefully watched for, may be seen in these organs.

Method of Transmission

Tularemia is spread from animal to animal through the bite of ticks and certain species of fly. From rabbit to man, the disease is transmitted through the handling of an infected carcass, by eating poorly cooked infected meat or by the bite of a rabbit. The disease may also be contracted through the intestinal tract by eating inadequately cooked infected rabbit meat. Some cases are contracted by rubbing the eyes with hands which have become contaminated through contact with an infected rabbit.

Drama of Jackson's Purchase is Presented Over WSM in Nashville Friday Night

"The Drama of Jackson's Purchase" was portrayed in music and in story over WSM, Nashville, by Murray State College Friday evening, December 9. The college orchestra was the feature of the program, providing a musical background, as well as special numbers.

Others participating were: Dr. J. H. Richmond, Prof. Price Doyle, Prof. W. H. Fox, Prof. A. F. Yancey, Dr. Herbert Drennon, and Prof. C. S. Lowry.

Significant remarks made by Dr. Richmond in concluding the program include:

"Our Alma Mater song opens with the significant phrase, 'In the heart of Jackson's Purchase' for Murray State is located in the central part of this area; and it is entirely proper for our college to tell the story of Jackson's Purchase over a broadcasting station located in the shadow of the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson."

"The lives of the people of our Purchase have been cast in pleasant places. This area is close to the center of population of the United States; it offers an equable climate; its soil makes possible a rich diversity of agricultural products; and its people are almost 100 per cent Anglo-Saxon stock. Here may be found those basic virtues peculiar to America, its people reflecting a philosophy of life in consonance with the best traditions of our civilization."

"Murray State Teachers College, serving in the main the children of the pioneer founders of the Purchase, is not unmindful of its opportunity to preserve the rich traditions of this area and build upon them a way of life that will make the Purchase as inviting, today, as it was when our pioneer forefathers looked with longing eyes upon this Happy Indian Hunting Ground."

Livestock

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 15.—Hogs 7.50; 2,800 direct; uneven 170 lbs. steady to strong; 160 lbs. down weak to the lower; bulk 110-210 lbs. 8.25-8.40; extreme top 8.50; 210-230 lbs. 8.15-8.25; 270-315 lbs. 7.50-7.75; sows 6.50-6.65.

Cattle 2.50; calves 1.50; 1,300 through; steers in liberal supply and demand dull; heifers fairly active on small killer accounts and prices steady; cowstuff strong; bulls steady; yearling 30 cents higher; top 11.75 beef cows 4.75-6.00; culler grades 3.75-4.50; top bulls 6.50; nominal range on slaughter steers 5.75-13.00; heifers 5.29-9.75.

The period of incubation is, as a rule, two to five days. It may, however, be as short as one day or as long as nine days. Since the germ is easily killed by heat, there is no danger of contracting tularemia from eating infected meat, if such meat is thoroughly cooked.

Symptoms

The onset of the disease is sudden and accompanied by headache, chills, body pains, vomiting and fever. An inflamed painful papule or sore develops at the point of infection. The papule soon breaks down, producing a discharge and leaving a small ulcer. The lymph glands at the elbow and in the axillary regions become painful, swollen and often have to be opened. These abscessed glands may discharge pus for several weeks. This condition is ordinarily accompanied by fever and is usually very debilitating, confining the patient to bed for several weeks or months. This is the most common type of the disease. There is, however, another form of the disease usually referred to as the "typhoid" type. This type runs an irregular course much like typhoid fever. There is no apparent sore on the hands or elsewhere on the body. It generally begins with a slight rise in temperature, accompanied by a profound prostration. This is followed by a long slow convalescence. For this reason, the disease is sometimes mistaken for real typhoid fever.

Preventive Measures

Always wear rubber gloves when dressing rabbits.

Never handle a wild rabbit which has been found dead or which has been brought in by a dog or cat. Rabbits should always be shot on the run. Those which are sluggish, or which are walked upon and caught sitting, are likely to be infected with tularemia.

If the internal organs of a rabbit are studied with small white spots, throw the carcass away. The condition may be tularemia.

Cook rabbits thoroughly, so that no red meat or red blood remains. Thorough cooking of the meat destroys the germs.

Medical Treatment

Tularemia requires prompt medical treatment. The family physician should be promptly called, in all cases which develop symptoms suggesting "rabbit fever." Take no chances. There is no known preventive and no known cure. The only safety lies in avoiding infection. Once contracted, the disease must run its course. This usually covers two or three months. Occasionally, complete recovery does not take place for six months or a year. One attack confers immunity.

The doctor's diagnosis may be confirmed by blood tests, for which the laboratory of the State Department of Health in Louisville or the Public Service Laboratories at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, are always available at the request of the attending physician or the local health officer.

HELEN WATERMAN

MARY and John had quarreled just before Christmas, too. The Christmas candy had burned, and then, in the excitement, each had blamed the other, making cruel remarks, until Mary fled to her bedroom in tears and John stalked off in the snowy night.

The Christmas candle beamed a welcome from the window as John started around the block again. He was cold, and sorry, but he mustn't go in too soon.

The tree, the holly, their little girl asleep in her crib and dream-land of Santa Claus—all were a mockery. Mary went into the living room and snatched up the radio, looking for a jazz band and forgetfulness. Instead there came the strains of "Silent Night"—"peace on earth, good will to men."

She opened the front door. Next time she would ask John to come in. Tell him she was sorry. Now that she stopped to think, why let a few excited words that neither of them meant spoil their Christmas? But John did not come. It was too cold to stand at the door any longer, but she sat at the window, with the curtain drawn aside, watching for him. An hour went by.

When at last she saw him coming the relief almost choked her. He was striding rapidly, carrying some- thing in his arms. She opened the door for him and he handed his bundle to her.

"Here, Mary, hold him. Careful, now. His leg's hurt. I'll get a box and we'll fix a bed."

Mary looked down at the warm bundle. It was a furry puppy. One leg was in splints. The puppy whimpered a little and licked her hand.

"But, John, where did you get him?" "Accident. Over on Linden. Fell out of a passing car. I took him to vet and had him fixed up. Thought he'd make a cute pet for Alice."

"He stopped his work and straightened up. 'I'm awfully sorry, Mary. I was a fool.'"

"Their eyes met in perfect understanding. How silly to quarrel. The silence was a more impressive reconciliation than words. Mary broke it nervously, for fear she would cry again. 'There are some clean rags in that drawer. And we ought to get him something to eat. He can have this old bowl for his dish.'"

BLANCH TANNER DILLIN

"THE first Christmas in our new home," Janice Wray announced joyously as she stepped across the threshold of Stewart's and her new home.

"Christmas in our new home," Stewart echoed, switching on the light.

"Oh, isn't it just grand!" exclaimed Janice.

"I'll say it is—but slow up—slow up, Janice! I've got about all my arms full, without taking you aboard," Stewart warned her as Janice attempted to throw her arms about him.

"Oh, keep quiet! You're just as excited as I am—so why pretend?" Janice answered with a toss of her head.

Stewart put his packages down and then his arms around her as he assured her, "Wonderful! Stupendous!"

"Come on—let's get busy with the tree," Stewart suggested.

"Right!" agreed Janice, "just as soon as I change my dress."

The tree must be neither too large nor too small. Some time had been consumed deciding just the proper size for a Christmas tree for two. They were to be alone this Christmas—the first Christmas in their new home; there was no doubt about that, for they had definitely decided that when they purchased the house, they had here they were ready to trim the much-discussed tree.

"Isn't that star lovely?" Janice said as Stewart placed it at the top of the tree.

Refreshments were served by the host.

Tuesday evening, December 14, members of the A. A. U. W. met in the college library. Mrs. Bruce Maguire was guest speaker. Her topic was "What Price Friendship?" Her theme was that friendship depends upon the cultivating of the best in another, the drawing out of the strong points and helping them to grow, and the willingness to give of one's self, to lose one's self in a friend's need.

After the present were unwrapped and their appreciation expressed in a bewildered way, refreshments were served to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nance, Mrs. George Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith, Miss Lavell Miller, Miss Laraine Griffith, Miss Celest Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Ailie Sims, Mrs. Willie Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Griffith, Mrs. Clarence Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Wilkins, Glen Griffith, Mrs. Marion Wilkins and son, Larry, Mrs. Armona Cadwell, and Mrs. Ray Miller, Miss Lara Sue Griffith.

Those sending gifts were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy West, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wilkins, Miss Deada Jordan.

Some were kept away by the bad weather, among whom were Mrs. Lex Dobson and daughter, Elizabeth, who visited there Friday and presented their gifts.

Euzeilian Class Enjoys Annual Christmas Party. The annual Christmas party of the Euzeilian class of the First Baptist Church, was held Monday evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Barber McElrath, with Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Rudolph Thurmond, Miss Margaret Graves and Miss Floy Ruffelt assisting hosts.

Mrs. Graves Sledd conducted devotional exercises, with prayer being led by Mrs. McElrath. Christmas carols were sung, and games and contests added to the pleasure of the guests.

Gifts were brought by each member to be sent to the orphan's home, and also to be distributed to local families. These were displayed around a beautifully decorated tree.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hosts to the twenty-three members present.

Mrs. Gannett Jones, chairman, presided and Miss Onisla Wear led the prayer. Mrs. L. J. Horton gave the story of the birth of Christ, and a reading on the spirit of Christmas was given by Miss Dorothy Robertson. The program closed with the singing of "O, Come All Ye Faithful."

During the business session, it was voted to use a portion of the money in the treasury for supplying Christmas cheer to a needy family.

A social hour, during which gifts were exchanged from a beautifully decorated tree, was enjoyed. The hosts served delightful refreshments carrying great Christmas cheer with favors of peppermint sticks for each guest.

Training Union meets at 6:30, with a very convincing program in every item. The Union looks forward with great expectancy to the meeting in January when a number of our state workers are to be with us in great forward looking program of training for even larger and better service to our church and to the cause everywhere. Each Union meets in a separate room. R. W. Churchill, director.

Mid-week meeting every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. In this meeting there is soulful singing, helpful fellowship, earnest praying, and inspiring friendship; this is a real family get together meeting where we worship the Lord Almighty in spirit and in truth. Members, their families, friends and neighbors are urged to attend this important meeting regularly.

Church and pastor cordially invite the people of Murray and adjacent communities to worship with us here whenever possible. A farm hearted welcome awaits you. Sam P. Martin, Pastor.

Senior League Of M. E. Church To Sing Carols. The Senior League of the First Methodist Church of Murray will present the old English custom of singing carols near Christmas time when its members will sing Christmas carols over Murray at 8:30 Friday evening. After the singing, the group will meet at the home of Dr. Charles Hire in College Addition for a hamburger supper and supplementary edibles.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Herndon Honored With Shower. On the cold and snowy night of December 9, as Mr. and Mrs. Barney Herndon and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Alexander sat by the fire-side little did they dream that their friends were preparing a surprise "miscellaneous" shower for them with Miss Laraine Griffith as sponsor of the occasion.

As they sat quietly awaiting for the time to retire a neighboring family dropped in "only to listen to the radio." At that time friends arrived from all directions until the huge rooms were filled and yet no one suspected what the occasion was until Mr. and Mrs. Herndon—Mrs. Herndon was before her marriage Miss Gracie Alexander—were asked to leave the room and on returning, what a sight met their eyes, a table heavily laden with nice and useful gifts.

After the present were unwrapped and their appreciation expressed in a bewildered way, refreshments were served to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nance, Mrs. George Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith, Miss Lavell Miller, Miss Laraine Griffith, Miss Celest Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Ailie Sims, Mrs. Willie Wheeler.

PITT NAMED NATIONAL CHAMP UNDER DICKINSON SYSTEM

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 16.—Pittsburgh's undefeated Panthers were awarded the National Football Championship under the Dickinson System and will receive the Knute K. Rockne Memorial Trophy offered by the Irish 4 H organization.

Dr. Frank Dickinson, economics professor at the University of Illinois and originator of the Dickinson Rating System, picked Fordham 2d and Dartmouth 3d.

His system is based on relative strength of each section of the Nation during the playing season. The East, with such teams as Pitt, Fordham, Dartmouth and Yale piling up points, was Dickinson's sectional leader for 1937. Minnesota's Big Ten champions were ranked 11th.

Murray to Play World's Champs In Cairo Tonight

New York Shamrocks, Conquerors of Celtics, to Oppose Thoroughbreds

The Thoroughbred basketballers of Murray State College will meet their strongest test of the season thus far when they tackle the world champion professional team, the New York Shamrocks, in Cairo, Ill., tonight. It will be the second official game of the season for the Shamrocks. They won their first scheduled encounter with Southeastern Missouri's All-Stars 44-27 last week. Before the season opened, the Murray team whipped Olsen's Terrible Swedes in Cairo 29-24. The Murraymen engage the University of Arkansas in a game on the Murray floor Tuesday night.

The Shamrocks, conquerors of the New York Celtics, Olsen's Swedes, and other prominent professional teams will find the going tough against the speedy Thoroughbreds. With Burdette Magruder, McKeel and the Bland brothers in top form, it will be a well-nigh impossible task to take the measure of the Murrayites.

river tragedy were being considered. A Japanese spokesman, however, said that "Japan believes the fundamentals were covered" in yesterday's Japanese note to the United States which was presented to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew a few hours before he delivered the American note.

In Washington, responsible persons emphasized the United States demand for a guarantee of no further "unlawful interference" with American rights in China.

A Japanese official recognized that the American note was "very firm" but declared the foreign office was preparing an early answer which, "in an certain will be a satisfactory reply. We already have apologized and already have promised indemnifications."

Similarly, Japan is prepared to meet every American demand coincident with the necessities of the situation. The American note was not published in Tokyo and the public was led to believe by the newspapers that the situation between the United States and Japan over Sunday's attack was improving. Nevertheless there were many indications of the effect of the attack on a number of Japanese who took individual and collective steps to express their sorrow and regret. One citizen wrote a letter, published by the newspaper Nichi Nichi, suggesting that the Japanese contribute to a fund for construction of an "exact duplicate of the Panay" to be sent to the United States specifying it was to be used for relief of unfortunate Americans aboard the Panay. A group of high school girls who said they represented 500 students of the "White Lily School" left a sum of money at the navy ministry to be sent to the United States specifying it was to be used for relief of unfortunate Americans aboard the Panay. Seven school girls and their teacher visited Ambassador Grew at the embassy and expressed their regret over the Panay tragedy. Their spokesman said "the Japanese women have no words to apologize sufficiently and expressed hope that Japanese-American relations would not be affected. A representative of the foreign office yesterday visited the Italian embassy and apologized for the death of Sandro Sandri, Italian newspaperman who died on the Panay.

Fires Do Damage During Last Week

Fire Saturday completely destroyed the home of Matthew Russell at near Cherry, resulting in a total loss. It was reported here today. Russell's house was not protected by insurance. Russell lived on the farmplace formerly owned by Rufe S. Williams.

The home of Mrs. George Downey on the corner of Fourth and Poplar streets near the First Baptist Church narrowly missed burning Saturday morning, but the Murray Fire Department, hastening to the huge 2-story building put the conflagration out before the damage had gone farther than the room. The house was insured.

John S. Neal, editor of the Ledger & Times, aided in averting a disastrous fire at the B. F. Scherffus home, owned by C. G. Barton at which Neal has an apartment, when he dashed a bucket of water on flames which had started in an oil stove in a down-stairs apartment. The Neal apartment is on the second floor.

Theme of Merchants' Holiday Sales Plea is "Only Seven More Shopping Days Before Christmas"

Rites Held For Leslie Carnell

Speechmakers in Farm Convention Are Made Known

Stores Overflow With Stocks Purchased Especially for Holiday Consumption; Most Stores Will Close Xmas Day

Clubs, Churches, Organizations, Schools, and Social Groups Plan for Parties During Week; Schools and College Close Until January 3

Christmas shoppers today, bent on doing their holiday buying early, swept into the home stretch that will end on Christmas Day, while local merchants, kept busy by milling crowds, struck up the tuneless slogan, "Only Seven More Shopping Days Till Christmas!"

With storehouses overflowing with special holiday stocks, Murray's trade—if current trends are any indication—will far surpass other season's business.

Although most stores in town will be closed on Christmas Day, the majority will remain open every night until 9 o'clock through the rush season.

Men's and women's clothing stores, jewelry establishments, the novelty shops, groceries, dry-goods and general merchandise houses, all report bumper sales throughout the week.

Saturday, however, is expected to be the biggest day up until now by far, from the standpoint of local business since many farmers and countryans are expected to come to town to complete their own shopping.

The office of the County Agent and the Soil Conservation Office will be closed all day on December 24 and 25 for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, County Agent J. T. Cochran and Soil Supervisor Ollie Barnett announced today.

The Christmas Seal

Fourteen million Christmas Seals are in Kentucky ready to be released in a State-wide crusade against tuberculosis. The Kentucky program is a part of a country-wide fight against mankind's relentless enemy.

We are confronted today by many appeals for help. The most of these appeals are in behalf of worthy causes. Since, however, it is practically impossible for every citizen to contribute financially to the support of every cause serving a worthy purpose, it is necessary that we familiarize ourselves with the relative merits of the various problems demanding our consideration.

The Christmas Seal comes to us each December as a messenger of hope and good cheer. It always bears the insipid, the double-barred cross. This cross has long been recognized as the symbol of the crusade against tuberculosis.

Special significance attaches to the bell on the Christmas Seal. The bell has played an important part in the lives of men and of nations. About its sound is something which seems to stir chords of tenderness and love within us.

Buy Christmas Seals. Christmas Seals are much more than tiny pieces of colored paper which embellish the backs of letters and packages at Christmas time.

When the Christmas Seal began its crusade in Kentucky, 26 years ago, the death rate from tuberculosis in this State was 227 per 100,000 population. In 1936 this rate had dropped to 72 per 100,000.

had dropped to 72 per 100,000. The funds raised by the sale of Christmas Seals together with the interest on each, you they created a fund of approximately $38,000 in Kentucky last year, and of more than $400,000.00 in the country as a whole, to help finance the fight against tuberculosis.

Even more important than the financial aspect of the Seal Sale program is the power of the Christmas Seal in spreading knowledge as to the cause, methods of transmission and the procedure necessary for the control of tuberculosis.

A half century ago, Dr. Trudeau first called attention to the essential importance of popular education as the first step in bringing tuberculosis under effective control. Since then this factor in the tuberculosis problem has received constantly widening recognition.

Christmas Seals not only pay for literature, but they also open the way for bringing the facts about tuberculosis into homes, schools and communities throughout the State and nation each December. Particularly important is the material thus made available for school health programs.

tor suggests as a boon to humanity you read its contents carefully, and urge your state senators and representatives to push legislation that would prohibit such occurrences from happening in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

By A. T. McCormack, M. D. The sixty or more deaths resulting during the last month from the use of a pharmaceutical preparation labeled "Elixir of Sulfanilamide" places tragic emphasis upon the inadequacy of our present laws, both Federal and State, relating to foods, drugs and cosmetics.

This preparation, manufactured by the S. Massell Company, Bristol, Tenn., was composed, according to examination made at the laboratories of the American Medical Association of approximately 72% sulfanilamide (approximately 10% and water (approximately 18%). Evidence published by the American Medical Association in the Journal of November 6, 1937, Volume 100, Number 10, would indicate that the deaths from the preparation were caused not by the sulfanilamide content, but by the diethylene glycol, a product ordinarily used as a paint or dye solvent.

The real point of the tragedy is that a product of such unknown value and of such definitely dangerous composition could have been so readily and so cheaply put on the market and offered to physicians and druggists as an effective treatment for serious diseases.

Gaylon Morris and Glyn Orr were in Paris Thursday on business. Frank Poyner will leave Monday for Memphis where he will receive special eye treatment. Terry Morris, who has been confined to his bed the past three weeks, is slowly improving.

North Lynn Grove

It is useless to speak of the weather as everyone knows it is unusually cold for this time of the year and that we usually have our winter after Christmas. We are sure having it before the holidays if he doesn't freeze.

Stella Gossip

I have been informed that brother Jim Cochran will be back at home this week from the hospital which, indeed, relieves our sorrow and anxiety. We thank the hospital force and Dr. Stark for their wonderful skill by the help of the Lord.

We think that we have had severe weather the past 30 days. The 7th of December, 1917, a snow fell to the depth of 22 inches and which did not melt till March. Lucille Grogan, county school superintendent, dismissed all rural schools, however, without the teachers' last checks.

Purveyor Route 3

We have had another cold week and a cold and rainy Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wicker visited in Terry Morris' home Sunday. They reported Mr. Morris as improving nicely from a recent illness.

Aspire Flanked by Burns and Allen in 'Damsel in Distress'

Love, lyrics and laughter are combined in Fred Astaire's new starring film with George Burns and Gracie Allen, "A Damsel in Distress".

Complications enter when not only the friends and relatives of the pair take opposing sides in the matter but the servants at the girl's castle also try to influence the pair. These factors all bring about many side-splitting comedy situations with the catchy song numbers and Astaire's novel dancing routines.

George Burns and Gracie Allen, whose comedy talents have made them famous to millions of film patrons and radio share-billing honors with Astaire, Joan Fontaine heads the featured cast in the title role.

Hello folks, how is this for cold weather. This prevailing low temperature makes us think it is long killing time. This snow reminds us of Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hughes announce the arrival of a fine baby daughter.

Mrs. Will Darnell is on the sick list.

Martha Sue and Evelyn Lue Kirkland, children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirkland, have chicken pox.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Darnell, over the week end.

Some people prefer going South in cold weather but the Youngbloods had rather go North a few miles.

Devoe Bridges made a business trip to Coldwater Saturday, "Get away Lisa Jane."

"Uncle Tim" Smith killed hog last week.

Henry Hogg & Bezzell, Mayfield tobacco buyers, were in and around Coldwater last Saturday looking at tobacco. We are sure it will be a good price this time.

Health School News

We have just finished five months of school under very bad circumstances. Our school has had an epidemic of chicken-pox and measles. But we are all back now ready to work again.

It was necessary to cancel our plays that were scheduled for October and November.

Two 1938 Ford V-8 Cars Displayed

TWO distinct lines of Ford V-8 cars are now being displayed in dealer showrooms. One is a newly styled standard Ford line in three body types, the other a de luxe Ford line in eight body types. The de luxe Tudor sedan is pictured above. The de luxe sedans are larger in appearance, with longer hood and fender lines. The de luxe cars are powered with the 53 horsepower V-8 engine, the standard V-8 with either the 35 or the 60 horsepower engines. Newly styled interiors are pictured at right. New instrument panel has instrument group in front of driver, grille for radio speaker installation in center flanked by speed controls and cigar lighter, and glove compartment at right. In the de luxe cars, the compartment for a clock is recessed in the compartment door.

A headlight beam control is fitted on the toe-board, a tell-tale light on instrument panel indicates whether the headlight beams are raised or depressed.

We are preparing to give a Christmas program and have a list of our friends to attend. Our basketball team has been very successful so far, winning four games and losing one. We dedicated our neighbor school, Thompson, two games by large margins. We won a hard fought game from Almo's eighth grade team by a score of 6-3. Our boys played excellent ball.

Thursday afternoon, December 2, we lost a heart-breaker to the Murray Training School, B team, by a score of 22-13. The score at halftime was 6-6 and 19-10 at the third quarter. Copeland, Rosa and Russell save the opposition plenty of trouble and Tress and Crisp did some very nice guarding. We have not lost a game to an eighth grade team in two years. We are very anxious to have an eighth grade tournament this year. So come on other schools and let's get together.

In spite of illness and poor attendance we have managed to keep our school work up to the fourth and fifth month is as follows: Fourth month: first grade, Pat Elkins, James Robert Towery, Roy Swift, Joseph Culver, second grade, Berline Starks, Mattie Norworthy, Mary E. Swift, third grade, Mildred Norworthy, Dorothy Nell Russell, fourth grade, Melvin Culver, sixth grade, Virginia Ross, Earlene Tidwell, Loma Alexander, eighth grade, J. B. Crisp, Edmond Alexander, Waid Copeland, Roy Rose.

Fifth months: first grade, Pat Elkins, Roy Swift, James R. Towery, Joe Culver, second grade, Mattie Lou Norworthy, Mary E. Swift, Berline Starks, third grade, Mildred Norworthy, Dorothy Nell Russell, sixth grade, Virginia Ross, Earlene Tidwell, Loma Alexander, eighth grade, Miss Erwin, Miss Callista Swift, Miss Christine Russell, Miss Edna Thompson, Mrs. Jamie Copeland, Mrs. Zelmer Russell, Thomas Crisp, Glen Venable, Mrs. Glen Venable, Mr. Norworthy, our trustee, Mr. and Mrs. Ocus Swain, Mrs. Thomas Crisp, and many others whom we cannot think of at present.

It is time for me to write a few lines to the good old Ledger & Times. Hope you're all enjoying these cold days. I'm not very fond of cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Williams and daughter, Eron Larue, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Sip Williams of Frog Creek.

Several people enjoyed the program at Macedonia School, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Housden and daughter, Shirley, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Warlich Housden and son, Joe Max, of Macedonia.

Hortie Housden returned to Detroit Monday.

A number of persons dropped in to listen to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons' radio. Thirty-two persons called during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocus Albritton and daughter, Dickie Larue of New Providence, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons. Mrs. Linda Simmons of Macedonia was also a guest in the home.

Mrs. Theda Wattal of Murray spent Saturday night and Sunday with her daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. Noah Maynard and children, Dollie and Raphael of Cedar Knob.

Thanks for answering my riddle Sweet Pea.

I am wishing everyone a happy Christmas. If anyone sees anything of old Santa Claus, send him down this way.

Now if Mr. Neal will let me have a little space, I will try to write a few lines of "Rhyme and Reason."

I hope everyone enjoys this about the farmer.

Rhyme and Reason

I must admit the farmer's lot, which I have heard is not so hot. So many people seem afraid.

That he can never make the grade; it certainly can do no harm. To say some good words for the farm.

We all know farming isn't fun, there's always hard work to be done. The farmer's days are full of work, he doesn't get a chance to shirk.

And when he delves into the earth, he digs right in for all his worth.

But the there's always work to do, and often worries too.

I feel quite sure that farming beats the life folks live on city streets.

My guess is that the farmers like their jobs.

In spite of politicians' sobs, the farmers fret about their crops.

They're happier than men in shops, the things that city workers fear.

To farmers seem a little queer, the farmer does the thing he likes.

Nor is he vexed by sudden strikes; he generally makes both ends meet.

He's not an easy man to beat.

Mr. and Mrs. Neaf will let me have a little space in "Rhyme and Reason." I hope everyone enjoys this about the farmer.

Rhyme and Reason I muse about the farmer's lot, which I have heard is not so hot. So many people seem afraid, that he can never make the grade; it certainly can do no harm.

There's always hard work to be done. The farmer's days are full of work. He doesn't get a chance to shirk. And when he deives into the earth, he dies right in for all he's worth.

There's not an easy man to beat.

Of course the weather may be bad, and markets sometimes make him mad.

Just like folks on the avenue, the telephone and radio, we've at his service long ago. It gives some city-folks a far to see him drive a better car.

And have a home as up to date as found on many an estate. I do not know a better life, or one so free from ugly strife.

COLLEGE VARSITY PLAYS ARKANSAS

Murray State College has arranged the biggest basketball attraction in the history of Western Kentucky on Tuesday night, December 21. The spirited Thoroughbreds of Murray State College will once again stampede, this time against the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, 1936 champions and 1937 runners-up in the Southwest Conference.

Couch Carlisle Cutchin seems to be a little doubtful about winning, but the Murray fans and students believe in the team's ability and are banking it 100 per cent. The Murray Boosters Club is sponsoring the event.

The "Blue-Bloods" who will attempt to extract the tusks of the Razorbacks are: Seniors: Burdette (co-captain), 6'4", weight 195; McKel (captain), 6'4", 215; Fowler, 6', 175; Riley, 5'10", 156.

Juniors: Margruder, 6'3", 180; Gene Bland, 6', 175; Hurley, 5'10", 155; Finley, 5'9", 165; Lowry, 6'2", 185; McEwen, 5'11", 165.

Sophomores: 5'11", 165; Carnal, 6', 165; Murray, 5'10", 160; Brown, 6', 160; Pennebaker, 5'10", 162; McCuiston, 6', 165; George Bland, 6'1", 175; Brandeis, 6'2", 215; Spaulding, 5'10", 175; Jett, 5'10", 180; Mitchell, 5'10", 150.

Arkansas was one of the eight collegiate teams invited to participate in the National Elimination tournament, held in Madison Square Garden in 1936, and was not eliminated until the semi-final when it was defeated by the champs. Two of the boys who started these games are still in the Ramble lineup this season. The Arkansas will bring a team to Murray said to average 6 feet,

Coach Cutchin's Cagers For 1938

4 inches in height. In the starting lineup will be two All-Southwestern basketball selections for the past two seasons. Lockard is captain of the University boys.

Two Murrayans Are Elected As Health Officers

The Jackson Purchase Public Health Society at its regular meeting in Paducah Monday named Dr. J. A. Outland, Murray, president for the ensuing year to succeed Dr. Russell E. Teague, incumbent proxy, Miss Virginia Irvin, Murray, was elected secretary, and Dr. C. G. Baker, Fulton, was named vice-president. The group voted to hold meetings during 1938 on the second Monday of each month in Paducah.

The following were elected to the program committee: Dr. Teague, Dr. Baker, Dr. Outland, Miss Reba Harris, Miss Irvin, and Waldo Page, Barlow.

About 40 health officers from 10 counties of this area and members of the Kentucky State Board of Health attended the sessions. The general subject was "Health of Adults of the Community". In the graveyard gently sleeping Where the flowers gently wave Lies the one we love so dearly In his lonely narrow grave. Our hearts still ache in sadness Our eyes shed many a tear, God alone knows how we miss him As it ends the first sad year. So sadly missed by his wife and dear little son, Pat.

Many Casey county farmers have attended tobacco grading demonstrations.

All-American Cochran Gets Trip to Rose Bowl to See Brother Play for Alabama

Elmer Cochran, captain of Murray State College's SIAA championship football team and guard on the Associated Press Little All-American, and will see his brother, Henry Cochran, Alabama quarterback, play in the Rose Bowl against California. It was announced in a chapel December 10 by Dr. James H. Richmond, president. This trip was made possible by Murray citizens, faculty, and administrative staff.

Both boys played on the Tilghman High School team, under Phil Beverly, in '32 and '33.

Elmer, who captained the Murray freshmen to a successful season, became a full-fledged regular last season. At the end of last year he was elected to captain a team for the fourth time. He was captain of the Washington Junior High School, the Tilghman Tournament, the Murray team, and now the Murray Thoroughbreds. Because of his all-round performances on the gridiron, and his great leadership, he was placed on the All-KIAC. His friends in Murray got busy and are now sending the "greatest little giant" on the gridiron to see his brother romp in the Rose Bowl. Then came the announcement that he made the Little All-American.

Hello everybody! Merry Christmas to you! We are busy planning a Christmas program. We are studying on our parts in the Christmas plays. We are going to have a lot of Christmas carols and poems.

We have been decorating the school room by preparing a farm scene at Christmas time on the sand table and making trees and candles for the windows.

The program will be presented Wednesday afternoon, December 23. Everyone is invited to the program and Christmas tree and are urged to bring the little children to see Santa Claus.

So sad to miss you, who is progressing nicely on these short days. Visitors are always welcome at our school.

Outland School News

Several children are attending school despite the bad weather. Everyone is studying hard for the examinations.

A three act play, "Mama's Baby Boy", will be given at Russell's Chapel school Wednesday evening, December 22, at 7 o'clock. The cast of characters follows: Mrs. Shephard McLean, a young widow, Mary Brown Charlton; Shephard McLean, her young son, Lester Elkins; Luther Long, a widower, Blaine McNabb; Julie Long, his young daughter, Dorothy Geurin; Mrs. Matilda Blackburn, Mrs. McLean's mother, Lona Mae Williams; Wilbur Warren, Shephard's pal, R. W. Bogess; Sylvia Kline, Wilbur's girl friend, Ruth Williams; Mrs. Carlotta Anglin, a friend of Mrs. McLean, Geneva Geurin; Cynthia Anglin, her young daughter, Mae Nell Geurin; Mac Moore, a real estate agent, Elvin Garland; Minnie, a young colored maid, Valie Rushing. A small admission will be charged. Everyone invited.

Woodlawn School News

Here we are again at the beginning of another week of school. We are decorating our school room with Christmas decorations. We are hoping to see Old Santa soon.

We played a basketball game Friday afternoon with Grinstead. The visitors came unexpected and as a result some of our players weren't in school and we had to substitute our teacher, but we played them just the same. The scores were, Grinstead 8, Woodlawn 4. We believe they could have done better if the ball court hadn't been so badly and slick.

Visitors to our school for the past week were Hurman Witty, Clifton and Clifford Smogherman, Eurie Colson, Laury Giland.

We sure will be glad when it is time for Santa Claus to come. But the weather looks now as if it will be hard for him to get around. We hope he can come, anyway.

Some of our students are absent from school. We hope they will be back soon.

As it is near mid-time and news is short this week we will ring off for this time. Hoping to see you again real soon.—Written by J. W. Scott, 4th grade; Ladora Garrison, 6th grade; Maybelle Stalls, reporter and also organizer, 8th grade.

Almo High School News

The Almo Blue and White Warriors played two close ball games here with Hazel Friday night. Our first team won by the close margin of 20 to 19. High-point man was Eain Edwards followed by Wayne Jones. The second team was not quite so fortunate and lost by a score of 20-17. The Warriors will meet Kirkey here Saturday night, December 18. This is the last game before Christmas. Be sure and see it.

The upper six grades have planned a free program to be given Friday night of this week. The program is as follows: Junior and senior I-act play, entitled "Pa's Housekeeper", sponsored by Mr. Billington; freshman play, entitled, "Winning Dat Gal", sponsored by Mr. Parsons; seventh and eighth grade play, entitled "The Great Stealing Case of Ebenezzer County", sponsored by Mr. Lassiter; the sixth grade will sing "The Carol of the Window", directed by Miss Jones. The students have worked hard on this program and I'm sure it will be worth your hearing.

Holiday Materials May Spread Gypsy Moths

Christmas trees and other evergreen materials such as boughs and toping, used for Christmas decorations are now moving out of the New England section which is known to be infested with the gypsy moth, a warning from the County Agent's office said today. Much of this material will find its way into Kentucky where there is a real danger that the moth, a serious menace to shade and ornamental trees, may become established.

The moth passes the winter in the egg state on trees and shrubs. Such materials are inspected before they leave the infested area but there is no guarantee that they are free of gypsy moth eggs, since these small egg masses may be overlooked by the inspector.

As a safeguard against the establishment of this pest in the State all evergreen material used in Christmas decorations whose origin is beyond the state boundary should be burned promptly when removed from the house, says a statement by Prof. W. A. Price, head of the department of entomology at the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Do not throw it on the dump or otherwise discard it. If eggs are on it they will hatch next spring and in all probability the moth will have established itself in that area.

New Concord High School

Christmas Program

We are preparing one of the best Christmas programs ever presented for this occasion. It will be given Thursday, December 23. The program is being prepared by the first nine grades inclusive. The children have worked diligently to make this interesting for all. The program consists of a 2-act play, "Christmas at Pinnegan's Flat". The elementary rhythm band will play for the selected carols. A pantomime will be given by the fifth and sixth grade girls.

We invite all to attend this program.

The debate team with its coach, Mr. Grogan, attended the debate between Murray and England. It was enjoyed very much by the team.

Mrs. Walter Scarbrough is on the sick list this week. We wish to thank the road officials for the gravel they put on our road.

Chaterbox you had a lovely poem in your column week before last.

I love poems, music and flowers. I always said if I was fortunate enough to get to heaven I hoped it would be filled with music and flowers.

Mrs. Kelly Burton and daughter, Audie, were guests Tuesday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Oliver.

Mrs. A. G. Moody of Murray Route 5, is an operative patient at the Mason Hospital.

We were indeed sorry to learn of Dr. Jones' home being destroyed by fire.

We have mud now instead of cold weather. Guess we can't be satisfied.

Here is a word I saw in this paper some 20 years ago, see if you can pronounce it: superincubatinghabilitiveness.

Mr. Eagle I don't think everyone can give you verse and chapter where the 25th of December is Christ's birthday. Seems to me though the climate was different or else it wasn't as cold then as it is now.

Taking in consideration the distance Joseph and Mary traveled and the way they traveled and the babe being born in a manger it would appear that they would have gotten very cold. But of course God was directing all this. But it seems like nature teaches us it was not in December.

Do you think we observe these holidays as we should? It is set apart as Christ's birthday. Do you think firecrackers should be used? I do not! I think it should be a time of thought. I don't think in many states besides Kentucky they use fire works on Christmas. I think the 4th of July is to be celebrated with fireworks.

I was talking with Miss Frances Sexton on this subject and she said she was out west attending school and happened to mention about fireworks being used on Christmas and the folks out there thought it very strange and asked for what reason it was done. Now just think—why do we use fireworks?

We should be humble and use this time in thanking the Lord for this day instead of disturbing the solemnity of the occasion.

Every little girl and boy is looking forward with pleasure of the coming of Christmas. "Although the little ones just can't understand. And think Old Santa is a very partial man. He gives the rich so many toys. And neglects so many poor little things. Some times I think this delusion is a sin. That any such thing as Santa Claus ever had been."

More than 1,200 Metcalf county farmers have evidenced interest in the hybrid seed corn, which has made excellent yield in that county. Local seed dealers report an unprecedented number of inquiries about the seed.

Around Paschall News

Yes Humming Bird, it must look to you like your granddad kept his bowling from the grandkids, but since you've found it out, please visit him and eat all the sausage you can.

Adolphus Wilson and Miss Marion Brandon were united in marriage Saturday, December 11. There are a lot of little boys' and girls' hearts rejoicing over the thought of Santa Claus coming to see them. Sure hope there will be none of them disappointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smotherman visited in Murray Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smotherman.

Golden Lock Scatter-Brains' News

Once again another week we find it time to pick up our pens and write a bit of news. We have certainly been having some cold, bad weather. Many time we have heard the old saying out of the frying pan into the fire. Haven't we? Well that is just about the truth. Last week snow and this week rain. But we should not be grumbling. We must take things as they come. Beggars can't be choosers.

The weather being so bad there is not very much visiting going on. No weddings to report and just to tell the truth there are not many of the marrying age around here. Those that are are already married.

There is one death to report. That of a Mr. York of near Steelyville school. Funeral services were held Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Wilson and son of near Stone school, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Harmon and daughter, Josephine of near Steelyville school visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lamb one day last week.

Mrs. Oriena Steely returned to the home of her son, Munro Steely, and Mrs. Steely of near Hazel, after visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. O. St. John, and Mr. St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobt Adams assisted Mr. Adams' brother, Cleburn Adams, and Mrs. Adams move into their new home in Murray which they recently built.

Not very much to report, but I must run along as it is mail time. Scatter-Brain

Courier-Journal Scribe Quotes Murrays on Methods of Growing Hogs, Curing Hams

In a copyrighted story entitled "Hams" in the Magazine Section of Sunday's Courier-Journal, the author, Shirley Uhl quotes Lavern Wallis, Murray grocer, and Senator T. O. Turner, Murray, on the curing of hams.

Concerning Wallis, Uhl says: "His Calloway County hams have earned a name among the products of Western Kentucky because of the demand for hams from this region, and have taken a number of state fair prizes. He says: 'These hogs are fed very little commercial feed. Instead they usually have the run of the farm, eating wild berries, nuts and acorns, which gives them time to obtain a natural growth rather than feeding them all they can eat and letting them become too fat and overgrown.'

"Hogs are, as a rule, penned up around harvesting time and fed corn so they will put on enough weight to make lard. The method naturally means a good lean ham with the old fashioned flavor."

Tom Turner, another Calloway County scribe, also advises wide range of exercise for hogs, but with continuous small quantities of corn and large supplies of water, finishing off with a full corn feed for sixty to ninety days.

Concerning the curing of the hams, Uhl writes:

"At Murray, Lavern Wallis says: 'Hickory wood is usually used. The hams are hung over a slow fire that sends up blue winding curls of good-smelling smoke. This gives them a brown, toasted color, and a crisp tart flavor. They are smoked for ten days with a slow fire, usually in January, and left hanging in the smokehouse for several months.'

To prevent skippers, the article continues: "Tom Turner of Murray advises: 'Dip the hams in scalding water and then apply a mixture of sorghum and pepper. Add a powder of borax and hang them in a dry place.'

In the cooking process, Wallis is also quoted. He says: 'There are numerous ways to cook this good food, but the one—that is most popular down here in West Kentucky goes like this: wash and trim the ham. Soak it overnight in cold water. Wash again, and rub with brown sugar. Cover with water, and add a cup of vinegar. Cook slowly for about six hours. Peel the skin, and sprinkle fatty side with brown sugar. Place in not oven long enough to acquire a nice brown coat, and there you have good old-Murray-cooked ham!'

Kirksey 4-H Club

On Thursday morning, December 9, the 4-H Club held its regular monthly meeting at Kirksey school. We enrolled 28 members. With the hearty cooperation of this splendid group along with that of our president, "Cotton" Morgan, who made such an outstanding record in club work at Coldwater last year, we will try to make this the best year Kirksey has ever had.

After the business meeting, the club practiced some songs. The words to these songs were sent to the county agent's office and mimeographed copies are being made. Each member will then have a fine chance to learn them.

The 4-H clubs make a study of trees this year. Let's get acquainted with some of our oldest and nearest neighbors—the trees—and learn to call them by their names. Imagine a world without trees! With the cool foliage and shade; their refreshing greenness in summer; the beautiful scarlet and gold in autumn; their useful lumber; protection to the soil; their aid in prevention of devastating floods; without their shelter to the song birds, or their fruit in the harvest! Would you want to live in such a world? Yet some time in the near future, such we shall have, unless we learn at once, the value of trees, and how to plant and care for them.

The leader will meet with the entire club on Tuesday morning, December 21, at 9:45. Every member please be present.

Next month we will meet on Tuesday, January 11, at 9:45. At that time the committee will submit the name chosen for the club. J. T. Cochran, county agent, meets once a month with the 4-H clubs of the county and was present at the meeting of the Kirksey club.

Highlights From the Freshman Class

Well here I am again—Billy the Kid in person. We had a party last Tuesday night, December 7, in the school gym. We played a number of games and had pop and hamburgers for refreshments.

We had a good time although we did nearly die from eating the hamburgers that Jesse Flippo and Gerthal Mae Armstrong made.

We had a midget basketball game with Lynn Grove Saturday night, December 4. We won but I think it was because of the stick of candy promised to them by Mrs. Koska Jones, our English teacher.

There was just one student on the honor roll this six weeks. It seems as though some of us are weak in the upper division as viewed by our ex-teacher of last year. But I think the brains of the freshman class will get oiled and in working order by the end of the next six weeks.

So long till some other time. Calvin West, class reporter

Senior Class News

The seniors making the honor roll for the second six weeks are as follows: Hilda Faye Brandon; Clara Erwin; Sybil Simmons; Esola Erwin; Angelyn Brandon.

The seniors have been selling candy to pay for their pictures, but turned the money over to the Future Farmers. I think we are in pretty good financial standing at the present.

We are all waiting patiently for the Christmas holidays to begin.

Two Whitley county farmers conducted a limestone project. Charles Perwitz obtained 30 bushels of corn on treated land, 12 on untreated, in the same field. J. T. Estes harvested two tons of lespedeza hay per acre from treated land, and none from an untreated plot.

Across the River

For the last time this year my letter's coming across the river. Hasn't it been such a short time since last Christmas? And yet when I heard a reporter summing up the main events of the past year such as the flood, the disappearance of Amelia Earhart, the Chinese and Japanese war and many other things, I realized that 12 months, however fleeting, can bring many changes, either for the better or for the worse.

Over here, within the last month, two World War veterans, both shell shocked, have died. Tony Sills and Clayton Barber, whose sufferings and tortures did not end in Armistice Day, have existed until recently as examples of the terrible effects of futile, so-called patriotic wars. The present generation, remembering the graves in Flanders' Fields, and the broken hearts of the result of the last war, can never be persuaded to take up arms again in response to bugle call.

Public work seems to be on the wane, judging by the return of several people from Akron and Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook and children are at his father's, Mr. Barney Cook's, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher from Detroit are at Estelle's father's, Mr. Walker Cathey's.

It's great to have an old country home to return to where there are great fires leaping up the chimneys and sausage frying in the pan when the factories needs ones assistance no longer. A city is a generous entertainer to those with a till purse, but I fancy it's a bleak place in the winter when the pay checks are gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Spiceland are staying in Dover with her father, Mr. Jim Scarborough who has been low with tuberculosis for some time.

Mrs. Bryant Jones spent one day with her mother last week. Clyde Spiceland killed three nice hogs just before this cold spell. Some waited to kill until it was so cold they couldn't cut up the lard nor grind sausage.

My dad certainly had two fine porkers the last time I was in Calloway. The club women of this community enjoyed their annual Christmas tree at Mr. Delbert Hicks' last Tuesday.

The schools in Stewart county are enjoying the circulating libraries at last. Each teacher is trying to bring his or her school into the A class since they are to be graded this year. Teachers have to raise the money for their school needs and most of them though they could not build the required sanitary toilets, but somehow, they are gradually being erected.

Linus Spiceland already has his school room at Blue Springs painted on the inside, has built new lunch shelves and a book case and had two toilets built. Most all the teachers are busy planning Christmas programs.

The Chatterbox is planning her Christmas program too. "Over the river and through the woods to grandmother's house I go," I hope I won't say how many more than twenty years I have been traveling the old road to ma's house for Christmas dinner, but I've helped to eat a wagon full of chicken dressing off her table, I guess.

We pity folks now who ride in old jolly wagons, but I have some very pleasant memories of being bedded down in a wagon bed of hay with my brothers and covered with quilts, then we were off to "ma's." We would peep out and peek snowflakes falling into our faces while we gazed by the fence posts and trees which seemed to be passing us, just how far on our five mile journey we were. And what a bustle and clatter awaited us when we arrived! I wonder now how that little old lady has survived ninety such occasions, with the number of grandchildren increasing with the years.

Small wonder that her old bachelorette host these many years is aging. But in that household no one was made to think of the expense of loading a table with goodies and there was never a shortage in the supply.

Not everyone is fortunate enough to have such Christmas dinners to remember, and I may not have more, but if those who have made these many years is aging are much poorer because of them, they have given some priceless memories to many.

Christmas will be a happy occasion for many because it means the homecoming of loved ones. We are expecting my brother, Gury from Detroit, and we are indeed grateful for such occasions when we can meet, at unbroken family. But we are not unmindful of the fact that in some homes there will be vacant chairs which the coming old heartstone as the spirit of loved ones may hover as near the old hearthstone as the spirit of him whose birthday we celebrate and that in every heart will be peace and good will to man.

He's An Industrial Worker!

YOU would naturally think of the man operating the tractor as a farmer. And he is a farmer, but he's also an increasingly important figure in the industrial world, not only as a consumer but as a producer. He's engaged in hoeing up a field of soy beans which later, after passing through various factory processes, will be used in the form of paint and varnish, soap, linoleum and scores of other products. Consumers Information points out that 91 million pounds of soy bean oil, a comparatively new crop for American farmers, was produced in one recent year. Of this amount, 2 1/2 million pounds went into the soap kettles, 5 million into linoleum and 13 million into paint and varnish. This brand new market for American farmers, who are now growing a large number of industrial as well as food products has been developed, like many others through the vast research program undertaken by American industry whose laboratories have added untold millions to the national wealth and also thousands of jobs for American workers.

Sharing Christmas

I AM a happy little tree. I stand beside the front entrance of a white cottage on a quiet street. Each Christmas time I bloom out in beautiful colored lights, and all who pass share my beauty and catch something of the joy of Christmas.

But I was not always happy like this. Once I lived in a great forest, surrounded by trees so tall I could only catch a glimpse of the blue sky above me, and I felt very small and lonely. I, too, wanted to be tall; to look out on the big world like the others and feel the sun shining through my branches. I would stretch out my limbs as far as I could, and send my roots deeper into the earth, but my progress was so slow I grew discouraged.

One day I saw a man and a boy coming through the forest. The man carried something over his shoulder and they seemed to be looking for something. Then the boy saw me and cried: "Look, father, there is just the tree we want." He ran over to me and fairly hugged me in his eagerness. The man looked me over. "Fine," he said. But when he began digging with the thing he had carried on his shoulder I began to tremble. I felt my roots snap one by one and soon I lay a tumbled heap on the ground. Life seemed over for me.

Next I was tied to a funny looking thing on wheels, that sputtered and growled when the man and boy climbed in and we started off down a twisty little road that wound through the forest, then out on a big shining highway until we came to a sloping lawn to a white cottage.

Here I was untied and put into a large cart, jar filled with sand and carried into the house, and in a corner of a big room beside a sunny window. Oh, the joy of having the sun on my branches. I began to feel less scared and to look about me.

In a big mirror opposite I could watch the man as he fastened me upright. Then he put a string of lights from my top to my toe, whistling softly as he worked. Then

Two Little Faces Pressed Against the Window Pane.

I heard a door open and a rush of feet—a little boy and a girl dashed into the room crying: "Mamma, come quick, and see our Christmas tree." They clasped their hands and danced about me. Soon the mother came with a box filled with shining lovely things and my plain green dress was covered with sparkling jewels. I hardly dared look in the mirror for I remembered I was only a humble tree after all, and what I saw could not be me at all; but the great silver star on my topmost branch made me feel very happy. I seemed to draw courage from just looking at it.

After a time I was left to myself. I was glad, as I needed to rest up a bit and get used to my strange surroundings. It grew dark outside and snow was falling; but inside my star shone and a quiet peace came over me.

Then once more the doors opened and a merry group of people came in. This time there were Father and Grandfather and Grandmother, and Mother leading the little boy and girl. Everyone was saying how lovely I was; but I did not want them to look at me. I wanted them to see two little faces outside pressed against the window pane. The boy saw them first. "Look, Daddy, Mamma!" he shouted and set them pointed to the window. "There are two children out there. Bring them in, Daddy; give them some of our Christmas." And the little girl clasped her hands and cried: "Oh, do, Daddy, it's cold out there!"

When they were brought in looking rather scared, but glad, I was so happy I almost shook my bangles off. "Their Mother made music on a big box with shining keys and everyone sang Christmas carols. Then Father told the old story of the Shepherds and the Star that led to the Christ Child. Then a jolly man with a red coat and a pack on his back gave everyone presents, including the little strangers. There were candies and nuts, plenty for all, and such a babble of happy voices. I felt the thrill of it myself and the big star glowed in sympathy.

There is a book called "Come and Welcome" It seems that the welcome which the Father gave the son has not been so prominent as it should be. The welcome will be the principal point stressed. "Ten Lepers" will be the subject for discussion at the evening service. C. L. Francis, Minister World's Busiest Street?

JUST LOOK at that traffic roaring by! Yes, that's New York's famous Fifth Avenue looking toward 42nd Street. And the lady in the stylish white shirtwaist and the snappy little straw skimmer had better be careful when she gets to the corner, because you know how those horseless carriage drivers swing around the turns. With the national automobile show approaching, consumers information dug out this picture, taken in 1907, to show what a difference 30 years can make. The picture below shows Fifth Avenue as it is today. Advertising, which created the demand, and research, which perfected the product, are credited with changing the picture from that of 1907, when only a few thousand cars were on the country's roads, to that of today, with almost 30,000,000. The few small manufacturers of 30 years ago advertised to sell their primitive cars, which cost around $3,000 for a "medium-priced" model. They created a bigger demand than they could fill, and so bigger factories, increased employment, and constantly better automobiles resulted. And today we can buy an infinitely superior car for about one-fifth of the price, while half a million men are directly employed in the industry, compared to a few thousand at the time this picture was taken.

Two Little Dolls In Blue

"AREN'T the dolls beautiful?" exclaimed Joan to her mother, as she gazed upon the finished product of the "Two Little Dolls in Blue" which Dorothy May had ordered from Santa Claus. "They are quite the loveliest I have ever seen," spoke mother. "I do believe that you have put your very heart and soul into their fashioning." Joan had spent many days and nights, stitching a loving holiday thought into each tiny garment. The dainty materials had been transformed into things of beauty. The dresses of pale blue silk with bonnets and slippers to match, had proclaimed them the "Two Little Dolls in Blue!" "Oh, won't Dot love them?" beamed Joan, as she again eyed the dolls from head to foot with a happy smile of complete satisfaction. "I dare say this will be her happiest Christmas, one that she will never forget," said mother.

Christmas eve, with its bright lights and cheer, was in full progress and the two little dolls in blue were being fondled by one of the happiest little girls in the world. Rocking in her own tiny chair Dorothy May began singing a lullaby to the two little dolls in blue. They were wholly oblivious of the attendant surroundings. It was a such an adorable sight that the others had stopped their celebrations and were beaming upon her with transformed emotion.

On Christmas morning in another house around the corner, Bonny Jean awoke with the joy of the holiday and shouted, "Mother, did Santa come and did he bring me a big baby doll with curls and eyes that open and shut?" "Yes, dear," Santa came and brought you a very pretty doll, and called out, "What shall I name the 'two little dolls in blue'?" "Well," said Joan, smiling thoughtfully, "since they are dressed in blue and are two very important little ladies, why not call one Alice Blue and the other Eleanor Blue?" And so the dolls were named.

Just as she was about to burst into protest at her bitter disappointment there came a rap upon the door and a kindly neighbor was saying, "Merry Christmas." Then with a happy smile, "What is the matter, little girl? Hasn't Santa Claus come yet?" "Oh, yes, he came, but he brought me the same old rag doll again. I thought sure it would be a real one this year, because I'm nine, you see."

"Oh, I am so sorry," said Dorothy May, with true feeling and thinking of the two beautiful dolls which Bonny Jean had left for her. Then with a happy Christmas thought, she whispered something very lovely to her mother. They all went right over to the big house on the hill nestled under its burden of Christmas snow. Bonny Jean forgot all about the rag doll when she glimpsed the great tree through the holly wreaths in the window. But when she saw the two little dolls in blue sitting beneath it, her joy was unbounded. She clasped her hands and gazed with glee. "Such darling dolls!" she gasped, breathlessly.

"Their names are Alice Blue and Eleanor Blue," said their little mistress, proudly. "I want to have one of them," with unbelievable surprise, her eyes fairly dancing with joy, she clasped the beautiful doll in her arms and asked, "Is it really mine-for-keeps?" "Really and truly for keeps," said Dot. "Dorothy May explained it all to her mother after the happy little girl had left; that somehow she just did not miss Eleanor Blue very much when she saw how happy she had made Bonny Jean. In her heart she felt that it was truly "more blessed to give than to receive," and hugging the one little doll closely, she whispered, "Merry Christmas, Alice Blue!"
