FANSHAWE COLLEGE

FINE ART PROGRAM

GRADUATION EXHIBITION '86

APRIL 23 - MAY 11, 1986

INTRODUCTION

Graduation at last! The end of many years of training and preparation for some, a temporary reprieve in the process for others.

The graduating students in this exhibition will either leave "the system" to follow independent careers or continue their formal education at a post-graduate level perhaps to prepare for teaching or other professional interests open to them.

All have shared a valuable and enriching learning experience they will remember for the rest of their lives - friendships, joys, hard work and the many frustrations - all contribute to this special period in their lives.

For those students about to establish a career in art there are many difficult and unanswered questions that only time and experience will reveal. Whatever the answers the fact remains that the emerging artists are not alone. Many have followed a similar path and more will follow. The new artists have a training and an art-based philosophy that will flow into the community to benefit all.

It is my pleasure to sincerely thank the organizers of this exhibition, especially Ben Linssen and Eric Atkinson, and to congratulate the students leaving the Fine Art Program for providing their exceptional works for the Graduation Exhibition '86.
