Declines to Say If He Will Be Independent Candidate.

Philadelphia, April 5.-The second and last orchestral concert in aid of the families of the soldiers and saliors who were killed in the Philippines was given at the Academy of Music this afternoon. The overshadowing feature of the occasion was the presence of Admiral and Mrs. Dewey, who came from Washington for the purpose of attending the concert.

The Admiral and his wife occupied an upper proscenium box with Mr. and Mrs. Cassett. The distinguished couple were enthusiastically received by the audicluded Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were escerted to the foyer of the academy where they were introduced to a dozen prominent society young ladies who were dressed as Red Cross nurses and who were selling programmes and serving tea. Both Admiral and Mrs. Dewey drank a cup of the beverage and then followed a scramble among the young ladies for the cup out of which the Admiral drank.

From the academy the Admiral and his wife were driven to the hotel and there the Admiral, in response to pressing requests, granted an interview to nearly a dozen newspaper men. He said he was glad to receive the reporters but added that he had nothing to say. At this mement Mrs. Dewey joined her husband in the reception room and after introducing her he said:

"Mrs. Dewey will talk," to which she replied, with a smile, that "the Admiral has a mind of his own; he thinks for himself."

Would-Be Murder of Prince of Wales Meets His Father.

Brussels, Apirl 5.-Jean Baptists Sipido, the Belgian youth who attempted the life of the Prince of Wales yesterday, was not submitted to any further examination today. His attitude is de jected and he appears very tired, having had little sleep. He does not express regret at his crime but has repeatedly requested permission to see his mother. No interview between them, however, will se allowed for some days.

Late this afternoon the examining magistrate decided to comfort Sipido with his father and a touching scene

It appears that Sipido sent the following letter to his father, excusing his absence on the ground that he had obtained a stuation at the Maison Du Peuple:
To Citizen Jean, Baptiste Sipido, Saint Gilles, Brussels:

It is possible Lord Roberts has difficulties other than remounts with which to scuten .. Much anxiety is telt as to the water supply despite the reports that there is no fear of Whatever the reasons may be, considerable dissatisfaction is beginning to be expressed here at the unaccountable delay both at Bloemfontein and in Natal, which enables the Boers to recover from the demoralization caused by Lord Reberts' former rapid movements. The enemy now evidently hopes to retard the advance by threatening the railway be hind Lord Roberts. The Boars are sniping out patrols.

A party of blindfolded Boers was brought in with the following written message: "I am here with saveral thousand burghers; and, in the cause of humanity and to save such a dreadful sacrifice of life as occurred in the last battle, demand your immediate surrender."

This was signed "Banks, General."
The party was sent back with the answer, "No reply."

"General Clements' division six thousand strong, has arrived from the southward and has encamped five mile north of the city, after a continuous march for a fortnight. There is no danger of a water famine here.

An unimportant engagement lasting several hours was fought yesterday afternoon at Bosman's Kop between the Boer and British outposts."

WHAT COL. PLUMER SAW.

Gaberones, Bechuansland, Wednesday, March 8.—Colonel Plumer with a force of British mounted infantry started on a daring march Sunday, March 25, with the object of threatening the Boer lines at Mafeking.

After two rapid might marches through Transval territory they arrived at dawn, March 2, within twelve miles of Zerust and distinctly heard the bombardment of Mateking.

and distinctly heard the bombardment of Marking.
Having reconnoitered the country with the view of future operations without sighting a single white man, Col. Plumer crossed the railroad south of Lobasti which he found in possession of a Boer fore and returned. Then finding the railroad damaged by General Snyman's main force he returned to the vicinity of Mareking. Rumors reached here that a relief column is approaching Mareking from the south.

BOER ATTACKS REPULSED. : London, April 5.—10 50 a.m.—A special despatch from Loronzo Marques says sharp fighting occurred April 2, in the weighborhood of Mafeking. The garrison made a sortie while Colonel Plumer's cavalry attacked the Boers at Ramathlabilm. Both mattacks were repulsed. Twenty of Col. Plumer's men were found dead on the field and six others were made prisoners. The federal losses were small.

Thaba N'Chu is now in possession of the Federals.

NOT LORD CECIL.

London, April 5.—It is thought that the officer named Cecil, captured by the Boers at Ramathlabama is not Lord Sal-isbury's son Lord Cecil as the despatch says he belonged to Col. Plumer's force and if the Boers had captured the Premier's son they would assuredly her-ald the fact.

The Free Traders Refuse to Attend Caucus.

Washington, April, 5,-There was fairly large attendance at the conference of the House Republicans held tonight in the hall of representatives to agree upon a course of action regarding the Porto Republicans who opposed the original bill-Messrs, McCall of Massachusetts. Littlefeld of Maine, Lorimer of Illinois, Heatwole of Minnesota, Crumpacker of Indiana, Lane of Iowa, and Warner of Illinois, was present. At a conference held by them, they decided not to recode from their former position and conse-quently they considered it useless to attend the conference tonight.

[Mr. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the Republican caucus presided. Mr. Payne of New York, the floor leader of the majority, made a short preliminary statement as to the necessity for har-monious action. He said that the Republicans of the ways and means committee were agreed that the Senate amendments to the tariff provision of the bill should be concurred in. He pointed out that the amendments supported the position of the House for a tark and that concurrence involved no atandonment of the committee who had evolved a bill should be heard. After some minor discussion about the spelling of the word Porto Rico, Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, chairman of the insular affairs committee, made an earnest speech against the acceptance of certain features of the Senate bill. His remarks were directed obleily against the Senate's provision regarding the upper house or council of the Porto Ricon flegislature. The Senate bill provided that all the members should be appointed by the President, whereas the House bill makes half of them elective. The power given to the council to grant franchises was another feature which he strengoutly opposed. Mr. Cooper had taken great pride in the provisions of the House bill relating to franchises and corporations and he spoke with much feeling. He advocated concurrence in the Senate's and non-concurrence in the Senate's civil government scheme. Mr. Moody of Massachusetts followed Mr. Cooper along the same lines. Mr. Hemenway of Indiana, moved concurrence is all the Senate amendments. His motion evoked enthusianm and it was evident that a large majority of the caucus favored a termination of the struggle by the shortest routs. Mr. Grovenor of Ohio, Mr. Cannon of Illinois and Mr. Ray of New York advocated concurrence in the entire Senate bill. As the debate proceeded the leaders one after another urged this course. Speaker Henderson concluded with a rousing speech urging concurrence in the Senate amendments in gross and when the vote was taken on Mr. Hemenway's motion, the chorus of ayes was overwhelming. Without division, it was declared carried and the caucus adjourned.

There is one point about bifccal lenses that cannot be neglected. That is the position of the frame. The eyes really have two pairs of lenses before them and they cannot change their adjustments satisfactorily unless the frames are just right. I have seen them so low that when the wearer wished to read they had to be held up with the hand, to bring the reading into place. I have them so high that the distance apart was above the line of vision, and it was necessary to bend forward in order to see across the street. I have seen them with one eye looking through the distance glass and the other through the reading glasses. The fit of the frame is the sole reason why so many people are prejudiced against bifocals. #### FOULED OWN NEST.

Opponents of Senator Clark Denounced Before Senate Committee.

Washington, April, 5 .- Attorney Birney ontinued his argument in the case of Senator Clark of Mentana, before the Sendining hall they gathered at long tables was followed by Mr. Roger Foster in Mr. the prosecution against Mr. Clark. Congressman Campbell was denounced in Stiff. There was an effort, he said, to make it appear that Mr. Clark was more profligate and more corrupt than any of them-a veritable Count of Monte Cristhem—a veritable Count of Monte Cristo. But this was all the dream of an oplum smoker and was untrue. Montana was not a modern Sodom and Gemorrahr and these people were bringing upon themselves deserved condemnation that falls upon the head of the bird that fouls its own nest as they do in thus casting aspereion upon their own state. Mr. Foster turned his attention to the law in the case. He asserted that if all the testimony taken were true, it would not affect Mr. Clark's right to his seat in the Sanate and proceeded to sustain this position by an elaborate presention of authorities.

Mr. Foster had not concluded when the hours were spent in discussing the amend "that one of the conditions and stipu ole 2, shall apply to measures which the United States may find necessary to take tenance of public order."

Senator Davis opened the debate with s general statement in support of the treaty, but directed his remarks especially towards the explanation of the com mittee amendment. He stated that it all other essential respects the pending treaty was similar to the treaty of Constantinople entered into in connection with the Suez. For some reason, hew ever, the provision permitting the United States to defend its property was omit

During the controversy Senator Wol-cott asked several questions indicating his opposition to the amendment, while Sanator Mason by the same course indi-cated his opposition to the treaty without the amendment. THE CANAL TREATY.

Sen. Morgan Favors

Washington, April 5.—On motion of Senator Davis, the Senate teday consid-dered the Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the modification of the Clayton-Butwer treaty behind closed doors. About three ments to the treaty made by the Senate committee on foreign relations providing lations in sections 1, 8, 3, 4 and 5 of artifor securing, by its own forces, the deense of the United States and the main-

States to defend its property was omitted.

This omission was a palpable error. Eenstor Morgan the only member of the committee on foreign relations who did not conour in the amendment made the principal speech in opposition to it. He consumed the greater part of the executive session, Mr. Davis's speech being comparatively brief.

Senator Lodge made a plea for the amendment, saying that however great the present confidence was in the power of neutrality and mutual understanding among nations, we should take into consideration the possibility of future detauglements and lose no opportunity to make provision for safe-guarding, our interests in all exigencies that might arise. Senator Morgan's speech was a plea for neutrality as the best guarantee of the safety and usefulness of the canal. He said it was to be a highway for the commerce of the nation and that the proposed amendment not only would fail to provide for its protection, but might be the means of caseing complications whichever could arise if the amendment was not inserted. The conditions, he contendend, were entiraly dissimilar from these connected with the Suez canal. Turkey possessing territory in the immediate vicinity of that canal and the United States have no such possessions within thousands of miles of the proposed Nicaraguan canal. He therefere thought the restriction superfluous and indicated a disposition to grant to Great Britain power over us which that country did not attempt to assert.

He also contended against the necessity for the precautionary measure, arguing that in case of war we would take possession of the canal without any previous agreement to that effect. Asked by Senator Mason if he thought it would be constated on the part of Great Britain to fortify Jam sica and still prevent our fortifying the mouth of the canal, Mr. hiorgan replied that the neutrality provision only extended to the three mile in the said were constantly going on and the good faith of no nation could be attacked because of them.

Status of Parliamentary

Referred to Committee by Speaker.

Government Amendment Made This Possible.

ISPECIAL TO THE PRESS.

Washington, April 5 .- Now that the Porto Rican bill has come back to the House with the Senate amendments, the parliamentary status of the measure is a matter of no little interest. In the scribe for an ideal man, first place the Speaker has referred the bill to the Committees on Ways and Means. This is in accordance with the rules and practices of the House. In the 51st Congress Speaker Roed did the same thing with a free coinage amendon that occasion being that on Coinage, Weights and Measures. The sliver forces that Congress, led by Mr. Bland, of Missouri, did not want the bill referred to the committee; but wanted to consider it at once in the House and concur in the Senate amendment. They therefore undid the Speaker's action by striking the record of it from the Journal. But it took a long time to do this, and by that time the sound money forces had rallied and the action of the Speaker in referring the bill was sustained.

The right of the Speaker to refer a bill of this kind is now so well settled that no disturbance arose over Speaker Henderson's disposition of the Porto Rico

When the bill originally came from the Ways and Means committee it dealt entirely with revenue, and was therefore privileged under the rules, and could be reported and considered at any time. This privilege is given revenue bills under the rules because of their great importance. But the Senate have attached to the bill as amendment providing for civil government, of Porto Rico, this destroys the privilege of the bill, and will make it necessary for the Committee on Rules to intervene with a special order to enable the bill to be considered without delay.

The committee on Ways and Means will examine the Senate amendments and make recommendations in regard to them, probably that the House concur in some, nonconcur in others, and concur in others with amendments These recommendations being reported, the House will consider them and act on them.

It has been assumed in some quarters that when the bill comes up a free trade amendment may be offered, and thus the House may be lined up again on the proposition for tariff or free trade. This assumption is not correct. The subject of tariff for Porto Rico has been passed on by both House and Senate, and it is not now in enotroversy. The House's tariff proposition has been agreed to by the Senate with an amendment which makes certain exceptions to the House provisions. These exceptions are under consideration, but they do not involve the main tariff proposition, which has pooling. been passed upon by both Houses. The text of the bill to which both Houses have agreed may not now be changed This is old and well understood Parliamentary law. Mr. Jefferson lays it down in his manual "which is official authority in the House, and the same principle bas been followed in ruling; of Speakers Randall, Keifer, Carlisle and Reed.

It is probable that this situation will prevent the excitement which has been expected in the House by a revival of the fight over tariff and tree trade.

PORTO OR PUERTO.

House and Senate at Loggerheads Over the Question.

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.)

Washington, April 5 .- The House and Senate are at issue over the spelling of the name of the Pearl of the Antilles, as Mr. Littlefield referred to it in his famous speech. § The House in its tariff bill spelled it "Puerto Rico," now the Senate sends the bill back with "Puerto" stricken out and "Porto" inserted. The House will probably disagree to this and Senate are at issue over the spelling of House in favor of the House's pesition. The Insular Committee of the House which handles all subjects relating to the new possessions except revenue and appropriation bills, has decided upon "Puerto" as the proper spelling. They did this because the Puerto Ricans who appeared before their committee said that was the spelling used by the natives of the island, and that they were much at tached to it. The members of the Insular Committee thought it eminently proper to defer to this sentiment.

DEWEY'S CANDIDACY.

Not Taken Seriously as a Presidential Possibility.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

Washington, April 5 .- The announce ment that Admiral Dawsy is a candidate for the Presidency is accepted by the best informed public men in Washington as true, and as representing the attitude of the victor of Manila. But it is also thought that he is too late in launching his poom. Having unduly exaited him the American people seem new to have gone to the other extreme of unduly negecting him. Because he did wisely and nobly against the fleet of Spain in the Orient, the popular imagination at once invested him not only with military genius, but also with all the virtues which the teachers of ethics would pre-

When the great Admiral came home, fell in love, and married, like an ordinary man, except that he moved on the altar with the same promptness that he moved on Mauila there was a feeling that he was not a demi-god after all. And then ment, the committee receiving the bill when he foolishly transferred the nation's gitt to his wife the proof that he was not a demi-god actually made people for a day set him down a little lower than the ordinarily wise or foolish man.

There were many people jealous of his fame and popularity and they have not allowed the house incident to be forgotten. So upon the whole, it may be said that so far as Washington is concerned, at least, Admiral Dewey has ceased to attract great attention. He is not much talked about, and little was said even when the announcement of his candidacy

Mrs. Dewey is quite generally credited with stimulating her busband's ambition. She is a slater of the John McLean who made the light for the governorhip of Ohio last fall and political ambition has always been one of the characteristics of the McLean family which has long been distinguished in Obio.

It is probable however that Admiral Dewey is stronger in the country at large than in Washington where petty jealousles are apt to have undue influence; and his candidacy may have important indirect influences. That he can achieve the Presidency is not seriously believed here.

MEETING GRAND TRUNK.

Bridges on Portland Division To Be Reconstructed.

London, April 5 .- At the meeting today of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk railroad of Canada the report of the president, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson was adopted. He said in the course of a long speech that he believed the reorganization of the Chicago Grand Trunk would be carried out though one third of the first bondholders still dissented.

There was no indication the president added of better freight rates as such powerful interests as those of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Vanderbilts were unable to maintain the tariff nor could the great financial interests of New York enforce fixed; rates. This was diffi-cult to explain but it seemed to him that the great shippers were able to compel reductions. Some shippers were never known to pay fell rate and the smaller

The bridges of the Portland, Maine, division, Sir Charles continued, would be reconstructed in time for the winter traffic. The president also said the Central Vermont was doing most satisfactory, the Detroit and kinnesota, having done fairly well and the Chicago and Grand Trunk was doing fairly well.

Washington, April 5 .- There was ate of Maine field day in the committee of the whole of the House for about lifteen minutes this afternoon. The question before the committee was the organic law of Hawaii, and to the section prohibiting lotteries, Mr. Gillette of the Springfield district of Massachusetts, offered an amendment prohibiting salcons. Mr. Knox, in charge of the till, opposed this, but the debate was mild until Mr. Limited of Maine, arose in the back seat on the Republican side and began a speech in favor of the amendment. said that he was heartly in favor of the prohibitory system for Hawail. It had worked well many years in Maine, and no man could put his finger on a place in that state where liquor was openly sold. The sentiment of the people there was four to one in favor of the law. There was no open saloon any where in Maine, "I deny that," shouted John F. Fitzgerald of Massachusetts rising excitedly on the Democratic side.

"There is not a hotel in Portland there liquor is openly sold," said Mr. Littlefield confidently. "I deny it. I say that it is seld openly in every hotel and apothecary shop in

Mr. Berry of Kentucky, a gigantic ani-Goebal Democrat, replied to Mr. Littlefield. He was not ready to vote for such an amendment, "even to satisfy the fanatical State of Maine." The liquor in Maine was always worse than anywhere anywhere else. In Kentucky, where the moral centiment was as high as any where, the whiskey was pure, but when you got north of the Ohio river the whiskey began to be adulterated, and when you got to Maine the stuff was so bad that it was no wonder the gentleman from Maine was against it. But this was no time to adopt prohibitory amendments, we were expanding trade. Only home for the Philippin islands.

The question being taken by a rising ment and fifty-seven against it. Mr.
Littlefield called for tellers, and the members in favor of prohibition began first to stream between the tellers. Foremost were Mr. Littlefield and bis Main to stream between the colleggues. Mr. Allen and Mr. Burleigh. vote there were fifty-six for the amend colleagues, Mr. Allen and Mr. Burleigh, and they were followed by a large num ber from all parts of the country. Ther was Uncle Jasper Talbert, the old Confederate of South Carolina, who fights pension sessions, Joe Sibley of Pennsyl vania, Democrats from North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi and Indiana, Populists from Nebraska, Republicans from New England, Iowa and California in fact anti-salconists of all kinds. There were sixty-six of them, and only sixty members opposed. So the prohibitory amendment went into the bill. The action of the committee of the whole will have to be confirmed by the House and go to the Senete before becoming a law.

Divers Examined the California Yes terday.

Several tugs went out to the disabled steamer California yesterday morning and as they remained in the vicinity of tie disabled craft for some time it was evident that something was to be done. Down at the end of the wharves considerable | excitement was aroused by this action as nobody seemed to know just what was to take place. Within a few minutes, bowever, the curiosity was satisfied. The steamer was pulled out short distance from the Beach off Willard Cove where she had been lying since Saturday and here she remained all day while the divers were allowed the best chance they had thus far in examining the bottom.

Chicago, April 5 .- Members of the Citizens Don't Know What to Do About Dewey's Visit.

Dewey reception committee will hold a formal meeting next Tuesday to decide whether the celebration planned in honor of Admiral Dewey on the eccasion of the latter's visit to Chicago, May 1, shall be atandoned or carried out in accordance with the original plans. The preparations are being actively pushed for the celebration and the work of collecting funds is progressing satisfactorily. The commitdom of abandaning the fete as many of the members state that the reception to Admiral Dewey should rise above partisanship while others wish to hear frem Admiral Dewey as to whether or not his visit to Chicago is to have political significance.

The yellow journals are again trying to make it necessary for Admiral Dewey to deny that he jis up for presidential honors. Why can't they let the nation's hero enjoy in peacs his well-carned rest instead of pestering him eternally? The alleged interiew with him is too Usby for anything. For instance, he is made to say: "If the American people want me for this high effice I shall be only too willing to serve them. It is the highest benor in the gift of this nation; what citizen would refuse th? Since Zetudying this subject, I am convinced that the office of the President is not such a very difficult one to fill, his duties being mainly to execute the laws of Congress." The attempt of some English newspapers to connect the attempted assassina tion of the Prince of Wales with the pres ence of Dr. Leyds, the Trans vaal agent, is pretty cheap. There is not the slight-est evidence of any connection between the two, and the existence of any such connection is absurdly improbable. The Prince's assassin is a professional anarchist, and the motive which inspired him to fire at the Prince was doubtless the same as that which inspires all of his ilk-a vague hatred of the existing order of things coupled with a desire for notoriety. Like all of his breed he was doubtless more or less insane, but yet in s filoient possession of his faculties to be able to distinguish right from wrong and consequently legally and morally re-

The only hope for Dewey was that there was still in the country a large amount of dormant enthusiasm for him which would be revived by the announcement of his candidacy. No signs of it have yet appeared. On the contrary, his announcement seems to have fallen flat. There is some curiosity to know what induced him to change his mind. but that is about all. A few gold Democrats have shown some little interest in his candidacy, because they hoped might in some way prove a cheek to Bryan, but even they are not enthusiastic. Dewey himself professes to be pleased with the reseption his announcement has met, which would seem to show that he was a candidate against his will and was not averse, therefore, to see his boom showered with the coldest kind of cold water.
We should say, judging from present satisfactions, that his candidate was derighted to be a nine days wonder and then District of Maine.

RELIGION IN SCHOOLS.

Address on Subject by F. D. Cummings.

He Claims That Religion Is Taught In Schools.

And It Is Contrary To The Constitution.

Quotes As Authority Supreme Courts of Several States.

Mr. F. D. Cummings delivered an adevening on religious instruction in the public schools. Mr. Cummings has been ndeavoring to prohibit all religious iqstruction of every kind in the public schools of Portland. One of his children went to a kindergarten in ward one and was there taught by the teacher, so Mr. Cummings claims, a prayer or a grace before lunch. Mr. Cummings upon learning of this appeared before the school committee and tried to get them to make come rule absolutely prohibiting the teaching in the public schools of prayers, the reading of the Bible or anything else which might be construed as religious

The attendance at Assembly hall last evening when Mr. Cummings spoke was not large. In fact the audience he addressed was very small. Mr. Cummings said in beginning that this was a grave question, fraught with dangers to the state. He said that religion in the public schools is both in principle and in fact a union of church and state-a union of religion and law. Mr. Cummings claimed that this was contrary to the principles of the republic. He said that in claiming the teaching of religion in the public schools was unconstitutional he could quote such authorities as Jefferson, Madison, Franklin and Grant and a great many of the great and noble men of this country as well as the decisions of the Supreme courts of several states. Those people who speered at him and who regarded him as a mental ourlosity or monstrosity were trampling under foot the opinions of these great men. Mr. Cummings went on to say that it was not right that any sort of religious teachings should be forced upon the pupils of that it is a step backward for the electric all sects in the public schools whose lights furnished by the Peaks island parents be they Protestants, Catholics, Stramboat company are very brilliant parents be they Protestants, Catholics, Hebrews or believers in any religion or no religion are taxed to maintain the

Mr. Cummings then referred to the decision of the Supreme court of Maine of 1853, drawn by Judge Shepley to which Justices Tenney and Howard concurred which had been quoted to him as the law of this state. This decision proclaims that the use of the Bible as a reading is not prohibited by any express language decided that the Protestant Bible could to compel the Roman Catholic children to read it against their wills. Mr. Cummings said that this decision would not it would be driving people away. The now hold water among the people of island was so well lighted last season Maine. He further quoted from Judge that ladies and children feel perfectly Thomas McIntire Cooley, from the de- safe to be out in the evening without an cision of the Wisconsin Supreme court, and other authorities to support his

Mr. Cummings said that the people of this country should take warning that Piano solo, they do not trample under foot the rights of any citizen, that there was a complete ion of church and state lest at some future time they should find themselves oppressed by some religious power. He went on to:say that the clergy, he had en told, would favor religious instruction in the public schools. He said he did not believe that they would.

In conclusion Mr. Cumming said thas he wanted nothing at the hands of his hearers, but fair play and justice and their aid in stopping such instruction be ing given in the public schools.

ANOTHER PROBLEM.

What Kind of Lights Shall We Have on the Islands,

Mr. Garcia, agent for the Weisbach light, in answer to a summons from Alierman Brown, chairman of the light committee, was in town yesterday. Mr. Garcia is to submit a proposition to the committe for lighting Peaks and Long Islands with naphtha Welsbach lights. Their brilliancy is about equal to the gas Weisbach.

Councilman Sloman, one of the com mittee on lights, was interviewed in rela-tion to the project. He says he doesn't care how many of these lights are in stalled on the island they never can take the place of the arc lights on Peaks island, as the island should be made as attractive as possible for the many thousands of visitors which throng at this famous summer resort. Many of the cottagers have been interviewed by Mr. Sloman in relation to the change. They feel and afford much pleasure to the cottagers and boarders in their evening walks and going to and from the .theatre Peaks island is by far the most sought place in Casco bay. He also says that the ommittee will never agree to substitute oil for electricity on this island. What would the multitude say which crowd Riverton and Underwood every evening during the summer months if the com pany should dispense with are lights? They never will do it because are lights are a little more expensive. Every year be read tus that the teachers had a right | there is an increase in cottages and summer travel. As one of the committee I shall not vote for anything of the kind.

WATCHERS ARE OUT.

Saloon Keepers Are Becoming Mor-Vigilant.

The police seizures continue unabated and vesterday was another busy day in the department, two more large seizures being made. Late in the afternoon Deputtes Frith and Chenery left the station, journeyed down to the corner of Center and Commercial streets and called at the saloon of Patrick Kane. The patrol wagon was backed up to the door and then the officers rolled out two barrels of ale, twenty-one bottles of lager beer and a small quantity of hard stuff. Kane happened to be out at the time as did also the bar tender. Several men were scated at a table behind the counter engaged in playing a game of cards.

Early in the evening the two deputies started out on another of their raids, going to the saloon of Thomas McGlinchy at 844 Fore street. They gathered in a barrel which was about one-third filled wit h ale, three barrels which were one half full of ale, one-half barrel of porter and a small lot of whiskey, gin and rum. At this place nobody was about the premises. Watchers in the vicinity had given the word of approach of the

Since these raids have been in progres the watchers have been obliged to keep busy and are far more alert than ever, More of them seem to be employed, as all of the dealers plan to make special efforts of the desiers plan to make special entries to absent themselves from the saloons, while the raids are being made. "It has become quite generally known that we are making a number of selutures," said one of the deputies last evening, in speaking of these raids. "You can now find watchers standing out anywhere below Middle street."

NURSERY COOKERY.

THE ANEMIC AND NERVOUS

By Christine Terhune Herrick. Sweets should not be eaten largely, but some of the simple preparations given in diarrhoea may be taken, and most plain puddings of sago, arrowroot and farina, as well as creams and blanc manges, are permitted. They are of value as furnishing the much sought after variety, and besides their own nutrition they serve as a vehicle for the cream that must often be taken until the patient becomes weary of it in its unmixed condition.

FLORENTINE CREAM.

Soak a quarter box of gelatine, covered, for half an hour in a gill of cold water. (The necessity of keeping the gelatine covered is emphasized because is said to attract germs from the air and may thus become a source of ill-Heat a pint of milk in a double boller and stir into It the yolks of two eggs, beaten light with two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Be cautious how you put hem in lest the eggs curdle. As soon as the mixture begins to thicken a little. pour it upon the gelatine and stir until this is dissolved. Flavor with half a teaspoonful of vanilla, and when the cream has cooled, but not stiffened, stir in the whites of the eggs, beaten stiff. Set in a cold place to form. Eat with cream. SAGO CREAM.

Soak half a cup of sago over night cold water. There should be just enough water to cover it. In the mornng put it over the fire in a double boiler with a pint of milk and let it simmer antil the sago is clear. Half an hour ought to be enough for this. Stir in two tablespoonfuls of sugar, add one egg. beaten very light, flavor to taste—a lit-tle lemon juice and some of the grated peel are good for the purpose, and give it to the patient with cream either whipped or plain. All these desserts are better when very cold.

Food, no matter how light, should not be given to a child suffering from debility when he is overtired, or rather, he should not be allowed to become overtired before his meal. If he has been exercising he should be made to lie down and rest for a little while before eating. A short period of rest should follow his In many instances, the child should be encouraged to lie in bed until well along in the course of the morning. It is a great mistake to fancy that there s any advantage to the child in forcing him to take active exercise when he shows a marked disinclination for it. Children are usually such active little beings that they are not, except in rare ases, disposed to avoid activity unless they are so far from well that they should kept still. It is then that massage is of value, and that for outdoor exercise friving should be encouraged rather than walking or playing. When the child cannot obtain the fresh air in any other manner he may be wrapped up and allowed to sit near an open window, but always out of a draft.

For the child afflicted with tubercular disease in any of its forms, as to the one with a disposition to nervous weakness, fats are usually prescribed. The simplest form in which to give these is as cream. puddings that are given him, is probably getting fats in the best way. But again omes in the question of variety, and the home caterer must devise a change in the method of giving fats if the wishes her charge to continue to eat well. Simple cream soups and vegetable purees are excellent, an oyster bisque may be made half cream, a bit of broiled bacon will tempt the appetite, a little fat may be mixed judiclously with the sand-wiches of underdone beef. Bread spread with Devonshire cream will sometimes be eaten more willingly than that spread

Cocoa, made with plenty of milk, may be used as a drink. A little whipped cream heaped on a slice of milk toast will vary a nourishing dish, and the same addition may be made to clam or oyster broth, and, indeed, to any cream soup. Besides the articles already mentioned, under done beef and mutton, tender poultry, sweetbreads, boiled or may be eaten by the anemic patient.

made too much of a point to the invalid, whether child or adult. There are few grown people to whom the thought of the necessity of cating a certain amount at a certain time does not bring an absolute aversion to food, a sensation as of an almost physical clutch on the throat. The delicate child suffers in the same make a festival of them, and his appetite and health will both be the gainers. OYSTER BISQUE.

Heat a large cupful of rich milk over the fire and thicken it with a tea-spoonful each of butter and flour. When it is smooth and the thickening is well blended, put in the oysters and let them become hot. Beat an egg light, pour a little of the hot soup upon it in a cup, return all to the fire and cook one minute.

As was said before, this may be made richer by using half cream instead of milk, and it is rendered more attractive if a tablespoonful of whipped cream is put on top of it after it is in the cup. DEVONSHIRE CREAM.

controls some of the richest mines in the Joplin zinc fields.

A committee of the directors who have lately investigated the condition of the company's properties, their present output and the quantity of ore in sight, report a net profit of $306, 720 per annum from our three properties on completion of the new mills now in course of construction, figuring a run of 4s weeks, giving yearly dividends of over 3p per cent. on the entire capital stock.

With the propose! additional mills to be erected (and the mines are rich enough to supply ore for ten times the present number of mills employed), these dividends will be substantially increased.

The present condition of the International Zinc Co.'s properties, and the fact that the richest ore lies from 300 to 1000 feet below the present level of work, warrants us in saying that the future promises phenomenan advances in the intrinsic and market value of the stock. The interests of the stockholders are protected by the auditing of all acounts of the company by a firm of Chartered Accountants of intermational reputation, which is a distinctive feature of security employed by this company. The company is paying at the present time

> In order to insure liberal patronage for such productions a subscription club rate will be made, which reduces the prices of the seats to nearly one-half the regular rates. Thus two people may attend the four performances in the deliar seats for five deliars, and reserve their seats two days in advance. To non-subscribers the regular prices will prevail. The subscription list is now open at the box office of the theatre, and Mr. Shepman, one of the company managers will call on as many people as he can possibly see in the next few days.
