Catarrhal

Deafness.

Pamphlet Edition, by A. N. WILLIAMSON, M. D.. Late Clinical Physician in the Medical Department of the University of New York.

Copies sent to any address on receipt of stamp, directed to the author DR. WILLIAMSON, who is stopping during his vacation at 23 Myrtle Street.

PORTLAND. Hours .- 9 to 1 and 7 to 8 p. m. The Journal of Medical Science says: "We have watched with great interest the results of treatment for Catarrh and Impaired Hearing, according to the method introduced by Dr. Williamson of New York. The report is most favorable. The post-nasal cleansing is perfect, and Catarrh may now be considered a curable disease. So far, all cases of Impaired Hearing within our knowledge, arising from colds or Catarrh—and most car troubles arise that way—have been greatly benefitted—many entirely cured."

A paper currency is a great curse to any people and a particular curse to the laborer of any country, for its depreciation always falls upon the laborer .- Andrew Jackson. "Capital may be produced by ladustry and accumulated by economy, but only jugglers will propose to create it by legerdemain tricks with paper."-Thomas Jefferson. "Paper emissions by the government are of a nature so liable to abuse, I may say so certain to be abused, that the wisdom of the government will be shown by never trusting it elf wth so seducing and dangerous a power."

ALEXANDER HAMILTON. It (paper money) tends to aggravate the inequality of fortunes; to make the rich richer and the poor poorer, to multiply nabobs and paupers, and to deepen and widen the gulf

as H. Benton.

Arredeemable paper money "converts the business of society into a mere lottery; and when the collapse comes, as come it must, it casts laborers out of employment, crush es manufacturers and merchants and ruins thousands of honest, industrious JAMES BUCHANAN. "A return to specie payments at the earliest pessible period compatible with due re-gard to all interests concerned, should ever be kept in view. Fluctuations in the value of carrency are always injurious, and to reduce these fluctuations to the lowest pos pose in wise legislation. Convertibility prompt and certain convertibility into coin is acknowledged to be the best and surest safeguard against them.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

"The loss which America has sustained, since the peace, from the pestilential effects of irredeemable paper money, on the necessary confidence between men, on the necessary confidence in the public councils, on the industry and morals of the people and on the character of republican government, constitute an enormous debt against the States chargeable with this unadvised measure, which must remain unsatisfied, or rather it is an accumulation of guilt which can be expiated no otherwise than by a voluntary sacrifice on the alar of justice of the power which has been the in-Strament of it -James Madison. a very important source of strength much greater disbursements to repel it ; avoiding likewise the accumulation of debt, not only by shuttning occasions of expense, but by vigoro as exertions in time of peace to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear. GEORGE WASHINGTON. "The very man of all others who has the deepest interest in a sound currency, and tions for a location in a warm climate, or who suffers most by mis chievous legislation in | does he long for other worlds than ours?

money matters, is the man who earns his daily bread by his daily toil. A depreciated currency, sudden changes of prices, paper money falling between morning and noon, and falling still lower between noon and night, these things constitute the very harvest time of speculators, and of the whole race of those who are at once idle and crafty. * * * A disordered currency is one of the greatest political evils. It undermines the virtues necessary for the support of the social system, and encourages propensities destructive to its happiness. It wars against industry, frugality and economy, and it fosters the evil spirits of extravagance and speculation. Of all the contrivances for cheating the laboring classes of mankind, none has been more effectual than that which deludes them with paper money. This is the most effectual of inventions to fertilize the rich man's fields by the sweat of the poor man's brow. Ordinary tyranny, oppression, excessive taxation, these bear lightly up-

mitted by depreciated paper."-Daniel

Webster. The South Carolina Trouble He who should have predicted ten years ago that a conflict of authority would arise between the General Government and one of the States lately in rebellion, would have been jeered at as a visionary alarmist. The political dogma of "State Rights" was disposed of by the result of the war, for a generation at least, we heartily believed, and for all time we hoped. No man was absurd enough to predict that any Southern State would dare for a long time to come, to defy the Federal authority or to offensively proclaim the doctrine that logically led to

It seems that we were all mistaken. Our clemency, unexampled in the history of the world, has been abused. The extraordinary moderation that we showed to the vanquished has been badly received. Our mercifulness has been taken advantage of, and the strength we gave to those we conquered has been used to our hurt. South Carolina, the latest State to be restored to the control of the old slave-holding class is the first to meet with open defiance the just and lawful claims of the General Government. It must be evident to all that, despite the new gospel of peace which the sentimentalists are so industriously preaching, the old conflict is to be renewed and yet to be fought out-not necessarily in blood, but rather, it is to be hoped, by peaceful means in legislative halls. There must of necessity be angry contention, but it need not lead to a resort to the final arbitrament of arms-will not indeed, if the loyal ment of arms—will not indeed, if the loyal sentiment of the country promptly and emphatically asserts itself.

The facts in the case are few and simple. United States officers have been arrested and are threatened with punishment for the discharge of their duty. Four revenue officers are fired upon as they are about to enter the house of a notorious illicit distiller. Their lives thus threatened they fire in return and kill the would-be assassin. Then they promptly surrender themselves to the civil authorities, and are indicted for murder by the State courts. An application to transfer their cases to the United States Circuit Court, where these cases legally and equitably belong, is denied by a State judge. The State officials announce their determination at every hazard to resist the authority of the United States, and to disregard the rights of the Federal Courts. As in the old times, the authority of a State is opposed to the authority of the United States and the principle of the fact of the fact is rikingly in contrast with the dust with the dust they are accustomed to dress up and disseminate through the despatches of the associated to they are accustomed to dress up and disseminate through the despatches of the associated of the associated of the appointments that have been made thus far are fired upon as they are about to enter the house of a notorious illicit distiller. The interference with Federal officers in discharge of their duty might hapren in any part of the Union, though it would not be likely to occur in the more civilized and law-abiding portions; but nowhere except in the lately rebellious States would the offenders be sympathized with by the community and shielded by a State Government from just punishment for their crimes. That is the alarming feature of the situation. Encouraged by a clemency which they mistake for indifference or timidity the Southern leaders are reasserting their old claims of State Rights. Unfortunately they and their Northern allies, the men who sympathized with them when they attempted to destroy the Union, have possession of the popular branch of the National legislature. This lends color to their pretension that the old heresy which we fought with "blood and iron" is accepted by the people. To show them that they have mistaken the temper of the country, to demonstrate that the loyal sentiment is opposed to their arrogant and impudent assumptions, to wrest the National House from their control should be the en_ deavor of every patriotic citizen. In order to achieve this end minor differences of opinion must be disregarded. The great organization which once saved the Union and asserted national supremacy should be prepared to do battle for these objects again. Loyal men must forget their grievances, real or fancied, and unite in restoring the Government of our country to the only party in whose hands it is safe. THE death of Judge Shepley calls to mind the part he took as a delegate at large from Maine in the National Democratic convention of 1860. In that convention the South willingly threw away the only chance for success the Democratic party had, and took ts first step toward secession. During that ong wrangle of sixteen days at Charleston and Baltimore the Southern leaders alienated by their folly and arrogance, many of their strongest and most conscientious supporters in the North. Among these was Judge Shepley. At Charleston on fifty-seven balwhich separated Dives from Lazarus .- Thomlots he had voted for James Guthrie of Kentucky, but he, with many others, was provoked to defiance by the hostile attitude of the South at Baltimore, and there the unaninous vote of the Maine delegation was cast for Douglas. Judge Shepley made the response for his State after the nomination, and closed his ringing speech with the following quotation from the old Scotch ballad of Bonnie Dundee, a quotation which may be said to have given the key-note of Northern sentiment in that memorable campaign: "There are hills beyond Pentland, There are friths beyond Forth; If there are lords in the Southland, There are chiefs in the North."

THE New Orleans Democrat puts the pleas ing conundrum whether posterity will confirm the verdict of the late war, or decide that "the head of the Confederacy who led his countrymen through one of the most heroic struggles in the annals of mankind, in defense of the great principles which he believed to be right, and which the American people are now returning to, was the true patriot and that the real traitors to the Constitution and enemies of the Republic were Grant and the demagogues and conspirators who swarmed in Congress on the fall of the Confederacy." Whatever posterity may do this generation should have its answer ready and give it in at the polls this fall. Let the people refuse to send rebels or rebel sympathizers to Congress. The meaning of that re-

The New York Custom House-Civil Service Reform in Practice-The Seceders of 1571.

NEW YORK, July 20, 1878.

There are two especially noticeable points about the recent revolution in the New York Custom House. The one is the absolute repu. diation of the principles of civil service reform, the other the evident purpose of undertaking to resuscitate the long buried corpse of Liberal Republicanism. The essential feature of civil service reform as propounded by Mr. Curtis is the throwing open of the leading federal offices to competition among the subordinates.

The places of collector, surveyor and naval officer are distinctly named in his code of regulations as coming within this rule. Promotions are to be made from among the deputies upon such evidences of fitness as may be elicited by a competitive examination. Not the slightest attention has been paid to this article of the creed in the selection of either of the three persons just appointed ad interim. Two of them, to be sure, were transferred from one branch of service to another, but there was not even the show of endeavoring to ascertain whether they were the superiors or for that matter the equals of those who were entitled under the civil service theory to enter the lists as rivals for the coveted promotion. In the case of the surveyorship, a new and untried man was taken, and the claims of the dozen candidates whom Mr. Curtis's doctrine holds to be exclusively eligible were contemptuously disregarded We have a remarkable example of the difference between precept and practice in this custom house business. The President has talked and written enough in praise of civil service re-their choice. Now let us look at the facts: Gen. Atthur hasn't made an appointment for the last four years, without first requiring of the applicant a certificate from the Examining Board that he was fit to perform the duties of gle instance, they have practised a concealment ises to improve the civil service is an offense in morals, the effort to breathe the breath of life into the dry bones of the faction that deserted the Republican party in 1871 is a blunder in politics. The originators of the disreputable crussde against Grant were few in numbers, insignificant in influence and inordinately selfish of purpose. The movement began in this State, and was inspired solely by dissatisfaction at the distribution of federal patonage. It could have been thwarted at any time by toss ing to the malcontents a few crambs of executive favor. Gen. Grant, with characteristic independence sternly refused to resort to any such methods of conciliation. Euraged at his firmness the leaders organized a conspiracy, sent contesting delegates to the State convention, and tried as hard as they could to accomplish the disintegration of the party. The 'Stalwart' Republicans of New York encountered them at Syracuse, turned them out of doors and set them adrift to form new alliances. The result vindicated the wisdom as well as the justice of this policy. The Republican State ticket was elected for the first time in five years, and the Legislature carried handsomely. The ejected cabal patched up a coalition with the Democrats and went about wildly shricking in hideous chorns the refrain "Any-thing-to-beat Grant!" A few recruits from other states joined them. The law of gravitation carried to their camp a number of other decayed politicians who had a real or fancied grievance. The Democratic party, enfeebled by the burden of its bad record and admonished by innumerable defeats in the past, of the futility of trying to succeed promised it a new lease of life. It was very much in the condition of the drunken man who encountered a boon companion that had staggered into the gutter and was appealing to him for help. "I can't lift you up," hiccoughed the reeling inebriate conscious of the extent to which his excesses nad disabled him, "but I will lie down along side of you!" This was the bond of fellowship which united them, and they lay in that embrace all the while the grand procession of Republicans was making its triamphal march. They had just enough strength of lung to articulate a string of incoherent maledictions all the while the imposing cavalcade was moving. Among the seceders from Republicanism who cast themselves into this defamatory junto there has scarcely been a survival. The newly appointed Collector was one of the earliest to manifest penitence for his escapade, and being personally what is popularly known as a "clever fellow," he was after three or four years probation accorded a place on the State ticket. and shared the defeat of his colleagues. When Gen. Sharpe's commission as surveyor expired Gen. Merritt was assigned to the position by President Haves. The Republicans are magnanimous, and no objections of any account were made to this appointment. But when it comes to bestowing upon him the highest office in the State it is altogether a different affair, and cannot fail to intensify the dissatisfaction which is felt among Republicans who have never wavered in their fealty to the cause, at the conduct of the administration. It is bad enough to have trumped up excuses for suspending Gen. Arthur in defiance of the pledges of the inaugural, the will of the Senate and the voice of the people. But to have set over him a man who was once a deserter from the ranks. whose residence is far in the interior and whose political associations are likely to subject him to the importunity of the most ravenous set of office beggars the world has ever known looks like a deliberate attempt to imperil the success of the party in the State of all others that it is most important the Republicans should carry this fall in order to have suitable vantage ground for the next Presidential campaign It is a question, however, whether the party will not be stronger with the pronounced opposition than with the passive support of the administration. far as he personally is concerned his fortunes would be greatly promoted by release from the cares of public life, but the Republican party and the country at large can ill afford to spare him. The stake we have in the next election is so momentous that it will kindle as much enthusiasm as any that was ever held in New York not even excepting the memorable campaign in which the voters of the Republic proved that there isn't in this land "anything to beat Grant." YARMOUTH.

The Good Templars. In the English high court of justice an important decision has been recently given growing ont of the negro question in this country. It was in the case of Lees vs. Malins and the Grand Lodge of England, tried before Lord Chief Justice Coleridge and Mr. Justice Lopes. The suit grew out of the exclusion of the negroes of the Southern States of America from the order of Good Templars by the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of North America at the Louisville session in 1876, which split the Order throughout the world. Hickman, as their chief, visited England; where the Good Templars refused to acknowledge his authority. This caused a split in the grand lodge of England, about one thousand members seceding. They were organized and scknowledged as the grand lodge, over which Dr. F. R. Lees, the well-known temperance lecturer, was installed grand worthy chief. Dr. Lees at once demanded of Mr. Joseph Malins, the bead of the old body, the charter and other property of the order; the demand was refused, whereupon the suit was instituted two years ago. Since then considerable ill feeling has existed between the sections, and great interest was manifested by the membership because the suit was in reality to determine which of the contending parties had the right to the name of the order. It was also understood that the losing party would become extinct after the decision.

and written enough in praise of civil service reform to convey the impression that he was thoroughly enamored of it. Who could have imagined after reading his letter of acceptance, his inaugural, or any of his subsequent utterances that there was anything quite so near his heart as the complete purification of official life of every speck of the dross of worldliness or selfishness?

On the other hand Gen. Arthur has been commonly held to be somewhat lax in respect of such matters—not so much so as to subject him to moral discipline, perhaps—indeed, that was tried often and eagerly without success—but still he was thought to be rather too much of a politician to be up to the exalted mark which the authorities at Washington had set up for the guidance of all the functionaries of their choice. Now let us look at the facts:

Gen Ather heavit medical supportance, his understood that the locing party would become extinct after the decision.

Newark, O., July 22.—There has been an immense attendance at the soldiers and sailors reunion today. A large number of extra trains filled with people arrived during the forenoon. President Hayes and party, Gen. Sherman and Gov. Bishop were among the distinguished guests present.

At least 15,000 people were gathered about the depot to witness the arrival of the Presidential party. A procession was formed about 12 o'clock and a line of march was taken up for the old Fort near Newark, the scene of the reunion. There were 26 companies or portions of companies of the Ohio National Guards and Veterans and brass bands. The President, Gen. Sherman and other distinguished visitors went with the procession in carriages and were repeatedly cheered on the line of march. The welcoming at the grounds was made by Geo. Willard Warner. Gen. [SECOND DESPATCH.]

The aunouncement this afternoon of the resignation of Jao. G. Tappan as Treasurer of the Boston Belting Co., a position which he has held since the organization of the corporation 30 years ago, and the statement that he used the credit of the company in the interest of private speculation, was a surprise in financial circles, where Tappan was regarded as a man of most exemplary character and unimpeachable integrity. The corporation had a paid up capital of $500,000 and its reputation under Mr. Tappan's management had become such that its paper was readily discounted and even sought as among the safest paper offered for discount. Its capital stock was 5000 shares,$100 each, and early in the year it sold for $175 per share, while the last auction sale was $125 per share.

share, while the last auction sale was $125 per share.

Upon the resignation of Tappan Mr. E. Converse, Treasurer of the Boston Rabber Shoe Co., was chosen successor, and found the affairs in such condition that he called a meeting of the stockholders and creditors today, at which it was stated that Mr. Tappan had issued notes to the amount of $600,000, and is also held for $28,000 on outside indorsement as Treasurer, the proceeds of which have not been received by the company. The total liabilities of the company are $839,000, their nominal assets $980,000; notes payable as above stated $628,000. It also appeared that Mr. Tappan to make good the losses to the company, the responsibility for which rests with him, had handed over to the creditors his entire property, of the nominal value of $1,100,000.

In consequence of the condition of affairs the company had suspended payment, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. Jas. P. Melledge, Wm. P. Hunt, President of the Atias National Bank, and Geo A. Alden, has been appointed to make a thorough investigation of the affairs of the corporation and the trregularities of the late treasurer.

speculations had induced him to use his financial position as treasurer of the company to extricate himself from pecuniary embarrassment is one of our citizens whose long business career had made him widely known and generally respected. He is a native of Besten, son of John Tappan, and a descendant of one of the most reputable and widely known of Boston families. He is now over 70 years of age. He entered Harvard College and then eogaged in business, inheriting from his father's large property which he increased. He was quite a large speculator in real estate not only in this city, Chelsea and other places in the immediate visinity, but in Colorado and in Texas. Though the nominal value of the property turned over by him to his creditors is $1,100,000, there is considerable question as to its real value. He was interested in the Merriam Packing Company of Texas and had raised money upon its paper with his own indorsement, and it is stated that $200,090 of this property is in that state. Quite au amount of it also is represented to be in Colorado. It also includes his family residence, No. 12 Ashburn Place and other real estate in this city and Chelsea, quite a large amount of mortgages and various other property. The paper of the Boston Belting Company the proceeds of which have been misappropriated is held by 21 Boston banks and is pretty well distributed among them, no one bank holding an extraordinarily large proportion.

It is stated in mercantile circles that Mr. Tappan has of late raised large amounts by endorsing either his own name or that of the Boston Belting Co. upon paper of the following firms: J. A. Hatch & Co., dry goods commission merchants at 23 Kingston street; John E. Tappan & Co., successors to Kilvert & Tappan, dealers in machinery and yarns; at 25 Kingston street, and Meriam Packing Co., at Texas firm engaged in packing beef, in which it is said Mr. Tappan is largely interested. To what extent these firms are involved it is impossible say at present, but it is feared they will all suffer say at present, but it is feared they will all suffer severely.

The Boston Belting Co. will meet its liabilities and it is hoped the property turned over by Mr. Tappan will be sufficient to protect the stockholders from loss. Mr. Tappan is stopping at a summer boarding house at North Andover and positively refused to be interviewed or make any statement tonight.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 22.—John G. Tappan, who is stopping at the summer boarding bouse of Mrs. Houston at North Andover, refused to be interviewed this evening and declined to make any statement. Between 6 30 and 8 o'clock this evening he was waited on by no less than six reporters.

New York, July 21.—The Sun ssys of the Boston defalcation: Mr. Tappan is chief of the branch of McKillop, Sprague & Co.'s commercial agency, and long identified with the company. How far his defalcation may involve the Co. is not known, although it is hinted in business circles that he has been one of its heaviest backers, and that the company has been losing steady for some time. There are indications, however, that the Boston Belting Co. and the McKillop Sprague Co. were closely identified in interest, but whether Tappan had it in his power to divert any of the funds of the latter into the treasury of the former to cover up his deficiencies cannot yet be ascertained. Probably if he made such a conversion it was from the money of the Boston branch.

Lester W. Clark, treasurer and manager of the McKillop & Sprague Company went to Boston yesterday afternoon to effect a settlement of the affairs. Mr. Sprague, one of the active members of the company, lies dengerously ill at a watering place in Rhode Island. Mr. John Trumbull, manager of the main office, was found at his home last evening. He said after hearing of the Boston defalcation, "I do not see how Mr. Tappan one of the main office, was found at his home last evening. No, sir.

Another gentleman said Tappan was involved in a rainous speculation, and that his downfall was due to it.

New Orleans, July 22

Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your answer to my communication of June last requesting permission on behalf of Hon. John Sherman to have subpoenced before your sub-committee certain witnesses for the purpose of testifying on the subject of acts of violence and other acts producing intimidation of voters in this state at the election on the 7th of November, 1876. In your answer you inform me that Mr. Sherman's request has been considered by the subcommittee, and that you are directed to inform me that your subcommittee are ready to furnish that your subcommittee are ready to furnish subpoenas for all witnesses named by Mr. Sherman and any others he or his counsel may desire to have called to testify.

With reference to the matter of intimidation
I deem it proper to state that in consequence of the delay of the committee at Washington to pass on this request of Mr. Sherman, and also the delay of the sub-committee to pass on this from St. Thom having been examined, that it became neces-sary for Mr. Sherman's counsel to adopt a line of investigation omitting that or intimidation, of which Mr. Sherman's principal counsel at Washington has been advised, so that at present I do not wish to depart from that line until I shall have time to communicate with his leading counsel at Washington, which I have already done.

I am. sir,

LONDON, July 22 -The single scull race for ne Wingfield sculls came off today on the Thames. The course was from Putney to Mortlake and there were but two competitors—Playford, the present holder of the sculls, and A. Pome of the Moulsey rowing club. Playford was never headed, and although at one time the race was very close it was won easily at the fluish by Playford. Time 24 minutes, 13 seconds.

The St. John Boat Race. St. John, July 22.—The final deposit of $500 a side in the Haulou-Ross race was made Saturday with Mayor Earl, stake-holder. There remains only to select judges and put down buoys, which will be done Tuesday. Both oarsmen are confident. They were out for practice just before dusk Saturday and rowed an hour. Hanlon made a south showing words. In second just before dusk Saturday and rowed an hour. Hanlon made a spurt showing wonderful speed. Ross has improved much in style since his appearance in Toronto Bay, but has not the ease and grace of Hanlon. Both men are in fine condition. Hanlon has brought himself down to 150½ pounds, while Ross, who weighed 200 pounds last winter, now weighs 168. Hanlon will probably row the Elliot shelt which defeated Morris and which was brought to him the other day from Toronto. Ross considers his new shell too small for him, but it is the best he has and he will use it. his new shell too small for him, but it is the best he has and he will use it.

Presidio, via San Francisco, July 20th.—To Gen. Sherman, Washington.—Whatever telegrams condeased say, on the 16th Sanford's cavalry and the Nez Perces scouts are moving from Lagrande while the main column is advancing from the north. This has caused a panic among the Iodiaos, and their trail from here is strewed for six miles with large quantities of provision and valuable supplies. They had not time to gather and run off their many scattered ponies. At my r. quest 97 Umatillas came to help whip the Bannocks and Soakes. They brought in the head of Chief Egan for identification, and ten scalps. Seven teamsters were killed on Wolf Creek road in the last five days. The Umatilla allies report the hostile Indians breaking up into small parties, and getting off as fast as possible, evidently trying to get into the Weizer country. I will so dispose of my troops as to intercept any organized bands moving with large herds towards the Weizer. I have guards at Caheze, Meacham's, and Pelican's, and the escort mail coaches from Lagrande to Umatilla agency until the road is safer. I think indications are very favorable.

Sarest Tranquilizer of the Nerves. The surest tranquilizer of the nerves is a medicine which remedies the supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need then, is a tonic, not a sedative. The later is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being jarred or disturbed to bear, without being jarred or disturbed to the disturbed to endowing the modia of sight, nearing and reflection, Nav, it does more than this,—it enables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its a sistance. Such at least is the irresistable conclusions to be drawn from the testimony of business and professional meo, litterateurs, clergymen and others, who have fested the fortiffing and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervine. producing quietude of the brain. Peru is the county seat of Miami County, Indiana. It was laid out in 1834, incorporated by act of the legislature in 1847, and organized as a city under the general law of the state in 1867. Since its incorporated by reducing its bonds has always been promptly met. The city has been stendily reducing its debt for years past, and has anticipated the payment of about one-fourth of its tental indebtedness, a very favorable showing when compared with the too prevalent tendency of cities lately to increase rather than reduce their indebtedness. Harpswell House. Opened June 18, 1878.

A. J. MERRIMAN, PROPRIETOR.

THIS HOTEL, which has just been completed on Harpswell Neck, near the site of the old Mansion House, and just north of the steamboat landing, stands on a sightly location, and contains 45 well-furnished rooms. Its verandas overlook the broad Atlantic on the one side while from the other can be seen the most beautiful sheet of water in the world, viz., Casco Bay, with its 365 islands. From any of its windows a view can be obtained, that for beauty is unsurpassed on the American coast, Harpswell is situated 15 miles from Portland, with steamboat connections with that and other points. Also connected by daily mail stages with Brunswick. Its excellent facilities for boating, bathing and fishing together with its romantic drives and walks all combine to make it as a summer resort the most delightful to be found on the coast of Maine. Connected with the House is a lower section.

CUMBERLAND CASES.

No. 180—Charles J. Marty, by his next friend, vs. The Second Parish, in the town of Portland.

On motion and exceptions. Case against the defendants for personal injury to the plaintiff by the falling of a ladder from the roof of their meeting-house, June 19, 1875.

Defense—You have sued the wrong party. Winship was the contracter and employed the men who carelessly allowed the ladder to fall white slating on the roof. Perhaps you thought by bringing the action against the corporation instead of the individual you could more easily win a verdict and more surely collect on execution. The verdict was for the plaintiff, and the defendants moved to set it aside and filed exceptions.

No. 188—Kobert Davidson vs. City of Portland.

Exceptions. Case for injury from defective highway, January 7, 1877. The defect alleged was show and ice on which he fell and broke his ankle. The defense was that defendant was unlawfully traveling on the Lord's day. He testified that he started out for recreation, and while on his walk called at two places for ale and cigars and was afterwards returning home, when he fell and received the hurt.

Judge Symonde instructed the jury in substance, that if he started out for a lawful purpose and stepped aside for an unlawful purpose, the mere fact that he stepped aside unlawfully would not preclude a recovery. The verdict was for the plaintiff and the defendants filed exceptions.

for the memory of Judge Shepley. It was voted that the Association attend the funeral of Judge Shepley in a body, and for that purpose meet at the house of Nathan Webb on the day of the funeral

The funeral services will be held at St. Luke's cathedral at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. At the opening of the United States Circuit Court in Boston yesterday morning, Judge Sewell presiding, the Hop. Geo. P, Sanger, United States District Attorney, made the formal announcement of the death of Judge George F. Shepley, and the court took a recess until twelve o'clock, and when the court came in at that time the juries were excused and the Circuit Court adjourned until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The District Court will take a recess until the same date. OLD ORCHARD CAMP GROUND.-Dr. Charles Cullis is already on the ground arranging for the Faith Convention, which is to commence on these grounds next Thursday morning at 101 o'clock. Religious services were held last. Sabbath in the Ocean House by Rev. Prof. Fuller, Principal of St. Johnsbury Academy, Vt., in the afternoon, and by Dr. Cullis in the evening. The services were exceedingly interesting and the large hall of the Ocean House was filled to overflowing at the evening service. The Doctor delivered one of his most nctuous sermons and the spirit of power was on the whole assembly. The following ministers are to assist Dr. Cullis in his ten days' meeting on the camp ground: Rev. Samuel Fallows, D. D., Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church; Rev. A. Lowrey, D. D., of New York; Rev. Daniel Steele. D. D., Rev A B. Earl, D. D, Rev. J. Miller, Rev. Marcas Ames, Rev. Isaac Lee, and Amanda Smith, the colored singer, a woman of marvelous faith and power in song. The friends of Mr. Hall Burnham of Bridgon are very much alarmed at his recent disappearance. Mr. Burnham is manager of J. Winslow Jones' packing establishment at Bridgton. Last Thursday he came to Portland and went to Riverton to settle up accounts with Mr. Jones. After transacting his business he left in the afternoon to take the train for home. It has been ascertained that he did not take the train and as he has not acrived home there is much anxiety to learn his whereabouts. He was a smart business man and his accounts are all straight showing he had no object to absent li self The fact that he had $100 on his person and often had much more after settling up with Mr. Jones leads many to fear that he has been foully dealt with EXCURSION.-It is rare that so good an op portunity for enjoying a delightful sail and charming ocean scenery is presented as the one on the steamer John Brooks advertised for tomorrow. Basides passing among the islands of Casco Bay and through Mark Island passage, the steamer will steer close to Seguin Island and enter the Kennebec River and pass Phippsburg, Fort Popham, &c , and extend the sail as far as the city of Bath Those who have been on either of the excursions this seaso , on the steamers of the Portlan I Steam Packet Co. can testify to the excellent manner in which they have been carried out. In order to avoid the crowl at the wharf the Company have placed tickets on sale at the office of Wm. Allen, Jr., 28 Exchange street.

EXCITEMENT AMONG INVENTERS. - The Boston Herald says probably few events have occasioned greater interest for a long time among the owners of patents than the death of Judge Shepley, who had heard cases in great numbers relating to infringements of patents, and involving large amounts of money, many of which cases are left undecided, and some of which he had under advisement for mouths and even years. All these cases will have to be reargue! before another judge, and the excitement among the legal frateroity and their clients may be imagined, but capuot be des

Letter from Canton MR. EDITOR:-While a great many of you readers have read with interest your notice on the many summer resorts in the vicinity of Portland, few probably know what a beautiful place has been brought within a short ride of Portland by the opening of the Rumford Falls and Buckfield railroad. This village is the present terminus of this road, and is situated at the head of Whitney Pond, a beautiful sheet of water with high hills rising from its shores, and pickerel, bass and perch are plentiful in the pond, and trout in the neighboring streams. The drives and scenery are unsurpassed by any of this state, and It is worth a visit here to see the large and celebrated stock farm of Mr. Ward, a wealthy gentleman of New York. This farm is a short distance from the village and contains about 1500 acres. Here can be seen a herd of nearly 100 choice, thoroughbred Jersey At a meeting of the Cumberland Bar Assoherd of nearly 100 choice, thoroughbrad! Jersey and Ayrshire cows.

The R. F. & B, R. R. is equipped with new and elegant rolling stock, and at the village is to be found a first-class country hotel, and there is no reason why Canton should not be the favorite country resort of Portland and Boston people who spend weeks in the interior of our state.

HORSE AND CARRIAGE MART,

Tools for Young People. Buy tools for your boys, and if you have no boys buy tools for your girls. It will not harm any girl to learn to drive a nail or saw a board any girl to learn to drive a nail or sawa board and do it well, and if she knows how, she will, without any doubt, many times find it convenient, no matter what may be her fortune in life. For every one it will be a great advantage to cultivate mechanical skill; no one has too much of it. Nothing will be handier, or be acceptable on more occasions, than to know how to we a for company to be. has too much of it. Nothing will be handier, or be acceptable on more occasions, than to know how to use a few common tools. To begin with, the outfil need not cost over $10—but we will say $25. For this he may buy a square, a jack-plane, a smoothing plane, a hand ax a hammer, a draw-shaye, some dividers, a bit-stock and half a dozen bits, a half dezen chisels, a bench screw, a small bench he can make; a few files, a whetstone, a hand-saw, a rip-saw, a screw-driver. Then with the rest or the $25 he can buy a little wire, an assortment of screws, a few of a kind, an assortment of nails and a small quantity of pieces of boa'd of various dimensions. The tools should be of good quality. In a little time some of these will be lost or broken, but what of it? So is money lost and thrown away. It is a profitable training for every one to learn how to use money properly. To learn they need to begin early under good instruction. Twenty-five dollars in money may be spent in a thousand ways for things which will do less good than the tools. Although this may seem to some a large amount to pay for tools, $25 would be considered a small item as an inheritance for a young man. Then buy the children some tools and they will learn to make many playthings for themselves, and be less likely to get into bad company. They will be happier, wiser, better; they will have a stronger attachment to home and a greater love for parents, and these are a priceless fortune to any young man or woman, a fortune which cannot be lost by any failure of banks or depreciation in real estate.

About a Hag.

Not the Colorado potato beetle, but an older acquaintancs. I mean the little striped cucumber bug. That he is a little villain we all know. He destroys cucumber vines without mercy. Constant vigilance is required to keep him away. If the plants are kept constantly covered with plaster he will let them alone. It is a great deal of work to do this during all the weeks which he remains with us. But this, or something of the kind, must be done or he will destroy the vines. This is not all. He is capable of other mischief. It may not be generally known that he is guilty of spoiling squash vines also. But these who ought to know, and who claim that they do know, say that this is true. For many years I have had trouble with squashes. The seeds would come up, the plants grow well until the vines were from three to ten feet long, then they would begin to wither and in a little while they would die. Year after year my squashes went in this manner. I planted some every year but always had to buy squashes in the fall. Various remedies were tried without success. I went to another field to see if different soil would not buy squashes in the fall. Various remedies were tried without success. I went to another field to see if different soil would not help the matter. But the trouble continued. It has followed me until now. Upon pulling up one of the affected vines, the center would be found tunnelled out by a little white worm. Of course no remedial measures can avail after the heart of a plant has been destroyed. If anything is to be done to save squashes from this enemy, it must be in the line of a preventive instead of a remedy. The worms which work the evil have the striped cucumber bug for a parent. If these bugs can be kept from the squashes the plants can be saved. Perhaps by using plaster freely, or by covering them with netting they can be protected. It will pay to try to save the plants and to use all legitimate means for discouraging and destroying the bug.—

The Rates of Postage.

Postal cards, one cent each, go without further charge to all parts of the United States and Canada, three cents per half-ounce.

Local, or "drop" letters, that is, for the city or town where deposited, 2 cents if delivered by carriers, and 1 cent where there is no carrier system.

Newspapers, daily, semi weekly, tri weekly and weeklies, regularly issued and sent to regular subscribers, 2 cents per pound, payable at the office of publication, newspapers and magazines published circulars, book manuscripts, proof-sheets, photographs, &c., and also seeds, cuttings, bulbs and roots, and merchandise not exceeding four pounds in the following are the postal rates with Europe: The following are the postal rates with Europe: The following are the postal rates with Europe:

THE HOUSEHOLD.

CLEANING CISTERN WATER.—Add two ounces powdered alum and two ounces borax to a twenty-barrel cistern of rainwater that is blackened or oily, and in a few hours the sediment will settle and the water be clarified and fit for washing and even for cooking Cooling off.—The hottest rooms may be quickly cooled by wetting the mosquito net-ting at the window. Wet cloths hung in the sprinkling the nettings is selt immediately.

STAINS.—If you have been picking or handling acid fruit and have stained your hands, wash them in clear water, wipe them lightly, and, while they are yet moist, strike a match and shut your hands around it so as to catch the smoke, and the stain will disappose.

KEROSENE SMOKE,—The most disagreeable thing about a New England farm-house in Summer is the kerosene smoke. The good wife, whenever she is not sewing or reading, turns the lamp down to save the oil, and the lamp immediately smokes, like a Turk, or a fire engine, and the mosquitoes come in to enjoy the perfume. Don't do this if you want your parlor to be pleasant. If economy be necessary, put the light out altogether.

CANNING FRUIT.—Many do not know that hot fruit can be put in cold glass jars without breaking them. Place an ordinary table spoon (silver plated, or pewter) in the jar, or can, before putting in the hot berries, tomatoes, or anything that is canned. Also, when putting jelly in tumblers, place a table spoon in the glass, then pour in the hot jelly. Do not be afraid, the glass will not break if sound. It saves much trouble in canning fruit. For an experiment, put a teaspoon in a tumbler, and pour boiling water in and see if it will break it.

THE CARPET BUG.—The carpet-bug, the new pest of housekeepers, is said to be fully as ravenous and twice as saucy as the potato bug, has been found in two or three dwellings in this city; and, as it breeds rapidly, it bids fair to become soon too numerous to mention. It is a small black bug, very nimble, and it will walk through a corofield. Ordinary insect powders and preventives make it smile. Carpets laid over floors which have cracks in them are found cut through in stripes and utterly ruined. Heavy cotton-lined paper placed under the carpet has been found quite efficacious in preventing its ravages in other cities.—
