CRIE IS NAMED

Will Represent Maine On Atlantic Fisheries Commission.

Horatio D. Crie of Rockland, director of the Sea and Shore Fisheries Commission of Maine, has been selected by Gov. Brewster to represent Maine on the Atlantic Fisheries Commission which is being organized by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, for the conservation of the fisheries of the eastern coast.

The Governor wrote Secretary
Hoover, assuring him that the State of Maine is in hearty sympathy with his endeavor to secure united action of the states in this matter, and giving him the name of Director Crie to represent this State.

Secretary Hoover in a letter according to the appointment of Maine's member of the new commission, said that a conference of Atlantic coast fish commissioners was held in Washington on May 22. At that time there was an exhaustive discussion of the great depletion which is in progress in progress in certain species of fish, notably shad, lobsters, mackerel and salmon, and it was decided by the conference that the problem cannot be solved except by joint action
among the States.

Secretary Hoover expressed the belief that an extension of Federal authority in the matter would not be desirable and that interstate action would be best.

The commission will be made up of one member from the sea fisheries commission of each coast state and will study the methods to be adopted by uniform or joint action between the states for the preservation and conservation of the sea food fish.

KNOX COUNTY NATURALIST

Variety Has Certainly Spiced the Life of Norman W. Lermond—Has Been a Railroad Man, Colonist, Politician and Editor, But Above All He Is a Lover of the Great Outdoors.

When Norman W. Lermond of Warren was two years old his parents found him one day sitting on the douratey with a green snake firmly held in his two chubby hands and his tiny teeth embedded in the reptile's body. "It was fore-ordained," he says, in speaking of the incident, "that I should become a naturalist."

The 62 years that have passed over his head since that incident have found his footsteps in remote parts of the country, and he has been a picturesque figure in a unique role. He began his career as a railroad man in Boston, he led a colonization movement in the State of Washington, and he finally came back to till the home acres and dedicate his life to the cause of science.

He has been a political nomad—a follower of creeds not found in the old party alignments. As a member of the People's Party he figured on the official ballot as a candidate for governor and congressman. As a follower of Socialism he converted his 60-acre grove into a temple where noted divines and other gifted speakers came to spread the gospel of a third party.

But in whatever walk of life he has chosen to follow he has never abandoned nature studies. He knows practically every wild flower within a radius of 20 miles of Boston, he has studied flora and fauna on the Pacific Coast and in Arkansas and Tennessee, he has dredged for rare shells on the west coast of Florida.

Mr. Lermond received a letter from the famous leader of White Ribbon-ers, written only 10 days before she died.

Moved Ten-Ten Press

The colonists engaged in a variety of vocations, some in lumbering, some in manufacturing barrels, and some making bread for sale to the lumbermen. A fishing vessel was bought, and the colonists caught great quantities of herring which were barreled and sold in the camps and cities. Mr. Lermond bought from a daily newspaper in Tacoma a 10-ton press which was moved laboriously to the colony's headquarters.

noted personages, and among them Mr. Lermond met Gen. Burnside of Civil War fame and Julius Ward, preacher, author and journalist.

Mr. Lermond, upon leaving his possition in the bookstore spent a year in New York soliciting advertising for a trade journal called the Boston Telegram, which proved an ill starred venture because of the heavy overhead. Next he went to the Atlantic avenue office of the New York & New England Railroad where he served two years as accountant. He was then transferred to Lowell depot, where for two more years he kept a set of Grand Trunk books for the Railway Clearing House Association. Alfred Hunnewell, superintendent of the New York & New England Railroad, offered him a position on his staff, but he was so much interested with club work, lectures and what not that he concluded to stay in Boston, a decision which was made easier by the fact that he was granted an increase of salary. When he did make a change it was to go into the auditor's office of the New York & New England, a position which proved so easy that he had plenty of time to pay attention to a bee which had been buzzing in his bonnet—a bee which told him that he wanted to be a scientific farmer.

Back To The Farm

So in 1885 he came back to the old homestead, where, except for a brief interval he farmed until 1920. That interval carried with it a touch of romance.

Imbued with the teachings contained in Edward Bellamy's second book "Equality," Mr. Lermond had become affiliated with a National society known as the Brotherhood of the Co-operative Commonwealth. He was eventually made general secretary of that organization, and placed in charge of a colony of 300 persons who were to locate on Puget Sound, Washington. Mr. Lermond in Edison. From it was published a Socialist newspaper called Equality. Eventually the colony became 500 strong. Some of its members remained permanently in the West. Mr. Lermond came back to his farm after an absence of five months.

"Politically I was always independent," Mr. Lermond told The Courier-Gazette reporter. "I cast my first vote for John P. St. John, Prohibitionist candidate for President. In 1891 I read Edward Bellamy's 'Looking Backward' and it converted me as it did thousands of others to the People's Party. In 1898 I was the nominee of that party for Representative to Congress from the Second Maine District, and it is something of a coincidence that my cousin, Ernest Lermond of Thomaston was the candidate of National Democratic party for governor on the same ticket. I used to jolly him considerably because I received the larger vote of the two. Two years later I had passed automatically into the Socialist party and became its candidate for its governor."

"In 1903 I opened my grove in Warren under the name of Utopia Park, and for three seasons we held Socialist meetings there, with speakers of national reputation, most of them ministers or college professors. I then closed the park to the public, retired definitely from politics and decided to devote the rest of my time to nature and science."

Utopia Park Becomes Arboretum

In this manner Utopia Park became known as the Knox Arboretum—a wild flower and bird sanctuary offered as a free gift to the Knox Academy of Arts and Sciences with the one condition that an endowment fund of $10,000 be provided or that first sent an agent to the West coast, entrusting him with $5000 to be used in the purchase of the necessary tract of land. The agent bought from U. S. Senator Aldrich 600 acres from which the timber had been stripped. Much of it was tillage land with black rich loam, which promised well for agricultural operations.

The colony was assembled from all over the United States, brought together by articles which had appeared from Mr. Lermond's pen in a national socialist publication. Fourteen were from this section of Maine.

"One man gave up his government position to become stenographer for the colony. Several of the members were highly educated. Miss Helen Mason, who served as personal stenographer for Mr. Lermond had been assistant editor on a national W. C. T. U. publication, and was associated with the late Frances E. Willard.

Excelsed in Botany

The boy's early education was also obtained in Dudley Grammar School, Roxbury, and English High School, Boston. Leverett M. Chase was principal of the Grammar School, and not only kept up a correspondence with Mr. Lermond, but has visited him at his Warren home. While in English High School the boy specialized in nature studies and was the only pupil who had 100 percent in a Botany examination.

The old Bartlett second-hand bookstore on Cornhill was the scene of the next chapter in Mr. Lermond's life. It was the headquarters for many

RECEIVERSHIP IS ASKED

For Camden Anchor-Rockland Machine Co.—President
Bird Explains In Detail.

John Bird, president and general manager of the Camden Anchor-Rockland Machine Co., has brought a bill in equity against that corporation asking that an injunction, both temporary and permanent be granted and that one or more receivers be appointed to wind up its affairs.

In their answer to the bill the directors concur in President Bird's opinion that this would be the wisest course to pursue. A preliminary hearing has been held before Associate Justice Morrill, but no definite action has yet been taken. J. M. Dwinall is counsel for the corporation.

President Bird who owns 197 shares of common stock in the company makes the following declaration:

"The defendant corporation commenced business in 1901 as a consolidation of the Camden Anchor-Works of Camden, Me., and the Rockland Machine Co. of Rockland, Me., at which time its business principally consisted of the manufacture and repair of anchors at its Camden plant and at its Rockland plant the manufacture of marine engines; carrying on the general business of a machine shop and operating a foundry.

"Its method of manufacturing anchors became obsolete, this portion of the business was abandoned, and in lieu thereof a boat building business was carried on; later both plants were consolidated at Camden, where the business is now carried on. From time to time, due to the ups and downs of the engine, boat building, general machine shop, foundry and merchandise business, the defendant has concentrated on one or more of these lines, no one line having volume enough or being sufficiently stable to use the entire capacity of the plant.

"In the present state of the arts of manufacturing engines and accessories, and building boats a considerable working capital is necessary, together with good credit in order to successfully carry on, but the defendant has insufficient working capital and its credit is impaired.

"The defendant cannot obtain funds as working capital, and if it should go into the open market and solicit business and obtain a sufficient amount to carry on at a profit, it would be unable to finance the completion of such contracts.

"There is at the present time a general depression in the classes of business for which the corporation is physically equipped.

"In view of the allegations in the preceding paragraphs it is essential that all of the general assets of the defendant be conserved and preserved for the interest of all concerned; and the said defendant corporation is in imminent danger of insolvency and its estate and effects are in danger of being wasted or lost."

*****

In his communication to the directors President Bird expresses the opinion that a receivership under the direction of the Supreme Court would be the best solution of the problem.

He says that no material change has been made since the annual report which was submitted Dec. 31, 1924. This showed total liabilities secured and unsecured, excluding $24,000 capital stock issued, to be $116,448.24; excluding the item "surplus" of $10,194.21, the net liabilities are $76,254.03.

To meet this liability are the physical assets of the corporation accounts receivable, notes receivable and cash. The total value of the physical assets depends very much, President Bird says, upon how and when they are converted into money. Interest has been defaulted upon the second mortgage until there is now due approximately $5000. The quarterly payment of interest on this first mortgage will be due June 27.

Since the above was put in type the Security Trust Co. has filed a petition of intervention, through its counsel Alan L. Bird. The bank holds first and second mortgages to the amount of $49,779, acting as trustee to secure the notes of the Camden Anchor-Rockland Machine Co.

It is announced that there will be a hearing before Associate Justice John A. Morrill in Auburn Friday.

MONDAY'S MEETING

Will Be of Great Interest—Community Chest Will Give Accounting.

On Monday night at 7.30 at the new High School auditorium Rockland citizens will have the opportunity of hearing the directors of the Community Chest give an accounting of their stewardship. This is the annual meeting of the Community Chest, and the public, as individual stockholders (contributors) should attend. The purpose of this meeting is to hear the annual reports of the Chest officers and of the participating organizations and to elect directors for the ensuing year.

It is this latter phase that makes a full attendance at the Monday night meeting essential. The remarkable success attained by Community Chest during its first year has been due largely to the sterling business sagacity and consistent work of the officers and directors, and it is their wish that during the coming year their efforts be augmented by a more widespread representation as incorporators, the idea being not only to increase the efficiency of the organization through greater power of those personally involved in its well being, but also to gain the advantages of wider advice and counsel.

Although the actual figures for the several participating organizations will not be known until Monday night, the fact is apparent that they have operated more economically, and at the same time effected real improvements in their machinery. The public is invited to appreciate the absence of the time taking and extremely bothersome drives for funds which in other years have succeeded each other in rapid succession to the financial distress of the business man and householder, especially those conveniently located on Main street. The endless bother, duplication of effort and expense and wasted effort has been eliminated by Community Chest which now absorbs the functions of these drives and finances the beneficiaries in a business-like manner.

These are merely some of the reasons why every man and woman should be at the High School Monday night at 7.30.

Donations to the Knox Arboretum budget now amount to $700.45. The latest contributions are: Willis Snow, Rockland, $5; a friend, Thomaston, $100; Luke Crowster, Rockland, $1; Curtis Starrett, Warren, $1; Robert Cogan, Warren, $5.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these things is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

HILLS

You have not lived until you know a hill. That stands above a river. Kims are there And maples for September; and the pine. That strange tree that never sleeps at all. Head hills there are over the wide land. Whose rivers have forsaken them in winds. Whose rivers have forsaken them and gone Silently forever into the sea.

Young hills there are in new and treeless lands. Whose river ride like furles on their backs. Cloud-born in youth, raging for a day. Leaving the young hills desolate and torn.

But there are hills whose rivers tread them well, And quench their thirst beneath the summer sun! These are the hills that laugh with early buds And chant the ancient epics of the trees.

You have not lived until you love a hill That stands above a river. Oaks are there And sycamores for moonlight; and the pine. That strange tree that watches over all.—John Russell McCarthy.

Knox Memorial Pine

A feature of the Arboretum which no visitor neglects to see is the Knox Memorial pine, a majestic tree named in honor of Gen. Henry Knox, who was the first Secretary of War and whose home in Thomaston was but a few miles from the park. Beside it is a bronze tablet, dedicated July 25, 1918, to Gen. Knox's birthday.

It is the aim of Knox Academy, and to that end Legislature aid has been asked, to erect in the arboretum a fireproof building costing between $50,000 and $75,000, for the purpose of housing the study collections of natural history, a library of works on science and art and laboratories for students. A structure 40x90 is planned. The concrete basement and foundation walls of the first part have already been built, at a cost of $3,400.

With the arboretum finely established Mr. Lermond's next move was to launch the Maine Naturalist, a pretentious illustrated magazine, devoted to the flora and fauna of Maine and now in its fifth volume. Mr. Lermond is the managing editor, and each department is in charge of a college professor.

Full sets of this magazine are to be found in libraries throughout the country.

Mr. Lermond spent five winters in the vicinity of St. Petersburg, Fla.,

Jennie Harvey Percival, well known in this vicinity as a dancing instructor, has been engaged as hostess and cashier at the Copper Kettle this season, and will enter upon her duties there shortly.

The Alumni banquet of Rockland High School will be held June 22 in the new High School auditorium. Many pleasing innovations have been worked out by President Sullivan and his executive committee.

The Courier-Gazette is in receipt of a card announcing the engagement of a Rockland girl and a Thomaston young man. It is not published for the reason that the communication bore no signature. Will the sender kindly vouch for the item.

Trawler Wilson, with a fare of 165,000 pounds, landed the bulk of her catch Tuesday at Burnham & Morrill's factory in Portland. Her fare also included 1000 pounds of halibut, which were sold to a Portland firm. The balance of the catch was landed at the Deep Sea's plant in this city.

Arguments for and against granting 16 petitions of the Maine Motor Coaches, Inc., were heard by the Public Utilities Commission yesterday. Among the opponents was Arthur Smalley of Rockland, a bus operator on the Rockland-Belfast route, who would find himself in competition with the petitioner.

There is to be good music and interesting stories told at the Community Chest meeting of next Monday night in the High School auditorium.

The Alumni reception and ball of Rockland High School will be held in the new auditorium this year with the dancing in the gymnasium. The date is Monday, June 22, the hour 8 p. m. The fine new building will be open for inspection and the several classes will have new incentive in making their equipment fund pledges good.

A meeting of the executive board of the Rockland Baseball Association is called for tonight at 7:30 in the Legion rooms to consider matters financial. In the roster are: A. C. McLoon, Fred C. Black, C. A. Mitchell, Charles Thornton, H. P. Budgett, W. H. Rhodes, R. A. Webster, R. L. Knowlton, Linwood Rogers and J. M. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sansom, Mr. and Mrs. Knott Rankin, Wallace B. Spear and T. J. Foley, part of the Rockland contingent, are home from Cape's where they have been on a successful fishing expedition. This is a popular resort for folks from this part of the State, as the above party found when they counted 26 Rockland and Camden pleasure seekers at the breakfast table Saturday morning.

Oliver L. Wiggin was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner held in Bangor, Tuesday, charged with the unlawful possession of 12 gallons of alcohol. Probable cause was found, and he was bound over to the September term of U. S. District Court, Portland, in the sum of $1000. The seizure which resulted in Wiggin's arrest was made by Capt. Dunn of the Whitehead Coast Guard Station in Rockland harbor Saturday.

The occurrence of several daylight robberies within the past few days should serve as a warning to citizens not to leave their money lying around loose. Losses reported include $45 by Mrs. Albert R. Marsh, Talbot avenue, quite a large sum by Mrs. Louis Walker, Talbot avenue and Mrs. Fred Smallwood, Masonic street. A well dressed man was seen acting suspiciously in the immediate vicinity of Mrs. Smallwood's residence.

Claremont Commandery worked all of the orders on a class of seven Monday afternoon and evening, the candidates being Fred S. March, Frederick L. Hull, Donald H. Cross, William H. Rhodes, Adelbert L. Miller, John E. Robinson and Robert N. McKinley. A chicken supper had been prepared on the basis of an attendance of 50, but somewhat of the dismay of the good ladies of the Eastern Star nearly double that number trooped into the dining hall. It cannot be learned that anybody went away hungry, however.

At assembly in the High School this morning baseball letters for 1925 were awarded by Principal Allen as follows: James T. Murphy, James S. Hopkins, William J. Slone, W. Seymour Cameron, Floyd A. Montgomery, Sterling Putnam, Foster W. Field, John H. McLoon, William Frohock, Chester P. Mason, Palmer M. Peave, John H. Flanagan, James J. Flanagan, Emory J. Trafton and Ralph Fowler. Track awards were made by Coach Jones in this manner: Fred O. Ripley, Charles A. Pules, Kenneth M. Green, Leighton C. Jackson, Jr., Francis O. Merchants, Jasper G. Chapin, Elmer M. Enos, Theodore W. Sylvester, Charles M. Winslow, Sheridan A. Bartlett, Alwah P. Mears and Cecil A. Benson. The various teachers made interesting talks amid much enthusiasm. It was the final assembly for the Senior Class.

COME!

Miss Josephine Lacrosse is employed at Carver's book store.

The marble and slate floor in the room sheltering the clerk of courts records is nearly completed. The work is done by Boston experts, under a contract with the W. H. Glover Co.

Capt. Frederick Maloney of Ash Point places his power boat Sand Flea in commission the first of the month. In proof of which J. Lester Sherman this morning brought in from South Thomaston a pair of halibut, all of marketable size.

A continuous electrical storm, lasting from early evening goodness only knows how long, disturbed the peace of timid folk last night. To the southward there was a lively hailstorm. In proof of which J. Lester Sherman this morning brought in from South Thomaston a pair of halibut, all of marketable size.

Before Judge Montgomery in Rockland Municipal Court, Tuesday, Arthur Dodge, Silas Dodge and Leon Murray were given a sentence of 30 days in jail for using a motor car without the owner's permission. Sentence was suspended, it being their first case. Arthur Dodge was fined $10 and costs for operating a car without a license, and the fine was paid. Frank A. Tirrell appeared for the respondents, whose arrest by the sheriff and police department was due to the fact that Inspector Wentworth chanced to see Arthur Dodge get aboard of a car at Summer street, where later a car was reported missing. The three boys were placed in charge of Probation Officer Clark. The car was found by Officers Berry and Post on Claremont street. Mrs. George Burns, whose car figured in the had accident in Cushing last Friday night, was fined $10 and costs for operating a motor car without a license.

Commencement exercises at University of Maine were attended, as usual by relatives of the students from Rockland and vicinity. This year's crop of graduates included the following from this locality: College of Agriculture, Bachelor of Science, Elizabeth M. Linekin of Thomaston; Maynard G. Linekin of Thomaston; Arthur N. Pendleton of Dark Harbor; and Annie B. Thurston of South Union; College of Arts and Sciences, Bachelor of Arts, Irving S. Bailey of Waldo; Doris F. Fife of Vinalhaven; Lewis B. Clark of Rockland; Thomas E. Gay of Newcastle; Alice M. Libby of Vinalhaven; Robert H. McCobb of Lincolnville Center; Leona K. Reed of Owl's Head; College of Technology, Bachelor of Science, John W. Chandler of Newcastle; Donald Hastings of Rockland; Virgil C. Smith of Vinalhaven. Two hundred couples took part in the commencement ball, the chairman of which was I. Stanley Bailey of Waldo. The Venetian Melody Boys furnished music. A Deer Isle student, Daniel W. Torrey, 27, was presented with a cap as being the most valuable man to the track team.

All white hats promise to become prime favors for summer wear. Mrs. E. D. Daniels is showing some very chic ones from her own work rooms, 18 Wadsworth street, Thomaston.—adv.

The fourth annual Summer Vacation Bible School will open June 22 and continue for two weeks at the First Baptist church. Miss Marion Bratt of Buxton College will be in charge assisted by a fine group of teachers. Children from 4 to 15 years of age will be admitted without charge.

The Clara Barton Guild of the Universalist church held its first meeting in the church parlors Tuesday. The officers are: President, Olive Pease; Vice president, Vangie Hopkings; secretary, Dorothy Feeney; assistant secretary, Blanche Carr; treasurer, Lois Libby. Several committees were also appointed.

James Philpott of Boston was acquitted in Municipal Court yesterday on the charge of assault and battery upon Clifford Mapp. The fracas took place on the steamer Belfast as that vessel was en route to Rockland harbor on the night of June 3, but the trial was postponed until such time as the complainant was able to leave Knox Hospital. The case was heard before Trial Justice J. H. Montgomery of Camden. The contention of the respondent, who was represented by Frank A. Tirrell, was that he used violence as a means of self defense, and that the complainant provoked the quarrel.

310 MAIN STREET, ROCKLAND
Everything in Men's Apparel

The American Legion regular monthly meeting is tonight.

Richard, son of Harold Waldron, was badly injured the other day, when run over by an automobile.

Clase Tolson of Vinalhaven was found guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday on a search and seizure complaint and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail. He paid the fine and the jail sentence was suspended. E. W. Pike for the respondent. The raid was made by Deputy Sheriff Warren J. Billings and L. E. Dyer.

Inspector Wentworth was called to Thomaston Tuesday night by the report that Robert Butler was driving a motor car while intoxicated. He found quite a crowd surrounding the car, and was convinced that the occupant was drunk. In Municipal Court yesterday Butler was held for the September term of court, under the usual bail.

"I want Mr. McLoon thanked for providing the Parent-Teacher bouth with ice free of charge all last summer," said Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, the energetic president of the Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting of that organization held at McLain School yesterday afternoon. The treasurer's report showed the handsome balance of $2000.20 with all bills paid. A survey of the secretary's report showed a most active and useful year. A complete report will follow. The nominating committee reported President Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, secretary-treasurer, Miss Ellen Cochran; vice presidents, Mrs. W. C. Ladd, Mrs. C. O. Perry, Mrs. Charles Fales, Mrs. Celia Whitmore, Mrs. D. H. McArthur, Mrs. Frank Maxey, Mrs. R. V. Stevenson, Mrs. Wallace Spear, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Helen Moulaison, Mrs. M. M. Griffin, Mrs. Summer Perry and Mrs. F. J. Hunter.

There is much more than an even chance that Rockland will in the very immediate future be a regular base and stopping place of the mail planes on the new Boston-Bangor air line. The whole thing is contingent on the big meeting in Boston, June 15 and the preparation of a suitable flying field in this city. Porter H. Adams, a well known flying expert, will plead Rockland's cause at the meeting. (On the local end a meeting was held yesterday and the situation thoroughly canvassed in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The first step is to secure a suitable field and George W. Snow, Rockland's flying ace and Postmaster G. H. Blethen are selecting the spot. The next step is to have the field recognized by the City Council in order to get its name on the map. Great progress is being made in commercial flying under the impetus of the new Kelly bill and Mr. Snow is not hesitant about prophesying regular routes to Bar Harbor, Poland Spring, Kineo, Moosehead, Portland and other places with Rockland as the base, and this in the very near future. "Safe! Why you are safer going to Portland in a plane than in an automobile today," said the enthusiast.

The public, and that means every family in the city, will be interested to learn that the second annual field day of the Rockland Schools will be held next Tuesday afternoon at Community Park, the exercises beginning at 2:30. There will be between 1200 and 1500 children in the exhibition representing all of the grades except the 1st and 2d. Marching will be featured this year, and a prize of $100 will be presented to the room which makes the best showing. Judges will be selected and there will be a reviewing stand. Other features on the program will be setting up exercises by all of the schools, wand drills and a special drill by the 7th and 8th grades, a flag and sash drill by the 4th, 5th and 6th grades, a few mass games and a 7-inning ball game, probably between the McLain School and the Rockland High second team. Many additional seats have been provided on the grounds, and there are excellent parking facilities. Mrs. John Flanagan will have charge of the refreshments. If Tuesday is stormy the field day exercises will be held Wednesday. The exhibition of last year was a tremendous success, viewed by a large number of people, all of whom will want to see if Coach Jones' charges have shown improvement. Take a tip from them—they have.

There will be a cooked food sale Saturday June 13, at 2 o'clock at Carver's Book Store under the auspices of the B. & P. W. Club.

A VISION OF ACHORN CEMETERY MAY 30, 1925.

In Achorn yard where the tulips blow Red as blood, and white as snow, With varied tints that lie between, On the grassy mounds of living green; And the golden light of the sunshine glow, Reflects the glory here below. Here—let us pause while a reverent tread In this "silent city of the dead" Here—where the old, the young, the gay, With the brave, and the true, and the hero lay.

Where the little flags as emblems wave To mark and to honor each soldier's grave, Here—'neath the fragrant dower-strewn sod Lies the useless body, but to God Each immortal soul, has wings its flight Far—far—beyond immortal sight.

Here—let us pause while a prayer be said Over the graves of our valiant dead, Here—let us all remember yet The God eternal, "lest we forget" His mercies to the living still Who e'er must bow unto His will, Here—under the red, at His command Ere ordered by a living hand.

So today we pass with a reverent tread In this "beautiful city of the dead"; When the radiant tulips flame and glow, Red as blood and white as snow. (Suggested by the beautiful vision at Achorn Cemetery, Memorial Day)

THEODORE M. DAVIS

Theodore McIntosh Davis died Tuesday morning, June 2, after a long illness, having been confined to the bed for the past six months. He was born in Friendship, July 3, 1849, the son of John M. and Mary Collins Davis. At the age of 18 he came to this city where he had since resided. During the Civil War he served in Co. B, First Maine Infantry. In 1872, he was married to Martha, daughter of the late Percy Montgomery of Thomaston, whom he survived by seven years. He was a kind husband and loving father, and his interests always centered in the home life where he will be greatly missed. He leaves a son and daughter, Percy C. Davis of Portland and Alleen F. Rhoades of this city.

Burial services were held Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Pitcher of St. Peter's Episcopal church officiating. There were many floral tributes from relatives and friends which showed the esteem in which he was held. The bearers were Frank A. Maxey, Henry M. deLoachmont Sanford K. Hatel and William Hanford Fowle. Interment was at Achorn cemetery.

UNION

The Woman's Community Club met in the vestry of the Congregational church on Tuesday afternoon, 27 being present. After the transaction of the regular business, the president introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Mary Perry Rich of Rockland who gave a splendid and helpful address on "How to Make Club Work a Success." This was listened to with great attention and although she spoke an hour everyone was sorry when she concluded. It is to be regretted that every woman and girl in Union did not avail themselves of the privilege of hearing this splendid address by this talented speaker. Five new names were added to the list of members, one of which was that of Mrs. Rich and the club feels very proud to have this brilliant woman among its members. The club voted to affiliate with the State Federation of Women's Clubs and the necessary papers and dues were forwarded for that purpose. At the close of the address a social time was enjoyed and delicious refreshments served Mrs. Carrie Ames being chairman of the refreshment committee. The vestry was very prettily decorated with flowers. The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in July at 2:30 p. m.

Friends of Mrs. Chester Butler are glad to have her home and gaining after being at the Knox Hospital four weeks with blood poisoning. Mrs. Herick and daughter of Camden called on relatives here Sunday. Mrs. Nina Hart of Appleton visited Mrs. Lucius Barker last week. Mrs. Arthur Stewart, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Massachusetts, returned home last week accompanied by her daughter, Miss Harriet Stewart. Frank Watts has 400 chickens growing fast. Raymond Butler has bought a Ford car of Leroy Gleason. Mr. Gleason has a new Ford. Mrs. Mahelle Keene of North Appleton called on Mrs. Myrtle Watts Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Storer were at Chester Butler's Sunday. William Hall, an old and respected citizen, died at his home Thursday night. He leaves his wife, Viola T. Hall, who has toiled lovingly and patiently with him in his declining years, to mourn his loss. Her many friends express their deepest sympathy in her loss.

Mrs. E. A. Matthews and son Irving have gone to attend the graduation of her daughter Evelyn, at Nassau Institute, Springfield. The shower or tornado which visited us Saturday night was very severe while it lasted, uprooting and breaking many trees in this vicinity and the barn on the place formerly owned by A. A. Carter was blown down. Lightning struck a large elm tree not far from the pants factory. Mr. and Mrs. Merton Payson of Portland were recent guests of her parents. They were accompanied by Mr. Matthews' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Nickerson. The Congregational church was filled to the doors Sunday with the High School scholars and friends who listened to a splendid baccalaureate address by Rev. Bessie Crowell. Special music was furnished by the choir. The church looked very pretty with its decorations of cut flowers and potted plants and the class colors conspicuously displayed.

The hot weather the past week made the gardens grow, and good crops are expected. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crockett entertained the following guests at their home Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crockett, Helen and George Crockett, Miss Merle Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wyllie and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Crockett and son John of Rockland. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Richards and Miss Bessie Thibault of Rockland were at E. B. Clark's, Sunday. Charles Ring who has employment at Deer Isle is spending a short vacation at his home here. Mrs. A. A. Barreman of Thomaston spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Butler. Missionary W. E. Overlock of Washington visited at Levi W. Butler's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barrett have gone to Savannah, Ga. The best wishes of many friends go with them.

During the Decoration Day week-end Mr. and Mrs. Frank Esney entertained all their children and grandchildren. On Sunday Herbert Esney and family, Miss Herick and Mr. Davis motored to Augusta and Tugue, where the workers who gathered at the cemetery did a lot of work and greatly improved the looks of the community. Mrs. C. A. Payson, Dorothy and Raymond Ludwig of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wellman, South Hope, were recent guests at Herbert Esney's.

Misses Lydia Herick, Caro Fish and Hazel Esney motored to Belfast to spend the weekend at Miss Herick's home. Oscar Bryant, a respected citizen of this place for the past 13 years, died June 1. A good neighbor and friend, he will be missed by many.

Edgar Ripley has returned to his work in Massachusetts after spending his vacation at his home here. Bernard Ripley is at home for the summer. Lillian Pease has bought an automobile. Mrs. Emma Fish is visiting her son, A. D. Fish and family. Sunday school at Burkettsville was recently organized by W. E. Overlock.

WALDOBORO

Victor Nekarda of New York has been in town this week. Mrs. Alice Flint was in Gardiner and Miss Gladys Flint in Hallowell for the weekend. Mrs. L. C. Turner of Isle au Haut has been the guest of Mrs. H. H. Kuhn. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Weston spent the weekend in Portland. Mrs. Emma Welt, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Stahl, returned to Rockland Saturday. Mrs. J. V. Benner has returned from Boston where she has been spending the past two weeks. Mrs. J. J. Cooney and family have arrived at Glenhurst for the summer. Owing to the intense heat the supper given in Moose hall by the Senior Class, W. H. S., had a small attendance. The supper was well served and liberally contributed to by the public.

The terrific shower of Saturday afternoon took its toll in some of the most beautiful trees in town. One of the main street landmarks, 150 years old, was felled by the wind and general havoc wrought by the gale which lasted for about ten minutes. The many friends of E. J. H. Miller are sorry to hear of his serious illness. Mr. Miller is a general housewife, a man prominent in lodge and social circles, and much sympathy is expressed.

A son was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Gross of Vinahaven at the residence of Dr. J. W. Sanborn. Mrs. Gross was formerly Miss Celia Nash of Walpole. Mrs. Clara Wallace of Union is the guest of Mrs. Winfield Davis. The Good Deed Club met at Mrs. Henry Crowell's to elect officers for the ensuing year. Maude Burnes is to be president. Helen Oliver, vice president, Katherine Oliver, secretary and Ida Black treasurer. This club composed of young girls has achieved many good deeds during its year, chief among them bringing good cheer to the sick. The club will meet Friday evening with Miss Ida Black at Miss Annie O. Wells'. Saturday they will enjoy a picnic.

Mrs. Helena M. Smith, Alameda, Mass., is at John Flanders' for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffin of Belfast spent the weekend at C. E. Coffin's. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith of Portland were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Flanders. Mrs. Flanders returned home with them. Mrs. L. L. Mauk called at her son Millard's in Gardiner Saturday evening. The Social Club met with Mrs. Percy Miller Thursday. Twenty-seven were present. The program included readings, Mrs. French, Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Jameson; guessing contest, won by Mrs. Brackett and Mrs. Miller. Refreshments were served. June 18 the club will meet with Mrs. Josiah Jameson.

Alonzo Sidesparker died Friday after a long illness. Services were held Monday afternoon, Rev. Guy McQuade officiating. O. V. Hassner, undertaker. Germania Lodge, I. O. O. F., attended in a body and held services at Sterling Cemetery. Mr. Sidesparker is survived by a widow, two daughters, Mrs. Inez Shuman and Mrs. Charles Storer, an adopted son, Everett, five grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mrs. Clarence Harding is driving a new Ford. A large audience was in attendance at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon and listened to an able discourse by Mr. Griffin, principal of the High School. Mr. Griffin is a young man of pleasing personality and his message was heartily received. He was accompanied by Mr. Perkins, Mr. Greenlaw and Miss Bailey who acted as organist. Through the efforts of Mr. Greenlaw the church has been opened after a closure of over a year and much interest is shown in these meetings by the larger number present. Meetings will continue every Sunday afternoon until further notice at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Inez Shuman and son William have returned to their home in Portland, after spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Burrows. Mrs. E. R. Burns, daughter Myrtle and Mrs. R. T. Winchenbach were guests of Mrs. Percy Miller of East Waldoboro last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. I. W. G. Wallace and daughter Dorothy were in Rockland last Thursday. Mrs. Ray Cunningham of South Bristol, spent the weekend at E. R. Burns'. Capt. Leroy Seavey of Camden spent the weekend at W. G. Wallace's. Mrs. Clarence Harding is driving a new Ford touring car. Residents of this section were saddened to hear of the death in Brockton of Fred Elliott on May 30. Mr. Elliott's native home was in Waldoboro but he moved to Brockton many years ago where he was engaged in the leather business. He was married to Miss Lillian Bradford of this section, and of this union are two sons, both of whom survive, Fred and Harold, besides the widow and three grand children. He was in his 64th year.

NORTH APPLETON

Ormond Keene, Leland Johnson and Bert Hammond, with teams, have work with the Fenwick Lumber Company at Burkettsville. The teacher of the North Appleton school, Miss Edgcomb, entertained her pupils Saturday by taking them on a picnic at Hobbs Pond in Hope. A picnic dinner was enjoyed, and the day was spent in sports dear to the hearts of the young people, who came home a tired, but happy company. Saturday will be set down in the calendar of events as the hottest day of the season thus far, thermometer registering 93 to 95 degrees in the shade. The showers in the early evening and later in the night so cooled the atmosphere that Sunday morning the glass showed the mercury standing at 53 degrees. Miss Helen Meservy spent Saturday in Camden with relatives. W. F. Tilden, Alton Pease and Mrs. Keene each took an auto load to Union Thursday evening to the pictures.

Miss Alma Pitman of Appleton is a guest this week of her nephew, Bernard Pitman. T. F. Wadsworth is having extensive repairs made on his barn.

WARREN HIGHLANDS

The hot weather the past week made the gardens grow, and good crops are expected. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crockett entertained the following guests at their home Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crockett, Helen and George Crockett, Miss Merle Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wyllie and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Crockett and son John of Rockland. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Richards and Miss Bessie Thibault of Rockland were at E. B. Clark's, Sunday. Charles Ring who has employment at Deer Isle is spending a short vacation at his home here. Mrs. A. A. Barreman of Thomaston spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Butler. Missionary W. E. Overlock of Washington visited at Levi W. Butler's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Little Conrad Miller is staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Walter. Mrs. Flora Mauk is visiting at Edwin G. Miller's.

COULDN'T FIND ANOTHER MEDICINE LIKE KARNAK

"Why, I Can Hardly Realize I Am the Same Person That Suffered So For Two Years," Says Berlin, N. H., Woman.

Still they come, one remarkable statement after another, each and everyone proving the claims made for Karnak. People all over Rockland, men and women alike, are taking this sensational medicine that the Corner Drug Store is selling at the most phenomenal rate ever known in the history of the drug trade. All over Maine and New Hampshire Karnak is the family medicine and reports by the hundreds pour in regarding its amazing health-building powers. Just the other day for instance Mrs. Evalina Davis, highly esteemed resident of 787 Main Street, Berlin, N. H., walked into the Karnak dealer's store and volunteered the information of her remarkable experience with the medicine, that others might know how truly wonderful it is. "I would just go the limit in my praise of Karnak," said Mrs. Davis. "You couldn't find another like it the world over."

"My, how quickly my troubles disappeared when I got Karnak, and now I can hardly realize I am the same person, I am so well and happy."

"But, oh, how I suffered the past two years with stomach trouble and indigestion. I was just about the bluest and most discouraged person you ever saw. My stomach was in such a terribly acid condition that it seemed to poison my whole system and my digestion was so poor that every morsel I ate just seemed to turn to sour gas as soon as I had eaten. The distress it caused me was simply terrible. I just got where

OR CROWS-FEET

Lemon Juice Tightens Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest anti-wrinkle lotion to tighten relaxed skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crows-feet. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crows-feet are smoothed out, giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh. Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten sallow, tanned skin. Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.

THE PILOT'S PILOTS

Editorial Board of North Haven's New School Magazine; and It Did a Good Stunt

North Haven High School has broken into journalistic ranks with No. 1, Vol. 1 of a most creditable magazine called "The Pilot." It is largely devoted to a publication of the class parts at graduation.

Salutatory, Emma Parsons, address to undergraduates, Owen Grant; valedictory, Alton Calderwood; "Americanism," Lawrence Hopkins; presentation of gifts, Joel Wooster; prophecy, Nellie Cooper and David Wooster; class history, Christine MacDonald; class will, A. Marie Webster; class poem, Dorothy M. Stone. The literary department includes the usual quota of rhyme, a prize essay, "Abraham Lincoln" by Nellie Cooper; and a short story, "Misunderstood," by Winona Whitmore. Locals, personals, athletics, etc., go to make up a snappy publication, which is dedicated to the teachers. Mr. Brown and Miss Sargent. The editorial board comprises: Editor-in-Chief Alice Webster, '25; Assistant Editor Clara Waterman, '25; Business Manager, Lawrence Hopkins, '25; Assistant Business Manager, Joel Wooster, '25; Personal Editor, Christine MacDonald, '25; Local Editor, Winona Whitmore, '24; Athletic Editor, David Wooster, '25; Alumni Editor, Nellie Cooper, '25. The alumni department shows what became of last year's graduates. Alton Calderwood is living at North Haven; Elston Cooper is attending Hebron Academy; Ethel Dickey is living at North Haven; Hazel Dickey is attending Gorham Normal; Evelyn Dyer is at Boston; Gerald Hopkins is attending Exeter Preparatory in New Hampshire; Clara Leyonborg is attending Gorham Normal; Una Whitmore Ames is living at Rockport.

SUNSET

Mr. and Mrs. Blake are occupying their cottage at Dunham's Point. Sunday seemed to be a very prosperous busy day for the clergyman in Deer Isle and Stonington, as Miss Virginia Gross and Fred Blackington of Stonington; also Miss Freda Haskell of Deer Isle and Carl Gott were united in marriage.

It is advertised that dances will be held every Saturday night at Oceanville, music by Chad's Orchestra.

Mrs. George Carman, who has been with her mother for several weeks, has returned to her home in Dorchester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lufkin and Mele and Norma Hutchins spent the weekend with Mrs. Lufkin's mother, Mrs. A. D. Lufkin. They motored from their home in Rockland in their Baby Overland car.

Mrs. Laurence Sellers and two children and Miss Lois Snowden motored from Portland Sunday in Miss Snowden's car and are visiting relatives in town. Their many friends are very glad to greet them.

James McNaulley of Springfield, Ohio, who is chauffeur for Mrs. Ada Southworth, is stopping at Mrs. Frank McVeigh's for the summer.

The Sewing Circle met with Mrs. Caroline Henshaw Tuesday and entertained as guests of honor Mrs. Lucy Bruce, Mrs. Lilla Jenkins, Mrs. Hazel Carman and Rev. and Mrs. Farrington. Delicious lobster stew, raisin doughnuts and candy was Mrs. Henry Haskell, Mrs. Walter served.

Scott and children, Walter and Rosemond, Miss Gladys Haskell and Jason Snowden went for an auto ride across the Reach Sunday. They drove to Surry and Oxford where Mrs. Scott called on friends and relatives. Mr. Snowden returned to Newton Monday where he will be employed as private chauffeur.

School closed here Friday and the teacher invited the entire school to go on a picnic down to Hosmer's beach. After the picnic lunch she took them all for a ride in her car which added to the pleasure of the youngsters. Miss Haskell has proved to be a very efficient teacher and all regret that she will not teach here again. She will go to Portland this fall to take up clerical work.

Miss Muriel Hardy went to Bangor Sunday where she will enter E. M. G. Hospital for an operation for appendicitis. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Susie Hardy, who will be the guest of Mrs. George Field of Brewer. Alfred Dunham drove them up in his car.

A large number went from here to attend the High School baccalaureate service held at the Congregational church in Deer Isle May 31. The service was very impressive. Mrs. Roy Snowden played the march and Miss Irene Banks, a member of the junior class, acted as marshal and did it very gracefully. Splendid music by a quartet was well rendered. Those participating were Mrs. Minnie Pickering, Mrs. Elita Johnson, Willie Green and Ellie Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. Snowden. The Senior Class sang a special selection which was done very creditably. Rev. Inor Partington gave an excellent address and some very helpful advice to the graduates.

The junior reception was held in the Town hall Tuesday evening. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. The receiving line of faculty and students made a pretty picture as the young ladies were added much to the beauty of the occasion. The guests enjoyed to the utmost the delicious cooling drinks and pastry that were served them. A dance followed.

Wednesday evening was the occasion of the Alumni banquet. A most enjoyable time was reported. Philip Greenlaw was toastmaster and some very good toasts were responded to. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, lobster salad, chicken, creamed potatoes, relishes, ice cream, and assorted cake.

The graduation exercises of Deer Isle High School were held in the Congregational church, Deer Isle, June 4. The graduates wore the conventional cap and gown which added much to the dignity of the occasion. Each one did his part exceedingly well and it was said that it was the best graduation in the history of the school. Following are the members of the class: Christine Lufkin, valedictory; Elwyn Sylvester, salutatory; Sheldon Conary, class history.

INDIVIDUALITY

You May Choose the Color and Upholstery of Your New Packard Eight

FROM the very first every Packard Eight has been built with no thought in mind save the quality, comfort and distinction it was to provide its owner.

When you place your order for your Packard Eight you may choose the color of its finish, and you may select the upholstery.

Packard will co-operate in producing your own car—a car combining all the grace and beauty of a Packard body with your own good taste in decoration and appointments.

While the distinction of Packard lines is unchanged the new Packard Eight can become more than ever your individual, your personal car.

THOMASTON

The Alumni banquet and reception to the class of '25, T. H. S., will be given in the Andrews gymnasium Thursday, June 18. Mont P. Trainer of Rockland will be the caterer.

Charence Oliver has moved from Mill River to the Robert Lawry house on Gleason street.

Mrs. Alice Halliwell will make repairs and improvements upon her house. Oret Robinson will move his family to Thomaston and occupy part of the house.

Mrs. George Creighton and children of New Jersey are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Andrews.

Have you bought your copy of the Sea Breeze? A very interesting paper.

Mrs. A. F. Rice who has spent several weeks with her nieces in Battle Creek, Mich. and Rochester, N. Y. is at home.

The remains of Harris R. Williams of Brighton, Mass., were brought to Thomaston Tuesday and conveyed directly to the cemetery. Interment was made without ceremony. Mr. Williams was a native of Thomaston but went to Boston in early life where he carried on the business of a jeweler. He had been out of health some years. He was 71 years of age. His widow and two daughters accompanied the remains.

Edward Elliott is at home from Washington, D. C., for the summer. Miss Elizabeth Linekin is spending a few days at home before entering upon her work as home demonstrator for Somerset County. Miss Linekin has a new sedan to use in her work.

Mr. and Mrs. William White of Lexington, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, Knox street.

E. W. Jordan of Brunswick is working in the A. & P. store. Mr. Jordan is learning the business with a view of becoming manager of an A. & P. store elsewhere.

The morning service at the Baptist church will have for its title "God's Supreme Attitude Toward Man." The baccalaureate sermon to the class of 1925, T. H. S., will be preached in the evening. The High School orchestra will be present at this service.

June 21 is to be children's day at the Baptist church, which will be observed with a cantata, "The Song of Flowers" at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Kilborn is in charge and it will be an especially fine program.

Thomaston and Rockland hall teams looked horns Wednesday afternoon in Rockland—score, Thomaston 19, Rockland 0.

Delay in receiving the pumps for the motor driven fire engine has set the time of delivery ahead about two weeks. The engine, now being stored in the garage will be taken to the W. O. Masters house and placed in that company's charge.

Sunday evening an automobile apparently driven by a man under the influence of liquor sped up Knox street at a rapid rate and came to a stop at the intersection of Main street. The car was coming out of a side street, with the result that the rear mud guard of the latter car was torn off. Before the witnesses of the accident could get the number of the first car the driver had speeded up Rockwoods street and was out of sight.

Ellis Thompson is at home from Sullors Snug Harbor on a furlough. C. A. Morse & Son have the keel of an 80-ft. fisherman laid in their yard. This is an innovation for nearly all of their boats have been built in their shop. The Hathaway Machine Co. of New Bedford will be the owners. Morse & Son are employing 21 men. Two yachts have recently sailed from their shops. The Polly, 2d, owned by Mr. Randall of Portland and the Sugarome, owned by Elwell Modera.

Have you tried that bit of grandmothers' raisin bread at the A. & P. Store—adv.

Social Circles

In addition to personal notes recording departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be gladly received. TELEPHONE 778

Commander and Mrs. Douglas W. Fuller and daughter Elizabeth Jane, arrived Tuesday night for a month's visit, and are temporarily guests of Commander Fuller's uncle, Frank W. Fuller, Talbot avenue. Commander Fuller has lately completed his tour of sea duty and has been transferred to the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.

Mrs. August C. Weibel and children of Brooklyn are guests of Mrs. Alfred Haskell.

Miss Martha Titus, who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Anna-belle Snow, in Boston, since the first of February, has arrived home, accompanied by her niece, Ruth Titus of Talluride, Colo. Miss Titus has been studying the Braille system for the blind, and has proven such an apt pupil that she can read and write with great fluency.

Mrs. A. J. Bates is spending the week in Portland.

Mrs. Sadie Leach returned Tuesday from Orono, where she attended the commencement exercises of the University of Maine and visited her cousin, Mrs. Ulysses Walker. Miss Lynette Walker was one of the graduates.

Charles Sacker, who has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. M. E. Sacker, at the Meadows, left Monday for his home in New York.

Fred Harrington of Portland was a visitor in the city the first of the week, having attended the wedding of a relative in Camden.

Franklin Wood is spending the week at his old home near Norway, whither he went to attend his sister's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Robinson leave Saturday for Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Robinson, as a delegate from the Rockland branch, will attend the International Convention of the Rotary Club, held from the 15th to the 19th. They will join a special party of delegates in Boston and will spend Sunday at Niagara Falls, making the balance of their trip in the steamer Seandee. In Buffalo they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. George L. St. Clair, who have been spending the past week with Mr. St. Clair's son, Frank St. Clair, in New York. There are many side attractions during the convention, but none which will probably appeal to most of the visitors so much as the league ball games between Cleveland and Philadelphia and Cleveland and Washington.

Miss Angie Moffitt and C. E. Moffitt who have been spending a few weeks at Miss Moffitt's former home on Broadway, returned to Dorchester this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Wight of New York, are spending a fortnight in this city and vicinity, being at present in Swan's Island, where Mrs. Wight formerly resided.

G. A. Everbeck and Mrs. Leonora Fletcher Waller of Wollaston, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waltz, Broadway.

William T. J. Pearson of New York has arrived at his summer home, Rockland Breakwater, where he will be joined by other members of the family next week. Mr. Pearson reports that thermometers registered 112 in the shade on one of New York's business streets during the hot spell last week.

Mrs. A. B. Clark and Mrs. Hattie Knowles have returned from Orono, where they attended the graduation of Mrs. Clark's son, Lewis. Mr. Clark plans to spend the summer at home.

Mrs. Leon Strong of Waterville is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles M. Richardson, Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe W. Hall and daughters Lucille and Ruth, Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Corbett, son Alan, and daughter Barbara and Miss Geneva Morton will arrive at Spruce Head today for two or three weeks.

The intense heat of last Thursday could not melt the spirits of a group of more of Rockland damsels and young matrons who motored to Camden and were guests at the luncheon and shower given by Miss Nerita Willey in honor of Priscilla Brewster, whose engagement to Dr. Harold Jameson was recently announced. Bridge was enjoyed until five o'clock, when a delicious lunch was served. There six tables of bridge and the favors were awarded to Mrs. Horace Lamb and Miss Ruth Thomas of Camden. Miss Brewster received many pretty gifts of linen.

Mrs. W. H. Armstrong left today for Simmons College, where she will be present at the graduation of her daughter, Miss Grace Armstrong, next Monday. In Boston she will be joined by her elder daughter, Miss Rhonda Armstrong, who is in Concord, N. H., and Sunday Dr. Armstrong will also join her in Boston. After commencement Miss Grace Armstrong goes to Kent, Ohio, where she will act during the summer as assistant dietitian at the Kent State Normal School, working there under the direction of Miss Lois Trefethen, who formerly taught school in this city. Next fall Miss Armstrong joins the faculty of Westbrook Seminary. A Portland Sunday newspaper recently published her picture, and had this to say about her: "The Domestic Science course will be taught by Miss Grace Armstrong, daughter of Dr. W. H. Armstrong, of Rockland, one of five best scholarship pupils in Rockland High and a graduate of Simmons College. Miss Armstrong is very active in musical life, plays the violin and has done cornet playing to some extent. She went three years to University of Maine and was a member of the college orchestra and of the Bangor Symphony Orchestra. She was active in journalism and was society editor of the Maine Campus and assistant editor of the Bangor

There were jolly goings on at Branch Brook Saturday when the youngsters from Grade 7A had a picnic there capered by their teacher, Miss Eleanor Griffith and Mrs. Augustus Dilliver. The happy lunch hour was followed by cheers, songs and finally games galore. The treasure hunt was won by Berle Coltart and the cheers led by Alice Flanagan.

Golden Rod Chapter, O. E. S. meets tomorrow night at 7.30 with word. There will be no supper.

Mrs. Ellen Hammond has gone to Winter Harbor to attend the graduation exercises of the class of which her daughter Arlene is a member.

A pretty birthday party was given at the home of Malcolm Daggett Tuesday afternoon when he celebrated his 10th birthday. The decorations were pink and white. Sandwiches, punch, birthday cake and ice cream were served. The guests were Alden Johnson, Raymond Moran, Alva and Stanley Gay, Robert Burch and Carl Philbrook. The little host received many presents.

Mrs. G. R. Westerfield of New York is a guest at the Laurie. She will later go to the Samoset for the summer.

Miss Susie D. Hanson of Belfast and Miss Fannie B. Hanson of Camden spent the weekend with their sister, Mrs. Everett E. Whitney at Appleton. Sunday afternoon they motored to Pleasantville, with Dr. Charles H. Conant, accompanied by their niece, Jennie D. Whitney. From there they motored to Rockland, West Rockport, South Hope, East Union and Union Common, back to Appleton again, where Dr. and Mrs. Whitney had a very nice dinner in waiting to which they did ample justice.

Richard and Sidney Snow are expected home from Colby College for the summer Saturday. "Gee, I'll be glad to see them said His Honor. Richard will be the assistant of P. A. Jones at Hatchet Mountain Camp this season.

Mrs. Carl N. Garland of Bangor was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Staples on her return from Stonington, where she had gone to attend the funeral of her sister.

Elmer Rising and Wendell Thornton are home from Higgins Classical Institute for the summer vacation. Both have made a splendid record in athletics. Rising is under contract to pitch for the Camden baseball team this season.

SNAKES IN ROCKLAND
Editor of the Courier-Gazette: Saturday morning Mrs. Walter Rogers of Maverick street had a narrow escape from a most unpleasant encounter. While passing through her front room she nearly stepped on an adder. Realizing her danger she jumped and made her exit just as the adder prepared to strike. Mrs. Sanford Taylor who was in the house at the time, grabbed a broom and beat the snake until she numbed him, then got him out of doors where he was met with a hot reception of boiling water. It is believed that the adder got into the house while the doors were open early in the morning.

MERRILL-HILL
Daughter of Former Governor Becomes Bride of Boston Ex-Service Man.

A wedding of widespread interest, both in Maine and Boston society, was solemnized at high noon Saturday at St. Marks Episcopal church, Augusta, when Miss Katherine Langdon Hill of that city became the bride of John Lee Merrill of Boston and Hamilton, Mass. Unusual interest attended the wedding as the bride is one of Maine's most charming young ladies. She is a daughter of the late Gov. John F. Hill, and Mrs. Hill and is socially prominent in Boston and Maine circles.

Father Johnson, C. S. J. E. of St. Johns Evangelist church of Boston, which the bride attends, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Stuart B. Purves, rector of the local church. The single ring ceremony was used.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Percy Vickery Hill of Augusta. Miss Dorothy Hill, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. Making up the attractive corte of bridesmaids were Misses Muriel Storer, a classmate, and Janet Bartol, both of Boston, Miss Dorothy Viles of Augusta, Miss Elizabeth Jones of New York City and the Misses Anne Lincoln and Mary Mansfield, both of Montclair, N. J.

John C. Stubbs of Boston was the best man. Prof. Harrison C. Lyseth presided at the organ and there was a vested choir of 20 voices.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Hill mansion on State street. The bride was dressed in draped tulle with a train of 177 clubs of Boston. Mr. and Mrs.

cream satin, its sole ornament being the big Elizabethan collar and fleur-de-lis rose point lace. Her court train had point lace trimming, her bridal veil of net, snugly fitting her head, had a garland of orange blossoms on each side and at the back, leaving the face of the cup unadorned, and her bouquet was white roses and sweet peas with a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Hill, the maid of honor, wore pastel silk chiffon with a bouquet of roses and a picture hat to match. Pastel green chiffon gowns were worn by the bridesmaids, with picture hats to match. Their bouquets were pink roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Merrill, mother of the groom, wore a pale shade of orchid and orchid lace, and a hat of orchid lace. Mrs. Hill, mother of the bride, was attired in gray chamoisee with gold lace, her hat was gray with a band of gold and she carried a bouquet of orchids.

The going away gown of the bride was navy blue bengaline, ensemble. The top of the dress was white, criss-crossed with gold embroidery, the skirt and coat were trimmed with gold braid and her hat was a navy blue turban of gros grain ribbon.

The bride was graduated from Winsor School in Boston in 1922. She made her formal bow to society in 1923, and is a member of the Chilton Club and the Junior League of Boston. The groom was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1919. During the World War he served as a lieutenant in the navy. He is a ship broker and is a member of the D. K. B. Fraternity and the Phoenix, Hasty, Pudding, Tennis and Racquet and The Great Circus Mystery' Number 5

Merrill will reside at Hamilton, Mass. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were former Governor W. T. Cobb, who was a close friend of the late Governor Hill, and Mrs. Cobb.

AROUND THE PLANT

Gregory Kiln No. 8 Makes Fine Record—Doings of Other Departments.

Rockport
Basil Turner is back in the cooper shop.

Charles Jenkins returned June 1, after an absence of two weeks on account of illness.

Dennis Weed is working the Enterprise kiln taking the place of his brother "Kil" retired, who has had this job for several years.

Isaac Bryant has returned from being out with a gripe cold.

Charles Collins of the machine room was away on account of illness last week. Silas Eaton substituted for him on the cutting off machine.

Quarry operation is now being had in Carlton 1, where an extra good vein of rock is being worked. Larger production from a smaller amount of rock is being had in consequence.

Operation of kilns is still confined to the O. P. and Enterprise. They are both making good runs, with weekly productions running well over the 1100 barrels mark, the week of May 20th showing 1167 for the O. P. and 1131 for the Enterprise.

Wednesday, May 27 the Rockport plant entered upon its fifteenth month without a lost time injury.

This fact, of itself, is enough to state without any additional recital about this remarkable record. The Rockport quarries plant, Ernest Grant foreman is "also" contributing toward a high record for safety efficiency, having entered upon its eighth consecutive month without a lost time injury.

Rockport items without one about Zeb Knight would leave a feeling that something was missing. While recovering from a badly lacerated thumb, incurred when he accidentally got a leading rope twisted about it, he was making repairs to roof of barn. He slipped and in endeavoring to save himself his hand in some manner came in contact with a piece of wood having a protruding nail. The nail penetrated the palm of hand, inflicting a deep and painful wound. He returned to work Tuesday, June 2, after an absence of three weeks.

Gregory

The barge Rockharbor loaded 9,205 selected and sailed last week. "Herb" Davis, a former foreman, is at home for a few weeks from Sallors Shing Harbor. Russell Reynolds is assisting in the erection of the steel water tower which is being installed at the Sallors.

The masons are making alterations in kiln 11, to prepare for a change in method of operation by the installation of a mechanical stoker.

The average kiln production for the week of May 30 was 1020 1/2. No. 8 had 1207 1/2; 5, 1122; 9, 1014; 4, 973; 10, 936; 7 (held up), 868 1/2.

With an average weekly production of 117 1/2 barrels for the ten weeks since going alive, kiln No. 8 has established a record for continuous operation that entitles it to special mention and some big figures, to call attention to this remarkable run of a small net kiln.

That is more than a "good" record, there is no question. That it denotes expert operation on the part of the kiln crew goes without saying. The regular crew on this kiln are John Caverson, Stanley Frankowsky and Stefano Sherifits who is better known as Charlie Smith.

North End Cooper Shop

There were busy times on stock last week, the arrivals being two cordials of heads and horns, and three vessels loaded with staves.

The C. B. Kennard Monday, Billings Bros. Tuesday, Mercantile Wednesday, all three with Gouldsboro stock.

Quarries

Cobb 2 suspended operation last Friday for the purpose of trimming bluffs.

James Cates returned to work June 1, after an absence of two weeks on account of illness.

Isaac Hill of hard rock 3 has gone to Bangor, where he expects to get employment in the woods.

Walter Flanders is assisting Myron Rollins in wiring for lights and power in the new crushing plant at the Gregory.

An auxiliary store has been established by Alfred Chapman at the hoist house of Crockett 3.

Lime Rock Railroad

Fay H. Strong has moved from Glen Cove to 150 Limerock street.

Supt. Rankin went to Moosehead lake Saturday afternoon for a week's fishing trip.

Engine 2 went into service again Monday morning. It has recently been "retubed."

Cush Pottery of Bass Harbor and Austin Philbrook of Rockland are late additions to the section crew.

Edward Blackington, formerly of the machine shop is now in the employ of Lymburner & Annis, contractors and builders.

"Drafts" spark arresters have been installed in engines 1, 2 and 4. These arresters are of the most approved pattern made, regulating the size of sparks passing through, and are said to be fire preventive.

William Reed received leg injury Saturday, which will cause a lay-off for a few days. Loaded rock cars came in for repairs and in handling a piece of rock another piece rolled upon Mr. Reed's leg, causing severe lacerations.

The first-aid station is to be moved from the main office to the machine shop office, where a new cabinet has been put in and equipped with everything necessary for first-aid treatment. Anderson Dunbar will have charge of the new station.

Capt. Elen Mills of the repair shop, who went out last November with foot trouble has had a second amputation of leg at the Knox Hospital. A portion of the foot was removed at first, but it was found necessary to amputate above the knee the second time.

The laying of new steel rail from Limerock street to Middle street is nearly completed, resulting in a handsome piece of track as ever seen. The cripple siding has had a new lead put in from the main line, making of that siding a double-header. Three new leads have been put in near Limerock street this spring.

Hydrate Mills

Jimmy Lindsey has gone to Dark Harbor where he has employment for the summer.

Perley Nash and Harold Lewis are assisting in installing machinery at the new Gregory crusher.

A HEALTHY STATE

Another Decidedly Valuable Asset With Which To Boom Maine.

Credit for the splendid showing which Maine is making in comparison with other states east of the Mississippi and south of the Great Lakes in the matter of health, was unhesitatingly given recently to a large group of Maine organizations and individuals in a statement issued from the office of the Maine Public Health Association.

"We are naturally encouraged at the outcome of a study of national and state statistics which show substantial progress in Maine's fight to become the healthiest State," the announcement reads.

"These figures which show the average length of life—or, in other words, the average age at death—for the year 1923 is 52.5 years, as compared with 44.9 years for the United States are gratifying. So are the figures which show that only five states exceeded Maine last year in the improvement in infant mortality in rural districts. And every Maine citizen must be proud of the fact that no state east of the Mississippi river and south of the Great Lakes shows as low a death rate from tuberculosis as Maine.

"These comparative figures show progress. They prove that Maine is following sound principles in its work against preventable sickness. Credit for Maine's good efforts belongs without question to the splendid men and women and to the Maine groups which are working so harmoniously together in this great fight for health.

"Officers and members of the Maine Medical Association have made a wonderful contribution in personal service, in money and in other ways to bring about this great advance for Maine. In no State in the country does the medical profession take such constructive interest in and give such practical support to the public health work as in Maine through the organized medical profession. The State Department of Health—especially through its child welfare and maternity nurses and its district health officers together with local health officials—has been responsible in a large measure for the notable reduction in infant mortality rates. Maine's tuberculosis sanatoria have greatly helped in the tuberculosis death rate reduction.

"The State Department of Agriculture—especially in its Pure Food and Drugs Division and in its work for the eradication of tuberculosis in cattle—has accomplished more than can be estimated in the protection of the health of our people.

"The State and local school authorities with their school nurses, school physicians and school dentists have been a vital factor in the reduction of our death rate from preventable causes.

"The splendid work which is being done by the Social Hygiene division of the State health department has been of invaluable assistance in bringing about this result.

"The public spirited men and women including a number of Maine manufacturers who have made such liberal contributions for statewide and local health work as well as those in such appropriate bodies as the legislature, the town meeting and city council, which have supplied the modest fund with which this great work has been accomplished—to them must go unqualified praise for making possible this work for Maine.

"The Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, the parent-teacher association, the dental societies, the women's clubs, the commercial organizations all of which have accomplished more for Maine than ever can be measured.

"And last but not least is the wonderful group of men and women who constitute the local health committees in scores and scores of cities and towns throughout the length and breadth of Maine—the value of their united endeavors never can be fully estimated nor appreciated.

"It is this team work this working shoulder to shoulder for better health in Maine, which is achieving the big results—more health and happiness for every citizen of Maine. Every forward looking man and woman in Maine joins with us in believing—in this public expression of gratitude to all those who have had a part in bringing about this wonderful improvement during the past few years.

"Are women qualified for places of authority?" queries an editor. And dad, he knows—Boston Post.

NORMAN W. LERMOND

In pursuit of natural history specimens, and considerable time in Tennessee and Arkansas engaged in similar work.

Thousands of Shells

He has specialized on shells, and has catalogued 18,000 lots, some containing 100 specimens.

These shells come from sea, fresh water and land, and represent almost every country in the world. Many are the result of his personal efforts; others have been accumulated through exchange.

One specimen of a nautilus was named for him by Dr. William Healey Dall of Smithsonian Institute, honorary curator of mollusca in the National Museum, Washington. It was collected by Mr. Lermont in Gulf of Mexico, Boca Ciega Bay, Fla., and is so small that a microscope is needed to bring out the pattern. A type specimen is deposited in the national museum.

Another shell specimen was named for Mr. Lermont by Dr. Sterke of Ohio. It was a pseudid found by Mr. Lermont in a little pond in Warren, and was new to science.

The naturalist counts among his rarest possessions a perfect paper nautilus found in South Australia, and said to be the second ever found. It is so rare and delicate that he will not allow it out of his sight. Another very rare shell came to him from an Aroostook County lake, where it was dredged at a depth of 25 feet. It is a Planorbis cristata.

In 1908 the State Department of Agriculture published Mr. Lermont's "Catalogue of the Mollusca of Maine." He is now planning to get out an illustrated catalogue on "The Coleoptera of Maine." He has a very large collection of minerals including fossil specimens from all parts of the country.

Mr. Lermont has collected for practically every department of biology and has started the Maine Herbarium, hoping to get a complete representation of all the plants that grow in this State.

He Liked Caterpillars

As a child he was fond of caterpillars. When he grew older he went afield with a butterfly net. Then he began botanizing. Whatever idle time he could find while the State and Maine was devoted to a collection of wild flowers within a radius of 20 miles of the metropolis. Several years he spent his vacations on the Charles, Concord and Merrimack rivers and two summers he was in camp at Sudbury, Mass., all the while fostering his nature studies.

"The other boys would go fishing for bass or perch, and I'd go fishing for specimens," said Mr. Lermont. How successful he was may be judged from the fact that three large rooms in the old homestead are packed with relics for which there is no room in the present museum. He bemoans the fact that there is not a large fireproof building devoted to this purpose and cites the instance of Mrs. Fannie Ekstrom of Brewer, who after vainly trying to get the State and Maine collectors to take over the collection of birds made by her father, a famous ornithologist, gave it to the State of Rhode Island, which erected in Roger Williams Park, Providence, a building costing $35,000 in which to house it.

A wonderful gem collection also went from Maine because there was no provision for it in this State. The State has produced some wonderful fossils, but these, too, have gone to Boston and New York museums.

The only outstanding collection of fossils in this section of the State is at North Warren, but Aroostook County is rich in them, and they abound in Washington and Somerset Counties.

Purpose of the Arboretum

Knox Arboretum is the only institution of its kind in Maine, and it keeps in close touch with the scientific world outside. Mr. Lermont's purpose has been to make it a sanctuary for wild life, with artificial nesting places for rapt, red and flying squirrels, and a safe home for the many species of birds that inhabit it.

"They often speak of Mr. Lermont as 'the John Burroughs of Maine.' Names have no significance to the birds and animals of Knox Arboretum; they only know that Norman Lermont is their friend.

Nut-batchers come freely into his dining room, passing up cake, bread or meat with the utmost indifference and overjoyed when they find the butter plate. One pair which had chummed with the naturalist came back next summer with their brood, and flew unhesitatingly into his side.

Shipmunks knew full well when meal time came, and would make their way freely into the dining room eating bread from Mr. Lermont's hands. One became so tame that he would climb to the bread bin and allow himself to be lifted from the floor when Mr. Lermont desired to tease him. Another chipmunk developed a jealous spirit, and would allow no others in the room while he was playing with Mr. Lermont.

Woodchuck come freely into Mr. Lermont's dooryard, having long since learned that he keeps neither cat nor dog, lest they be molested.

Mr. Lermont also sets traps for mice and rats rather than endanger his wild pets.

The Lermont homestead is known as "The Willows," because of the trees which were set along the border of the estate away back in 1810.

His park was originally known as Lermont's Park—"where the rivers meet."

Mr. Lermont is a member of the Automobile Legal Association, Eastern Trust Bldg., Bangor, Est. 1907.

WITH THE FISHERMEN

Stray Items Gathered Along This Section of the Maine Coast.

Smack Crustacean is on station in Mackerel Cove and Capt. Maynard Herrick is buying lobsters. At present the price is 26 cents. From the opening of the season till now lobsters have been very scarce. Recently the business has been picking up a little.

Harry Johnson and Hiram Stanley at Minto, Frank Bridges at Old Harbor and Maynard Herrick at Atlantic are buying lobsters.

Seth Joyce and Donald Joyce launch their new 29-foot and 26-foot motor-boats at Joyce's yard at Mackerel Cove this week.

Orrin Milan and Manford Smith at Graveyard Point, Old Harbor, are building a large, new motorboat for the lighthouse keeper. The boat is nearly planned. It will be used for lobstering.

Freeman Staples has his new boat in commission and is busy trying to catch lobsters.

Most of the lobstermen are using new bait. Charles Rowe and Earl Morse have been getting herring at their weirs at the northern end of the island. Joe Harmon of Stonington has been bringing herring from the west-end and selling them at $1.25 a bushel. Prices for bait vary but average a dollar a bushel.

Lo Rummell and Harold Lawson have been getting herring off the Mt. Desert shore.

The Underwood plant at McKinley has been getting some trips of suitable sized herring and are now ready to pack sardines.

Clyde Torrey and Harry Sager have been doing well at handlining.

Herman Conary took out 250 bushels of herring from his weir at White Island one day this week.

While it is too early for good trawling, and lobsters few and low priced, many of the local fishermen have been handlining and have been bringing in mediocre hauls. They bring the offshore boats have had little luck and some of them didn't get a hundred pounds of fish, but inshore, between John's Island and outer Long Island, thirteen boats with crews engaged in handlining averaged a thousand pounds apiece.

Pollock are reported schooling outside, but no big hauls have been made.

Ben Matthews, the reputed halibut high-liner, brought in the first halibut, a 30-pounder, and has since brought in many more. They bring 15 cents a pound wholesale and in the town they retail at 80 cents.

Mr. Patch, who last year conducted the medicinal oil plant of the Parkhurst fishery, has independently leased Potato Island, adjacent to the Johnson fish stand, and will continue the business there, rendering the oil from livers brought in by the Johnson fishermen.

The Parkhurst Company will continue the medicinal oil plant with increased efficiency at the factory at the steamboat wharf, on the west side of the harbor.

Harry Stockbridge has sold his motorboat to Austin Sprague and in turn has bought the boat formerly manned by Elmer Gordon.

Harry Sager has sold his motorboat to George Matthews and has disappeared of his traps and has gone to Canada, where he expects to be employed during the summer.

Harry Johnson has launched his new 38-foot motorboat, which he will use in conducting the business of fish stand. He has already begun the construction of another motorboat.

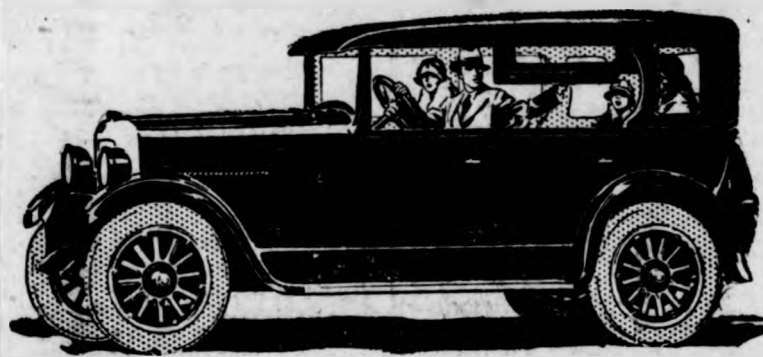

Ralph Dawes is getting herring from his weir at Toothacher.

A man from Corea will conduct the lobster business formerly managed by Alonzo Sprague.

Many more boats are now engaged in lobstering at Vinalhaven.

Gregory at Vinalhaven has built and launched a 35-foot motorboat for fishermen at Monhegan.

The lobstermen at Beals Island are enjoying their newly attained independence of local government having, after efforts covering several years, succeeded in having Beals Island separated from Jonesport. Joyful at their success they shipped lobsters galore to Augusta to feed the legislature.—"The Fishermen's Doctor," in the Atlantic Fishermen.
