The Courier-Gazette THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.—I. Peter 2:9.

KILLING 'EM OFF

The shooting down this week of another of the western desperadoes clears by that much the murder and bank robbery atmosphere of those vexed regions. That there remain yet others of these freebooting outlaws to be reckoned with leaves the subject open for still further exploitation by the newspaper press, in whose columns the achievements of those villains take on that color of romance which is not without its appeal to the loose-minded, who find themselves moved thereby with the spirit of emulation. The thing that gives the law-abiding citizen comfort, is the steadiness with which the forces of the law continue to close in upon these murderous gangs, eliminating the public enemy, as he is styled, with the distinguishing title of Number One. The sad thing in it all is the sacrifice of the lives of law officials who are shot down by the outlaw, as in too many instances he makes his get-away.

THE BEAUTY OF WORDS

What progress are you making with your vocabulary? Not that part of it which has traffic with the untaught side of life and is readily picked up as one goes along, but the other fashion, which is engaged with life as we'd like to live it and gives some suggestion of refinement to the uttered speech of the tongue or what the pen sets down in the letter to a friend. There is a fascination to certain words that one finds accumulated in a dictionary of English. This should recall out of our high school days, the huge Webster that lay upon the front seat and which the pupil was allowed at any time to consult without the formality of asking. If the writer of these lines were to confess to a fact, he would refer to this unique privilege, which opened to him an early encounter with the beauty of words "filthy spoken," and the pleasure to be had out of a well-considered co-ordination of them. It is the thing with which the author binds his story to us with hooks of steel. At the moment we may not appraise what he is doing, but eventually the spell of the writer comes to be laid upon us and forthwith he stands in our grateful recollection. This is the thing of unthought beauty that your Bible and your Shakespeare lays down before you. The thing that keeps alive in the hearts of men the writings of Charles Dickens and Robert Louis Stevenson. The thing that has just held this writer again with "Kidnapped," and finds him each evening of the present week once more inexorably associated with that proved friend "David Copperfield."

REAL HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

Further illustration of public doings that bring comfort to the citizen's mind, is the progress of the highway work being carried on between Camden and Lincolnville Beach. It is a piece of business of no ordinary character, involving as it does the cutting down of that formidable and historic Spring Brook hill, and the re-erecting besides of a long stretch of road with which the public that travels, for either pleasure or business, has had over long periods of years nothing but an unhappy engagement. As a proper completion of the highway that links this region of the coast with that upper section in which Bangor figures as the Queen City, the work being done and the money expended upon it will bring to our own people, and the throngs of visitors who in summer-time happily adventure upon these romantic edges of the ocean, the highest possible satisfaction.

MOTOR FATALITIES

Since the present month opened the records tell us, Maine has recorded a total of twenty deaths from automobile accidents. It seems to be great a toll, and the sorrow of it is that these killings, in the face of all practiced precautions, year by year, increase in number. It isn't your own car that seems to give you concern, for you are fortified in your mind by the assurance that you are a careful driver, with every regard for the other fellow. But what is he going to do? There are serious problems of the road remaining to be dealt with, if the citizen who takes his car out in the morning is to do so with any feeling of assurance that later he will return home in it, instead of in the official ambulance.

In the connection it may be well again to direct the reader's attention to the fact that his car must undergo an official inspection before November dawn—a campaign addressed to this very point of eliminating, as the winter season advances, every car defect that might contribute in any degree to the perils, seen and unseen, of highway driving. The garage man will attend to your car in this connection. Otherwise the state authorities will attend to it.

MRS DEBORAH GARDNER

Member of Former Prominent Rockland Family Dies at Her Illinois Home

Mrs. Deborah Chandler Gardner died at her home at Hinsdale, Illinois, on Wednesday, Sept. 12, 1934, after a short illness. She was the widow of Henry A. Gardner, Sr., a prominent Chicago lawyer who died in 1911. Mrs. Gardner, daughter of Reverend Samuel Clement Fessenden and Mary A. G. Fessenden, was born at Rockland, Maine, and went to Stamford, Connecticut, with her parents when they moved from Rockland to that city in 1865. She resided at Stamford until her marriage, which took place at the family homestead on Fairfield avenue in 1878. Upon her marriage she went to live at Chicago where her husband was engaged in the practice of his profession and after living there for a number of years they moved to Hinsdale, where she had since resided. Mrs. Gardner was greatly interested in Hinsdale social, civic and church affairs and was an active worker in them, giving to them largely of her time, energy and help. She was a leader in church activities and in social life.

She is survived by five children, Mrs. William Anderson of Hinsdale, Henry A. Gardner, Jr., of Winnetka and Chicago, Mrs. William B. Brown of Wheaton, Illinois, Mrs. George H. Bent of Pasadena, California, and Robert A. Gardner of Lake Forest and Chicago, Ill. The one-time holder of the pole vault record and also amateur golf champion. There are twenty grandchildren, among whom are Gardner Brown, who played on the Yale varsity baseball team, and Robert A. Anderson, who was a member of the Yale varsity swimming team, and Keith S. Brown of Yale, the present holder of the pole vault record. The two sisters are Mrs. William P. Huxford and Miss Susan S. Fessenden, both of Stamford. The burial was at Hinsdale.

The two sisters above named are sole survivors of the Fessenden family, that one time filled a large place in the church and social life of Rockland. From 1838 to 1855 Mr. Fessenden was pastor of the Congregationalist Church, and from 1860 to 1862 represented this district in Congress. Here were born and lived the twelve children of the family, until the removal to Stamford. The elder son, Capt. Joshua served in the Civil War, and the younger brother, Hon. Samuel, represented Connecticut as U. S. Senator from that state; while marriages on the part of the daughters gave to the family a wide distinction. There was retained by them all a fondness for the city of their birth and the old-time friends. Mrs. Huxford had hoped to repeat this present summer her frequent visits here, but was prevented by illness.

The Fessenden home stood at the corner of White and Maple streets, a large and handsome edifice, built by Mr. Fessenden. Later, it passed into other ownership and was for many years one of the distinguished dwellings of the city, sold finally to be used as the local hospital and taken down in 1923 to give way to the brick reconstruction of that institution.

DUBORD'S CHANCES SLIM

The apparent 1701-vote lead Senator Hale had over Dubord, his Democratic opponent in last month's Maine election, was cut to 1112 at completion yesterday of inspection of all but one county's votes. With 15 of the 16 counties' ballots examined—Cumberland to be inspected today—Dubord, Democratic national committeeman, had a net gain of 143 votes.

SEASON NEARS END

Hallowell High Here Saturday For Final Game—Junior High Wins

The final home game of the season for Rockland High School is to be played at Community Park Saturday at 2 p. m. when the orange and black will meet a strong Hallowell team. Last year Rockland lost to Hallowell 12-0 mainly because the team was playing without four of its regulars out of the game because of scholastic difficulties and injuries. This week however it seems almost the same as last year's story with Glover, star Rockland halfback out with an injured shoulder, Poland, sturdy right tackle cut with an attack of boils, and Captain Crockett's old knee injury not healed since the Brewer game. Without these men Rockland will be very much weakened. A decided improvement in the play of the team was noticed as Coach Szak drove his squad through the longest workout of the season yesterday. The blocking and the running, although a bit ragged at first, seemed to improve as the first team rolled up nine touchdowns against the second team in a regulation game.

It is hoped that a large crowd will attend for this will be the last chance to see one of the best Rockland High School teams in years.

Another good game should be the Camden Freshmen and Rockland Freshmen when they met at Community Park Friday morning at 10 a. m.

Junior High 20, Freshmen 7

A well-drilled junior high team defeated the heavy Rockland High School freshmen 20-7. The Knowlton coached boys smashed to two touchdowns in the first half mainly through the brilliant work of Raye who blocked a kick behind the goal line and fell on it for the score; and Skinner a rangy halfback who skirted the right end for the second touchdown. The second half found the Fresh in a 60-yard sustained drive with Rawley and Anderson tearing through the junior high line for long gains, Anderson finally going over for the touchdown making the score 13-7. However the junior high found itself momentarily, received the kickoff and through some great ball carrying by Huntley, Skinner and Billings, finally scored again making the score 20 to 7.

ROCKPORT

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Lodge, F.&A.M., was held Monday evening and these officers elected: Lawrence Miller, W. M.; Samuel Dow, S. W.; W. Leman Oxtun, J. W.; Charles W. Jenkins, treasurer; Harold S. Davis, secretary; E. Stewart Orbeton, Frederick F. Richards, Lou E. Upham, trustees elected for three years.

Mrs. J. H. Young, who accompanied the remains of her husband from Philadelphia for burial here in Sea View cemetery, is remaining for a visit of two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Earle C. Dow.

Twenty-two members and guests of the Trytohelp Club enjoyed a poverty supper of pea soup, Johnny cake and doughnuts at the Baptist vestry Monday evening. The costumes worn by several present added much to the merriment of the occasion. Following the supper a quilt was tacked and the remainder of the time spent with music and social chat. Next Monday night the club will be entertained at a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Etta Salisbury, with Mrs. Salisbury, Mrs. Frank Salisbury and Mrs. E. A. Champney as hostesses. Members are requested to dress in Halloween costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Snyder and Miss Juanita Booker of Bangor were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Cain.

Mrs. Ralph Blakley and guests, Mrs. Florence Johnson of Chestnut Hill, Pa., and Mrs. Fred Cooper of Jersey City, N. J., motored Wednesday to Bar Harbor and Cadillac Mountain.

Members of the Baptist Sunday school will hold a Halloween social at the vestry Wednesday evening with the superintendent, Miss Helene Dunbar in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlton Davis leave today for Vinalhaven for a visit with his brother, Charles B. Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Havener returned Saturday to Kittery Point after two weeks' visit with his mother Mrs. Gertrude Havener.

Congratulations are extended Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blackington of Camden on their marriage Oct. 20. Rev. F. F. Fowle the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Blackington (Mary Morong) formerly lived in Rockport where she has many friends.

Mrs. Elista Thompson was given a surprise dinner party Sunday at her home by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson, with turkey as the piece de resistance, augmented by an attractively decorated birthday cake, the occasion celebrating her 65th birthday anniversary. Guests were her sister, Mrs. Margaret Crockett of Rockland, who also celebrated her 80th birthday this month, and daughter Lottie Robbins and Miss Margaret Perry also of Rockland, and S. E. Cooper. Mrs. Thompson received several nice gifts and also a shower of cards and letters.

CAMDEN

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jay Potter have returned from a trip to Mooshead Lake and Millinocket.

Miss Harriet L. Gill underwent a surgical operation at Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston, recently and friends will be pleased to learn that reports are very favorable.

Mrs. L. E. Wardwell is spending a week in Boston.

Mrs. Maude Robinson of Boston is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. E. Rokes, High street.

At Amity Lodge, F.&A.M., Friday night, there will be work in the Entered Apprentice degree.

Miss Elizabeth Thomas is having a vacation from her duties as clerk at the LaFolle Shop.

Miss Bertha Clason and Miss Jessie B. Hosmer will entertain the Congregationalist Good Cheer Class next Thursday evening.

The annual rummage sale by ladies of the St. Thomas parish will be held at the parish house Nov. 8-9.

An open meeting of the Friends-In-Council will be held Nov. 6, not Oct. 30, as previously stated, with Mrs.

Alton French and Mrs. P. J. Good as hostesses. If the weather is pleasant the meeting will be held at Mrs. French's cottage at Coleman Pond; if stormy, with Mrs. Good, Elm street. Mrs. A. E. Luce of Bucksport, formerly of Camden, will give a book review.

The dance at American Legion hall Saturday night will be a Halloween one with music by the Morse orchestra. All who wish are invited to attend in costume and prizes will be awarded to the worst dressed man and woman.

Dr. J. Carswell is in Community Hospital, the result of an automobile accident Tuesday night while returning from a professional call. He was found by a passing motorist near the Alden Knight residence on upper Mechanic street. He is suffering with multiple cuts and bruises but his condition is not considered critical. His car was a wreck and it seems miraculous that he escaped with his life.

L. B. Ross, 72, ended his life by shooting shortly after noon Wednesday in the rent over Fred Miller's store on Washington street, which he had been occupying the past week with E. Burnham Small. He was for many years employed by Dr. George Shorkley, a former physician in this town, and for the past few years had been employed as janitor for the Knox County Trust Company and the Camden National Bank. No relatives survive. Ill health is supposed to have been the cause. Medical Examiner Frohock of Rockland was called and pronounced it a case of suicide. Mr. Ross was a member of Camden Lodge, K. P., and had held many offices in the order. Services will be held Friday at 2 o'clock from the Good funeral home, and will be conducted by the Knights of Pythias. Interment in Achorn cemetery, Rockland.

Robert Dexter is having a vacation from his duties at Boynton-McKay Pharmacy, and with his wife and son is visiting in Littleton, N. H.

A postcard dated Miami, Fla., says that the Legionnaires are certainly entertaining themselves in that city. The card was a thoughtful remembrance from Hector G. Staples, the energetic adjutant of Winslow-Holbrook Post, who is probably in the center of activities down there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Witham and nephew Edwin Witham, returned Sunday night from a week's hunting in the Chesocook region bringing two nice deer. The nephew was taken along because of his talent as an artist but he took time out to shoot a 12-point buck, and became quite the hero of the expedition.

In Iowa the other night Congressman Moran made three speeches in behalf of Congressman Wearin, whose secretary, writing to the Moran office in this city, says: It was a splendid speech, and just the kind needed." Mr. Moran is now stumping in Nebraska and will not return to Rockland until Nov. 8. Oct. 19, he spoke over Radio Station KOIL.

The Maine Register for 1934-35, published by the Fred L. Tower Companies, has made its appearance on the editorial desk, with its customary broad waist measure. Between covers are 1827 pages of indispensable information relating to every city, town and hamlet in the good old Pine Tree State. The Maine Register, the County Directory, the Dictionary which should be named first in importance?

Away back in 1874 they had a baseball team down at Clark Island, and a very good one, as the results showed. The Courier-Gazette is indebted to Mrs. Charles Lewis for the group picture in which the team was immortalized. The members of the team were: Will Felt, catcher; James Felt, pitcher and right field; Jim Mills, first base; Jack Mills, second base; Fred Collett, third base, James Monaghan, shortstop; N. Maker, left field; N. A. Hall, centerfield; Jim McConchie, right field and pitcher. Jim Felt's ball playing days may be over but he is still one of the game's best supporters and rooters in Knox County.

The Navy Department has set the quota for new enlistments for November and December for the Recruiting Division which comprises the New England States, New York and Pennsylvania at 484 men. Of this total 60 have been assigned to the New England District of which the Boston Recruiting Station is the headquarters. Men enlisted must be between the ages of 17-25, must be qualified mentally, morally and physically and have no police or juvenile court records. Applicants found qualified and enlisted will be transferred to the U. S. Naval Training Station, Norfolk, Virginia for a period of training before being assigned to duty aboard ship.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Edith Lana Maloney, who passed away Oct. 25, 1932. Dearest loved one, how we miss you. None will ever know our pain. Our sorrow since we lost you. But God is good, we must not complain. But dear Edith, the lonely hours, Night and day are all the same. But we hope through God's great mercy We will meet once more again. That we will meet you up in Heaven. Hear those kindly words of cheer. See the smiles and know the pleasure That we knew when you were here. Father, Mother, Brother, Grandparents, Aunts and Uncles, Cushing and Thomaston.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Kendall L. Stone who passed away Oct. 25, 1933, and composed by his sister, Mrs. Leroy V. Pierce. 'Twas a year ago, dear loved one That God called you from above; Called you Home from griefs and sorrows To Everlasting Arms of Love. But, oh for us, how sad the parting When you crossed to the other shore. For we cannot hear your voice Nor your eyes see any more. But you'll linger in our memories Until we, too, shall hear His call When He shall no more wonder dear But seeing, understand it all.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, and for the beautiful floral tributes at our recent bereavement.

SURVEY TELLS RATE OF DEATHS ON JOBS

Stable Hands Found to Have Highest Mortality.

New York.—What effect has a man's job on the length of his life? An answer to this question is offered by Miss Jessamine S. Whitney, statistician, National Tuberculosis association, in a report of a five-year study conducted under her supervision and made public here by the association.

The highest death rate from all causes for working men, fifteen to sixty-four years of age, was found among hostlers and stable hands, 36.22 deaths per thousand employed. The rate for operatives in harness and saddle factories was 30.55; for aviators, 28.73; for operatives in cigar and tobacco factories, 19.32, which was also the rate found for boatmen, canal men and lockkeepers. The rate for garage laborers of the same age was only 6.65.

Sailors' Rate 17.28.
Sailors and deck hands had a rate of 17.28. These may be compared with school teachers, with a rate of 4.42, and social and welfare workers, with a rate of 2.75, or with the rate for all "gainfully employed males," aged fifteen to sixty-four, of 8.70 per thousand.

In the public service guards, watchmen and doorkeepers died at the rate of 20.25 per thousand. Firemen showed a rate of only 6.71.

General laborers in the public service had a rate of 7.15, but garbage men were found to have an index of 11.30. The rate for postmasters was slightly higher than that for mail carriers, the figures being respectively 11.00 and 6.10.

Lawyers Only 7.89.
Other comparisons taken from the reports are: Lawyers, judges, and justices, 7.89; physicians and surgeons, 10.00; clergymen, 10.33; cemetery keepers, 6.50; college presidents and professors, 2.90. Rates for laborers in the chemical and allied industries were low at 5.13, and laborers in soap factories, 3.29, while for inventors, the rate is 17.65 and the draftsmen 3.21.

Managers and officials of real estate companies have a rate of 5.64, but for real estate agents it is 10.09. Chauffeurs and truck and tractor drivers, 6.19; draymen, teamsters and carriage drivers, 17.69; telephone operators, 10.09, and telephone operators, 4.30.

After the age of forty-five, heart disease claims more than the average of professional men, but the rate for agricultural workers is only half the average.

Plant Nuts, Shrubs and Vines to Aid Wildlife

Washington.—This is a nutty story, but one that can help wild life to a great extent if sportsmen and others will follow its plea, officials of the American Game association point out.

Plant nuts.

They urge that all start individual food-tree, vine and shrub planting campaigns. All one has to do is to carry along a few nuts or seeds or scions and plant the former or graft the latter. Then there will be plenty of nuts for everybody, including wild birds and animals.

The fall is the time to plant nuts. With walnuts, hickory nuts, hazelnuts, chinquapins, butternuts, beechnuts and nearly all other kinds of edible nuts, all one has to do is to crush the hulls and push the nut into the ground, either with the heel or stick a hole in the ground and then ram the nut down the hole. Nuts, for best results, should be planted four inches deep. And where will one plant them? In the woods, along hedgerows, on the lips of lakes and streams, and wherever they will be of benefit to wild life without interfering with farm practices. Most landowners are glad to give permission for such planting.

Fire in Range Disturbs Squirrels; One Dies

New York.—When fifteen-year-old Jack Hare built a fire for the first time in a year in a kitchen range in his home in Patchogue, he heard frantic squeals of protest.

As he lifted the stove lid he saw a mother squirrel scurry up the chimney, leaving behind three newborn squirrels.

One little fellow's paws were burned badly. Jack put the three in a box under a tree. They squealed so loudly that he put them to sleep with etherized gun used in his model aircraft work.

A few hours later two were missing. The mother had carried them away. One died.

Flock of Ducks Lose in Battle With Bees

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Bees attacked a flock of ducks on the Howbridge farm near here and killed 11 of the ducks. For some time the bees and ducks had been sharing an orchard in amicable fashion. Suddenly the fight started.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and rank and the world looks unkind, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THE SAUNTERER

A. B. Crocker

"I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier." Many of you old-timers will remember that popular song which was in vogue about the time the World War began 20 years ago. Now, we didn't raise our Buddy, the pigeon, to be a fighter, but he is nevertheless and notwithstanding. While he was with us I gave him Shakespeare to read and pointed out to him in Hamlet, Polonius's advice to his son Laertes, "Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but being in, bear't that the opposed may beware of thee." "That's good advice Bud, better follow it," I said to him. "Peep, peep!" he replied. We thought naturally being brought up in the house that Bud would be a sottie or a sissy, but not so, mildred, not so. He didn't quarrel but while he was yet in the pin-feather stage, and getting his sustenance from his daddy, I used to say to him when he came around with daddy for food, "Drive 'em off Bud. Don't let those other pigeons get your peanuts," and with a "Peep, peep!" he would jump at them so quickly that he frightened them away. The other morning I put their breakfast of bread and peanuts in the dish on the piazza and Pal and Bud came right up for their morning snack. Bud's brother, the big grey pigeon, took a chance and came up also and was feeding out of the dish. Pal was so busy eating at first that he did not notice him. When he did he tackled him and the fight was on. The grey was hungry and in fighting mood, and the battle was getting hot when Pal got cold feet and ran away. Then the grey tackled Buddy, and I heard Bud say, "Why, you big Bozo. Just because you scared my dad you can't scare me. Take that! and that!" and the little runt drove the big grey off the piazza. Bud was so mad then that he ran amuck. He went down into the street and all pigeons looked alike to him and he tackled them and drove them off, then he came back and he and his dad finished their breakfast in peace. A little incident happened in Cambridge the other day. Two men got into an argument on the street. One man was a husky, 180-pounder, the other a little runt. The argument got warm and the big fellow made a pass at his opponent. Well, when the big 'un came to in the hospital, he said to the nurse, "What happened? Did Bunker Hill monument fall on me?" "No," the nurse replied, "a lightweight English fighter gave you a gentle tap."

"Gee," said the big 'un, "lucky for me that it was a gentle tap, otherwise it would have been, 'Dig my grave both wide and deep, place lilies at my head and feet,' and taps for me." Moral: The battle is not always to the strong. Sometimes the weak one with courage and pep wins out. N. C. C. 2.

PRAISE ON ALL SIDES

tifully done, the feature stood out for its artistry and dignity.

The male quartet, Leon White, Jr., Wilbur Connon, Ted Ladd and Howard C. Ockett, scored a hit with their presentation of "Casey Jones and Mary Ryan," and Mr. White disclosed a delightful tenor voice in his rendition of "My Ship of Dreams." Mrs. Vivian Hewitt as the Melody Miss sang some old favorite popular airs in a winsome manner.

The Hill-Billy number "brought down the house," as well it should. The chicken reel with John G. Snow and A. L. Briggs as the "feminine" dancers and Dr. Crosby French and Dr. Blake Annis as their partners was "reel" stuff, and a clever pantomime presentation of "Frankie and Johnnie" was put on by Dr. E. W. Peaslee as Frankie, L. B. Cook as Johnnie, Ted Perry as Nellie Bly, the village vamp, and Tom Fleming as Smoky Joe, the "villain," and Ben Dowling singing the ballad. Mr. Dowling as Hiram Zilch and Jerome Burrows as Si Perkins, were genuine hill-billies, twang and all. Harold Libby, the new junior high school principal, wedged a spirited violin, with accordion, guitar and harmonica support lent by Carl Spear, Norman Webster, David Curtis, William Cross, Charles Ray and Burr Atwood, while a group of boys from the student body raised their voice in familiar hill-billy tunes. It was a rousing good act, well done and extremely atmospheric.

The Children's Story Hour which opened the show was a most attractive number, with Mrs. Lydia Storer giving her beautiful contralto voice in song while groups of small children stood around her, children garbed in pajamas ready for bed. A group of girls on one side of the stage and a group of boys on the other were singled out to spell the words Mother and Father, while Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Szek entered in the roles of Mother and Father. The tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

George Cross as just a member of the chorus scored a hit unconsciously, the little tot much intrigued by Aunt Adelaide in the wings and the antics of her young friends on the stage.

Dr. William Ellingwood, who was called professionally the first night before his feature came in the show, was on hand Tuesday night and gave his one-minute talk with all the aplomb of Dr. Royal Copeland.

Interspersed through the production were gay song and dance numbers, beautifully costumed, done by boys and girls of the student body.

The Stars and Stripes Revue which formed the grand finale was an impressive sight. Those taking part were Col. F. S. Philbrick as Yankee Doodle, Principal Joseph Blaisdell as Hero of the North; Samuel Szek as Hero of the South; Mrs. May Flanagan as Mother of the Blue and the Gray, Earl Withee and Frederick Favereau as soldiers, James Accardi and William Anderson as sailors, Nathalie Jones as Red Cross nurse, Blanche Morton as Columbia, and Milton Griffin as Uncle Sam. With the entire company assembled in the back singing the fine old songs of both the Civil War and the Great War, the leads above named entered, posed and arranged themselves to form a most effective tableau, the white uniform of Miss Jones standing out as a central theme around which revolved the various units. Singing of the Star Spangled Banner made a stirring close, with curtain calls demanded each night.

Mrs. Charlotte Jackson at the piano was assisted by Albert R. Marsh, violin and A. C. Jones, drums. Attractively gowned girls from the school acted as ushers, and several of the boys had charge of stage properties, lighting effects, and other off-stage features.

A highly gratifying feature the second night was having Miss Cross brought before the curtain and presenting her with flowers. She spoke in a charming manner of the happiness she had had with the cast in their splendid cooperation in putting the show over.

A very comfortable sum will be realized for the Parent-Teacher Association to carry on the commendable welfare work it is doing, such as providing footwear and clothing to enable children to remain in school, milk for undernourished children, establishing scholarship funds, and other good works in the city schools.

An expression of appreciation is extended to everyone who lent their aid, whether in the purchase of a ticket or in giving actual service.

THE SEA BREEZE

Mrs. James Gregory

It was with a feeling that I had lost a personal friend, that I read of Adella Veazie's death. I had never met her, but seemed acquainted through her Chimney Corner Chat and Rambles Afieid; also the N.C.C. Club, which she founded and of which I am a member. I had written to her asking about the club, received a friendly letter from her, in reply, and was given the number seven in club membership. I hope the N.C.C. continues, as I know she would like its members to do.

I enjoy the articles by Boze, also those of Nancy Savage of "Happy Farm." A few years ago on a trip to Rockland, having more time than I knew what to do with and not knowing any one to call upon, the thought came, "I will go call on Adella Veazie." Not knowing where she lived, I walked miles, it seemed to me, when I came to a house where some men were working so I asked a question, "Oh, said one, you are not halfway there yet." So he gave me some directions. "You will know the place by the flower garden around it," he said. So on and on I walked, but found no place that I thought answered. The day was hot, and I began to think how far I was from the steamboat wharf, so at last I turned and walked back. I am sorry now that I didn't keep on.

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?

Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts. Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.
