Interstate Most Spectacular Of $49 Million In Road Work

The Maine State Highway Commission now has under construction about 135 miles of highways and is constructing 24 separate bridges, ranging in size from structural plate pipes to multi-span structures. On September 1, there were 104 Federal Aid and State projects under various stages of construction throughout the state at a total estimated cost - including right of way and engineering - of $49,036,295.

Interstate Most Spectacular

Probably some of the most spectacular highway construction underway in the state is along the unfinished sections of the Interstate Highway. At present the work is concentrated in two areas. The first runs about 55 miles from Orono extending north to a few miles northerly of the Penobscot River in Medway. The second section now under construction is in Aroostook County and begins south of Dyer Brook and extends north and east over 20 miles to the Canadian border at Houlton.

Preliminary engineering projects are underway in the southern part of the state involving the Piscataqua River Bridge and approaches in Kittery; the I-295 loop in Portland; and the section of freeway to be built between Brunswick and Gardiner.

312 Miles Of I-95

The Maine section of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways is about 312 miles in length. It starts at the New Hampshire line in Kittery, extends from there to Portland, to Brunswick, Augusta, Waterville, Bangor, Old Town and northerly through Howland, Medway, Dyer Brook to Houlton where it will terminate at the Canadian border. This main line of the freeway in Maine is Interstate 95.

A short spur in Saco (I-195) is proposed as is I-295 an urban loop now in partial use in Portland. I-395, the spur in Bangor, was opened in 1959.

Interstate 95 will be a four-lane, divided highway in Maine except north of Route 16, Old Town where it will be a two-lane freeway. Right of way is being acquired, however, in the section from Old Town to Houlton so that two more lanes can be added when the need arises.

About 52 miles of the Maine Turnpike between Kittery and Falmouth and another eight miles between Gardiner and Augusta have been incorporated as part of the Interstate System. These two sections are not included in the schedule for future construction.

The first link in Maine's Interstate System, built by the SHC, was the nine miles from Freeport to Brunswick, opened to traffic in November 1957. The I-395 Spur in Bangor came next in 1959. The following year three Interstate facilities were completed - the 24 miles of prize-winning freeway from Augusta to Fairfield, the four miles in Bangor from I-395 to Hogan Road, and Tukey's Bridge in Portland.

In 1961, the eight miles of Interstate from Tukey's to the Yarmouth south interchange was opened; and in 1962 the short section from Yarmouth south to the Cousins River, and the five mile section from Hogan Road to Stillwater Avenue was put into service.

November 1, 1963 another 25 miles was opened from Bangor to Newport, and a year later, October 31, 1964, the 23.5 mile section between Fairfield and Newport was opened completing the Interstate between Augusta and Orono.

191 Miles Now Open

Sections of completed Interstate Highway now make it possible for the motorist in Maine to use 191 miles of safe, modern expressways all the way from Kittery to Orono, by following the Turnpike and sections of I-95 built by the SHC.

Next month the Commission expects to put into service the 24 miles of I-95 extending northerly of Stillwater Avenue, Orono to Route 115, in Howland.

Proposed completion dates for future sections of Interstate Highway are:

Route 155, Howland to Route 157, Midway; and from Oakfield-Smyrna Road to Houlton-fall of 1966.

Route 157, Medway to Oakfield - fall of 1967; Brunswick to Topsham, fall of 1968; Kittery-Portsmouth Bridge and approaches, summer of 1970; Topsham north to Richmond, and the remaining lanes of I-95 from Freeport to Yarmouth - fall of 1970.

The entire Portland Loop, from Richmond to the Maine Turnpike at West Gardiner, and the Saco Spur - fall of 1971.

Special Town Meeting Set For October 18 To Approve $15,000 For New Tax Maps

When Richard Hamilton came into the Town Council meeting Monday night he was chief assistant assessor. When he left he was in line for a three-year appointment as full time single assessor, he had authority to hire himself a full time office girl, and Council had agreed to call a special Town Meeting to request $15,000 to provide him with tax maps of the Town.

Recommended by Committee - All three moves were the recommendations of the Council's special tax assessing committee, comprised of Councilmen Gerald Gardner, James Ward and Bernard Maher. And all three of the recommendations were adopted unanimously by the full Council.

The special Town Meeting has been called for Monday, October 18, just one week after another special Town Meeting that will be staged for SAD 29.

The only article now being considered for the meeting will authorize the hiring of the James W. Sewall Company, of Old Town to furnish the Town with tax maps, and to authorize the Council to raise an estimated $15,000 for the maps.

For 1966 Tax Bills - Mr. Gardner said that the work by the Sewall Company would complete the Town's mapping. The maps, it was said, would be available by next spring, in time to be used for the 1966 tax bills. It is possible, however, that only mapping of the urban area would be available that soon, it was explained. Rural mapping might be arriving later.

Mr. Hamilton informed the Council that the Sewall Company would have to do new aerial mapping of the Interstate route through the Town. Otherwise, it was said, all the necessary flying has been done and now the Sewall Company has only to finish work that was started in the past.

Furnish Property Lines - The tax maps, Mr. Hamilton said, would be at a scale of 100 feet to the inch for urban areas, and 500 feet to the inch for rural areas. The firm would establish property lines and plot them on the maps. The Town would receive a set of linen maps that could be updated, and two sets of black and white photographic maps, Mr. Hamilton said.

The assessor said that by having a special Town Meeting now, it would be possible for the Old Town firm to fly its aerial photos this fall, while foliage was off, and thus have the maps available by next spring.

If the matter were delayed to the regular Town Meeting in March, he said, it would mean that maps would not be available for use until the 1967 tax bills.

Want Budget Comm. Approval - Chairman Fred C. Greaves said the Council would consult with the Budget Committee in an attempt to gain their approval of the $15,000 expenditure, and would also consult with the Sewall firm to arrive at a positive figure.

The $15,000 figure has been previously quoted, and was believed to be quite accurate.

Mr. Gardner also informed the Council that the special assessing committee was recommending a full time assistant for the assessor's office.

Part-Time Help Now - It was explained that the Town Office now has three full time persons doing clerical work, and uses a part time girl to assist in the tax department.

The volume of work is such, Mr. Gardner said, that a full time girl for the tax office seems advisable.

Mr. Hamilton was given the right to approve the person hired as his new assistant, and the person, presumably a girl, will be retained as soon as possible. No indication was given as to what the salary would be.

Council Ok's Single Assessor After Lively Public Hearing

The Town Council listened for more than an hour and one-half Monday night to arguments for and against an or-inance change that would establish a single assessor. With virtually no discussion on the part of the Council itself, the measure was then adopted by a unanimous 6-0 vote. 22 at Meeting

Twenty-two taxpayers turned out at the Municipal Building for the public hearing on the ordinance change. It was the largest crowd to attend a regular Council meeting in a long time, and filled the new Council chambers to overflowing.

Strong support to the proposal that would relieve the Town Council from the responsibility as tax assessors, and place that responsibility on the shoulders of a single assessor who would be doing the actual assessing came from several quarters.

The opposition was not against the proposal, but merely against the idea of having "an issue this important" decided at a public hearing rather than at a regular Town Meeting.

Residents Should Vote - J. Thomas Fitzpatrick, currently a member of the Board of Assistant Assessors, told the Council that there are many persons who will not express themselves at a public hearing, but would like to do so with their voting. He maintained that by not placing the issue before the regular Town Meeting, these people were being deprived of their right to expression.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said he felt that the change was a major one, in that it meant that the seven men who were elected by

Rotarians To Begin Soliciting Monday For Auction Items

Members of the Rotary Club will be out in force Monday as they begin the urban solicitation for their annual auction. Business men and merchants throughout the Town will be solicited Monday and during the week for the items they wish to contribute toward the auction. To Receive Cards

Robert Maxell, general chairman of the auction, said the urban solicitation is being directed by Walter Burlock and Jack Ketch. They will hand out solicitation cards to members at a special coffee Monday morning at the Northland Hotel.

The coffee is scheduled for 8:45 a.m., and Rotarians are being urged to attend and pick up their cards at that time. A progress report on the solicitations will be made during the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Club at noon Monday, also at the Northland.

Benefits French Fund - This year's Rotary Auction will again benefit the Oscar F. French Memorial Scholarship Fund at Ricker College. The Fund was started a year ago in memory of the late Mr. French, a prominent business man and a member of the Rotary Club.

Merchants are being asked this year to again contribute quality merchandise for sale at the auction. While the values of the merchandise is being left to the discretion of the individual merchant, they are reminded by Mr. Burlock and Mr. Ketch that all monies received from the sale will be turned over to the scholarship fund.

Three-Day Auction - The auction will be conducted November 22, 23 and 24 over the facilities of radio station WHOU. The items to be solicited from the merchants and business men will be sold during radio broadcasts those three evenings, with bids being telephoned in to auction headquarters at the Northland.

Drive Is Readied By Salvation Army

The Salvation Army annual appeal for funds is being launched officially tomorrow and will continue through the month of October.

Jack Ketch has been selected to serve as Chairman of the drive, and the goal has been set at $6,000.

Needy Families Aided - Due to the support of the community in the past year, the Salvation Army was able to provide meals, lodgings and food orders for needy families and individuals. Garments, plus shoes and rubbers were distributed weekly.

At Christmas time 111 Christmas dinners were given to families, providing a meal for 500 adults and children. Toys were distributed to 225 children. At Christmas and Easter 350 Sunshine Baskets and gifts were delivered to shut-ins at the hospitals and nursing homes. Religious services were held throughout the year with a total of 64 street meetings, 104 Sunday indoor services, 167 mid-week services and adult activities and 394 young people's services and activities, plus a 10-day Vacation Bible School.

Support Needed - "The support of the community is needed to continue these services," Mr. Ketch said. "If the campaign goal is reached this year, the Salvation Army will be enabled to assist needy families to a greater degree."

Workers will be calling at homes and businesses within the next week for contributions. Persons not at home when the call is made are urged to mail donations to the Salvation Army to the attention of the Campaign Chairman.

Now Is Time To Request Beet Quotas

Farmers interested in growing sugar beets in 1966-when Maine's 33,000 acreage allotment becomes effective-should make their intentions known just as soon as possible. $14.7 Million Plant

That was the word today from spokesmen for the Maine Sugar Beet Growers Association and Maine Sugar Industries, Inc., which will operate the $14.7 million processing plant now under construction.

To get maximum results in growing, land should be prepared in the fall, after potato harvesting. However, so that liming recommendations can be made, farmers should request soil typing and testing where necessary, and this work can be done by experts with no loss of time to those farmers busy with spud harvesting.

Time To Study Results - By requesting this work just as soon as possible it will give time for the results to be studied and then recommendations made. Typing can be requested through the local Soil Conservation Service office, and testing through the Aroostook Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Anyone wishing any further information on the sugar beet program should feel free to call Neal Kelley, manager of Maine Sugar Industries, in Easton; Lewis P. Roberts, coordinator for the Maine Extension Service in Presque Isle.

Scott Brown Dies Suddenly At Home

Scott Brown, a prominent Houlton attorney, died suddenly at his home at 8 Charles street Tuesday evening. Mr. Brown was 60 years old.

Mr. Brown had had his own law office on Market Square since 1944, and prior to that had been associated for a number of years with the late Thomas V. Doherty. He was honored in 1959 when he was selected as a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

On First Town Council

A highly respected attorney and citizen, Mr. Brown had been elected to membership of the first Town Council in Houlton when the Council-Manager form of government was established.

He served as trial counsel for the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad, and for many years had been a member of the Maine State Board of Bar Examiners. For a time during World War II he was with the Office of Price Administration.

He was born at Dexter on June 10, 1905, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Brown. His early life had been spent in Mars Hill and he was graduated from Aroostook Central Institute.

Graduate Of Harvard

Mr. Brown received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Bates College in 1927, and his law degree from Harvard University Law School in 1931.

He was admitted to the Maine Bar that same year, and in 1933 was admitted to the U. S. District Court, Northern District of Maine. In 1956 he was admitted to the U. S. Court of Appeals, First Circuit, Massachusetts.

His law career began in the office of his father, a prominent attorney, in Mars Hill. He came from there to Houlton and his association with the late Mr. Doherty.

Member Of Elks

He was a member of the Aroostook County, Maine State and American Bar Association, of the Elks Lodge of Houlton, and of the Masonic orders of Mars Hill.

He is survived by his wife, Susan B. Brown of Houlton; a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Le-

Burt Brewer Dies At Hospital In PI

Burt B. Brewer of Presque Isle, a member of the County Commissioners and resident commissioner for the past year, died September 22 at a Presque Isle hospital at the age of 61.

Worked In Houlton - Mr. Brewer had been taken seriously ill a few weeks ago while attending his duties at the Courthouse in Houlton, and had been hospitalized since. With all three of the Commissioners from Central Aroostook, Mr. Brewer had been serving as the resident commissioner, spending three or four days a week in Houlton.

He had been regularly attending the weekly luncheon meetings of the Houlton Rotary Club.

Mr. Brewer was born at Ashland on April 8, 1904, the son of Clarence and Leila Rafford Brewer.

Had Been Active In Farming - He had at one time been cashier of the Ashland Trust Company and was active in farming in the Ashland area. He had managed the International Harvester Company office in Presque Isle, and was the proprietor of the former Brewer Chevrolet Inc., in Presque Isle.

For many years he served as a director of the Northern Maine

Super Crane Needed For Beet Factory

A super crane to be used in the construction of the Maine Sugar Industries, Inc., sugar beet factory, will be on the site next week prior to the arrival of the first shipment of structural steel, according to MSI Manager, Neal B. Kelley.

Heights Up To 120 Feet - The super crane will be able to handle heights up to 120 feet. This is necessary for construction of the nine story main plant, the sugar silo and lime kiln. It will then be used for further "yard work" around the plant.

More than 400 tons of steel arrived Wednesday from Hamburg, Germany, and is being loaded on Bangor and Aroostook flatcars for shipment to Easton. The steel is expected no later than next Monday, and work will commence immediately.

Community Chorus To Open Third Year With Yule Concert

At a recent meeting of the Houlton Community Chorus at the home of Director Paul Paige, the executive board formulated plans for its third season.

Rehearsals for a program of Christmas music to be presented in the new high school auditorium early in December will begin on Monday evening at 7:30 in the Gentle Memorial Building.

The Chorus welcomes all who are interested in singing good music. Qualifications are minimum, merely an age factor of 16 or over, some ability to sing, one evening a week of time. Dues are limited to the cost of music only.

The chorus has a basic membership presently of about 50 men and women but would welcome new additions to swell the organization to a full 100 voices.

Presently the officers are: Ken Burton, president; Ann Barnes, vice president; Mildred Madigan, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Adams, recording secretary; Janice Palmer, treasurer; Beulah Tingley, librarian; Ken Young, publicity.

ON SALE FRIDAY — Mercury for 1966 again moves forward as a premium car in the medium-price field with tasteful styling changes, new engines and important additions to the option list, including disc brakes. Standard in top-of-the-line Park Lane series (above) and optional in other Mercurys is an exclusive 410-cubic-inch 330-horsepower engine. The new Mercurys will go on sale in dealer showrooms Friday.

Single Assessor

the townspeople as Councilmen and Assessors were relinquishing part of their responsibilities.
He said that if the Council continues to shed its responsibilities it will not be long before the council-manager form of government in Houlton will have outlived its usefulness.
"There is no rush on this," Mr. Fitzpatrick said. "Why not place an article in the warrant and let the townspeople vote on it during the regular Town Meeting next March?"
Richard Hamilton, the chief assistant assessor and the man who will undoubtedly receive the three-year appointment as the single assessor, said that until now it was impossible for the Council to do anything about the assessing set-up in Town.
The last Legislature, he said, passed a law that enabled the Council if it so chose to delegate the assessing duties.
He said the Legislature had given the matter serious thought before coming up with new laws that permitted towns of Houlton's size to appoint assessors and to appoint impartial tax appeal boards. The appointment of the single assessor in Houlton, he said, was merely following along with the Legislature's thinking.
Other Support
Support for the measure came from Rodney Palmer, former Council Chairman Kendall Carson and from William Miller.
Mr. Palmer said the Town needs to progress and set up its tax department up so that it can be in a position to compete for industry with other towns in the County.

Silo To Weigh 20,000 Tons
Meanwhile, work has started on the foundation for the sugar silo which will weigh about 20,000 tons. It will rest on solid ledge several feet below the ground.
If weather permits, the two mile long earth-concrete dam will be finished next week. The main lock is already in place and water has started to back up in the area of what eventually will be a 400-acre lake holding one billion gallons of water.
Experts following the growing of this year's 500 test plots of beets say they are extremely pleased with progress and feel that by the time harvest begins around the middle of October there should be a very successful crop.

Mercury Moves Ahead With Tasteful Styling Changes

The 1966 Mercury moves forward again as a premium car in the medium price field with tasteful styling changes, a new two-door hardtop roofline, new engines, a sporty S-55 series, and an extended list of luxury options. The new Mercury goes on sale Friday.
Gaining In Reputation
"Mercury is gaining a reputation in the medium-price field similar to that established in the luxury field by the Lincoln Continental," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division. "This is reflected not only in sales increases, but in improved owner loyalty, greater conquest sales and outstanding owner satisfaction."
"For 1966, we are continuing Mercury in the Lincoln Continental tradition with evolutionary styling changes, plus luxury car standards of top quality design and assembly, superiority in comfort and performance, and a wide choice of options for the custom touches demanded by owners in this premium car market."
New Front End
The new Mercury features a completely fresh front end appearance, with new hood, fenders, bumper, grille and lights. Rear appearance is changed with new taillamp assemblies and rear bumper arms which increase the overall length by two inches to 220 inches. Two-door hardtops have a new roofline with a concave fastback blending smoothly into the rear deck.
Other new styling features are revised side ornamentation, new instrument cluster facing and trim styles. The wastegate on the front fender can be replaced with an optional cornering light. The overall result of these styling changes is an even longer, well-proportioned silhouette. Big Change Under Hood Mercury's big change for 1966 under the hood includes an exclusive new 410-cubic-inch engine, a new optional 428-cubic-inch engine, and two improved and more powerful 390-cubic-inch engines.

Mercury also has an exciting new product offering in the S-55 two-door hardtop or convertible, sporty performance models with bucket seats and console, special S-55 ornamentation, and the new 428-cubic-inch engine with dual exhausts.
Mercury's stature as a car offering extra values is enhanced for 1966 with new optional disc brakes, cornering lights, and a stereo-sonic tape entertainment system. In addition, Mercury station wagons have as standard equipment a new dual-action tailgate which opens either from top to bottom or from the side to provide improved third seat access or greater flexibility for loading requirements.
Refinements have been made in Mercury ride and handling and fuel tank capacity is increased by four gallons to 25 for additional cruising range.
Mercury's new optional front disc brakes, already proven on the Lincoln Continental, result in less fade, superior straight-line stopping stability, negligible water effect, longer lining life and smoothness. Special fade or wear-resistant conventional brakes also are available as Mercury options, as well as heavy duty suspension.
A nine-inch TV set which plugs into the cigarette lighter is available as an accessory.

Moving ahead in the Lincoln
Continental tradition

This is the year to move ahead to the new Mercury's year. Your year. And just look at all the news there is! Ride news: the way Mercury moves is unique. Smooth, substantial, hushed—the finest ride this side of the Lincoln Continental. Style news: clean, classic lines—the only car in its class with a look all its own. Power news: engines range up to a muscular 428 cu. in. V-8. Luxury news: options such as the [Stereo-Sonic Tape System] that uses plug-in cartridges. Safety news: helpful options such as [cornering lights] that show you the way when turning into dark driveways. Exclusive options such as [rear doors that lock automatically] at 8 miles per hour. And in every Mercury, without extra cost, you get 12 important safety features, including [back-up lights, emergency flasher, padded dash and visors, four seat belts] front and rear, and outside rear-view mirror. Model news: the widest choice of Mercurys ever. 17 models in 4 series—sedans, hardtops, convertibles, and 2 wagons with the new [Dual-Action Tailgate] that turns into a door. Now's the time to see your Mercury dealer—and move ahead with

Sorority Plans For Its Annual Rummage Sale

Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Dunn with 15 members present. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Gerald Ellis and Mrs. Arnold Ellis.

Mrs. Gary Severson was welcomed back into the Sorority after an absence of three years during which she and her husband had resided in New Jersey. Mrs. Alvin Delong conducted the business meeting during which it was voted to serve as solicitors for the Mothers March in January. Plans were made for the annual rummage sale this Friday at the vacant building adjacent to United Dry Cleaners on Bangor street. Co-chairman are Mrs. Carvell Hatfield and Mrs. Rand Marsters. Mrs. Arnold Ellis, Mrs. John Dunn and Mrs. Donald Ellis were appointed to serve on the social committee for October, along with Mrs. Donald Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Arnold Roach. October will be rush month and tentative plans were discussed for the annual rushing party.

Mrs. Robert MacIlroy, assistant librarian, was the guest speaker. She discussed speech making, and emphasized points to remember when giving a formal speech, leading a group discussion, having a job interview, or during every day conversation. The next meeting will be October 13 at the home of Mrs. Maurice Kirby.

Indian Boy To Carry Safety Message For Hunting Season

An un-named, unsung Indian Boy in blaze orange breechcloth, carrying a tiny bow and arrow, will step forth Friday to open the 1965 Maine hunting season with the warning, "Be Seen in the Woods!"

Pen-And-Ink Creation

The pen-and-ink creation of the Governor's Committee on Hunting Safety, this little Indian boy hopes to become as famous as his counterpart, Smokey the Bear, who has for years warned the American public about forest fires.

News media and billboards will introduce him to the Maine public, and visitors to the state during the hunting season will find him on colorful highway signs just erected along interstate roads.

Posters To Go Up

Fish and game wardens will, within a few days, begin putting thousands of colored posters around the state. Other plans for the Indian Boy will be developed by the committee and the Fish and Game Department, which has provided much co-operation to the safety group.

Other states where hunting is important are watching the Maine program, and major safety agencies are lending a hand to the pioneer Maine project.

Hill On Committee

Maine is the only state thus far to have such a committee, whose members were appointed a year ago by Gov. John H. Reed. They were instructed to draw up a broad, hunting safety program to supplement that of the Fish and Game Department. The members include Roland Bell, 50 School Street, Houlton, Arrostook County's representative.

Without an appropriation, the committee has moved slowly and frugally but has adopted the Indian Boy as the symbol and mascot of its program. The group hopes to persuade the public to adopt blaze orange as the safest color to wear in the woods. The precise color hunters should wear is used on the Indian Boy's abbreviated clothing on signs and posters.

MAINE HUNTING SAFETY CAMPAIGN — Gov. John H. Reed, right, and Fish and Game Commissioner Ronald T. Speers, center, inspect safety poster artwork shown by William C. Mincher, chief of the Information and Education Division, Fish and Game Dept. The Department will produce and distribute the posters developed by the Governor's Committee on Hunting Safety. The Little Indian with his safety messages will appear also in newspapers, on television, and on highway signs.

Youth Problems Will Be Aired At UofM Conference

"The Problems of Youth" will be the topic of a Training Conference to be held at the University of Maine in Orono.

Dr. William Schumacher, M. D., director of Maine's Bureau of Mental Health and Correction, will be one of the featured speakers.

The conference is planned for Hauck Auditorium. Sessions start at 9 a. m. and adjournment is scheduled for 4 p. m.

Other speakers will be Dr. J. Allen Broyles, pastor of the Methodist Church, Orono; Joseph Burroughs, specialist in human relations and development, University of Massachusetts; Stanley L. Freeman Jr., assistant dean of College Education, University of Maine; F. Philip Rice, family life specialist, University of Maine; Alpheus Sanford, assistant professor of education, University of Maine; Anna Small, director of Franklin County Family Counseling Service.

Topics to be discussed will be: Toward a New Morality in Sex Conduct; The Church - The Teenager's Faith and Values; The School-Parent, Leader, Influence; The Home-Parent-Teen Relationships; Developing Friendships; Dating and Courtship; Preparing Youth for Marriage; Vocational Guidance; and the Ten Problems of Youth.

Further information and registration blanks may be obtained from the Extension office, 18 Bangor street, Houlton.

Town May Shutter Its Horse Stable

Horse owners have been given until November 1 to rent space in the Town owned stables at Community Park, with the understanding that unless sufficient horses are quartered there this winter the stables will be closed.

Town Council Acts

This action was taken by the Town Council during its regular meeting Monday night upon recommendation of Councilman Bernard Maher. Mr. Maher had headed a special committee some months ago that studied the stables and conditions surrounding it.

He reported at that time that it was costing the taxpayers about $1,400 a year to provide stable space for residents who could afford to have race horses.

Mr. Maher said that he has since learned that many of those renting space in the stable this past winter were not planning to do so again.

Need At Least 18 Horses

He said that it would be necessary to have at least 18 horses quartered in the stable this winter, at an annual rental of $100 each, in order to meet expenses involved with keeping the stable open. This, he said, includes water, plowing, the track and lights.

Fixed expenses, he said, such as payment on the mortgage, and insurance, were such that the Town is going to spend another $1,400 whether the stable is rented or not.

Mr. Maher suggested that the Council should see if SAD 29 has any use for the stable, with the idea that it might be sold to the school department and thus taken off the list of municipal tax burdens.

Tortoise Is Outdistancing Man In The Longevity Race

WASHINGTON — Man is living longer than ever, but in the longevity race he still hasn't caught up with the easy going tortoise.

Life expectancy for Americans has increased from 47.3 years in 1900 to about 70 today. More and more people are reaching the century mark.

The Soviet Union reports 21,708 centenarians, including 592 who say they are over 120.

Even a 120-year-old is a mere whippersnapper compared to some tortoises, the National Geographic Society points out. Claims of tortoises living 300 years and more cannot be authenticated, but one famous Marion's tortoise lived on the Indian Ocean island of Mauritius from 1766 to 1918 when it was accidentally killed at the age of 152.

"Jonathan" Saw Napoleon

"Jonathan," a famed tortoise on the Atlantic island of St. Helena, was reputedly 40 years old when Napoleon, was exiled there in 1815. Still alive at the latest report, the tortoise thus is reckoned to be at least 189 years old.

Size apparently has little to do with tortoise longevity, and the little American box turtle may live to be about 120.

In the lower animal orders, single-celled creatures such as amoebae live indefinitely because they reproduce by splitting in two. Among backboned animals, man seems to outlive everything but tortoises. Claims of two long-lived rivals—the elephant and parrot—have generally been disallowed.

One elephant lived to be 57, but the average life expectancy of the species seems to be about 45. There is no authenticated record of a parrot living to be more than 54.

A sampling of zoo records reveals that the vaunted tiger is not even an also-ran in the longevity stakes. The record for a tiger is believed held by "Dacca," who died at New York's Bronx Zoo this year at the age of 20.

A lion once lived to be 29; a hippopotamus, to 49. Several bears have survived into their thirties. Among fish, carp reportedly swam in ponds until 60 or 75. A durable tapeworm allegedly lived inside a man for 35 years.

White Crane Is 60

The oldest resident of the National Zoological Park in Washington is a white Siberian crane, acquired on June 22, 1906. Since the crane was already at least two years old when acquired, the Zoo's assistant director J. Lear Grimmer says it must be over 60.

A dog of 17 is the equivalent of a human centenarian. Smaller dogs, like fox terriers, cocker spaniels, dachshunds, and Pekingese, win out over larger dogs. A cat lived to be 21.

Among insects, mayflies last but a single day in the adult stage. Houseflies are more durable. A careful study of 8,500 flies kept in captivity on a diet of powdered milk, sugar, and water showed males living an average 16.88 days and females 28.74. Longer life for females is common among species ranging from ants to human beings.

Curiously, man's life span has not really lengthened much; the difference is that more people are living out their normal span. Once a man reaches 50 or so, his expectancy is little greater today than it was 150 years ago—about 25 years.

Scientists hope to increase the span by discovering more about the aging process in animals. They know that aging is an accumulation of bodily changes that increase one's chance of dying, but they do not understand the nature of these changes—why, for instance, a canary, which is about the same size as a mouse and has a much higher metabolic rate, should live six or seven times longer.

A mouse is ancient at four, while the hare—the tortoise's traditional rival—lasts only a few years longer. This is a strikingly poor showing in comparison with the durable tortoise.

Wives receiving social security benefits must notify the Social Security Administration if they become divorced.

Sisters Note Anniversaries With Open House At Houlton

Mr. and Mrs. William Hay celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLean their 25th wedding anniversary on September 22 with an open house at the Grange Hall in Houlton.

Mrs. Hay and Mrs. McLean are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCready.

Mrs. Hay's anniversary cake was made by her daughter, Mrs. Herschel Grass of Millinocket, and cut by her granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Currie.

McLean's cake was made by her niece, Mrs. Warren Gentle, and cut by another niece, Miss Linda Cone.

The gift tables were attended by Miss Debbie Grass of Millinocket, Mrs. Jerome Clifford of Gorham, Miss Mary McCready of Smyrna, and Mrs. John Hoskin of Gorham. Each couple received many gifts and a money tree.

The guest book was circulated by David Grass of Millinocket.

Guests included friends from Portland and New Brunswick.

Mrs. Donald McCready and Mrs. John McCready dipped punch, while Miss Dorothy Cone, Mrs. Arthur Gentle, Mrs. Lee Swimm and Mrs. Elbridge Merritt assisted at the refreshment table.

THE NEW COMET — Completely restyled for 1966, Comet features a new larger body, a host of luxury appointments and a wider choice of engines. Overall length has been increased by eight inches and wheelbase is two inches greater at 116 inches. Two Mercury 390-cubic-inch engines are added to the power offerings. Sportiest of the new Comets is the Cyclone GT model (above) which offers a high performance 335-horsepower V-8 engine and a unique fiberglass hood with simulated air scoops. The 1966 Comet goes on sale Friday.

Comet Has Greatest Change Since Arrival Six Years Ago

Mercury Comet, world's durability champion, for 1966 is the most completely changed car since its initial introduction six years ago. The new Comet goes on sale at Mercury dealerships Friday.

The 1966 Comet features a new, larger body with an entirely different sleek appearance inside and out. The wheelbase is lengthened for the first time and a wide selection of new big car options are introduced, including two 390-cubic-inch Mercury V-8 engines.

Three New Lines

A new Capri series and a Voyager station wagon join the Comet line, while the sporty Cyclone series adds a convertible model and a special high performance "GT" option.

The larger, more elegant 1966 Comet is a response to the public demand for premium automobiles in every segment of the market," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of Lincoln-Mercury Division.

"While moving this beautiful new Comet upwards on the product ladder, we are retaining one series at traditional Comet length for our customers who want a premium car value at no appreciable size increase."

Increased Length

The 1966 Comet offers customers a choice of two lengths, 196 inches for the "202" series and 203 inches—an increase of almost eight inches over 1965—for the upper series Capri, Caliente and Cyclone. Wheelbase is 116 inches, up two inches.

The new Comets are more spacious, with curved side glass and three-inch wider bodies significantly increasing roominess. Shoulder room is increased up to three inches and hip room more than two-and-a-half inches. Front and rear head room and leg room are greater, also. Front and rear tread are 58 inches, an increase of three inches in the front and two inches in the rear. Overall width of the car, including bumpers, is increased less than one inch, to 74 inches.

Big Luggage Capacity

Comet luggage capacity is increased in all models. Upper series sedans gain one-fourth more room at 17 cubic feet while the shorter "202" sedans offer 15 cubic feet of space. Station wagon cargo volume is raised to 85 cubic feet.

Styling of the new Comets is highlighted by a skillful combination of crisp and soft lines for a fleet and powerful appearance. The front end is marked by vertical headlamps and a two-port horizontal grill separated by a panel in the body color. Rooflines blend smoothly into the body.

Comet's fresh new styling theme is complemented by even livelier performance from a new optional regular fuel 390-cubic-inch V-8 engine rated at 265 horsepower with the manual transmission or 275-horsepower with the new dual range automatic transmission. Also offered as an option is the regular fuel 289-cubic-inch 200-horsepower V-8, the same basic engine which powered Comets on the 100,000 mile Daytona Durability Run from the Cape Horn to Alaska Run.

Cyclone GT Option

A high performance Cyclone GT option is being made available on Cyclone models which consists of a new premium fuel 390-cubic-inch 335-horsepower V-8 with dual exhausts, twin scoop fiberglass hood, engine dress-up kit, unique GT ornamentation, handling package and new sportshift automatic transmission on which gears can be changed manually. A fully synchronized four-speed manual transmission also is offered.

Comet makes many safety features standard equipment on all models for 1966. These include padded instrument panel and padded visors, windshield washers, outside rear view mirror, back-up lights, emergency flasher and front and rear safety seat belts. Windshields are double thickness vinyl laminated safety glass.

TIPS from Ruth Extension Agent

Many homemakers in this area who must use hard water find their teakettles and double boilers have a thick lime deposit.

To remove lime deposits from teakettle or other utensil, add three tablespoons vinegar to each quart of water and boil in pan five to 10 minutes. Rinse pan thoroughly. This should be done often to prevent a thick deposit forming which is difficult to remove.

To prevent lime deposits forming in the bottom part of a double boiler, add either one-quarter teaspoon cream of tartar or one teaspoon vinegar to the water in the bottom part.

To remove dark alkali stain from aluminum add two tablespoons of cream of tartar per quart water and boil five to 10 minutes.

Scour the inside of an aluminum pan after each use even though the pan was used only to heat water. This will help to prevent the build up of mineral residues which cause pitting of aluminum pans.

Foods are less likely to "catch on" or stick to a really clean pan than to one that has residue on it.

Location Sought For Shelter For Bus Children

A request to lease a triangular piece of land at Pennington and Military streets for the erection of a shelter for school bus children was received by the Town Council Monday night.

Council said it has been offered $12 a year for the 30-foot lot from an out-of-town company that wanted to erect a shelter for children who wait there for school busses. Council was informed that the company would in turn sell advertising space on the shelter.

The land being sought is now idle, the Council said, and the idea of a shelter for bus children has the approval of the school officials.

Councilman Bernard Maher, a real estate broker, then informed the Council that he was willing to purchase the land, and informally made an offer of $100. He intimated that he proposed to turn around and lease the property for use as a bus shelter.

Council responded with the thought that it was better to sell property for which it has no use and thus put the property on the tax rolls, than it was to lease. It then voted to advertise the lot for sale, with bids to be opened at the first Council meeting in November. The meeting will be November 8.

Wars and arguments have never settled a single dispute.

COMET

Introducing the lively new driving machines: the big, new-generation Comets.

Listen to the roar of the '66 Comets. They're bigger, wider, up to 8 inches longer than any Comet before. They make driving other cars seem like walking. Comet's new fire and spirited luxury come in 11 roomier models.

For a sample of Comet's style, take the Caliente. Notice the smart upholstery . . . the handsome, simulated wood-grain panels. For spine-tingling action try Comet's new Cyclone GT. Its new 390-barrel V-8 delivers the kind of go that can shove you right back in your bucket seat. Whatever you want — action cars with pure excitement, 3-speed or 4-speed manual transmissions or automatics, inviting interiors — Comet's got it.

Plus a long, tempting list of options that includes built-in air conditioning . . . power windows, power brakes, and power everything. All this in the most exciting parade of Comets ever. Drive a real driving machine at your Mercury dealer's today.

Ford To Unveil New Models With Dramatic Fresh Styling

Dramatic fresh styling—including a new two-door hardtop roof line—a new "7 Litre" series with 428-cubic-inch V-8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes, and even higher standards of quietness, luxury and performance stand out among 1966 Ford features. The new Fords are on display at dealer showrooms this Friday.

"The Ford was all-new just a year ago," said M.S. McLaughlin, Ford Division assistant general manager. "It represented the greatest tooling investment in Division history and was superior in ride and quietness to some of the world's finest cars."

Not Standing Still
In every sense, we had a sound competitive base for 1966 but we chose not to stand still. On that solid foundation we have built still more safety, convenience, quietness and performance into all 1966 Fords.

Important revisions have been in the revolutionary Ford suspension design introduced in 1965 to provide an even quieter ride and better handling in 1966. Front spring and shock absorber rates have been modified, and the rear suspension track bar has been lowered to achieve a better "balanced" ride. This fine tuning of the 1966 Ford suspension provides a better handling feel with reduced pitch and improved straight-line stability.

The number of engines available to Ford buyers has been increased to nine in 1966 from six in 1965.

New Engine Choices
Heading the list of new engine choices is a 428-cubic-inch V-8 with hydraulic valve lifters. This engine is standard on the new 7 Litre series, and is optional on all other Ford models. It is unique in offering the best of two worlds—outstanding performance combined with smoothness, quietness and low-speed tractability.

Another advantage is that the new 428 can be ordered with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, air conditioning and limited-slip differential—options not available with the extra high-performance 427 engine.

Optional Package
A special handling package similar to that standard with the 427 engine—including heavy-duty shock absorbers, springs and stabilizer bar—is optional for 428-powered cars.

Front-wheel power disc brakes are another standard feature of the 7 Litre series. They may be ordered on all other Fords for 1966. Disc brakes were pioneered on the Thunderbird and Mustang in 1965.

Optional Tape Player
A Stereonic tape player that provides up to 80 minutes of selected stereo music is another option new for Ford buyers in 1966. The tape player mounts underneath the dash.

Ford pioneering in station-wagon design also continues in 1966. To the dual-center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflector introduced last year has been added a new standard equipment dual-action tailgate. The dual-action tailgate may be opened either as a conventional tailgate for carrying long loads, or as a door to permit easy access to the cargo area or the dual-facing rear seat.

Introduction of the all-new Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre series with convertible and 2-door hardtop models expands the 1966 Ford lineup to 19 models in nine series from 17 models in eight series.

NEW LOOK FOR FORD—Dramatic styling—including a new two-door hardtop roof line—is shown in these photos of the Ford Galaxie 500 two-door hardtop (top) and the Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre two-door hardtop (bottom). The "7 Litre" is an entirely new series available in two-door hardtop and convertible models. It features a new 428-cubic-inch V-8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes as standard equipment. All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms Friday.

Safety Features
New safety features standard on all 1966 Fords include outside rear-view mirror, backup lights, padded dash and visors, rear seat belts, windshield washers and emergency flashers. New Fords also feature a thicker laminate windshield which has been shown to provide added protection in the event of a collision.

Maine's Wildlife:

The Red Fox

By Prof. Malcolm Coulter
University of Maine

DESCRIPTION: The red fox resembles a small dog with a pointed nose, large, dark ears, and a long bushy tail with a white tip. The overall color is reddish-yellow. Several color phases occur including the well-known silver fox. Weights vary from 7 to 14 pounds. The average is 9 to 11 pounds.

RANGE: All of Canada and the United States except Florida and parts of the southwestern states.

DISTRIBUTION AND ABUNDANCE IN MAINE: The red fox is common or abundant throughout the state.

HABITS: The red fox is a roving hunter, at home in farmlands, forests, or the edges of waterways. It is capable of eluding its chief enemy, man, with remarkable cunning.

Dens are seldom used except during the breeding season or when chased too closely by hounds. Generally the fox beds down in a swale or thicket for the day and hunts by night.

Old time gunners, familiar with the habits of foxes in their areas, took advantage of this behavior. By working in pairs, one man acted as driver and prowled through favorite bedding areas while the other waited at a likely run hoping for a shot.

FOOD: The red fox eats a variety of foods. Berries, grapes, apples, insects, frogs, snakes, mice, rabbits, squirrels, birds and carrion are eaten frequently. They have been observed catching and eating suckers stranded in shallow pools by receding spring flood waters.

The diet of the fox has been a subject for debate among small game hunters, orchardists, trappers, and poultrymen. There can be little question that under some circumstances the fox can be a serious predator on grouse, woodcock, pheasants, waterfowl and rabbits. In general, predation increases as the quality of game cover decreases. Thus, pheasants, for example, released in poor cover may suffer heavy losses from foxes. On the other hand, birds released in good cover are likely to survive. Most studies show that small mammals (rabbits and mice), fruits and berries, carrion, and insects are the most important staples.

REPRODUCTION: During midwinter foxes begin to travel in pairs. Soon thereafter, an old den is remodeled as a temporary home for the new family. After a gestation period of about 52 days, four to 10 (usually four or five) pups are whelped during late March or April. The pups are furred at birth. Within four to six weeks they begin playing about the entrance to the den. Both parents share the burden of rearing the family and at this season it is a common sight to see the adults hunting during the day, especially in the morning and late afternoon.

In addition to food, playthings are carried back to the young. Old shoes, rubber milking machine tubes, gloves, bleached cattle bones, shotgun shell cases, and harness straps have been carried to dens under observation.

REMARKS: Poultrymen will sometimes unwittingly encourage foxes to den in the vicinity of their farms. During winter, food may be scarce. But by throwing dead poultry on manure heaps or in the back field they provide ready meals for hungry foxes. The animals become accustomed to finding food in the immediate area and are much more likely to rear litter in the vicinity. The result is a litter of hungry pups to be fed about the time poultry are moved out onto the range.

Foxes occasionally carry rabies. Animals afflicted with this disease may remain around buildings and show little fear of man. The disease may be transmitted, through biting, to other animals or humans. A fox or other animal suspected of carrying rabies should be captured and the fresh, undamaged head sent to the State Department of Health, Augusta, Maine, for a rabies test. It is essential that the specimens be fresh and the brain undamaged. Prompt discovery of an outbreak is necessary if its spread to other areas is to be prevented.

The bounty system is often suggested as a method of fox control. Careful analyses of the use of the bounty system in many states, including Maine, indicate that it is an ineffective, expensive tool, that rarely controls foxes in a satisfactory manner. When foxes are abundant and causing damage, the most practical control is through trapping. At these times, all protection should be removed to allow local control by the landowner wherever and whenever necessary.

Institute Faculty Briefed On New Course Offerings

Featured at the first day of the Ricker Classical Institute Faculty Workshop Thursday and Friday were briefings on science, English and mathematics led by Marcus Russell, Cleon Hatch, Miss Frances Guest and John Elliott.

During the discussion of science, Mr. Russell reviewed the newly established space science course which he explained does not replace any previous offering but rather is a supplement to the science program. RCI offers geology, astronomy, biology, chemistry, physics and space science in its curriculum.

Mr. Hatch noted that the three major areas of concern in RCI's English program are language, composition and literature. He explained how RCI teaching objectives relate to the recently published report on English training by the Commission on English of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Miss Guest and Mr. Elliott discussed texts that will be used in the mathematics course and noted that proven elements of modern math will be included in all courses.

At the second day's session, staff members were familiarized with the Institute's extensive program of public relations that is designed to help the school relate effectively to the needs of its public. Recent activities that were discussed included the modern mathematics course for parents and the summer art show.

Health For All

When Doctors Agree
Definition of self-confidence? Well, there's the chef who dines on his own cooking. But there's a more impressive example: the doctor who follows his own advice. And 'tis pleasant to report that a good many of the latter are practicing what they preach, notably in one important area affecting health: cigarette smoking.

This information comes via a questionnaire launched by a medical journal and answered by more than 60,000 doctors.

It turned up some remarkable facts. For example, only 22 per cent of the reporting physicians were cigarette smokers, a drop of nearly 60 per cent compared to a similar survey made 10 years earlier.

Of course a lot has happened in those ten years. A lot of facts about cigarette smoking have been thoroughly confirmed. The U. S. Public Health Service, for instance, has announced its conviction that the cigarette habit is the leading cause of lung cancer; that it also causes chronic bronchitis; that most people who have emphysema have been long-term cigarette smokers. Only 2.8 per cent of the 60,000 doctors now profess any doubts as to whether cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

All of which helps to explain why tens of thousands of doctors have cut out cigarette smoking in recent years. So, of course, have a certain number of other people — though at far from the same spectacular rate.

Will a method be found to make quitting easy for most habitual cigarette smokers? It hasn't happened so far; but one can continue to hope. Meanwhile, especially if you're young, there is one sure-fire method to escape all those worries about stopping. Don't start!

The National Tuberculosis Association is offering a helpful leaflet, "Cigarette Smoking, The Facts." Ask your local Christmas Seal organization for a free copy.

Open House At Dyer Brook Honors Morrison Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alston L. Morrison were honored September 4 with a surprise open house on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The open house was given by their family at their home in Dyer Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were taken to supper by his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Glazier of Hallowell, and upon their return 85 guests had gathered to surprise them.

Assisting in serving were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bowers, Chris and Helen Bowers, Miss Cathy McLaughlin, Miss Jeannean McLaughlin, Miss Charlotte Morrison and Ronald Durr. Miss Betty Morrison circulated the guest book and served the anniversary cake.

IS YOUR WATER BILL TOO HIGH?

As many of our water users inquired as to the why's and where-for's of the recent increase in water rates, we are attempting to answer general questions through a series of newspaper advertisements.

Mr. Average Customer uses 1600 cubic feet or 12,000 gallons of water every three months. This is an average daily use of 133 gallons which costs about 6 1/2 cents. Of course, the amount of water used by each family varies over a wide range; however, the 12,000 gallons is an average among all our residential customers.

While the charges for water have increased, Houlton customers still enjoy the lowest rate in the area. A listing of rates for several towns is shown below for comparison purposes, showing both metered and flat rate charges.

	12,000 Gallons Quarterly Charges Metered	Standard House Quarterly Charges Flat Rate
HOULTON	$ 5.76	$ 7.50
Bangor	6.88	6.05
Presque Isle	8.00	8.55
Mars Hill	8.52	8.85
Calais	9.30	10.52
Brewer	9.60	8.00
Fort Fairfield	9.60	12.25
Caribou	11.75	All Metered
Lincoln	14.40	12.00

As can be seen from the above table, our average metered customer can save from $1.12 to $8.64 every three months or $4.98 to $34.56 every year when compared to other rates in our area.

As this change in the rate schedule was the first major revision since 1915, we feel that our customers can fully appreciate that the costs of doing business during this fifty-year period has increased many, many times.

A more thorough discussion of these cost factors will follow in a later advertisement.

Rev. Blake Heads Area Ministers

The first meeting of the Houlton Ministerial Association was conducted at the residence of Rev. F. A. Dunlop at 9 Carr avenue.

Eleven members of the clergy were present. Officers and committees appointed were: President, the Rev. Robert Blake; vice president, the Rev. Ernest Ireland; secretary, the Rev. R. T. Benson; treasurer, the Rev. F. A. Dunlop; radio committee, the Rev. Gordon Buzza; newspaper committee, the Rev. Charles Oehrig; hospital committee, the Rev. Robert Black; jail service committee, the Rev. Sherwood Sawyer.

Discussion followed on the hospital chaplaincy which has recently been set up in co-operation with Houlton hospitals. It was noted that whereas the chaplaincy service involves considerable expense, for literature and office supplies, that some other support would be necessary beyond that received at the monthly meeting. However, it was the general feeling that the chaplaincy service was progressing favorably.

The next meeting scheduled for October 18 at the Oakfield United Baptist Church.

Two Charter Members Of BPW Are Honored

Mrs. Fern French was hostess recently to the members of the Houlton Business and Professional Woman's Club at her cottage at Nickerson Lake. During the evening Miss Bernice Haley and Mrs. French were honored as the only members in this area that have been actively participating in the club since its organization in 1922. Miss Haley who served as the third club president, spoke briefly on the activities of the club during her year as president.

Emerson Saunders, Mrs. Russell Scott and the president, Mrs. Ralph Porter, reported on the BPW convention at Poland Spring and Mrs. Horace Bell, secretary, reported on a fall board meeting in Waterville. A picnic supper preceded the meeting.

Local Items

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duplessis spent Sunday at Loring Air Force Base where they were guests of Sgt. and Mrs. Ralph Snow.

Mrs. Ethel Johnson has returned to her home in Portland after visiting for a week with her sister, Mrs. Edward Fortier.

CHURCH IS RENOVATED—Work on renovating the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church at Pleasant street and Highland avenue is continuing, although work on the main part of the church has been completed. The sanctuary, shown above, has been completely repainted and varnished. At the time of the photo this week, the church was decorated for the Missionary Convention that will begin Sunday. Outside work has included a new entry, new steps will be installed, and the building will either be painted or given new siding. (Pioneer Times Photo)

Directors Named At Iota Sigma Annual Meeting

Dickey Project Is In Trouble

The proposed $227 million Dickey-Dam-Lincoln School power project in Northern Aroostook County was rejected by the House of Representatives last week. It was knocked out of the House public works bill and sent back to a conference committee for further study.

The action could mean that the Senate-House conference committee will propose the bill again, or it could well mean the end of the project.

The huge power project has considerable support, including that of President Johnson, but this did not prove enough to get past the House. It had earlier received the endorsement of the Senate, and appeared well on its way to final passage before being shot down.

One of the most interesting aspects of the voting in the House was that of the New England delegation. Needless to say both of Maine's members, Rep. William D. Hathaway and Rep. Stanley R. Tupper, voted for the bill. They were joined by a Democrat from Massachusetts and a Republican from Vermont in supporting the measure.

The remainder of the New England delegation cast their votes against the Dickey project.

It had been argued that even though the vast project was to be in Northern Maine, it would directly benefit the entire New England area, through providing low-cost electrical energy. Thus it was expected that the project would receive the support of the area that was to be benefited.

The bill was also lacking the support of the private utility companies of New England, and had been opposed by the influential New England Council.

It was not surprising that such areas as the coal mining districts of Pennsylvania should be in opposition, but it would seem that support right here in New England was mandatory.

Some quarters feel that while President Johnson has placed his personal support behind the project, he may be hesitant to push too hard now that it appears that the area which the project was to benefit does not want it.

Residents of Maine can well remember the long years of hope that the Federal government would someday authorize the controversial Passamaquoddy tidal power project. Yet today any passage of a bill in support of Quoddy seems as remote as ever.

And now we have another power project awaiting Federal approval, and Federal funds, and this too is receiving the same reluctance on the part of Congress.

There is one big difference between Quoddy and St. John River power projects, however. There are private interests just waiting approval of the State Legislature to construct a power project on the St. John, without need of Federal approval or Federal funds.

Trouble Brews On The Campus

There is every likelihood that the stage is being set for a series of college campus riots similar to the one which ripped through the University of California last December in which some 800 students and outsiders were arrested.

And if this is the case you can point your finger at the Communist Party which is constantly on the alert to stir up the college youngsters throughout the country.

Radical Students

One group to watch is Students for a Democratic Society, a self-proclaimed radical organization which claims about 2,000 members, organized in 70 chapters, principally on college campuses.

They have been extremely active on the Viet Nam issue and played an active part in the March on Washington last spring which brought in about 17,000 persons to protest our defense of South Viet Nam.

Right now they are circulating a so-called declaration of conscience which makes five pledges.

First. They declare their conscientious refusal to cooperate with the U.S. Government in the effort to save Viet Nam from Communist enslavement.

Second. They encourage all those who can conscientiously do so, to refuse to serve in our armed forces, or to ask for a discharge, if they already in them.

Third. Those signers who are subject to the draft, declare their intention to refuse to serve.

Fourth. They state that they refuse, and they urge others to refuse, to take part in the manufacture or transportation of our country's military equipment, or to work in the fields of military research and weapons development.

Fifth. They proclaim that they will encourage other non-violent acts, including civil disobedience, to prevent American soldiers and munitions from reaching Viet Nam.

It isn't difficult to see which side these people are on.

If any American college student falls into this trap—swallows the Commie line—there is good reason. Some of our colleges, so concerned with the concept of free speech, are to blame. Take a couple of examples.

Eugene D. Genovese was a leader of the American Youth for Democracy and the Young Progressives of America, Communist Party youth fronts. Two years ago the Communist Party's official monthly directive, Political Affairs, denounced Genovese for his "ultraleftism" in other words, too left even for the Communists.

Today Genovese is teaching history at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey. He was a speaker at the teach-in on Viet Nam held at Rutgers in April, under the sponsorship of the Students for a Democratic Society.

"I Am A Marxist"

Listen to his words, "Those of you who know me know that I am a Marxist and a Socialist. Therefore, unlike most of my distinguished colleagues here this morning, I do not fear or regret the impending Viet Vietcong victory in Viet Nam. I welcome it."

Do you think he was fired. Absolutely not. He is still on the faculty and is now helping arrange a series of conferences featuring Socialist scholars.

Or take the case of Staughton Lynd who teaches history at Yale University. After the assassination of President Kennedy, Lynd took part in the Communist effort to clear Lee Harvey Oswald of guilt of his crime.

Lynd has taken part in several teach-ins on Viet Nam. At one of these he referred to United States actions in Viet Nam as "murder" and then made a number of suggestions. He called for burning draft cards, refusal to pay income taxes, the establishment of a citizens' "war crimes commission" in Washington to review American crimes in Viet Nam.

Speak-In At Pentagon

The Yale professor also had two other proposals. He wanted a speak-in at the Pentagon and a congress of unrepresented people in Washington to protest the war in Viet Nam. Both were subsequently put into effect.

There is always a hue and cry when someone charges these radical professors of using their classroom lectures for propaganda purposes. How can anyone believe they would do otherwise when this is a basic instruction of the Communist party?

We witnessed with disgust here this spring a group of youngsters, most of them college students, stage a civil disobedience sit-in, blocking the gates to the White House. The police collared 36 of them. The very next day 300 of them were arrested when they sat down on the Capitol grounds and refused to move. It was the largest mass arrests ever made in the Capital of the United States.

Only last month there was another mass demonstration on the University of California campus at Berkeley. Three hundred singing, chanting agitators, most of them in their teens and twenties, tried to halt a Viet Nam troop train. On the same day there was still another demonstration in neighboring San Francisco when a group protested the sailing of a ship carrying military supplies to Viet Nam.

The list of such incidents could go on and on.

Americans had better keep a closer watch on what's going on at our colleges and universities.

The Editor's Corner

Weather during the first week of potato picking was a real surprise. Temperatures for the most part of last week were well into the 80's, and perhaps even higher in an open field, with bright sun and no breeze.

The humidity was also high, making conditions unpleasant for all, and particularly those out in the fields. A couple of days last week pickers were sent home early, some as early as noon, when the heat became too much.

Normal attire for a picker will include heavy clothing and heavy boots. Last week many of the youngsters in the fields were in shorts, and some were barefooted.

And right in the middle of the late September heat wave, highway crews were out installing snow fencing. It didn't seem quite right, but we are considerably closer to winter and snow than the 80-degree weather would indicate.

The untimely death of County Commissioner Burrill Brewer has raised speculation as to who his replacement will be. The appointment to fill out his unexpired term will be made by the Governor, with approval of the Governor's Council.

The first name to come to mind is that of Frank Totman of Houlton, a former Commissioner who was defeated a year ago in a bid for re-election. Mr. Totman was one of the several Republicans who fell before the Democratic landslide last November.

The County lost a very capable administrator when Mr. Totman was defeated, and now would be an excellent opportunity to regain his talents.

Help At The Local Level

Washington, D.C. — Major cities are in such trouble in so many ways that Congress has finally created a Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Development to direct Federal efforts to meet the crisis.

No doubt the new HUD will come up with a variety of new programs to try to meet the calls for help from mayors and city councils. All these programs will boast a common feature—Federal financing at taxpayer expense.

One voice is being raised these days which sounds a different tune. It is that of Robert P. Gerholz, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. He has been making a series of speeches calling for "total community development," led by local civil leaders and without Federal money.

Need Local Solutions

Mr. Gerholz, a home builder and real estate developer in Flint, Mich., insists that local problems require local solutions. He believes that no matter how brilliant Washington officials may be, they cannot be experts on each individual community.

Federal assistance means Federal control, the Chamber leader is telling business audiences in city after city, and before U.S. aid is sought or accepted a community should ask two fundamental questions:

"Is this Federal project something we cannot do for ourselves? Can it not be accomplished more quickly, more efficiently, more profitably by private investment and local initiative?"

Answering these questions brings the moment of truth for civic leaders. Mr. Gerholz encouraged them to ask themselves: "Would I invest my own money in this project?" If the answer is "yes", the next question is: "Why don't you?" If the answer is "no", the implication is that the plan is "good enough for a Federal project" but not worthy of private support by a hard-headed businessman.

To get a local community development program going, the first requirement is leadership. Mr. Gerholz told a Cincinnati audience he was confident there is "an untapped pool of local talent and local determination, a mighty river of energy that can be harnessed and put to work."

In some communities, long-established leaders have abdicated. The Old Guard grew tired and retired to the golf course. That happened in Rapid City, S.D., Mr. Gerholz related, and the citizens staged a talent hunt and came up with "a wealth of ideas and energy in the younger generation of businessmen."

Requirement number two, after leadership is obtained, "is a hard-headed realistic survey of a city's over-all needs and resources. You may find a few surprises, good and bad. Perhaps you will discover a real need for more parks and recreation areas; you may discover that good industrial sites are going begging because plants can't get the kind of skilled workers they need."

Such a survey, Mr. Gerholz predicted, will uncover a lot of facts not known before, such as why young people are leaving town to make their futures elsewhere. Some communities—Tampa, Fla., is one example—seek a disinterested view of local problems and hire professional consultants to make the survey.

After obtaining leadership and making a survey of needs and resources, the third requirement of a local development program is widespread community support—the active interest and participation of professional groups such as architects and engineers, the newspapers and broadcasting stations, the educational, labor, religious and cultural leaders.

The Chamber chief advocates a "balanced attack on community problems," as contrasted with "the piecemeal approach." He urged "establish your priorities realistically. . . one thing you should not do is plunge into a project for little or no other reason than that a Federal subsidy is available."

As a horrid example of that, he pointed to Buffalo, N.Y., "where the community leaders have been waiting 13 years for something to happen in an urban renewal area that was cleared away back in the 1950's with Federal funds. So far, all they have gotten out of it is a handful of single-family houses, and acres and acres of weeds."

Local Funds

Financing a development program is a major problem but it can be solved. Self-help methods include commercial loans, public subscriptions, adaptation of local tax revenues, or bond issues. In Peoria, Ill., business and civic leaders raised $2.5 million in equity capital, plus $4.5 million in first mortgage money. Houston, Tex., floated $87 million in 10 separate city bond issues.

"Private investment must be the keystone in the arch of total community development," Mr. Gerholz insists. "If there is to be private initiative and private planning, they must be backed by private investment. Whatever public assistance may enter the picture, it should be in support of the private effort, but in place of it. The hand on the tiller must always be yours."

Poet's Corner

Faith
 Faith is the beam that lights the stairway of the sky.
 Through this beam no step is missed by passer-by.
 It is a key that opens wide a door,
 Where countless blessings are in store.
 Faith indeed could be in size,
 Of what a mustard seed implies.
 As attar is to the rose, or fruit to the tree,
 Faith is to the soul a portrait of immortality.

Mrs. Eldee Clark

Cloths
 Those playful fancies in the sky,
 Their feathery mantles wearing,
 Riding forth today to check
 The bough with berries bearing.
 They are the curtains He doth draw,
 To let the sun peep through.
 To gild the lily, paint the rose and line the iris blue.

Alas, today the sun is leaden
 And folk down here are sighing
 For when I looked the second time
 I saw a white cloud crying.

Progress Over The Panama Canal

(Christian Science Monitor)

One of the major irritants in the United States' relations with Latin America has been the way the Panama Canal has hitherto been operated. Certainly the United States throughout has been within the letter of international law. The 1903 treaty established United States sovereignty over the Canal Zone in perpetuity.

But in this postwar era, with anti-colonialism sweeping Asia and Africa—often with the sympathy if not the support of the United States—it has seemed incongruous that the United States should insist on its sovereignty over a strip of land (and the canal running through it) when this strip cuts in half a small but independent Latin-American Republic.

Clearly the United States could not yield to threats or allow itself to be hustled from the zone. Yet the passage of years has brought into operation the law of diminishing returns. In other words was it worth the loss in Latin-American good-will to insist on operating the waterway under conditions acceptable in 1903 but decidedly old-fashioned for 1965?

Throughout 1964, relations between the United States and Panama were soured by the riots along the Canal Zone during the first few days of the year. Happily by last December, the atmosphere had sweetened enough for the opening of negotiations for a revision of the 1903 treaty. And now, some 10 months later, it is a triumph for both parties that they have reached areas of agreement for a new treaty. If it is completed, the 1903 treaty will be abrogated, Panamanian sovereignty will be recognized over the Canal Zone, and—in President Johnson's words—"Panama will share with the United States responsibility in the administration, management, and operations of the canal."

The new treaty will apparently make provision for the defense of the Canal Zone—which would probably mean the maintenance of United States base rights there. Provided the vital interests of the United States are guaranteed, nobody should cavil at the details.

A complete revision of the control under which civilians now live and work in the Canal Zone might upset those Americans who have chosen to make their livelihood there. In the past, they have often found ready champions of their cause in Congress. This time, however, we hope that their patriotism will lead them to accept in the overall good changes which might mean surrender of individual privileges for a few.

Cider Through A Straw

According to rumours circulating among the hills, certain countrymen store the liquid of pressed apples and in a few months have a drink that possesses a degree of potency. Men have argued around the stoves of general stores that this liquid is a definite help in haying and harvesting.

A few decades ago after the apples were picked and stored in big bins in the barn for sorting, farm boys knew they had the job of picking up the drops, putting them in burlap bags and carrying the apples to the old cider mill at the foot of the hill. Father was fussy about the apples that went into cider which eventually changed into vinegar. "You need a combination of Baldwins, Snow Apples, Rhode Island Greens and Northern Spies," he said. "It's the blend that makes the best fresh cider and the best vinegar."

The old miller dumped the apples into the hopper, pulled the lever and started the wheel. When the apples were ground, he spread layers of the juicy mass on burlap and put a frame between each layer. Then he began tightening the upside down jack with a long pole.

Golden brown juice began to trickle down; bubbles appeared on the sides of the layered mass. Then a steady stream began to drip into the half hogshead on the floor. A lad took a long oat straw, knelt by the tub, and slowly, appreciatively began to fill up on the tangy-sweet juice of the apples. Cider through a straw may not fulfill all etiquette requirements, but it was an efficient and satisfying way to enjoy a delicious fruit juice.

Health For All

Flu Is Due — Some Tips For You

Like the old gentleman who chose "not to join the income tax," now is the time for all good men, women and children to decide not to join the flu outbreak.

What flu outbreak? How do you stay out of it? One question at a time:

Flu this winter? The U. S. Public Health Service says probably yes. The disease strikes every two to three years; this is the year when Type A primarily is due. But a certain amount of Type B is looked for, too.

What's it like? Some influenza symptoms are like those of the common cold, only more so. Sore throat, nasal congestion, dry cough, chills, fever, muscular aches and pains, general weakness. Temperature rises quickly.

How serious? Most people recover within a week. But sometimes pneumonia develops. Other possible complications: bronchitis, sinus trouble, ear infection.

What to do? Call a doctor. Stay in bed as long as he tells you to. Don't expect miracles with "wonder drugs" — they don't work against most viruses, and flu is a virus disease. Aspirin and lots of fluids may be prescribed.

Prevention? Consult your doctor right now. A vaccine useful against both general types of influenza is recommended for people at high risk of serious effects. These include people with heart ailments; chronic lung disorders; diabetes; certain other chronic diseases. Also persons over 45, pregnant women, and institutionalized patients in crowded environments. Adults previously vaccinated against flu need a booster shot each year.

When? Mid-December is the deadline for vaccination. Early September is none too soon. Flu epidemics usually don't strike until midwinter; but the vaccine needs a little time to become effective.

Ask your local Christmas Seal organization for the free leaflet, "Influenza, The Facts," published by the National Tuberculosis Association.

Two Speakers Will Be Here For Missionary Conference

Rev. William Hardy

Miss Alice Hainlen

Two mission workers will be featured speakers at the Annual Missionary Convention here next week in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, located at Highland avenue and Pleasant street.

Miss Alice Hainlen, a missionary who has served in Ecuador, will speak Sunday morning and will continue as a convention speaker through Tuesday evening.

Joining the convention Monday evening will be the Rev. William Hardy, who has served with his wife in Thailand. Mr. Hardy will be in attendance Monday through Wednesday evenings.

Both speakers are graduates of the Nyack Missionary College in Nyack, N. Y. Miss Hainlen has taught in East Rochester, N. Y., in addition to her duties in Ecuador.

The Hardys were in charge of mission stations in Thailand for a number of years before he took over the business agency and guest house at Bangkok.

The Rev. Daniel Evans, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, said the public is invited to attend all sessions of the convention.

old-fangled star-spangled savings scheme

There's nothing new about U. S. Savings Bonds. Millions of Americans have built their savings plans around them for years.

And that's the beauty of it. Bonds are a proven way to save—and they carry a guaranteed rate of interest. You'll get back $4 for every $3 you invest when your Bonds are held to maturity.

Just the tax angle alone is pretty enticing. You pay no state or local income tax on E Bond interest—and you can defer federal tax until you cash your Bonds. What's more, your Bonds convert easily into cash when you need it.

There's nothing old-fashioned about the way your Bonds go to work for your country. Every penny invested helps to keep America strong and promote the cause of freedom.

Make U. S. Savings Bonds a regular part of your family's savings scheme. It's the old-fangled, star-spangled way to insure your future.

There is a stronger separate styling identity for the four series which make up the Chrysler line — the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300s, the economical Newport and the new Town and Country series of station wagons. Most changed in appearance for 1966 is the distinctive 300 series. The 300 two-door hardtop shown above has a new roof line with a restyled rear window, a new hood, new front bumper and wrap-around taillights.

Powerful Engine Options Available In Chrysler Cars

Chrysler passenger cars, new from front to rear for 1966, make their debut in dealer showrooms today.

They have more powerful engine options, new interior seating arrangements, new equipment options and a stronger separate styling identity for the four series which make up the 1966 line—the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300s, the economical Newport and the new Town and Country series of wagons.

The most changed in appearance of 1966 Chrysler is the distinctive 300 series. The 300 two-door hardtop has a new roof with a restyled rear window. A new hood, new front bumper, wrap-around taillights and bumper-installed front park and turn lights visible from the side are exclusive features of the 300 series, Chrysler's entry in the sports-type car market.

New equipment options include power front wheel disc brakes, an adjustable tilting and telescoping steering wheel and a rear seat air and heat system.

Bucket seats of a completely new design with pull-down center arm rests are standard in some models and optional in others. They are wider, have higher seat backs and provide easier rear seat entry and exit room for two-door models than the bucket seats in the 1965 cars. Integral head rests of a new, more attractive design are optional.

Engine Power Increased — A 440-cubic inch V-8 engine with a four-barrel carburetor is standard in the New Yorker, replacing the 413-cubic inch engine of 1965. It has the same compression, 10.1 to 1, and valve timing as the 413. With its larger displacement it provides improved stop-and-go performance resulting from greater torque at low engine speeds.

A high performance version of the 440 engine with twin exhausts and a silenced twin-skel low restriction air cleaner is optional on all models.

The standard engine for Newport and Town and Country cars is a 383-cubic inch V-8 using regular grade fuel. A high performance version of the 383 engine is standard in the 300 and optional in Newport and Town and Country models.

The model line-up for 1966 is the same as for 1965 except that two-seater and three-seater wagons, formerly available in both the New Yorker and Newport series, are now set apart in a separate Town and Country series.

Each of the two-door hardtops, Newport, 300 and New Yorker, has a separate and distinctive roof style, and all series have their own distinctive grilles, taillight arrangements and side trims.

New Features Offered — New features include six-way electric seat adjusters for bucket seats, safety-type inside door handles, modifications in shock absorbers to provide a smoother boulevard ride, a one-third increase in the thickness of secondary brake shoe linings to improve braking performance, improved luggage loading in hardtops, sedans, and convertibles, a new full front compartment console optional in hardtops and convertibles with bucket seats.

Crescent Lodge Will Install Slate Monday At Bridgewater

BRIDGEWATER — Crescent Lodge has elected the following officers: Noble Grand, Virginia Milliken; vice grand, Natalie Finemore; recording secretary, Kathaleen Landers; financial secretary, Millicent Kingsbury; treasurer, Beatrice Barrett. Installation will be October 4.

Overnight Guests — Mr. and Mrs. F.W. McBurnie of York Beach, and Braden, were overnight guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Morse. Other guests at the Morse home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Al Fullerton of Houlton, and their grandson, Ray Gardner, and Mrs. Gardner of East Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheeler and his mother, Mrs. Helen Currier of Tracy Mills, are visiting Mrs. Currier's brother, Bedford Corey of Plattsburg, N.Y.

Returns to School — Richard Haughn of St. Andrews, N.B., who has been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheeler this summer, has returned to St. Mary's University in Halifax, N.S., for his fourth year. The Wheelers took him to Fredrickton Friday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott are their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scott and son Billy Joe of Meriden, Conn., Mrs. Mary Brooks of Bath, N.B., and their grandson, Gary Scott of the U.S. Navy who is on a month's furlough. Gary is a member of the crew of the USS Kitty Hawk and has been in Florida while the ship was being repaired.

Weekend Guests — Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Delong were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Clark, her sister, Miss Barbara Clark, and James Baker of Bridgeport, Conn. Joining the family for supper Sunday were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Bither and family of Presque Isle.

Mrs. Doris Stackpole attended the summer session of the University of Maine this year and received a BS Degree in Education. She is teaching the fourth grade in Fort Fairfield.

Christian Science

"Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; . . . turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity."

These verses from Psalm 119 form the Golden Text for a Bible Lesson on "Unreality" to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday. Passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook will bring out some of the different ways in which men discover the supremacy and power of spiritual reality.

Included will be these lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Evil is not supreme; good is not helpless; nor are the so-called laws of matter primary, and the law of Spirit secondary. . . . The Psalmist saith: 'The Lord on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea'" (pp. 207, 505).

Mr. and Mrs. John Kimball are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Doane at East Levant. Mr. and Mrs. Doane are parents of a new son, David Paul, born in a Lincoln hospital September 18.

Blaine

BLAINE—The Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Farrer of Houlton were calling here Monday. He has been supply pastor in Easton for the Rev. Harold Carpenter for the past month.

Mrs. Lee Jamison, who has been ill for several weeks, was taken to the Gould Hospital in Presque Isle Friday.

Mrs. Annie Walsh spent Friday afternoon with her cousins, Mrs. Maggie Bell and Mrs. Phoebe Pettinger. Mrs. Pettinger, of Falls Church, Va., and Mrs. Alda Hawkins of Connecticut left Saturday by plane for their homes. They had spent the summer in Mars Hill and Centreville, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Durost and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth

Kingsbury were in Saint John Sunday.

Alvin Pineau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pineau, broke his leg while at work Friday and is a patient at the Mars Hill Health Center.

The family of Mrs. Mabel Libby had as supper guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Currier and Judy of Presque Isle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Libby and family of Limestone, and Kenneth. Miss Joy Libby made the birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hawkley are announcing the birth of a son.

Sherman Mills

SHERMAN MILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingraham of Belfast spent a few days here this past week with his brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ingraham.

John Evans has returned to Lake Charles, La., after visiting with his brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Evans.

Ray Patterson has been spending a few days in Houlton with his daughter, Mrs. Leila Nadeau, and his granddaughter, Miss Linda Nadeau. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Robinson returned from West Roxbury, Mass., Tuesday evening after a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Pauline McNally and son Brian. Mrs. McNally is convalescing from an appendectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Maftin, who are living temporarily in Bangorville, spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Gray returned to Milo Saturday after spending a few days here with her sister, Mrs. Eva Perry, and her son, Morill Perry. They also visited his sister, Mrs. Mahala Rogers in Patten and his brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gray in Dyer Brook.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic inch to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers — not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler . . . it's getting easier by the minute.

Committees For Year Listed By King-Mitchell Auxiliary

ISLAND FALLS—The King-Mitchell Auxiliary met at the UFW Hall Wednesday evening. The President, Mrs. Cecil Given, conducted the business and made the following appointments of committee chairman: hospital, Mrs. Mabel Brown; membership, Mrs. John Webb; youth activities, Mrs. Clifford Pomeroy; community service, Mrs. Cecil Given; civil defense, Mrs. Roland Webb; cancer, Mrs. William Lord; Americanism, Mrs. Cecil Given; loyalty day, Mrs. John Duguay. Plans were made for Inspection October 27. A silent auction will be held at the next meeting, followed by a social hour. Others attending were Mrs. John Webb Jr., Mrs. Harriette Savage, Mrs. Mabel Brown, Mrs. John Webb Sr., Mrs. William Lord, Mrs. John Duguay, Mrs. Percy Chute and Mrs. Florence Botting.

Fund Ideas Discussed
The Junior Extension met at the home of Mrs. Harold Emerson Monday evening with seven attending. Ideas for raising money were discussed. October and November will be guest months with emphasis on obtaining new members. Mrs. Emerson, the Clothing Leader, presented a program on "How To Buy, Series I." She demonstrated stretch cloth and explained how to buy clothing for children. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leonard Lougey and Mrs. Clifford Pomeroy.

Deep Sea Fishing
Making a deep sea fishing trip out of Eastport last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunphy, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Porter, Dr. and Mrs. George Banton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Curry, Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Townsend Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delong and Mrs. Clifford Hawkes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nowlin of Quincy, Mass., spent the weekend with Mrs. Ralph Armstrong. They were enroute home from a trip to Nova Scotia.

Move to Presque Isle
Mr. and Mrs. Yale Stevens have moved to an apartment in Presque Isle where he is attending Northern Maine Vocational School.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Offerman of New York City were weekend guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hoysradt Jr.

Leyton Sewell, who has a teaching position in Bangor, his sister, Barbara Sewell, and Peter Martin, who attends the University of Maine, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leyton Sewell.

Mr. and Mrs. Yale Stevens of Presque Isle were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Stevens, Katahdin Club Meets.

The first fall meeting of the Katahdin Club was Tuesday evening at the Hulbert-McKenzie Camp at Pleasant Pond with Miss Alma McLeod assisting Mrs. Hulbert. There were 17 present at the planning session which followed the covered dish supper. The President, Mrs. Maurice Anderson, distributed the programs for 1965-66. The official call to the Fall Conference to be in Bangor October 27-28 was read. An area club meeting was discussed and the committee, Mrs. Jacob Shur, Mrs. Maurice Anderson, Mrs. Erika Lawler and Mrs. Foss Hathaway will announce dates and details later.

Mrs. Foss Hathaway reported on the Green Stamp project for raising money to buy books for Katahdin Public Library.

The fund is now $93, and books especially for Grades 6 through high school have already been purchased.

It was voted to sell stationery as a project.

Guests were Mrs. Arthur Shur and Mrs. Franklin Applegate.

The program for the year is as follows: October 19, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Wallace Townsend and Mrs. Florence Botting; November 16, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Frederick Socia and Mrs. William Lord.

December 21, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Everett McGraw and Mrs. Maurice Anderson; January 18, Hostess and Program, Miss Marion Longstaff and Mrs. Winn Erickson; February 15, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Foss Hathaway and Mrs. Dewey Webber.

March 15, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Jacob Shur and Mrs. Ralph Edwards; April 19, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Cecil Roberts and Mrs. Erika Lawler; May 17, Hostess and Program, Mrs. Maurice Anderson and Mrs. William Lord.

Mrs. Lena Cunningham of Patten and Portland called on Mrs. Guy McKenzie of Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hendricks left Thursday for their home in Meadville, Pa., after spending two weeks at their camp at Pleasant Pond.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. David Kennard entertained at a cookout in their yard. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Gellerson, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Pettengill and Mr. and Mrs. Earle Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Berry left Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Twombly at Belgrade while Mr. Berry is having a vacation from his position with the Katahdin Trust Co.

Six Elegant Monaco Models Being Introduced By Dodge

Dodge has revealed six new elegant Monaco models, the most deluxe of its 1966 line of cars.

At the top of the line is the Monaco 500, a two-door sports hardtop offering comfort, convenience and style that is unusual in a medium-priced car.

The Monaco series includes a four-door sedan, two- and four-door hardtops and six- and nine-passenger station wagons. The wagons feature the popular wood-grain side applique.

Go On Sale Today
Along with the Dart, Coronet and Polara, the Monaco goes on sale at Dodge dealerships across the country today.

"The Monaco models are for the motorist who wants the extra prestige and pride that comes with ownership of a car with the finest of design, craftsmanship and performance," Dodge General Manager Byron J. Nichols said.

The Monacos are easily distinguished from the rear by almost trunk-wide taillights. Between them, in the center of the trunk lid, is the "Monaco" nameplate. A deep-dish wheelcover with die-cast spinner is standard on the Monaco 500.

Bucket Seats
The 500 features front bucket seats and console. The seats are luxuriously pleated and deep in comfort. The rear seats are styled to resemble the bucket seats, but provide room for three.

Seat backs are covered with a durable and unique wicker material, which is also used in the door panels.

The Monaco 500 may be purchased with either automatic or four-speed manual transmissions, and both have the gear-selector levers mounted in the console. Lockout devices on both transmissions prevent error shifts. An optional tachometer is mounted on a swivel base in the front section of the console.

Four-Barrel Carburetion
A 383-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion is standard in the Monaco 500 and optional in other Monaco models. The standard Monaco engine is a two-barrel version of the 383 which uses regular grades of gasoline.

An extra-performance option for all Monacos is a new 440-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion. The engine is rated at 350 horsepower.

Luxury-comfort options for Monaco models include a tilt-and-telescoping steering wheel that allows driver to select that amount of greatest comfort and convenience to him, or vary it during a long trip. It may also be put in "high" to facilitate entry and exit.

Safety Items
Other standard safety items include front and rear seatbelts, padded instrument panel, windshield washer, multi-speed windshield wipers, back-up lights and left outside rear-view mirror.

Auto-Pilot, a dial-a-speed safety device that allows the driver to cruise at a pre-selected speed with his foot off the accelerator pedal, is also available.

A master electric lock system, which can be operated from either front door, permits all doors to be locked by pushing one button.

First Carload Of New Potatoes Goes To Markets

The first carload of fresh potatoes to the outside market rolled Thursday. Officials of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad said that F.H. Williams Inc., of Easton, shipped a car to Robbinsville, N.J., for distribution to the New York and New Jersey markets.

A railroad spokesman said that although the first shipment is slightly later than normal, it makes the beginning of a steady movement to these markets.

The potato harvest, now underway, will occupy growers until nearly November 1 when the pace of shipments will quicken. Potatoes have been moving steadily into Aroostook's five processing plants for several weeks. The 1965 Maine Potato Crop is estimated at 39,960,000 cwt. compared to 39,875,000 cwt. grown last year.

The railroad reported steady gains in its share of the total potato traffic over a two-year period. Massive rate changes and a large fleet of R.S. type refrigerator and insulated heater cars are partly responsible, officials said.

University of Maine nursing students receive clinical training at hospitals in Waterville and Portland, Me., and Boston, Mass.

HOULTON MOTORS

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our little boy Dana Wayne Scott, Sept. 26, 1956. Gone from us but leaving memories death can never take away. Memories that will always linger while upon this earth we stay. Friends may think that we have forgotten when at times they see us smile. Little do they know the heartaches that our smile hides all the while. They say that time heals all sadness and helps one to forget. But so far time has only proved how much we miss you yet. If all the world were ours, We would give it, yes and more. To see the face of our dear one Come smiling through the door. Your memories are our keepsake from which we will never part. Though God has you in His keeping, we will always have you in our hearts. Sadly missed by Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott Brothers and Sisters. 1139*

STATE OF MAINE AROOSTOOK, ss. DISTRICT COURT

Division II Southern Aroostook Civil Action, Docket Number 65-C-345

ALISTON B. JEWELL and LEON JEWELL d/b/a Jewell Brothers of Monticello County of Aroostook State of Maine Plaintiffs vs. JAMES TEEHAN of Saugus County of Essex Commonwealth of Massachusetts Defendant

MOTION FOR ORDER OF SERVICE BY PUBLICATION and ORDER THEREON

The plaintiffs move the Court for an order of service by publication upon the defendant in the Houlton Pioneer Times, for the reason that on May 28, 1964 at Winslow, Maine, defendant was the operator of a motor vehicle which collided with a motor vehicle of the plaintiffs, and by said operation, defendant submitted to the jurisdiction of the Courts of the State of Maine; and further that they (the plaintiffs) have made search with due diligence as to the whereabouts of said defendant; that the address of defendant is not known and cannot be ascertained with due diligence, the plaintiffs therefore have no knowledge as to the whereabouts of the defendant, and therefore unable to obtain personal service upon him. Dated at Presque Isle, Maine, this 30th day of August, A. D., 1965

By: Albert M. Stevens Albert M. Stevens for the firm of Bishop and Stevens Attorneys for Plaintiffs 428 Main Street Presque Isle, Maine

ORDER This cause came on to be heard on the Motion of plaintiffs' attorney, Albert M. Stevens, whose office address is 428 Main Street, Presque Isle, Maine, for service by publication upon defendant James Teehan, pursuant to Maine Rules of Civil Procedure 4(g) and it appearing that this is an action because of negligence (auto) brought by the Plaintiffs against the defendant; that defendant by operating a motor vehicle in Winslow, Maine was submitted to the jurisdiction of the Courts of the State of Maine; that the address of the defendant is not known and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence; it is ORDERED that this Order be published in the Houlton Pioneer Times, a weekly newspaper published at Houlton, Maine, once a week for three successive weeks, the first publication of said Order shall be made within twenty days after the date of this Order. It is further Ordered that the defendant appear and defend the cause and serve an Answer to the Complaint upon the plaintiffs' attorney at his said address on or before forty-one days after the first publication of this Order. The defendant is notified that if he shall fail to do so, judgment by default will be taken against him for the relief demanded in the Complaint. His Answer shall also be filed with the Court. NEW SHORT CAB — New in Chevrolet's 1966 truck line is this short cab for many heavy-duty models. Aerodynamically styled for low air-resistance, its short length gives improved load-weight distribution, yet retains adequate driver room and comfort. Many panels are easily removable for access to the chassis or for damage replacement. The new Chevrolet truck line has been expanded to 366 models.

Six New Engines Are Offered In 1966 Chevrolet Trucks

Principal improvements in the 1966 Chevrolet truck line include six new engines, an optional three-speed automatic transmission, a new three-ton series with payload capacity up to 34,000 pounds, a restyled more efficient heavy-duty cab design, and addition of several safety items, as standard equipment. Offer 366 Models.

To meet highly specialized needs of truck users, Chevrolet has revised and expanded its line to 366 models, including 101 new offerings which are divided almost equally between gasoline and diesel power. The six new engines bring to 25 the number of different power plants offered—17 gasoline and eight diesel. Discontinued for 1966 are the 153-cubic-inch four and the 348 and 409 cubic-inch V-8's.

Gas engines new to the 1966 Chevrolet truck line are a 250-cubic-inch six of 155 hp., a 366-cubic-inch V-8 of 220 hp., a 396-cubic-inch V-8 with ratings of 325 and 360 hp., and two V-6's of 401 and 478 cubic-inch displacement developing 237 and 254 hp.

New Diesel
The new diesel is a 637-cubic-inch four-cycle V-8 in two versions developing 195 and 220 hp. It is offered in two models of a new heavy-duty series with gross combination weight ratings up to 65,000 lbs.

The 250-cubic-inch six is based on the highly successful design of the Chevrolet 230 cubic-inch six, which is retained in the line for some light-duty models. The new engine is much smoother and quieter than previous in-line sixes.

Two versions of the V-8 engine will be offered. They will be identical in all respects, except that one will have a precise calibration of the fuel pump to deliver a greater amount of fuel to the nozzles for an additional 25 horsepower.

New Short Cab
Biggest appearance change in the 1966 Chevrolet truck line is a new short cab measuring only 92 inches from bumper to back of cab. Designed for the heaviest-duty models, it provides more efficient load distribution and more capacity for cargo in relation to overall length, yet retains the advantages of conventional cab design.

For low maintenance, the hood, grille, fender, and running board panels are easily removed for damage replacement or for access to the chassis. Also, exterior sheet metal has lap joints for excellent sealing, corrosion resistance and durability. Roof and back panels are heavily ribbed for added strength.

1965 Oat Crop Eligible For Price Support

Oats grown in the 1965 crop year will be eligible for price support through the United States Department of Agriculture's price support program.

Aroostook County farmers have participated in the grain support program to varying degrees for the past 17 years.

71 Cents Per Bushel
The support price for Maine Oats, graded No. 3 or better, is 71 cents per bushel. This compares with the national average support price of 60 cents per bushel.

Farmers desiring to participate in this program may do so by simply filing an application for price support and making a declaration of the number of bushels grown during this crop year.

The program carries an added feature enabling the farmer to make a loan up of 90 percent of the actual value of the collateral being bonded. Loans will mature April 30, 1966, at which time the farmer will be given an opportunity to satisfy the loan through cash repayment or deliver sufficient collateral to satisfy the loan note.

Prompt Loans
The County office expects a large majority of farmers filing applications will want to participate in the loan features of the program. Such participation makes money available to be used for potato harvesting operations. The County office will be geared to disburse these loans within a period of three or four days after receipt of the application.

Farmers interested in price support should contact the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County office in Houlton.

Nellie Finnemore of Limestone, Mr. and Mrs. John Doody Sr. of Worthington, Mass., Mrs. Mae Kimball of Fort Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hersey of Presque Isle, the Rev. and Mrs. George Woodard of Mapleton, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Graham, Miss Carol Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hersey, Merle Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Fleming, Mrs. Lloyd Newman, Miss Dorothy Stitham and Mr. and Mrs. Vinal Thomas, all of Houlton.

CHEVY'S BUILT FOR BIGGER THINGS IN '66!

NEW CHEVROLET WORKPOWER IS HERE!

Here's low-cost Chevy-Van—economy champ of Chevrolet's long, strong covered delivery truck line.

NEW HEAVYWEIGHTS UP TO 65,000 LBS. GCW!
The all-new Series 70000 and 80000 models are here—the biggest Chevies ever built, out to do the biggest jobs any Chevrolet trucks have ever done! They're ready to cut costs with new V6 gasoline engines, new V6 and V8 diesels. They offer, also, a new 92" cab that's the best yet for working efficiency, new higher capacity frames and axles and a high 65,000-lb. GCW rating.

NEW LIGHT-DUTY WORKPOWER!
The most widely used of all truck engines—the famous Chevy light-duty Six is built for bigger things in '66 with a big new 250-cubic-inch design. It's the standard power plant in most light-duty models. Also, users of 1/2-ton models can now specify a big 327-cubic-inch V8—the most powerful engine ever offered in a 1/2-ton Chevy truck. See the new Chevies now, at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Telephone your Chevrolet dealer about any type of truck.
