GOING UP

You housewives who have left home cares behind during your visit to Orlando may not be keeping up with the price of foodstuffs . . . but every such item . . . from milk to meat . . . has had a material advance, in fact several advances, since your arrival. We mention this in justice to our many eating places which you and I patronize . . . for, except in a few places, the price charged you has not been raised . . . and where increase has been made, same has been most nominal. We doubt, if during the summer . . . your favorite resort is as inexpensive as is Orlando at the "peak" of its season.

SWEET PEAS AND ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Vie with each other in an effort to permeate the ozone with their fragrance. Orlando's famous bed of sweet-peas in Lake Eola Gardens are blooming . . . an expanse of vivid vari-colored blossoms already reaching a height of seven or more feet . . . they'll grow MUCH taller as the days pass.

Everywhere . . . particularly in the rural districts . . . one's nostrils are filled with that exotic perfume of the virgin-white citrus blossom whose aroma defies description. Early to bloom this year, despite the unusual weather, it's orange-blossom time in Florida.

AZALEAS AND ROSES

The "City Beautiful" received its name because of the thousands of oaks which far-seeing Mayor Marks (deceased) caused to be planted years ago. With their stately branches swaying with graceful moss they stand sentinels over myriad private plantings of roses, azaleas, poinsettias, hibiscus, bougainvillias, flame-vine and other flora well known to Central and Southern Florida.

STORY HOUR

Unusual to say the least is the service afforded the "tired mama" . . . who wants to go shopping, or knitting of a morning, and has no one with whom to leave the "kiddies". Mrs. Edith B. Woodin, herself a winter guest, and professional reader of stories, offered her services gratis to the Orlando Chamber of Commerce. The Orlando Elks and Anna Seese School offered their spacious grounds and club house located on Lake Eola . . . and there each Monday, Wednesday and Friday . . . from 10:00 to 12:00 Orlando has a veritable "old lady who lived in a shoe" . . . but unlike this rhyme . . . Mrs. Woodin "knows what to do."

EXPOSITION

Practically everything takes a back seat in Central Florida the third week of February . . . for the BIG EVENT of the year . . . the Central Florida Exposition which starts Tuesday and continues for five days and nights. Starting meagerly twenty-five years ago under the name of Mid-Winter Fair, the Orlando Fair now is represented by eight counties, and celebrates its SILVER ANNIVERSARY with a group of modern new exhibit buildings planned to most advantageously display the diversified interests of Central Florida.

To you who think Central Florida has nothing to offer but climate . . . and sometimes not ALL of that which is claimed . . . a visit to the Central Florida Exposition will prove a revelation.

FISHING

By Merlin Mitchell

Now ladies and gentlemen, are they hitting or are they hitting! Frankly, fishing is the best that it has been in six months. Not only is Lake Apopka full of this fierce dension of the anglers choice, but the St. John river promises the limit to any fisherman who wants fish. Of course they must FISH and not sit around and look.

That's a funny thing to me. I have talked to "would be" fishermen—men who travelled miles to find a suitable place to try their luck—and then complained about "no fish ther." Well, I have gone out with these same fishermen—places where I knew there were plenty Bass—and (not boasting) caught ten to one the fish of the day. Why? Because they went out, made a cast or two—then talked awhile—made another cast, then chatted about the Peruvian shortage English Bloaters—made another cast and exclaimed—"How is it that you catch fish and I can't? We are using the same lure, etc.—etc.—blah-blah-blah!" So kind reader, remember, that to catch fish, one must keep his bait in the water—and fish hard.

Now with that in mind, journey out—and if you fish hard—and you do not bring 'em in, then there is some excuse.

Here is something that might interest a few. At the Central Florida Exposition, (in other words, the local Fair) there will be two exhibits. One is the State exhibit and the other the Florida Sportsmen Association exhibit. It is worth anyones time to visit these two exhibits—they are free—and see some real specimens. The Florida Sportsmen group have on display one old papa Bass which tipped the scales at FIFTEEN and ONE HALF pounds! And another thing named—the Catfish Black Bass! It has been rumored that this fish weighed 16½ pounds and was 47 inches long but as it was caught in Lake Skupie, there is doubt as to the veracity of that statement. The water in Lake Skupie is very heavy and it is probable that this fish had just swallowed a heavy daught. Anyhow, it will be on display.

Sightseeing

Here's a list of the "show-places" in and around Orlando. See them all while you are here.

BIG CYPRESS TREE—Largest tree east of Rockies, 125 feet high. Circumference 47 feet. Estimated to be 3000 years old. Stately cypress standing guard in Longwood, just off the old Sanford Highway.

COUNTRY CLUB OF ORLANDO—Eighteen hole golf course (par 70), tennis, riding stables, attractive, commodious clubhouse. The rendezvous of the social set. Only one and a half miles from the center of the downtown district north on Kentucky avenue.

DUBSDREAD COUNTRY CLUB—Its sporty 18-hole golf course, is conceded to be one of the finest in the State. Northwest city limits.

EOLA PARK—A city park completely surrounding one of Orlando's thirty-one lakes. Located three blocks from the center of the business district, forming a beautiful setting for churches, clubs, schools and private homes. East, on Central, Washington or Robinson avenues.

EXPOSITION PARK—West Livingston Avenue. Home of "Sunshine Park", Orlando Lawn Bowling Club, Shuffleboard Club, Checker Club, Roque Club, Quoits Courts, Orlando Tennis Club, Baseball, Diamond ball and Football Fields, City Auditorium, Central Florida Exposition, Municipal Zoo and Guest Recreational Center.

LAKE APOPKA—The second largest lake in Florida. Abounding in bass, trout, bream, pickerel and other members of the finny tribe. Twelve miles from Orlando, by way of Apopka or Winter Garden. Several modern, well-equipped fishing camps are operated on the shores of Lake Apopka.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT—Two miles from the business district of Orlando, on the shores of Lake Underhill, with "take-offs" for land and water planes. East on Washington, Central or South streets.

MOUNT PLYMOUTH—Known as the Golf Center of the South, with its wonderful sporty eighteen-hole courses, and hotel situated among the rolling hills and lakes. Thirty minutes' drive from Orlando beyond Apopka.

SINK-HOLE—An unusual natural saucer-like declivity in the earth, at the bottom of which is a spring-fed lake. Near intersection of old Apopka road and Winter Park road.

PALM SPRINGS—(Miracle Springs)—Legend has it that the early Indian inhabitants of Florida highly prized the water from these springs, and jealously guarded a few drops of it sealed in a gourd or shell. It was claimed by them to ward off the spells of Evil Spirits. A bathing spring superb in the midst of a natural grove of tropical palms and tall trees. Turn left at Longwood, on Sanford-Orlando Highway.

PERRYDELL ROCK GARDENS—S. Orange to Gore Ave. Formerly home of Beeman, of chewing gum fame. The spacious grounds have been converted into a tropical garden spot unrivalled in beauty, where roses, other flowers and vegetables are grown in profusion.

ROLLINS COLLEGE—(Co-educational). The oldest institution of higher learning in the State of Florida. Beautifully located on the banks of Lake Virginia, at Winter Park.

SANLANDO SPRINGS TROPICAL PARK—Two clear, sulphur springs with an even temperature about 70 degrees F. the year round. Modern picnic ground and swimming pool. Also golf and country club. Near Altamonte, on Orlando-Sanford Highway.

SPOUTING WELL—An ordinary drilled well on the edge of a lake, which from some unexplainable cause emits a gushing stream of water into the air to a height of from 150 to 300 feet, at intervals. Scientists who have witnessed this phenomenon differ as to its cause. Take Apopka road, turn right at Fairvilla.

SOLARIUM and BATHING-BEACH—A FERA project sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Substantial bathing pavilion of Spanish architecture, with separate fenced in (brick-walled) "nudist solariums" for males and females. Located on Lake Estelle. Out N. Orange Ave. to Sanitarium Drive, thence right, to lake.

WEKIWA SPRINGS—The source of Wekiwa River, a tributary of the St. John's River. A natural gushing spring of thirty-six million gallons a day volume, having a uniform temperature of 74 degrees Fahrenheit the year round. Picnic grounds, boating, fishing and swimming. Fish, at Wekiwa docks, will eat from your hands. Three miles northeast of Apopka.

YE OLDE FORGE—A most attractive rock garden and pool constructed entirely of crystal rock from West Florida out of which are growing rare ferns and shrubs. Located in the rear of the R. G. Coffman Co., Inc., studio at 2809 North Orange.

See Florida From Orlando

When asked why "they" chose Orlando in which to winter, the reply has been quite varied. Outstanding among the answers is "because of its beauty, reasonableness and atmosphere of culture." However Orlando does not claim a monopoly on these advantages, for other cities could truthfully lay claim to similar advantages.

In addition, we are told, "its central location and accessibility to the rest of the state" make it the ideal headquarters for a Florida vacation.

One may live comfortably in Orlando—and assuming that you have a motor—visit a large majority of the show places and outstanding points of interest in the state, returning the same day. Good roads (except for a few minor detours where new roads are being constructed) radiate in every direction like the spokes in a wheel of which Orlando is the hub.

Traveling 88 miles northward one may visit the famous Silver Springs near Ocala, which in our humble opinion is the foremost sight-seeing point in the entire state.

Northeast, less than a hundred miles is the gorgeous Azalea Ravine Gardens, at Palatka. Here, in a natural ravine, unusual Florida topography, are now blooming more than half a million azalea bushes of every known variety.

Eastward, 60 miles one may visit the world's most famous ocean beach at Daytona. At the present time Sir Malcolm Campbell is attempting to break his own automobile speed record of more than 250 miles an hour.

To the south, less than 60 miles, you may visit the Mountain Lake region at Lake Wales, where the Singing (Bok) Tower is located. Said to contain the finest chimes in the world, carrillion programs are played daily, attracting thousands of listeners.

Too, one may visit Lakeland, Tampa with its large Spanish and Cuban population, and St. Petersburg, 118 miles, the largest of our Gulf-West Coast resort cities.

There's Tarpon Springs, famous for its sponge fisheries, and many other interesting places and things to see—all these, in addition to the numerous interesting things to be seen in our very midst, a list of which is briefly described elsewhere in these columns.

That's why we say, "See Florida from Orlando."

ANIMATED MAGAZINE ON COAST TO COAST NETWORK

A radio edition of the Rollins Animated Magazine, will go on the air Sunday, February 17, over a coast to coast NBC network originating in the Studio of WJZ in New York City. Dr. Edwin Osgood Grover, "publisher" of the Animated Magazine has announced. The time of publication of the radio edition will be from 11:15 a. m. to 11:45 a. m.

The main body of the Animated Magazine will be "published" here out-of-doors on the Rollins campus a week later, Sunday afternoon, February 24, as an outstanding feature of Founders' Week.

More than 5000 "subscribers" are expected to attend the production of the Magazine here on February 24. Hamilton Holt, former editor of "The Independent," and now president of Rollins College, originated the Animated Magazine and has served as its editor every year since.

Featured contributors who have accepted invitations from Editor Holt to appear "in person" to read original manuscripts on this year's table of contents include U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull; Walter B. Pitkin, author of several best sellers, including "Life Begins at Forty," and "More Power to You;" Andre de Laboulaye, French Ambassador to the United States; Rex Beach, the author, an alumnus of Rollins College; Arthur Guiterman, the poet; H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of the radio newscasters; Joseph C. Lincoln, author of Cape Cod stories; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York City; President John J. Tigert of the University of Florida; Dr. Jay T. Stocking, St. Louis, Mo., moderator of the Congregational and Christian Churches in the U. S.; Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines Corporation and director of the Federal Reserve Bank in New York; and Mrs. Eunice Tietjens, the poet; and several others.

President Hamilton Holt will deliver a memorial address in honor of Corra Harris, the author, at the morning meditation in Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College Sunday, Feb. 17, at 9:45 a. m.

President Holt is credited with "discovering" Corra Harris when he was editor of "The Independent" and was the first publishers to accept her work.

Mrs. Harris, who died in Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 9, had been a close friend of Dr. Holt for many years and had visited Rollins College and Winter Park often, and several years ago she served as member of the Winter Term faculty.

The public is cordially invited to attend Sunday night's program.

John Martin has chosen "France" as his subject for discussion at his public lecture Thursday morning, February 21, 11:00 o'clock in the Winter Park Congregational Church. Mr. Martin's lectures are open to the public with no admission charge.

Two public lectures will be given in Winter Park Tuesday, February 19 under the auspices of Rollins College, one by Bishop William F. Anderson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church on "The Four Gospels", and the other by Dr. Henry A. Atkinson on "India and It's Religions."

Bishop Anderson's lecture, will be delivered in the Congressional Church at 11 a. m.

Dr. Alkinson will lecture at 11:45 a. m. in the Annie Russell Theatre.

Bishop Anderson will end his discussion in time for any members of his audience who wish to do so to attend Dr. Atkinson's lecture.
