THE

MAINE ALUMNUS

JANUARY, 1941

For Service in Education

The School of Education is at present giving special emphasis to the following types of service:

1. In-Service Education of Teachers and Administrators....

Class extension courses.

Saturday extension courses.

Correspondence courses.

2. Visual Education....

The University now owns 35 reels of educational films which are available for rent to the schools of the State.

The University has become a member of the New England Educational Film Association, thus making available to the schools of the state at uniform rates all the films of the libraries of six New England institutions.

A co-operative film association of 30 schools has been formed under the name University of Maine Co-operative Film Association for the purpose of developing a film library which will be administered at the University.

It is hoped that this will be the forerunner of other similar associations to be formed in the same manner.

3. Secondary School Scholarship Contest....

Last year 105 schools and 1446 pupils participated in this contest, eight pupils winning scholarships to the University.

The Contest provides a convenient and effective method by which schools may secure a useful comparison on the quality of work being done by their pupils.

For information on any of these projects, write to

Comments

Coach Fred M. Brice, for twenty years head coach of football at the University, has resigned and plans to retire at the conclusion of this college year. The mere fact that he has been at Maine so many years in this important capacity speaks volumes as to the quality and success of his work. Moreover, he is one of an extremely small number (reported to be six) in the entire United States who have made such long tenure records.

It would be possible to write a highly laudatory tribute filled with adjectives of praise, but that is unnecessary. President Hauck, the Athletic Board, rival coaches, and sports writers have paid glowing tribute to him publicly, and scores of alumni have written personal letters which must have convinced Coach Brice not alone that his work has been well done but that he has made a countless number of friends. Rather than write effusively, we are just going to say, "Best of good health and happiness to you, Fred, and may the tradition of fine sportsmanship for which you have always stood be carried on."

And NOW

The School of Education, under the direction of Dean Olin S. Lutes above, is leading in the development of Visual Education generations. In unbroken line of association it grows straight from the stereopticon slides and illustrated lectures of an earlier day. The educational movie film, however, is a relatively recent development coinciding with the creation of moderately priced and efficient home movie projectors and equipment. The Eastman Kodak Company, pioneers in movie cameras and projectors, were early in the field. Other companies have followed the lead and today a number of companies are offering educational films of varied content and value. The usual type is the familiar 16 mm film in black and white. Eastman, the pioneer, is still among the leaders in making silent films for the purpose, but many other films, among the most popular and perhaps the most useful, are those with a sound track accompanying the picture as a running commentary or lecture. A great many of the films in the education library come from Erpi Classroom Films Inc., of New York. Such films are meticulously accurate, carefully prepared by photographic experts, and painstakingly edited by educational leaders specializing in the field to be covered. The result is a film combining usefulness and interest in a high degree.

MOVING pictures for many years the height of entertainment for young Americans, have now put on the cap and gown. Leaving behind the western bad men, the glamor girls and the slap stick comedians, Hollywood's child has entered the schoolroom. Today dignified with the name of visual education, no longer just a casual afternoon's entertainment, the movies are widening the horizons of pupils in grade and secondary schools throughout the country.

In the state of Maine, too, educators are welcoming this modern teaching device. Through the co-operation of many schools in the State, the University's School of Education, under the guidance of Dean Olin S. Lutes, is making available to schools moving picture sound films which bring to vivid and memorable life the text book studies of biology, botany, history, chemistry, the social sciences, and many other subjects.

Values

By taking the lead in this modern development, the School of Education is assisting teachers and educators throughout the State to keep abreast of latest devices for the improvement of teaching. For the development of visual education is, according to experienced school men, of great potential value to the educational process. It is today no rare thing to enter the ordinary classroom and see rows of attentive students waiting expectantly for the lights to darken and the moving picture projector to flash on the screen at the front such a title as "Flowers at Work," "The Nervous System," "The Molecular Theory of Matter," "Clothing," or "Causes and Immediate Effects of the World War." Through such processes a graphic illustration of theoretical material can be impressed on the young mind more clearly than the printed page may do, the small may be made large, the slow processes of centuries speeded up to the time of a few minutes, or the swift motions of an insect's wings slowed down to the perception of a child's eyes.

Educational films housed in the film library at the School of Education are not selected for entertainment values, they are definitely educational, planned and prepared by experts in specialized fields. Nevertheless they go far to enliven the routine of regular classroom work and to focus by means of vivid representation ideas and theories on young minds. The process is a splendid illustration of the ability of modern educators to turn to their own useful ends the developments and materials of modern science so eagerly and sometimes carelessly adopted for purely entertainment purposes.

The actual beginning of visual education goes far back in the history of earlier

History

In Maine the co-operative development of visual education has an even more recent history. The interest of school officials and the School of Education in the subject led the State Commissioner of Education to request, in the spring of 1938, that the University establish a film library. As a result educational films were purchased as the property of the University to be made available to schools on a rental basis. During the first year the School of Education acquired a total of thirty-five reels of 16 mm sound films for rental to schools or for use on the campus as a classroom supplement. This, of course, required that interested schools have available a sound film projector and related equipment. The work spread gradually; more schools became interested, purchased equipment, rented films. In two years the use of films nearly doubled from an estimated number of forty projectors throughout the state to the present figure of seventy-five. These projectors belong to high schools, junior high schools and grade schools. And at the University the film library was supplemented by a modern sound projector and screen available through the services of NYA operators to any organizations or classes at the campus.

At best, however, the rental process was a costly one, and the time limit of three days on rented films made a detailed study nearly impossible. Sensing the inescapable limitations of the rental system, school officials conferring with the faculty of the School of Education have devised this year a new approach. By enlisting the cooperation of thirty schools, a co-operative activity entitled University of Maine Co-operative Film Library Association has been established. By this new system each member school by contributing $50 annually, becomes entitled to the use of two films per week from the entire film library at the University while the money so contributed is used to purchase new films. A total of not less than two films per year for each member school is being purchased by the Association, selection to be made by a special committee. At the present time the committee on selection is viewing more than two hundred different educational films offered for classroom use from which to select at least sixty to supplement the forty films now in the University's film library.

Development

The new Co-operative Association seems destined to spread the development of visual education more widely throughout the state of Maine than ever before. Its officers are, president Glenn Robinson, supervisor of elementary schools in Bangor; secretary, C. E. Page, principal of the Garland Street Junior high school in Bangor.

Ownership of the new films rests with the Association rather than with the University, but in return for the general administration of the library the University can use on the campus any of the films, while member schools joining the new Association may also use any of the forty films at present owned by the University.

Meanwhile the same rental service is still available to any school, and the horizons of the field have been enlarged by the University's membership in the organization called New England Educational Film Association. This voluntary association of six institutions in New England having film libraries aims to establish uniform practices and rental rates to serve the schools in the entire New England area. In this way all the films in all the member libraries throughout New England are available for rental to any school in the area.

The development of modern educational films is in itself a tremendously interesting subject. Started first in the fields of science where visual representation is an easy step from the practices and procedures of the laboratory, films today are successfully entering almost every field of secondary education. Subjects listed among the University's library offer an index to the fields which may today be presented graphically to students. They range through physiology, with such subjects as "Heart and Circulation," "The Nervous System," and "Digestion of Foods"; the science of botany, where we find "Seed Dispersal," "Plant Growth," "Leaves," and "Roots of Plants"; the field of geology, with a picturization of "The Wearing Away of the Land," "Volcanoes in Action," or "Mountain Building," to the social sciences, history, sociology, and geography. Such subjects as "Our Territorial Expansion" and "Our Territorial Possessions," or the before-mentioned "Causes and Immediate Effects of the World War," illustrate the present tendency to bring visualization into more intangible fields of thought. Careful editing and textual preparation of films in history and the social sciences are bringing to the screen subjects of timely interest and great influence.

Already the School of Education reports accelerating demand for educational films. The long and varied list seems to have no particular favorites; many are called for over and over again. The graphic representation of material described helps the teacher to a clearer explanation of subject matter. Accompanying most films is a sound track giving in understandable language lecture material about the picture. Teachers throughout the State are enthusiastic in their praise of the new teaching device. On the campus, too, the use of the films is a regular and enjoyable feature of certain departments.

And, although the films are not aimed at an entertainment value, the picture-conscious child of today derives an inevitable and valuable pleasure from the moving spectacle of things as they happen. Perhaps the stern ghosts of an earlier school of thought, granted an opportunity to glance inside the modern classroom where rows of children watch in rapt attention the vision of a flower unfolding from bud to full bloom in a minute of time or the ponderous forces of geology forming mountains in the space of a moment's passing, would shudder at so painless an education. Nevertheless, ample testimony shows that children do learn from such methods, learn lastingly and enthusiastically, and today, as the movies go to school, the modern pupil is at least as likely as his more Spartan forerunner to get and retain an abiding interest in the subject.

Picture: Visual Education, the picturization of subject matter, is opening new horizons in education. In the film "Flowers at Work," the section shown above graphically pictures the parts of a flower, helps impress details more clearly on the child's mind.

BRICE RETIRES

Head Coach Fred Brice
He terminated twenty years of service at Maine with the announcement of his retirement on December 17.

WITH the completion of twenty years of coaching at Maine, Fred M. Brice, head coach of football, offered his resignation to the University trustees and administration on December 17 and announced his intention of retiring to private life at the close of the school year in June.

Thus was brought to a close a career in which Fred Brice, widely known as "The Fox," has sent teams into a total of 147 games and piled up the enviable record of 81 wins against 57 defeats and 9 tie games, with many of the defeats coming at the hands of major opponents such as Dartmouth, Yale, Columbia, and Holy Cross.

In addition to his position as head coach in charge of football in recent years his earlier career at Maine included coaching of baseball and basketball. In these sports, too, his leadership and his keen competitive sense inspired his teams to outstanding records.

State Series

During the long career which has made Brice one of the Deans of American football coaching from the point of view of service, his record in the State Series competition has been particularly outstanding. His Maine teams have won eight state titles and tied for two others, and the record shows a considerable margin of victory over every team in the state during the period. A series of particularly outstanding teams brought consecutive championships from 1931 to 1934 without the loss of a single State Series game.

Tribute

The resignation of Coach Brice, accepted with regret by the University, brought immediate recognition from newspapers and sport fans throughout the country, for the name of Coach Brice has spread far. The characteristic thoughts of many alumni and others associated with his athletic career were expressed by the resolution of the Athletic Board, passed on the occasion of his retirement, which reads in part as follows:

Whereas Fred Brice has served the University of Maine as varsity football coach for 20 years during the period he has always exemplified the highest type of sportsmanship which has won for him the admiration and esteem of players, associates, friends and,

Whereas his knowledge, skill and ability have developed players and teams which have achieved conspicuous success and gained for him national recognition as a leading strategist and keen student of the game, be it hereby,

Resolved that the Athletic Board extends its sincere appreciation to Coach Brice for his loyal and successful work at Maine and wish for him in retirement many years of good health and happiness and further expresses the hope that he may often attend University athletic events on the campus on which occasions he will always be a welcomed guest.

Speaking for the University Trustees and Administration, President Hauck expressed the regrets of all when he wrote: "Personally and on behalf of the Trustees, I wish to express our great appreciation for your loyal, devoted and effective services during the twenty years of your association with us. Your services have won wide and merited recognition and the esteem and gratitude of students, faculty, alumni, trustees, and friends of the University."

Expressions of esteem and praise have followed the career of Fred Brice during many years. Sports writers have continually noted his leadership in the development of offensive football. Many times his blue-jerseyed teams have displayed for the first time on American gridirons formations, tactics, and strategy which have later greatly modified the entire game. When many years ago the huddle, an experiment was still competing with the barked signals of the quarterback, Brice's Maine teams surprised the sports world with their precise and well-drilled formation in the huddle. The forward pass, a new device a few years ago, has always been a serious threat to his opponents' goal lines.

Fred Brice started life as an optometrist, but he coached the high school football team as a hobby in fall afternoons in New Hampshire. The war intervened, and at the end of active service, with his health impaired, he left his profession on doctor's orders to take up football coaching full time. In ten years he led Manchester high school to nine state championships and his reputation as a coach, a sportsman, and a leader of boys brought him, in 1921, to Maine.

Admiration for his ability and the personality of Fred Brice have come as often from opponents as from his own teams. No coach who has ever sent a team afield against one of his has failed to praise the sportsmanship, the ability, and the morale of his men. "Fred has done much for football in this state," writes Adam Walsh, of Bowdoin, "and has been held in high regard both on and off the field. We have gained by knowing him and his teams." Similarly Al McCoy, of Colby, said, "Mr. Brice has been a heartily feared competitor. Maine will have a hard time filling his shoes. I hope if I stay as long at one school I can point to a record close to his and I will be satisfied." At Bates, head football coach Wendell Mansfield said, "Never have I heard of anyone speak of Fred Brice as being anything but a gentleman, a real builder of men, an excellent coach and displaying sportsmanship beyond reproach."

Career's End

It has long been known that Coach Brice would resign soon, but year after year the sound of the football whistle kept him following the trail like an eager old hunting dog. Today, at the age of fifty-three, an unusual age for football coaches, he feels that the time has come for him to retire to private life and enjoy an existence without the responsibilities and worries that are an inevitable part of the coaching profession. He hopes, he says, to travel and to take life easy. With a great career behind him and an enviable reputation at Maine and in the hearts of the more than 1,500 men who have been a part of his teams, he can enjoy a well-deserved rest.

Coach Brice has led his last Maine team and will take the football field in the future only in memory. It is perhaps not too much to say that his resignation marks, in one sense, the end of an era.

A MILLION CARNATIONS

CARNATIONS are the job of Lester P. Barbour, 20. As general manager for Strout's, Inc., at Biddeford, his is the responsibility of overseeing the work of one of the largest carnation growing houses in the country. Strout's and alumnus Barbour have a lot to do with many other kinds of flowers also, but carnations have long been and remain by far the largest item on Strout's program. And that means the shipment of one million carnation blooms a year.

A million carnations is a lot of flowers, and the growth, development, control, creation of new species, planting and shipment of both blooms and seedling carnations keep Lester Barbour a busy and a happy man.

Seaman

From Brewer high school, his native city, Lester Barbour entered the College of Agriculture in 1916. He interrupted a promising career on the campus when he volunteered for the duties and dangers of the U. S. Naval Reserve in which he was called to active duty in September, 1917. As a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Covington troop transport, he went through the experience of a hurried disembarkation when the boat was torpedoed off the coast of France, July 1, 1918. Later service saw him in the Mediterranean and Black Sea and the Far East. After receiving his second officer's certificate, he continued to follow the sea until June, 1921.

The warm fragrance of the carnation houses at Strout's present a strange and probably welcome contrast to the turbulent sea-going years. Perhaps sea officer Barbour had thought of rows of vivid blossoms, the odors of flowers, and the rich good earth as he stood watch aboard ship under strange stars or in the howling storms of distant seas. Certainly his path led him unerringly to the business at which he has proved himself well suited, for with the help of his brother he established a small greenhouse in Belfast in July, 1921, a month after he came ashore.

Two years later the Belfast property was sold and Lester Barbour, the seaman turned florist, went to work at Strout's, Inc., in Biddeford. His ability was soon recognized. Made foreman in 1925 and soon acting assistant grower of carnations, he was named general manager in 1932.

Under the guidance of L. P. Barbour, Strout's, Inc., boasts a ten-year average of 1,000,000 carnation blooms annually, making it among the largest plants of its type.

Under 100,000 square feet of glass in ten greenhouses, some 200,000 cuttings are used each season to replant the long rows of frames. Shipments include both carnation blooms, in an infinite array of color and size, and also seedling cuttings. For carnations, unlike most flowers, are not regularly produced from seed but from cuttings of the original plant which are rooted for the production of new plants.

A Story of Success

Shipments of blossoms from Strout's are sent to many parts of the country, including New York, Norfolk, Va., Detroit, Mich., Raleigh, N. C., Camden, S. C., and clear to Jacksonville, Fla. In boxes of 500 blossoms each, the great fragrant flower heads are shipped almost the year round, the season being from August 1 to the following July 15. Between times the carnation houses are completely changed with new plants from the field placed in new soil for the coming season. Starting November 1, propagation of the new carnation cuttings is started and continues until April the following year. Many factors enter into the choice of those cuttings which are retained and developed for commercial use, color, size and shape of the bloom, keeping qualities, plant growth, length of stem, and many other features.

Nurseryman: Lester P. Barbour, '20, general manager of Strout's, Inc., of Biddeford, selects some of the prize carnations for which Strout's and nurseryman Barbour are famous. Picture by courtesy of Louis Tibbetts, '19, who is also helping to raise Strout carnations.

go to make up an acceptable commercial carnation plant. No plant is put into commercial use until it has been adequately tried in the greenhouse.

The success of Strout's as one of the country's leading carnation growers is exemplified by the history of Maine Sunshine, called the best clear yellow carnation on the market. Maine Sunshine is a Strout carnation. Started in 1917, it is still recognized as the standard by which other yellow carnations are judged in the flower shows. Such a long history of success is particularly remarkable when it is remembered that all new plants and blossoms through those many years have been from cuttings and have really come from an original single plant. Such is the heritage of Strout's which alumnus Barbour has accepted and developed.

Competing in nearly all national displays and flower shows, Strout carnations have consistently won many outstanding prize awards. Mr. Barbour, himself, recognized by fellow florists as a leader in his field, is a member of the American Carnation Society, the Boston Gardeners and Florists Club, and secretary-treasurer of the Maine State Florists Association.

As a horticulturist and at the same time a business executive, he is making a record of success which has placed him high in the list of successful nursery men, and anyone seeing him fondly watching the growth of a favorite variety or picking an outstanding bloom here and there from the seemingly endless rows of nodding blossoms in the Strout's greenhouses realizes that here is one who not only knows but deeply loves his profession.

ANDROSCOGGIN REACHES QUOTA

Just as The Alumnus was going to press a report from Androscoggin County put the men of that area over their quota of $3,840 for the Library Fund Campaign. Nine areas have now reached or exceeded their area quotas. And three other areas, Lehigh Valley, Androscoggin Alumnae and Rhode Island are over the 90 per cent mark.

Much credit goes to Thomas Murphy '22, who until early December was Androscoggin area chairman. A change of occupation and location forced him to pass over the 'clean-up' job to John McCobb '25, who quickly put Androscoggin alumni in the honor group. The other eight areas to have achieved success to date are Northern California, Western Pennsylvania, Lincoln County, Philadelphia, Canada, Western Massachusetts, White Mountain and Western New York. Northern California with 139.5 per cent of its quota still tops the list followed by Western Pennsylvania with 125.9 per cent and Canada with 120 per cent.

The Class of 1911 with total subscriptions amounting to $3,514.50 retains first position. Measured on a percentage of the class members who have subscribed that notable class of 1885 stands first.

Five classes with the largest total amount subscribed are 1911, $3,614.50; 1917, $3,537.00; 1916, $3,266.50; 1922, $3,036.00; 1918, $2,941.00.

On the percentage basis the high five are 1885, 42.9%; 1879, 37.5%; 1891, 38.0%; 1923, 33.9%; 1921, 30.2%.

With the renewal of activity after the new year it is expected substantial progress will be reported during the weeks just ahead.

Chairman: From Western New York comes Russell Look, '29, to join the list of leaders who have reported 100% for their areas. With those already pictured and more to come, the total of successful areas at present stands at nine.

Campus Events

Jobs—

A program of vocational information primarily for students of the three upper classes will be presented on the campus February 11, 12 and 13 under the title Vocations Week 1941. Sponsored jointly by the Placement Bureau, the Women's Student Government, and the University Placement Committee, the biennial program will again feature a variety of talks by representatives from business, industry, and the professions, describing typical vocational opportunities for college men and women as well as the techniques of proper application, including the application letter and the interview. Designed to assist underclass men and women to make a more intelligent vocational choice and seniors to make a more effective application for the job they have chosen, Vocations Week will be an outstanding campus feature for February.

Leaders: Five women leaders, presidents of the outstanding campus organizations are, left to right: Mary Boone, '41, of Presque Isle, Y.W.C.A.; Elizabeth Gammons, '41, of East Greenwich, R. I., Women's Athletic Association; Alma Hansen, '41, of South Portland, Women's Student Government Association; Virginia Moulton, '41, of Bangor, Panhellenic Council; Helen Wormwood, '41, of Portland, All-Maine Women.

Freedom—

Freedom from the heavy oppressions of the Sophomores was accorded to the men of '44 just before Christmas vacation in a surprise announcement by Jim Harris, '41, president of the Senior Skulls. Freshman rules, in effect since the opening of school, included special caps and ties and other restrictions. For the rest of the year Freshmen will be "on their own," like the rest of the student body.

Sisters—

Annual sorority pledging time of parties, friendly overtures, and freshman excitement brought into sorority folds many new members on December 20. A total of forty pledges to five sororities included thirty freshmen, ten upperclassmen. Of the first-year girls A O Pi pledged nine, Chi Omega eight, Delta Delta Delta eight, Phi Mu four, and Pi Beta Phi one.

Drama—

Second production of the Mame Masque, "Hotel Universe" was well received by a capacity audience December 9 to 12. The play, a modern fantasy drama, was a thought-provoking and competent performance by both veterans and newcomers in the Masque. The leads were played by John Robie, '42, Augusta, and Calista Buzzell, '41, of Milford, ably supported by Russell Woolley, '41, of Bridgton, Virginia Howe, '41, of Union, and Freshman Frances Sheehy, of Lewiston, among others.

Chosen—

At the annual Military Ball on December 6, colorful formal dance staged by the Scabbard & Blade, Madeline Banton, '42, of Newport, was chosen honorary lieutenant colonel for the coming year. Picked from a field of five, Miss Banton received her honorary commission from last year's appointee, Barbara Ashworth, '41, of Orono. The usual intermission ceremony by the Scabbard and Blade officers inducted Miss Banton into the ROTC unit with appropriate form.

Speakers—

Recent speakers on the campus included Carl Hambro, president of the Norwegian Parliament, and Dr. Karl Polyani, lecturer from Oxford University, England. Presenting various aspects of the international situation his interesting and informative talks were greatly enjoyed by a large number of students and faculty.

Valentine—

Election of a U of M "Valentine Girl" has been announced as a feature of the Pale Blue Key Cabaret on January 10. From five nominees chosen by members of the Key, guests at the dance will name their choice.

Christmas—

Appropriate student activities helped to usher in the Christmas season at the campus last month. Highlight of the program was the Sunday afternoon Christmas Vespers on December 15, sponsored jointly by the Assembly Committee, the department of Music and the M.C.A. Singing of carols and presentation of special musical numbers by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, and the University orchestra, provided an impressive and enjoyable program.

Carol singing by 300 students for President and Mrs. Hauck on the evening of December 18, repeated an annual feature, and the German Club presented a German Nativity Play on December 15. Formal Christmas dinners by University dormitories combined with appropriate campus decorations of lighting to set the tone of the holiday.

Award—

Award of two Hovey Memorial Scholarships to seniors of Technology was announced last month. Richard R. Chase, of Portland, majoring in Pulp and Paper, and James O. Williams, of Ogunquit, majoring in Chemical Engineering, were the recipients.

With the Teams

TRACKMEN—

The winter track season got off to a good start last month with two interclass meets, the Freshman-Sophomore annual scrap on December 6, which resulted in a strong sophomore team walking off with all honors, and the interclass meet on December 13, which again brought victory to the powerful second-year men.

In defeating the freshmen, sophomore trackmen piled up a score of 107 points to 28. With first places in 14 out of the total 15 events, the second-year men showed the strength expected of them from their freshman records of last year. High point of the day was the mile and a half run when Dick Martinez, of Albany, N. Y., cross country and distance star, clipped more than 11 seconds off the University record for this event made by Don Smith '40 in 1936.

Other excellent results were turned in by Niles Perkins, of Togus, sophomore transfer, who set a meet record in the 35-lb weight and sophomore William Hadlock, of Quincy, Mass., who clipped a tenth of a second from the high hurdle meet mark set in 1929 by Bill Stiles '31.

Interclass

The annual interclass meet on December 13 saw the sophomores win again with a score of 101½, the freshmen second with 57½, seniors 55, and juniors 43. Again the strength and balance of the sophomore track group proved a decisive factor, with 12 first places in 23 events going to the members of 1943. The individual honors, however, were scattered throughout the four classes. The freshmen reached second place largely through the efforts of Ralph Rich, of Portland, who took the 70-yd high hurdles for a new freshman and college record, placed second in the 100-yd high hurdles, and third in the 100-yd low hurdles. High scorer of the meet was Stan Johnson, '41, of Brunswick.

Records

New record marks starred the interclass meet. Stan Johnson set a new University mark in the 28-lb hammer throw and Herb Johnson, '42, of Onawa, set up a new University record in the discus. Rich's 70-yd hurdle mark made a third record to fall. Fourth and most thrilling performance was the record-breaking run of Ken Blaisdell, '41, of Ellsworth, who flashed over the one and one-half mile to lower the figure set last week by Martinez for a new University record.

Looking ahead, the varsity strength, balance, and teamwork shown so far in two interclass meets give promise of a powerful squad. Next on the list, the traditional intramural and Charles Rice Cup meets should serve to bring out still further the power of the group.

BASKETBALL—

With the basketball season looming up immediately after the close of Christmas vacation, practice by the Kenyon men has shaped up two promising teams to comprise the squad. Daily scrimmages have welded the groups into team units and it is expected that a 14-man squad will make the New England trip starting January 9. Some casualties have changed the expected line up with veteran guard Charlie Arbor on the sidelines with a leg injury and Ken Wright temporarily on the sick list.

The expected line up for the starting group will be, as forwards, Parker Small, '42, of South Portland and Sam Tracy, '41, of Northeast Harbor, as the guards, Lowell Ward, '43, of Brighton, and Hartwell Lancaster, '42, of Old Town, while the veteran Eugene Leger, '42, of Newton, Mass., will jump center. Of these, Small, Tracy, and Leger are veterans.

The balance of the squad will be made up in part of sophomores from last year's powerful freshman unit. These will include Lloyd Quint, of Portland, and Bertis Pratt, of Caribou, at forward, Eugene Hussey, of Kezar Falls, at center, and Dick McKeen, of Bangor, at guard. Senior Roger Stearns, of South Paris, will also make the trip. Others named on the squad are Clifton Nickerson, a sophomore from Bath, Bob French, a junior from Guilford, Cliff Blake, of Cornish, and Lawrence Downs, of Bangor, both juniors.

Facing a tough schedule the basketball men are working hard to overcome the handicap of the Christmas vacation interruption and are expected to take the floor with at least an even chance for victories in most of their encounters.

INTRAMURAL—

The completion of the annual intramural volleyball series with Sigma Alpha Epsilon the campus champion in this event opens the way for the winter basketball series. Twenty-three teams are entered on the schedule representing each fraternity and eight dormitory and off-campus groups.

Another item on the intramural program will be hockey competition. It is planned to clear a double skating rink for hockey use and general skating and there will be again a hockey league and trophy for the intramural team winning the championship.

Local Associations

Penobscot County Alumni held their annual dinner meeting Tuesday, December 17, at the Bangor House. Toastmaster for the occasion was A. M. Rudman, '17. Law President Ralph Brown presided. Singing throughout the evening was enjoyed, led by Phil Jones, '19 with Howard Goodwin, '38, at the piano. Speaker for the evening was congressman-elect Frank Fellows, '12. Special feature of the program was the appearance of the U. of M. Glee Club under the direction of Albion Beverage. Other speakers for the evening included President Hauck, Prof. George Hamlin, '73, first president of the General Alumni Association, Ambrose H. White, '89, and Alumni Secretary Crossland. The 1941 officers elected are Samuel H. Calderwood, '33, of Bangor, president, Professor Joseph M. Murray, '25, of Orono, vice president, and Earle R. Webster, '27, secretary-treasurer.

Western Pennsylvania Alumni elected new officers at a meeting on November 19, with Ralph Parkman, '26, selected as president, Robert Owen, '21, vice president, and Harry A. Randall, '15, secretary-treasurer. With twenty-six members and friends present, the social meeting following the business was an enjoyable one. Byron Chatto, '05, was a feature of the evening, showing colored moving pictures of scenes about Pittsburg and summer vacation views.

Cumberland County Alumni report a highly enjoyable and enthusiastic party and dance on November 8 as a "Maine Night" gathering. Fred Jordan, '20, as master of ceremonies, helped the fun along, leading cheers and singing and calling on several guests to speak briefly. Among the speakers was assistant football coach Bill Kenyon. In December, Cumberland County alumni joined with the alumni of Bates, Bowdoin, and Colby to observe Football Night at which the four varsity football coaches were speakers. According to reports, the event proved to be very successful.

Merrymeeting Bay Alumni entertained a total of twenty-one alumni and friends at Bath on November 8. Guest speaker Dean of Men L. S. Corbett and football moving pictures featured the evening.

Lehigh Valley Alumni met Wednesday, November 20, in Allentown, Pa., with Arthur Wescott, '99, president, in charge. The meeting featured particularly a report by E. N. Woodsum, '15, on the results of the library fund drive in that area. Fifteen attended the meeting.

Rhode Island Alumni put on an informal buffet supper Friday, November 15, in Providence. Carleton "Speed" Merritt, '24, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Coach Fred Brice. His talk on Maine football was followed by movies of recent games. Presiding was Wes Ames, '20. Boston alumni were represented by George Potter, '20, Frank Ellis, '21, and Myron Watson, '20.

White Mountain Alumni met in Gorham on November 20. During the meeting a report was presented by Scott Lockyer, '09, on the local library standing which has passed the 100% mark. General entertainment followed the business meeting.

Missouri Increases Lead

Alumni in Missouri not only held the lead position which they gained last month for having the highest per cent of dues payers but also increased their margin of leadership. Lehigh Valley, for several years ranking first, moved up into second position. Penobscot alumni missed a place in the high ten by only one-tenth of one per cent. Following is the standing of the leading ten association areas:

ASSOCIATION	PER CENT
Missouri	39.3
Lehigh Valley	29.6
Michigan	28.5
Northeastern New York	28.3
Philadelphia	26.3
Pittsburgh	24.6
Minnesota	24.1
Illinois	23.9
Penobscot Alumnae	22.5
Western Massachusetts	21.6

Franklin County Alumni held a meeting in Farmington, December 9, with Dr. Joseph M. Murray, head of the department of zoology, Theodore S. Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, and Alumni Secretary Charles E. Crossland as guests and speakers. Athletic movies were shown. Officers for the ensuing year were re-elected as follows: president, Errol L. Dearborn, '22, Farmington, vice president, Karl Oakes, '24, Rangeley; secretary, J. Winston Hoyt, '35, Farmington; and treasurer, Drew Stearns, '25, also of Farmington.

Worcester County Alumni met at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Arthur Staples, '27, with eight alumni and five guests present. During the business meeting, Asher Sylvester, '36, was elected president, Craig Welch, '35, vice president, and Mrs. Asher Sylvester secretary-treasurer.

Philadelphia Alumni Association met December 13 at the Russian Inn, with an attendance of 37. The mid-winter picnic of this group will be held at the home of the Homer Rays, Providence Road, Wallingford on January 11.

Boston Loan Fund

Alumni residing in greater Boston have established a new loan fund at the University for assistance to needy students. The fund, it is planned, will ultimately reach $5,000 which will be available for loans to any male student at the University with special consideration given to applicants from Massachusetts. The primary qualifications for applicants are to be need, character, scholastic standing, and campus leadership.

Honored: President Arthur A. Hauck, nationally recognized as a leader in higher education administration, was recently named vice president of the National Association of State Universities. Meeting in Chicago in annual convention, the association discussed mutual problems of state universities and their administration. Election to national office is a deserved honor and tribute to President Hauck's leadership.

THE HONOR ROLL

To the Classes of 1911, 1938, and 1885 go the lead positions in the preliminary Honor Roll which contains 1,257 names, a record mid-year total. The gain in total number of names is the largest in five years.

The Class of 1917 which held the top position last year has been displaced by the narrow margin of one by the Classes of 1911 and 1938. 1911 has been consistently high year after year having led the Honor Roll more than once. Particularly gratifying is the fact that 1938 the first year the class has been eligible to go on the Roll, should immediately take the limelight. These two classes each have 48 names in the list, 1917 has 47 followed by 1910 with 42 and 1916 with 39.

Nor does the record making stop with the total number. 1885 is believed to have set a new high for any class having five or more living members with its figure of 66.6% of its class members on the Honor Roll. 1879 and 1894 are tied with 50% each, next in line being 1882 with 42.8% and fifth is 1881 with 37.5%.

The Classes of 1922 and 1934 show the largest gains in numbers over their respective figures of one year ago. Each has eight more names in the Roll this year. Following is the preliminary Honor Roll of alumni who have paid dues the last three years consecutively. The final Roll is scheduled to appear in the June issue of The Alumnae.

Embassy—

Sixteen religious leaders from many parts of the east gathered on the campus for the second annual Embassy for men December 10, 11 and 12. Sponsored by the M. C. A. the Embassy featured both formal and informal discussion of religious and social problems. Housed at fraternities and dormitories the Embassy leaders were available for intimate personal contact with the men students. Excellent response on the part of students and worthwhile leadership by the participants made the second Embassy an outstanding campus event of last month.

Plans—

Plans to remodel the S. A. E. fraternity house during the Christmas vacation were announced just before the closing of school. Builders, busy during the intermission are modernizing, redecorating, and refitting the house inside and out to conform more nearly with modern architectural ideas and the general building plan of the campus. The work is expected to be completed in the spring.

Construction—

Actual construction on the new Delta Tau Delta fraternity house got under way last month. Plans prepared by architect Alonzo J. Hariman, '20, call for a colonial structure of attractive design in harmony with the rest of the campus. Building will be rushed during the coming months and it is hoped the building will be completed in the spring.

GIFTS

Stephen Whatland, president of the University of Maine Foundation, announces the receipt of two gifts to the corporation recently.

Appleton Bequest

Under the terms of the will of the late Maria S. Appleton, of Bangor, $5,000 was left to the Foundation in trust, the income to be used as a scholarship fund for the benefit of deserving and needy students at the University of Maine. The basis of award of the scholarships is left with the proper officers of the Foundation.

Class of 1915

As its twenty-fifth anniversary gift the Class of 1915 gave $2,500 in trust to the University of Maine Foundation the income to be used for student aid. This gift is unusual in that it stipulates that the President of the University shall have the income of the Fund to use for student aid in such ways and amounts as he deems best. This is the largest twenty-fifth anniversary gift yet made by any class and has set a pace for others to follow.

The University of Maine Foundation was organized by alumni for the purpose of receiving gifts and bequests and handling trust funds for the benefit of the University.

All-Maine—

Announcement was made of the All-Maine field hockey team for women from the department of physical education. The first team included seniors Blanche Conlan, of Biddeford and Dora West, of Lexington, Mass., juniors Virginia Weston, of Dover-Foxcroft, Arlene Webster, of Auburndale, Mass., Mary Young, of Winterport, Lorraine Dimitre, of Calais, Mary Cowin, of Orono, Eleanor Ward, of Fitchburg, Mass., and Shirley Ashman, of Augusta, and sophomores Iva Henry, of Thomaston, and Lois White, of Augusta. Selection on the All-Maine team is a recognition of ability.

During the giving out of athletic awards last month, special honor was paid to two winners of University seals, the highest award in women's sports. The winners of the seals were Helen Wormwood, '41, of Portland and Mavis Creamer, '41, of Calais.

Debaters—

Women members of the debating teams made an extensive tour to Rhode Island, Boston, New York and Newark in December. Non-decision debates against Boston University, the College of the City of New York, and the University of Newark and a victory over the debate team at the Rhode Island College of Education, featured the trip. The debaters of the trip were Martha Hutchins, '41, of Kingfield, Alma Fifield, '41, of Brewer, and Leona Rumon, '41, of Orono.

Alumni Personals

Deaths

1881

WILLIAM A. VINAL, U. S. Commissioner and Probate Judge at Seldovia, Alaska, William Vinal died July 3, 1940. A report of his passing was sent to the alumni office by his wife, who survives him. No details of his passing are known at this time.

1900

HAROLD E. COOK, Probate Judge. Harold Cook died at his home in Gardiner on December 1 following a brief illness. Graduate of the Law School, he was admitted to the Bar in 1900 and practised law at Waterville for several years. For the last thirty-two years of his life, he was Judge of the Probate Court of Kennebec County, residing in Gardiner, being elected to his ninth term last fall. As president of the Kennebec Bar Association, the Gardiner Loan and Building Association, and chairman of the Republican City Committee, he was a leader in local and county activities. He held high offices in the Masons and was active in the Episcopal Church.

CLARENCE W. STOWELL. The death, on November 26 in Paterson, N. J., of Clarence W. Stowell brought to a close the career of one widely known to hundreds of alumni and moving picture audiences throughout the country from his appearance as the Member of Congress, John Lawton, in the recent March of Time feature, "The Ramparts We Watch." Mr. Stowell not only starred in the picture, which met with such widespread approval throughout the country, but also made many personal appearances and lectures in theatres where the picture was shown.

Following graduation from the University, Mr. Stowell earned his Ph.D. from Harvard and a science degree at Chicago. He participated in the Spanish-American War and subsequently taught for many years at Brown University. He served at one time as secretary of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

DANIEL W. CONY. The death of Daniel W. Cony, of Augusta, on October 1, 1940, has been reported to the alumni office. His passing was the result of a heart attack following a considerable period of illness. He was 58 years old.

1913

ELSON H. BIGELOW. Death came to Elson H. Bigelow, of Quincy, Mass., on December 7, who, at the age of 53, was serving as chief draftsman of the Machine, Hull, and Electrical shops of the Fore River Shipyards of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. Previous to his association with the shipyards, he worked as a machine draftsman at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. He had served the Bethlehem Corporation for twenty years. He was a member of the American Shipbuilders and Designers Association.

1922

CLIFTON E. WASS. Report of the death of Clifton E. Wass on October 1, 1940, has just been received by the alumni office. No details are known of his passing.

1928

SAMUEL A. THOMPSON. A fatal hunting accident in the woods near Guilford brought death to Samuel A. Thompson, principal of Corinna Union Academy. Struck by the rifle bullet of a hunting companion, Mr. Thompson died shortly afterward. A native of Lee, he was prominent during his career at Maine in many campus activities and athletics. He held at one time the New England championship in the shot put and was captain of varsity track. Following graduation, he taught two years at Lee Academy, one year at Vanceboro, and was serving his ninth year as principal of Corinna Academy.

1931

CLINTON HOAR, Civil engineer. Clinton Hoar, employed in Holmell, N. Y. by the U. S. Engineers, was killed in an automobile accident on August 12, 1940.

Dear Classmates

Again it is time for me to send my news items in to the Alumni Office. I have been feeling quite discouraged because only one member had replied to my card and I had to depend upon three items from the Alumni Secretary's Office, but upon returning home from a club meeting, I found a long letter from Martin Harvey, a graduate from the College of Law. This letter made me very happy, it is very interesting and I shall quote passages from it. It was unfortunate that the students in the College of Law and the students at the University did not know each other better. It always pleased me back in the days when I edited the Class Letter to receive a response from a classmate from the College of Law. Martin studied law with Judge L. B. Deasey at Bar Harbor, Maine. He says "later I became a Registered Pharmacist in Conn. and New York. Now am Manager of the Ave. A Pharmacy, Schenectady, New York. Have a lovely talented young wife, Shirley Ramona. We play violin together in the Albany Symphony Orchestra. We have three children, Clayton 13½ in first year high school and a clarinetist, Beverly June 11 in the sixth grade, a pianist and ballet dancer, Roger 8, in the third grade and a pianist." You must have many happy moments together with your musical family. He says he hopes to bring his family back some day to Maine. He has many fond memories of Bangor, recalling many buildings, which have either disappeared in the reconstruction that naturally comes to any city or have been torn down. I am afraid, Martin, the changes would make you a little lonely. He mentions some of his teachers, of whom he was very fond and some of them are still living in Bangor. Even the Law School is no longer in existence. The building was sold by the University to the Bangor Symphony Corporation and it is a music center. I shall write to him attempting to tell him some of the changes that have taken place. If I could only receive even one letter a month as interesting and full of news, my job would be a happier one. His address is 3 Huron Court, Schenectady, New York. If any of you are in Schenectady, why not look him up at the Drug Store?

Many of you remember Lucretia Davis. We always called her "Cretia". She lives in Brownwood, Texas, and teaches Spanish at Howard Payne College. She married S. E. Weaver who carries on a ranch at Coleman, Texas. They have three chil-

Another promotion! Major Norman E. True whom we mentioned last month as being in Quantico, Virginia, has been promoted to a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Mrs. Jeremiah Reardon of Augusta was guest speaker before the Bangor District of the Maine Council of Catholic Women in November. Her subject was an adaptation of Clarence Day's "Life with Father" by Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse. Her review was especially fine and she was well received. Mr. and Mrs. Reardon live at 51 Green St., Augusta.

1920—Next Reunion, 1942

Alonzo H. Tuck is now in Patten where he is a practicing attorney.

Stephen R. Bussell of Old Town who has been promoted to the regimental staff of Colonel Norman Whitney was honored at a banquet recently in that city by the members of the Old Town branch headquarters battery 152nd Field Artillery. Captain Bussell has been very popular among the national guard members working up from second lieutenant to first and then to captain. He lives at 203 North Fourth St. He has been named by Governor Barrows, 16, to the military post of Adjutant in the National Guard and received the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

1921—Next Reunion, 1941

1924—Next Reunion, 1941

The big news of this month is, of course, that plans are already underway for our class reunion in June. Our president "Duke" Dunham, met with a group of 24ers in Boston recently, including "Hot" Ayer, Ted Monroe, Wes Ames, Bentley Hutchins, and George Lord and laid the groundwork for a group organization which will try to make this the best reunion ever for the Class of 1924. Success of their plans, however, depends upon the active co-operation of every one of us. Let's plan to enter wholeheartedly into preparations and begin by setting aside that week-end in June to renew old college friendships.

Now for a few news items.

"Greg" Baker spent two months last summer cruising timberland in Labrador for a commercial lumber company. With an associate he chartered a three-masted schooner, and entered the many fjords along the coast with interesting and varied experiences—icebergs, whales at close range, and the rigorous routine of life at a northern outpost. "Greg" is now back at his post as instructor in the Forestry Department at the University.

F. Gilbert Hills of South Weymouth, Mass., is the proud father of Frederick Loring Hills, aged six months.

Hillis Holt is radio engineer with the American Broadcasting Company, 730 Fifth Avenue, New York City, and lives at Bayside L. I., N. Y.

Beatrice Johnson Little is chairman of the Mental Hygiene Division of the Public Welfare Department of the Maine State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Earl Osgood, of Fryeburg, is Oxford County Chairman of the Republican Committee and was also re-elected this fall chairman of the Finance Committee of the Fryeburg Fair.

Standish Racey and McKay, Inc. has changed its name to Standish Ayer, and McKay, Inc. Hazen Ayer will continue his connections with the firm with the title of vice president and treasurer.

Don't forget to send me a Christmas or New Year's card with a news item. Best wishes to you all for a happy holiday and a prosperous New Year.

Happy New Year!

Our personals are few in number this month. I had hoped we might have a longer column. Let's see if we can't increase our news. There must be more news about our classmates.

Lindsay B. Chalmers was restaurant manager of the Campbell Taggart Research Corp. in Kansas City, Mo., but has more recently moved to 327 Mamaroneck Ave., White Plains, New York.

Frank Hussey must be busy attending meetings. He was chairman of a committee to study quotas, loans, marketing agreements, and other devices to maintain farmers' incomes, at a three-day meeting of Maine's Agricultural Conservation officials to be held in New York City, December 4 to 6.

Maynard Linekin is stationed at Quebec as resident manager of Upper Gatineau Woodlands Division of the Canadian International Paper Company.

Chester W. Cambell is now Borough Superintendent in the Dept. of Housing and Building in New York City.

Best of wishes to all and I am looking forward to more news.

This item was not reported by your class secretary. Miss Dakin's engagement to Mr Albert D Nutting, '27, son of Mr and Mrs S Dexter Nutting, of Otisfield, was announced by Miss Dakin's mother Mrs A K P Dakin, of Orono. Both are employed by the Extension Service at the University, Mr Nutting as Forestry Specialist and Miss Dakin as Foods Specialist. The wedding will take place December 31.

Dear Classmates

Just a few items this month. Our class is right in it with those of 1938, 1939 etc. with three new babies in the ranks.

First Calista Mary arrived November 12 at the home of Mr and Mrs John Anderson, of Cornwall, Ontario. John is immigration inspector at Roosevelttown, New York.

Next Jean Ellen born November 23 to Mr and Mrs Wyman Gerry of School Street, Brewer. Jean Ellen has a sister Ann who is two years old.

Philip Alton Whitehouse II arrived November 27 to Mr and Mrs Philip Whitehouse of Winter Harbor, Maine. Phil has a hardware store at Winter Harbor in connection with his Dad's grocery store. Philip II is their first baby.

Congratulations to all the proud Mamas and Papas!

Mrs A K P Dakin, of Orono, has announced the engagement of her daughter Leone '26 to "Al" Nutting. The wedding is to be December 31.

Abba Fernald has been appointed assistant public analyst in the Federal Security Agency of the Social Security Board. Abba will be located at the regional office, 120 Boylston St., Boston. For the past two years she has been a case worker for the Family Service Society in Hartford, Conn.

And that is all the news I can get!

Dear Classmates

A card has been received from Carroll DeCoster and his wife, Dora Colomy, '30, announcing the birth of their fourth girl. (I was beginning to think no one in this class had girls except the Dudleys). Anyhow, the young DeCoster's are Maude, aged 7, Mary, 5, Martha, 3, and Melinda.

Matthew Williams, who is a practicing attorney in Dover-Foxcroft, was Chairman of the Annual Red Cross Roll Call in that town this year.

William P "Bill" Viles, of Augusta has been appointed to the New England Golf Association advisory committee. Bill is a former president of the Maine State Golf Association.

Jerome "Romey" Knowles was the speaker this past month when the Northern Maine Real Estate Board met in Bangor. "Romey," who is in the real estate business in Northeast Harbor, spoke on "Ethics of the Real Estate Profession."

George N. Martin, who has been living in Seattle, Washington, should now be addressed c/o Bates & Rogers Construction Corp., P O Box 412, LaPorte, Indiana.

From all the publicity Mose Namgan has had this past month, we almost suspect a Publicity Agent. However, it's all as a result of Mose's tremendous success as a coach, since he went to Bangor High School a year or two ago. Outstanding success at Madison High resulted in his coming to Bangor. Testimonial banquets have been held in his honor this fall, and of him the Bangor paper says, "His winning spirit has infected the entire student body," while the Portland Sunday Telegram says, "He is well liked throughout eastern Maine and is idolized by his boys," and "According to the consensus of opinion among old grads the current reign of athletic director Mose Namgan is the greatest athletic comeback ever seen in Maine." Mose's successes have been in baseball as well as football.

And now I come to news which is painful to write. Those of us who live in Maine were shocked to read in our papers the first of December, of the death of Sam Thompson. Sam has been principal of Corinna Academy for the past eight years. He was accidentally shot by his companion while out hunting and died before help could be reached. He is survived by a wife and three small children. We all remember Sam as having been one of the outstanding members of our class.

Although it may be a little late to say it when you read this, a Happy New Year to you all, and please list among your New Year resolutions, RESOLVED—

TO KEEP THE CLASS SECRETARY POSTED OF MY DOINGS.

Sybil Leach is now living in Chicago where she is a student social worker for the United Charities. Her home address is 523 Fullerton Parkway, Chicago, and her business address is 360 W. Locust St., Chicago.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Anne Marguerite Kelley and John Edward Flynn, which was solemnized Armistice Day at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Walpole, Mass. Mrs. Flynn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley, of Walpole. She was graduated from Framingham State Teachers' College and before her marriage was principal of a Walpole grammar school. They will live in Augusta, where John is assistant manager of the Robbins Company there.

An attractive church wedding the last of November was that of Miss Barbara Williams, daughter of Wallace Williams, of Lynn, Massachusetts, and Jack Atwood, of Bangor. The bride was graduated from Rogers Hall, Lowell, Mass., the Leland Powers School in Boston, Boston University and Hawthorne Institute, Salem, Mass. She is a member of The Tavern Players, of Lynn, Mass. Mr. Atwood is manager of Radio Station WRDO of Augusta and was formerly with Station WLBB in Bangor.

Doris Beasley is occupational therapist at the Payne Whitney Psychiatric Clinic at 525 East 68th Street, New York City. She is living at 340 East 63rd.

Miss Hortense Bradbury and Hollis E. Monaghan were married December 7 in the Universalist church at Old Town at a 4:30 p.m. ceremony. Hortense is home demonstration agent in Washington County. Mr. Monaghan was graduated from Machias High School and is now proprietor of a Shell service station in Bangor.

Horace Caler is U. S. Immigration Patrol Inspector, with residence address in Machias, Maine.

Bill Daley was recently elected president of the Portland Football Officials' Association.

Miss Doris Eisnor and Forrest C. Hurd of Bangor, were married November 10 in Waterville. They are making their home on Lincoln Street, Bangor.

John M. Palmer is with the Hygrade-Sylvania Corporation in Emporium, Pennsylvania. His home address is R. D. 1, Emporium.

George A. Ramsdell is sales manager for Spencer Corset Co. Inc. with a residence address at 58 Mayflower Road, Needham, Massachusetts.

Happy New Year!

My headlines on reunion a month or so back stirred up some enthusiasm. I had a very nice letter from Dick Page, who thinks the reunion idea is a good one and says he'll be here if he can wangle a leave. Not so many of the Maine crowd are down his way but he sees Ted Schwarzmann occasionally when he gets down to the War Department and reports that Harry Davis is managing an International Paper Co. mill at Niagara Falls, N. Y. and is living at Tonawanda, N. Y. Dick's address is National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, in case you missed an earlier Alumnus.

Dick also asked whether Micky McGuire is building granite battleships yet. I don't know about the battleships but I expect granite in any shape has been running a poor second since the arrival of the youngest member of the McGuire family, Jeremiah James, on November 20. Micky's daughter Patricia is just about two and a half and is an adorable bundle of mischief.

A handful of new whereabouts has come in from the alumni office. I think I gave Dave Barker's residence address some time ago 21 Summer Street, West Roxbury, Mass. He is with the Commercial Methods and Practices division of the New England Tel. and Tel. with business headquarters at 50 Oliver Street, Boston.

Ward Cleaves moved around so much last year that I was just beginning to count on him for an item every so often and had wondered whether he had let me down properly this year. He is now Commandant at the Bakers and Cooks School, CCC 1st Corps Area, North Reading, Mass. He gets his mail at Haverhill Street, same town.

Earl Doughty is back in the news with a change of address to Box 262, Fishkill, New York. Bus is a Field Engineer, Contracting Division with the Dravo Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Don Huston is assistant treasurer of the Dealers' Finance Service, Inc., Dover, N. H. His address is RFD 1, Dover Point, Dover, N. H. It's about time the Phi Mu Deltas were heard from. What's the good of my having a sister pin if I don't get any news to show sisterly interest in?

Lewis Parlin is just another Maine-iac who can't keep away from campus. He is now assistant soil conservationist and farm planner for the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. He is living at 505 College Road and his business address is The Maples, which looks pretty queer to an ex-resident of The Maples! It all goes to show how times have changed since Grandma went to college.

Transits and such are a lot more familiar to Dick Whitten now than when he started out to survey Balentine's front yard. He is now with the Bridge Division, Maine State Highway Commission, and is living at 45 South Chestnut St., Augusta.

Postcards are still a penny but there's no telling when the Government will raise the price to help build some more battleships. You can expect some advance publicity on reunion any time now, but if you'd like to get in your cent's worth first, send a card to President Cliff Curtis, 775 Union Street, Bangor, Maine, or to me. The address is Wilfred L. Spruce acting postmaster of the Milford post office since the retirement of his father, Joseph Spruce, Feb. 1, has received his commission as postmaster. Wilfred has been associated in the grocery business with his father and brother, R. J. Spruce and company in Milford.

C. Winslow Rand is a forester with Brown Co. of Berlin, N. H. and is living in Andover.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hill (Hildreth Montgomery) are in California where Tom is attending the School of Business Administration, Stanford University. Their home address is 715 Columbia St., Palo Alto, Calif.

Wheeler G. Merriam is an army officer, 2nd Armored Division. He is residing at 3542-18th Ave., Columbus, Georgia. Business address—2nd Reconnaissance Battalion, Fort Benning, Georgia.

Edith Miller who attended University of Maine for one year is engaged to Lieut. Maurice B. Hinman of Falls Church, Virginia. Edith transferred to Simmons College where she received the B.S. degree. She has also taken graduate courses at Columbia University. At present she is in charge of the home economics department at Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield, Mass. Previous to this she was a member of the faculty of House in The Pines, Norton, Mass. Lieut. Hinman was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is assistant professor of naval science and tactics at Harvard ROTC naval unit.

I had a pleasant surprise Friday when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenks called to see me. In case you are wondering about the "Mr. and Mrs." she is the former Eleanor (Mickey) Meacham. Congratulations! They were married August 24 in Gordan Chapel, Old South Church, Boston. As this column had a bit to do with the whole affair, I must retell it. Bob read the Alumnus one evening about a year ago and found that Mickey was living in Belmont and just around the corner from his house—followed much reminiscing about the U of M and old times and "then they were married." Bob is having a month's vacation from his job as representative of the Davenport Hosiery Mills, Chattanooga, Tenn. (Humming Bird Hosiery). They were taking a flying trip to Orono and calling on friends and classmates. Their home address is Jordan St., Skaneateles, N. Y. They contributed some news concerning the former Leona Small who is now wife of Dr. Kenneth Starbird of Sherman Road, Belmont, Mass. Bob says that Ed Lapp is with the New York State Agricultural College in the Manual Arts Department and is living in Morrisville, N. Y. Bob and Mickey had just been in Waterville to see Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gilmore who have a charming new home there.

While elbow deep in soapsuds scrubbing Bozo (anyone want to buy a dog?) I've been trying to compose in my mind the monthly "Tell-all." It's no use, classmates, I can't work on "nothing." Can't you help me out, tho'? I could kick myself for asking you again!

Betty Davis Dudley (Mrs. Warren D.) was nice enough to forward to me the news of the arrival of Donald Francis on December 6. This is the second son in the Dudley family, Warren, Jr., having been born in 1938. Congratulations and you'll never realize how much I appreciate your letting me know about it! By the way, the Dudleys are residing in Vancboro again were Mr. Dudley has a store.

M. J. Fox is a practicing physician and surgeon now out in Chicago, Illinois. His office is at 5759 Irving Park Boulevard and his residence is 3539 Grenshaw St.

Johnny Wilson is a recipient of the Alfred P. Sloan fellowship for a year's course of study at M. I. T. His residence address is 205 Mt. Auburn St., Cambridge, Mass.

Harold Doe is principal of the Garland High School in Garland. His home address is Pretty Marsh, Mt. Desert.

Paul Snow is residing in Hartland, RFD 1 where he is engaged in farming.

Paul Young is doing very well as Field Service Representative for southwestern U. S. in the Service Division of Wright Aeronautical Corporation. His residence is 1020 West Mulberry St., San Antonio, Texas.

I have nothing more to say. Well, it's your own fault!

1934—Next Reunion, 1943

This has been one of those hectic months that has disappeared into mid-air. Bob and I find ourselves in Lowell, Mass. I hope I may be forgiven for going outside the Class of 1934, but I'm sure the Class of 1929 will want to know that Rod O'Connor is in the hospital. Rod hurt his arm and hand while at work and is going to have a long tedious convalescence. He is at St. Johns Hospital in Lowell and I know he would appreciate word from any of his classmates. Incidentally, Rod is a brother-in-law of Bob's and I'm taking care of him so we will be receiving mail at 417 High St. Lowell. The reason for the address is that I received so many nice letters this month I'm quite optimistic.

First I received a letter from Waldon Hastings, telling of another Maine baby. Anne Louise Hastings was born August 3, 1940. Waldon married Alice Hanson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, December 30, 1938. He received his M.S. from U. of Minnesota in physiological chemistry. He was there for three years. He also has a Ph.D. in Food Technology from Mass. State College. He is now biochemist for the Maine Fish Meal Company, Portland, Maine, and enjoys it greatly. Of course he says it is good to be back in Maine after six years' absence.

The next letter was from Norman Gray, reporting for the foresters of 1934. Norm says—Bob Leadbetter was married Oct. 13, 1936 to Elizabeth Young of Bangor. They now have two boys, Richard Arthur, born August 24, 1938 and Frederick Whitman, born Jan. 22, 1940. Bob has been with the Great Northern Paper Co. since graduation.

Ken Jones worked for the U.S.F.S. in Michigan a couple of years and is now with the Timber Salvage Administration in New Hampshire. As far as Norm knows, Ken is still unmarried.

Norm himself married Mavis Fox, a home town girl, on May 28, 1938. They have a little daughter, Nan Louise, born June 13, 1940. Norm has been with the Great Northern Paper Co. since graduation.

Carl Honer and Marge live near Norm on Union St. in Bangor and you can bet Norm, I'm grateful for the news.

My next letter was from Arlene Merrill who surprises me every few years with a nice juicy newsy letter. Arlene is almost as hard to keep track of as Rose Cole. Last year she taught at Chatham Hall in Virginia, but it was too far from New York City so this year she is teaching at the Foxwood school, Kings Point, Great Neck, L. I., N. Y. and her phone number is Great Neck 814. That's for any of you Maine people who might be in that vicinity. So many of us knew Arlene's mother—(how well I remember the grey hairs we must have given her) that I know you'll be interested in her doings. Last spring Arlene picked her up in St. Petersburg, Florida, and they went to Cuba together. I can well believe, as Arlene said, that her mother's ever vivacious nature kept her going pretty steadily. Mrs. Merrill plans to stay in Blue Hill until December and then will start south. Going through Pittsfield this summer Arlene called on Dot Sawyer McMichael. She saw Al Sisco who is still teaching in Saugus, Mass. She also stopped in Newbury, Mass. to see "At" Levensaler. "At" spent the summer at the Newbury Studio where he directed plays and acted. Ernestine Merrill Whitten was with him all summer. "At" is teaching dramatics and speech at the Hotchkiss School for boys in Lakeville, Conn. Arlene says Win Cushing is now in Waterbury, Conn. learning to be a supervisor in the Nursing Association. She is taking a two-year training and then plans to go back to the State of Maine.

Arlene and Kitka Davis Blom recently spent a week-end together in New York. Kitka and her husband and daughter are now living in Hamburg, New York.

Carl Johnson has an excellent position as supervisor for half the State of Virginia in Soil Conservation. He lives in Chatham, Va. He is married and has a daughter.

Manley Kilgore has a position in the general accounting office in Washington, D. C.

For Arlene's benefit, Johnnie Stinchfield and wife live in Oakland, California, c/o Montgomery Ward.

Lew Stearns is engaged and working at the G. Fox Co. in Hartford, Conn.

—All that from Arlene Merrill—and the Classes of '34 and '35 thank you for the news.

Last but far from least was the long awaited letter from Freddie Black. Freddie is still single and believes himself to be the only existing member of the Beta Bachelors Club (but confidentially, he has a gal). Freddie recently spent a week-end in Providence with Jack and Del Longley. They have two cute children—a girl just like Del and a boy the image of Jack. Freddie has seen Ben Caswell. Ben is with the Crocker McElwan Co. in Holyoke.

Stan Searles and his wife are in Worcester now.

Cliff Ladd dropped in on Freddie last summer. He has a swell new job with the Commercial Union Assurance Co., Ltd. and has moved to Ohio to organize a field force for the Inland Marine Co.

With this landslide of news I almost forgot to tell you what Freddie is doing. Hold onto your hats. Freddie is an Industrial Engineer with the Berger Brothers Co. in New Haven who make corsets (Spencers).

Freddie also sees Louise Bates quite often. She is working at the Yale Institute of Human Relations, Private Research Secretary for Dr. Gesell and that sounds like no mean job.

The length of this column reminds me of our first year out of school, and it still goes on.

Effie and Lief Sorenson's new address in Chicago is 7332 Clarence Ave. and I know that means they're still at home to Maine folks.

Millard Dow was married August 24 to Charlotte Robinson of Rutland, Vermont. Mrs. Dow is employed by the Rutland County National Bank. Millard is associated with the Central Vermont Public Service Co.

George Buker is engaged to Erna Larrabee of Auburn. Miss Larrabee was graduated from Edward Little High School and Bates College. George is engaged in scientific farming in Minot.

Pete Karalekas has leave from his duties in the Mass. Dept. of Public Health at Westfield, Mass. to pursue further studies at the Harvard graduate school of Engineering.

Rumors are that Dot Davis Parsons is conducting a kindergarten in Belfast and has six children (pupils). I believe she has only two children of her own.

My schoolmate of grammar school days, then known as Smitty, drummer and xylophone player par excellent, is now John Eldrid Smith, M.D. and has opened an office at 229 State St. in Bangor. Dr. Smith has had excellent training. He graduated from Vermont Medical School, served his internship in the Methodist hospital, Brooklyn, New York, and for the past year has been senior resident at the Kings County hospital, cancer division, Brooklyn, New York. An important addition is that Smitty has a very charming wife.

1935—Next Reunion, 1943

Greetings, Everyone

Right in the middle of my shopping list an SOS from The Alumnus appeared to send our news for this month, so from a very limited store, here goes!

Today a Christmas card from Hilo, Hawaii, arrived and Warren Flagg reported. Warren says that the Japs haven't got him yet, and he has really severed his last connection with New England. Warren's mother has gone to Hawaii to live. And to keep us a jump ahead of the game, Warren says that soon his engagement is to be announced—and so until we hear the details—Aloha!

Wonder how many '35ers were drafted! Uncle Sam has now as army physician at Fort Levett, Maine, Dr. Karl V. Anderson. "Bunny" is now Lieutenant Karl V. Anderson, Medical Reserve.

Dot Nutt Packard and Vernon are living in Apartment C-3, Green Tree Manor, Louisville, Kentucky. Vernon is an engineer in the Ordnance Department of the United States Army in the Charlestown, Indiana Powder Plant on active duty for a year as First Lieutenant.

At Rocky Point, New York, Louis Morrison is Transmitting Technician for R.C.A. Communications Incorporated.

In East Boston, Massachusetts, at the Socony Vacuum Plant, Oscar Taylor is learning the business with Socony Vacuum Oil Company, Inc. Oscar is living at 39 Grovers Ave., Winthrop, Mass.

Back in Maine, Max Turner is a cooperative Field Agent for the Fish and Wildlife Service in the United States Department of the Interior. Max is living at 169 Longfellow Street, Portland, Me.

In Old Town, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Myers are living at 24 Congress Street, Old Town, during the summer and during the winter while Frank is coaching and teaching history and government at Stearns High School, Millinocket; they live at 12 Hill Street, Millinocket.

Elmer Randall reports that he is now living at Wilmington, Delaware, Shipley Road, RFD 2.

Betty Davis has just been appointed dietitian at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn, New York. Dot Frye reported Betty's promotion. Dot is teaching at the North School in Portland, Maine.

And now congratulations to Warren Pratt. On November 10, Connie Taylor became Mrs. Warren Pratt. Connie used to live in Biddeford and since she was graduated from Gray's Business College, Connie has been secretary at the Cumberland County Power and Light Company of Portland. Warren is also with the Cumberland County Power and Light Company. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt went to Boston, New York, and Washington on their wedding trip, and are now at home at 23 Pine Street, Portland.

Sincerely,
Agnes Crowley

Dear '36ers,

Did any of you notice the adorable little girl who appeared on the cover of the December issue of the Good Housekeeping magazine. I noticed it and remarked about how attractive the child was but it didn't mean half as much to me as it has since I learned that she is Nancy Carol Jones, daughter of "Bill" Jones ex-'36. He must be more proud than the proudest of fathers. Bill lives in Darien, Connecticut, and is employed by the Central Hanover Bank in New York City. I certainly thank Ed DeCourcy '34 for sending in that very interesting item.

Jim Boardman was married to Avis Alexander, R.N. December 4. Avis is a graduate of the N.E. Deaconess Hospital in Boston and has done nursing service in the Thayer Hospital in Waterville. Jim is employed by Nepsco Services Inc. in Augusta.

Hersch O. Connell was married November 20 to Colleen McDonald of East Millinocket. Mrs. O. Connell graduated from the Schenck High School and attended U of M. She has been teaching in East Millinocket. Hersch is employed by the Spool Cotton Co. of New York and they are living in Syracuse.

J. Wilfrid Flanagan is assistant engineer in the Bonneville Power Administration, Portland, Oregon. His address is 1231 N. F. 15th Ave., Portland, Oregon.

Henry Little is a test engineer in the shipbuilding division of the Bethlehem Steel Co., San Francisco, Calif. He is living at 2863 Pacific Avenue of that city.

Frank Peaslee is a field engineer for the Kennebec Wharf and Coal Co. in Portland, Maine. His address is 1593 Forest Ave., Portland, Maine.

Gordon Stewart is a bookkeeper for the Eastern Maine Grain Co. in Old Town. His address is 76 South Fourth St., Old Town.

Alfreda Tanner is teaching in Freeport High School, Freeport.

Glen Torrey is assistant manager for H. P. Hood & Sons in Lawrence, Mass. He is living at the Y.M.C.A. in that city.

Ted Woolston is a checker in the shipping dept. of the Warren Telechron Co. in Ashland, Mass. His address is 314 Union St., Ashland, Mass.

Donald Max Fitch is living at 410 W. 115 St., New York City. He is a librarian, Theatre Section, New York Public Library.

Sincerely yours,
Phyl Webster

Dear Classmates

I had a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Spavin (Frances Austin). Fran and Arnold were married Sept. 30 in Milbridge, Maine. Arnold is employed by the Inspection Department of the Associated Factory Mutual Fire Insurance Companies of America. Fran writes that they are traveling most of the time, but mail will reach them if sent to the following address: 111 West Washington St., Chicago, Illinois, Room 2012. Best wishes to the both of you, and thanks a lot for the letter.

Another wedding which took place November 16 at the Green Street Methodist Church of Augusta was that of Dick Bralley to Miss Catherine Frawley. Mrs. Bralley was graduated from Cony High School and attended Gates Business College. Dick is employed by the Central Maine Power Company in Augusta. Their address is 36 Murray St. Best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Balderston of Coloma, Maryland, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Alton Bell (Ding-Dong to you). Ding-Dong is now manager of the Mount Harmon Farm, Earleville, Maryland. Congratulations to you.

The appointment of Lucinda Rich as home demonstration agent in Knox and Lincoln Counties was recently announced by Arthur Deering, director of the Maine Extension Service. Lucinda has been county club agent in the two counties since August 1937.

Burleigh Roderick who has been with the Central Maine Power Co. office in Augusta has been transferred to Norridgewock. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schoppe (Mary-Belle Flynn) have moved from Norridgewock to Waldoboro. Their address is Box 299, Waldoboro.

Regina Littlefield is assistant regional librarian at St. Albans Regional Free Public Library Commission. I don't know just what all that means, Gina, but it sounds good. Her address is 54 Congress St., St. Albans, Vermont.

Ronald Mayo is a Junior Hydraulic Engineer, U.S. Geological Survey. Mail will reach him at 275 Turk St., San Francisco, California.

Russell L. Morgan is research chemist for the American Cyanamid Company of Stamford, Conn. He lives at Fitch Ave., Noroton, Conn.

Howard Shaw, Jr. is supervisor of the Department of Sanitation for the Calvert Distilling Co. Sounds interesting! His address is Leeds Ave., Arbutus, Maryland. Winslow Smith is Rating Examiner, U.S. Civil Service Commission, 1st District Boston, Mass., stationed at Portsmouth Navy Yard, New Hampshire. His address is Box 174, Kittery.

Merle Goodwin writes that he has given up teaching and is now associated with the Solon Mfg. Co. He lives at Solon.

A Happy New Year to you all. It will be rather a belated wish by the time this comes from the print shop, but it is only December as I write it.

Sincerely,
Henry C. Woodbury

Dear Classmates

Buzz Sherry is getting married this month. Mr. and Mrs. Niels P. Blom of Payson Street, Portland, are announcing the engagement of Helene, their daughter. The wedding is to take place during the Christmas holidays. Helene is a graduate of Deering High and Northeastern Business College and is employed by the N.E. Telephone & Telegraph Co. Buzz is in the Hotel New Yorker, New York City, and has been transferred back to the Sales Dept.

My sincerest apologies to Betty and Wally Gleason. I was sure I had put an announcement in about the birth of Robert Wallace on September 9, 1940, but apparently that was overlooked. They live at 1203 Jeffrey St., Asbury Park, N.J., and it is a house all their own. The baby must be almost big enough to follow in the footsteps of his Dad, Wally, you know, is teaching and coaching at the Asbury Park High School.

Mary Helen Raye is doing graduate work, or rather from what she says graduate work is being done on her. She is located at 2056 Stockwell Hall, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Tom Lees is credit manager of General Electric Contracts Corp. and his home address is 1244 Parkwood Blvd, Schenectady, New York.

Dwight Lord, we are happy to hear has been upholding the Class of 1938 and their reputation for baseball players. He has been playing with the Camden Shells this summer.

Betty Gruginskis is teaching Home Economics (I assume). Her address is 329 Cortland St, Groton, New York.

Robert Schoppe who has been located in Norridgewock with the C M P Co. has been transferred to Waldoboro where he will be the local representative of that company. He, Fred Beck and Mary-Belle Flynn Schoppe attended Barbie and Francis Orr's wedding Oct 28, 1940.

June Clement is married and that's news to me. Her name is Mrs David Bowman and lives at 28 So. Penn St, Indianapolis, Indiana. Which just goes to prove you never know where you will live after you leave college.

Walter Smart is engaged to Dorothy Alvord of New Britain, Conn. They are to be married at 4 o'clock, December 28 in the South Congregational Church at New Britain. A reception is to follow at the home of the bride's parents at 16 Sherwood Rd, New Britain. Walter is with Fafmir Bearing Co at Chicago where the couple will live.

Al Owens received his M.S. from U of Illinois in February, 1940. He is teaching at the University of Maine this year in the department of Agriculture.

Mary Hawkes is secretary in the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, 302 Transportation Bldg., Washington, D. C. I imagine she will have her hands full if this war keeps up.

Nelson Carter is a student engineer for Eastman Kodak Co. He lives at 263 Al-bemarle St, Rochester, N. Y.

Bob Belding is teaching school at Wattertown, Mass. His address is 277 School Street.

Phyllis Umphrey is a secretary in the personnel department of Liberty Mutual Insurance Co, Boston, Mass. Her address is 25 Wilder St, Washburn, Mass.

Doug Wishart is sales representative of Liberty United Mutual (Fire and Casualty Insurance). His address is 1446 Summerdale Ave, Chicago, Ill.

The job I reported for Dick Boyer didn't hold out and he got a better job and I got a letter. He is telephone circuit designer for the Stromberg Carlson Telephone Manufacturing Co of Rochester, New York. Dick is living at 553 Hazelwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Before I close I believe I owe about 300 people an apology. Without alibis I just didn't get that last Alumnus. Anyway, it successfully proved that people do read it. More letters!

Sincerely,

Mary Deering

Dear '39ers,

A note from Audrey White Beyer informs us that she and Walter Beyer (Harvard '32) were married July 20 at the Emmanuel Chapel of St Luke's Cathedral in Portland. Walt is registrar and instructor of European History at Portland Junior College and Audrey is teaching English at Westbrook Junior College. Their address is Cranbrook, Cape Elizabeth. Congratulations and best wishes to you!

Walton Grundy came through with a news letter telling us that Alan Kirkpatrick is a graduate student at Pennsylvania State College in the Chemistry school, working for his Ph.D. Kirk received his M.S. at Maine last June. His address is Pond Laboratories, Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.

Eleanor Cousins became Mrs. John McGraw on November 1 at East Blue Hill, Maine, where they are now living.

Roger Clement married Effie Dodge of Gardiner, Maine, last spring. Roger is traveling for the Larrowe Milling Co, a division of General Mills. Thanks, Walton.

Lucille Fogg is employed by the Dime Savings Bank in Hartford. Her address is 371 Farmington Avenue, Hartford.

Edward Scott is now working in the tool department of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp in Burbank, Calif. He is living at 11020 Hesby St, North Hollywood, Calif.

Bud Robbin's new address is 126 Euclid Ave, Oak Park, Illinois. Bud is a food technologist for the Continental Can Company in Chicago.

The Daggetts, Buddy and Cecil, have moved again; This time to 303 West 36th St Norfolk, Virginia.

Elizabeth Dixon is now living at the Y.W.C.A., 73 Pine St, Lewiston, Maine.

Mary Cooper Reid is a sales girl with Hahne and Company, Newark, New Jersey, and is living at 120 Harrison St, East Orange, N. J.

Louise Rice is with the American Book Publishing Co in New York. Her address is Apt. 1, 20 Christopher St., New York City.

On December 21, Elizabeth Kruse '40 and Tib Parkman were married in Bangor. Don and I were in the wedding party.

I know that you all felt as badly as I to hear that Phil Gregory was injured at the Brunswick Airplane Fabrication Plant where he has been employed as an engineer by the Tuttle Construction Co. If by chance any didn't see the newspaper account, Phil suffered a compound leg fracture and shock, which resulted in his name being placed on the danger list at the Bath Hospital. All of our class will be thinking of you, Phil, and hoping for a speedy recovery.

'Til February,

SAID THE ELECTRICAL MOUTH TO THE ELECTRICAL EAR . . .

*"Joe took father's shoe bench out.
She was waiting at my lawn."*

If you were passing through the Bell Telephone Laboratories today you might hear an electrical mouth speaking this odd talk, or whistling a series of musical notes, to a telephone transmitter.

This mouth can be made to repeat these sounds without variation. Every new telephone transmitter is tested by this mouth before it receives a laboratory or manufacturing O K. for your use.

This is only one of the many tests to which telephone equipment is subjected in the Bell Telephone Laboratories. And there is a reason for the selection of those particular words.

It happens that the sentence, "Joe took father's shoe bench out," and its more lyrical companion, "She was waiting at my lawn," contain all the fundamental sounds of the English language that contribute to the intensity of sound in speech.

Busily at work in the interest of every one who uses the telephone is one of the largest laboratories in the world. The development of the telephone in this country is proof of the value of this research. In times like these, the work of the Bell Telephone Laboratories is especially important.
