

Panel Discussion Planned on Oklahoma Engineers

04.24.2015

The Society of Women Engineers chapter at Southwestern Oklahoma State University is hosting a panel discussion on “engineers” this Tuesday, April 28, on the Weatherford campus.

Three to five engineers from the Oklahoma City area will present and answer questions on what it is like to be an engineer in Oklahoma today.

The discussion begins at 6 p.m. in Stafford Center 110. The public is invited and admission is free. Refreshments will be provided.

For more information, contact Cindi Albrightson at 580.774.3165 or cindi.albrightson@swosu.edu or Amanda Adney at adneya@student.swosu.edu.