Dear Dr. Silver:

I am faced by a minor catastrophe and need your wise counsel and advice.

Almost three months ago I entered the Peace Corps to train for a project as a teacher of English in Turkey. Today I was selected out of the Peace Corps for medical reasons (serious drug allergies, but which in no way affect ability to teach); and I am therefore without a teaching job for the coming semester. Help, help !!!!

As you probably remember, I received my M.A. there in January; and because of certain "activities" my invitation to teach at Belhaven in Jackson was withdrawn. After having accepted the invitation to teach in Turkey, I ceased applying for a college or junior college position. Now in my desperation, I am turning to the only person at Ole Miss who might have some knowledge of position still open at this late date and who would be willing to pass such information on to an agitator..

If you can provide me with the names of any colleges which need an instructor of history for this year, won't you please drop me a note at the above address or give me a collect call in Memphis at 525-7166. I shall be home after September 1, 1963.

At this writing I am still At Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. I had the wonderful opportunity of marching in the parade the other day- it was truly inspiring. Wish you could have been here to witness the procession.

Hoping to hear from you very soon, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Miles H. Lovelace
