Next to the denominational schools are those called private enterprises. Such is our Collegiate Institute. As a preparatory or finishing school it will be second to none of like grade in the State. As to its efficiency in maintaining discipline, creating wholesome moral impressions, and imparting full and thorough instruction in all departments of polite learning, reference may be made to the learned Principal of Tupelo Male Academy, Prof. G. W. Turner; to Dr. T. C. Wier, President of Verona Female College, or to any of the leading citizens of Verona.

In his next, Hans will treat of other matters.

Success to the Standard that relies upon its merits and its friends to enable it to rival all opposition.

HANS.
