I had just been reading
Nigel Carrington Jones'
"Gray Ghosts and Rebel Raiders" which covers some of the same ground as "A Life for the Confederacy" and now I feel as if I have been back there in 1861-65.

Let me congratulate you on the selection of the title. Also the pictures notes and general handling of your material - I went every step of the way with Quincy Moore, feeling sad because I knew the inevitable ending.

My grandfather Warfield fought at Chickamauga, the Colonel of an Arkansas regiment. He enlisted from his father's plantation on the river at Laconia Circle, Arkansas. I have visited the battle field also been to Bull Run but not over the battlefield.

Wednesday I am going to Jackson to meet Charlotte Capers and learn something of my duties as president of the Miss. Historical Society.
Have you any suggestions?

I hope this finds you improved in health -
Thank you again for my book and the autograph. I love it and am very proud of it.

Sincerely,

Horace Allen Ogden

Roselle, Miss.

Dear Mr. Silver:

I have fought the War with Private Moore and
with the dead. He was a valiant soldier, worthy of his heritage - yet how patriotic! So young to give his life - and so unafraid.

Thank you for sending me your book. You have done a splendid work in editing it and I am sure it will be read and remembered.
