Dear Mr. Meredith

I have been reading about your great struggle in the newspapers, also watching this back raising ordeal on television, and listening to the radio. As you can imagine this is head line news here, every day and in every news medium.

Personally, I commend you for your mighty will to be educated in the school of your choice. Many people here feel apathy and cold hatred for those caucasians, (especially the governor of the state in particular) who astracege or appressed you. I am a caucasian saying this, and saying that these white people connicted with your ordeal are extremely appensive to the human race, as appensive as any race of people would be to or any one of body of individual who appress human beings for reason of colour (etc.) because that could colour reveal character.

I sincerely hope you do very well in your studies, as I'm sure you will and graduate with high honours.

Yours truly
Jay Herman
